Hamilton Heights' Whitney Gray Fiddle on you, presented with Ida Award)-19 COLUMNIST

The REPORTER

Hamilton Heights High School Assistant Principal Whitney Gray has been presented the Ida Yaney Overholser Award for her contributions to the Teach One to Lead One® (T1L1) mentoring program at Hamilton Heights High School during the 2019-20 school year. The award was given to Mrs. Gray at the T1L1 graduation last month.

The Ida Award is given to a person who has worked behind the scenes to help children overcome obstacles to become leaders. T1L1 is a unique mentoring program that partners caring people in the community with the school corporation to equip students to be leaders. It is centered on 10 universal principles needed for success: Respect, integrity, self-control, courage, humility, excellence, compassion, enthusiasm, teamwork and honor. Hamilton Heights was the first school in Indiana to offer the T1L1 program. Mrs. Gray was an early advocate for T1L1 to come to Hamilton Heights.

Ida Yaney Overholser was born in Indiana in 1885. Throughout her life, she experienced heartbreaking loss and tragedy, but overcame these obstacles with a lot of grace. In her 100 years, she served as a caregiver to people in need and a comforter to those who had experienced great loss in life, as she had. Nickel Plate Arts holds eighth gala

Plate Arts held its eighth anniversary gala with the fifth edition of the Nickel Plate Arts Awards, celebrate the area's burgeoning arts scene and recognize some of the most valuable artists and arts advocates.

Twenty-two individuals were nominated by community members. The nominees were recognized for their exceptional devotion to the arts. The Korie Pickett 2020 nominees offered an unprecedented variety of nominations for the Nickel Plate Arts Awards, which made the job of selecting winners especially difficult for the Nickel Plate Arts board members and staff team.

Nickel Plate Arts Executive Director Aili McGill couldn't speak any more who have contributed to the area arts scene over the last year.

"Nickel Plate Arts reaches out to artists and patrons at all levels with the goal of making art an important part of everyone's lives in the communities we serve," McGill offered. "This year, the Nickel Plate Arts community has stepped up in some significant ways and created some incredible artwork. We wanted to honor these significant contributions to the arts over the past year.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4.000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

"The world may look a little different right now, but one thing hasn't changed: our commitment to ending Alzheimer's. This year's Walk to End Alzheimer's[®] is everywhere – on every sidewalk, track and trail.

"As the largest provider of memory care, each day we see the devastating impact Alzheimer's disease has on families. This disease slowly attacks nerve cells in the cortex of the brain, reducing a person's ability to control emotions, recognize people, remember, move and think," said Melanie Perry, director of Memory Care for ASC.

"Why do we walk? We understand the important work the Alzheimer's Association does and want to do our part to help raise money to fund community programs and research in hopes of one day discov-

AG Curtis Hill sues Indiana debt collection agency that operated without a license

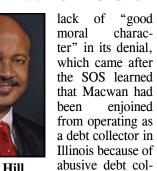

The REPORTER

Indiana Attorney General Curtis Hill has filed a civil complaint against an Indiana debt collection agency and its owner, alleging they engaged in deceptive and abusive debt collection practices and acted as a debt collection agency without a license from the state.

Nelson Macwan created Munster, Indiana-based New Britain Financial in 2015, and the Indiana Secretary of State (SOS) renewed its license each year, with some gaps, through 2018. However, after learning of Macwan's previous debt collection practices in Illinois, the SOS declined to renew New Britain Financial's debt collection agency license in Indiana for 2019.

The SOS cited Macwan's

Girls golf state finals

Carmel takes 3rd as a team; Headlee is runner-up, WHS' Brown 7th

By RICHIE HALL

CARMEL - The results of this year's IHSAA girls golf state finals proved – as it does every year – that there is never a shortage of new talent making its mark in the Hoosier state.

Two freshmen from Hamilton County schools made an impact at the state meet, which finished up Saturday at Prairie View Golf Club in Carmel. Michaela Headlee was the individual runner-up and helped the Greyhounds to another podium finish. Westfield's Samantha Brown, fresh off a regional title, landed in the top 10 and was part of a Shamrocks team that took fifth.

Carmel placed third as a team, with a two-day total of 635, marking the second time in three years that the 'Hounds received medals at state and their third straight year in the top five. Carmel was bested only by defending champ Homestead, this year's runner-up with a 628, and Evansville North, which scored a 625 to win the state championship for the fifth time in seven years.

Headlee provided some excitement during the early part of her round, making birdies on three of her first five holes. She eventually finished the front nine even, but birdied the 11th hole, and made par for her remaining seven holes to score a one-under 71. Headlee was the only player to go under par on the second day.

"It feels really good," said Headlee. "I was really working for this tournament and now I just feel like my work's paid off."

Overall, Headlee carded a two-day total of 147 for the tournament, just one shot behind Lapel sophomore Macy Beeson, who became her school's first-ever girls golf state champion with a two-day score of 146.

"It was really fun," said Headlee. She described her play as "really consistent."

"I only made a few mistakes, and when I did make those mistakes, I came back from them," said Headlee. "So, it just kept my momentum going."

great career for Carmel, another Greyhound finished her career in fine fashion.

Senior Katie Kuc, a star for Carmel since she was a freshman herself, placed in the top 10, earning an individual medal at state for the second year in a row. Kuc finished ninth with a two-day score

As Headlee begins what should be a of 155; she carded a 77 for her second round.

> "I got to play with some of my friends from my senior year, and overall, happy that I was still able to finish in the top 10," said Kuc.

> Kuc made two birdies on Saturday. She will be playing for Xavier University next year, but took a moment to reflect on what being part of the Greyhounds team has meant for her.

a lot of things," said Kuc. "The past four years, I've been learning so much. The high school years are your most important to grow and develop. Coaches and team, great support system, and it's been a great four years."

Headlee and Kuc were both named to the All-State team after the meet by virtue of their top 10 finishes at state. Another Carmel senior, Sydney Longstreth, received All-State honors by earning enough points from her performances at meets during the season. Longstreth finished with a 167 and had one birdie in her round.

"I really just told the girls to believe in themselves and keep on being true to themselves and playing their game," said Greyhounds coach Kelly Kluesner. "They did that. We're proud of how they finished. We've got two freshmen, this is their first experience. Michaela did amazing.'

Culver Academies took the fourth and final podium spot with a 648. Westfield was close behind, placing fifth with a 650. The future looks bright for the Shamrocks, with the freshman Brown earning a spot in the top 10.

"I was just excited to come out here and play," said Brown. She admitted to being nervous at the beginning, but was able to get her nerves in check by the second day.

"The first tee was definitely the one that got me," said Brown. "But I hit a good drive and then my nerves, they settled, but they kept rising and falling. Today was better. I wasn't as nervous. I just played and what happened, happened."

Brown's performance got her on the All-State team. She was joined by her teammate, junior Sophie Mc-Ginnis, who earned enough points to make All-State as well. McGinnis finished with a score of 167, making one birdie along the way.

The 'Rocks had a consistent day, with all five play ers placing in the top 40. Junior Allie Hildebrand scored 165, junior Brette Hananvan scored 167 and senior Cate Jensen carded a 169.

"I think the kids battled hard today," said Westfield coach Trevor Neu, whose team finished in the top five for the second consecutive year and made the top six for the sixth time in seven years. "There were some things that didn't go our way, and the kids didn't lay down. They fought the entire day and didn't give up, so I'm really proud of the grit that they showed."

Hamilton Southeastern placed seventh at state with a two-day score of 674. Junior Yanah Rolston led the Royals with a 166, carding an 84 for her second round.
