Update #55 from Dr. Derek Arrowood, Superintendent, Hamilton Heights School

Corporation. As we return refreshed from spring break, we now turn our attention to finishing out a challenging year on a high note. As we move toward a more

"normal" life and consistent "traditional" school setting, we are at an inflection point - for many it is exciting and long awaited. For others, it is being met with trepidation and anxiety. We understand the many different perspectives and the impact of this past year. We have all been through a lot.

We are committed to beginning in-person classroom instruction four days a week for Middle School and High School students starting Monday, April 26, and are planning for the return of full, in-person attendance in the fall. Despite the upward trend of COVID-19 cases in the county at this moment, transmission rates on our campus remain extremely low thanks in part to our current schedule, along with students and staff following layered prevention strategies. Our quickest route to a post-pandemic world remains in adhering to the recommendations from the CDC and our local health partners.

April is National School Library Month. School libraries (media centers) are integral to our schools and school librarians play an invaluable role in the education of our students. Our media centers are the hub of school activities. They foster a sense of belonging and are an engaging place to think, connect, create, discover, and explore. They also offer our students the opportunity to grow through access to technology, multimedia, and incredible resources of every variety. Thank you, Karen Jones (HHES), Emily Beechler (HHMS) and Lori Hippensteel (HHHS) for transforming lives and impacting student achievement at Hamil-

By LARRY LANNAN LarryInFishers.com

Plans are moving forward for the development of Geist Waterfront Park, as the Fishers Board of Public Works and Safety awarded a build, operate and transfer (BOT) agreement with local contractor Meyer Najem during its Tuesday meeting.

The city says it issued a request for proposals in early March. After negotiations with the firm, Meyer Najem was selected to not only enter into the BOT agreement, but also enter into a contract substantially similar to the Public-Private Agreement for the construction, operation, and transfer Of Phase 1 of Geist Waterfront Park, pri- as required by law, but no one $3.1 million, financed through tire BOT agreement.

Carmel asking for public input on redesign of city's website

The REPORTER

The City of Carmel is updating the design of its website for the purpose of simplifying content management and providing an improved and enhanced user experience and customer service, while meeting high standards for design quality and visual appeal.

After a Request for Quotation process in January, city officials are ready to move forward with Granicus for the updated website design.

Granicus was selected due to its overall lowest bid, which included components such as providing comprehensive research and analysis of the city's current site, the ability to create an infinite number of independent and uniquely branded sub-sites, content migration and connection with the GovDelivery communications cloud. It is the stated goal of the city to work with Granicus to provide a website that will be user-friendly, intuitive, complies with the U.S. Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) and has an attractive interface.

The discovery phase, one of many steps in the nine- to 12-month redesign process, is in full swing. This phase includes a community survey to help lead this project in the right direction for the local community and web users. It is the city's goal to connect residents, visitors, contractors, employees and business partners with the items that are essential and important within the city.

Click here to complete this quick survey to help improve the features and navigation of the City of Carmel website during this redesign process with Granicus.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Be on the lookout for lane restrictions along Allisonville Road, south of 146th Street, through May 14. This work is preliminary for a roundabout intersection planned by the Hamilton County Highway Department at 146th Street and Allisonville Road. Director of the Fishers Department of Engineering, Jason Taylor, told the Fishers Board of Works and Public Safety on Tuesday the roundabout should be constructed in the next two years. This work will be preliminary to the planned roundabout. The board approved right-of-way permits for county highway crews to start the pavement core work.

After 20 seasons as the Hamilton Southeastern head boys basketball coach, Brian Satterfield has been approved as the Royals' new head girls basketball coach. The hiring became official at Wednesday's department announced on Wednesday that Brian Satterfield has been approved as the Royals' new girls basketball head coach.

Satterfield succeeds Chris Huppenthal, who retired this past season after 16 seasons as head coach of the Southeastern girls. While Satterfield will be a new coach for the girls, he is a longtime Royal: Satterfield coached the HSE boys basketball team for the past 20 seasons, where he had tremendous success over the years, with a 322-151 record, three sectional championships and nine Hoosier Crossroads Conference titles.

Satterfield is looking forward to this new opportunity, as he told the Reporter Wednesday night.

"It's a great opportunity," said Satterfield. "The biggest thing is Coach Huppenthal has done a tremendous job with the girls program. Going to be moving into a situation where they've got a great foundation. They've got four starters coming back, so from that standpoint it's exciting."

Just as important, if not more so, Satterfield said that moving to the girls program was a family decision. He said that he "was about 50/50 whether I wanted to do it or not," but then his daughter made a comment to him about "how she loved when I was coaching her, the interaction we had and that type of stuff," and that was a big factor in his decision.

"When she just said that to me out of the blue, that to me was a little sign," said Satterfield. He also thought back to his high school days, when he and his brother played at Plainfield. Satterfield's father was the principal at Tri-West, which made for situations where he didn't always get to see his sons play – "he has to go up to Lebanon to watch sectionals," Satterfield

The Hamilton Southeastern athletic cused on what is best for his family. Brian is excited for the new challenge and we are excited for our program."

> Also on the website, HSE principal Jamie Ulmer said, "A great coach is organized, prepared, knowledgeable, selfaware, and committed to the development of individual players and the success of the overall team. Starting with the 21-22 season, our girls basketball program will be led by a coach who has a proven history of exhibiting all of these qualities and more, and that coach is Brian Satterfield. We are excited for our players, our families, and our community as we begin the next chapter in HSE Girls Basketball. We have a winning tradition with the Program, both on the court and off, with a State Championship in 2019 and countless success stories involving the young women who have come through the Program. With his demonstrated success with the HSE Boys' Basketball Program since 2001, we feel confident that Coach Brian Satterfield is the right person to continue the tradition of excellence in Royals' Girls' Basketball. We look forward to watching Coach Satterfield bring his many talents to the Girls' Program as he builds on the foundation of success established by Coach Chris Huppenthal and his predecessors."

> The hiring of Satterfield as the girls basketball coach became official at the Hamilton Southeastern school board meeting Wednesday evening. Satterfield said that today will be the first time he will "really touch base" with the girls on the team, as they have an open gym.

Prior to coming to Southeastern, Satterfield was an assistant at Madison, Triton Central and Avon, then assisted former Royals coach Larry Bullington for two seasons before becoming the head coach. Satterfield has twice been named IBCA District Coach of the Year, and coached back-to-back Mr. Basketballs: Gary Harris, who was recently traded to the Orlando Magic after seven successful seasons with the Denver Nuggets, and Zak Irvin, who is currently playing in the Super Basketball League with the Bank of Taiwan. By BRENDAN ROURKE Courtesy nba.com/pacers (14-41), 132-124 on the second night of a back-to-back. The wire-to-wire win was a much-needed rebound after falling to the Los Angeles Clippers 24 hours prior. A 75-point first half – 42 in the second quarter - led to a 20-point Indiana advantage at halftime. The comfortable lead allowed the Pacers to fend off Houston's runs down the stretch. Three Pacers LeVert led the way with 27 on 10-of-20 shooting, marking the fourth time in the last six outings he's finished with 20 or more. Malcolm Brogdon added 23, a team-high 13 rebounds, and finished one assist shy of his second career triple-double. Domantas Sabonis notched 22 and 11 boards to capture his 37th double-double. 'We're just aggressive," Brogdon said of the team's uptick in offense. "We're aggressive. We're making shots. We're getting easy shots.'

opening frame. Indiana started hot from night, knocking off the Houston Rockets The Pacers' defense started strong as well, holding Houston to just two points over the first 2:26 of the contest. A string of three consecutive layups from Wall threatened Indiana's lead eventually bringing the margin down to 24-19 with 4:23 to go. However, that would be the closest they'd get for the rest of the half. finished with more than 20 points. Caris just five points for the remainder of the to 12 after the third. Things appeared to frame. The bench extended the lead back to nine before the quarter closed. From its 9-0 run at the beginning of the second quarter, the bench highlighted the second period. Jeremy Lamb and Oshae Brissett teamed up for 20 points on a perfect 8-of-8 shooting during the frame. Bouncing back from a three-point performance against the Clippers, Lamb spotted five of the spree as Indiana grabbed a 42-24 advantage at the 10:25 mark. Brissett then added to the fireworks. Playing on his second 10-day contract, the forward banked in a three and followed with a massive one-handed alley-oop off Aaron Holiday's lob. The surge pushed Indiana's lead to 21.

However, the Rockets then rattled off nine straight over a 1:13 span to trim the lead to 85-74. They eventually cut it to single digits, 93-84, after Wall knocked in a pair of free throws at the 4:10 mark.

But, Indiana caught its breath once again – this time turning to LeVert. Showing some fire – and accidentally drawing a technical foul - the former Michigan standout notched five straight Pacers points to bring the Pacers' lead to 123-113 with 4:13 to go.

From there, Indiana's offense stepped up and sealed the win. After Wall completed an and-one, Brogdon responded with a snipe on the left side. When Wall responded again, Sabonis finished with a left-handed flush over a stumbling Olynyk. The Blue & Gold held a 128-118 lead with 2:21 to go.

Down the stretch, Indiana held Houston at bay. Four Brogdon free throws in the final 1:03 made sure the Rockets would not come back in this one.

Indiana hopes to keep making up ground in the Eastern Conference as they head West to take on the Utah Jazz Friday afternoon.
