Noblesville Mayor Chris Jensen, along with representatives from Riverview Health and Beckman Coulter, gathered to celebrate the installation of the DxA 5000 total laboratory automation solution. This technology will significantly reduce the number of manual steps in sample processing, allowing for rapid and consistent turnaround time. Riverview Health is proud to be the first in Central Indiana to install this new technology.

Riverview unveils DxA 5000

First hospital in Central Indiana to install the total laboratory automation solution

The REPORTER
Riverview Health recently installed the DxA 5000, a total laboratory automation solution from Beckman Coulter that has set the new global standard for lab result turnaround time.
“We are very excited to have the most cutting-edge lab equipment at Riverview Health,” said Sarah Burnett, director of Laboratory Services. “When it comes to enhancing patient care, the speed, accuracy and efficiency of lab results can play a big role – which has become even more apparent throughout the pandemic. With our already great team in place, this new equipment will further improve our lab operations and allow us to really lead the way in patient testing.”

The DxA 5000 uses patented innovations that deliver rapid and consistent turnaround time, provide a new level of comprehensive pre-analytical sample quality detection and reduce the number of manual processing steps to significantly improve laboratory efficiency. Based on research and work performed with Beckman Coulter's laboratory partners, manual sample processing steps are shown to make up approximately 70 percent of a laboratory's labor hours. The DxA 5000 significantly reduces the number of manual steps in sample processing, going from 32 steps down to just four.

Carmel goes virtual with this year's Holocaust Remembrance Ceremony

The REPORTER
This year's Holocaust Remembrance Ceremony in Carmel will be broadcast live at noon on Friday, April 16. The ceremony will last approximately one hour.
You can view the event live on the city's Facebook page and YouTube channel, as on Carmel TV on channels Spectrum 340 and AT&T 99, and on Roku or AppleTV through CableCast or ScreenWeave. Just choose Carmel TV.
The City of Carmel's annual Holocaust Remembrance Ceremony remembers and honors the victims of the Holocaust. This historical event includes a Civic Proclamation by Mayor Jim Brainard and other special guest speakers. Every year, students from area schools participate in the event, which also features special musical performances.

Dr. Alex Kor, originally from Terre Haute, is the son of two Holocaust survivors, Michael and Eva Kor. While living on the east coast from 2003 to 2016, he was an active member of The Generations After, Inc. (Shoah Survivors and Descendants of Greater Washington, D.C.). He has traveled to Auschwitz more than 20 times with his mother. Now, more than ever, he is dedicated to continuing his late mother's work.

The program will also include:
• Mayor Jim Brainard
• Rabbi Benjamin Sendrow of Congregation Shaarey Tefilla
• Rabbi Avi Grossbaum – Chabad Center for Jewish Life
• Rabbi Justin Kerber of Congregation Beth Shalom
• The Mayor's Advisory Commission on Human Relations – Olivia Nelson, an eighth grader at Park Tudor, is the daughter of Carmel City Councilman Miles Nelson.
The ceremony will feature musical performances by:
• Cantor Arnie Lewin, Shaarey Tefilla member

• Cantor Melissa Cohen
• The Carmel United Methodist Church Bell Choir
• The University High School of Indiana Vocal Quintet and Instrumental Quartet
• Indianapolis Opera Resident Artists Madison Montambault and Joseph McBrayer, both accompanied by Andrew Pham
The Carmel commemoration is part of Yom Hashoah (Holocaust Remembrance Day), an international holiday for remembering the victims of the Holocaust. It reminds us, as Americans, of what can happen to civilized people when bigotry, hatred and indifference reign.

Crumbl Cookies a hit in Fishers

By RANDALL NEWSOME
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Crumbl Cookies, touted as one of the fastest-growing franchises in the country, is making its presence felt in Central Indiana. They are “definitely the world's best and biggest cookies,” said franchise owner Tyson Barrett.
Barrett says the Fishers location, the first Crumbl Cookies in Indiana, quickly became one of the busiest and has been well-received by the community.
“It's been crazy,” he said. “We literally have a line pretty much 14 hours a day, every day of the week. Saturdays, the lines go until 11:30 at night.”
Flavors range from classics such as chocolate chip to unique ones such as the cornbread cookie. Barrett says he believes their cookies are bringing a taste others don't.
“They're big, they're ooey, they're gooey, they're served warm, some of them are served chilled (and) they're just the amount of sweet but not too sweet,” he said.
While the popular milk chocolate chip cookies and sugar cookies are always available, the menu weekly rotates to give customers four different specialty flavors to try.
Despite opening with challenges due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the shop along 116th Street west of Interstate 69 has been thriving with the help of curbside pickup and deliveries. Barrett says Crumbl Cookies plans to open at least four more locations in Central Indiana, including Greenwood and along the Carmel/Westfield border.

Working to expand broadband access for all Hoosiers

More and more Hoosiers rely on internet everywhere they go. While connecting to the web may seem like a normal part of everyday life to some of us, many still do not have reliable broadband access. The COVID-19 pandemic further emphasized the need for more Hoosiers to get online, as many shifted to working and learning remotely to help slow the spread of the virus.
This session, I am supporting multiple efforts to invest and build infrastructure to expand broadband access across our state.
Every two years, lawmakers are constitutionally required to adopt a balanced budget, which funds critical services including K-12 education and public safety on top of other initiatives that continue propelling Indiana's economy forward. One of those key investments is expanding broadband in rural and underserved parts of our state.

The current budget proposal would invest an additional $250 million in broadband expansion. This is in addition to $198 million in federal funding available to assist with the expansion of broadband access to rural communities. These funds will be used to provide grants to broadband providers in Indiana to install new fiber cables and utility towers in the communities that still need reliable access to internet.
To get more Hoosiers online, Indiana must find a way to install critical infrastructure needed to reach those individuals needing broadband. House Bill 1164 would remove unnecessary regulations slowing the implementation of this infrastructure. This legislation would streamline the permit process for developers looking to install broadband so providers wouldn't get tied up in different regulations across county lines and city boundaries. It would also encourage local governments, homeowners and homeowners associations to collaborate with providers on the aesthetics of newly installed infrastructure.

BROADBAND

As Indiana continues investing in broadband access, we must ensure we are providing our next generation the tools to navigate the digital age. House Bill 1449 would direct the Office of Community and Rural Affairs to prioritize schools, students and rural communities when allocating broadband expansion grants. This legislation would also create a portal for students to self-report a lack of internet coverage, so OCRA can accurately identify which areas are the most in need of broadband infrastructure.

These efforts provide the next steps to help close the digital divide between our communities. As our livelihoods rely more and more on the web, lawmakers will continue working to ensure all Hoosiers have access to a reliable broadband internet connection to expand their business operations, help students learn and connect with loved ones. If you have any questions about these proposals for new laws or have any input about how I can better serve you as your state representative, please contact my office at H32@iga.in.gov.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Rep. Spartz back in Rio Grande Valley visiting with U.S. border agents

Spartz: “Border crisis escalating into out-of-control chaos”

The REPORTER

With members of House Judiciary this week, Congresswoman Victoria Spartz (R-Ind.05) joined border agents for patrols of the U.S. border in the Rio Grande Valley and visited the U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) Donna Centralized Processing Center, Hidalgo Port of Entry, Office of Refugee Resettlement Shelter and the Border Patrol temporary outdoor processing site under the Anzalduas bridge.

Following the visits, the members led a roundtable discussion at the National Border Patrol Council Headquarters in Edinburg, Texas, and conducted a press conference.

Congresswoman Spartz’s press conference remarks about the border crisis can be viewed online.

Here are some of the numbers from this sector of the border:

- 40 percent of the Border Patrol workforce processing migrants instead of safeguarding the border
- 2,400 migrants per day being processed
- 1,000 migrants per day not being detained due to resource limitations
- 12,000 migrants in the last few weeks alone were released by Border Patrol into the country
- 5,400 percent increase in drugs smuggled

Photo provided
Migrants wait at the Border Patrol temporary outdoor processing site under the Anzalduas bridge, just south of Mission, Texas.

- $400 million per month in estimated profits for the drug cartels just from human trafficking
  - Firearm, currency and drug seizures for FY 2021 from the Laredo Field Office:
  - 400 pounds of fentanyl, up 2,067 percent
  - 4,995 pounds of cocaine, up 187 percent
  - 35,213 pounds of marijuana, up 89 percent
  - 13,840 pounds of methamphetamine.
  - 240 weapons, up 131 percent
  - $5.7 million in currency, up 64 percent
- “Perverse incentives and a lack of leadership from the Biden Administration have created humanitarian and national security crises at our southern border that are spiraling into out-of-control chaos. With Border Patrol overwhelmed, the Mexican drug cartels are now dictating the rules on the U.S. side of the border,” Rep. Spartz said. “President Biden must act now to get our border under control.”

At the end of March, the Congresswoman visited the El Paso Border Patrol Central Processing Center for unaccompanied children, meeting with border agents and speaking with migrant children. Rep. Spartz now heads to San Antonio, Eagle Pass and Del Rio with the Republican Study Committee before returning to Indiana.

Letter to the Editor

Please Governor Holcomb, veto SB 5

Dear Editor:
It now seems the Indiana Legislature is determined to pass Senate Bill 5, which is a direct response to actions taken by local health departments during the COVID-19 pandemic. We write this letter to educate Hoosiers on the many dangers of SB 5 with a plea to Governor Holcomb that he veto the bill.

Our organizations represent more than 1,300 local health department employees and thousands of doctors, nurses, public health professionals and hospital leaders in Indiana.

Guided by facts, science and a single-minded mission to keep you and your community healthy, local public health officials and our hospital and clinical care partners take very seriously the responsibility to protect human health and the important balancing act between science, economic impact and personal freedoms.

Supporters of SB 5 have argued their intent is to protect the rights of business owners and ensure economic health, but the reality is that weakening health oversight can have terrible impacts on local businesses by risking the health of the consumers and workers who keep those businesses operating.

While sometimes it may seem that public health is pitted against economic vitality, it really is not health versus economy, but rather the long-term protection of economic success through smart, evidence-based strategies designed to reduce disease transmission with short-term protection strategies.

If SB 5 were to become law, Hoosiers should expect dangerous consequences on several fronts.

First, the bill gives politicians full control over major public health decisions, most of whom lack the expertise needed to properly engage in unusually complex public health subject and regulatory matters.

These elected officials would now be responsible for restaurants experiencing outbreaks of E. coli, norovirus and hepatitis A. They would be responsible for legionella in hospital settings, lead in our drinking water and deadly bacteria in our public swimming pools.

Another major concern is shifting local health enforcement appeals processes from courts to city and county boards. This would require significant additional infrastructure on the city and county level and would also add another, cumbersome layer for public health officials to navigate.

Even worse, until an appeal is heard by a city or county board, the entity in question would have an opportunity to remain open, even if it is not following health orders. With a process lasting potentially weeks or months, this provision alone could lead to catastrophic disease within a community.

SB 5 also prevents a local health department from implementing orders more restrictive than those issued by the Governor’s Office, unless such orders are approved by a county executive, or a combination of approval by a city legislative body or mayor.

Given the diversity of population density and different public health problems throughout our state, a one-size-fits-all strategy would do little to combat public health emergencies. Public health officials must have the ability to protect their communities by tailoring public health measures to the specific needs of the populations they serve.

These decisions must be made quickly and often with little time for preparation. Experience and expertise are critical to making the best decisions for our communities.

We must continue to trust data and science. The negative impacts of COVID-19 could and would have been much worse had it not been for the difficult decisions made by public health officials to protect their communities. We have accomplished a great deal.

SB 5 would most certainly threaten those accomplishments and expose Hoosiers to even greater harm in the future.

Wuestefeld receives Purdue Distinguished Alumni Award

Submitted

Amanda Wuestefeld, director of the DNR Division of Fish & Wildlife, received the Purdue University College of Agriculture Distinguished Alumni late last month.

The award is given to mid-career alumni for their accomplishments, contributions to their field, and potential.

Wuestefeld has been with the DNR for 25 years. Her early years included serving as an interpretive naturalist at state park nature centers and as an information specialist at DNR's central office. Later she led the creation of the State Fair Fishing Pond and launched the division's hunter recruitment and retention program. Wuestefeld coordinated the State Wildlife Action Plan and served as assistant director of the Division of Fish & Wildlife before being named director in 2019.

Throughout her career, people have been at the center of her work, whether she's creating programs related to fish and wildlife or leading teams of employees.

"We are here to serve as stewards of fish and wildlife for the benefit of this and future generations of our Hoosier customers," she said.

To young people who dream of careers in natural resources, Wuestefeld's advice is simple. Get as much experience as possible.

"Experience and then the people that you work with through those experiences are what gets you places," she said.

This recent recognition adds to a long list of awards Wuestefeld has received during her career. She has previously received awards from the Environmental Education Association of Indiana, Keep Indianapolis Beautiful, and Indiana Bowhunter Association, and as the DNR Employee of the Year.

Wuestefeld spends her free time outdoors with her family, enjoying mushroom hunting, gardening, and ice fishing in winter.

Kokomo-Western Invitational: Shamrocks end Andrean's streak, Tigers cruise past Wildkats

The Westfield baseball team made some noise at the first game of the Kokomo-Western Invitational Friday evening, as the Class 4A No. 1 Shamrocks beat 4A No. 10 Andrean 6-2.

The victory not only kept Westfield's record perfect at 5-0 for the season, but it also ended the 59ers' 39-game win streak, which had been the longest in the country. The 'Rocks got an early lead, then after Andrean came back to tie the game, pulled away in the later innings.

Westfield batted first and wasted no time getting on the board. Quentin Markle drew a walk, then Trey Dorton blasted a triple into a center field to get Markle home. Dorton scored on the next at-bat, as Keaton Mahan sent an RBI base hit into center field.

The 59ers got a run back in the bottom of the second inning, then tied the game at 2-2 in the fourth inning. The Shamrocks responded with two runs in the top of the fifth. Westfield loaded the bases, then Cody South drew a walk to send Mahan home. Casey Fanelli got the Shamrocks' next run on an RBI fielder's choice by Mac Clarke.

Westfield added two more runs in the sixth inning. Jack Woodard got home on a wild pitch, then Quentin Markle scored on Fanelli's RBI fielder's choice. Markle finished the game 2-for-3 at the plate.

Meanwhile, Gage Stanifer was pitching a tremendous game. Stanifer got the win, going six innings with eight strikeouts and allowing only one hit. Jackson Bieghler threw a perfect seventh inning to close the game.

The Shamrocks are scheduled to play their second game of the invitational at 10 a.m. today, taking on Western, the top-ranked team in Class 3A.

Millers girls lacrosse stays unbeaten

The Noblesville girls lacrosse team returned to action after Spring Break by taking a trip to Evansville North on Thursday.

The Millers came home with an 18-8 victory. It was the Huskies' Senior Night, and in addition to recognizing their seniors, graciously acknowledged Noblesville's seniors with roses as well.

The seniors led the way for the Millers. Emma Potter scored six goals and dished out three assists. That gave her nine total points, which set a new Noblesville single-game record. In addition, Potter also became the Millers' career leader in goals scored. Her other stats include six draw controls, six ground balls, three interceptions and two forced turnovers.

Senior Rheagan Haney put in six goals as well. Sarah Travis led the defense, collecting three ground balls and forcing two turnovers. As a team, Noblesville won 23 of 28 draw controls, and seven different Millers players scored at least one goal.

Noblesville is now 5-0 for the season and will next play Wednesday at Cathedral.

choice. Jack Braun came up next, and his double sent Oliverio home.

The score would stay 6-0 until the sixth inning, when the Tigers let loose for six more runs. Brenzewski tripled in Zach Cox and Bryant, then scored on a passed ball. Dunn got on base with a single, then scored on an error. Fishers' final two runs came from a single by Jack Brown, which scored Braun and Moritz.

Brenzewski, Moritz and Brown all had two this, with Brown driving in three runs. Cox hit a sixth-inning double. Brown also got the pitching win, throwing all six innings, striking out five and allowing only three hits.

The Tigers are 3-4 and play two games at the Invitational today. Fishers takes on 4A No. 4 Lake Central at 10 a.m. and 4A No. 10 Andrean at 12:30 p.m.

Hamilton Heights played its first home game of the season on Friday, falling to Anderson 2-0.

The Indians scored one run each in the first and fourth innings. The Huskies threatened several times, loading the bases in the sixth inning, but Anderson held them off.

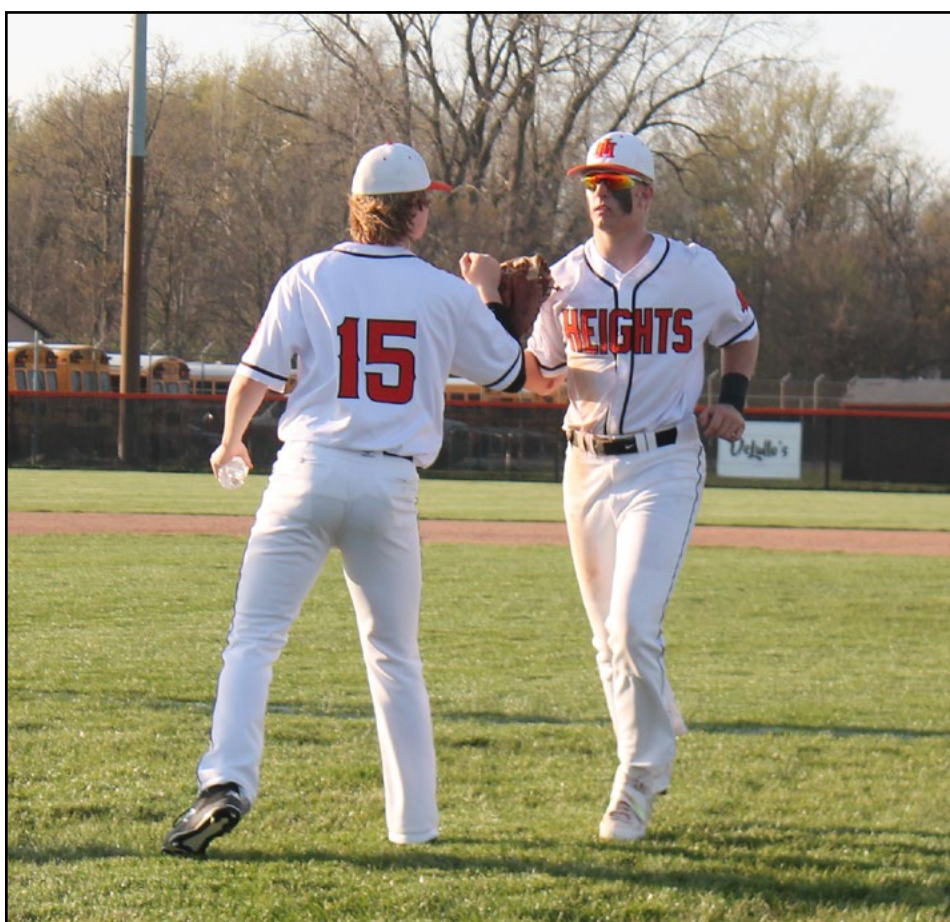

Sam Allen hit a double in the fifth inning, part of 2-for-3 day at the plate for him. Lucas Letsinger pitched four and a third innings, with Jared Michael relieving him for the final two and two-thirds innings. Both threw five strikeouts and neither issued any walks.

"Offensively we were very sub-par today," said Heights coach Ryan VanOeveren. "Taking way too many strikes at the plate and just not giving ourselves a chance to get base runners on base so we can score some runs. I thought we pitched really well. It was a 2-0 game, so there wasn't a ton of offense. We got a lot of room to grow on offense. We're looking forward to getting back to practice here soon."

The Huskies begin Hoosier Conference play on Tuesday when they travel to Western, the No. 1-ranked team in Class 3A.

For the second consecutive game, the Pacers' second unit became the story.

After scoring a season-high 69 bench points against the Minnesota Timberwolves, Indiana's second unit finished with 58 tonight. The point parade led the Blue & Gold (24-27) to a 111-106 victory over the Orlando Magic (17-35) inside Amway Center.

"We're just playing free out there," said Aaron Holiday, who finished with a team-high 20 points, including a career-high six made 3-point shots. "Most of the time, we're getting up and down the court. Me and Doug (McDermott) love getting up and down the court. And obviously, (having) a point guard like T.J. McConnell, who finds you in your pocket, makes the game easy."

McDermott added 19, finding most of his success cutting to the paint tonight. The forward has finished in double figures in 15 of his last 16 appearances. McConnell finished with eight points and a game-high nine assists.

"I think at times I'm respected as a shooter," he said of his increased paint presence. "I just feel like I could get some easy cuts just because of how they defend me at times."

Not to be outdone, starters Domantas Sabonis (16) and Edmond Sumner (12) also finished in double figures. The All-Star also hauled in 15 rebounds for his 34th double-double of the season.

Sumner provided the majority of the Blue & Gold's early offense, scoring eight of Indiana's first 11 points in a variety of ways. The Xavier product hit 3-of-3 from the charity stripe, drilled a triple, and used his speed to bank in a cutting layup by the 7:11 mark of the frame.

Later, the Blue & Gold's reserves came on for their first shift, helping earn a slim lead. Trailing 17-16 with 4:20 to go, McDermott knocked in seven quick points over 56 seconds to give Indiana a 23-20 lead at the 3:26 mark.

Down the stretch, the frame continued to be a back-and-forth affair. Neither team stretched the lead past a single possession. However, the youngest Holiday did earn the last laugh.

With 2.1 seconds left, Aaron Holiday received an inbound pass from T.J. McConnell. Holiday squared up his defender and launched a 38-footer before the buzzer sounded. The ball banked high off the glass and in, giving Indiana a 33-30 edge heading into the second.

McDermott and the Pacers' second unit withstood a 10-point barrage from NBA veteran Terrence Ross. The last familiar member of the Magic remaining after the trade deadline just could not miss. But, the squad nearly matched him shot-for-shot. Eventually, Orlando grabbed a 42-41 lead on R.J. Hampton's step-back jumper with 8:21 to go.

However, the Pacers didn't back down. Caris LeVert's and-one pickup ignited a 16-5 Indiana run over the next 3:40. Aaron Holiday added two treys during the run, including one from the right side that pushed the Pacers ahead 57-47 with 4:41 remaining.

Justin Holiday's three from the left wing then broke a 2:42 scoreless span for both teams and extended the Blue & Gold's lead to 13 with 1:59 to go. The group managed to stretch the lead as high as 15 down the stretch before a pair of free throws from Mo Bamba with 1.7 seconds trimmed it to 64-51 before the break. Indiana shot 23-of-47 (48.9 percent) from the field in the first half, including 8-of-16 from deep. McDermott and Holiday had a combined 27 points.

After scoring just four points in the first half, Malcolm Brogdon broke the double-figure mark by notching six of the first 11 Pacers points of the third. A pair of free throws from the guard at the 8:46 mark stretched the Blue & Gold's lead to 72-57.

However, the comfortable lead quickly shrunk to five, as Indiana went ice-cold. Magic muscled their way to a 10-0 run, earning several trips to the free-throw line. McDermott's cutting layup at the 4:32 mark finally stopped the run and pushed the Pacers' lead to 74-67.

But, Orlando inched its way even closer to the lead as rookie Cole Anthony's layup banked in with 2:43 to go. Anthony was recently sidelined for 25 games after fracturing a rib. Later, Orlando's other highly-touted rookie, Chuma Okeke, earned a layup to cut the Pacers' lead to 78-76 with 59.0 left.

However, the bench once again helped Indiana end on a high note. With 50.3 seconds showing, Goga Bitadze drilled a three from the top of the key. After Anthony recorded two free throws on the other end, McConnell finished the period with a buzzer-beating, running floater in the paint. The crafty shot pushed Indiana's lead to 83-78 heading into the fourth.

Aaron Holiday and McDermott then teamed up to stretch the Blue & Gold's lead to 92-82 early in the fourth. Holiday started with a three from the right wing. After Ross hit 2-of-3 from the stripe, McDermott notched four of a 6-0 Indiana spree, including a tough right-handed layup from underneath the backboard.

From there, the Pacers pulled away once more, extending the lead to 99-84 behind McConnell's signature turnaround jumper and a pair of free throws from Jeremy Lamb. But, six quick Magic points trimmed the lead back to single digits with 6:18 remaining.

However, the Blue & Gold kept the hosts at bay over the next several minutes. Four from LeVert helped keep a 106-96 lead and pushed him into double figures on the night. But, Orlando threatened once more.

After a pair of Sabonis free throws gave Indiana a 108-98 lead, the Magic scored six straight, including two high-flying dunks from Ross, to cut the lead to 108-104 with 54.1 seconds remaining. After both sides came up empty, Brogdon connected on 1-of-2 free throws to push the lead to five with 17.3 seconds to go. With Orlando forced to foul, McConnell polished off the bench's solid night. The underestimated guard iced the game at the line with two perfect free throws. Indiana travels to Memphis to take on the Grizzlies on Sunday.
