Fishers vaccination site up and running at former Marsh building

WISH-TV | wishtv.com

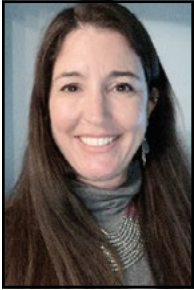

The Fishers Health Department vowed to do whatever it takes to get as many people vaccinated at its new vaccination site.

The city celebrated renovating the former Marsh Supermarkets building on 116th Street near Brooks School Road with a ribbon cutting on Monday. The opening means city officials are a step closer to achieving their goals.

"The sooner we can get people vaccinated the faster we can stop the spread of the virus," said Monica Heltz, public health director of the Fishers Health Department.

On the first day, the vaccination site was expected to vaccinate 340 people. Officials hope to have enough doses to vaccinate 1,000 people a day. The city previously said the site can give up to 1,600 shots a day. Appointments are required, and applicants for the vaccinations must have no COVID-19 symptoms. Right now, only people 70 and older can get vaccinated in Indiana.

Heltz said she hopes opening the site will encourage others to work with their health departments to use community resources to come up with solutions to get the vaccines in more arms.

"I think the message is 'Be ready. Do whatever needs to happen in the community to make sure your community is well-positioned and ready to respond when the vaccine comes'," Heltz said.

Kenneth Carlsen received his first vaccine dose at the site. He said the large accommodations made the process stress-free. He'll be 77 in March. He said after he's received his first dose, he feels more hopeful about the future.

"It's important for my own health, my family's health, and for the people around me," Carlsen said. "It's important we stop this thing. It's destroyed our country and we (have) got to get it back."

Who can remember the Blizzard of '78?

This week is the anniversary of the great Blizzard of 1978, a winter storm the likes of which had not been seen before in recorded local history, and has not been seen since. It struck locally Jan. 25-28.

Nearly 20 inches of snow was driven by winds of up to 55 mph with temperatures dipping to zero here in Hamilton County and throughout most of the state.

Folks younger than their mid-to-late 40s find it hard to believe when told of the eight-foot snowdrifts and the hardships caused by the historic snowstorm.

The blizzard paralyzed the state for three days and caused many problems for another week or more. Governor Otis Bowen declared a state of emergency and closed all roads in Indiana. Unfortunately, some folks lost heat, ran out of food or medicine, and some even died trying to get to shelter or supplies.

Carmel residents must wait to learn fate of The GOAT tavern

By DEMIE JOHNSON
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Neighbors who live near The GOAT tavern in Carmel will have to wait longer to find out what comes next for the bar.

The city's Board of Zoning Appeals was set to discuss a possible variance in a meeting Monday night. That part of the agenda was tabled until the Feb. 22 meeting.

The tavern first opened in July; since then, the city has received several complaints. In December, Carmel officials ordered the tavern to limit its operating hours based on the existing variance between 7 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Two days later, Carmel allowed The GOAT to stay open past 2 p.m. if it agreed to a long list of conditions.

Westfield H.S. students, staff shelter-in-place following threat

WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Students and staff at Westfield High School sheltered in place following a threat to the school on Monday morning. The district said staff and students were asked to shelter in place around 11 a.m. while police secured the building.

A joint statement issued by the City of Westfield, Westfield Police Department and Westfield Washington Schools said:

"This morning, Westfield High School received a threat and immediately went into its lockdown safety protocols. Westfield Police Department secured the building and no students or staff were injured. There was no shooting or any act of violence at the school. No weapons or instruments of destruction were found during the on-site investigation. The Westfield Police Department gave Westfield High School the all-clear and WHS resumed normal activities with increased police presence. In the process of the investigation, which remains ongoing, the police spoke with several individuals with knowledge of the situation."

Carmel city officials seek public opinion on redevelopment projects

The REPORTER

A new comprehensive community survey was launched on Tuesday as part of a new study on the City of Carmel's historic use of Tax Increment Financing to pay for several high-profile redevelopment projects that City leaders feel have become magnets for economic growth and private investment.

This new study, being conducted by Community Data Platforms (CDP), seeks to provide data to determine if decisions made over the past few decades on projects such as the Palladium, Center for the Performing Arts, Midtown Plaza and other notable redevelopment efforts have produced a good return on investment.

What does Carmel offer that made you want to live here ... and to stay here?

Brainard

- What would you change or add if you could?
- How well do you understand TIF ... and do you support it as a tool for growth?

These are just a few of the topics covered in the survey, which takes about 15 minutes to complete online. Participation in the survey is completely voluntary and all responses will be kept confidential. No personally identifiable information will be associated with your responses in any reports of this data.

"We hope Carmel residents will take a few minutes to participate in the survey. We want you to reflect on development and redevelopment projects that the city has undertaken to improve life in the community, along with our partners in private development," Mayor Jim Brainard said.

Drainage improvements coming to Home Place area

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Surveyor's Office and the City of Carmel will launch a drainage improvement project in the Home Place area in a shared partnership project to help address a history of chronic poor drainage, roadway and roadside ditch flooding and standing water.

The project will take place along the Clara Knotts Regulated Drainage area and will be focused in an area bordered by New Jersey Street to the west, College Avenue to the east, 103rd Street to the north, and 102nd Street to the south.

Work is expected to begin in February with an anticipated completion date of May 1, weather and utilities permitting. New storm water pipes will be installed along several roadways including portions of Broadway Avenue, Park Avenue, and 102nd and 103rd streets. All of the work will take place in areas where utility easements exist.

Intermittent, short-term roadway closures are expected in order to install the pipes crossing the roads.

COUNTY LINE

Hamilton County experienced a lot of rough winter weather in the late 1970s and early '80s. But, lately we have had a cycle of mild winters and almost forget what "real" winter weather can be. Maybe it's climate change or maybe not. Either way, most folks middle-aged or beyond can remember their Blizzard of '78 experience, and probably not too interested in seeing something that severe again anytime soon.

“Your responses to this survey are very important and will help city leadership understand what is working well and where there may be areas for potential improvement.”

City officials have contracted CDP, which will create its own community survey panel called Carmel Data Platform. CDP will handle all data collection and storage. No employee of the city will have access to individual answers and will never be able to determine who answered the survey.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2019 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

‘The Great Dine Out’ restaurant promotion extended through Feb. 7

The REPORTER

Due to popular demand, Hamilton County Tourism is extending its winter restaurant promotion for an additional week. “The Great Dine Out” runs through Feb. 7 instead of the originally planned Jan. 31.

More than 2,500 consumers have downloaded the mobile-exclusive passport to redeem offers at participating restaurants. This new winter campaign is designed to help restaurants during the tough winter season when business is typically slower.

“This is our first year for ‘The Great Dine Out,’ so we didn’t know what to expect, especially given the challenges of the ongoing pandemic,” said Ashley Ledford, Director of Marketing and Promotions. “We’re thrilled to see consumers respond positively and step up to support our local restaurant community during this time.”

More than 30 participating Hamilton County restaurants are offering deals and discounts for both dine-in and carryout meals. Specials range from complimentary dessert to free appetizer to $5 off your meal.

After five check-ins and/or redemptions, participants will be automatically eligible to receive a $25 restaurant gift card, while supplies last.

Young, Senate colleagues introduce resolution on National School Choice Week

The REPORTER

U.S. Senators Todd Young (R-Ind.) and Tim Scott (R-S.C.) have introduced a resolution declaring this week as National School Choice Week.

In a time when COVID-19 has severely limited access to quality education for many, parents across the country continue to recognize the importance of school choice. According to a new survey released by the American Federation for Children, 72 percent of K-12 parents who work full-time support school choice.

"The education of our youth is a priority for all Hoosiers," Sen. Young said. "Families should be allowed to choose the type of education that best suits their children's needs. I'm proud to support National School Choice Week as we recognize and celebrate all kinds of learning opportunities for

"Education is the closest thing to magic we have in America and is the most valuable gift we can pass down to our children," Sen. Scott said. "Too often the education debate is centered on what we do here in Washington, instead of reflecting the conversations happening around dinner tables across the country. As the pandemic has shuttered schools and brought into sharp relief the challenges faced by working parents, it is clear we need to give families more options, not less. We need to empower parents and students to choose what's right for their future and break every barrier to success because when our children succeed, America succeeds."

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

I consider that our present sufferings are not worth comparing with the glory that will be revealed in us. For the creation waits in eager expectation for the children of God to be revealed. For the creation was subjected to frustration, not by its own choice, but by the will of the one who subjected it, in hope that the creation itself will be liberated from its bondage to decay and brought into the freedom and glory of the children of God. We know that the whole creation has been groaning as in the pains of childbirth right up to the present time. Not only so, but we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for our adoption to sonship, the redemption of our bodies. For in this hope we were saved. But hope that is seen is no hope at all. Who hopes for what they already have? But if we hope for what we do not yet have, we wait for it patiently.

Good start sends Royals to victory

By RICHIE HALL

FISHERS - Before Hamilton Southeastern took to the floor Tuesday night to host Connersville, the Royals coaches talked about the importance of getting off to a good start.

The Southeastern players did just that. The Royals dominated the first half against the Spartans and cruised their way to a 51-35 victory, making HSE 2-0 to begin its current six-game homestand.

“The last couple games, we haven’t gotten off to great starts and sort of dug ourselves in holes,” said Royals coach Brian Satterfield. “It’s not fun always trying to play from behind, and one thing we wanted to try and do was come out here and try to get off to a better start.”

Southeastern couldn’t have asked for a better start on Tuesday. The Royals led 15-2 after the first quarter and ran that advantage to 26-2 midway through the second period. Sam Jacobs scored the game’s first five points, then Stutz made two free throws for a 7-0 lead.

Connersville got on the board with a basket, but the Royals continued to roll, scoring the next 19 points. Vinny Buccilla made two free throws, then both he and John McCall made three-point plays to finish out the first quarter. In the second quarter, Alex Totton got hot, making two 3-pointers on his way to eight points.

The Spartans made an 8-0 run during the second half of the period, but Buccilla finished the quarter with a triple, giving the Royals a 29-10 halftime advantage.

“I thought the energy that we had early on was good, especially at the defensive end,” said Satterfield. “We were able to get our hands on a lot of things and get some deflections and let a little bit of our defense create some offense for us.”

Southeastern had another fine defensive effort in the third quarter, holding Connersville to nine points and leading 41-19 by the end of the period. Jacobs had four points and Buccilla completed another three-point play with 49.3 seconds to go in the quarter.

The Spartans made a 9-0 run that took up the first three minutes of the fourth period, getting with 41-28. But the Royals answered that with their own 8-0 stretch. McCall started the run with a free throw, then Totton made his third 3-pointer of the game. Two free throws from Jacobs and a layin by Loudon Sundling put Southeastern back ahead 49-28, and the Royals were on their way to victory.

Satterfield said Connersville coach Kerry Brown “does a great job with them,” and knew the Spartans weren’t going to stop fighting.

“They had a lot better movement there in the second half, and we had a few lapses and they were able to take advantage of it,” said Satterfield. “I thought we rejuvenated our energy and Totton hit that 3, I thought that was a big shot that sort of helped us finish everything off.”

Jacobs had a solid game for the Royals, with 13 points, five assists and four steals. Totton and Buccilla each added 11 points. Mohammed Awad led the rebounds with five, while Dalton Retzner collected four rebounds.

Southeastern is 7-6 for the season and hosts Noblesville Friday in a Hoosier Crossroads Conference game.

Millers gymnasts place fifth at Northwestern

The Noblesville gymnastics team competed at the Northwestern Invitational on Saturday, placing fifth out of eight teams with a score of 88.975 points.

The Millers had their best score in the vault, totaling 24.35 in that event. Hailey Knoll had the best individual mark of the day for Noblesville with an 8.60, while Lauren Paska scored 8.175.

"When we add or higher skills and including twisting elements/skills, the scores will rise dramatically and we're only at the beginning of the season," said

Ramey.

The Millers are back in action Saturday at the Western Invitational, which begins at noon.

"Our goal this week is to start twisting our skills to add more value and difficulty into their routines before this next weekend," said Ramey. "I am hoping to see an improvement in their scores this weekend."

All-around scores: Hailey Knoll 31.50, Lauren Paska 30.375, Lyrric Barnett 26.925.

Vault: Knoll 8.60, Paska 8.175, Sierra Graue 7.575, Jessica Tret 7.40, Barnett 7.325, Harleigh Abbott 6.15.
