Carmel PD brings Easter cheer, honors Leath legacy

Today marks one year since Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department Officer Breann Leath was killed in the line of duty. Leath was shot while responding to a domestic disturbance call at an Indianapolis east-side apartment complex. Recently, members of the Carmel Police Department honored Leath's legacy by presenting her son, three-year-old Zayn, with an Easter basket full of goodies. The Easter basket was presented to Zayn by Officer Shelby Jellison. Jellison and Zayn became friends after a happenstance meeting in a local Carmel smoothie shop. Their friendship has since garnered the attention of media outlets throughout the nation, as well as going viral on several social media outlets.

Hamilton County moves back to yellow COVID-19 advisory

With a recent increase in the COVID-19 positive cases rate, Hamilton County has been moved back to "level yellow" under the state's Weekly Two-Metric Score. The new rating was announced on Wednesday, just one day after Governor Holcomb's mask mandate ended. On Thursday, the Indiana State Department of Health reported 48 counties with blue ratings, 42 counties with yellow ratings, and 2 counties with an orange advisory. Since the beginning of the pandemic, Hamilton County has reported 33,867 COVID-19 cases with 404 deaths attributed to the virus.

Reconstruction plans for historic Bell Ford covered bridge gaining momentum

The REPORTER

Plans for reconstruction of the historic Bell Ford Bridge are well underway. The dilapidated bridge – the only remaining Combination Post Truss Bridge in the world – was acquired from Jackson County in 2018. The disassembled bridge has been sheltered in an empty wing of the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office for the past two years.

Heirbrandt

"A lot has happened since we first acquired this bridge," said Hamilton County Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt. "We don't want people to think we forgot about it. Once complete, this historic bridge will really help create a distinct and special experience to all who visit Geist Park."

Plans are to turn Bell Ford Bridge into a pedestrian bridge over Fall Creek just south of Geist Park. The City of Fishers has been busy creating the trail connections that will lead up to the bridge while the Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) and Hamilton County Highway Department have been working to secure grant funding. A design team of local citizens being led by VS Engineering has been working to determine the bridge's aesthetics. "The bridge will be reconstructed in the same style that it was first built with in 1869," said Daniel Kurdziel, project manager. "But it will get a bit of a facelift. The bridge will receive a more durable roof that mimics the original cedar shake roof and will be rebuilt with the addition of clear polycarbonate siding modeling the original open-air structure. These features will maintain the historic integrity of the original bridge while accenting and protecting the structural members that make this bridge one-of-a-kind."

Construction on the bridge is scheduled to start in earnest in 2024, nearly 20 years after it was originally placed on the National Register of Historic Places.

When two men wearing black hoodies rushed the stage during Ann Coulter's question-and-answer session on the University of Arizona campus, the instinct of this theatre arts major was to think they were technicians coming to fix a bad microphone. But my Spidey-sense was off – way off.

COLUMNIST

PETE SEAT

I had shared with the police officers we hired to secure the event that message board chatter (this was in the stone ages of 2004) indicated a disruption of some kind was planned. Being naïve and unschooled in how vile the campus left already was in those days, I thought the worst we would witness was indecipherable shouting or sloppily hand-written poster board signs.

Coulter's assailants, however, had another idea in mind. Concealed in laptop cases they held parallel to the ground, their weapons of choice were pies that they hurriedly hurled at Coulter's head. Thanks to a combination of poor aim and Coulter's Matrix-like agility, the pies only grazed her hair.

The duo called themselves Al Pieda – a pathetic play on the name of heartless, blood thirsty terrorists who killed 3,000 American souls three years earlier. Charges were pressed but the Pima County prosecutor, a Democrat, refused to pursue the case because, well, she was a Democrat.

CARMEL CITY HALL

in Hamilton County and in Carmel specifically, city officials have developed a plan to gradually increase staffing at City Hall to full force by May 3.

City officials will continue taking temperatures of employees and visitors as they enter City Hall. This will continue until it is deemed unnecessary by the Mayor, based on his continued monitoring of daily reports from the Hamilton County Health Department, Carmel Fire Department, local hospitals and the State of Indiana.

Members of the public who have been vaccinated will no longer need to wear masks in order to conduct business in Carmel City Hall; however, they will have their temperature taken as they enter and they may be asked about their vaccination status.

“Based on the numbers we have seen in Carmel and Hamilton County, and the guidance we have received from the Governor’s office, we feel it is time to carefully return employees and visitors to City Hall,” said Mayor Jim Brainard. “I appreciate our city employees’ dedication and extra effort to continue serving the citizens and businesses of Carmel through this challenging time. I also want to thank the community for their patience, understanding and perseverance as we focused on keeping our community safe and moving forward. We recognize that it will take some time to fully transition out of our cautionary practices, but with the rising numbers of Hoosiers being vaccinated and lower number of serious illnesses in our local hospitals, we feel that Carmel is ready to begin the process of reconnecting.”

Public meetings, such as the Carmel City Council and Plan Commission, will allow visitors to watch the proceedings in the Council chambers without restrictions. However, for those who do not feel ready to do so, the city will continue to offer live streaming and video archiving of public meetings by way of the city’s website and social media options.

City employees who work out of City Hall will have a staggered return over a three-week period from April 12 to May 3. Working with their directors, employees will begin scheduling their return dates based on vaccination status, child-care requirements, travel plans, departmental operational needs, equipment and training availability or other relevant personal or organizational issues. The target date for all employees to be back at City Hall is May 3.

Employees who are not fully vaccinated must consent to COVID testing and have a negative test result within three days prior to return. Employees who provide proof of vaccination will no longer need to be tested for COVID-19.

Additional measures will be taken to keep the number of employees interacting in person to a minimum. For example, department meetings will be limited to a number that allows for proper physical distancing, which may require some employees to join meetings virtually from their desks or another work location.

Effective May 3, vaccinated employees will no longer be required to wear masks in City Hall. Employees are expected to respect the preferences of co-workers who wish to continue masking.

CAMPUS LEFT

Despite being the person who invited Coulter and raised the money to host her on campus, and having sat next to her as the events unfolded, the incident didn’t shake me at first like it did others. Coulter parlayed the attack into a series of media appearances, including several hits in the succeeding days on Sean Hannity’s nationally syndicated radio show, and it probably boosted her brand overall if I had to guess. She even hired a full-time security guard after that. Nothing makes someone look cooler than having a security guard in tow, ya know?

But over the years, as I watched conservative after conservative get attacked on college campuses, or find their lectures canceled before a word was spoken, I became embarrassed that we had not done more to sound the alarm.

What I saw that night and learned in the years that followed is that the campus left is uninterested in verbal debates. Coulter was chosen to be rhetorically provocative and because she was within our price range. Student government leaders thought it wise to invite liberal blowhard Michael Moore to campus three weeks before a presidential election without a conservative counterpoint, so it was left to us to fight verbal fire with verbal fire.

But what the campus left showed us is that if they disagree, any response, up to and including violence, is justified. We debated Moore, and complained about his student government funded event, on the airwaves of Tucson television and radio; they decided to assault a woman with whom they disagreed by chucking pies at her (and missing, as Coulter joyfully pointed out over and over).

The same cult of agitators say, as their ears burn, that “words matter.” I agree. My entire living comes from writing and speaking words. But freedom of speech matters, too. Moore had every right to spew his vitriol on campus without fear of physical harm. Coulter should have felt similarly at ease.

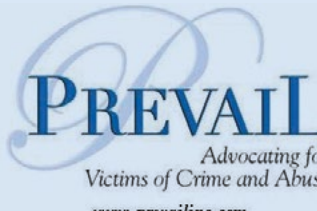

When ideas of all kinds cannot be expressed without violence or someone pressing charges, the whole system is broken. A country whose very foundation rests on freedom of speech cannot function when speech is muffled, silenced and attacked with blunt force. Everyone has a right to speak their mind. We can ignore and avoid, but we cannot and should not silence.

As I recently watched the Adam Carolla/Dennis Prager Amazon Prime documentary, No Safe Spaces, I came to realize our event was the canary in the coal mine. We saw to what lengths the left is willing to go in order to shut down free speech. We thought it was a one-off event at the time, but it was only the beginning of what was to come. I wish we had done more.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Live musicians back for Meet Me on Main in Carmel this Saturday

The REPORTER

Three musicians will be live on Main Street from 5 to 9 p.m. during April's Meet Me on Main event. The City of Carmel welcomes musicians Owen Newkirk, Sammi Lorena and Connor McLaren back into the District on Saturday, April 10.

This month, online merchant interviews include Mary Johnston with the Mary Johnston Studio, Ashima Kapur with Allied Solutions and Carmel Arts Council President Mary Jane Roth. Watch live from the Carmel Arts & Design District's Facebook page to learn more about these local neighbors. Interviews will be streamed at 5 p.m. on the District's Facebook page.

The fun doesn't end there. Stop by Teresa Chapman State Farm (14 W. Main St.) for a complimentary "to-go" spring craft. This fun art craft includes a mini flowerpot, paint and a brush and will be available from 5 to 8:30 p.m. (while supplies last).

April's Meet Me on Main giveaway will be hosted on the District's Facebook page. Each month, three $100 gift cards to businesses in the District are given away. Please visit the Arts & Design Facebook page for more information.

April's special gallery exhibits include:

• Carmel Art on Main:

April is all about color and spring. The front room features Ladan Abbaspour and Sara Bernstein. Abbaspour is known for her colorful abstract work and loves to create different types of textures in her paintings. Bernstein is a fluid acrylic and epoxy artist and native Hoosier who describes her colorful pieces as being "intentionally unintentional" as they challenge her to go with the flow of the medium. Carmel Art on Main is also proud to announce being the only local supplier of the popular Romy and Clare pottery, featuring colorful and beautiful canisters, spoon rests, platters and other pieces to brighten your home. (111 W. Main St., Suite 140)

• Carmel Arts Council

– World's Smallest Children's Art Gallery: CAC President Mary Jane Roth and Co-Chair Barb Hammer will host the Art in the Garden event. Scott Osborne will be the featured artist for April and will demonstrate his pottery skills on his potter's wheel. This year, a children's table will also be available. Children will be given small bags of clay to make their own push pots in the garden. (40 W. Main St.)

• CCA Gallery: Stop into the CCA Gallery to experience their Euphoria of Spring collection. Featured artists include Heidi Mandich and Melinda Speak-Huff. The gallery also welcomes new artists Roberta Sturges and Margot Boge Painter. (111 W. Main St., Suite 135)

• Indiana Artisan Gifts & Gallery:

Imagine a sloth doffing a fishing hat, a frog decked out in a bow tie and top hat, or a long-eyelashed giraffe draped in jewels. Whimsical, yet realistic, these cartoon taxidermy sculptures made of paper clay bring a smile to anyone who sees them – exactly as mixed-media artist Wendy Simon intends, as she sprinkles a little cartoon into each one. Simon, an Indiana Artisan from Frankfort, Ind., will demonstrate her sculpting techniques as she brings a new cartoon creature to life. (22 N. Range Line Road)

• Kuaba Gallery: Kuaba Gallery is offering 10 percent off selected paintings and up to 20 percent off sculptures. Stuart McClean, a leather crafter, will also be a guest at the Kuaba Gallery during Meet Me on Main. (404 W. Main St.)

• Mary Johnston Studio: Mary Johnston is a contemporary landscape and abstract painter. Don't forget to stop by her studio the night of Meet Me on Main where you will see Johnston's works that include the natural elements, large expansive skies, peaceful waters and quiet green forests. (27 E. Main St., Suite 300)

• The Art Studio of Carmel: Head over to the Art Studio of Carmel for sidewalk chalk fun. Sidewalk chalk and stencils will be on hand for visitors to create their own images. Usage of hand sanitizer before and after using the chalk is encouraged. (30 N. Range Line Road, 2nd floor)

• Agave Bar & Grill: Stop by Agave Bar & Grill for the Meet Me on Main special. The special is $1 off the house margarita in small, medium or pitcher size. (31 E. Main St.)

• Xchocol'Art: Hop over to Xchocol'Art for all your chocolate needs this Easter season. (228 W. Main St.)

Carmel undergrad to share research nationally

The REPORTER

Despite the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, Iowa State University undergraduate students have persevered in their research. Sixty ISU students, including Carmel native Toni Sleugh, will share their research and scholarship with their peers from across the nation in April.

Sleugh will share her research on Restoration of the Three-ridge Mussel, Amblema plicata, to the Cedar River.

The 34th annual National Conference on Undergraduate Research takes place online April 12-14. About 4,000 undergraduate students from across the U.S. present their research at this annual conference, the largest undergraduate research conference in the country.

"Despite the challenges that student and faculty mentors faced during the last year due to the pandemic, the high number of 2021 NCUR participants tells us that ISU faculty and program coordinators did an excellent job of encouraging students to continue their research involvement and provided them with a safe environment to do so," said Svitlana Zbarska, coordinator of the Undergraduate Research Program. "NCUR empowers students as scientists and gives them an opportunity to represent ISU undergraduate research at the national level."

Carmel firefighters handing out free masks today at Kroger

The REPORTER

The Carmel Fire Department has scheduled another COVID-19 information booth to hand out information on vaccination, virus prevention and safety, and answer questions from the public. Firefighters will offer free bottles of hand sanitizer and disposable face masks while supplies last. The type of masks being distributed are similar to what you would find in a doctor's office waiting room.

CFD will be at Kroger, 10679 N. Michigan Road, Carmel, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Friday, April 9. The booth will be set up outside the main entrance.

During the event, representatives from CFD will wear masks and keep to physical distancing guidelines to avoid possible spread of the virus. The event is open to the public and visitors should also wear masks and maintain proper distance from others as they approach the booth.

The goal of this booth is to provide the community with COVID-19 information, including handouts showing the City of Carmel and Carmel Fire Department "Best Practices" for dealing with the virus.

Letter to the Editor

White River Township resident thanks David Giffel for his column on HSE Schools, tax situation

Dear Editor:

I am Jeanne Flanders, a resident in southern White River Township. Thank you for your understanding of the issues faced by Southeastern Schools' taxpayers.

We own property in Wayne Township. The school tax rate is an issue for us, especially the school referendums. Because we do not reside in Wayne Township, we cannot vote against the referendums for school improvements. My vote against a referendum would not stop it. A lot of politics goes into the referendums.

Years ago, Wayne Township powers should have risen up in alarm when the city of Noblesville began annexing Wayne Township property. Noblesville annexed south of 146th Street 1/2 mile wide and even wider reaching Interstate 69 all the way to the Madison County line, literally cutting Wayne Township off from the rest of the Southeastern School system. While Noblesville wanted the tax base of Wayne and Fall Creek townships, they were not willing to educate the children who lived in the annexed area of Wayne and Fall Creek townships.

This stems from the forced school consolidations put into effect during the 1960s. Many residents of Wayne Township wanted to be consolidated with Noblesville's schools. Others wanted to be merged with the Lapel School system. Some wanted Wayne and White River townships to form their own school system. In the end, no one was happy as Wayne was forcefully consolidated with Fall Creek and Delaware townships.

Wayne Township children were called the "hicks." What saved these students was their agriculture teacher, Tom Younts, who led these students to many State and National awards and leadership positions in FFA, and encouraged other urban students from Fall Creek and Delaware township to join them.

Seven RBIs for Millers' Bryce Adams...

Noblesville, Fishers get first HCC wins

What better way to help your baseball team get its first Hoosier Crossroads Conference win of the season than by hitting a home run or two?

Bryce Adams got to know that feeling Thursday when Noblesville hosted Avon at Don Dunker Field. Adams smacked two home runs – one of them a grand slam – and totaled seven RBIs in the Millers’ 13-3, five-inning victory over the Orioles.

Noblesville scored seven runs in the second inning. First, Jacob Weiler got home when Mason Bohland reached on an error. Bohland would later score after Dean White was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded. On the next play, Josh Kern got home on an RBI fielder’s choice by Drew Niswonger.

Niswonger made it to first base, with Keegan Speek at third. Kolbi Kazmierski then loaded the bases when he was hit by a pitch. That brought up Adams, and he brought them all home with his right field slam.

Avon got its first run in the top of the third inning. Meanwhile, Adams struck again in the fourth inning. Niswonger and Kazmierski were both walked onto base, and Adams sent another home run into right field, making the score 10-1.

In the fifth inning, the Orioles added two more runs, but Noblesville scored three to end the game. Luke Wilson stole home, then Weiler sent White in to score with a bases-loaded walk. Niswonger moved to third base, and he later scored on a wild pitch, giving the Millers the run-rule victory.

Adams was 2-for-3 at the plate, while Niswonger totaled three runs. Kazmierski also scored twice. Michael Stremlaw pitched four and a third innings for the win, striking out six and allowing only two hits.

The Millers are 1-1 in the conference and 2-4 overall. Noblesville is scheduled to host its own Miller Classic on Saturday, playing St. Xavier at noon and Penn at 3 p.m.

Fishers earned a split of its HCC series with Class 4A No. 3 Zionsville on Thursday, beating the Eagles 2-1 in an away game.

The Tigers scored both of their runs in the first inning. Joey Brenzewski sent a base hit into left field, then moved to second after Jack Braun drew a walk. After a strikeout, Grant Moritz loaded the bases with his walk. On the next at-bat, Brenzewski and Braun both scored on an error. Fishers was able to hold the lead for the entire game. Zionsville got one run back in the seventh inning with one out, but Mason Sweeney threw a strikeout for the second out, and the Tigers induced a groundout to finish the game.

Brenzewski went 2-for-3 at the plate, getting the Tigers’ only hits. But Fishers’ pitchers did their jobs: Tate Warner went six innings for the win, striking out eight and allowing only four hits. Sweeney threw the seventh inning and got the save, striking out two.

The Tigers are 1-1 in the conference and 2-4 overall. Fishers will travel to Kokomo tonight to play the Wildkats in their tournament.

After Brownsburg delivered a tough loss to Hamilton Southeastern on Wednesday, the Royals were hoping to turn the tables on the Bulldogs Thursday when the two teams met at Ken Seitz Field for the second game of the HCC series.

Brownsburg built an early lead before Southeastern worked its way back into the game and then threatened to pull ahead. But the Bulldogs held on for a 9-7 win, scoring a sweep of the series.

“The kids kept battling, but we’re in a situation where we’ve got a lot of kids that are growing up very quickly in the HCC,” said HSE coach Jeremy Sassanel-

Heights softball returns to action with victory

The Hamilton Heights softball team got back into action Thursday with a win over Anderson, 15-5 in six innings at the Huskies’ field.

Hayley Greene batted in Neiling with a center field hit, then Ashlyn Fletcher scored Greene. Alayna Baber’s center field single sent Fletcher home. Later, Kaylee Rhoton drew a walk, and Stephanie Spicer hit a right field single to score both Baber and Rhoton.

Three county players selected BASEBALL for Top 60 Senior Workout

Three Hamilton County basketball players – Hamilton Southeastern's Vinny Buccilla, Hamilton Heights' Gus Etchison and Carmel's Brian Waddell – have been selected to participate in the Hoosier Basketball Magazine Top 60 Senior Workout on Sunday at Marian University in Indianapolis.

The workout is highlighted by 13 players who participated in the 2021 IHSAA State Finals on Saturday, April 3rd including seven state champions—Brycen Graber and Curt Hopf (Class 1A - Barr-Reeve), Zane Burke and Caleb Furst (2A - Fort Wayne Blackhawk), Kooper Jacobi and Trey Kaufman-Renn (3A - Silver Creek) and Waddell (4A - Carmel). Selected from runner-up teams are Cale and Cole Wireman (Class 1A - Kouts), Connor Davis (2A - Parke Heritage), Blake Davison (3A - Leo) along with Shamar Avance and DJ Hughes (4A - Lawrence North). Unfortunately, due to spring break conflicts a few of these players are selected, but unable to attend. They include Davison and future Purdue Boilermakers Furst and Kaufman-Renn.

The top two scorers in the state are also featured in the Top 60 Workout. They are Jalen Blackmon, Marion (33.5 ppg) who will attend Division I Grand Canyon and Brooks Barnhizer, Lafayette Jeff (32.7), who will play in the Big Ten at Northwestern. Two more high scorers are also signees with the University of Notre Dame. They are JR Konieczny, South Bend St. Joe (28.6 ppg) and Blake Wesley, South Bend Riley (27.1).

More Division I talent that will be headed to in-state colleges include Payton Sparks, Winchester (Ball State) and Blake Sisley, Heritage Hills (Evansville) along with three Bulter recruits—Hughes, Lawrence North and Jayden Taylor, Perry Meridian and Pierce Thomas, Brownsburg. Other Division I players on display at the Top 60 Workout will be Jacobi, Silver Creek (Toledo), Darrell Reed, Hammond (Alabama State), Christopher Mantis, Lowell (Appalachian State), Etchison (Western Michigan), Langdon "LT" Hatton, North Harrison (William & Mary) along with three US Military Academy commits—Blake Barker, Columbus North (Army - West Point) plus Vincent Brady, Indianapolis Cathedral (Air Force Academy) and Jake Heidbreder, Floyd Central (Air Force Academy).

Statistical evaluation, game observation and statewide research were conducted throughout the season to determine Hoosier Basketball Magazine's Top 60. Two sessions of the Top 60 Senior Workout will take place. Boys primarily from Northern and Southern Indiana will participate in the first session (1 to 3 p.m.). The remaining players, mostly from Central Indiana, will compete during the second session (3:30 to 5:30 p.m.).

Coach Steve Lynch (Brownsburg) will direct both sessions. Four other outstanding IBCA coaches—Chad Ballenger (Hamilton Heights), Chad Johnston (South Bend Adams), Rich Schelsky (Parke Heritage) and Kendall Wildey (South Decatur)—have been invited to assist with on-court coaching.

Both sessions are open to the public for admission fee of $8 ($5 for students).

la. There are several new players on the Royals team this season, players that Sassanella said are "getting their feet wet" in the conference, one of the more difficult baseball conferences in the state.

Brownsburg jumped out to a 5-0 lead in the top of the first inning, hitting three doubles along the way. In the bottom of the inning, Peyton Lusby reached on error, then moved to third base when Hunter Dilts hit a double. Both were sent home after Cole Earlewine hit a center field single.

Neither team scored again until the fourth inning. The Bulldogs added two runs; the Royals got one back when Dilts was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded, scoring Payton Hilfiker.

Brownsburg scored a run in the top of the fifth inning to lead 8-3. Southeastern then made a big comeback in the bottom of the inning. Jason Dettman drew a bases-loaded walk to send Earlewine home, then Landon Riekhof scored on a wild pitch.

Noah Wolf was batting when Riekhof scored, and Wolf sent another run home, as his left field single got Hilfiker home. Lusby then hit a double to score Dettman. The Royals loaded the bases when Dilts was walked, but the Bulldogs got the next two outs to end the inning.

Brownsburg scored one more run in the seventh inning on an RBI double. Southeastern got runners on first and second in the seventh inning, but again, the Bulldogs got the last two outs.

Dilts was 2-for-2 at the plate, with both of his hits doubles. Earlewine also finished with two hits and drove in two runs, while Lusby had two hits as well.

"The thing with our schedule and the thing with the HCC is, it doesn't give us a whole lot of margin for error," said Sassanella. "I think our kids' minds are in the right place, even as tough as the last two nights have been. We're going to continue to encourage them, we're going to work with them. I think they'll take the challenge."

The Royals are 2-3-1 and are scheduled to host Pendleton Heights on Saturday afternoon.

Indiana Fever unveil new Nike jerseys ahead of 2021 season

Ahead of the 25th WNBA season, the Indiana Fever announced today the franchise will showcase three new jersey concepts ahead of the 2021 season.

As the Fever embark on the 22nd season in franchise history, the team will display three different designs in an effort to share the unique characteristics of Indiana and its story through three new special uniforms.

The WNBA Nike Heroine Edition (white) and the WNBA Nike Explorer Edition (navy) jerseys will be the primary jersey options for the Fever beginning in the 2021 regular season. The jersey design for these two was inspired by the WNBA cementing itself as the premier women’s basketball league in the world, as well as an outlet for women to be a positive voice for change. In collaboration with NIKE, Inc., these uniforms will showcase powerful women influence across the country. The primary influence for the Fever jerseys is Lady Victory, who is proudly displayed atop the Soldiers & Sailors Monument in the heart of downtown in Monument Circle.

"The designs the Fever will wear honor the incredible contributions of Hoosier women leading to empowerment of girls and women across the state," Fever President Dr. Allison Barber said. "The new uniforms display the power, sophistication and timeless passion our franchise has to improve society and strive for equality."

The WNBA Nike Rebel Edition jersey design stems from Netflix's original series, Stranger Things, which is based in the town of Hawkins, Indiana. In line with themes from the series, the jerseys will transport players and fans alike to the upside down, while also displaying the Fever as a team of powerful women who are paving the way for young children everywhere to chart their own courses. They are united in their belief to light the path for the next generation of empowered women.

Fans will be able to pre-order the WNBA Nike Explorer Edition and WNBA Nike Rebel Edition jerseys here. Both jerseys will be available to the public for sale at a later date.
