Heights accepting nominations for Athletic Hall of Fame Class of 2021

Stressed? Write it down

The REPORTER

The Hamilton Heights Athletic Hall of Fame Committee is seeking nominations from the public for the Class of 2021. Nominations are being accepted through March 31.

The Hamilton Heights Athletic Hall of Fame was created to recognize and honor Hamilton Heights High School athletes, coaches, teams and athletic program contributors for their achievements and/or contributions to the Hamilton Heights High School athletic program.

Created in 2019, the Hall of Fame is an opportunity for the corporation to recognize graduates and other individuals for their contributions to the district and achievements inside and outside the community. The committee selects inductees not only for their athletic achievements at Heights but because they demonstrate the values of good character and citizenship.

"While the global health pandemic required us to push back our inaugural Hall of Fame induction ceremony scheduled this past March, we are hopeful that we can host a special ceremony for this first class in March of 2021, followed by a ceremony in the fall honoring the Class of 2021," explained Mitch Street, Dean of Students and former head football coach for the Huskies, who was instrumental in bringing this recognition program to life at Heights. "The 2020 inductees represent one team and four multi-sport athletes that span of the course of eight decades. The inaugural (2020) Athletic Hall of Fame Inductees include the Categories and nomination criteria are included on the application and can found online on the high school athletics page at hhschuskies.org. Applications can be submitted electronically to Mitch Street, Hall of Fame Committee Chairman, at mstreet@hhschuskies.org, or mailed to Hamilton Heights High School, P.O. Box 379, Arcadia, IN 46030.

About the Hamilton Heights High School Athletic Hall of Fame

The Hamilton Heights High School Athletic Hall of Fame was established in 2019 to honor the memory and contributions of the many outstanding athletes, coaches and supporters of Heights athletic programs. The Hall of Fame serves as a symbol of our appreciation of the excellence, honor and devotion displayed by these celebrated individuals and teams of not only Hamilton Heights, but the schools that ultimately fed into Hamilton Heights (Atlanta, Jackson Central, Walnut Grove, Arcadia and Cicero). The Hall of Fame will recognize up to six individuals or teams each year.

I know I've shared tips in the past in this column about how to handle worry and stress. I'm blessed to have many tools in my "arsenal" to battle both thanks to my years of teaching the Dale Carnegie Course.

However, the last couple of weeks have made even me feel despair. Our national and local news seems to be the worst it's been in years. Many of my friends have lost loved ones or been battling mysterious illnesses lately. Add in my constant concerns over Mom and my "worry shelf" is just about to cave in with all I've piled on top of it lately.

But a thoughtful Christmas gift has helped me.

My son Jonathon's girlfriend, Mad-die, gave me a beautiful journal Christmas Eve. She had the cover embroidered with "The Thoughts of Amy Shankland." I was thrilled, especially since I've gotten out of the habit of writing in a gratitude journal, something I loved years ago.

I started jotting down the things I was grateful for each day at bedtime. This alone

HSE school board revises attendance plan

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

After going to an all-virtual class schedule since Nov. 19, HSE Schools will go to 100 percent in-person classes for PreK through grade 6, with a 50 percent hybrid class system for grades 7-12. This will begin on Jan. 19. The school board voted unanimously to approve the revised operation plan Wednesday night.

Under this arrangement, Fridays will be e-learning days for the remainder of the school year. Superintendent Allen Bourff told board members the e-learning Fridays will allow teachers time to consult with students, have planning time and use the Fridays for professional development as well.

Dr. Bourff says administrators will watch the data, including attendance, which will determine any changes in the plan. The ability to safely distance will also be monitored.

The establishment of e-learning Fridays will require a revised school calendar. Click here to view the calendar.

Local lawmakers take next step on new county court

The REPORTER

The House Courts and Criminal Code Committee voted unanimously Tuesday to allow Hamilton County to create a new superior court, according to State Rep. Donna Schaibley (R-Carmel).

Schaibley, the author of the bill, said Hamilton County's population has grown exponentially over the past decade, leading to a backlog of cases in the court system. According to the latest census data, the area is the fourth most-populous county in the state and is projected to be Indiana's second-largest county by 2050.

"As our community continues to see rapid growth, our courts have been strained as they try to manage an increasing workload," Schaibley said. "In order to serve our community effectively, our judicial system must be equipped to work through cases in a timely fashion."

State Rep. Tony Cook

(R-Cicero), a co-author on the bill, said the addition of another court would help alleviate some burden on the local court system.

"Hamilton County is an attractive community, and our hope is that more Hoosiers will choose to call this area home," Cook said. "Our local government must be able to handle the growth and hear their cases in a reasonable amount of time."

City of Carmel files complaint against Duke Energy over utility relocations

The REPORTER

The City of Carmel has filed a complaint against Duke Energy with the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission (IURC) over a dispute regarding utility pole relocations within two city road projects – the reconstruction of Guilford Road south of Main Street and the Multi-Use project on 126th Street between Keystone Parkway and Hazel Dell Parkway.

In both cases, the City is seeking to prevent Duke, after decades of practice, from claiming now that they do not have to move out of the right-of-way for a sidewalk or bike path in violation of the statute that requires them to. The City of Carmel is asking the IURC to order Duke to comply with city ordinances and agreements regarding the relocation of utility infrastructure and to pay the costs associated with the relocation.

In 2017, the City adopted an ordinance requiring utility companies to bury utility lines when installing new infrastructure or relocating existing facilities. The ordinance also prohibited new above-ground utility poles, except in cases where the City grants an exception, such as where the cost to do such work would be too high or otherwise too complicated.

Along Guilford Road, the City requested Duke bury utility lines and infrastructure and erect no new poles. Duke refused to comply and instead asked the city to modify its road project so the utility infrastructure could remain in place. After some consideration, the City agreed to a mix of both underground and above ground utilities – but there is still work to be done.

On the 126th Street project, the City agreed to allow above-ground infrastructure, but there is a dispute over who pays for the relocation costs.

In order for both projects to proceed, the City agreed to pay 50 percent of the costs up front, which came to $560,641 for the Guilford Road Project and $30,211 for the 126th Street Trail Project.

The complaint asks the IURC to order Duke to complete the relocation of its facilities located within Carmel's public right-of-way that interfere with the Guilford Road Project and the 126th Street Multi-Use Project in accordance with the City Ordinances, and to order Duke to pay for the disputed relocation costs related to those projects in accordance with the Provisional Utility Relocation Cost Payment Agreement signed by both Parties.

helps with worry and stress. Studies have shown that expressing gratitude can improve your mood, physical health, social bonds, and help you be more optimistic.

One of my favorite ways to start the day is to count my blessings before I get out of bed. It typically sets the stage for a positive day. While I’ve continued with these habits, they still weren’t helping my heart and soul with all that’s been hitting me lately. So I’ve turned my journal into a gratitude/worry one.

Studies also show that taking some time to write out your worries helps on many levels. For me, it’s another way to give my troubles to God.

Writing down your worries helps them “get out of your way” so you can (hopefully!) go to sleep or complete tasks more easily. It essentially kicks that anxiety and stress out of your brain.

I can’t say that I feel like all is right with the world every night when I do this. But I do feel more of a sense of peace after I write down all of my worries. I can literally picture me handing the list to God asking Him to help. After all, He always does a much better job than any of us can.

In these crazy times, I encourage you to grab a pen and write down your struggles. You don’t need anything fancy, a simple notebook will do (although I love my journal, thank you, Maddie!). I can almost guarantee you it will help.

State Rep. Chris Jeter (R-Fishers), who is also a co-author on Schaibley's bill, said Tuesday's vote comes after the Interim Study Committee on the Courts and Judiciary recommended the creation of a new court in Hamilton County.

"This past decade has been an exciting time for our area, as more and more people are choosing to put down roots in one of our many communities," Jeter said. "However, our judicial system must expand to keep up with the growth. As a local attorney who frequently appears in Hamilton County courts, I know there is more work that needs to be done and we must find a way to move these cases more efficiently through the process."

State Rep. Jerry Torr (R-Carmel), a bill co-author, said if approved by the General Assembly, the judge for this court would stand for election in 2022 and take the bench on Jan. 1, 2023.

"A new court allows the judicial system to hear more cases and reduce Hoosiers' waiting time for matters making their way through the legal process," Torr said.

House Bill 1042 now moves to the House Ways and Means Committee for further consideration. Visit iga.in.gov for more information.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

From the desk of Superintendent Derek Arrowood

Update #44 from Dr. Derek Arrowood, Superintendent, Hamilton Heights School Corporation

The first full week of transition to our new hybrid learning model for grades 5 through 12 went smoothly. In fact, very smoothly. The way our staff and students have embraced this new model is a testament to their support of our efforts to keep students and educators healthy, safe, and in the classroom as much as we can.

We were optimistic that starting with the hybrid schedule on Jan. 4 would give us the best chance of providing a degree of continuity with in-person learning without putting our students and staff at risk of contracting the COVID-19 virus. This model seems to make the most sense until our county is out of the red zone and the pandemic subsides enough to allow for full in-person instruction. I firmly believe this model will help us to best manage and prevent any potential spread of the virus in our schools for the next two months.

January is School Board Appreciation Month. I am making a big deal about it because those individuals who comprise our school board are a big deal and invaluable assets to our school district. As I reflect upon the past year, School Board Appreciation Month means much more this year. One of the great things learned through this pandemic is the importance of appreciating the people and relationships we have in our lives.

Among the many things our school board is tasked with is setting the vision and goals for the district and adopting policies that give the district direction to set priorities and achieve those goals. They have been doing a great job under incredibly challenging circumstances. They have helped guide the ship through uncharted waters on decisions that impact the whole district, as well as in the options and opportunities we can continue to reasonably and safely offer our students inside and outside the classroom. Please join me in thanking them for their vision and voice in helping to shape a better tomorrow at Hamilton Heights every single day.

Monday is Dr. Martin Luther King Day. Dr. King was born on Jan. 15, 1929, and his birthday has been recognized as a national holiday since 1984. It was officially designated a National Day of Service in 1994. Dr. King, a civil rights pioneer, fought for equality and justice. We should all seek to match his commitment to the betterment of our nation.

Now more than ever, we need to be reminded of Dr. King’s legacy to work together to find fair and equitable solutions for some of our most pressing local, state and national problems. One of the best tributes we can make in honor of Dr. King, not just on Monday, but every day, is serving others. With school in session on Monday, our focus and emphasis will be on Dr. King’s life, legacy, good citizenship and civic responsibility.

I encourage our students, employees, and community to consider one of Dr. King’s most urgent, pressing and timeless questions: “What are you doing for others?”

Letter to the Editor

Fishers reader: Capitol Hill violence was “right-wing coup”

Dear Editor:

The violence at the United States Capitol was an attempt to deny the American people their democratic voice.

The coup attempt was not unintended. The President himself mobilized thousands of armed and violent right-wing extremists to the District of Columbia. The President attended the rally, spoke to them, and gave them the ideological fire to break through barricades and occupy the Senate and House chambers.

The President does not stand alone in fomenting this coup attempt. The Arizona Republican Party, along with a dozen Republican Senators, including our own Senator, Mike Braun, have spread lies about the election and encouraged and nurtured violent reaction.

The GOP must be held accountable as an entire political party for enabling Trump, supporting his organized militias, and creating the conditions that made this coup attempt inevitable.

The anti-democratic forces that overtook the Capitol have committed the exact same acts of violence in Oregon and Michigan where they stormed the state capitol buildings there and plotted to kidnap the Governor of Michigan. Indeed, there, too, the President and the GOP enabled the violence. They met no resistance by Republican officials, because it furthered their collective agenda to undo the democratic will of the people in those states.

The coup plotters are not patriots. They want to take away the power of working people to elect their representatives at all levels of government. Democracy as it exists in the United States is purposefully flawed, yet it is often the only tool by which working people can exercise their political will.

What remains of our democracy at this point must be guarded and this attempt to destroy it must be called by what it is – a right-wing coup.

Mockingbird Hill Recovery Center to open March 1 in Anderson

The REPORTER

Aspire Indiana Health has announced that Mockingbird Hill will be the name of its new recovery center in Anderson, slated to open March 1.

Mockingbird Hill Recovery Center is a project of Aspire Indiana Health, a nonprofit comprehensive healthcare provider, and Progress House, the state’s oldest recovery residence. Upon full scale-up it will house approximately 92 men with substance use disorder (SUD) and provide them with “whole health” recovery services including primary medical care, behavioral health, addiction treatment, peer counseling, individual case management and more.

In choosing the center’s name, Aspire is reflecting the deep roots the 13-acre property has in the Anderson community as the former site of the Mockingbird Hill Park concert venue. From the 1950s to the 1970s, it was a nationally famous tour stop for legendary names in the country, bluegrass and blues music genres. Artists who performed there include Johnny Cash, Patsy Cline, Dolly Parton, Jerry Lee Lewis, Chuck Berry and many more.

“Mockingbird Hill Recovery Center will be a beacon of hope and healing for the entire community,” said Barbara Scott, Aspire President and CEO. “In selecting this name, it was an easy choice to tap into the rich heritage that was already there. Mockingbird Hill will sing again, this time a chorus of renewal and recovery.”

The center will be certified as a Federal Qualified Health Center (FQHC) and an Indiana Community Mental Health Center (CMHC), and to national recovery residence standards by the Indiana Affiliation of Recovery Residences (INARR). It is expected to create at least 40 new jobs.

“The center will serve local people with substance disorder, but the reverberations it will have are already being felt on a regional and state level,” said Darrell Mitchell, Aspire Vice President of Corporate Development and Executive Director of Progress House. “The incidence of substance abuse and overdoses has skyrocketed during the pandemic, so the need for healing facilities like Mockingbird Hill is more critical than ever.”

After the concert park closed, the site lay dormant until it was purchased more than a decade ago and reconstructed as a camp for adults with disabilities. Aspire purchased the property in early 2020 after being approved as a recovery center by Anderson city officials. Renovations and upgrades have been ongoing and will be completed in time for the March opening.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

I am using an example from everyday life because of your human limitations. Just as you used to offer yourselves as slaves to impurity and to ever-increasing wickedness, so now offer yourselves as slaves to righteousness leading to holiness. When you were slaves to sin, you were free from the control of righteousness. What benefit did you reap at that time from the things you are now ashamed of? Those things result in death! But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the benefit you reap leads to holiness, and the result is eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Girls basketball

Blackhawks fall to Speedway, 57-44

After not getting to play for over a month, the Sheridan girls basketball team has been making up for it both in games played and games won.

The Blackhawks had won back-to-back games in November before having to shut down. Since getting back on the court, Sheridan added another five wins to its streak. That seven-game victory stretch came to an end on Thursday, as the 'Hawks fell to a very good Speedway team 57-44 at Larry Hobbs Gym.

"After having it taken away from them for a little while, they were super eager to get back to it, and I think that's where that energy has been coming from lately for us, so hopefully we can regroup and find it again and get back after it going forward," said Sheridan coach Jaidlin (Delph) Bradshaw.

The Sparkplugs, a Class 3A team that is 11-1 for the season, jumped out to a 15-8 lead over the 2A Blackhawks after the first quarter. The game slowed down in the second period, with Allie Delph scoring all six of Sheridan's points. Speedway led 20-14 at halftime.

The 'Hawks stayed close in the third quarter, and were still within 34-30 by the end of the period. Delph scored another nine points, with Lillie Dickerson hitting a 3-pointer. Sheridan was still within 44-41 during the fourth period, but the Sparkplugs pulled away at that point. Taylor Bates scored eight points for the Blackhawks in the fourth, while Dickerson drained two more 3s.

"They're definitely a talented team and they do a great job of running in transition," said Bradshaw. "And I think that we just didn't have enough gas left in the tank to run with them for the full 32 minutes."

Delph finished the game with 19 points, including two 3s. Bates scored 12 and Dickerson added 11. Delph and Dickerson are two of five seniors on the team, while Bates is a junior and has been a contributor to the team for years.

"They've really decided this year that they want to play like upperclassmen and they want to play like true leaders, and that makes a big difference for us," said Bradshaw. "I think going forward they're going to have to continue to play like true leaders and play hard and come out every day and just show their experience like they have been so far."

Sheridan is 7-2 for the season. The Blackhawks will have a busy finish to the year, playing three games during each of the next two weeks. First up will be back-to-back Hoosier Heartland Conference games at home, with Sheridan hosting Eastern on Monday and Clinton Prairie on Tuesday.

HSE swimmers sweep Senior Night

The Hamilton Southeastern swim teams swept a dual meet with North Central Thursday on the Royals' Senior Night.

Southeastern's boys team won 110-70. The Royals opened the meet with a win in the medley relay, swam by seniors Keegan Streett, Justin Voelker, Thomas Reising and Logan Hess. Reising also won the butterfly and placed a strong second in the 50 freestyle, Streett was first in the backstroke and Voelker won the 500 free.

Junior Matt Truxall led a 1-2-3 finish in the individual medley, with sophomore Charlie Rogers second and freshman Jack Warren third. Sophomore Troy Borrero won diving.

In the girls meet, Southeastern won 121-65. The Royals girls also began the meet by winning the medley relay; the swimmers were Rebecca Ang, Kenndy Fisher, Dabin Jung and Molly Pedersen.

Pedersen would immediately return to the pool and lead a 1-2-3 sweep of the 200 free, with Sloane Gardner placing second and Olivia Kiley third. Pedersen would later win the 100 free and join Bella Goss, Sarah Juffer and Fisher to place first in the 200 free relay, giving her four wins on the night.

Fisher also had four wins, as she was victorious in the 50 free and breaststroke in addition to the relays. Other winners were Hannah Justice in diving, Kaleigh Stivers in the butterfly, Gardner in the 500 free, Ang in the backstroke and the 400 free relay team of Kiley, Gardner, Stivers and Ang.

The Huskies won 11 matches, including six by fall. Getting pins for Heights were Isaiah Rodriguez at 120 pounds, Carson Fettig at 126, Devonte Henson at 138, Cooper Mansfield at 145, Evan Tilton at 160 and Mason Moran at 285.

'Blazers drop tough game to Indy Homeschool Wildcats

The University girls played their first game in 25 days Tuesday night and dropped a 55-49 decision to a tough Indianapolis Homeschool Wildcats squad.

The Wildcats jumped out to an 11-2 lead in the first three minutes of the game before the Trailblazers found their bearings. Baskets by Sierra Hinds, Kamryn Washington, Kelsey DuBois and Payton Seay along with a pair of Hinds free throws pulled the Trailblazers within 14-12. After two Wildcats foul shots, DuBois scored again off an Arrion Sherrod assist to have the Trailblazers within 16-14 after the first quarter.

The first quarter set the tone for the rest of the game. The Wildcats would jump out to a three-possession lead, the Trailblazers would rally back. But University was never able to climb the mountain to a tie score as the Wildcats repulsed every University rally.

After a Washington basket got University within 23-20 midway through the second quarter, the Wildcats ran off eight straight points before another Washington basket made it 31-22 at the half.

The Wildcats built a 41-28 lead with two minutes remaining in the third quarter before the Blazers climbed back in the game again. Seay converted two free throws then followed with a steal and lay-in. Two foul shots from DuBois cut the lead to 41-34 after three.

A DuBois basket and two foul shots from Seay cut the lead to five. Back-to-back scores from DuBois had University within 47-43 with 3:32 remaining, however the Trailblazers didn't score for the next three minutes as the Wildcats pushed the lead back out to 10.

DuBois led University (8-2) with 22 points and seven rebounds. Hinds had 12 points. Seay had nine points and four assists with Washington finishing with six points.

Gloria Brewer had 26 for the Wildcats, who improved to 16-3, including an 8-1 mark against IHSAA competition. The Wildcats outrebounded University 33-21 and had 14 offensive rebounds.

University will attempt to win its third consecutive Pioneer Conference championship Saturday when it travels to Greenwood Christian for the PAAC championship game. Tipoff is 3:30 p.m. The game will be streamed by IndianaSRN.

Hamilton Heights' Hayley Greene signs with Marian University

Hayley Greene, Hamilton Heights senior, has signed a letter of intent to play softball for Marian University in Indianapolis, Indiana. Marian University is a member of the Crossroads League and is a NAIA athletic institution. She is the daughter of Brian and Carissa Greene.

Greene, a four-year varsity letter holder, has been passionate about softball for as far back as she can remember. She has also had an impressive run as a member of the Hamilton Heights Girls Softball team. Her freshman year, Greene was named to the All-Conference Team and Offense Player of the Year. As a sophomore, she was named to the All-Conference teams, Honorable Mention All-State, beat the home run record, set the on base average, slugging percentage, earned the highest batting average, and was named at the team's MVP.

Greene said she felt inspired to choose Marian for a couple of reasons including its location, size of the school, community, and highly competitive softball team. "I think the smaller campus allows for meeting new people easily, and the students were nice and very welcoming during my visits," said Greene, who plans to study exercise science and kinesiology to pursue a profession as a physical therapist.

Greene's success on the field and in the classroom is the result of hard work, years of practice to develop her skills, and a lot of studying. She put in the time and dedication weekly between hitting with a coach, speed and agility training, weightlifting, defensive practice and at home off the tee or simply doing glove work to make valuable contributions to the team during her tenure. "I worked hard to develop my skills in the classroom because without having good grades I would not be able to practice and play softball for the school I love," Greene noted.

In addition, Greene credits her coaches, and most importantly, her family as strong influences on her success over the years. "My coaches have dedicated their time and sweat into helping grow my skill set and become the person and athlete I am today," she said. "It's been my parents and family who have been the biggest factor in my success. Without my parents, I would not have had the rides to my games and practices nor the money to pay for all my equipment and hotels. They have been my biggest fans and source of support through both the successful times and the rough parts."

"I have seen many talented players over that span, but only a few transcend those players to become players you realize are just cut from a different form and maybe players you won't see the likes of again any time soon," said Coach Ken Olovich, Hamilton Heights

High School Varsity Softball. "What makes a great player, to me, is not only a player that posts big statistical numbers (and Hayley sure has at record-setting levels) but makes those around them better and Hayley absolutely does that. Hayley values all of her teammates and the abilities they do have and does a great job supporting these players, and they seek her advice that she willingly provides. Hayley is the complete package and a champion. It has been a privilege to have her as part of our program these past four years and I wish her great success at Marian. Coach Fleming at Marian has had enormous success with some gaudily impressive won/loss records in a tough conference and we are pleased to hand over a player like Hayley to Coach Fleming and the program he has built at Marian."

"Hayley is one of the most exciting softball players to watch compete," added Kurt Ogden, Hamilton Heights Athletic Director. "She has such a high motor, and her competitive, refuse-to-lose spirit is a joy to watch. She can play about any position on the field and would be willing to play wherever she is needed. Marian University is certainly getting a great softball player but an even better kid. We wish her well as she pursues her dream of playing at the next level."

Greene also works in time to instruct a defensive class for younger athletes at the Ram Sports Academy in Noblesville, serves as a student athletic trainer for all sports at the high school and during the holidays, participates with the Christmas food drive at the Hamilton County 4-H Fairgrounds.

"I want to thank everyone who has put time and effort into as an athlete, such as my coaches, parents, teachers, and teammates," she added.
