Noblesville North students can now ‘snack’ on literature

The REPORTER

Noblesville’s North Elementary recently unveiled a book vending machine for students, the first of its kind in Hamilton County and one of only a few throughout the state.

“I constantly had kids who were holding onto school library books and not returning them,” explained Jamie Harris, media specialist at North Elementary. “When I heard about the book vending machine, I knew we needed a way for kids to earn books and keep them forever.”

Harris stocks the machine with titles that have been proven to be high-interest with her students and adds library-quality binding so the books will have a long shelf life at home.

“Teachers are able to pick two students per day who have modeled our school behavior expectations like initiative, respect and excellence,” added Harris. “When a student has earned 10 tickets, they come to see me in the library and are given a gold token that is then used to get a book from the vending machine. I can’t begin to tell

The journey home

"And on that day when my strength is failing, the end draws near and my time has come ... Still my soul will sing Your praise unending ... ten thousand years and then forevermore."
—“10,000 Reasons” by Matt Redmon

Mom was not a fan of contemporary music but I think she would appreciate the lyrics of that song.

The last "amen" for my mother came at 2:10 a.m. on Thursday. Mom and Dad will be spending their first Christmas, together, in 14 years. She was ready to be with him and Jesus.

For the three days before her passing, I was able to spend three hours a day with her, sitting at her bedside. We knew her time was near. She was at peace knowing she would soon fall into the arms of Jesus.

The first day, we were both singing. The second day, she mouthed the words. The third day I sang to her as she started her journey home.

Honestly, it was so peaceful.

My friend, Corinne Gunter, had said to me, "Death is not an event, it is a journey." We are all going there. For some, like my mother, it is a long one. I was blessed to have her for 65 years.

"Amazing Grace," "What a Day That Will Be," "Going Home," "God on the Mountain" and several other hymns, could be heard coming from her room at Prairie Lakes. She sang alto, I sang soprano. Oh, the sweet harmony of a mother and daughter as they shared their love and the love for their Lord.

We prayed the Lord's Prayer. I quoted scripture. I prayed sweet prayers over her, thanking God in each prayer for giving me the best mother there ever was.

Hymns and prayers took her home to heaven.

Her love will remain here in every red-bird I see, every recipe of hers that I use, every time I read one of her favorite scriptures and when my heart embraces so many memories.

Fishers Police Dept. receives national accreditation for “use of force” policies

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

The Fishers Police Department was among the first group in the nation to receive approval from the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA) for national use of force policy certification, based on a letter to Fishers residents from Chief Ed Gebhart.

"This three-year certification is part of Presidential Executive Order 13929 to ensure that law enforcement agencies across the country provide transparent, safe, and accountable delivery of services to their communities by prohibiting chokeholds as a use of force technique and by maintaining use of force policies that adhere to all local, state, and federal laws," Gebhart wrote. "CALEA has reviewed our policies and found that we are in full compliance with all requirements for federal certification."

Chief Gebhart, in his letter, writes that the certification is another way for Fishers Police to demonstrate the department's commitment to serving and protecting the local community.

you how exciting this is for our students!”

The equipment costs approximately $5,000 and was funded through a creativity grant from the North Elementary Parent Teacher Organization (PTO). In past years, North’s PTO has raised almost $25,000 from the signature community food and wine event, Savor Noblesville. Books are replenished regularly using credits from the school’s Scholastic book fairs.

Fifth-grader Graham Bodkin recently earned the opportunity to select a book from the machine. “I’m happy to get a book,” Bodkin said. “I like ones that have a lot of adventure and twisty emotions.”

Why is it important for his school to have a book vending machine? “Two reasons,” answered Bodkin. “For kids to be motivated to do the right thing and to get a book to read if they don’t have one at home.”

Mom taught me the first scripture I ever memorized, John 3:16. Because of that scripture and her faith, I know I will see her again in heaven.

"For God so loved the world that he gave His one and only Son, that who-ever believes in Him shall not perish but have eternal life."

65 years with my mother here on earth. 10,000 years and then forevermore in heaven.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Local design firms help bring holiday joy to Boys and Girls clubs

The REPORTER

OfficeWorks, a certified Herman Miller dealer, continued more than 20 years of the “We Care” tradition, but re-imagined for 2020. This event benefited 175 children at three local Boys & Girls Clubs.

“We Care” was started by Herman Miller in 1991 as an arts and crafts event benefiting the Boys & Girls Clubs across the nation. Each year, Herman Miller partners with 30 cities, local dealerships, architects and interior design firms to create a winter wonderland of fun activities and crafts at local Boys & Girls Clubs.

Participating design firms included Arc Design, Browning Day, Carson Design, Champlin Architects, Concept 2, CSO, DKGR, Four Point, krM Architects, Ratio, Rowland, and manufacturer’s Herman Miller, Naughtone, Geiger, and the event’s host, OfficeWorks.

In a ‘normal’ year, “We Care” is an in-person event hosted at The Lilly Club, which includes Santa, face painting and balloon art. Indianapolis-area design firms have stations set up to shape the creativity of the arts with children. They assist and provide the crafts with everything from snow globes to personalized coffee mugs. The completed crafts can be given from the child to family members so everyone can feel the love of the holidays.

For 2020, the “We Care” tradition was “Re-Imagined.” OfficeWorks and Herman Miller’s Nancy Ramsey delivered tote bags to three Indianapolis Boys & Girls Clubs for 175 children. The individual tote bags included instructions, crayons, glue, art aprons, and fun holiday swag – bracelets, socks, gloves, and winter hats.

“On behalf of OfficeWorks and Herman Miller, we are so thankful for the generosity of both time and materials donated by the Indianapolis area design firms. Continuing to bring joy, the love of art, and warm essentials to 175 children is truly the meaning of the holidays,” said Jackie Wilson, OfficeWorks’ Architecture and Design Representative.

How do people make money off of video games?

Editor’s Note: The Sheridan Student Column is brought to readers by Sheridan High School’s 10th grade English class, taught by Abby Williams.

I’ve been playing video games for pretty much my whole life. Gaming keeps growing and growing. More and more people are playing them every day. People used to think that they were bad, but now people are starting to see that video games are just another hobby. Some people, though, make it more than a hobby. There are a couple ways you can have a career through video games. You can become a streamer, YouTuber or an esports player.

ago. Sponsors are the last way that Youtubers make money. Youtubers can take money from sponsors and then they make a bit about that sponsor inside one of their videos. Usually that bit is about two to three minutes. Another thing a sponsor can be used for is to fund something that they are doing in a video, like a tournament or something like that.

Monroe Lake to hold First Day Trail Run and Walk

The REPORTER

Monroe Lake will hold its eighth annual First Day Trail Run and Walk on Jan. 1 at Fairfax State Recreation Area, 9301 S. Fairfax Road, Bloomington.

The event format for 2021 has been modified from past years. The non-competitive run and walk will have three route options, ranging from 1.3 to 3.7 miles long. Unlike in past years, advance registration is required, and no walk-up registration will be permitted. Register at bit.ly/firstdaytrail2021 through Dec. 30 or until the event is full. Total participation is capped at 300 people.

When registering, each person will choose a 15-minute check-in window. Each window is limited to 20 people. Participants will need to check in at the Fourwinds Lakeside Inn, located within Fairfax SRA, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Registration is $15 per person and includes a grab-n-go box lunch, an entry for the prize drawing, an embroidered collectible event patch, and a $15 gift certificate for the Fourwinds Lakeside Inn restaurants.

After checking in, participants will be directed to the starting area and have until 4 p.m. to complete the route of their choice. A photographer will take photos as people cross the line and hear the finish line bell.

Facial coverings must be worn while inside the Fourwinds Lakeside Inn. Participants should also carry a facial covering on the course to wear whenever passing within six feet of someone who is not a member of their household. A list of additional event modifications and safety precautions is posted on the event website.

This event is co-sponsored by Monroe Lake and the Fourwinds Lakeside Inn and Marina. Proceeds support public events, programs, and interpretation at Monroe Lake.

For more information, contact Jill Vance, Monroe Lake interpretive naturalist, at jvance@dnr.IN.gov or (812) 837-9967. Entrance to Fairfax SRA is free during winter.

These people make money by the people watching and advertisements. Once you get big enough, people can put advertisements on their stream so they make money off of them. Also, the people watching can donate money to the streamer if they want, or they can buy a subscription for their channel to unlock emotes and a subscription badge by their name to show support.

Being an esports player is really hard, too. People put thousands of hours into a single game to get that good at it and to play it professionally. Esports players don’t make their own money; instead, the team gets paid and then the players get paid. Esports teams make about 90 percent of their money from sponsorships and advertising.

A Youtuber is a person who makes videos and uploads them to their channel. These people make money off of advertisements and sponsors. Patreon is a place where people who enjoy the content that they make can give them money to support them. They can make extra money off of this. Usually, a Youtuber will upload on a schedule and will send out notifications to their subscribers so they will know when it gets uploaded.

They don’t get a set amount of money per video because the money they get depends on how many people watch. They could be still making money off of a video they made two years

This as well is just like sports. In racing, for example, cars will have brands on the side. It is the same in esports, but the players would have that brand on their jersey. Also, you know how there are halftime breaks and pregame advertisements? That is the same in esports, which is how they get their advertisement money. Lastly, when a team takes part in a tournament there could be cash prizes. This is how they make that last 10 percent of their money.

Gaming is going to keep growing, probably opening new job opportunities along with it. I am really excited to see where this will go and how big it will get.

What was Indiana State University's original name?

The REPORTER

This week in Indiana's history ...

1861 – John Wilkes Booth opened a six-day engagement on Christmas Day at the Metropolitan Theater in Indianapolis. Called the "celebrated tragedian," he was playing six roles in a Shakespeare festival that included Macbeth, Hamlet and Richard III. The Metropolitan, opened in 1858, was considered to be the city's first professional theater. It was located on the northeast corner of Washington Street and Tennessee Street (now Capitol Avenue).

1865 – The Indiana General Assembly created the Indiana Normal School. The mission was the education of elementary and high school teachers. Five years later, the school opened with 23 students and a faculty of three. In 1929, the name was changed to Indiana State Teachers College. In 1961, it became Indiana State College, and, in 1965, Indiana State University.

1882 – John W. Teel and Frederick Badet launched the South Bend Toyworks Company. They began making croquet balls and mallets and later expanded to include coaster wagons, hobby horses, dolls and doll carriages. The company, employing over 400 people in South Bend, was acquired by Playskool in 1960. It was later absorbed by Hasbro. The South Bend factory closed in 1985.

1928 – Dedication ceremonies were held for the new Butler Fieldhouse in Indianapolis. For many years, it was the largest basketball arena in the United States. The facility was renamed in 1966 to honor long-time Butler coach Paul D. "Tony" Hinkle. Over the years, the building has hosted a wide variety of sports and civic events. It also served as a barracks for Army and Navy members during World War II. It is well-remembered by movie fans as the location for the dramatic final scene in Hoosiers.

1933 – The William H. Block Department Store in Indianapolis extended holiday shopping hours until 9 p.m. Patrons were invited to come downtown to have dinner. The 5th Floor dining room offered turkey with chestnut dressing, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes and salad for the price of 30 cents. For the same cost, diners could replace the turkey with a grilled T-bone steak with mushroom sauce.

2007 – A horse-drawn caisson carried the body of Indiana Congresswoman Julia Carson from her home to the Statehouse. Hundreds of mourners passed by her flag-draped coffin in the rotunda. The first woman and the first African American to represent Indianapolis in Congress, she had served 10 years on Capitol Hill. Her funeral at Eastern Star Church was attended by many civic leaders, including Senator Richard Lugar, former Senator Birch Bayh, Indiana Governor Mitch Daniels, Former Congressman Andy Jacobs, Indianapolis Mayor Bart Peterson, and Civil Rights Leader Jesse Jackson.

AG Hill announces $2M settlement with CafePress after large data breach

The REPORTER

Indiana Attorney General Curtis Hill announced on Friday that Indiana and six other states have reached a $2 million settlement with CafePress, an online retailer of stock and user-customized products.

The settlement resolves a 2019 data breach that compromised the personal information of approximately 22 million consumers, including 312,000 Indiana residents. The breach compromised consumer names, email addresses, passwords, physical addresses, phone numbers, credit card numbers and expiration dates, and full, unencrypted Social Security and tax identification numbers.

Under the settlement, CafePress agreed to pay $2 million to Indiana and the six other states. This includes an immediate payment of $72,712.15 to Indiana and $677,287.85 divided amongst the other states. The remainder of the $2 million payment is suspended based on the company's financial condition.

"Although it would be more beneficial for consumers if companies like CafePress took cybersecurity precautions before they were hit by data breaches, we are pleased that CafePress will now take necessary actions to protect their customers' information," Hill said. "Cyberattacks are the fastest-growing type of crime in our nation, and we will continue to hold accountable companies that don't take basic, proactive measures to prevent them."

In addition to the $2 million payment, CafePress has agreed to a series of provisions designed to protect consumers' personal information from cyberattacks. Those include:

- A comprehensive information security program that includes regular updates to keep pace with changes in technology and security threats, as well as regular reporting to the CEO concerning security risks;
- An incident response and data breach notification plan that must address preparation, detection, analysis, containment, eradication and recovery;
- Personal information safeguards and controls, including encryption, segmentation, penetration testing, logging and monitoring, a risk assessment program, password management and data minimization;
- Clear notice to consumers concerning account closure and data deletion; and

- Third-party security assessments for five years.

PlanetArt LLC, which purchased substantially all the assets of CafePress during the investigation into the data breach, agreed to the provisions of the settlement designed to protect consumer data.

Upon disclosing the breach in September 2019, CafePress offered two years of credit monitoring and theft resolution services at no charge to those whose Social Security or tax identification numbers were affected by the incident.

In addition to Hill, the attorneys general of New York, Connecticut, Kentucky, Michigan, New Jersey and Oregon participated in the settlement. New York Attorney General Letitia James led the multistate investigation into the data breach.

DNR receives Congressional Sportsmen's Foundation award

The REPORTER

Last week, Indiana DNR was given the State Agency of the Year Award by the Congressional Sportsmen's Foundation (CSF) during the 17th annual National Assembly of Sportsmen's Caucuses (NASC) Sportsman-Legislator Summit.

"The State Agency of the Year Award is presented to one state fish and wildlife agency each year in recognition of their dedication to furthering science-based wildlife management policies, promoting our outdoor heritage, and partnering with legislators and members of the hunting and fishing community in their state," said Congressional Sportsmen's Foundation President Jeff Crane. "We are honored to present the 2020 NASC State Agency Award to the Indiana Department of Natural Resources, who has been a true partner to both CSF and the Indiana Legislative Sportsmen's Caucus, and has demonstrated commitment to sound policy priorities and working with the sportsmen's community in the Hoosier state."

The award recognizes Indiana DNR's work hosting the first Legislative Rendezvous at Atterbury Fish & Wildlife Area. This event was an opportunity for legislators, conservation partners, and agency staff to participate in recreational shooting at the Atterbury Shooting Complex while sharing the DNR's work to ensure conservation and recreational access.

"We are privileged to receive this award, and we are grateful for our partnership with the Congressional Sportsmen's Foundation," said Amanda Wuestefeld, director of the Division of Fish & Wildlife. "Through this partnership, we can continue advancing fish and wildlife habitat management and the recreational opportunities they afford."

Hosted by the CSF, the NASC Sportsman-Legislator Summit brings together caucus members, non-governmental organization representatives, key staff from state and federal fish and wildlife agencies, representatives of the outdoor industry, and other conservation policy professionals for two days of educational programming, networking, and discussion on enhancing access, opportunities, and

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

What shall we conclude then? Do we have any advantage? Not at all! For we have already made the charge that Jews and Gentiles alike are all under the power of sin. As it is written: "There is no one righteous, not even one; there is no one who understands; there is no one who seeks God. All have turned away, they have together become worthless; there is no one who does good, not even one." "Their throats are open graves; their tongues practice deceit." "The poison of vipers is on their lips." "Their mouths are full of cursing and bitterness." "Their feet are swift to shed blood; ruin and misery mark their ways, and the way of peace they do not know." "There is no fear of God before their eyes."

Audrey W. Hart

March 14, 1926 – December 17, 2020

Audrey W. Hart, 94, went to be with her Lord and Savior on Thursday, December 17, 2020. She heard the words as she entered heaven, "Well done thy good and faithful servant, you have kept the faith, your time on earth is done, welcome home."

She was born on March 14, 1926 to John Keen and Eliza Catron in Sunnybrook, Ky.

Audrey was married to James Hart on March 6, 1943. For 63 years, they enjoyed their time together until his death in 2006. After retirement, they planned their weeks around garage sales, looking for antiques.

In September of 1955, they adopted their daughter, Janet Kay. She was the answer to her prayers. There was a lot of love in that little house on 12th Street.

Audrey loved her family well. She was the epitome of the true matriarch. She prayed every night for them, naming each one, reminding God to watch over her family.

Audrey was known for her southern cooking, fried apple pies, fried hot dogs, potato salad, and, of course, her famous chocolate gravy. She was a quilter and a seamstress. Audrey crocheted afghans and sock dolls for everyone in the family and beyond. She crocheted baby afghans for infants at Riverview Hospital. Audrey's final passion was making beaded bracelets for her family and all her favorite caregivers at Prairie Lakes Health Campus.

Audrey was a member of the Noblesville First Church of the Nazarene where she served her Lord in many ways: Sunday School teacher, choir member, church board member, youth leader, and most of all, prayer warrior. She pretty much did everything but preach, although her daughter has heard a few sermons. She received the Distinguished Service Award from the Headquarters of the Nazarene Church.

Over the years, Audrey was employed by Firestone, Riverview Hospital, O'Malia's Grocery and Kenley's Grocery.

She is survived by her daughter, Janet (Chuck) Leonard, Noblesville; grandson, Brandon (Angie) Baker, Noblesville; granddaughter, Emily (Drew) Alexander, Wesley Chapel, Fla.; great-grandchildren, Matthew (Keerstin) Baker, Alecks Baker, Abby Baker, Jake Baker, Aiden Alexander and Leah Alexander; great-great-grandsons, Jason and Tiberius Baker; and sisters, Nettie (Larry) Stroud and Maxine (Don) Rednour.

In addition to her parents, Audrey was preceded in death by her husband, James Hart; sisters, Lena Reno, Doshia Stinson, Grace Denney, Jannie Hancock Miller, Linnie Catron, Dorothy Denney and Ruth Peavie; and her brother, Roy Catron.

Due to COVID-19, a private family service will be held at Randall & Roberts Funeral Home, with Pastor Corinne Gunter officiating. The service will stream live on the Facebook page of Janet Hart Leonard.

The family wishes to thank Prairie Lakes Health Campus, Five Star Residences, Riverview Hospital and Saxony Hospital for caring so well for Audrey. Her caregivers, Nina Williams, Angie Baker and Rachel Thompson, loved her well when she lived at her home.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to The Mill (First Church of the Nazarene), 1399 Greenfield Ave., Noblesville, IN 46060; or adopt a resident who has no family at Prairie Lakes Health Campus, 9730 Prairie Lakes Blvd. E, Noblesville, IN 46060. That would make Audrey happy.

Shamrocks run past Millers, 53-45

 Westfield's Jadeyn Hammes scored 10 points for the Shamrocks during their win at Noblesville Saturday at The Mill.

By RICHIE HALL

WESTFIELD - If the Indiana girls basketball world isn't paying attention to Westfield yet, then perhaps they'd better start.

The Shamrocks are on a roll, getting their third consecutive win Saturday at The Mill in Noblesville. Westfield shrugged off an early deficit to take control in the third quarter and go on to a 53-45 Hoosier Crossroads Conference win over the Class 4A No. 9 Millers.

"Any time you can go on the road and win in our conference, it's a great win, but I feel like today we were a solid squad across the board," said Shamrocks coach Ginny Smith.

Noblesville started the game well, leading 11-2 as the first quarter ticked to its later stages. Reagan Wilson scored five points in that run, including a 3-pointer, and Mallory Miller also hit a 3.

Westfield answered with its first big run, which started at the 2:34 mark of the period when Olivia Robey hit a free throw. The 8-0 run stretched into the second quarter, with Gigi Eldredge scoring five points. The senior ended the first period with a basket, then added a layin to begin the second. Eldredge's later free throw brought the 'Rocks to within 11-10.

Westfield took its first lead midway through the second when Jadeyn Hammes drained a triple and put the Shamrocks up 13-12. Free throws from Ashlynn Shade and Miller got Noblesville back ahead, and the Millers were up 16-14 at halftime.

The Noblesville lead increased to 17-14 after Dani Mendez hit a free throw. Then Westfield's Alyssa Crockett took over. The 6-foot-3 junior with multiple Division I college offers showed her versatility early in the third quarter, making back-to-back layins before nailing a 3-pointer. It was seven straight points for Crockett, and it put the Shamrocks up 21-17.

Westfield held the lead for most of the remainder of the game, except late in the third quarter when the Millers tied it at 27-27 when Miller made a free throw. Hammes responded with a three-point play to get the 'Rocks ahead 30-27, and they never trailed again. Chesney Tebbe also had six points in the third, including a putback to end the quarter and give Westfield a 32-29 lead.

"We didn't necessarily have a great offensive half the first half," said Smith. "We shot 22 percent in the first half and we talked about it at halftime, we got to get it into the paint, got to get some high-low looks. Let's get some high-percentage shots. Let's build some confidence."

The Shamrocks did just that in the third quarter, and continued that into the fourth period by scoring 21 points. Jessica Castor helped Westfield stay in front at the end by scoring seven points, including making 5 of 6 free throws. Olivia Robey did her part to ice the game by going 4-of-4 from the line.

"Our kids just came together," said Smith. "It all came down to being able to execute a game plan and handle their defensive pressure and I felt like we did that."

Crockett led all scorers with 15 points, while Hammes added 10 points. Crockett and Tebbe both collected eight rebounds, while Robey pulled seven. Tebbe and Robey both handed out four assists, while Crockett blocked three shots.

Shade and Miller both scored 11 points for the Millers, and Shade reached double-double status by pulling 11 rebounds. Miller made six steals and Wilson had five rebounds. Noblesville struggled from the floor, making 17 percent from field goal range.

"Overall, I didn't really think we played poorly, I just thought we didn't execute in terms of the shooting," said Noblesville coach Donna Buckley. "Seventeen percent's not going to win games."

Westfield is 1-1 in conference play and 6-3 overall. The Shamrocks will play two home games next week, hosting Brownsburg Tuesday in a makeup HCC game, then welcoming Yorktown on Wednesday.

The Millers are 2-2 in the conference and 7-3 overall. Next up for Noblesville is a Tuesday trip to Northwestern.

Huskies return to action with victory

It's been almost a month since the Hamilton Heights girls basketball team has been able to play a game due to COVID restrictions.

The Huskies finally got back on the court Saturday, hosting Northwestern. Heights broke a halftime tie with a great defensive effort, leading to a 39-27 win over the Tigers in the Huskies' first Hoosier Conference East Division game of the season.

The two teams were tied at 7-7 in the first quarter and 16-16 at halftime. Jillian Osswald had six points in the first half and MyKayla Moran scored four. The Huskies took control in the third quarter, holding a 27-21 advantage by the end of the period. Moran scored another five points.

Heights put the game away in the fourth quarter, outscoring Northwestern 12-6. Osswald scored six points in that period, giving her a team-high 15 points for the game. Moran finished with 11 points, while Camryn Runner added seven and Ella Hickok scored six.

The Huskies are 4-0 for the season. They are next scheduled to play Dec. 28 at the Perry Meridian Tournament.

Trailblazers complete weekend sweep

University's boys completed a 2-0 weekend Saturday with a 56-28 home win over Traders Point Christian Academy.

The one-two punch of senior Camden Brown (18 points) and junior Larry Pierce (19 points) again led the Class 2A No. 13 Trailblazers, who have now won three games in a row and are 5-2 on the season.

University took control early, jumping out to a 9-0 lead before the game was two minutes old. Senior Zach Whitham opened the scoring hitting a three pointer off a Pierce assist. Brown followed with a three-point basket from a Sabien Cain pass and then Pierce had a steal leading to an old fashioned three-point play. The Knights were held without a field goal for nearly six minutes at the start of the game and the Trailblazers led 13-4 after the first period.

The second quarter started slowly. Matt Jones' three pointer was University's only points for the first six minutes of the period, but the Blazers still led 16-

12. Kasey Ash-Simpson found Brown for a three pointer and then Pierce stole the ball and drove for a dunk to make the score 21-12. A Mitchell Martin basket made it 23-13 at halftime.

University increased the tempo in the third quarter and outscored the Knights 17-2 in the first 5:30 of the half to take a 40-15 lead. Pierce had a rebound basket, Jones hit a three off a Cain assist and Brown had a lay-in off a pass from Martin. After a Knights basket, Pierce scored eight straight points - two baskets off nice inside passes from Cain, a steal and lay-in and a rebound basket. Cain made a steal and found Brown at the rim for another assist and the 40-15 lead. Brown scored six more points to close out the third period with University up 46-20.

Trailblazers coach Brandon Lafferman substituted liberally in the fourth quarter as all 12 Blazers saw action with eight players scoring. Senior Adam Witzman had his first varsity points in the fourth quarter, scoring the last six University points of the game.

Lafferman was pleased with his team's effort in their second game in two nights. "I really thought our energy was great tonight to start the game and even better in the third quarter. We were able to create some turnovers and score in transition. We made some nice adjustments in the second half against the zone and created more inside shots for Camden and Larry. Our bench really did their job throughout the game."

Witzman led University with six rebounds. Brown had five and Pierce and Cain had four each. University took care of the ball, committing only seven turnovers while racking up 15 assists. Cain had a team high five assists. The Blazers had 15 steals with Martin pilfering six and Pierce five.

University is next scheduled to play in the Bedford North Lawrence Holiday Tournament on Dec. 29 and 30. The Trailblazers were runner-up to Fishers in last year's tournament and will be in pool play with a pair of Class 4A teams (Castle and No. 14 Bloomington North) and Eastern (Greentown).
