Kathy Kreag Williams named Sagamore of the Wabash

The REPORTER

Hamilton County Clerk Kathy Kreag Williams was recently presented with the Sagamore of the Wabash award by Indiana State Representative Tom Saunders.

The honorary award was created by the State of Indiana during the term of Governor Ralph F. Gates, who served from 1945 to 1949, and is considered to be one of the most distinguished awards presented by the state.

The award states the honoree is "distinguished by her humanity in living, her loyalty in friendship, her wisdom in council, and her inspiration in leadership."

Williams served 26 years as a member of the Indiana House of Representatives, 10 years (1982-1991 and 2019-2021) as Hamilton County by the county for a total of 45 years.

The caucus vote was planned for last Sunday, but party officials found that committeemen had not been certified as required by state election law.

In the absence of properly certified committeemen, the county chairwoman, Dayna Colbert, was entitled to appoint a replacement for Ms. DeLong. She appointed Crystal Neumann and forwarded the paperwork to County Clerk Kathy Williams.

Whether there would have been a caucus contest for the seat was not disclosed.

Both DeLong and Neumann are Democrats, and under state law the party which elects a local official is allowed to pick a successor when a vacancy occurs.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Now for the matters you wrote about: "It is good for a man not to have sexual relations with a woman." But since sexual immorality is occurring, each man should have sexual relations with his own wife, and each woman with her own husband. The husband should fulfill his marital duty to his wife, and likewise the wife to her husband. The wife does not have authority over her own body but yields it to her husband. In the same way, the husband does not have authority over his own body but yields it to his wife. Do not deprive each other except perhaps by mutual consent and for a time, so that you may devote yourselves to prayer. Then come together again so that Satan will not tempt you because of your lack of self-control. I say this as a concession, not as a command. I wish that all of you were as I am. But each of you has your own gift from God; one has this gift, another has that. Now to the unmarried and the widows I say: It is good for them to stay unmarried, as I do. But if they cannot control themselves, they should marry, for it is better to marry than to burn with passion.

Royals win HCC girls track championship Millers are runners-up, Tigers first in six individual events

By RICHIE HALL

FISHERS - The Hoosier Crossroads Conference girls track and field meet took place Wednesday at Fishers, after a one-day weather delay.

It was worth the wait, as each Hamilton County had reason to be happy after the meet. Hamilton Southeastern won the team championship, while Noblesville's young talent led the Millers to a runner-up finish. Fishers placed fourth and won the most individual events with six. Westfield placed fifth and had several solid finishes.

The Royals totaled 134 points, using their trademark depth to take a lead by the middle of the meet and keep it to the finish. Southeastern scored points in every event, winning three of them.

Halle Hill led the way by taking first in the 1600 run and also placing second in the 800 run. The Royals also finished first in the 4x100 and 4x400 relays. Alyssa Barker ran on both relay teams, joined by Jadyn Durden, Jocelyn Davis and Daniela Rios-Rojas on the 4x100, and by Annice McFarland, Madisyn Etheredge and Regan Wans on the 4x400.

Wans also placed second in the 400 dash. Ally Elsbury was the 100 hurdles runner-up and Makenzie Loftin took second in the 300 hurdles.

"We had a lot of places that we came through with some big PRs," said Royals coach Julie Alano. "Big PRs in the hurdles today. That was huge in both hurdle races with some great times there."

Southeastern now has one more meet to go before it hosts the sectional on May 18. That would be the Hamilton County meet, scheduled for Tuesday at Carmel.

"We'll work on some things, make sure we got everybody situated for the sectional, because the entries are not due until the next day," said Alano. "We might try some different things, make sure we got who we want in for sectionals."

Noblesville scored 112 points to take second place, also winning four events. Kiana Siefert swept the hurdles events, winning both the 100 and 300 hurdles by comfortable margins.

The famous New Castle High School ketball teams have been invited to play in the prestigious Raymond James Hall of Fame Classic. This year's girls Hall of Fame is set for Wednesday, Dec. 29, with the boys playing on Thursday, Dec. 30.

The Shamrocks girls will take on Franklin Community at 11 a.m. in the first semi-final game, followed by the second semi-final between Washington and South Bend Washington. Westfield's boys also open with the 11 a.m. semi-final game, taking on Connersville. The second semi-final is next, between Homestead and Cathedral. On both days, the consolation game tips off at 6 p.m. with the championship game to follow.

Both Westfield teams are making their first appearance at the Hall of Fame Classic. It's also the second time a school has had both girls and boys teams in the same season. New Castle was the first, in 2006.

The girls won the Hoosier Crossroads Conference championship and finished with a 16-5 record. Westfield returns Junior All-Star Alyssa Crockett, who averaged 17.2 points and 7.6 rebounds per game last season and has committed to the University of Michigan.

The boys finished 18-5 last season and tied for the HCC championship. The boys return a Junior All-Star as well, Braden Smith, who averaged 22.0 points, 6.2 assists and 5.4 rebounds. Smith has committed to Purdue University.

However, the squad still faced a 17-point mountain to climb as they headed into the fourth. The Blue & Gold quickly cut the lead to 87-73 at the 9:51 mark behind a gritty offensive rebound in the paint from Cassius Stanley that earned a trip to the charity stripe. However, Indiana soon stalled on the offensive end once again. Coming into tonight's battle against the Sacramento Kings, the Pacers (30-35) knew they would be in for a tough test in the post. The visitors entered the match holding the league's fourth-best scoring average in the paint at 53.3 points per game.

For 48 minutes, the Kings (29-37) played as advertised. The visitors tallied 62 points in the painted area en route to defeating Indiana 104-93 at Bankers Life Fieldhouse. After consecutive games of scoring at least 140 points, the Blue & Gold's offense seemed out-of-rhythm for much of the night.

"Our pace, first of all, wasn't there," coach Nate Bjorkgren stated postgame. "Then we hit that stretch there, in the third, where we couldn't score. I thought we had some decent looks on it too in the paint – just those shots didn't fall."

The scoreless streak in the third lasted just under five minutes.

Former Duke standout Marvin Bagley III finished as the night's top scorer with 31 points – including 24 in the first half. Delon Wright also added 23 for the visitors

Although it was a tough shooting night overall for Indiana (36-for-83, 9-for-25 from deep), five players ended up in double figures. Domantas Sabonis finished with another double-double – his 42nd of the season – after recording 17 points on 7-of-9 shooting, 13 boards, and eight assists.

Indiana got off to a solid start in the first quarter to grab an early advantage. Threes from Doug McDermott and Caris LeVert, followed by Oshae Brissett's tenacity on the offensive glass helped the squad double up the Kings, 12-6 with 8:14 to go in the frame.

Sacramento head coach Luke Walton took a timeout. The visitors tallied a 16-4 run, including 12 from Bagley in the paint, to take a 22-16 lead at the 3:20 mark.

Down the stretch, the substitution of the Pacers' reserves appeared to light a spark. Two quick steals from the NBA's leader in steals per game, T.J. McConnell, helped initiate a 10-3 run that grabbed a 26-25 Indiana lead with 1:27 remaining. However, the Kings would respond with five straight to take a four-point edge into the second.

The Blue & Gold remained stuck at But, the lead quickly evaporated after 38 points for 3:44. Caris LeVert's layup with 3:20 remaining finally trimmed Indiana's deficit to 44-40.

> But, that would be as close as they'd get for the rest of the half. The defense continued to struggle in containing Bagley. Then, a pair of threes from Delon Wright pushed Sacramento's lead to double digits, 54-43. A pair of Pacers buckets in the final minute cut the Kings' lead to 56-47 before the break.

> A hot start from sharpshooter Buddy Hield helped push the Kings' lead to 65-51 early in the third. Sacramento then continued to find easy buckets in the paint over the first half of the frame to keep its double-digit lead. At the 6:52 mark, Bagley added to his total with an uncontested alley-oop dunk to give Sacramento a 71-56 lead.

With just seven games remaining in the regular season, the Pacers hope to rebound tomorrow night at the Fieldhouse against the red-hot Atlanta Hawks.
