Things are looking up at Westfield Playhouse

By STU CLAMPITT
ReadTheReporter.com

“Lie, Cheat & Genuflect” stages Jan. 17 through Feb. 2, and this could be the last comedy at Westfield Playhouse’s current address, 1836 W. State Road 32.

“They are making pretty substantial progress with the new playhouse,” Director Jen Otterman told The Reporter. “It is presumed that ‘Rumors,’ the spring show, will be in the new building.”

“Lie, Cheat & Genuflect” is the story of two brothers who are trying to cheat their way into a portion of their grandfather’s inheritance.

“A grandfather who has passed away has a kingdom that was created by his invention, the belt buckle,” Otterman said, chuckling a bit at the premise. “The two main characters are his grandsons, called the ‘Buckle brothers.’ They are trying to get the inheritance because one of them has gambled quite a bit of money and is in debt to a loan shark.”

The story is about the Buckle brothers

Otterman has faced some challenges in bringing this cast and crew together because her casting and rehearsals spanned Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year’s breaks.

“I had to deal with a lot of breaks for holidays with this rehearsal schedule,” Otterman said. “We cast the show. We were in for a few days and we broke for Thanksgiving. Then we were back in for a while and we broke for Christmas. It’s very disjointed, which has caused some issues.”

But overcoming challenges is familiar territory for such an experienced director and performer.

“I started way back when I was 17 years old working at the Red Barn Summer theater in Frankfort, which is a semi-professional

Westfield Lions Club collecting donations for homeless vets

The REPORTER

The Westfield Lions Club is collecting donations of clothing, hygiene products and non-perishable food items for Indianapolis-area homeless veterans. All items collected will go to support the Hoosier Veterans Assistance Foundation (HVAF). The HVAF works to provide housing and reintegration services to veterans experiencing or at-risk for homelessness.

Approximately 120,000 veterans in the U.S. are forced to live on the streets each year – that comprises about 33 percent of the homeless population in our country. HVAF needs the public’s help to address this issue on a local basis. Not only does the HVAF need donated items to help the homeless vets, they also need monetary donations and for people to volunteer their time to help the vets.

The Westfield Lions Club will collect the following types of donations until Wednesday, Feb. 5:

- Non-perishable food items (canned meat, fruit and soups; pasta and pasta sauce; peanut butter and jelly)
- Towels, pillows and washcloths
- Men’s long johns, boxer briefs, shaving cream, deodorant, shampoo and conditioner
- Women’s feminine products, lotion, shaving cream, deodorant, shampoo and conditioner
- Monetary (checks can be made out to the Hoosier Veterans Assistance Foundation)

The public can drop off their donations at any of three locations:

- Sobczak Construction, 216 Jersey St., Westfield, (317) 844-9576

Jackson Fire hoping for ice

For the second year in a row, Jackson Township Fire has put on an Ice Rescue Technician Class. Recently, Jackson Township Fire was joined by members of Tipton Fire Department and White River Township Volunteer Fire Department in completing the first phase of Certification. Phase 2 will include all “on the Ice” Rescue Practicals, so firefighters are hoping Indiana will help out with some ice this year. With the expected rain and potential flooding, firefighters say they want to be fully prepared to handle water emergencies should they occur.

Noblesville Schools invites the public to solar project meeting

The REPORTER

Noblesville Schools invites the public to attend a public meeting regarding the district’s new solar energy project.

The meetings will occur at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 21 at White River Elementary, 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 22 at Promise Road Elementary and at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 28 at West Middle School.

In September, Noblesville Schools announced it was seeking a solar solution to significantly cut energy costs and support the environment, which also is expected to generate hundreds of thousands of dollars in savings a year.

With two million square feet under roof, 550 acres and more than 10,000 students to serve, energy is one of the district’s largest costs after teachers and support staff. Almost $1.5 million dollars a year are spent on energy expenses for lighting, heating and air, technology tools and more.

The car went over the guardrail and nearly ended up in a creek.

Police say the suspect was taken to a nearby hospital to be treated for minor injuries.

Details about where the car was stolen from or the identity of the suspect have not been released.

theater,” Otterman said. “I’ve been doing theater for over 50 years.”

She not only has a Master’s Degree in performance from Northwestern University, but she was a drama and English teacher at Hamilton Southeastern for 30 years. She taught four different levels of acting classes as well as producing and directing two shows each year.

Shortly after retiring from HSE in 2015, Otterman started getting involved in community theater.

She told The Reporter she enjoys theatrical comedy because of the higher level of excellence it demands.

“It is, in my opinion, more difficult that doing drama,” Otterman said. “I say that both as an actor and as a director, you have to have that comedic timing, you have to be able what I call ‘glib down’ the lines. A lot of actors want to play comedy very big, and if it gets too big, it’s not funny. They have to be able to play off each other, get the lines memorized quite early so they can get the timing and tempo. This show is very Carol Burnett-ish. It is sort of a Harvey Korman and Tim Conway kind of comedy.”

The youngest cast member is currently enrolled in Hamilton Southeastern High School.

“She is the daughter of a former student of mine,” said Otterman. “She plays the secretary to the mobster, whose name is Pizzaface. She is the youngest. Everyone else is 28 and older. My husband is in it and he is in his 60s, so it is quite a span of ages.”

Cast and crew members are from Noblesville, Westfield, Fishers, Whitestown and Indianapolis.

You can see “Lie, Cheat & Genuflect” starting Jan. 17 at Westfield Playhouse.

Noblesville Solar

Associate Superintendent Dr. David Mundy, who oversees facility operations, is leading the solar effort for Noblesville Schools. Mundy was the first in the state to introduce a solar program for an entire school district while serving previously as superintendent for Sheridan Community Schools.

“Capturing solar energy provides several advantages including fiscal ones, like being able to direct more funding to teachers and classrooms, and being able to better project our energy costs over the next decades, as well as educational opportunities for students to observe and study energy use,” said Mundy.

“Being able to save money, reduce environmental impacts and create learning opportunities, all while utilizing our vacant land more efficiently, is a win for students, staff and the community overall.”

The district has identified sections of land it already owns – near White River Elementary, Promise Road Elementary and the Hague Road Transportation Center – where solar panels are expected to be placed.

PREVAIL

Advocating for Victims of Crime and Abuse

www.prevailinc.com

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

– Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

Drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, 14701 Tom Wood Way.

New Year, New Beginnings

Prevail poised for the future

Prevail, Inc. is committed to offering crisis intervention and restorative support services for adult, teen and child survivors of crime and abuse, free of charge, in a confidential, supportive, non-judgmental environment that is meant to empower, educate, and strengthen those who are served.

While Prevail has been in Noblesville and serving all of Hamilton County since 1986, the agency has seen significant growth in the past five years. Since 2013, the number of clients served each year has increased 42 percent. While there has been an increase in almost every single client category the agency tracks, the fastest growing population served over that time is victims of sexual assault, with the largest growth in teen victims of sexual assault, which has increased by 102 percent!

To serve these growing numbers, the agency has expanded in a number of ways. Prevail celebrated an expansion of space in 2018. Several new positions have been added to the team, and funding to support those positions has been secured. This has allowed the agency to continue to provide top quality advocacy services to those who seek them.

Early in 2019, the Prevail Board of Directors reviewed and updated the mission statement of the agency. The new mission statement, which succinctly and accurately describes our mission, is: "Prevail strives to empower victims of crime and abuse on their path to healing, while engaging the community to support safe, healthy relationships."

The growth, along with laser focus on the mission of intervention along with prevention, has recently prompted the agency to enhance its staffing infrastructure. While not adding new positions within the organization, new leadership responsibilities have been distributed among existing staff.

Prevail is proud to announce that Brittany Winebar, formerly the Youth Advocacy Supervisor, is the agency's new Director of Mission Achievement and will be responsible for staff supervision and program development for all services that help the agency to achieve the new mission. This will include ensuring the current quality of work along with analysis and planning for future operational needs and program development to meet those needs.

Winebar joins existing Executive Director Susan Ferguson and Director of Operations Michelle Moen to round out Pre-vail's Leadership Team.

Both the Youth and Adult Advocacy teams have new supervisory leadership. Stephanie Holmes-Gullans is now the Supervisor of the Adult Team and Kelly Ferriell is the Supervisor of the Youth Team.

In addition, team leadership will be enhanced with the help of two new Lead Advocates. The Lead Advocates will have all the responsibilities of an advocate, along with some responsibility for training and providing supervisory consultation. The new Lead Advocates that have been promoted into these positions are Chelsea Martin, the new Youth Lead Advocate; and Paula Connor, the new Adult Lead Advocate.

With these new leadership positions, Prevail is able to focus on program development, provide additional advancement opportunities, and strategically work on developing and implementing new opportunities.

None of this is possible without community support. Everyone who participates in supporting these efforts through donating their time, talent, treasure, or testimony is making life-saving services possible. You are giving hope for a life free of violence and fear, providing care and understanding in crisis, and helping make an easier path in facing life's challenges. With your help, Prevail seeks to make positive change happen – in individuals and families, in our communities and in our social systems.

For more information or to arrange a tour of Prevail, please contact us at (317) 773-6942 or check out our website at prevailinc.org.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe. And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you. Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God.

DNR asks for your donations to support Indiana wildlife

The REPORTER

You can help Indiana's whooping cranes, spotted turtles, bats and other wildlife by donating to the DNR's Nongame Wildlife Fund when you file your 2019 state taxes.

The Nongame Wildlife Fund supports the DNR Division of Fish & Wildlife's nongame management programs. "Nongame" means species that are not hunted, trapped, or fished. There are more than 750 nongame and endangered wildlife species in the state. No state tax dollars are used to manage nongame wildlife.

Donate all or a portion of your state tax refund to the Nongame Wildlife Fund by marking the appropriate boxes on your 2019 Indiana tax forms or when filing electronically. To donate, enter Indiana Nongame Wildlife Fund, 200 for its 3-digit code number, and the donation amount on Line 1 of the Schedule 5/Schedule

IN-DONATE form. Then add the donation amount to Line 17 on the main IT-40 form. Click here to watch a video of this process.

Direct donations can also be made anytime at this link or by mail to Nongame Wildlife Fund, 402 W. Washington St., Room W273; Indianapolis, IN 46204.

Habitat management and conservation efforts for nongame and endangered wildlife are supported through the generosity of Hoosiers and supplemental grants from the federal government. For every $5 donation to the Nongame Wildlife Fund, Indiana is eligible to receive an additional $9 in federal funds. Recent projects have included research on endangered turtles, an outreach campaign to conserve whooping cranes, and surveys of summer bat populations on state fish & wildlife areas (FWAs). Complete program details are at wildlife.IN.gov/2356.htm.

AG Curtis Hill says Whole Woman's Health is "exploiting" U.S. Supreme Court decision

The REPORTER

Indiana Attorney General Curtis Hill filed a brief this week in U.S. district court refuting arguments by Whole Woman's Health Alliance that 25 sections and sub-sections of Indiana law dealing with abortion are unconstitutional.

"Indiana's abortion regulations are carefully designed to further our important and legitimate interests in expressing respect for fetal life and promoting women's health," Hill said. "At the same time, our laws respect the woman's ultimate decision whether or not to bear a child. The federal district court should protect the delicate balance fashioned by the Supreme Court's abortion precedents."

Hill

Late last year, Whole Woman's Health argued in a court filing that the entirety of Indiana's abortion legislation imposes an undue burden on a woman's right to choose whether or not to bear a child. At the heart of the abortion provider's argument, Hill said, is a gross misinterpretation of the U.S. Supreme Court case Whole Woman's Health v. Hellerstedt.

Whole Woman's Health's latest claim, Hill said, "represents an attempt by an abortion provider to exploit the Supreme Court's decision as a weapon to strike down entire state regulatory regimes, even if those laws have been enforced and upheld for years."

Hill also said the abortion provider's expansive claims show disregard for existing case law.

"Indeed, Whole Woman's

Health's approach cuts to the very heart of the Supreme Court's abortion jurisprudence," Hill said. "It assumes no abortion dispute can ever be truly settled, claiming that no matter how many times an abortion regulation is upheld, it can always be challenged again – at trial – on the grounds that changed circumstances have made the previously valid law unconstitutional."

Hill said that Whole Woman's Health's contention that Indiana law creates undue burdens on the right to an abortion is based on unfounded speculation rather than the actual effects of Indiana's regulations. Whole Woman's Health, he noted, has even conceded that it failed to show that Indiana's laws have prevented Hoosier women from accessing abortion.

"If accepted, these arguments would throw abortion jurisprudence into chaos," Hill said.

University cruises past rival Tindley

By RICHIE HALL

CARMEL - A fun rivalry has developed over the years between University and Tindley, and the latest chapter was written Friday night at the U Center.

The Trailblazers hosted the Tigers in front of a packed crowd. Tindley got off to a fast start, but University took over midway through the first quarter and sailed to a 50-33 victory. It was the 10th victory of the season for the 'Blazers.

"I think anytime University plays Tindley, it's a big game," said Trailblazers coach Brandon Lafferman. "With all the close battles we've had in the post-season over the years and even though we're not in the same sectional or even class anymore, I think this is always a game to mark on the schedule."

University is now in Class 2A, while the Tigers are still in 1A. Tindley gave the 'Blazers some nervous moments in the first few minutes of the game when it jumped out to a 10-4 lead. Freshman Billy Brown made a pair of 3-pointers during that run.

University soon got it together, and embarked on a 14-0 run that carried it well into the second quarter. The Trailblazers cut the Tigers' lead to 10-9 by the end of the quarter, thanks to three points from Joe Martin (free throw and layin) and a couple free throws by Camden Brown.

The 'Blazers began the second quarter with a basket from Martin, which pushed them in front 11-10. University never trailed again - instead, it added to the lead, going up 18-0. Max Greenamoyer hit a 3 and Jacob Sager converted back-to-back layins.

"They hit a couple shots and we let No. 4 (Billy Brown) get going with a couple 3s, which was not part of the game plan," said Lafferman. "I think once we settled in defensively, we were really on it the rest of the game and we felt like we could man up. And I thought our guys did a really good job really from the four-minute mark in the first quarter to the rest of the game. I thought our defense was outstanding tonight."

The Trailblazers led 25-18 at half-time; Sager had six points in the second quarter and Matt Jones added a 3. Tindley got within 27-24 with around six minutes left in the third period. Sophomore Joseph Glenn had six points for the Tigers during that run.

But University's defense clamped down again, leading the 'Blazers on an 18-2 run that stretched into the fourth quarter. Six different UHS players scored in that run, including four points each from Martin and Sam Mervis.

"That's a really good recipe for us to win games," said Lafferman. "I thought our guys off the bench did a great job."

Martin led the University scoring with 13 points, while Mervis added nine points, four assists and four steals. Greenamoyer collected seven rebounds, with Brown pulling five and Ash-Simpson four. Martin also had two blocked shots.

The Trailblazers are 10-3 and are back home next Friday when they host Muncie Burris in a Pioneer Conference game.

Carmel girls, boys take care of Trojans

Both Carmel basketball teams were in action Friday night, with the girls and boys each playing Center Grove in a Metropolitan Conference game.

The locations were different - the Greyhounds girls played at the Trojans gym, while the boys hosted CG at the Eric Clark Activity Center. The result was the same, however, as both teams won.

Carmel's girls won their game 41-35. Center Grove led the Greyhounds 13-9 after the first quarter, but Carmel came back to tie the game at 19-19 by halftime. The 'Hounds then took over in the third period, outscoring the Trojans 12-2, and that carried them through the fourth quarter.

Kate Clarke poured in 20 points, including four 3-pointers. Bridget Dunn had an outstanding game, tallying a double-double of 14 rebounds and 11 points; she also blocked seven shots. Riley Pennington collected seven rebounds and Clarke pulled five. Fatima Valiente dished out four assists.

Meanwhile, Carmel's boys got off to a solid start against Center Grove, leading 13-7 after the first quarter. The 'Hounds turned it up in the second period, leading 35-14 at halftime. The Trojans tried to make a comeback in the second half, but the Greyhounds were able to hold on for the victory.

Jackson Jannsen made three 3-pointers on his way to 14 points, while Wil Leary also had 14 points. Charlie Williams added 11 points. Peter Suder had a great all-around game, with nine points, eight rebounds, four assists, four steals and three blocked shots.

Carmel's girls are 3-2 in the MIC and 9-6 overall. They will play Fort Wayne South Side today in an afternoon home game. The Greyhounds boys are 2-1 in conference play and 6-3 overall; they travel to Westfield tonight for an all-county game.

Huskies return to action with big conference win

Hamilton Heights returned to the court for the first time in two weeks, hosting Northwestern Friday night in a Hoosier Conference game.

The Huskies were obviously ready to go, as they used a tremendous first quarter to overwhelm the Tigers 76-58. The victory keeps Heights undefeated in Hoosier Conference East Division play at 3-0; the Huskies lead the division.

Heights jumped out to a 29-11 lead after the first period. Gus Etchison poured in 14 points, including four 3-pointers, while Camron Knott had eight points, including two 3s. That was just a warm-up for Knott, who added two more triples in the second period and had 20 points by halftime.

The Huskies led 45-22 at the break. Northwestern cut into Heights' lead in the third period, but were still down 58-42 by the quarter's end. The Huskies maintained their advantage in the fourth, helped out by 8-of-9 foul shooting.

Knott finished the game with 31 points, including five 3s and an 8-of-8 performance from the line, and also reached double-double status with 11 rebounds. Etchison totaled 26 points and four 3-pointers.

Heights is 8-3 and plays another home game tonight, welcoming Bishop Luers.

Lauren Morris made three 3-pointers on her way to 11 points. Jackie Maulucci pulled eight rebounds, with Lydia Self and Bailee Poore both getting five rebounds. Southeastern had 21 team steals, led by Makayla Hinshaw's five. Ryan Viele, Morris and Parrish each made four steals.

Pacers get much-needed win at Chicago

By BRENDAN ROURKE

Despite Zach LaVine finishing with 43 points, the Pacers (24-15) picked up a much-needed 116-105 win against the Chicago Bulls (13-26) at United Center on Friday night after losing in unpleasant fashion to the Miami Heat two nights ago. This is just the second road win in Indiana's last six attempts.

After taking an eight point lead into halftime, the Blue & Gold survived seven combined 3-pointers from LaVine and Coby White in the third quarter to take a seven point lead into the final frame.

With 1:28 left in the fourth, the Pacers were holding on to what seemed like a slim 111-103 lead. On Chicago's next possession LaVine rose up for another three, and T.J. Warren sprinted out to defend him. Feeling as if he'd been fouled, LaVine threw up a wild shot that fell well short of the net. Justin Holiday grabbed the rebound.

Aaron Holiday then finished on the other end with a driving layup down the center of the paint to push Indiana's lead to 10 with 1:06 left to play.

With 38.7 seconds remaining, he then iced the game with a deep three from the top of the key. It was the perfect shot to end the second-half shootout. He finished the game with 19 points off the bench.

Just about an hour before tip, Domantas Sabonis was ruled out for the game due to a sore left knee. Myles Turner and JaKarr Sampson stepped up big in his absence. The big men would assist in out-scoring the Bulls 70-36 in the paint.

Turner finished with a team-high 27 points on 10-of-18 shooting and grabbed 14 rebounds to notch his fourth double-double of the season. Six of Sampson's eight points came off three thunderous slams in the third quarter that sparked the Blue & Gold to overcome LaVine and White's sharpshooting in the period.

Doug McDermott's 16 points off the bench aided Indiana's paint attack as well. Despite being known for his 3-point game, he scored 10 of his points on off-ball cuts to the rim.

Turner scored 10 of the Pacers first 14 points, including a nice tip-in for a second-chance bucket with 6:35 left in the first. Warren then followed Turner with back-to-back to give Indiana an 18-12 lead.

After Warren's three with 4:21 remaining pushed Indiana's lead to eight, the Bulls closed the gap to 24-23 on an 8-1 run behind a pair of threes from the rookie White and LaVine.

Despite a few sloppy turnovers to end the period, Aaron Holiday drilled a 3-pointer, and Goga Bitadze connected on a long-range jumper to help Indiana keep a 29-27 lead as the quarter expired.

The Pacers scored the first six points of the second quarter, four from McDermott, to grab a 35-27 lead with 10:26 to play in the first half. His third bucket, an easy layup off a backdoor cut to the right baseline, kept Indiana's lead at eight, 41-33, with 7:45 left to play.

Two minutes later, Turner's two-handed slam finally gave the Blue & Gold their first double digit lead of the game (45-35).

After a White 3-pointer trimmed the Pacers lead back to seven, Indiana would rattle off a 7-0 run over a 2:15 span to extend their lead to 52-38 on a Warren tip-in with 2:42 remaining.

But LaVine would score the final six points of the quarter to trim the Pacers' lead down to eight as the half expired. He finished the quarter with an emphatic one-handed slam after a bad pass from T.J. McConnell.

The spree turned him loose in the second half.

Despite potential momentum-swinging dunks from Sampson and Turner, LaVine was determined to bring the Bulls back into the game singlehandedly. The former UCLA guard connected on four straight three pointers in a 1:43 span to trim Indiana's lead to 64-60 with 7:10 left in the third.

But Sampson responded once again with his third monstrous slam of the quarter to push Indiana's lead back to six. The sixth-year man from St. Johns kept showing off his underutilized power, and the Pacers finally received the message.

After his dunk, Turner grabbed an offensive rebound for an easy tip-in, and Warren picked LaVine's pocket for a fast-break dunk to stretch Indiana's lead back to 10, 70-60, with 5:41 left in the third.

By the 4:56 mark, Indiana had extended their lead to 14. But another Bull would get hot from deep.

This time it was White. The former Tar Heel's three consecutive 3-pointers in 51 seconds led a 12-0 scoring run that brought the Bulls back to within two, 74-72, with 2:11 left in the frame.

But, Bitadze finally ended the scoring drought with a two-handed, alley-oop slam, and Chicago remained scoreless for the remainder of the period.

After ending the previous quarter on a low note, McDermott connected on a baseline 3-pointer with 13.6 seconds remaining to give Indiana a 79-72 lead heading into the final frame.

The Blue & Gold soon stretched their lead to 83-74 in the fourth on McDermott's tough finish in the paint with 10:20 left to play.

Later, the Holiday brothers would combine for eight straight Indiana points in 45 seconds to extend Indiana's back to double digits, 94-79, with 7:29 remaining.

But, LaVine and the Bulls would make things interesting once again. The oft-elite scorer drilled another pair of threes, and followed with a three-point play to chew the Blue & Gold's lead down to seven, 103-96, with 3:31 remaining. A Lauri Markkanen three would then cut Indiana's lead to just four.

But the Blue & Gold began to put the finishing touches on the game. A pair of threes from Holiday and McDermott sandwiched around a Tomas Satoransky layup would push Indiana's lead back to eight, with 2:15 left to play.

After LaVine's failed attempt to draw the foul, Chicago looked as if they had run out of magic. Aaron Holiday then happily obliged to send the Bulls out with a loss, and closed out the game with five straight points, including his cold-blooded 28-foot 3-pointer.

Indiana hopes to continue to rack up the wins when they return home to take on the Philadelphia 76ers on Monday night.
