Altrusa completes literacy project for Cicero Library

High cholesterol? Me?

The REPORTER

Altrusa of Hamilton County, a local service organization, recently announced that it has completed its three-phase literacy project at the Hamilton North Public Library in Cicero. A member of Altrusa International, the local club focuses on literacy and service projects throughout the calendar year.

Learning that the children's reading table needed replacement at the Cicero site, the membership donated a new literacy and creative center for preschoolers in the children's section of the library as part of Phase 1. In addition to the table, the club's membership also donated a full set of large Legos building blocks which will enhance gross and fine motor skills and foster imaginary play.

The table will be a center for children to gather for story time, engage in constructive play activities, and assist the younger children in developing basic social skills. The table is designed to store materials on open shelving and in large storage book bins. The table was donated in memory of a member's mother who was a school teacher and social worker, who believed in the development of early reading skills.

Phase 2 of the recent project consisted of a donation of numerous Primary Board Books aimed at children in the three to six age group. Joanne Kemp, President of the local chapter, said that the club donated the reading materials to foster reading for pleasure, assist children in learning the alphabet, enhance vocabulary development, and help establish a love for learning in general.

Carol Rader, a club member and retired elementary school teacher, said that learning to read is fundamental to academic success during the school years thereafter. She noted that learning to read is about developing listening skills, recognizing the printed letters and words, and, finally, understanding the basic concepts contained in the stories. The Cicero Library currently offers Story Time hours three days a week to preschoolers.

My column has featured many mantras over the past 2 ½ years, one of which is "Take care of yourself so you can take care of others." It's nothing new, but it's hard to implement. We just get so darn busy in the sandwich generation that taking care of ourselves often gets pushed to the back burner.

I finally saw my doctor last year for an annual checkup right before COVID-19 hit, and I vowed I would see Dr. H again in 2021. Three weeks ago, I did just that.

I was actually excited to hear my blood work results. Dr. H told me that my calcium was low last year. I was determined to turn that around thanks to eating lots of calcium-rich foods. So when her office called me with the results, I was ready to hear how fabulous my calcium level was.

Yes, that level was great. But my jaw dropped when I heard that my LDL cholesterol level – the "bad" cholesterol – was high. My reading was 170 mg/dL! 100 or less is optimal. I was on my way to needing medication.

I was flabbergasted. My weight is (finally) normal. I exercise regularly, drink lots of water (avoiding soda), and eat lots of veggies and fruits. I've been gradually adopting a Mediterranean way of eating as well.

After I hung up, I sat at our dining room table where I do my daily work and pondered things for a bit. The obvious problem was most likely the keto diet my husband John and I followed for a portion of 2020. This diet can raise cholesterol for some people.

While I've been off of that eating pattern for months now, I still enjoyed keto-friendly desserts, butter, cream, etc. – all the stuff that the gal on the phone was saying was problematic. I began to go through our cupboard and refrigerator and examine the ingredients. Yep, my Mediterranean "with some keto" way of eating was definitely hurting me.

I absolutely DO NOT want to go on cholesterol medication, so the following week I did a huge overhaul of our grocery list. I'd already given up sweets for Lent, so thankfully I could just continue that way of life. (Although on special occasions, I'm still going to indulge!)

Steel-cut oatmeal, whey protein, less red meat, and even more fruits and veggies are now my staples. I've already marked my calendar to call Dr. H for my six-month follow up blood draw. My goal is to lower my LDL level to 120.

This sandwich generation member is going to take care of herself so she can help her mama and family become the best they can be!

Carmel to expand police headquarters

The REPORTER

The City of Carmel is set to begin expansion of its police department. The nearly $40 million renovation will include relocating the Carmel City Court into police headquarters and moving the IT department into the John W. Hensel Government Building located near 106th Street and College Avenue.

The project will expand the current police department east onto the Huntington Bank property and will add an additional 47,000 square feet to the current three-story facility built in 1990.

"The new space will be a welcome and much-needed addition," Carmel Police Chief Jim Barlow said. "In 1990, we had 49 sworn officers and 17 civilians. Today we have 134 sworn officers, 25 civilians, four part-time employees, a prosecutor and athletic trainer."

Barlow also indicated the expansion would allow his investigation division, which is housed at a remote satellite facility, to return to police headquarters.

"I appreciate the mayor and city council's support in not only meeting our needs now, but also 20 to 30 years into the future," Barlow concluded.

ALTRUSA

Altrusa of Hamilton County wrote a grant for Phase 3 of its literacy project, and when funds were received from District Six of Altrusa International, additional books were purchased for the summer reading program for intermediate level students who use the Cicero Library.

Rader explained that this age group frequently receives a recommended reading list prior to the dismissal in May and students receive extra credit for the books read. The Cicero Library provided Altrusa with a list of book titles most requested by Intermediate Readers and members used the chapter's grant money to buy additional books. The majority of books focus on biographies, history, and social science subjects.

Altrusa International has been serving communities since 1917. The local chapter will present its most recent project at the Altrusa International, District 6

Supporting our Purple Heart heroes, spouses

Each year, thousands of brave men and women say goodbye to their loved ones as they sign up to join our nation's armed forces. Sometimes, these heroes face some of the most difficult and dangerous challenges where their life, along with the lives of others, are on the line. In the legislature, we recognize their sacrifices and continuously work on policies – no matter how big or small – to better support our active service members, veterans and their families.

This year, a surviving military spouse brought to light an issue where she was unable to renew her late husband's Purple Heart specialty plate due to state law. Currently, Purple Heart recipients can register and obtain several of these specialty license plates, and spouses often display one on their vehicle. However, state law prohibits anyone other than the recipient from obtaining the plate.

I supported House Enrolled Act 1039, which would allow spouses to obtain and display the Purple Heart license plate after their husband or wife passes away. Permitting these Hoosiers to continue to use this specialty plate would not constitute Stolen Valor because the surviving spouse would not be claiming to be a recipient of this honor.

While our veterans make tremendous sacrifices for our freedom, we cannot forget those supporting them from home. Oftentimes, while one spouse is away serving our country, the other is tasked with managing the household or taking care of children, on top of worrying about if their husband or wife will return home. For many of these Purple Heart recipients, they return home with physical injuries or mental health issues that the spouse also endures as they help their loved one through recovery.

These veterans push through some of the most traumatic events to preserve the fundamental values our country holds dear. Their spouses remain by their side throughout their journey. Allowing surviving spouses of Purple Heart recipients to maintain their Purple Heart license plate is a small, simple gesture is the right thing to do. This bill is now eligible for consideration to become law.

If you have any input regarding this legislation or how I can better serve our community, feel free to reach out to my office at H32@iga.in.gov.

Aspire Indiana Health, Hope Academy partner for teen mental health, counseling services

The REPORTER

Aspire Indiana Health, a fully-integrated nonprofit healthcare provider, and Hope Academy, Indiana's only recovery high school, are now working together to provide Indianapolis area teens with mental health and counseling services. The partnership between the two nonprofits allows Hope Academy students impacted by substance abuse and addiction access to licensed therapists and social workers during the school day.

"We understand that when our young people's mental health is at risk, their sobriety is also at risk," said Hope Academy Executive Director Rachelle Gardner. "Partnering with Aspire ensures that our students have access to a mental health professional when they need help – and we know that time is always of the essence with our student population."

Aspire Therapists and Care Coordinator Life Skills Instructors (CCL-SI) are currently providing virtual counseling services to several Hope Academy students through the partnership. Aspire also offers additional support services that students and their families may need to address other areas of their overall health and wellbeing.

"Aspire is fully integrated healthcare provider, which means we offer primary care, rehabilitation, social services and recovery services," said Aspire President and CEO Barbara Scott. "As our clinicians meet with students and their families, they are able to help them address immediate issues as well as access other health services. It's a win-win for everyone involved."

In addition to one-on-one and family counseling services, Aspire will provide education-based programming and training opportunities for Hope Academy teachers.

Holcomb stands firm on easing restrictions despite uptick in positivity, hospitalizations

The REPORTER

During his weekly COVID-19 briefing, Governor Eric Holcomb stood firm in his decision to ease restrictions beginning Tuesday.

Holcomb responded to a comment made by Kentucky Governor Andy Beshear asking him to reconsider lifting Indiana's mask mandate.

"Gov. Beshear has my direct phone number and he's happy to call; I'm not looking to change my mind," Holcomb said. "He has not contacted me. I did see his comments and I would say that I have always taken the approach, my style has been to respect all other governors and the decisions they have to make according to the numbers and what's happening on the ground in their state."

Indiana's data has shifted slightly over the past week, and there are now fewer counties in blue on the state's advisory map. The positivity rate went from 3.3 percent to 3.9 percent, and hospitalizations are at 657, an increase from last week.

However, Holcomb said the state's ability to take care of sick Hoosiers remains strong, which is one of the biggest factors in his decision-making. Holcomb said that includes enough hospital staff, beds and personal protective equipment, all categories wherein he said Indiana is doing OK.

"This is not 'mission accomplished,'" Holcomb said. "Yes, there's some personal responsibility that will be demanded if we want to manage our way through this, and manage our way through this we are doing."

Indiana State Health Commissioner Dr. Kris Box said there are new concerns around the 221 "breakthrough" cases in Indiana. Those are situations where people who have been fully vaccinated test positive.

But, she said, most of those cases are in people 80 and older.

The state has also seen double the number of COVID-19 variant cases in the past week. Box said that's why it's important to get the vaccine as soon as possible.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Were you baptized in the name of Paul? I thank God that I did not baptize any of you except Crispus and Gaius, so no one can say that you were baptized in my name. (Yes, I also baptized the household of Stephanas; beyond that, I don't remember if I baptized anyone else.) For Christ did not send me to baptize, but to preach the gospel—not with wisdom and eloquence, lest the cross of Christ be emptied of its power.

1 Corinthians 1:13-17 (NIV)

James A. Smith
February 27, 1936 – March 30, 2021

James A. Smith, 85, Noblesville, passed away on Tuesday, March 30, 2021 at Riverview Health in Noblesville. He was born on February 27, 1936 to Edward and Marjorie Smith in Anderson.

Jim was a life-long resident of Noblesville and graduated from Noblesville High School in 1954. He proudly served his country in the United States Army and attended Butler University. Jim retired from the Teamsters and Wonder Bread in 2004. He was truly a jack of all trades, working as a paper boy, at a Texaco station, as a Noblesville fireman, as a demerit clerk for the railroad, as a charter employee of Household Hazardous Waste, and as an insurance agent, just to name a few. In addition to his many talents, Jim was a belly dancer and also played a mean one-string bass.

Jim belonged to the Noblesville Friends Church where he served as a trustee and member of the ministry and counsel. He was a Sunday School teacher. Jim helped his wife in her preschool and adored all kids. He was a member of the Do-Si-Squares square dancing club and served two terms as their president. Jim enjoyed his membership with the Noblesville Jaycees and loved the companionship of his fellow members of the Noblesville Lions Club. He was a 32nd Degree Mason and enjoyed Lodge 54.

Jim was a lover of life and his humor permeated his life. He will be sorely missed, but we're sure he is telling God some pretty good stories!

He is survived by his wife of 58 years, Charlotte Smith; daughter, Jamie Isaacs; son, C.E. James (Melanie) Smith; grandchildren, Alex (Corey) Smith, Sam (Courtney) Smith, Robert Smith, and Ben (Jessica) Isaacs; great-grandchildren, Eli, Sawyer, Gavin, Adeline, and Lynlee; as well as many nieces and nephews, and many loving friends.

In addition to his parents, Jim was preceded in death by his grandson, Wes Isaacs.

Visitation will be from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Tuesday, April 6, 2021 at Noblesville Friends Church, 1055 E. Division St., Noblesville. A Masonic Service will begin at 1:30 p.m., with the Funeral Service at 2 pm. Pastor Katherine Murray will officiate. Burial will be at Crownland Cemetery in Noblesville.

Memorial contributions may be made to Noblesville Friends Church, P.O. Box 375, Noblesville, IN 46061.

Boys basketball state finals

Greyhounds take on Wildcats Saturday

Carmel's Brian Waddell has had a solid senior season for the Greyhounds, averaging 15.6 points and 6.1 rebounds this year. Carmel is back in the state finals for the third consecutive time, and will take on Lawrence North Saturday for the Class 4A championship.

By RICHIE HALL

On Saturday night, the Carmel boys basketball team will be playing in a state championship game for the third time in four years.

And also for the third time in four years, the Greyhounds' opponent will be a fellow member of the Metropolitan Conference.

Carmel takes on Lawrence North Saturday night in the Class 4A title game at Bankers Life Fieldhouse, with tipoff scheduled for 8:30 p.m. It will be a match-up between two of the top three teams in the state, as the 'Hounds are ranked No. 2 and the Wildcats are No. 3.

This will be the third consecutive time that Carmel is playing for a state title. The Greyhounds made it to the final in 2018 but fell to Warren Central 54-48. Carmel returned to BLF in 2019 and beat Ben Davis 60-55 to claim the school's fourth boys basketball state crown. It's also the fifth time in the past nine years that Carmel will be playing in the state finals.

"We've been fortunate to be a part of this game more than once over the last nine years and we're grateful for every opportunity," said Greyhounds coach Ryan Osborn. "The history and tradition of high school basketball in this state has always been special and remains that way today."

Last year's state tournament, of course, was canceled after the sectional round due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Thankfully, this year's basketball season is ending with the state finals, although they were delayed a week to accommodate the NCAA men's basketball tournament taking place entirely in Indianapolis.

"I was a little apprehensive about the extra week at first," said Osborn. "Now that we've had time to digest the schedule and what those 14 days would look like, I feel good about what we've done and the way the players have handled the extra time. It's allowed for us to regroup mentally, rest our bodies and prepare for the upcoming game."

Carmel's regular-season game with Lawrence North took place on Feb. 4, at the Wildcats' gym. The Greyhounds won 63-49 and was their penultimate step towards clinching an unbeaten MIC championship. Carmel completed the perfect conference season two weeks later, beating Warren Central 56-47 on Feb. 19.

Lawrence North thus finished second in the MIC with a 6-1 record. But after losing that contest to the 'Hounds, the Wildcats have been a roll, winning 12 straight games. That included LN's final six regular-season dates, and the Wildcats have won all six of their tournament games. They are 28-2 overall.

"Lawrence North is a very good team," said Osborn. "They're talented, extremely athletic and playing well right now."

Playing in the always-tough Sectional 10 at Arsenal Tech, Lawrence North beat No. 5 Cathedral 75-63, No. 7 Warren Central 46-45 in the semi-finals and North Central 62-49 in the championship. In the Southport regional, the Wildcats beat Ben Davis 58-44 in the semi-finals and No. 6 Plainfield 43-39 in the final. Osborn said LN has beat some good teams in the post-season and has "responded to every challenge."

The Wildcats got another challenge at the Seymour semi-state when they played Bloomington South, in a contest that pitted the two winningest coaches in Indiana high school basketball history. Lawrence North beat the Panthers 54-52, giving Wildcats coach Jack Keefer his 848th career victory (787th at Lawrence North). Bloomington South coach J.R. Holmes, in 51 years of coaching, has 861 career victories, 718 of them with the Panthers.

Keefer has been coaching at Lawrence North since 1976 and has led the Wildcats to four state championships, the first one in 1989. Lawrence North also won three in a row, 2004-05-06, during the days of Greg Oden and Mike Conley Jr.

As for this year's team, Osborn noted the Wildcats are led by three Division I seniors and "supported by other talented guys," including another highly-touted D-I player.

The Wildcats have three players who are scoring in double figures. Senior Shamar Avance puts in 17.8 points per game, junior CJ Gunn (an Indiana University commit) is scoring 13.8 points per contest and senior DJ Hughes (a Butler University commit) adds 13.6 points per game. Hughes also leads the rebounds with 7.7 per game, followed by senior Donaven McCulley (an IU football commit) with 6.8. Avance hands out 4.3 assists per game, while senior Kayden Beatty dishes out 3.0 per contest.

"We'll have to play well, defend at a high level, rebound and take care of the basketball," said Osborn.

Carmel is 25-2 and played its share of tough games during the postseason. The Greyhounds won their own sectional – their seventh title in a row – with victories over Hamilton Southeastern 46-33 and Westfield 53-27.

At the Logansport regional, Carmel took down No. 1-ranked Homestead 60-49, then emerged out of a barn-burner with No. 8 Lafayette Jefferson 50-49. The 'Hounds then played the semi-state at Lafayette Jeff, and that was another tough one: Carmel prevailed 53-50 in overtime against No. 10 Gary West Side.

Greyhounds senior Brian Waddell, who is receiving Division I offers, is averaging 15.6 points and 6.1 rebounds per game. Junior Peter Suder is next in line with 11.7 points, and tops the rebounding list with 6.7 per contest.

Senior Connor Gioia leads the assists with 3.3 per game, followed by Suder with 3.0. Junior Charlie Williams, at 6-10, adds 7.1 points and 4.2 rebounds, and junior Josh Whack has been solid on defense all season. Sophomore Samuel Orme leads Carmel in 3-pointers with 40.

"We have a phenomenal staff that works their tail off year-round to develop and prepare our players at every level (K-12)," said Osborn. "Most of the time and behind the scenes work they do is never publicized, but certainly puts us in a position to be successful. You don't win consistently without talented basketball players, but I'm most proud of the way they've all gone about their business. We've been able to create a special culture here and the kids have bought into team success. Year-in and year-out, even our most talented guys have committed to being the hardest working, most coachable players. They all celebrate others' successes and unanimously put the team first. It's been a lot of fun to be a part of and even more exciting to see them excel as people and players after they've graduated from the program."

Carmel girls, boys get lacrosse wins

Sam Allen scores two runs . . . Huskies baseball drops opener

The Carmel girls lacrosse team cruised past Brebeuf Jesuit 19-3 on Wednesday, keeping the Greyhounds unbeaten at 5-0.

Carmel scored three quick goals, with Anna Dumke, Maddie McGarty and Sophia Hanna all getting one goal. The 'Hounds led 14-1 at halftime.

Dumke and McGarty scored five goals each and both had one assist. Julia Cherubini, Hannah Kim and Tori Tomalia all scored two goals, while Reagan Fahey, Hanna and Savannah Frauhiger all scored one. Cherubini handed out three assists, with Kim, Fahey and Hanna each dishing out two.

Carmel's boys team scored a 16-1 victory over Zionsville on Wednesday.

The Greyhounds led 3-0 after one quarter and 6-0 at halftime. Carmel's offense got going even more in the third quarter, adding six more goals to take a 12-0 lead.

"Our defense looked great today," said Greyhounds coach Jack Meachum. "We played with a lot of discipline and tenacity, never letting our opponent look comfortable. It was great to have junior Bryce Cannon back out there healthy, he and the rest of the defense looked great."

In an earlier game, Carmel battled Forest Hills Central, one of the top teams in Michigan, on Saturday before falling 9-6. The Greyhounds had strong defensive play from Jack Huntington (three ground balls and three caused turnovers) and Charlie Marsh (three ground balls and two caused turnovers).

Hamilton Southeastern's boys also dropped a close game to a top Michigan team, falling to Brother Rice 6-5 last Friday. EJ Reichert scored three goals for the Royals, with Max Blackburn and Nolan Knies both scoring one.

Southeastern came back on Saturday to beat Forrest Hills Central 8-5. Connor Runhow scored three goals, followed by Michael Metheny with two goals, and one each from Max Blackburn, Michael Mattaliano and Reichert.

The Hamilton Heights baseball team dropped its season-opener on Thursday, falling to Farragut (Tenn.) 12-2 in six innings at the DeMarini Tennessee Tournament.

Farragut led 3-0 after three innings. The Huskies got on the board in the top of the fourth, when Sam Allen scored on an RBI groundout by Nate Hulen. But Farragut erupted for five runs in the bottom of the fourth to lead 8-1.

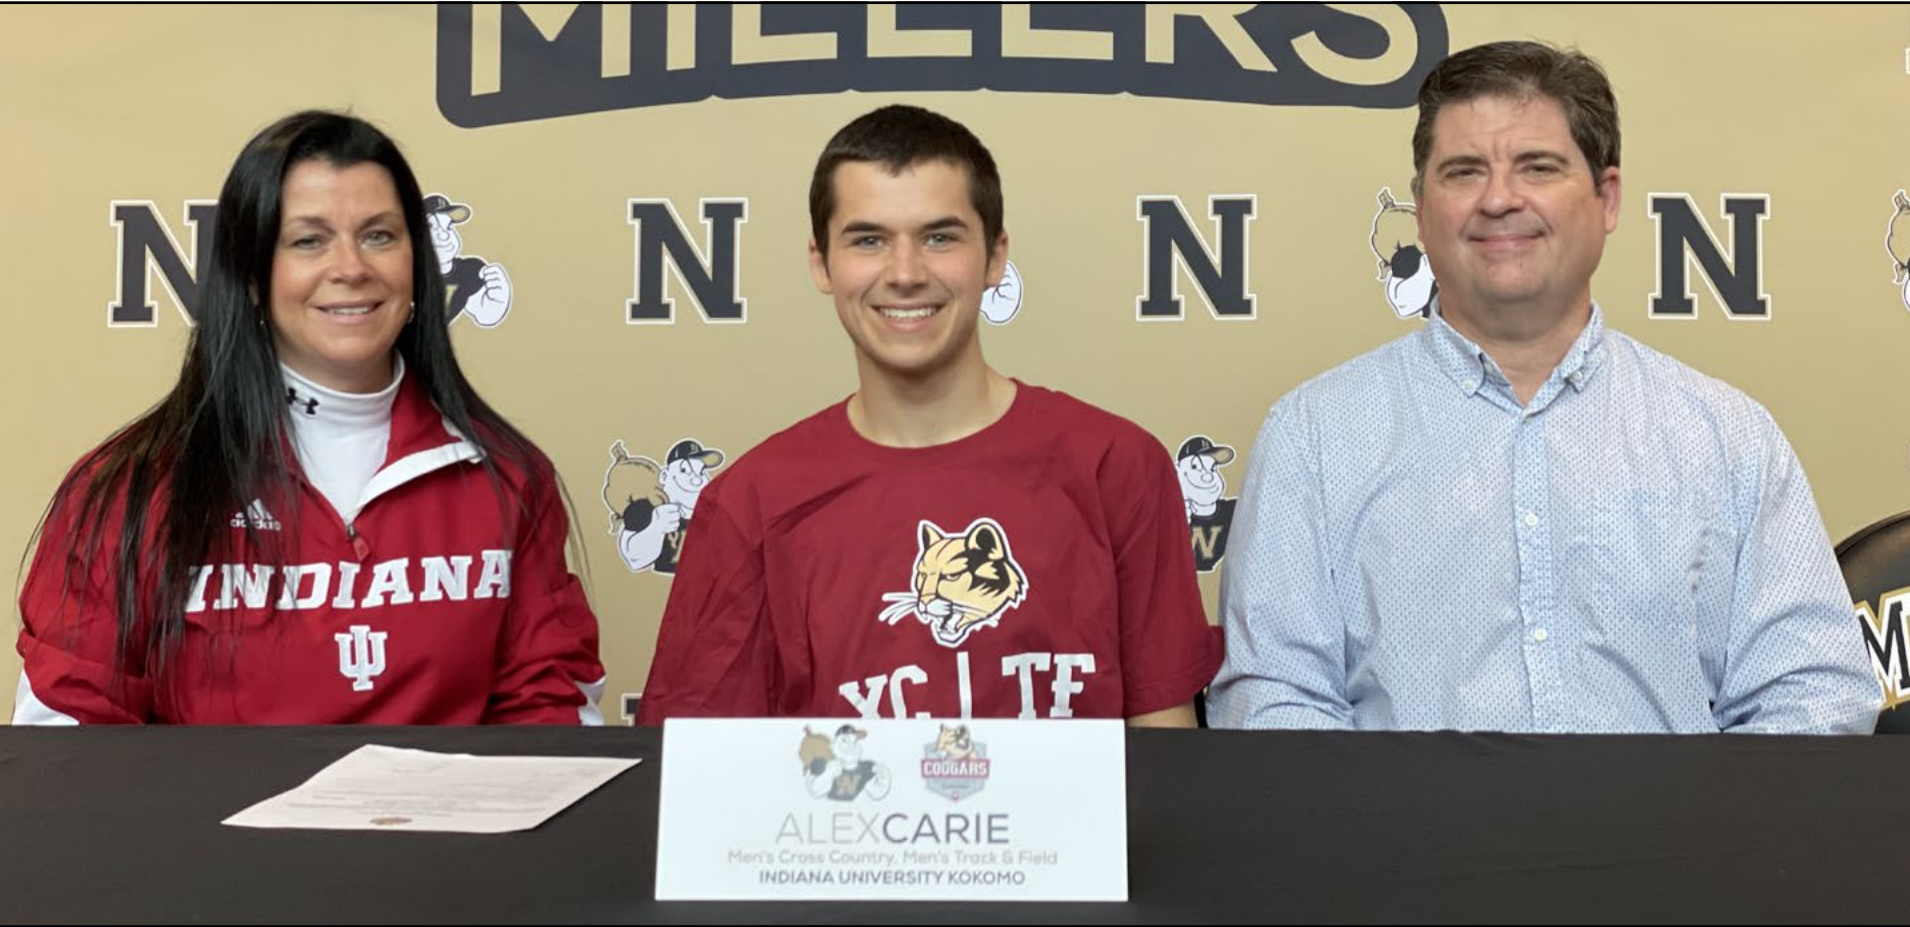

Heights scored another run in the sixth inning, with Allen again getting home on an RBI groundout, this time by Jared Michael. Allen hit a double to get on base. Farragut ended the game in the bottom of the inning with four runs.

Brayden Elkin and Drew VanOeveren also had one hit for the Huskies.

Heights plays two games today, against Tennessee teams, taking on Hardin Valley Academy at noon and Bearden at 4 p.m.
