including sanitizing products, masks, gloves, plexi-glass barriers and thermometers. The county has spent approximately $290,000 on Category 2 items.

• Category 4 includes expenses to facilitate compliance with COVID-19 related public health measures, such as expenses to improve telework/remote capabilities to enable compliance with COVID-19 public health precautions. The county has spent approximately $700,000 on Category 4 items.

“The county is also working with non-governmental units, such as youth sports programs and public health clinics, that have been unsuccessful in obtaining funding from their cities or towns to help ensure these organizations can protect their clients, as the county continues to reopen,” Mills said. “On behalf of everyone in Hamilton County, I’d like to thank the IFA for administering, distributing and guiding us through the CARES Act funding process. It can seem daunting at times, but with the IFA’s assistance we are able to continue to help those that live, work and visit our county, as we respond and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.”

PREVAIL
Advocating for Victims of Crime and Abuse
www.prevailinc.com

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

– Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

Drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, 14701 Tom Wood Way.

What's new for 2020? The Atlas Cross Sport.

All Atlas Cross Sport models come with a touchscreen infotainment display with both Apple CarPlay and Android Auto integration. Navigation is optional, as is a reconfigurable digital gauge display and SiriusXM satellite radio. The Volkswagen Car-Net connectivity app allows for remote starting and analytics while a 4G LTE Wi-Fi hotspot allows occupants to remain connected to the internet with their smart devices while on the go.

- Standard autonomous emergency braking with forward-collision warning
- Standard blind-spot monitoring with rear cross-traffic alert
- Available adaptive cruise control with semi-autonomous driving mode

Women's Equality Day reminds us to continue to work for more opportunities for all women

Aug. 26, 2020 is a special date for all of us as we celebrate and commemorate the 100th anniversary of the ratification of the 19th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which secured the right to vote for women. "Women's Equality Day" is a day set aside for us to celebrate the right of women to vote which was passed by Congress on June 4, 1919, ratified by the States on Aug. 18, 1920, and signed into law on Aug. 26, 1920.

The suffragists who protested (and yes, sometimes there indeed was violence involved during those protests) were organized, committed, and dedicated to having the right of all citizens to have a voice in their representation. There were also men who believed in the right of these women to cast their ballots, and we acknowledge and honor their commitment as well. Hats off to Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin as the first states to ratify the 19th Amendment.

It is important, indeed crucial, that in the same spirit of the 19th Amendment, we continue to seek an environment of opportunity for all women.

We are celebrating the passion and unwavering dedication of the women who struggled and persevered in the fight for suffrage. We all benefit from, and must encourage in our young women of today, the pursuit of leadership in education, medicine, government, law, business, military service and every other field which contributes to the greatness of this nation. I suggest everyone study the details of this historical event, and if you have young daughters and sons living at home discuss the importance of the 19th Amendment to our Constitution and the positive impact it has made on our country and our quality of life the past 100 years.

COLUMNIST

We contemplate this important anniversary on behalf of not only the female population of the United States, but in fact our entire population. Without the votes of women, many of the bills that have been passed and laws enacted which directly affect human dignity and lives would not have come to fruition. I am proud to say that I have four grandsons growing up in a society in which they will understand that equality, representation, respect for both genders and all races, and anti-discrimination are the hallmarks of what Benjamin Franklin is credited as saying, "It is a republic, if you can keep it." I pray that we can keep it.

As we reflect on the hard work, sacrifices, and diligence of these early suffragists, we should also ask ourselves why, 100 years later, the State of Indiana has never elected a female governor or a female United States Senator. We are also under-represented in local government and in the state legislatures.

It is time – and whether those women would be Republicans, Democrats, or Independents is irrelevant to the importance of the representation of women in our state and the Congress of the United States. I encourage all women who believe they can make a difference in our world to step up and consider how you can represent your fellow citizens in a legislative role.

And, please, fellow Americans, do not miss the opportunity to vote – in the upcoming election and every local, state, and federal election to come. Over 1.1 million Americans from the Revolutionary War until present day died in combat and conflict to protect this right. Joining in their efforts are the women who did not give up on the struggle to secure the right of every American to vote, so please do your part by participating in this great and precious responsibility.

Royals win Mudsock dual

The Hamilton Southeastern girls golf team won the Mudsock dual meet Tuesday at Grey Eagle Golf Course. The seventh-ranked Royals scored a 169 to win the trophy.

The first Mudsock event of the year went to Hamilton Southeastern, as the No. 7-ranked Royals beat Fishers 169-193 Tuesday at Grey Eagle Golf Club.

Southeastern had three players scores 42s: Yanah Ralston, Ashley Marcinko and Grace Dubec. Marissa Spreitzer was next with a 43, followed by Amber Luttrell with 44 and Kaley McHaffie with 47.

The Tigers' Lilly McVay was the meet medalist, carding a 38. Other Fishers scores with Kristi Lilek 50, Marissa Moore 51, Sarah Majeski 54, Megan Lapp 57 and Sydney Meyer 62.

Top-ranked Carmel won a four-way meet that involved some of the state's best teams Tuesday at Prairie View Golf Club.

The Greyhounds scored a 145. Third-ranked Westfield was next with a 160, followed by sixth-ranked Noblesville's 170 and 11th-ranked Zionsville's 180.

Katie Kuc led Carmel and the field, winning medalist honors with a one-under par 35. Ava Hedrick and Michaela Headlee each scored 36s. Sydney Longstreth added a 38 and Claire Swathwood carded a 39.

"Having five players in the 30s on a long and tough golf course is remarkable," said Greyhounds coach Kelly Kluesner. "The coaching staff is so proud of the effort this team puts in and their hard work is paying off."

Sophie McGinnis and Sam Brown both had 38s for the Shamrocks. Other Westfield scores were Brette Hanavan 41, Cate Jensen 43, Allie McKeown 43 and Allie Hildebrand 44.

Caroline Whallon led the Millers with a 39, followed by Sarah Brenneman's 40.

Volleyball

Royals, Golden Eagles victorious in all-county matches

In a Monday all-county volleyball match, Hamilton Southeastern beat Carmel in four tough sets, 25-22, 27-25, 23-25, 25-17.

Carly Mills led the way for the Royals' defense with 31 digs, helping Southeastern, last year's Class 4A state runner-up, to improve its record to 2-0.

"Carly was tremendous tonight," said Royals coach Jason Young. "She kept us alive in critical points."

Emily Weber handed out 31 assists, with Delaney Garner hitting 14 kills. Young said Garner was Southeastern's go-to in big moments, "and she delivered." Lovie Wallace added 5.5 blocks.

"I thought the Greyhounds played with great determination and defensively were really good tonight," said Young. "We were fortunate to come away with the victory."

Macarty McQueen led Carmel with 18 kills and two blocks, while Lauren Evans had 14 kills and 14 digs. Emily Waddell hit 10 kills and made two blocks. Ella Bostic dished out 44 assists to go with 12 digs and four kills, and Lexi Brehl made 22 digs and had three assists.

Another exciting all-county match took place Tuesday at Guerin Catholic, where the Golden Eagles edged out Hamilton Heights in five sets, 25-18, 19-25, 25-13, 20-25, 15-13.

The match was decided by a back-and-forth fifth set. The Golden Eagles used a successful block to up 5-3, then eventually led 10-5, with Claire Castor and Kathryn Loso both hitting kills and Ella Murphy serving an ace.

The Huskies then ran off seven straight points to lead 12-10. Jordan Fryman started the run with a kill and finished it with a net tip. Lily Steiner helped with three aces and Lauren Lewis hit a kill as well. But Guerin Catholic finished the match by winning five of the next six points. Castor had three kills, and a spike from Loso finished the match.

"I was very proud of how the girls kept their even keel," said first-year Golden Eagles coach Hailey Brown. "They never let go of the energy and they never let go of their confidence. I think that really brought them through the fifth set, especially when things weren't going our way."

"We played three freshmen tonight, so I thought they did a great job," said Huskies coach Steve Ward. Lewis, Steiner and Caroline Stone are the freshmen on the Heights team, one that Ward calls an "old-young team."

"We had good input from our hitters, we just came up a little short," said Ward.

The Huskies play tonight at Lebanon, while Guerin Catholic travels to New Palestine on Thursday.

Sheridan opened its season early this week with back-to-back matches on Monday and Tuesday.

First, the Blackhawks fell to Crawfordsville 25-11, 25-7, 25-11. Emma Went had five digs and two kills, while Sierra Duke made one block assist. Kaiden Wilson hit two kills and had a block assist. Lillie Dickerson had two kills while Taylor Bates handed out five assists and served an ace. Abbi Clouser and Jacquelynne Bates also hit one ace.

On Tuesday, Sheridan dropped a Hoosier Heartland Conference match to Clinton Central in four sets, 22-25, 25-15, 25-16, 25-18. Went picked up eight digs, Clouser served two aces, Allie Delph hit eight kills and two aces and Taylor Bates dished out 16 assists.

Noblesville scored a four-set win over North Central on Tuesday, 22-25, 25-16, 25-15, 25-23.

The Millers host Mount Vernon tonight in their Senior Night match.

Fishers swept Lawrence Central 25-5, 25-8, 25-11 on Tuesday.

The Tigers travel to McCutcheon tonight.

Carmel football to play at Plainfield on Friday

The Carmel football team will play a game on Friday night.

The Greyhounds will travel to Plainfield for a 7 p.m. kickoff. Carmel was originally supposed to be idle for Week 1 of the season, after its planned game with Louisville Trinity was canceled due to the Kentucky High School Athletic Association adjusting its fall sports dates.

However, Plainfield's original Week 1 opponent, Greenfield-Central, suspended its football activities through the second week of the season. Carmel agreed to play, thus giving the Greyhounds and the Quakers a Week 1 game.

Heat pull away from Pacers in Game 1

The Pacers hung tough with the Miami Heat for most of their playoff opener on Tuesday afternoon in Orlando. But Goran Dragic scored 14 points in the fourth quarter as Miami pulled away late for a 113-101 Game 1 win to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven first round series.

The Pacers trailed by just one point entering the fourth quarter and briefly moved in front early in the final frame, taking an 87-85 lead on JaKarr Sampson's layup with 9:43 remaining. Kelly Olynyk tied the game 11 seconds later, however.

That basket was the start of a 16-6 run by the Heat. Dragic took over during that span, scoring 10 of Miami's last 12 points and extending the lead to 101-93 on a 3-pointer with 5:20 to play.

Malcolm Brogdon dished to Myles Turner for a dunk with 3:41 left, Indiana's first basket in 2:24. But Jimmy Butler answered with a 3-pointer on the other end. Shortly thereafter, Butler tied up T.J. Warren, won the ensuing jump ball, and then hit an off-balance three to give the Heat a 12-point lead with 2:29 to play, effectively sealing the victory.

"I thought they picked up their intensity the second half," Pacers head coach Nate McMillan said after the loss. "The fourth quarter we started to turn the ball over more and they executed down the stretch and (were) able to get control of the game."

Brogdon finished with 22 points and 10 assists for Indiana, recording a double-double in his first playoff game with Indiana. Brogdon went just 6-for-16 from the field, but 9-for-10 from the free throw line.

Warren, making his playoff debut, tallied 22 points on 9-of-18 shooting (4-of-5 from 3-point range), eight rebounds, three assists, and two steals.

"It was more intense," Warren said of his first taste of the postseason. "We've got to value all our possessions more. Definitely a different type of physical game. My first playoffs, it was definitely a new experience for me. I can't wait for Game 2."

Butler finished with a team-high 28 points for Miami to go along with three boards, four assists, two blocks, and four steals. Dragic added 24 points, going 4-for-9 from 3-point range, and tallied six rebounds and five assists.

The Heat scored the first five points of Tuesday's game and jumped out to an 8-2 lead after a Duncan Robinson 3-pointer. But the Pacers clawed back thanks to Warren and Brogdon. Warren hit his first two shots while Brogdon tallied six points and three assists in the first eight minutes, dishing ahead to Edmond Sumner for a breakaway layup to give Indiana its first lead, 20-18, with 4:09 remaining in the first quarter.

Pacers guard Victor Oladipo was poked in the left eye with 3:28 remaining in the opening quarter and the game tied at 20. After a timeout, Oladipo knocked down two free throws before Indiana committed a foul to allow him to sub out and head to the locker room for examination.

Oladipo did not return the rest of the night and went to an on-site clinic after the game for further evaluation. The initial evaluation showed no immediate concerns and Oladipo will continue to be monitored over the coming days. He is considered day to day.

Shortly thereafter, the Pacers strung together an 11-3 run — featuring four more points by Warren — to open up an eight-point lead. Two Tyler Herro free throws trimmed Indiana's lead to 33-27 heading into the second quarter.

The Blue & Gold's lead was short-lived, however. Both teams opened the second quarter with their second units and Miami's reserves reeled off seven straight points in a 59-second span early in the frame, tying the game at 37 on Herro's alley-oop to Andre Iguodala off a Pacers turnover with 9:02 left in the first half.

Following a timeout, Justin Holiday buried a 3-pointer to spark a 6-0 Indiana run. But the Heat answered by scoring the next nine points to move back in front. The Pacers briefly tied the game on Holiday's third three of the first half with 4:29 remaining, but Miami retook the lead on Butler's dunk a minute later and remained in front until the break.

Butler and Bam Adebayo combined to score the Heat's last 12 points of the first half to take a 56-52 lead into halftime.

Miami used a 10-2 run midway through the third quarter to open up a 10-point lead. Warren kept the Blue & Gold within striking distance, scoring 10 points in the frame on 4-of-5 shooting.

Indiana then closed the quarter with a furious rally. The Pacers trailed 80-71 before Brogdon hit a 3-pointer with 2:22 left. Sumner added a layup 31 seconds later to make it a four-point game. After Derrick Jones Jr. converted one of two free throws, Brogdon blew by the defense for a layup at 1:15 and then T.J. McConnell hit a fallaway jumper with 41.7 seconds left to make it a one-point game.

After a stop, Brogdon actually had a shot to give the Pacers the lead in the closing seconds of the third quarter, but he missed a fadeaway just before the buzzer, allowing Miami to take an 81-80 lead into the fourth.

That's where Dragic took over, scoring 14 points in the final frame on 6-of-10 shooting.

"We've just got to be more physical and get more length on him," Brogdon said of Miami's Slovenian point guard. "...He's a guy who's a seasoned vet. He plays at his pace, only takes shots that he's comfortable with, and down the stretch he knows how to wins games."

Holiday finished with 11 points off the bench, going a perfect 4-for-4 from the field. Sampson added 10 points on 5-of-6 shooting. Turner narrowly missed out on a double-double, finishing with nine points on 4-of-11 shooting, nine rebounds, and three blocks.

Adebayo finished with 17 points, 10 rebounds, six assists, and three blocks for Miami, while Herro added 15 points and four assists off the bench.

The Pacers and Heat will have less than 48 hours before taking the court again for Game 2, which is scheduled for 1 p.m. on Thursday afternoon.

Connecticut outlasts Fever

The Indiana Fever fell to the Connecticut Sun, who have now won five of its last seven games, 84-62, on Tuesday night. Fever guard Julie Allemand grabbed a career-high eight rebounds in 35 minutes of action, as the Sun took the first of two meetings between the teams. Indiana and Connecticut conclude their season series on Saturday, Sept. 5 at 4 p.m.

Indiana fought all night and trailed 50-49 with 1:54 remaining in the third quarter after a Tiffany Mitchell layup forced a Connecticut timeout. Connecticut held on to a four-point advantage with 7:36 remaining in the game, but would seal the victory with an 18-0 run to follow.

Despite being held scoreless in the first quarter, Kelsey Mitchell capped her night with a team-high 15 points on 6-of-14 shooting. She has scored at least 15 points in all but two games this season for the Fever.

Tiffany Mitchell recorded her ninth double-figure scoring effort with 13 points to go along with five assists and three rebounds.

Natalie Achonwa came off the bench to log the second most minutes of her season, as well as record four blocks against the Sun. The four blocks are the most by a Fever player this season.

Kennedy Burke led the bench in scoring for the third time this season with nine points on 4-of-5 shooting. Burke made her first three shots in a reserve role.
