His connections with key stakeholders across Central Indiana will provide a solid foundation for our collaborative efforts moving forward."

Russell was named interim president following the retirement of Mo Merhoff in March. He served as president of the Westfield Chamber of Commerce for two years before being named chief operating officer of OneZone in May 2018. Russell is a graduate of Indiana University and currently serves as a board member for the Indiana Chamber Executive Association and as a member of the Hamilton County Workforce Recovery Task Force.

HSE board approves contract extension for Supt. Allen Bourff

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

The Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) School Board voted unanimously last Monday to extend the contract with Superintendent Allen Bourff for an additional year, through June 30, 2022.

In the year beginning July 1, 2020, Dr. Bourff will receive a base salary of $195,658, plus benefits. At Dr. Bourff's request, he will waive incentive pay to which he is contractually entitled, due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

One wonders whether the superintendent is already planning for retirement. The board approved an addendum to Dr. Bourff's contract allowing him to confer high school diplomas to his grandchildren in the HSE School District after his retirement.

In another board matter, Executive Director of Staff and Student Services Kim Lippe says the HSE High School principal position closed Friday. Dr. Bourff told the board the administration will move expeditiously but carefully in making that selection, but could put forth a recommendation to the board at the next meeting in two weeks.

Chad Cripe resigned as HSE High School principal in order to accept an offer to serve as a school superintendent for the Oak Hill School Corporation in the northern Indiana community of Converse.

Mayor Fadness opposes utilities' COVID-19 rate increase proposal

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

Scott Fadness has a main job, being Mayor of Fishers, the state's fifth- or sixth-largest city. But he has a couple of other roles, one regional, the other statewide. He serves as the chair for the Central Indiana Council of Elected Officials. Fadness also chairs the group representing the interests of local governments around the state in the General Assembly, the Advancing Indiana Municipalities (Aim) Legislative Committee.

Fadness issued a statement Wednesday, in all three roles, opposing rate increases that utilities in the state are requesting to make up for reduced revenue related to the COVID-19 economic downturn.

Fadness submitted the statement to the Indiana Office of the Utility Consumer Counselor (OUCC) as part of the allow a group of regulated utilities the ability to track revenue loss due to the decrease of usage during COVID-19 pandemic. This action is in anticipation of proceedings before the decision-making body, the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission.

Here is the entire Fadness statement:

The Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission plans to review a petition to allow a group of regulated utilities the ability to track revenue loss due to the decrease of usage during COVID-19 pandemic. This action is in anticipation of their ability to recoup that loss by raising rates. This is poor public policy at best and greedy at worst. Utilities are regulated in order to ensure that essential services that function as monopolies do not take advantage of the rate payer, the small business owner, the steel mill operator, the public school system, or your local government. The IURC does not exist to de-risk a sector of industry from any downturn in the economy.

All Hoosiers can now get free COVID-19 test

WISH-TV | wishtv.com

As of Monday, June 15, the state opened OptumServe-operated sites to anyone who wants to get tested for the coronavirus, Dr. Kristina Box said during last Friday's briefing from state officials.

Previously, testing was limited to people showing symptoms or in at-risk categories. The tests are free.

Children under 12 years old can also be tested at these sites.

"We recognize that this is a significant change from our focus on high-risk individuals and those who are symptomatic," Box said. "But, our testing capacity has improved significantly since the start of this pandemic and we want Hoosiers to take advantage of that."

There are 204 testing sites. In Hamilton County, Hoosiers can find testing sites via the state's testing map at coronavirus.in.gov/2524.htm.

People who live outside of Indiana but work in Indiana must schedule an appointment for the testing by calling 888-634-1116.

Earlier last Friday, the Indiana State Department of Health announced 452 new COVID-19 cases and 16 additional deaths.

In total, there are 39,146 cases of COVID-19 and 2,214 deaths related to the virus in Indiana.

According to the department, 335,180 tests have been administered in the state.

Elvira Anna Marie Barchetta White July 16, 1930 – June 7, 2020

Elvira Anna Marie Barchetta White, most commonly known as Vera, passed on peacefully on Sunday, June 7, 2020.

She was born of Julius and Emma Barchetta, both Italian immigrants, on July 16, 1930 and grew up in Detroit, graduating from Redford High School and Wayne State University. Vera continued her education several years later receiving her Master's degree in journalism from Ball State University. She was a teacher of history, social studies and journalism and actually started the journalism program and school paper at Carmel Junior High in the late 1960s.

Vera taught for several decades and held her students to high expectations and standards. She was totally not politically correct and had little patience for whiney, well-connected parents who thought their children deserved special considerations.

Vera was an accomplished pianist and quite talented at art and all kinds of crafts. In the early 1970s, she learned to fly and successfully soloed in a Piper PA-28, an accomplishment that amazes her children now more than it did then!

Vera is survived by her three children, Mark (Linda) White, Eddyville, Ky., Michael (Deadra) White, Noblesville, and Julie (Bruce) Hanson, Baltic, S.D.; three grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren. She was preceded in passing by her parents; her former husband, Bertram T. White; and her only granddaughter, Abigail Lynn White.

Arrangements and a private service will be provided by Randall & Roberts Funeral Homes. Burial will be at Crownland Cemetery in Noblesville.

Memorial contributions can be made to the Humane Society for Hamilton County, 1721 Pleasant St., Suite B, Noblesville, IN 46060. Condolences: randallroberts.com

John Phillip Hiatt April 22, 1935 – June 9, 2020

John Phillip Hiatt, 85, Lebanon, formerly of Sheridan, passed away on Tuesday morning, June 9, 2020 at Witham Hospital in Lebanon. Born April 22, 1935 in Sheridan, he was the son of the late Clifford G. and Ruby Pauline (Harbaugh) Hiatt. While growing up in Hamilton County, he attended school at both Noblesville and Cicero, as well as Sheridan.

At the age of 17, John hired on with Biddle Manufacturing and remained with the company until his retirement in 2004. He spent most of those years as an inspector. Upon retiring, he was recognized as the longest serving employee in the company's history. John had an interesting fascination with history. His 52-year tenure at Biddle's helped him become somewhat of a living company encyclopedia.

His passion for history merged very well with his love of photography. John traveled the state capturing Indiana's vast collection of unique architectural beauties. From covered bridges to county courthouses, and his latest obsession, Indiana's round barns, he was always on the hunt for a great photo. His favorite subject to photograph was his family. John was the family photographer.

In between work and travel, John found a way to become not only a champion golfer, but a champion bowler as well. He enjoyed watching the Colts and the Pacers, especially during the Reggie Miller era, and never turned down a chance to play some video games. When he wasn't enjoying sports or games, John made the most of his time with his beloved John Deere tractor.

John spent every moment that he could with his family. His kids, and later his grandkids, were his life. Watching a movie with the family, taking road trips to both new and familiar places, or just getting everyone situated for another family photo, John was in his element with those he loved most.

John is survived by the love of his life, Barbara Sue (Robbins) Hiatt. She and John were married on October 9, 1965. Also surviving are his son, Christopher M. Hiatt (Angela), Lebanon; daughter, Summer L. Heacock, Bellevue, Wash.; three grandchildren, Gwen Jacobs, Lola Heacock and Miles Heacock; one grandson on the way; sister, Mary Hiatt (Scotty), Colfax; sisters-in-law, Phyllis Hiatt of Missouri, and Joan Heine, Zionsville; brothers-in-law, Andy Niehaus, Danville, and Rev. Dale Robbins of Tennessee; and many nieces and nephews. John is also survived by his canine BFF Lucy who misses him terribly.

He was preceded in death by his parents; brothers, Merrill, Jerry and Russell Hiatt, as well as Russell's wife, Marge; sisters, Susan Niehaus and Sara Jayne Malan; and twin grandsons, Timothy Allen Hiatt and Tobias Phillip Hiatt.

Graveside services were held on Saturday, June 13, 2020 at Crown View Cemetery in Sheridan. Barb's brother, Reverend Dale Robbins and Reverend Matt Skiles officiated.

D1 Training to open new facility in Noblesville's Finch Creek Fieldhouse

By RANDALL NEWSOME
WISH-TV | wistv.com

D1 Training is bringing a new facility to the Finch Creek Fieldhouse in Noblesville. The gym franchise, with locations all over the country, is opening up its second in Indiana.

They train up-and-coming athletes, starting at kids as young as 7 and going all the way up to the professional level. They also train adults trying to meet their general fitness goals.

Starting in July, people in Hamilton County will have access to the training facility's services and the skills of Kray's Shawn Brewer, a local performance coach with a passion for helping kids.

Brewer played football at North Central High School, Indiana University and Eastern Michigan University before ending his college career at Marian University, where he found success winning a NAIA national championship in 2018.

"My whole life I've been around sports," Brewer said. He talked about his inspiration behind using his experience to train athletes with dreams like he had growing up. "I want to give these athletes a chance," he said. "All it took was a chance for me, and I know all they need is a chance."

Micah Christopher Thifault

December 29, 2010 – June 10, 2020

Our precious gift from God, Micah Christopher Thifault, 9, Cicero was safely brought to the arms of Jesus Christ his Savior on Wednesday, June 10, 2020. He was born on December 29, 2010 to Christopher and Carrie (Strange) Thifault in Carmel.

His life verse was Psalm 34:3 – "Oh Magnify the Lord with me and let us exalt His name together." God formed Micah in a special way for a special purpose. God used his complex medical history to touch countless lives of who we are so grateful for. We will never be the same. We, along with Micah, were reminded daily of God's many intimate promises and truths from the Bible. Christ has been our sustaining strength and supernatural joy day by day to magnify and bring glory to God, sharing the hope of Jesus with so many. We would always remind ourselves that Micah's sufferings were not in vain. God does not waste our pain. Micah lived a life full of glorious purpose and we rejoice that He is with His precious Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ in glory, whole, healed, singing and praising God in a place of no more pain and no more tears.

He is survived by his parents, Christopher Scott Thifault and Carrie Ann Thifault; brothers Joshua (Brenna), Luke, Jacob, and sisters Chesed, Hadassah and Elisabeth Thifault; grandparents, Cecilia Thifault, and Dick and Sharon Strange; uncles, Andy (Beth) Strange, Greg, Gary and Geffory Thifault; aunt, Debbie Thifault Kazee; cousins, Haley and Lauren Kazee, and Abby and Rachel Strange.

He was preceded in death by his grandfather, Charles Thifault, and a sibling, Jjoy Thifault.

Services were held on Monday, June 15, 2020 at Harbour Shores Church, 8011 E. 216th St., Cicero, with Chris Fritz officiating. Visitation was held prior to the time of the service at the church. Livestream of the memorial service will be available at: livestream.com/harbourshores/events/9172480.

Burial procession will be at Highland Cemetery in Fishers. Memorial Contributions may be made to reviveourhearts.org/micah. Condolences: randallroberts.com regardless of the cause of that downturn. This is undoubtedly a user-funded bailout of utilities.

Over the last nine weeks I have witnessed countless businesses, both small and large, make unbelievably difficult decisions as they face the realities of decrease in demand due to COVID-19. They have let go of long-term employees. They have burned through their life savings to maintain payroll. They have had to sell their assets. They have been forced to reinvent themselves. In Fishers, the business community has met almost 100% voluntary compliance with all of Governor Holcomb's Executive Orders. Our civic institutions are also making the necessary adjustments by eliminating programs, not backfilling positions, and slashing budgets, among other actions.

Comparatively to the regulated utilities asking for their bailout, when a small restaurant in Fishers opens back up and the owner realizes the full measure of his or her financial loss, are they going to raise the cost on the menu to make up for it? No, because the forces of a free market will not allow for that. When local governments see significant reductions in revenue due to the downturn in the economy, will they seek to raise taxes without any accountability? No, because the residents have a voice and will hold government leaders accountable through systems in place.

To that end, I am asking the IURC to allow our regulated utilities to share the burden of the free market. Please do not proceed with the request to permit the utilities to recoup costs stemming from a decrease in market demand. In denying the request, you will not only act in the best interest of our residents and businesses, but you will ensure the equitable distribution of the burden of these very difficult times.

Sincerely,
Scott Fadness

2020 Boys Team Finals

Carmel team finishes as runner-up, GC team 5th, Shamrocks 11th

By RICHIE HALL

WEST LAFAYETTE - The 2020 Boys Team Finals was certainly not the way that Indiana high school golfers expected to end their season.

But the event accomplished its goals. It gave players a chance to compete for a championship and be together with their teammates one more time. The event concluded last Thursday at Purdue University's Ackerman-Allen Course.

After a windy first round of play last Wednesday, golfers were greeted with a much nicer conditions the next day.

"The boys had an experience on Day 1 playing tournament golf in a wind that they probably won't ever play again," said Josh Bryant, the Westfield boys golf coach who helped organize the event. "I think it's a memory that they'll have from a tournament perspective."

"But more than anything, it was fun to see teammates get a chance to play together this year for a championship, although it's not a state title from a school perspective. A lot of really good players played in this event, and it's a meaningful championship for those guys who won."

Center Grove Legacy carded a team score of 618 to win the championship. Center Grove edged out Straight Off The Couch, Carmel's team, by one shot, as SOTC scored a 619.

The Carmel team had a solid second round, as everyone finished in the 70s. Clay Stirsman and Tony Katsis both scored 75s for the second round, with Stirsman making four birdies. Lucas Stittle and Sam Booth each had two birdies, while Luke Prall and Katsis both made one.

"It was awesome," said Katsis. "Obviously, it's not how we want it to end, to have our senior season taken away. But to be out here again with the boys, it's really special."

Guerin Catholic's team, Pebble Brook 1, finished fifth with a team score of 633. Andrew White drained three birdies, leading the team with a 76. Ben Burgan, Christian Hein and Jacob Modleski each made one birdie. Connor McNeely rounded out the Pebble Brook team.

The Shamrocks from Westfield rose from 15th place after the first round to finish 11th overall. The Shamrocks scored a total of 652 for the tournament, but improved 16 shots from the first to second day.

second round with a 76. Nolan Hall made three birdies, while Cesare, Joe Sawyer and Drake Biggs all had one. Spencer Howe, a senior, rounded out the Shamrocks team.

"It was nice to at least have something to call a season," said Howe. "It was a really cool event."

Howe also appreciated the chance to play one more round of golf, as did all the other competitors.

"It was still a great opportunity to play in front of our parents and teammates," said Howe.

The Vikings from Valparaiso placed third, while the Tipton Blue Devils finished fourth. Irish Blue, Cathedral's team, finished sixth. Two Hamilton County players competed on that team. Ryan Ford had a 72 for his second round, making five birdies for the tournament. Braden Estes had three birdies in his second round.

Team scores: Center Grove Legacy 312-306=618, Straight Off The Couch 314-305=619, Vikings 328-303=631, Tipton Blue Devils 317-315=632, Pebble Brook 1 316-317=633, Irish Blue 329-305=634, Last Dance 316-322=638, TRC 328-312=640, Twirls for the Girls 328-315=643.

Raising $2,000 for RBI . . .

Reds star Tucker Barnhart, other pro and college players come to Grand Park

Cincinnati Reds catcher Tucker Barnhart gets into position during a practice for pro and college baseball players that took place last Friday at Grand Park. Barnhart, a Brownsburg graduate and former Mr. Baseball, joined his fellow players in helping to raise $2,000 for Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities (RBI), a Major League Baseball youth outreach program.

By RICHIE HALL

WESTFIELD - After months of lockdown and quarantine, so many people are ready to get outside and play ball – from the little kids to Major League Baseball players.

A few of those major-league stars made their way to Grand Park last Friday, including Tucker Barnhart. The Cincinnati Reds catcher posted on Twitter earlier in the week about having a workout at some of the fields on the campus. Barnhart and some other players had been doing that at ProX in Westfield, but the Brownsburg native and former Mr. Baseball tweeted out the suggestion of going outside.

"I was kind of naïve in thinking it wouldn't really explode a little bit," said Barnhart. "Once I started getting texts from guys in Ohio and a couple from Kentucky, I was like 'Oh, boy, this could be a little bit larger than I thought,'" said Barnhart.

Fairly soon, it wasn't just other players expressing interest. Fans asked if the workout would be open to the public. Barnhart liked the idea, and suggested raising donations for a charity. A $5 admission was established, with the proceeds going to Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities (RBI), an MLB youth outreach program designed to increase participation and interest in baseball and softball among underserved youth.

The result was a resounding success – a home run, if you will. A good time was had by the players and the fans, and $2,000 was raised for RBI. Barnhart met with people from RBI and some young players after the workout.

"We were bouncing around some ideas, and when the idea came up of RBI, it was a no-brainer," said Barnhart. "Obviously they have a great relationship with Major League Baseball, so that's one of things

“For me, some of the best advice I’ve ever gotten growing up, and I told it to the kids, was ‘Never be bigger than the game.’ And to me, what that means and the way that I take that is, whenever you are in a position to give back things that you were taught growing up that helped mold who you are, not only as a player, but as a person, I feel like RBI does a great job of that. They give opportunity to people that may not have always had opportunities to get out and play.”

Barnhart wasn't the only former Mr. Baseball in attendance. MLB veteran Clayton Richard, a McCutcheon star who also won the Mr. Baseball award, was there to throw a few pitches as well, with Barnhart catching him. Around 40 college and pro players wound up attending, and so did many fans.

"As players, we feed off fans, whether it's five or whether it's 50,000," said Barnhart. "It's a blast to play in front of people. I'm a baseball fan. So for me, just being able to sit on the side and watch guys play and watch guys compete. That makes you want to do better."

While the whole event was fun, Barnhart admitted that he hopes they don't do it again – that would mean the players are in Spring Training and ready to get out and play ball.

"If we have to do it again, there's no better place to do it than here," said Barnhart. "We got a really good contingent of guys that came out today, and then I think that it'll only get bigger if we ended up doing it again. In my opinion, it went well."
