Project AWARE expansion will further support school-based wellbeing

The REPORTER
The Indiana Department of Education (IDOE) announced expanded funding for Indiana Schools to further increase awareness for mental and emotional wellbeing, while improving connections to available mental health services. Expanded funding was made available through the Project Advancing Wellness and Resilience Education (AWARE) grant provided by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA).
“The social and emotional wellbeing of our students and staff is an important component to being prepared and actively engaged in education,” State Superintendent Dr. Jennifer McCormick said. “Further expanding our Project AWARE efforts, allows Indiana to create and continue lasting partnerships focused on developing effective and successful mental health practices and resources.”
In 2018, IDOE was awarded the Project AWARE grant. In partnership with the Family and Social Services Administration's Division of Mental Health and Addiction and local community mental health organizations, IDOE selected three districts focused on creating models of effective mental health practices for replication across Indiana. Through a competitive process, Avon Community School Corporation, Perry Central Community School Corporation, and Vigo County School Corporation were the initial sites selected.

Looking to further the efforts of Project AWARE, IDOE has selected eight additional partnership districts. In addition, the state has created the all new Change the Frequency campaign – a campaign focused on raising awareness around the stigma of mental health in schools and communities. The campaign provides students, faculty, and support systems with easy-to-understand tools and practices centered around recognizing the ways in which one's own social, emotional, and mental wellbeing can be influenced, and working to change that individual's wellbeing and overall quality of life.

Locally, IDOE selected Hamilton Southeastern Schools, Sheridan Community Schools and Westfield Washington Schools. The selected districts, their community mental health partners, and amounts award include:
• HSE and Community Health Network – $58,000
• Sheridan and Kids Psych Incorporated (KPI) – $59,000
• Westfield and St. Vincent Behavioral Health/Aspire – $58,000

Virus infects Carmel Clay Parks & Rec's computers

The REPORTER
On Friday, Carmel Clay Parks & Recreation's internal computer network was infected with a virus. The virus did not affect any of the systems used to process memberships, program registrations, or facility rentals, which are cloud-based applications hosted on different servers.
According to CCPR officials, the virus was not believed to compromise any personal or financial information of CCPR customers. CCPR's phone system and website were also not impacted by the virus and remain accessible to the public.
CCPR is currently working with its insurance provider and IT consultants, including forensic specialists, to determine how the virus infiltrated the internal network, what information was potentially compromised, and appropriate actions to mitigate against future issues. Efforts were made to resume email service by July 14.

Two major road improvement projects completed

County officials cutting ribbon this morning near Beck's Hybrids, Second phase of Lowes Way expansion now open to motorists

The REPORTER
Hamilton County officials will hold a ribbon cutting at 9 a.m. this morning to mark the completion of improvements to 276th Street and the new connection of 281st Street near Atlanta. The year-long project connects U.S. 31 to State Road 19 via 276th Street by the interway of a new 1.9-mile stretch of road connecting 276th Street to 281st Street near Gwinn Road.
“This project will provide a safe and efficient thoroughfare across northern Hamilton County,” Hamilton County Highway Department Director Bradley Davis said. “It will also better accommodate the increase in traffic generated by the expansion at Beck's Hybrids.”
Beck's plans to open a new $60 million soybean processing facility next year that will double its processing capacity and result in 60 new jobs.
“The foresight of the Indiana Economic Development Corporation and Hamilton County officials to upgrade the roadways near our plant will allow us to continue to build here in our home state,” Beck's CEO Sonny Beck said. “These road improvements will be key to easing congestion and improving safety for all northern Hamilton County residents.”
The new stretch of road features widened travel lanes and newly paved shoulders in each direction as well as a new single lane roundabout at the intersection of 276th Street and the new roadway to better accommodate semi-truck traffic and farm equipment.
The Indiana Department of Transportation provided approximately 80 percent of the $4.5 million cost for the 276th Street improvements. The Indiana Economic Development Corporation (IEDC) also allocated $4 million of federal funding for the connection. Beck's Hybrids was also a significant financial partner in the project, in addition to donating the necessary land through their farm.
“We'd like to widen 281st Street all the way out to State Road 37 creating a cross-county corridor,” County Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt said. “Wider roads will better accommodate large farm equipment as well as shorten travel times for many of the neighboring residents.”

Hamilton County Commissioners officially appointed Lisa Charles as County Veteran Service officer at their Monday meeting. Ms. Charles was originally appointed in January, but her appointment was temporarily rescinded a few weeks later when it was learned that state law required a service officer to have lived in the county for five years.
The state legislature changed the law earlier this year to allow appointments after one year of residency. The statutory change became effective July 1.

Ms. Charles, a Carmel resident and military veteran, has been serving as interim service officer since the January rescinding decision and departure of the previous officer.
Following their Monday meeting, Commissioners met with representatives of Aspire, the mental health agency for the county. Barbara Scott, director, told commissioners that Aspire is continuing to maintain services through the current pandemic crisis.

Outpatient clinics are located at 17840 Cumberland Road in Noblesville, and at 697 Pro-Med Lane in Carmel. They offer primary care and a variety of services.
Aspire serves about 5,000 clients annually in Hamilton County. Patients pay for service, but the county funds a significant portion of the agency's budget.

Westfield City Council gets some wood on the ball

Editor's note: Marla Ailor serves as the Vice President of the Fiscal Conservatives of Hamilton County.

In a township of 56 square miles, many of which are occupied by the youth travel sports industry at Grand Park, tonight's Westfield City Council meeting left me as curious as ever as a fiscally conservative taxpayer.
The mostly freshmen City Council has been hard at work for six months now. Alongside two incumbent councilors, they have divided into groups to tackle some pretty big challenges and the finances of the City of Westfield.

WOOD ON THE BALL

projects, respectively. I’m certain everyone appreciates the transparency these committees are offering the taxpayers.

The Westfield City Council took a big swing at managing lost revenues and the control of Grand Park tonight by way of constructing a resolution. They definitely got some wood on the ball with this one, folks! Together, as the Council convened yet again via YouTube and Skype for its meeting tonight, they introduced two ordinances and one resolution, the last of which was deemed imperative: The “Resolution for Operation of Grand Park Contracts/Agreements,” Resolution Number 20-128.

Heads were spinning as listeners were trying to get a handle on the Council’s concerns. In the meantime, the city administration, including Mayor Cook, seemed rattled as the meeting pressed on. This Council should be applauded for their persistence.

Things you might consider regarding the history of agreements on Grand Park:

- A February 2014 “Management Agreement” between the City of Westfield and the Indiana Bulls under Section IV. Revenue states, “The Bulls and the City shall share the first four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000) of admission revenues related to all games, tournaments, competitions, practice sessions, and other events and activities at the Diamond Sports Facilities ... For all Admission Net Revenues received in excess of four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000) in any year, the Bulls shall receive seventy percent (70%) and the City shall receive thirty percent (30%) of such revenues.” Perhaps the Council would have argued for a more equitable split and apparently, this is an ongoing concern. Perhaps the contract is now a month-to-month, but it seems that this is a question that will remain unanswered until an audit is performed.

- The same agreement stipulates 10 (ten) annual escrow payments (Section V.) beginning in 2015, of which only four could be located going back through the BullPen funds report since 2014 according to the Clerk Treasurer’s office.
- The “Assignments and Assumptions Agreement,” signed solely by Mayor Cook in October 2014, gave management of the park from Indiana Bulls Baseball to Bullpen Tournaments.
- In the “Lease Agreement” dated June 2017 between the City (signed by William Knox, Director of Grand Park) and Bullpen Tournaments, (signed by Ken Kocher, Owner of Bullpen Tournaments) promises $3,201 in monthly rent plus its “pro rata” share of the utilities for rental of an office building located in Grand Park. Technically, the Landlord is the Westfield Redevelopment Commission, yet according to the funds report, those payment amounts stopped in April 2018. If there’s another agreement that exists which lowered the rent, the Westfield City Council remains unaware despite requests for transparency regarding the park.

While some might argue that not everything should be available in the public purview, certainly our City Council should be kept abreast of its financial endeavors. Is Grand Park – and are we, the taxpayers – missing revenue because no one knows what to look for? Is Bullpen double-dipping Westfield taxpayers by collecting “gate fees” and by charging local teams more than the out-of-towners for the very fields we helped finance as Councilor Patton suggested? Does the signing authority fall to just one person or should it be performed by the financial arm of our local government? How did we get this far down the road while taxpayers have remained on the hook and come out the losers on the fields, both literally and figuratively?

Fiscal Conservatives Of Hamilton County

Is this how government should operate?

Years after its opening, with enough money to finally cover employee overhead (for the first time in 2020), evidently the City has not collected nearly what it should have. The Council seems sure that an independent audit is the right thing to do and they should be congratulated on bringing the City’s business into the daylight. Having passed Resolution 20-128 with six yeses and one abstention, our local city government is doing their best even when an online meeting goes a little sideways.

Ordinance No. 20-26, titled, “Transparency Related to Campaign Contributions,” is simply written to clear up rules and requests regarding recusals. The other ordinance introduced tonight detailed plans to institute what some commonly refer to as “sunset clauses” though Ordinance No. 20-27 is technically called, “Ordinance to Amend Planned Unit Development Ordinance” pertaining to ongoing and/or never-constructed PUDs.

Transparency is finally the winner for taxpayers! This Council hit a home run by conducting the public’s business in public! Hooray! In case you missed it, it’s available here.

But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.*

Westfield residents help save lives through blood donation

The REPORTER

The Westfield community of Oak Manor held its first ever blood drive, in cooperation with Versiti Blood Center of Indiana, on July 8. A total of 18 residents stepped up to donate blood, exceeding all expectations for the three-hour drive at the bloodmobile located at the community's clubhouse.

Oak Manor Board member and Blood Drive Coordinator Sarah Soukup said, "Thank you to all who participated in our blood drive this week. We exceeded capacity! We had 18 donors. Of those donors, three were able to donate a double. So, we really gave 21 donations! For every donation, three lives can be saved. That means our Oak Manor Neighbors saved 63 lives. You are all heroes. You have given others another chance. I am so proud and grateful for our community!"

There is always a need for blood and blood products, but in light of the COVID pandemic, the need is far outrunning the supply.

Versiti Blood Center of Indiana is now part of the Versiti network, a non-profit research and blood products banking system.

Versiti operates a donation site in Carmel at 726 Adams St., Suite 150. For more information or to make an appointment to donate, call (317) 844-0313 or click here.

Early Saturday afternoon, police officers from the Noblesville Police Department (NPD) responded to the Village Pantry, 2299 Greenfield Ave., on a report of an armed robbery that had taken place earlier at approximately 2:50 a.m.

Based on information provided by store employees and available security video footage, two suspects came into the store around 2:50 a.m. and displayed a handgun and a knife while allegedly threatening the employee. It was reported that money and other products were taken from the business. The suspects appeared to be male and both had their faces covered. The delayed reporting and limited description of the suspects presented some investigative challenges for police, but the information was disseminated to sur-

Later Saturday night at approximately 10:23 p.m., officers from the Cicero Police Department (CPD) were called to the Shell gas station, 1010 S. Based on a vehicle description provided by a witness, a collaboration of officers from the Department of Natural Resources, Hamilton County Sheriff's Department, CPD and NPD were able to locate and stop the suspect vehicle. The purported suspect vehicle was occupied by three male subjects, and officers located several items that they believe to be evidence associated with both robberies.

Based on the information collected during the traffic stop and the ongoing investigation by NPD, all three suspects were taken into custody without incident for the alleged robbery that occurred at the Noblesville Village Pantry earlier in the day. CPD will handle the investigation of the Shell gas station that occurred in their jurisdiction.

Don't fall victim to new kinds of utility scams

The REPORTER

During the COVID-19 pandemic, there has been a steady surge in the fraudulent actions of scammers attempting to deceive customers into providing both personal and financial information. Take a moment to learn more about how to recognize a utility scam so you can help protect yourself from being misled.

Spotting a typical phone scam

A common ploy used by scammers is to impersonate utility company staff over the phone, claiming to be collecting on late bills or threatening to disconnect your service. They often demand money in the form of a prepaid debit card to avoid immediate service interruption.

Refund check scams on the rise

With disconnections for nonpayment currently suspended due to the pandemic, scam artists have adjusted their tactics. The latest trend promises the mailing of refund checks for overpayment on your account if you can confirm personal data, like a birth date or Social Security number. In many cases, the call may be a pre-recorded "robocall" that falsifies their caller-ID information, making it appear as though the call is coming from Duke Energy.

Ways to help protect yourself against scams

Scammers have many methods for reaching customers. They may show up at your doorstep, send fraudulent emails or contact you by phone. Here are some tips to help you protect yourself against utility-based scams:

- Though Duke Energy will frequently contact customers by phone, email and text, Duke Energy will never ask for personal information over the phone or demand immediate payment using money orders or gift cards.

- If you are unsure whether a call is valid, hang up and contact Duke Energy's customer care center.

- If someone claiming to represent Duke Energy approaches your door requesting personal or private information, always ask for identification. If you have any concerns about their legitimacy, contact Duke Energy's customer service team for verification.

- Duke Energy will not specify how customers should make a bill payment, and Duke Energy will always offer a variety of ways to pay your bill, including accepting payments online, by phone, by mail, or in person. If the caller demands an immediate compensation by prepaid debit or credit card,

DO NOT submit payment.

- Customers can learn more about recent scams and how to recognize the warning signs at this link.

Scammers can be very convincing and aggressive, so it is important to remain vigilant and stay informed. Visit the Federal Trade Commission website to learn more about recent scams and how to recognize the warning signs.

Barbara A. "Barb" Rodgers

August 12, 1938 – July 6, 2020

Barbara A. "Barb" Rodgers, 81, formerly of Sheridan, passed peacefully on July 6, 2020 at her home surrounded by her family. Her last days were filled by sharing stories and laughter while reflecting on the years.

Born August 12, 1938, in Lewisburg, Ohio, she was the daughter of the late Bud and Ellie Dittmer. Barb was a 1956 graduate of Holland High School in Holland, Mich. Shortly after graduation she returned to Lewisburg to marry her longtime love, David L. Rodgers.

An only child, Barb dreamt of one day having a big family. Not long after their marriage, while stationed in Newfoundland during 1957, their beautiful family was started. After various moves between Michigan and Ohio, they eventually settled in Sheridan, planting their roots and embedding themselves into the community some 50 years ago. As their children became involved in various sports, Barb found herself serving on the Sheridan Park Board and as President of the Sheridan Recreation Board. Between her children and the grandchildren, life was full of basketball courts, baseball diamonds, and football fields.

During her professional career she and Dave founded and grew Rodgers Finishing Tools, Inc. She also worked in the satellite administrative offices for Ball State University in Westfield and also served as local chapter President of the Business and Professional Women's Foundation. Barb always had a knack for writing, whether it be a column for The Sheridan News or the annual Rodgers Family Newsletter she would send around Christmas time. She never earned a dime from stand-up comedy, but boy could she put on a show.

To know her was to feel loved by her. Friends and family were her life, and she never met a stranger. Chances are she had you smiling and laughing at some point during her life. She enjoyed her role as grandma for many years, from basketball and volleyball courts, to baseball, softball, and football fields, and yes, even as a cheerleading coach. She was well-known throughout Sheridan and all of Hamilton County for her constant heckling of sports officials. Her time with her grandchildren was spent teaching them the art of making homemade doughnuts, playing cribbage and gin rummy, and hosting the best sleepovers anyone could ever imagine. She will forever live in our hearts as one-of-a-kind.

Barb is survived by her husband of 64 years, David L. Rodgers; her four children, Steven Rodgers, Melanie Rodgers, Chris Rodgers (Sheryl), and Douglas Rodgers (Tina); her nine grandchildren, Malissa Crawford (Brad), Michael Rodgers (Gina), Kelly Isley (Doug), Nick Rodgers (Whitney), Grant Rodgers, Andrew Rodgers (Emily), Alexander Rodgers, Taylor Rodgers and Meredith Rodgers; 12 great-grandchildren, and nephew, Jeff Shafer (Susan).

She was preceded in death by her parents.

A private memorial service will be held at Kercheval Funeral Home in Sheridan.

Due to COVID-19 restrictions, a public celebration of Barb's life is being planned for a later date. Please visit KerchevalFuneralHome.com to leave condolences and share your best Barb story with the family.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation. And this did she many days. But Paul, being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And he came out the same hour. And when her masters saw that the hope of their gains was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the marketplace unto the rulers, And brought them to the magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city, And teach customs, which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, being Romans. And the multitude rose up together against them: and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded to beat them. And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailor to keep them safely: Who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.

Acts 16:17-24 (KJV)

Elizabeth Irene "Libby" Burtron

August 22, 1944 – March 24, 2020

Elizabeth Irene "Libby" Burtron, 75, Sheridan, went home to be with the Lord on Tuesday evening, March 24, 2020. Born August 22, 1944 in Frankfort, she was the daughter of the late Basil E. and Dortha M. (Goodner) Conrad. After graduating from Noblesville High School with the Class of 1962 she attended Pentecostal Bible College in Tupelo, Miss.

Libby loved being a wife, a mother to her three children and loved being a grandmother to her seven grandchildren. Her Christ-centered life was lived in service to others, especially children. Libby taught Sunday School at The Bible Church for over 50 years, often dressing up in Bible times costumes and using puppets to share the message of Jesus Christ. Early in her work-life Libby cared for and served the residents of the Hamilton County Home. There she did all things a caregiver was to do; cook, nurture, entertain, and, most of all, love those who didn't have families of their own. When the Hamilton County Home closed, Libby started a 30-year career serving the children of Adams and Sheridan elementary schools. There she taught kindergartners how to read, write, use scissors, follow directions and have fun learning.

There wasn't much Libby wouldn't try to repair or restore. Whether it was replacing a light switch, painting, or restoring antique furniture, she enjoyed working with her hands and just making things better. She loved working in her Amish Garden where she had a grove of wildflowers, steppingstones and many other things she enjoyed. She also loved to bake and even had a cake decorating business for many years.

Everything Libby did she did so with love and a smile. Anyone who knew her would describe her as being "sweet." Words of complaint were rarely in her vocabulary and simply being kind was her persona and character. Libby lived each and every moment with grace, poise and dignity and a captivating smile. Libby is missed greatly by her family, but they know she no longer struggles, and they will see her again soon.

Libby is survived by her loving husband Claude Vinton Burtron. She and Claude were married on June 4, 1965. Also surviving are her sons, Anthony W. "Tony" Burtron (Beth), Westfield, and Jason T. "Todd" Burtron (Tami), Sheridan; daughter, Alicia A. Amsbury (Danan), Sheridan; seven grandchildren, Wade Burtron, Zane Burtron, Emme Burtron, Annaka Burtron, Weston Burtron, Isaiah Amsbury and Noah Amsbury; two great-grandchildren, Kinley Burtron and Brayden Burtron; two sisters, Janet Wildman (Durell), Cincinnati, Ohio, and Norma Wilhoite, Westfield; and many nieces, nephews and cousins who will all miss her deeply.

She was preceded in death by her parents; and by her brother-in-law, John "Buddy" Wilhoite.

A celebration of Libby's life will take place at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, July 18, 2020 at North Fields Church (The Bible Church), 1478 W. State Road 38, Sheridan, with visitation from 10 a.m. until the time of service.

Libby was laid to rest at Crown View Cemetery in Sheridan.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be presented to the Sheridan Youth Assistance Program, 24185 Hinesley Road, Sheridan, IN 46069.

Arrangements have been entrusted to Kercheval Funeral Home in Sheridan. Please visit KerchevalFuneralHome.com and share your memories with the family by signing the guestbook.

Angelica Pfefferkorn, a recent Guerin Catholic graduate and soon to be player at Oklahoma State University, is in first place with a 145, leading by two shots.
