Westfield Washington Public Library settles on new location

Community meetings planned in coming weeks

The REPORTER

The Westfield Washington Public Library plans to build a new library in downtown Westfield at Westfield Boulevard and Park Street. The location was approved by the Library Board at its meeting Wednesday night. The seven-acre property south of the Midland Trace Trail sits west of Westfield Boulevard.

"This new building will be a centerpiece in the heart of Westfield's expanding downtown," said Scott Willis, board vice president and building committee chair. "While the current building has served us well through the years, it doesn't allow us room to grow and continue to meet the community's burgeoning needs."

The current library on Hoover Street was built in 1983 and expanded in both 1994 and 2014. At 32,230 square feet, the current site doesn't offer enough room for further expansion.

"Our biggest pain points are a lack of parking, insufficient study rooms, and demand for more programming space," Library Director Sheryl Sollars said. "In fact, a feasibility study we conducted last year indicated it would actually cost us more to stay in our current location and make the upgrades necessary than to start from scratch."

The 45,000 square-foot library's construction and land costs will be covered by a $16.7 million general obligation bond scheduled to go before the Westfield City Council later this year. The bond will cause a 2-cent tax increase; however, the Westfield Washington School District plans to decrease its tax rate over the next several years allowing construction on the new library to be net neutral.

The soonest the tax-neutral bonds could be approved would be this fall. A groundbreaking could take place as soon as spring 2022 with completion in the fall of 2023. Although there are no firm design plans, KRM architects has been hired to help create a vision for the new building. Click here to review the site plan.

"Residents have told us they'd like to see more parking, drive-thru service, remote-working spaces, and a coffee shop," Sollars added. "And in this current climate, we'd also like to include some courtyard space for outdoor activities."

The library will host a series of public meetings in the coming weeks to keep the community informed about the new library's progress. The first will be held at 7 p.m. on May 26.

Former HSE board president asks for no new superintendent action at this time

By LARRY LANNAN

Diane Eaton served on Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) School Board for many years, and sat in the president's chair for some time during that tenure.

Eaton addressed the board Wednesday night, asking that the contract for the new superintendent not be approved. No vote was scheduled Wednesday, but a public hearing was held and the contract was discussed with attorney David Day.

The former board member argued an interim superintendent should be named and the search for a new leader for HSE Schools delayed because, according to Eaton, the board is not being transparent with the community by holding a public hearing on the contract when the dent candidates is smaller due to the COVID pandemic.

Eaton urged the board to continue the search for a new superintendent. She said after the meeting that her comments new superintendent's identity has not been revealed. Eaton added that state law does allow this.

Eaton also expressed concerns the pool of superintendent candidates is smaller due to the COVID pandemic.

Eaton urged the board to continue the search for a new superintendent. She said after the meeting that her comments represent the views of "hundreds" of families who have contacted her with the same concerns.

The board has announced a special meeting at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, April 22 to announce the new superintendent and approve her contract. (It appears the new superintendent is a woman based on the contract language and other interactions with school officials.)

No-show COVID-19 vaccine appointments becoming a problem in Hamilton County

By DEMIE JOHNSON
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

People not showing up for their scheduled COVID-19 vaccine appointments is becoming more frequent in Hamilton County. Health officials said as more clinics open, people are finding ways to get their shot sooner but not canceling their original time slot.

More than 50 people missed appointments in one day last week.

For now, the health department is finding ways to follow up with every person scheduled, but the county's emergency preparedness coordinator, Christian Walker, said that can't go on.

"We're not used to working in a competitive market, I'm not use to having to fight for clients ical thing for us, is that vaccine management component," Walker said. "For us, it's fine if like a business normally would," Walker said.

He added that they are making several phone calls every day to remind people of appointments or to find out why they didn't show up.

"That's the critical thing for us, is that vaccine management component," Walker said. "For us, it's fine if you got in somewhere. We just don't want to risk losing that dose that could go into somebody else's arm."

Because they caught onto the pattern early enough, Walker said the health department has not had to throw out any doses. If you do end up finding a better appointment, Walker asks that you call 211 to cancel your old one.

CarmelFest returns ... with a few new twists

Annual Independence Day celebration, July 4-5 with parade, fireworks, new music, kid zone at Carter Green

The REPORTER

The City of Carmel and the Carmel Rotary Club have announced the return of the CarmelFest celebration this July 4-5 with a few new twists on the annual traditions.

For the first time in more than 10 years, the Fourth of July holiday falls on a Sunday, so the CarmelFest parade will now take place on July 5, the federal observance of the holiday. This year's event will feature a new layout at two locations; music will return to the Gazebo, but this year there will be new features at an expanded adult and kid zone at Carter Green to reduce congestion and make it easier to maintain a healthy physical distance.

For the first time ever, CarmelFest will feature two nights of fireworks – July 4 shows on

"Not only will this give fans of fireworks more opportunities to enjoy that tradition, we believe it will promote less congestion during the traditional downtown show," said City Councilman Jeff Worrell, who oversees the fireworks.

Ongoing growth throughout the city's central core, in addition to the popularity of CarmelFest, has created an increasingly congested event footprint the past several years. This, in

Switching places

I think many people in the sandwich generation will agree with me when I say that one of the hardest things about this role is switching places with your elderly parent.

When I was finally permitted to enter my mother's little apartment seven weeks ago, I was rather astonished at what I saw. I knew it was hard for my mom to pick up after herself. But after almost five months, her place was in rather rough shape.

The cleaning staff had done what they could, but it's hard to clean when things are strewn everywhere and you're not permitted to throw away items. My husband and I, however, had no issues going back to her apartment couple of days later to de-clutter and clean with, shall we say, gusto.

Her facility was supposed to be doing her laundry during those months, but they probably didn't know what was clean and what was dirty. I grabbed everything that wasn't folded or on a hanger and took five loads to the local laundromat.

My jaw dropped when I saw how many things were stained with nail polish ... shirts, nightgowns, towels, etc. I actually had to throw some pieces of clothing away. I also knew her recliner, which was only a year old, was stained with the polish along with her side table.

During my next visit, after I put away her clothes, I grabbed her bottle of nail polish and told her I was taking it to the beauty salon. She was back to regular hair and nail appointments, so I figured this wouldn't be an issue.

I figured wrong. I got a phone call from her not long afterward asking where her nail polish was.

"I'm sorry, Mom, but you've stained and ruined so many things, I had to take it to the salon. You're getting your nails done every two weeks now, so you shouldn't have to do touch ups anyway." In fact, the beautician told me she was grateful because Mom had layered on so much polish that it was hard to remove it!

I hoped that would make her happy. But according to various people who have

HSE Board gets proposal to cut more than $5M in spending

By LARRY LANNAN
LarryInFishers.com

The student count for HSE Schools was down 660 students on Feb. 1, 2021, lowering the total count to 21,339.

The state funds school districts based on the number of students enrolled, so HSE Schools has lost $3.3 million in financial support from the state with fewer students. That requires the local schools to cut spending.

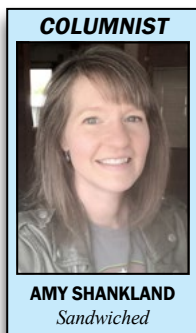

An internal committee has been meeting since December and provided a list of recommendations to the school board Wednesday night.

The total revenue loss is set at roughly $5 million because HSE lost revenue to lower interest rates and a large reduction in rental fees due to COVID.

HSE Chief Financial Officer Cecilie Nunn and Human Resource Director Kim Lippe told the board they are "optimistic" no Reduction in Force (RIF) of staff will be necessary. But some staff may need to be moved and transferred to accomplish that goal.

Nunn said the largest chunk of savings comes from adjusting class sizes to levels called for in the most recent operating referendum, kindergarten through grade 6. Those grade levels are currently overstaffed by 33 teaching positions. Resignations and retirements will reduce that number. Plus, the American Rescue Plan recently passed by Congress and signed by the president will fund programs dealing with pandemic-related learning loss by students. The savings from adjusting class sizes, plus the federal funds, amount to more than $3.3 million.

Carmel Symphony concluding Masterworks season with concert on April 24 at the Palladium

The REPORTER

Carmel Symphony Orchestra (CSO) will conclude its Masterworks season on Saturday evening, April 24 with a combination live audience and streaming event at the Palladium at the Center for the Performing Arts.

- The 7:30 p.m. program will feature:
- Marriage of Figaro Overture (Mozart)
 - Pavane (Faure)
 - Mother Goose Suite (Ravel)
 - Symphony No. 1 in C (Bizet)

Palladium seating will be limited, with patrons masked and socially distanced. Due to the limitation, the evening's performance also will be live streamed. Tickets for the in-person program as well as live streaming are available at CarmelSymphony.org, beginning at $18.

The CSO's April 24 program comes on the heels of its successful March performance which welcomed the orchestra back to the Palladium for live audience concerts.

"Our musicians were ecstatic to return to the Palladium's stage in March, and to be able to look out onto a real live audience in the concert hall, even with the attendance restrictions," CSO Artistic Director Janna Hymes said. "They're now looking forward to returning to the Palladium later this month and performing these popular pieces for our Carmel Symphony friends and fans, concluding our Masterworks season with a flourish!"

As the CSO's 45th sea-

son draws to a close, Hymes is looking ahead and planning for its 2021-22 season, which debuts in October. Prior to its new season, the orchestra will be performing a diverse and exciting concert schedule during mid-to-late summer. Details concerning CSO summer programs and its 2021-22 season will be announced soon.

United Fidelity Bank is sponsor of the April 24 performance. CSO season sponsors are the City of Carmel, the Center for the Performing Arts and the Palladium. Additional information about the orchestra, its upcoming performances and tickets is available at CarmelSymphony.org.

It's hard when you switch places and you become more of the "parent" to your own parent. I know that I'm absolutely doing the right thing. I've explained my reasoning to Mom now more than once. But at her age, she doesn't believe me about her clothes and other items. I know I'm certainly not alone in my situation, which brings me some comfort. I've also brought Mom some treats from Dairy Queen to try to smooth things over. It works ... for a little while.

VACCINE

Walker says he understands the process can sometimes be long, but said it will make a huge difference.

"There's still a lot of people that use 211 for vaccine registration, for changes, for cancellation, so it's not an easy task. It requires some patience on the client's part, but the back end of that is they're helping save that vaccine for somebody else," Walker said.

Due to the increased number of no-shows, Hamilton County health officials are in the process of creating a local cancellation hotline. Right now, the only way to make changes to your appointment is through the state.

CARMELFEST

conjunction with construction projects at two key locations – the gardens south of City Hall and the area north of the Carmel Fire Department – prompted organizers to rethink event logistics.

With 2020's CarmelFest canceled due to the global pandemic, and 2021's festival including physical distancing considerations, the decision to use Carter Green and areas around the Palladium to stage additional event zones came to fruition. This new configuration will allow for a second stage for music, additional vendor booths, kids' games and adult beverage booths. At the same time, the traditional CarmelFest music at the Gazebo will be enjoyed by those wanting to picnic and watch the fireworks.

"I am happy to see that we will return to the Gazebo and a familiar sense of normalcy for this cherished summer celebration," Mayor Jim Brainard said. "I am also excited to see the new set up and activities at Carter Green. Both locations should be ideal for family-friendly fun and excellent locations to watch the fireworks."

Food booths and vendor booths will be at both locations and will be spread out more to lessen congestion. The Rotary Club is currently seeking vendors interested in booth space at the event as well as volunteers to work the event. Go to CarmelFest.net for more information.

HSE BUDGET

Savings of over $1.3 million will come from freezing incremental pay increases for support staff and school administrators, plus not filling several currently open positions. Several other line items will create savings that total $5.045 million in the coming school year.

Janet Chandler, President of the Hamilton Southeastern Education Association, expressed concern that any RIF of teachers could come down to evaluation numbers separated by no more than decimal points determining which teachers are laid off and which teachers remain, in tie-breaker situations. She equated that system to no better than throwing darts at a dart board.

The board is scheduled to vote on the list of cost-saving recommendations at the April 28 session.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Indiana lawmakers override governor's veto on emergency powers measure

WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Indiana legislators are inching toward a possible court fight with Gov. Eric Holcomb by voting to override his veto and give themselves more authority to intervene during governor-declared emergencies.

The Republican-dominated House and Senate on Thursday easily achieved the simple majorities required to turn aside Holcomb's objections and enact the provisions of House Bill 1123 into law.

The law establishes a new process for the General Assembly to call itself into a 40-day emergency session to consider legislative action in response to a gubernatorial declaration of a statewide emergency. That change limits a governor's authority to impose long-lasting emergency restrictions such as mask rules and business closures.

Holcomb and some legal experts have questioned the legality of that process because the state's constitution gives the governor — not the legislature — the authority to call a special session.

Holcomb had vetoed the bill on April 9. In a letter to Indiana Speaker of the House Todd Huston, Holcomb said by giving the General Assembly the ability to call itself into a special session, the bill would usurp "the power given exclusively to the governor under Article 4, Section 9 of the Indiana Constitution."

The Republican governor said he believes the bill violates the separation of powers as it "constitutes a legislative encroachment on the governor's power."

For months, some Hoosiers have complained about Holcomb's coronavirus-related orders.

The new law additionally gives lawmakers more control over federal economic stimulus funds Indiana receives, although legislators are not required to appropriate any of the funds.

Shaffer: New property tax statements should be "wake-up call" for Carmel

Dear Editor:

Carmel residents are getting a wake-up call as Hamilton County distributes the 2021 property tax statements.

Clay Township, an area identical with the Carmel city limits, bumped its rate 26.58 percent. Call it 27 percent.

Also, call it the price of more excessive spending in the Carmel elitist progressives' mold.

Why the bump? Back in June, the township unveiled a $60 million spending plan that included $10 million for a Dad's Club fieldhouse.

Also included were plans to expand the Japanese/Chinese Garden, which the city also is funding with money borrowed in the 2016 stormwater bond.

The township's total obligation jumped to $128 million in the process with payoff complete in 2040.

As the city council prepares to rubber-stamp the mayor's latest $125 million borrowing scheme, one can only speculate what the total principal and interest will be and when, in the days to come, it may be paid off.

Rep. Spartz leading effort in Congress to improve high-speed internet access

The REPORTER

Congresswoman Victoria Spartz (R-Ind.-05) has been working with a bipartisan delegation of Indiana lawmakers to send a request to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to provide a status update on producing broadband coverage maps.

The last time the FCC worked on the broadband maps, they became obsolete by the time they were completed, so the previous Congress passed the Broadband Deployment Accuracy and Technological Availability (DATA) Act, providing $98 million to address this issue.

The revised mapping process should help with the assessment of high-speed internet access on a more real-time basis and determine eligibility for federal programs funding broadband deployment across the states.

Congresswoman Spartz says expanding high-speed internet access to Hoosiers in rural and unserved areas of the Fifth Congressional District is of her top priorities.

"High-speed internet is the electricity of the 21st century, which will expand access to education, health-care and economic opportunities for all Hoosiers," Rep. Spartz said. "The FCC needs to expedite its map development process and provide some better tools to policymakers."

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Brothers and sisters, I could not address you as people who live by the Spirit but as people who are still worldly—mere infants in Christ. I gave you milk, not solid food, for you were not yet ready for it. Indeed, you are still not ready. You are still worldly. For since there is jealousy and quarreling among you, are you not worldly? Are you not acting like mere humans? For when one says, "I follow Paul," and another, "I follow Apollos," are you not mere human beings?

ISBA asks lawmakers to seize “golden opportunity”

Calls for new investments to support public education

Submitted

The Indiana School Boards Association (ISBA) is asking lawmakers to invest in and support K-12 public education after Thursday morning's state revenue forecast showed the state will collect nearly $2 billion more in tax revenue over the next two years than previously anticipated.

ISBA asks lawmakers to devote significant new dollars to traditional K-12 public schools to ensure they are funded in each year of the biennium with increases that, at a minimum, match inflation, which spiked to 3 percent in the Midwest for the 12-month period ending March 2021.

The House-passed budget increased tuition support funding by 1.25 percent in Fiscal Year 2022 and 2.49 percent in Fiscal Year 2023. The Senate's version of the budget bill increased tuition support by 1.23 percent in FY 22 and 2.94 percent in FY23.

"Here's a golden opportunity to significantly improve K-12 public education funding in our state," ISBA Executive Director Terry Spradlin said. "Lawmakers have a real chance to improve the state's standing on per-pupil funding, which in turn would allow our local schools to make major improvements in teacher compensation."

Indiana ranked 39th in the U.S. in K-12 public per-pupil spending in 2018, down from 20th among states in 2005. Indiana ranked last in salary growth for teachers between 2002 and 2017.

By driving much of the increase in forecasted revenue to the public education system and its students, lawmakers can help school boards meet the goals of the Governor's Next Level Teacher Compensation Commission to increase minimum teacher pay to $40,000 and average teacher pay to $60,000.

In addition to larger overall increases for K-12 education, ISBA asks lawmakers to embrace the Senate's approach to increasing funding for students in poverty through the complexity grant, students receiving special education services, and English language learners.

ISBA also requests that lawmakers refrain from expanding school choice programs at the expense of the public schools that serve the vast majority of the state's children. More than 180 school boards have adopted resolutions opposing the expansion of Choice Scholarship vouchers and establishment of education savings accounts.

"The pandemic reminded us all of the vital importance of public schools to a functioning society. We should be celebrating the heroic efforts of our public schools, not undermining them," Spradlin said.

Bill protecting Hoosier juveniles headed for governor's desk

The REPORTER

The Indiana State Senate on Wednesday concurred unanimously on the amended Senate Bill 368. The bill will now go to the governor's desk for final signature.

This proposal makes some important changes to Indiana's juvenile justice system. Under the bill, certain juvenile offenses will be automatically expunged and, under most circumstances, a juvenile would be prohibited from being housed with adult inmates. SB 368 also sets up a procedure for determining juvenile competency.

State Senator Karen

Tallian (D-Ogden Dunes) authored the bill and State Senator Jean Breaux (D-Indianapolis) co-authored the bill.

Sen. Tallian had the following comments on the final passage of SB 368:

"This bill makes three major changes to our juvenile justice system. This bill will make us eligible for significant federal dollars that we would lose if we're not compliant with the 2018 federal law," Sen. Tallian said, referring to the Juvenile Justice Reform Act of 2018. The federal law says that states cannot hold children in adult jails after December 2021.

"SB 368 is landmark legislation. It is good policy to protect young people from the permanent harm that can come from being housed in an adult facility. That's a huge improvement for young people who get involved in the justice system, and will certainly reduce recidivism.

"We also establish competency standards for the youngest children who are accused of crimes, making sure that they are competent to stand trial and understand what is exactly going on. We have been without this since an Indiana Supreme Court ruling 15 years ago.

"The last piece, which we can't forget, deals with expungement of juvenile records. For most misdemeanors, the juvenile record will be automatically expunged when the child ages out of the system. Kids have a right to move on with their lives. And that is a huge deal for the young people who came to support this bill.

"In the House and Senate committees, the testimony was extraordinary. Thank you to all of the young people and advocates who came to share their stories and talk about the benefits this bill will have. Thanks to all the different groups who worked very hard on this legislation."

Bill requiring long-term care facilities to report COVID case, death data to state health department heads to governor

The REPORTER

The Indiana State Senate on Tuesday unanimously concurred with the amendments from the House on Senate Bill 292.

Authored by State Senator Jean Breaux (D-Indianapolis), ranking minority member of the Senate Health and Provider's Services Committee, SB 292 will require residential and long-term care facilities to report COVID-19 case and death data to the Indiana State Department of Health. The Department of Health would then be required to publish the information on the department's website.

The proposal passed out of the House once and Senate twice, receiving unanimous support each time. SB 292 now heads to the governor's desk to be signed into law.

Sen. Breaux made the following comments on the passage of her bill:

"My SB 292 will make a world of difference for families with loved ones living in long-term care facilities. This legislation will guarantee transparency for folks who are entering long-term care facilities on the backend of this pandemic, and simply want to be sure that their safety is a priority wherever they choose to live.

"This pandemic has changed our way of life for over a year now, and while we are rolling out vaccines and see the light at the end of the tunnel, we're not quite sure when this will end or if another pandemic will strike in the future. What we're doing with this legislation is ensuring that people have the data they need to make responsible, safe decisions for themselves and loved ones. Really, we're protecting families.

"I appreciate my colleagues in both the House and Senate for getting this bill done for Hoosiers. It's rare that this body can agree unanimously on any piece of legislation, so it's really meaningful for me that each one of my colleagues saw the value that this will bring. I particularly want to thank Sen. Charbonneau, Rep. Shackelford and Rep. Clere for their help in getting this legislation through both chambers. This is a big win for the people of Indiana."

Baseball Millers win close HCC game with Tigers

Noblesville won a close game over host Fishers Thursday 3-2 in the opener of a two-game Hoosier Crossroads Conference series between the two teams.

The Tigers scored the first run of the game in the second inning. Dom Oliverio reached on an error, then was scored by a Tate Warner base hit into left field.

The Millers took the lead for good in the top of the fourth inning by scoring all three of their runs. Kolbi Kazmierski and Drew Niswonger both scored on an error, then Mason Bohland singled home Dean White.

Fishers cut the lead to 3-2 in the sixth inning when JP Preston drew a bases-loaded walk with one out, which sent Gavin Kuzniewski home. But Jared Crandall threw a strikeout and a ground-out ended the inning. The Tigers' Jack Brown opened the seventh inning with a single, but Crandall struck out two and White caught a center field fly out to finish the game.

Ethan Leslie got the win, throwing five and a third innings and striking out seven. Crandall earned the save, allowing just one hit.

Brown went 3-for-4 at the plate for Fishers. Tate Warner pitched a complete game, tossing 10 strikeouts and allowing only three hits.

The Millers are 2-1 in HCC play and 3-5 overall, while the Tigers are 1-2 in the conference and 4-5 overall. The two teams will finish the series at 7 p.m. tonight at Noblesville's Don Dunker Field.

Sheridan picked up its first win of the season on Thursday, beating Indiana School for the Deaf 18-5 in a five-inning home game.

ISD scored two runs in the top of the first inning, but the Blackhawks answered with four runs in the bottom of the first. Cole Bales stole home plate, Collin McNair singled in Silas DeVaney, Cameron Hovey scored on a passed ball and Nate Henshaw batted in McNair with a single.

That gave Sheridan a 4-2 lead. Indiana Deaf tied the game up with two runs in the top of the second. But it was all Blackhawks after that, with Sheridan scoring 14 runs in the bottom of the inning. Ty Macy and Bales hit back-to-back doubles, scoring one run each. Hovey then doubled in two runs, and Henshaw's single scored two more to give the 'Hawks a 10-4 lead.

Macy and Bales both drew bases-loaded walks to add two more runs, then DeVaney batted in a run. Hovey then blasted a triple into right field to score three more runs. RBI singles by Henshaw and Preston Weir completed the scoring.

"It was nice," said Sheridan coach Adam Spencer. "The guys needed it. We got our whole team in, so that was nice too. Building on this is going to be big, because we got a doubleheader against a really solid Clinton Central team coming up. If we can take some positives from this and play well on Saturday, I like our chances going into the rest of the (Hoosier Heartland) conference."

Henshaw had a 3-for-3 night at the plate, driving in three runs. Hovey totaled four RBIs and scored three more. Bales, DeVaney and McNair also both scored three runs. Macy got the pitching win.

The Blackhawks are 1-3 for the season and travel to Clinton Central Saturday morning for their doubleheader with the Bulldogs.

Macy and Bales both drew bases-loaded walks to add two more runs, then DeVaney batted in a run. Hovey then blasted a triple into right field to score three more runs. RBI singles by Henshaw and Preston Weir completed the scoring.

"It was nice," said Sheridan coach Adam Spencer. "The guys needed it. We got our whole team in, so that was nice too. Building on this is going to be big, because we got a doubleheader against a really solid Clinton Central team coming up. If we can take some positives from this and play well on Saturday, I like our chances going into the rest of the (Hoosier Heartland) conference."

Henshaw had a 3-for-3 night at the plate, driving in three runs. Hovey totaled four RBIs and scored three more. Bales, DeVaney and McNair also both scored three runs. Macy got the pitching win.

The Blackhawks are 1-3 for the season and travel to Clinton Central Saturday morning for their doubleheader with the Bulldogs.
