Carmel firefighters memorialize Skip Clark on 60th anniversary of his death

Photo provided

On Thursday, the Carmel Fire Department held a memorial service to mark the 60-year anniversary of the death of Assistant Chief Cyrus "Skip" Clark, who was killed in a traffic accident while responding to a fire on Dec. 3, 1960. Reports indicate Clark was driving a fire truck when a car pulled in front of him in the area of 111th Street and Westfield Boulevard, causing the fire truck to hit a tree, thus killing Clark. Clark was 27 years old at the time of his death and left behind a wife and four children.

Sen. Young nominates seven local students for U.S. service academies

The REPORTER

U.S. Senator Todd Young (R-Ind.) has announced his nominations for U.S. service academy appointments. Applications were received from 160 high school students, and a select group was interviewed by an advisory board chosen by Young. Out of 70 interviewed, 32 exemplary young men and women from across Indiana received a nomination from Young.

A nomination does not guarantee admission to a service academy, but is required in order to be considered. Nominees are chosen based on personal merit. Criteria considered include evidence of character, leadership, academic excellence, physical aptitude, and extracurricular activities.

Local students nominated include: Alexander Johnson, Carmel, United States Merchant Marine Academy; Amelia Abdalla, Fishers, United States Naval Academy; Mitchell Lafferty, Carmel, United States Naval Academy; Andrew Sanchez, Carmel, United States Naval Academy;

Carter Highum, United States Military Academy; Katherin LaRue, Carmel; United States Military Academy; Edward Reichert, United States Military Academy.

"I had the privilege of recommending a talented group of Hoosiers for admission to the United States service academies this year," Young said. "These young men and women are highly qualified to serve our country and I'm very proud of their hard work. I wish them the best of luck in their application process."

Pay your fines, pay it forward in Sheridan

The Sheridan Public Library recently concluded its first Food for Fines program. For the month of November, the library collected pantry items from community members. For each item donated, $1 was reduced from any fines that may have been accrued on their accounts. "We collected 120 items that will be donated to our local food pantry, Mama's Cupboard," Library Executive Director Kim Riley said. "The library wanted to give back to its community and felt this was a good way during our season of thanks. This has been a rough year for all and it was wonderful to see all the patrons donating, even if they didn't have fines! The library is looking forward to continuing this tradition next year." The Sheridan Public Library is located at 103 W. 1st St. Stop by for a visit.

Some fear COVID vaccine contains actual virus

WISH-TV | wistv.com

While the U.S. Food and Drug Administration works to approve a coronavirus vaccine, a new study reports that less than half of Americans would be willing to get it. Some may fear the possibility of getting COVID-19 from the vaccination itself.

News 8's medical reporter, Dr. Mary Elizabeth Gillis, spoke with Dr. Christopher Doehring, vice president of medical affairs at Franciscan Health, who said this is not the case at all and why people should have nothing to worry about.

GILLIS: A new study came out indicating that just 46 percent of Americans are considering getting a COVID-19 vaccine when it comes out. Those aren't really the numbers we're looking for and I'm thinking part of the reason ... in just speaking with people ... is that they think that vaccine contains the actual coronavirus. Is there truth to that? And if not, what is in the vaccine?

DOEHRING: Yeah. That's a really good question and certainly something that needs to be clarified. There are some vaccines that are made with killed viruses or viruses that have been disabled, but that's not the case with the COVID-19 vaccine.

Small fragments of the RNA from the virus have been included in these vaccines, which makes it both incredibly safe and very, very effective — much more effective than what we were hoping for and expecting. So, there should be absolutely no concern that someone could get the coronavirus from the vaccine.

Noblesville updates ‘Home for the Holidays’ parade routes

The REPORTER

Editor’s note: On Friday afternoon, Noblesville city officials made a few updates to three of the seven parade routes for the Home for the Holidays Tour. Read the updates below, and click here to read the original story published in the Reporter.

After reviewing route logistics, city officials have made a couple minor changes to a few of the routes:

- Red – Arbor Grove has been added.
- Yellow – Noble Manor has been added.
- Purple – Will now start at 4 p.m. on Dec. 11.

The route also was altered slightly to use Pleasant Street as the connector between 13th and 16th streets. Residents interested in viewing all parade routes (as large PDF files) or learning more about the Home for the Holidays Tour may visit cityofnoblesville.org/SantaTour.

Let’s keep working together to make COVID a word of the past

“A word is dead when it is said, some say. I say it just begins to live that day.”

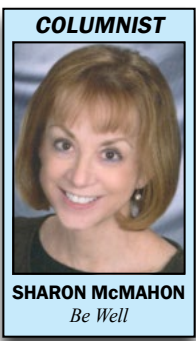

– Emily Dickinson

First of all, my apology to Emily Dickinson for utilizing her uplifting quote as a portent of words I know we are all weary of hearing: Pandemic, COVID-19, coronavirus. Or as most of us refer to it these days, simply “the virus.”

And yes, that word has begun to live in our vocabulary, our thoughts, our dreams, and worst of all, in the deaths and illness of many; and as the count grows every day, I will not even try to put a figure to it in this article. And, as many of you I am sure, the holidays just seem to drive it more deeply into our psyche as we maneuver around the rules, the responsibilities and the concern over the future.

It is said that a vaccine is “on the horizon” and I pray that is indeed true. However, we will need – in my humble opinion – to be vigilant for some time to come in fighting this scourge.

Many of you may know

SHARON McMAHON

of friends or family who have been touched by the COVID-19. I know of several people who have been, though thankfully at this point in time no one who has succumbed to the virus.

As many throughout the world have indeed succumbed to it, the word “virus” has come to live in our minds on a regular basis. All that we can do to address the virus is to take on the responsibility of trying to keep ourselves and our loved ones as healthy as possible. These things include much of what we already know and hopefully, practice. Eating right, getting some sort of exercise every day, taking supplements if warranted (always talk with your physician about this) and practicing excellent hygiene.

I would also recommend that you practice deep breathing on a regular basis. COVID-19 sufferers count lung and breathing issues among the most prevalent and distressful. I will also add that although we are in the holiday “goodie” season that you should carefully watch your sugar intake as sugar can suppress your immune system.

So – back to my quote by Emily Dickinson.

The word “virus” has indeed taken on a life of its own, unfortunately. There are limits to what any of us can realistically do about it. However, do you fasten your seatbelt because it is the law or do you fasten your seatbelt because it may save your life? For me it is the latter reason.

Some have abdicated their responsibilities during this pandemic, but that is another conversation. Please wear your mask, and not just for you but for other people around you. Let’s work together to omit the word “COVID-19” from our daily conversations and thought processes. It can happen ... it will happen.

Until then, masks, hygiene, distance. We can do this.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Letter to the Editor

Shaffer: How much debt will next the five years bring?

Dear Editor:

Since 2015, as the Dow Jones Industrial Average soared from 17,587 to 30,000, the Carmel debt load increased 74 percent.

Carmel's population increased just 15 percent since Pence was governor and Obama was in the White House. In 2015, the Royals won the World Series, Ohio State won the first-ever national collegiate football playoff series and Carmel won only a half-dozen state athletic championships.

But City Hall drove up the debt from $914 million to $1.6 billion, lifting the average household share of the debt 51 percent – from $31,617 in 2015 to $47,872 today.

Still, if you ask any of the borrow-and-spend majority in the city council to even tell what the current debt is, you will get no direct answer. Just some song and dance about how wonderful it is to ride your two-wheeler down the Monon.

What will the next five years bring?

The REPORTER

Indiana Attorney General Curtis Hill and Indiana State Veterinarian Bret D. Marsh, DVM, are warning Hoosiers to watch out for online pet-adoption scams.

Both offices have received complaints recently from citizens who have made down payments on animals they found on the internet – only to learn after paying multiple fees and never receiving animals that they were duped by fraudsters.

“These scammers know that increased numbers of people are shopping online during the COVID-19 pandemic,” Hill said. “They’re banking on consumers’ willingness to arrange delivery of pets sight unseen – other than the cute pictures consumers may have seen on the internet.”

The scammers sometimes create websites made to look like they are operated by legitimate entities, either selling or adopting out pets. They may advertise the websites on social media or in email pitches.

The fraudulent ads often feature photos of puppies or kittens, said Dr. Marsh, who leads the Indiana State Board of Animal Health.

“Most times the pet does not actually exist at all,” he said. “And scammers try to milk their victims for as much money as possible.”

After a pet is ordered and a payment is made for the pet and shipping charges, would-be buyers often learn that other fees are required – perhaps for vaccinations or other veterinary care. Fraudsters also concoct stories about additional shipping expenses – claiming, perhaps, before it. From war to global financial meltdowns, the market has seen it all. But even at the height of these events, when the markets might be most affected, individual segments or industries can do well.

For example, in the current environment, when many people have been forced to work and shop from home, and get their entertainment online, it's probably not surprising that some parts of the technology sector have seen their economic activity grow, along with their stock prices. Here's the key point: Investment opportunities always exist, especially in times of market stress – and smart investors will find them and incorporate them into their portfolios in a way that's appropriate for their goals and risk tolerance.

• Patience and discipline can pay dividends. As mentioned above, the stock market dropped sharply in the weeks immediately following the pandemic, but then gained steadily for months afterward. Investors who tried to “cut losses” and exited the market likely did so at the wrong time and missed out on the beginning of the upturn. Unfortunately, this is not uncommon – investors who overreact to market declines often find themselves just when a new rally begins. Rather than being reactive in this way, you may be better off sticking with a long-term investment strategy, and buying and selling investments only when it makes sense for your situation, such as when you need to diversify your portfolio.

For many reasons, it's unlikely that we'll see anything exactly like 2020 again. But some of the investment lessons we learned are applicable in every year – so keep them in mind for 2021 and beyond.

AG Curtis Hill: Beware of pet-related scams that start with online photos of cute animals that an animal has landed in another state, requiring some type of permit expense for the stopover at an airport.

The FBI and National Consumers League both have taken notice of such scams nationwide. They offer such tips as the following, adapted from their websites:

- Meet the pet in person if at all possible.
- Never pay any fee to obtain an animal that you have not seen with your own eyes (as opposed to via pictures or videos online).
- Don't pay to ship a pet if you can't verify the seller is a reputable breeder or rescue organization.
- Do your homework on the seller before sending any form of payment. Look for contact information, check credentials, and confirm reviews from previous clients.
- If you virtually chat with the seller, watch for odd phrasing or typos.

• If the seller asks you to pay via wire transfer or gift card, don't. There's a huge chance it's a scam.

• If anyone asks you to send money overseas, particularly to pet adoption scam hotspots such as Cameroon or India, it is a scam.

• Beware of “free” pet offers online. These are often simply ruses to get you to pay shipping or other fees for non-existent animals.

The American Kennel Club is a good source of information for consumers looking for reputable, ethical breeders. Often your local veterinarian can be a resource for identifying reputable sources of pets, such as rescue groups.

Anyone who believes they have been the victim of a scam or targeted by scammers should file a complaint with the Office of Attorney General at indianaconsumer.com or by calling 1-800-382-5516.

An Open Letter to Noblesville Mayor Chris Jensen

Dear Mayor Jensen,

On Thursday, November 12, representatives of Industrial Dielectrics, Inc. attended an open meeting of the Community Advisory Committee regarding the proposed East-West Corridor Project on Pleasant Street. Not one of the 20 or so people in attendance, other than the presenters hired by the Mayor, endorsed the City’s currently preferred route (Plan B-1), and many concerned questions were asked. At the conclusion of the meeting, the moderator said that the City would move forward at the next meeting to recommend Plan B-1, ignoring the entire discussion raised by the audience. It became clear that the City and its contractors had already made up their minds and had no genuine intent to consider legitimate issues raised or alternatives.

This roadway will be used, hopefully, for the next 100 years, and the “best” plan needs to be developed. Apparently, no consideration will be given to concerns raised in this regard. With all due respect, it is more important to do this right than to do this fast. We need to pick the right route.

IDI endorses an improvement to Pleasant Street, generally along the lines of the route presented, with the following exceptions:

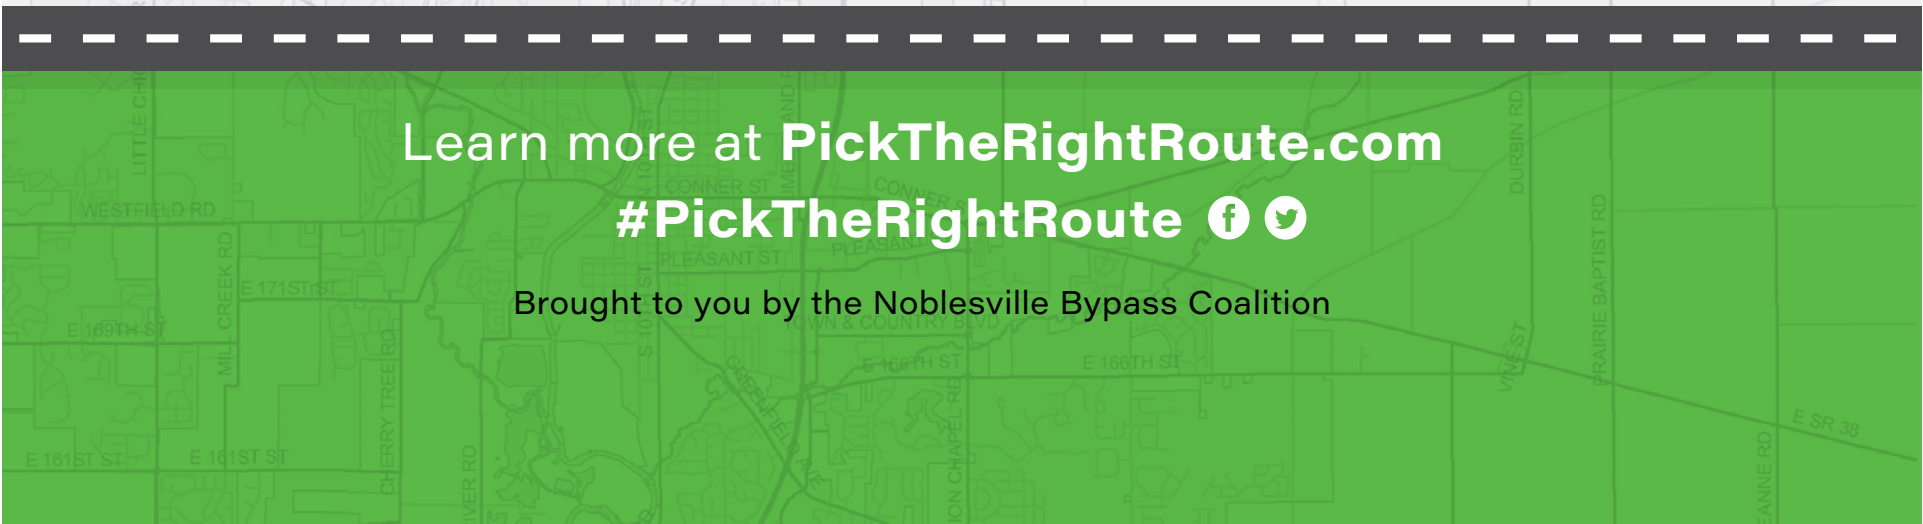

- 1. Mayor Jensen and the City must take the time to study alternatives to the suggested B-1 route to find the best solution. We do not believe the impact of the recently adopted Historic District designation has been evaluated in any detail in the existing plan.
- 2. Several alternative routes have been suggested, including one by a current City Council member, which are better for the driving public, can be achieved with only one roundabout instead of two, and that have minimal displacement in the Historic District and to the IDI site.
- 3. Further study should be made of the new road’s alignment to avoid IDI having to move its worldwide headquarters. IDI currently employs almost 100 workers at this location at an average salary of $73,000. IDI has plants in two other locations in the United States (Iowa and Montana) as well as in Puerto Rico, the United Kingdom, France, China and Mexico City. Since 2012, IDI has invested over $15 million dollars in improving its Noblesville location, to make it a suitable headquarters for visitation by the Fortune 500 companies with whom IDI does business, and to make it a more inviting facility to the neighborhood. Plan B-1 makes IDI’s Noblesville operation unworkable.

IDI is proud of its Noblesville heritage, and to that end, has donated over $1 million to community and civic projects in Noblesville over the last several years. However, IDI expects the City to promote the best solutions to problems like this. Rather than rushing through a plan that is flawed, why not take the time to consider other alternatives in light of the issues created by the new Historic District. Let’s work together to pick the right route.

Sincerely yours,

Terry Thomas Westfall

January 16, 1942 – November 28, 2020

Terry Thomas Westfall, 78, Fishers, passed away from complications related to non-COVID health problems on Saturday, November 28, 2020 at IU Health Saxony in Fishers. He was born on January 16, 1942 to the late Oral and Mildred (Reiber) Westfall in Akron, Ohio.

Terry graduated from Miami High School in Oklahoma and stayed very involved with his school throughout his life. He attended Oklahoma State University. His 50-year career was spent in the pool, spa, and billiard and recreational equipment industry. Terry was a natural-born salesman who loved his work. He was very outgoing and loved to laugh, living life to the fullest. On any given day, if you would've asked Terry how he was doing, he would respond, "INCREDIBLE!"

Terry enjoyed playing golf and was a huge fan of the University of Michigan. He loved reading, sometimes finishing three to five books in a week. He also loved a good music playlist. He would get his foot bouncing to the beat while he tapped his thigh and half sang the lyrics. In recent years, he found a love for mobile app gaming and through that hobby he developed many relationships with people across the world, spreading his friendship, laughs, support, and prayer.

Most of all, he was a loving husband, father, grandfather and friend. He sure did get a kick out of teasing his grandkids and bringing smiles to their faces. Boy, did he also know how to affectionately push his wife's buttons. He would regularly brag about how well she had always taken care of him and how after 55 years he still only had eyes for her. He was proud to tell people about his love for her. Right up there with the love he had for his wife, family, and friends, was the love he had for his dogs. He loved his dogs with all his heart. He is most likely scanning the grounds of Heaven for a dog to adopt and spoil.

Terry is survived by his wife of 55 years, Connie Westfall; children, Stacey (Charlie) Strong, Peter (Katie) Westfall, Nicole (Tri) Le and Samantha (Peter) Loso; brother, Michael (Brenda) Westfall; grandchildren, Tyler, Chelsea, Lauren, Ella, PJ, Gage and Wyatt; and great-grandchild, Sailor.

No services are scheduled at this time. Randall & Roberts Funeral Homes have been entrusted with Terry's care. Condolences: randallroberts.com

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for all of you, because your faith is being reported all over the world. God, whom I serve in my spirit in preaching the gospel of his Son, is my witness how constantly I remember you in my prayers at all times; and I pray that now at last by God's will the way may be opened for me to come to you. I long to see you so that I may impart to you some spiritual gift to make you strong—that is, that you and I may be mutually encouraged by each other's faith. I do not want you to be unaware, brothers and sisters, that I planned many times to come to you (but have been prevented from doing so until now) in order that I might have a harvest among you, just as I have had among the other Gentiles.

Big defense sends Carmel to MIC win

By RICHIE HALL

CARMEL - Any time is a good time for a basketball team to put its defense on display, and Senior Night is no exception.

Carmel's boys celebrated their Senior Night Friday at the Eric Clark Activity Center by putting on a defensive show, with senior Brian Waddell providing a show-stopping performance. Waddell poured in 28 points for the Class 4A No. 2 Greyhounds as they defeated 4A No. 6 Lawrence Central 64-35 in their first Metropolitan Conference game of the season.

Carmel coach Ryan Osborn said his team got back to a "defensive mentality" for this game.

"I was happier tonight with our defensive performance, that we were connected a little bit better, communicated better, made it difficult for the leading guys to get in-rhythm shots," said Osborn. "So, credit to everybody that played tonight. Not just on their top two scorers, but even off the ball, I thought our guys were locked in defensively."

The 'Hounds allowed the Bears only two points in the first quarter while scoring 15 of their own. Waddell hit two 3-pointers to start the game, then later converted a traditional three-point play. Charlie Williams also completed and and-1, and Peter Suder finished the period with his own triple.

Waddell opened the second quarter with another 3, pushing Carmel ahead 18-2. Lawrence Central was able to get its offense going in that period, but the Greyhounds maintained a comfortable lead throughout the quarter. Waddell added 11 points, including a pair of dunks, and Bryce Beery helped out with six points.

Carmel got its defense going again in the third quarter, limiting the Bears to five points. Josh Whack started the period with a 3, then Suder was good on a pair of foul shots. The 'Hounds steadily increased their lead throughout the period, which ended with Carmel ahead 47-22.

Lawrence Central made a 6-0 run to start the fourth quarter, but the Greyhounds' lead was too much to overcome. Carmel finished the game with a 13-0 run that ate up most of the final half of the period, starting with Connor Gioia making 4-of-4 foul shots. Waddell added six points, and Gioia finished the run with a basket off a steal.

"At a time where it's Senior Night, we're celebrating them, it's also about going and playing your first MIC game," said Osborn. "A lot of stuff going on and I think it tells you a lot about the guys in the locker room. They're together and they like being around each other. They like competing together. Makes it a lot of fun."

"The first game of the year was different, playing an opponent that we didn't know anything about and never played," said Osborn. He was referring to Carmel's season-opening win over Columbus North, which the Greyhounds played back on Nov. 24. Carmel had to wait 10 days to play its second game after a cancellation of its Nov. 28 game.

"I think they turned around and I saw a lot tonight that mimicked what we saw personnel-wise out of the guys last year, at the end of the year," said Osborn.

In addition to his 28 points, Waddell also led the rebounds with nine and made two blocked shots. Suder scored nine points and dished out five assists, while Gioia handed out five assists and made four steals.

The Greyhounds are 2-0 and host Zionsville tonight at the Eric Clark Activity Center.

'Blazers drop home opener, 57-51

The University boys dropped their home opener Friday night, losing 57-51 to Greenwood Christian.

Class 2A No. 7 University trailed 50-41 early in the fourth quarter before mounting a comeback. Camden Brown scored to cut the lead to seven before Matt Jones drove to the basket and was fouled as he scored. The old-fashioned three-point play cut the lead to 50-46. After a Cougar basket, Mitchell Martin made a free throw and Brown made two foul shots to cut the lead to 52-49 with 3:14 remaining.

The game was scoreless until Martin made two more foul shots with 43 seconds left to pull the Blazers within one. After two Greenwood Christian foul shots, University turned the ball over on an off the ball offensive foul. The Cougars made three of four foul shots down the stretch for the final margin.

University held an early 5-1 lead on a Jones three pointer and a Nate Jeffrey basket before Greenwood Christian scored the last eight points of the quarter and led 14-8 at the end of the first.

The Blazers battled back to take a 28-27 halftime lead with Larry Pierce scoring nine points in the period despite battling foul trouble.

University held their last lead at 30-29 when Martin scored off a Pierce assist. The Blazers were down just 42-41 with two minutes left in the third period, but Greenwood Christian scored the last five points of the quarter and led 47-41.

Brown and Pierce led University with 14 points each while Martin had nine and Jones six. Freshman guard Sabien Cain had a team high seven rebounds and three points.

Coach Brandon Lafferman was disappointed in not picking up the win, but was pleased with his team's performance. "I was proud of our guys who don't have very much experience playing together. They competed and showed major growth from just one week ago. We hate dropping games, especially at home, but we did a lot of things well tonight and are excited to get back at it tomorrow night against Speedway."

"Larry Pierce was great tonight and really carried us at times. Mitchell Martin played great in the second half and our freshman guard Sabien Cain was much improved from his first outing. Our chemistry improved tonight," continued Lafferman.

Greenwood Christian was led by Styles McCorkle who had 32 points. "I was really impressed with Styles McCorkle tonight. He did not play in their first game. We knew he could play but he really showed a lot of growth in his game from a year ago. Greenwood Christian is a well-coached team and will be very tough all season," concluded Lafferman.

University (1-1) is back in action Saturday night when they host Speedway at The U Center.
