Heights to induct inaugural Athletic Hall of Fame Class

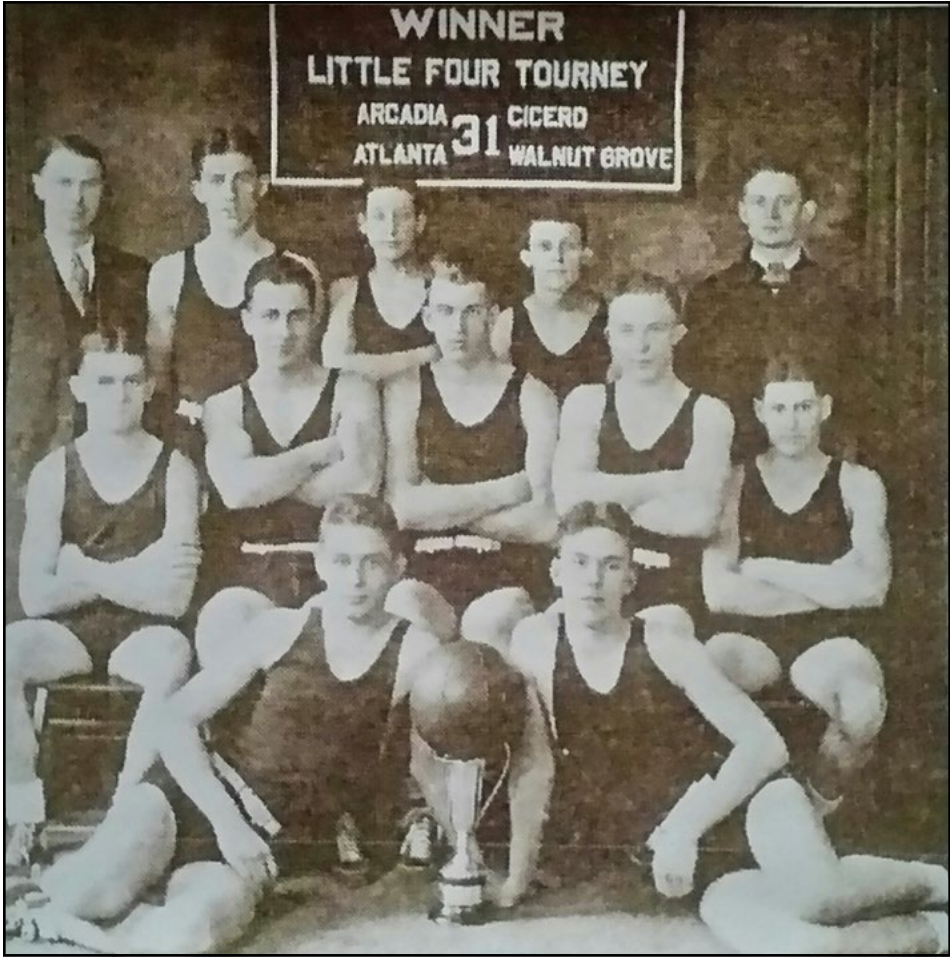

The REPORTER

Hamilton Heights School Corporation will make history on Friday, March 20 when it welcomes its first Athletic Hall of Fame inductees. Through nominations made by the public and a final selection committee, the inductees represent a team and four multi-sport athletes that span of the course of eight decades.

The ceremony and banquet begin at 6:30 p.m. and will be conducted at Hamilton Heights High School, 25802 State Road 19, Arcadia. Inductees will be given a metal display and their names and pictures will be proudly displayed in the Athletic Hall of Fame located in the new Athletic Center.

The public is invited to help recognize and honor these inductees. Tickets are $10 and are available by contacting the HHHS Athletic Office at (317) 985-3551 or Mitch Street at (317) 984-3551, ext. 1092.

"It's been such a fun process to get this project off and running," said Mitch Street, Hamilton Heights High School Hall of Fame Committee Chairman, Dean of Students, and former Head Football Coach for the Huskies. "I'm thankful that we now have an area that will recognize these historic athletic figures. I want community members, alumni and students (past and present) to be able to walk through this area and look up at those names and perhaps, with a sense of nostalgia, but more importantly, recognize the effort, determination and commitment that allowed these recipients to achieve in the athletic realm but also in life. I am very excited for the upcoming induction and the opportunity to hear these individuals share a snapshot of their experiences."

Cook co-authors bill to remove Annual School Reports from newspapers

A bill, co-authored by State Rep. Tony Cook (R-Cicero), seeking to remove publication of school districts' Annual Performance Reports from newspapers has been sent to the Senate after passing the Indiana House of Representatives.

The Annual School Performance Report is arguably the most important report produced by school districts. The report includes information such as student enrollment, number of certified teachers, teacher salary ranges, attendance rates, A-F ratings, percentages of students passing standardized tests, and school suspensions including suspensions and expulsions for weapons, drugs and alcohol.

If the bill passes the Senate, school districts will only be required to publish a summary of the report with an explanation on how the report can be found on the Department of Education's website.

I mentioned Cook co-authored the bill; however, the bill was supported by State Representatives Goodrich, Schai-bley, Huston and Torr – all represent portions of Hamilton County.

If Cook and the other lawmakers believe placing the report on the DOE's website will provide for more exposure, I'll argue they are wrong.

According to the Hoosier State Press Association (HSPA), 3 million adult Hoosiers read newspapers at least once per week. Also, according to the HSPA, the Department of Education's website, where the performance reports are recorded, only received 14,500 unique page views last year. To put that in perspective, the Hamilton County Reporter's website, which publishes school reports, received 730,664 unique page visits over the last year.

Accessing the report could be troublesome for some internet users.

Hotel Carmichael is expected to open in May, complete with a French restaurant called Vivante.

Carmel releases updates on Hotel Carmichael costs

The REPORTER

The City of Carmel and Pedcor Companies is releasing an update on hotel construction costs and finances, as well as announcing details of a new French restaurant concept planned for the boutique hotel that is under construction at City Center. The Hotel Carmichael is still on scheduled to open in May of this year, in time to welcome the International Making Cities Livable conference, which will make its first appearance ever in Indiana.

The City of Carmel says due to a variety of economic factors, including the national increase in construction costs and local spikes in labor costs and tariffs on materials and goods imported from abroad, the overall cost of the hotel has increased from the time of the original estimate provided in 2017. The new estimate on construction is $58.5 million, which includes a new "hard construction" budget of $41.9 million, $3 million for the land and $13.5 million for soft costs.

"The same factors that have led to a building boom across the nation, the state and the city of Carmel itself have unfortunately also led to increases in costs of materials and labor that have impacted the hotel," said Henry Mestetsky, Executive Director of the Carmel Redevelopment Commission. "As we tracked these construction cost increases reported by various construction-related sources, we anticipated the challenge. Fortunately, the Redevelopment Commission has filled those gaps with additional funding that will have no risk or impact on local taxpayers and be largely reimbursed to the Commission out of the revenues of the Hotel."

A variety of additional financing through existing bond revenue and new mortgages on the James Building and Monon Square secured by the CRC, will allow Pedcor and the City to cover the additional costs with no risk or impact to local residents. This includes a CRC commitment to have more than $12 million reimbursed out of anticipated hotel revenues.

"This magnificent new hotel will play a key role in our economic development strategy as we meet the needs of our corporate community with a boutique hotel for their clients and visitors, as well as tourists who will come to stay near the Palladium and the heart of our new downtown, providing a substantial economic benefit to our local businesses," said Mayor Jim Brainard. "Henry and the CRC have done a good job of managing this project in the face of many challenges outside our control. It is important to know that none of the additional costs will be borne by local residents, who will instead benefit from additional private corporate investment and a greater quality of life in Carmel."

Fishers Test Kitchen opens up to the public

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

The Fishers Test Kitchen has been in the works for a very long time. Marketed as a restaurant for chef entrepreneurs, it has space for three chefs to offer creative meals, and shares the dining area with Sun King craft beer offerings.

Saturday, Feb. 1 was the first day the public could experience the Test Kitchen.

The Test Kitchen is located in Fishers District, near Ikea and the new Hyatt Hotel, along 116th Street east of Interstate 69. The development was once marketed as The Yard, but some legal issues resulted in a change to the marketing name for the culinary center to Fishers District.

The three chefs in the Test Kitchen at the opening are Carlos Salazar (Lil Dumplings), Adam & Alicia (Natural State) and John & Kim (Korave).

Fishers Plan Commission sends open space standards to City Council for final decision

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

The Fishers Plan Commission listened to proposals from city staff on commercial open space standards, and decided to allow the Fishers City Council to make the final decision.

Plan Commission members listened to proposals by Fishers Planning and Zoning Director Tony Bagato, who was following up on language in the 2040 city comprehensive plan. The debate centered on how fee structures for open commercial space would impact business entrepreneurs and small business owners.

After a lively discussion, commission members voted unanimously to bring the proposals before the Fishers City Council for a final decision.

In other Plan Commission actions Wednesday night:

- Warren Harling will once again serve as president of the plan commission and Pete Peterson will be vice president.

- The commission voted unanimously to accept a letter from Woods of Britton, withdrawing their proposal for a second phase of the apartment complex.

- The former Ram Restaurant location near 126th Street and State Road 37 received a favorable recommendation from the commission to change rules allowing a dental office and perhaps other tenants to use that property.

HOTEL

Across the nation, similar projects have been feeling a similar pinch, according to experts in the industry.

“National construction cost data has recorded significant increases in nearly every construction market. The average cost of a luxury hotel alone has increased by 37 percent since 2017,” said Kevin Hunt, President and Chief Operating Officer for Shiel Sexton. “Locally, the greater Indianapolis construction market has experienced cost increases in materials and labor. On average, 9 percent of a building utilizes steel products. Since 2017, raw steel prices have fluctuated significantly but have increased over 25 percent.”

Hunt continued, “In the last 24 months, drywall products have seen an increase of 12 to 13 percent per board foot. A variety of factors has caused these increases including recent trade tariffs, raw material shortages and material price escalation. The labor market in Central Indiana is very tight, labor costs including compensation and benefits have increase 16.1 percent since September 2018. The result of these and other factors have forced subcontractors to be very selective in the projects they bid, leading to additional increases in overall construction costs.”

The strength of the national and local economies, the increasing costs of hotel developments similar to The Carmichael and anticipated increasing demand for luxury hotel rooms should all result in a significant increase in revenues for the Hotel Carmichael compared to the original projections, which should provide a significant return on the additional investment that has been made.

According to the City of Carmel, the Hotel Carmichael – like the Palladium and the Center for the Performing Arts, Carmel City Center, Midtown Plaza and the Arts & Design District – remains a good investment in the community that will no doubt attract a return on investment and continue to keep Carmel one of the best cities in America to live, work and raise a family.

Vivante: A French Eatery

The Carmichael has also announced details on the new French restaurant to be open to the public and hotel guests, serving breakfast, lunch and dinner with a full-service bar. Vivante (which translates to “alive” in French) will be a French countryside-inspired culinary experience that is welcoming, warm and approachable with a French-inspired cuisine in an elegant, but not pretentious dining environment and a menu that is relevant, fresh, vibrant, creative and hearty and will create a lasting culinary experience.

Courtesy Hospitality is currently working on the final process of hiring a Food & Beverage Manager and Executive Chef, with plans to post additional management and hourly positions by March 1.

“I am excited to offer the local Carmel community, as well as travelers from all over the world, a unique culinary experience, combining cuisine, culture and outstanding service,” said General Manager Jamie Hopwood.

areas without adequate internet service making it difficult to obtain the report.

An older generation of Hoosiers simply do not use the internet and only read print news. This generation of Hoosiers are taxpayers, homeowners and voters, who have spent much of their adult lives engaging in politics and investing in the health of their school districts.

Some low-income Hoosier taxpayers simply can’t afford internet service.

If Cook and the other lawmakers believe there is a significant cost savings in not publishing the report in newspapers, I’ll again argue they are wrong.

The average cost of a school report published last year in the Reporter was $600. Many of those reports were more than a page long. The cost is much less than a business would pay to place the same size ad, and the advertising rate to publish the report is dictated by a state law passed by Indiana lawmakers.

Hamilton County schools are continuously receiving accolades for being some of the best in state. Attracting students to their schools is a competitive process for districts. According to local realtors, people looking to relocate to Hamilton County have used the reports in their decision as to what community they will reside in.

Indiana lawmakers are gradually chipping away at the public’s right to know through their attempts to eliminate public notice advertising. Lawmakers that seek to limit the number of people able to access public notice advertising should be held accountable.

Remember 2020 is an election year, and many of our state representatives have opponents on the primary election ballot.

Advocating for Victims of Crime and Abuse

www.prevailinc.com

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

You have to dress differently in the sandwich generation

I didn't realize that one of the changes you experience in life while in the sandwich generation is the need to dress differently. Let me explain.

A week ago yesterday, I stopped by my mother's assisted living facility for what I thought would be a short visit. My weekend was going to be crazy thanks to my son's show choir competition so I knew I had to see her that Thursday or I wouldn't be able to visit that week.

As I approached her room, I saw her slowly scooting down the hallway,

COLUMNIST
AMY SHANKLAND
Sandwiched

trusty walker in hand. I was surprised to see her without her glasses.

"Hi, Mom! Did you leave your glasses in therapy?" I asked. Mom looked puzzled.

"No ... I don't think so." She replied.

"Okay, I'll look around your apartment," I said, feeling confident they'd be right by her bed or living room chair.

We entered her stifling 83-degree apartment and I knew I was going to be in trouble. Fortunately, I had a tank top on underneath my blouse, so I figured I could take it off if necessary. And boy was it necessary. I didn't see her glasses after a quick glance around so I went down to the therapy room (getting some raised eyebrows when people saw me in my tank top) to see if they were there. No luck.

I returned to her apartment and searched by her bed. Then around her living room, including crawling on the floor using my phone as a flashlight. Then all around her tiny bathroom. Then by her bed again.

After 15 minutes, my face was flushed and I could feel the sweat starting. I was meeting a client later that day, so being sweaty and gross wasn't an option. In desperation, I took off my pants, praying no one would knock and enter her room unexpectedly. They'd be treated to quite a sight.

10 minutes later, and with no visitors, I found Mom's glasses hidden behind her box of tissues near her bed. Whew!

After I kissed her goodbye, I walked down the hallway still in my tank top carrying my coat, but at least wearing pants again. There was no way I was going to wear my coat for at least another half hour.

I think it's rather ironic that as a lot of women like me approach menopause and deal with hot flashes, we're also taking care of our elderly parents ... who like to keep their thermostats set to a "Welcome to Hell" temperature.

If you're new to this role, I have one word, People: LAYERS. Do not forget to wear them when you visit your mom, dad, or both. This is a crucial piece of advice necessary for your survival. Please, learn from my pain.

You're welcome.

Grandma Pelosi's lesson to her grandchildren

Imagine the world your grandchildren will live in if disrespect and lawlessness, based on ignorance and bias, prevail.

Grandma Pelosi sent a message to her grandchildren: "It's OK to be disrespectful and disruptive if you don't agree with or like someone." Her grandchildren will learn to brazenly disrespect their coach, their pastor, their boss, and even their president.

Democracy and a civilized society cannot solely depend on "laws," but on our everyday behavior based on morals, ethics and civility. A productive, peaceful country begins at home. It begins with the daily lessons we give our children about everything from school to sports to family to society.

If grandma's overt acts of disrespect are the lessons to live by, then of course, her kids will learn bad behavior as the norm. If they get stopped for drunk driving, they'll mouth off to the police. If they lose to an opposing team, they'll give the winning coach the "finger" as they walk past.

GUEST COLUMNIST
TINA MANGOS

Then when they get a job and their CEO is up for an award, they'll walk out during the acceptance speech because they, themselves, didn't get the promotion they expected.

Take it a step further: When one of these children becomes an ER doctor, he might choose to give less attention to an incoming injured patient because that person is wearing a T-shirt with a slogan he doesn't agree with.

I think of times while teaching in a Chicago high school (which I left not too long ago) where a student stormed out of the room, yelling "F___ you B___" because he didn't like the fact that I had to reprimand him for something, or a student refusing to stop in the hallway to show a hall pass, mouthing off, "Man, you're not even my teacher ... I ain't showing you sh___."

And, sadly, when calling a parent in for a conference, I quickly realized where the student got this behavior.

Teach your children good citizenship. Shame on you, "bad grandma."

Letter to the Editor

Local farmers support more options for health insurance

Dear Editor:

As seventh-generation farmers from Hamilton County, we know firsthand the foundational role of farmers in Indiana's workforce. Without the health care and benefits needed, it is challenging to encourage younger generations to continue the family farm tradition.

Throughout its 100-year history, Indiana Farm Bureau has helped farmers by listening and responding to their needs. Today is no different. Farmers have identified the need for affordable health care, and Indiana Farm Bureau is responding by going before Indiana legislators to seek the approval to offer a health benefit option to provide more affordable health care to its members.

We are both farmers, but since we have been married, both of us have had to take off-farm employment to provide health benefits for our family. This is significant because we are serious about farming. We both intended to farm full-time, but the availability of health benefits has pulled us away from farming at different times.

Before the Affordable Care Act became law, we were able to afford health insurance for our family and for the employees that worked on our farm. Because of the high cost of health insurance today, we are unable to offer that benefit now, and still struggle with reliable health coverage for our family.

As young farmers, we support Senate Bill 184 because it will provide a more affordable option to the current health care marketplace. We believe it would help many farmers today and protect future generations of farmers.

State's oldest employee retires from DNR at 102

The REPORTER

Chief surveyor Bob Vollmer, age 102, left the Indiana Government Center South as an employee for the last time Thursday morning.

He worked for the Department of Natural Resources for 57 years, mostly in the field or out of his home office in Brown County.

Vollmer exited the building after a two-hour reception with fellow employees. Yesterday, he completed his last day of working in the field, surveying in Clinton, in Vermillion County.

Tomorrow evening, the DNR will honor Vollmer with an invitation-only retirement dinner party. On Tuesday, he had pie and coffee with Gov. Eric Holcomb and DNR Director Cameron Clark at Abe Martin Lodge at Brown County State Park.

Vollmer, who started with the agency as project engineer at Glendale Fish & Wildlife Area in 1963, is older than the DNR itself—the agency turned 100 last year.

"From his service to the country in World War II to his service to the people of Indiana, Bob exemplifies what it means to serve," Clark said. "He will take with him decades of knowledge that will be nearly impossible to replace."

"We will also be losing his 100 years of stories. He will be missed greatly, and we wish him a long and enjoyable retirement."

Many of his stories involve being part of three combat operations in the South Pacific. Returning there is part of his extensive retirement plans.

Photo provided

Vollmer, whose home office is in Brown County, joined the DNR's Glendale Fish & Wildlife Area in 1963. During retirement, he plans to revisit the South Pacific where he served his country in World War II.

"I want to visit some of the islands I was on, visit some of the cemeteries," Vollmer said. "I also might build myself a swimming pool, and I want to help my three great-grandsons build some things."

Vollmer, whose mother, Anna Francis Vollmer, lived to 108, says he believes in working, but his body told him it was time to go.

"There's a lot of things I want to do, but I gotta slow down," he said. "I just can't get around like I used to, but I bet you I do."

He attributes his success to the help he's received along the way.

"I've been lucky all my life," he said. "I got a lot of people to thank – I can't remember them all. If I can continue with the luck I've been having, I'll have a real good retirement."

Which, to him, means staying active.

"I don't have a reverse gear in my transmission," he said. "You don't want to quit – when you quit, you're confined to the rocking chair, and that's where you die. When I go down, I want to go down swingin'."

TODAY’S BIBLE READING

And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved. Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know: Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain: Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.
Acts 2:21-24 (KJV)

Huskies fall to Frankton in overtime

Hamilton Heights lost an overtime game to Frankton on Thursday, falling 64-56 at the Huskies' gym.

Heights was in control in the first half, leading 14-11 after the first quarter. The Huskies cruised through the second period to take a 36-23 lead at halftime. Gus Etchison had nine points in the half and was one of three Huskies players to make two 3-pointers. Noah Linville and Camron Knott both had two 3s as well, making both of their triples in the second quarter.

The Eagles began a comeback in the third period, cutting Heights' lead to 45-41 by the end of the quarter. Etchison made a basket to start the fourth, but a 6-0 run by Frankton tied the game at 47-47.

The Huskies would take leads after baskets by Etchison and Hudson Hochstedler, but the Eagles answered them both times, bringing the score to 51-51 at the end of regulation. Frankton opened the extra period with a 3-pointer by Ethan Bates and a layin from Jacob Davenport, then finished the game on a 7-0 run.

"We didn't do the things we needed to," said Heights coach Chad Ballenger. "We had a nice 13-point lead at half. I kept telling them, you got to start this second half on a nice run or it's going to be a real battle. We let them start off with like a 6-0 run to start the third quarter.

"It's a tough life lesson," said Ballenger. "It's a tough one, because you don't get many opportunities and that was an opportunity that we let slip away."

Etchison scored 22 points, including three 3-pointers, and also had six assists, five rebounds and four steals. Camron Knott made three 3s for nine points.

Heights is 12-5 and is off until next Friday, Feb. 14, when it plays at Westfield.

Braves get past University Royals win eighth in a row on buzzer-beater

Basketball fans who enjoy a strong defensive game we treated to an exceptional one Tuesday night at Brebeuf Jesuit. On a night where open shots were nearly non-existent, it was only appropriate that the game winning shot came on a contested shot at the buzzer.

Brown

Jay Higgins, an Iowa football recruit, made a foul line jumper over tight University defense to give Brebeuf a 48-46 win in the first meeting between the teams since 2007. The contest between the Circle City Conference leading Braves and the PAAC North champion Trailblazers was a slug fest. The game was a one-possession game for 30 of the 32 minutes. The largest lead of the night was five. The lead changed hands 10 times and the game was tied on six occasions.

University was led by its trio of senior guards. Joe Martin had 18 points, Max Greenamoyer 13 and Sam Mervis 11. Martin capped a nine-point fourth quarter with a basket and foul shot with 6.4 seconds left that tied the game. After a timeout the Braves raced the ball to the front court before calling another timeout. University switched defenses during the timeout and had Higgins well-guarded, but the 6-1 senior drained the shot as the final buzzer sounded. Higgins had a game high 20 points.

University held an 8-6 lead after the first quarter, scoring with one second left on a Camden Brown fast break layin. Korey Ash-Simpson started one of the few fast breaks in the game with a rebound and pushed the ball to Mervis who fed Brown for bucket.

Mervis provided second quarter heroics at the buzzer for a second straight game. His jump shot at the horn gave University a 18-17 lead at the break.

The Braves took a 25-20 lead early in the third quarter, but a Greenamoyer three point basket and a Mervis field goal quickly tied the contest. The teams traded baskets for the remainder of the quarter with Brebeuf taking a 36-34 lead at the end of the period.

Brebeuf took another five-point lead early in the fourth quarter on a basket and foul shot by Alec Bevelhimer. Four straight foul shots by Martin got University within 39-38, but Higgins pushed the lead back to three. Martin scored again to cut the advantage to 41-40 Braves.

The Blazers took their first lead of the fourth quarter with three minutes left when Jacob Sager made a steal, passed to Martin who found Greenamoyer for a three pointer for a 43-41 University lead. With just over a minute left and University had four assists. The Royals improved to 4-2 in the HCC, currently second behind Brownsburg's 4-1 record. Southeastern is 12-5 overall and plays at Homestead on Saturday afternoon.

Hamilton Southeastern picked up its eighth straight victory on Thursday, beating Franklin Central 71-64 on the road in a Hoosier Crossroads Conference game.

The Royals led 19-16 after the first quarter, but the Flashes took the lead in the second period, going up 35-33 at halftime. Southeastern used a 22-point third period to get back in front 55-53 by the end of the third, then outscored Franklin Central 16-11 in the fourth.

Four Royals players reached double figures. Vinny Buccilla led the way with 15 points on five 3-pointers. DeAndre Rhodes, who committed to play football at Indiana State this week, added 14 points. Kole Hornbuckle and Mabor Majak each had 12 points, with Hornbuckle making all three of his 3-point attempts.

Rhodes led the rebounding with eight, while Majak collected seven. Southeastern had 22 team assists, with Buccilla dishing out six. Rhodes and Hornbuckle both handed out five assists and Majak Carmel led 13-12 after the first quarter, then Lawrence North took the lead by halftime at 21-19. The Wildcats led 32-30 after three periods; the Greyhounds were still within 38-37 with 10 seconds left, but LN held on for the win.

UNIVERSITY

ty leading 43-42, Higgins came up with a steal in a scrum near half court and found Billy Smith for a layin and a 44-43 Brebeuf lead. After a University miss with 30 seconds left, Brebeuf’s Jayden McMullen made two foul shots with 18 seconds setting up the final sequence.

The foul line spelled the difference in the game. Brebeuf was 13 of 16 at the line, University was just 5 of 6.

University coach Brandon Lafferman was effusive in his praise of both teams. "I'm excited because we got better tonight. Higgins is a phenomenal player and athlete and made a great shot to win the game. Congratulations to Brebeuf on a well-played game. It was a great battle with two really good teams on the floor and many good senior players. I was happy with our back court play from Joe Martin and Sam Mervis. We got good bench minutes from Corey Ash-Simpson and Larry Pierce."

Brebeuf improves to 11-4 with the win. University is now 14-4. The Trailblazers are next in action Saturday afternoon against another Circle City Conference foe, the Heritage Christian Eagles. The junior varsity contest begins at 1 p.m. The 2019 University baseball team will receive their state championship rings in a ceremony immediately after the junior varsity game.
