Synergize donates nine AEDs, honors heroes at 4:30 Meetup

By DENISE MOE
For The Reporter

Hosting an awards ceremony at a rooftop bar and raising over $6,000 for a nonprofit in a single night may seem like a singular occasion. But to the members of Synergize, it's just another day of giving back to the community.

The Carmel-based professional group gathered on Tuesday for its monthly 4:30 Meetup, an event where Synergize members build authentic friendships and support a local cause. This month, the funds raised from the 4:30 Meetup will be used to provide AEDs to police officers through Indiana nonprofit Bolt for the Heart.

Bolt for the Heart President Pierre Twer has spent the past decade on a mission to install AEDs into every police officer's vehicle. The AEDs can – and do – help officers save the lives of sudden cardiac arrest victims who are waiting for ambulances to arrive. In a situation where seconds can make the difference between life and death, Bolt for the Heart has a marked impact on the lives of Indiana citizens.

"I look forward to the day when I see an AED in every business, every school, every patrol car, and on every corner," said Kristin Toussing, who

Mayor Cook: HUB is result of thinking big

When we first contemplated the idea of Grand Park, I challenged the team to "think big." Well, we did and now we have what, in my opinion, is THE premiere youth sports venue in the country, if not the world. Having the caliber of fields and facilities in one location is unique and is very much appreciated by travel sports athletes and parents!

With more than 2.5 million visits a year, Grand Park has put Westfield on the map and done what it set out to do – build an economy. Whenever I travel, I proudly wear the Westfield and Grand Park brands, and there is rarely a day that I am not stopped by folks who say, "I have been to Grand Park and loved it."

Westfield police offer safety tips, security checks

The REPORTER

If you are a Westfield resident and are going on vacation or will be away from your home an extended period of time, you may request to have additional patrols. Officers will provide extra patrols as time permits and will contact you or your designated emergency contact if a problem arises.

Please note that the frequency of home checks is dependent upon call volume. Active calls for service will take precedence. Click here to fill out an online form for the Vacation Security Check.

You may also call in a request during normal business hours, which are 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, at (317) 804-3200.

Here are a few tips to help keep your home safe while you are away:

- Have a trustworthy friend or family member watch your home while you are away.
- Double check that all your doors and windows are locked and set your alarm system, if you have one.
- Set security lights on a timer. If you have someone coming by, have him or her turn different lights on and off to make it look like you're home.
- Stop your mail and paper for the week so it doesn't pile up outside or in your mailbox. Alternatively, have someone you trust stop by and take it inside.
- Have a neighbor, or whoever is watching your house, put the garbage out on collection day.

Spartz accepting applications for military academies

The REPORTER

Congresswoman Victoria Spartz (R-Ind.-05) is accepting applications for military academy nominations for the class of 2026.

"It is a privilege to nominate extraordinary students in Indiana's fifth congressional district to our world class military service academies," Rep. Spartz said. "I'm eager to see many of our district's best and brightest step forward and be considered for these prestigious positions."

Each year, members of Congress have the ability to nominate students to attend four of the five military academies: the U.S. Naval Academy, the U.S. Air Force Academy, U.S. Military Academy West Point, and the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. The U.S. Coast Guard Academy does not require a congressional nomination for appointment. Members can nominate up to 10 individuals from their district for each academy vacancy.

Fishers Nickel Plate Trail construction moving forward

Meyer Najem has been working rain or shine to complete the 116th Street Phase of the Nickel Plate Trail. The tunnel structure has been set, waterproofed, and backfilled with stone. The next round of updates will include installing curbs, working towards paving the street, and completing some sidewalks. "Thanks to coordination with all parties involved in this project, we are moving quickly to open up 116th Street for residents and businesses," said Meyer Najem Senior Project Manager Matt Shultz. "We will continue to update the community on our progress."

GOAT owners asking for stay on Carmel BZA's decision Public Access Counselor says Carmel violated state's Open Door Law

The REPORTER

Indiana's Public Access Counselor last week ruled in an opinion that Carmel's Board of Zoning Appeals violated state Open Door laws when denying the The GOAT Restaurant & Tavern a use variance to permit the business to operate in its current location.

Business owners Kevin and Megan Paul have since filed a renewed motion with the Hamilton County Superior Court requesting an immediate stay of the BZA's decision. The opinion by the Public Access Counselor stated that the BZA violated the Open Door Law in taking final action without a public hearing. The Open Door Law states that government agencies like the Carmel BZA must hold official meetings of a governing body publicly, as citizens have a right to attend and record those meetings.

"We are pleased with the opinion given by the Public Access Counselor on our complaint," said Kevin Paul. "At the end of the day, we just want to operate under the same rules as our neighboring businesses."

The filed complaint by Paul to the Public Access Counselor noted the counsel for the BZA indicated that the board adopted their written findings by email sometime between May 12 and 14, rather than at a meeting open to the public.

"The BZA did not hold a public meeting on or between those dates, which bolsters Paul's argument that the BZA – acting as a majority – adopted the findings without a public meeting," the opinion reads.

This renewed motion for a stay of the BZA's decision as a result of the Public Access Counselor's opinion requests that The GOAT be permitted to immediately reopen after reviewing these findings.

"I hope this stay will allow us to open very soon and bring the hardworking employees of The GOAT Tavern back to work," said Paul.

spoke at the event. “I look forward to the day when my survival is no longer a miracle.” She and another speaker, Jeff Utzinger, both shared their stories of survival after sudden cardiac arrest. Their lives were saved by shocks from AEDs in police cars.

After their stories, Bolt for the Heart honored two Greenfield police officers, Lieutenant Matthew Holland and Patrolman Andrew Pfaff, with Bolt Lifesaver Awards at the event. Each of the officers had used an AED to administer a life-saving shock to a civilian. Greg Heuer of AP Engineering and Consulting, sponsor of this month’s 4:30 Meetup, presented the awards to cheers and applause.

Thanks to ticket sales and donations from its members, Synergize raised enough money to fund five AEDs for police vehicles. Combined with a four AED match donation, the group will donate a total of nine lifesaving AEDs through Bolt for the Heart.

Just 18 months old in June, Synergize has raised over $40,000 in 2021 alone. Last year, the organization benefited Bolt for the Heart at another 4:30 Meetup. One of the AEDs donated by the group last year has already been used to save a victim of sudden cardiac arrest.

“I met with a SCA Survivor here in Carmel before our 4:30 Meetup today,” Synergize Founder Aron Stanton said. “She is a beautiful four-year-old girl, and just like my five-year-old son, she’s got a natural and authentic love for life. None of us are promised tomorrow, but all of us have the ability to make a ripple today that impacts someone else tomorrow.”

About Synergize

Synergize is a group of business and community leaders who build lifelong friendships instead of business deals. Their members, who value authentic connection and community impact, live by the motto, “Relationships Over Everything.” The only rule? No jerks! To learn more about the Synergize movement, visit synergize-indy.com.

In the few years we have been fully open, we have become proficient in hosting events all year long. It is great to see so much vibrancy in Westfield. As we continue to perfect our events and our relationships with our event organizers, we are looking to “what’s next.” So, last month we announced the launch of the Grand Park Research and Development HUB. The HUB will serve as a center of innovation for entrepreneurs, businesses and universities that are developing new technologies, services and research projects related to facilities and activities within the sports tourism industry. There is no better place for ideas, technologies and research opportunities around sport to be originated, vetted and eventually launched into the marketplace.

We announced our inaugural partnerships and will accept more business and research partners focused on the areas of professional, youth and recreational sports clubs and teams, accredited universities and educators, national governing bodies and local hospitality and sports tourism partners. William Knox, the Grand Park Director, is leading this effort, and since we announced this program, he’s received inquiries from almost a dozen businesses and universities. To me, that is a credit to the innovation mindset we have in Westfield. Our desire to build an ecosystem around sport will lead to new businesses coming here, but also new ideas and products.

I love William’s quote about the HUB. He said, “Our goal is for the HUB to use our 400 acres for advancing every aspect of sport. With the proliferation of competitive and recreational sports, there is opportunity to innovate in the areas of safety, technology, marketing, nutrition and understanding. Youth sports, specifically, is now a $19 billion industry. We can play a part in making it safer and more accessible.”

“Safer” and “more accessible” are the key words. Grand Park is a sports tourism destination. We care about the health of this industry. The innovations in technology, products and research will only grow the ability for athletes at all levels and their families to participate in sport. To me, the HUB will be a differentiator for Grand Park. It is just another way our team has answered the call to “think big.”

To be considered for a nomination, applicants:

- Must be a United States citizen and legal resident of the fifth congressional district;
- Must be at least 17 years old but not yet 23 years old; and

- Unmarried, without child, and under no legal obligation to support children or other dependents.

Applications must be filed out online at spartz.house.gov/services/military-academy-nominations and submitted to spartzacademynominations@mail.house.gov.

Applications must be received no later than Friday, Oct. 15, 2021, for those interested in entering one of the service academies for the class of 2026. Late applications will not be considered.

- Park your vehicles in a locked garage, if possible. Make sure they are locked and do not leave any valuables in the vehicle, especially if the vehicle is parked outside.
- Don’t share details of your vacation on social media sites. Turn off location services on your mobile devices, if you use any of the mobile apps.

Wait to share photos until you return. Pictures taken with a GPS-ready camera or phone may have your location embedded in it. Even if you trust your friends, many times their friends and friends of friends can all see your information also.

- Be prepared for the worst. Sometimes, even with all the preparation, a break-in can still happen. It’s a good idea to have an inventory of all your important items. List all serial numbers and take pictures for insurance purposes. It never hurts to be prepared.

Please be vigilant and report any suspicious activity. If you suspect someone is trying to break into a home, call 911.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Letter to the Editor

Reader: Selflessness, sacrifice are what's needed in the fight against COVID-19

Dear Editor:

My mother was one of the most educated people I ever knew. She never attended college, but she and my dad shared a commodity currently at a premium: common sense. Between the two of them, I didn't win many debates, my bachelor's degree notwithstanding.

Another subject I broached carefully with my Great Depression-era parents was sacrifice.

Mom and Dad are long gone, but I wonder what the remaining members of their generation think about a society that clamored for a Covid-19 cure while resisting the steps needed to fight the virus. How do we reconcile trumpeting the Constitution and partisan politics to avoid wearing a face mask while over 600,000 people die?

The Great Depression generation must wince at us being coaxed/cajoled/bribed with gift cards and scholarships to take the vaccine. Ohio offered a chance to win a one-million-dollar prize—over a vaccine that's free. Vaccine lotteries abound in other states, too.

As a baby boomer, I can't speak for our elders. But I humbly thank them for their WWII rationing and general selflessness without expecting something in return.

Noblesville First UMC’s GriefShare starts next month

The REPORTER

Have you lost a loved one or know someone that will find it difficult to face each new day?

Noblesville First United Methodist Church announces its next GriefShare program, which is open to everyone in the community. The fall sessions will meet on Thursdays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. beginning Aug. 12. The meetings will be held at Noblesville First United Methodist Church, 2051 Monument St. You are invited to join anytime during the 14 weeks of meetings. A one-time registration fee of $20 is appreciated, but scholarships are available.

GriefShare is a 14-week non-denominational Christ-centered program focusing on grief topics associated with the death of a loved one. The DVD seminar features nationally respected grief experts and real-life stories of people, followed by a small group discussion about what was seen on the DVD. Daily work in the GriefShare workbook also helps one look thoughtfully at their grief experience and helps in the healing process. GriefShare is led by caring people who have experienced grief and have successfully rebuilt their lives.

State to receive $70M grant to complete Clear Path 465 Project

The REPORTER

U.S. Senators Todd Young and Mike Braun and Governor Eric Holcomb last week announced a $70 million Infrastructure for Rebuilding America (INFRA) grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation (USDOT) to complete the Interstate 465/Interstate 69 Clear Path 465 Project in Indianapolis.

“Indiana is known as the Crossroads of America for a reason, and our highways and byways are foundational to keeping our state competitive,” Sen. Young said. “I was pleased to help secure this grant which will bring a substantial investment to the Hoosier state to reduce travel times and improve safety at and around this important interchange.”

“I’m proud to have joined Senator Young and Governor Holcomb in securing this grant which will be used to modify interchanges and provide for new travel lanes around the I-465/I-69 junction in Indianapolis, making 465 safer and more efficient for Hoosiers and the thousands of motorists who travel through the Crossroads of America for business,” Sen. Braun said.

“The I-465/I-69 Clear Path project will make travel safer and more convenient for more than 100,000 motorists who travel through one of Indiana’s busiest interchanges daily,” Gov. Holcomb said. “I want to thank Senator Todd Young and Senator Mike Braun and all of our federal partners for joining with us to build on Indiana’s strong position as the Crossroads of America.”

The Clear Path 465 project includes the reconstruction and expansion of the I-465/I-69 system interchange northeast of Indianapolis, approximately 4.5 miles of mainline I-465 from the White River to Fall Creek, and approximately 0.8 miles of I-69 from I-465 to 82nd Street. Specifically, the project includes:

- I-465 re-alignment with additional auxiliary and ramp lanes as needed
- Improvements to three eastbound I-465 exits
- New ramp lanes from northbound I-465 to northbound I-69

- Additional lanes on Binford Boulevard
- Ramps to I-465/Binford Boulevard
- Eliminating the weave from southbound 82nd Street to Binford Boulevard (crossing southbound I-69 traffic)

- New ramp lanes on southbound I-69
- Southbound Binford Boulevard collector-distributor relocation.

The grant is expected to reduce travel times and improve safety on these heavily traveled highways. The INFRA grant is a highly competitive USDOT grant program. In this round, USDOT received 173 applications, requesting over $7.3 billion in grant funds.

In March, Senators Young and Braun sent a letter of support for the Indiana Department of Transportation’s Fiscal Year 2021 INFRA grant application for the Clear Path 465 Project. Click here to read the letter.

IU School of Medicine receives $30M NIA grant for Alzheimer’s, related dementia research

The REPORTER

The National Centralized Repository for Alzheimer’s Disease and Related Dementias (NCRAD) grant has been renewed for another five years with funding expected to total $30 million from the National Institute on Aging (NIA), within the National Institutes of Health (NIH).

NCRAD is led by Tatiana Foroud, PhD, Executive Associate Dean for Research Affairs at IU School of Medicine. Since 2018, NCRAD has been among the five largest grants awarded to IU School of Medicine.

“National Centralized Repository for Alzheimer’s Disease and Related Dementias serves as the primary resource for samples for all NIA-funded dementia studies,” said Foroud, who is also the chair for the department of medical and molecular genetics at IU School of Medicine. “In the next five years, our recruitment efforts will focus on engaging diverse communities to obtain a broad range of samples from individuals that represent the diversity of populations that make up our nation and our world.”

NCRAD supports research about causes, early detection, and therapeutic development for Alzheimer’s and other dementias. The repository is home to more than a million biological samples, including DNA, plasma, brain tissue and cell lines. These samples assist scientists in conducting a variety of Alzheimer’s and dementia research, such as the development of blood-based biomarker tests, which are less expensive and invasive than other methods for early detection of dementias, such as PET scans and testing of cerebrospinal fluid.

Since its inception in 1990, NCRAD has distributed more than 300,000 samples to researchers all over the world, leading to more than 600 publications in scientific journals. Scientists have banked samples for dozens of studies with NCRAD, which also keeps samples of healthy controls. With the latest expansion in 2018, the NCRAD program changed its name to include “Related Dementias” to reflect the broad scope of research activities it supports, added staff members, and centralized the samples in larger, newly renovated facilities in Indianapolis.

NCRAD is one of a range of research resources NIA has funded as part of its ambitious goal of developing effective prevention strategies and treatments for Alzheimer’s and related dementias by 2025. The burden of Alzheimer’s disease and related dementias in the United States is projected to grow to 13.9 million individuals in 2060, which represents nearly 3.3 percent of the population.

“It has been incredible to see NCRAD grow over the last several years, even through the COVID-19 pandemic,” said Foroud, who also leads the IU Precision Health Initiative Grand Challenge. The Precision Health Initiative is Indiana University’s first funded Grand Challenge, which has bold goals to prevent Alzheimer’s disease by analyzing genetic, developmental, behavioral, and environmental factors that shape an individual’s health. “We’re proud to work with

Centier Bank launches free online budgeting e-course

The REPORTER

Centier Bank has announced a new, free e-course on budgeting through Centier To You, the bank's financial education series. The course includes budgeting worksheets for those just getting started and tips for consumers who are looking to tweak their existing budgets.

According to a study, 80 percent of Americans say they have and follow a monthly budget for their expenses, an increase from the same study conducted by debt.com in 2019. Whether it was the global health crisis, a job loss, divorce, or to get out of debt, the catalyst for creating and sticking to a budget is something consumers say alleviates stress and helps them reach their goals.

Lauren Zurbriggen, Financial Education and Community Outreach Coordinator at Centier Bank, said that having a budget is one thing, but following it can be difficult for some.

"The point of a budget is to create a space for the unknown, so you can prepare for life's surprises," she said. "Finances can be a big stressor for families, and we want to be able to provide the educational resources necessary to help take money worries off of people's minds."

Zurbriggen said that the course is free and open to the public. You do not need to be a Centier client to access the course, which is curated to help a wide audience, not just those who face financial struggles.

"It's also useful for people whose financial status changes due to lifestyle adjustments – getting married, retiring, and job loss – are all good times to examine your budget," she explained. "Centier To You aims to provide knowledge to create a budget that will allow consumers to be successful in their financial journeys."

Spring Mill State Park celebrating Gus Grissom weekend, July 17-18

The REPORTER

Spring Mill State Park will celebrate Gus Grissom Weekend on Saturday, July 17 and Sunday, July 18 with a host of memorial events honoring the astronaut, who was the second American to fly in space and was born and raised in Mitchell.

Space-related activities for children, a Gus artifacts table, guided tours of the Gus Grissom Memorial, and the following activities will provide a weekend of discovery:

- On Saturday, the Hoosier Hills Ham Club will operate a special-event amateur radio station, W9GUS, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Gus Grissom Memorial.

- Ray E. Boomhower, author of Gus Grissom: The Lost Astronaut, will speak at the Grissom Memorial at 1 p.m. and be available for book signing and conversation afterward.
- The National Association of Rocketry group, Count Down Cardinals, will launch model rockets at the Sycamore Shelter at different times throughout the weekend.

- The Grissom Boyhood Home in the town of Mitchell, located six minutes west of Spring Mill, will offer tours of the home where Gus grew up. Open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and from 1 to 4 p.m. on Sunday.

For more information on this and other upcoming events, call Spring Mill State Park at (812) 849-3534 or email sbelt@dnr.IN.gov.

Spring Mill State Park is at 3333 E. State Road 60, Mitchell.

TODAY’S BIBLE READING

For what I received I passed on to you as of first importance: that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures, that he was buried, that he was raised on the third day according to the Scriptures, and that he appeared to Cephas, and then to the Twelve. After that, he appeared to more than five hundred of the brothers and sisters at the same time, most of whom are still living, though some have fallen asleep. Then he appeared to James, then to all the apostles, and last of all he appeared to me also, as to one abnormally born. For I am the least of the apostles and do not even deserve to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. But by the grace of God I am what I am, and his grace to me was not without effect. No, I worked harder than all of them—yet not I, but the grace of God that was with me. Whether, then, it is I or they, this is what we preach, and this is what you believed.

1 Corinthians 15:3-11 (NIV)

Margaret (Peg) York

d. July 3, 2021

Margaret (Peg) York, 95, died July 3 at her home in Delray Beach, Fla. She and her late husband, Jerry H. York, lived in Carmel nearly 50 years where she owned and operated the York Kindergarten and Day School for 33 years. She also served on the Carmel Clay School Board for 12 years.

Born in Illinois in 1925, Mrs. York moved to Indianapolis at an early age with her parents where she graduated from Shortridge High School and Butler University.

She was an avid golfer, making eight holes-in-one at Woodland Country Club and later in Florida. She was also the winner of the Carmel Rotary Club ROSA award for community service.

Mrs. York is survived by three daughters: Kathleen, Rebecca and Cynthia, and one son, Stephen. There are 11 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

The Yorks retired to Florida 20 years ago, first to Fort Myers and later to Delray Beach.

A memorial service in Carmel will be scheduled in August.

Jack Irvin “Fluffy” Copeland

February 23, 1937 – July 1, 2021

Jack Irvin “Fluffy” Copeland, 84, Sheridan, and formerly of Memphis, Tenn.; passed away on Thursday, July 1, surrounded by his family. He was born on February 23, 1937, to the late Marion Delaski “Dee” and Carrie Myrtle (Caldwell) Copeland in Lebanon, Ind.

Jack was raised in Lebanon and was a graduate of Lebanon High School, Class of 1955. After graduation, he wanted to serve his country and decided to join the United States Navy. He worked as a Navy Corpsman and was stationed at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Portsmouth, Va. After Jack honorably served his country and returned home, he went to work for Pitman Moore in Zionsville as a welder for 10 years. When Jack’s employment ended with Pitman Moore, he worked for Shell Oil Company driving tankers.

Jack loved Tennessee and in 1976 ventured to start his next chapter with his beloved wife Lillian in Memphis. Jack had to switch employers and he enjoyed driving trucks, so he took a job with Yellow Freight and drove for them until retiring in 1999.

When Jack was not working and after his retirement, he would be found working puzzles or watching his favorite show, Wheel of Fortune, at 7:00 p.m.; everyone knew not to call or bother him when he was watching his show. Jack also loved woodworking and would spend hours in his woodshop working on projects. Jack became a Master Mason and was a member of Oakville Masonic Lodge #599 in Memphis, Tenn. Jack had a personal experience with the Shriners Hospital and he knew he wanted to continue to serve, so he became a proud member of the Shriners and donated a lot of his time raising money for the Shriners Hospitals for Children.

Jack’s greatest joy was his family: His wife, Lillian (Moore) Copeland of 44 years, who preceded him in death; and his children, Jay Copeland, Tammy Lee, Debbie (Frank) Whicker, and Tonya (Tom) Stern, all of Sheridan. He was a loving grandfather to his 10 grandchildren, Rob (Tiffany) Favors, Nicole Menard, Missy (Joe) Faucett, Christina Favors, Laura Lea Owens, Carrie Dee Copeland, James Bryan Copeland, Brandon Wright, Aaron Wright, and Kayla Harris. He was a proud great-grandfather to 20 grandchildren. Jack was a devoted brother to Charles Copeland, Mary Lou (John) Redman, and Linda Woodard. He was also a loving husband to his first wife, Patricia (Hoots) Weir.

Jack’s grandson, Aaron Wright, and granddaughter, Kyla Harris, along with great-grandsons, Dawson Owens and Logan Faucett, cared for their Papaw until he passed. Preceding Jack in death is his son, Bryan Copeland, on October 27, 2006, and his brother, John Copeland, in 2020.

Funeral services for Jack will be held at 7 p.m. on Thursday, July 8 at North Fields Church, 1478 State Road 38, Sheridan, where family and friends are invited to gather from 5 p.m. till time of services. For those who will not be able to attend his service, there will be a Facebook live stream at the Fisher Family Funeral Services Facebook page. Jack’s nephew, Pastor Brian Rutherford, will be officiating his service. A graveside service will be held at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 10 at Memphis Memorial Gardens Cemetery in Memphis, Tenn.

Jack’s family would like to thank Paradigm Hospice for taking such good care of Jack, and also the VA nurses.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Sheridan American Legion Post 67, 406 E. 10th St., Sheridan, IN 46069.

Everyone is invited to sign the online guestbook, leave a condolence, or share a memory at fisherfunerals.com. Fisher Family Funeral Services is honored to serve the Copeland Family.

Cameron Brock makes his return . . .

AlleyCats fall to Madison, 26-22

A familiar face returned to the lineup of the Indianapolis AlleyCats last weekend.

Cameron Brock came out of retirement and joined the AlleyCats just in time for their Saturday AUDL game with the Madison Radicals at the Grand Park Events Center. Brock retired last year after playing 120 games with the 'Cats (and scoring 504 goals) and his reappearance with the AlleyCats brought some experience to this year's very young team.

The 'Cats started out evenly with Madison before the Radicals pulled away in the second half. Indianapolis made a comeback in the fourth quarter, but Madison held on for a 26-22 win.

The AlleyCats scored the first goal of the game, with Rick Gross collecting a 22-yard pass from Xavier Payne. The Radicals answered with back-to-back goals to go up 2-1 and would not trail again. But the 'Cats would tie the game several times in the first half, starting with a 47-yard toss from Levi Jacobs to a diving Brock to make the score 2-2.

Madison finished the first quarter ahead 7-6, but Indianapolis quickly tied the game to start the second quarter, with Nick Hutton finding Trey Dynes on a 25-yard pass. The AlleyCats were still within 10-9 with 4:27 left, but the Radicals scored three quick goals to lead 13-9. Indianapolis did get the last word for the first half, as Brock's 48-yard toss to Dynes cut the lead to 14-11 at the break.

Madison led 21-17 after three quarters, then dominated the first half of the fourth period, going on a 5-1 run to lead 26-18. The Radicals scored their final goal of the game with 5:58 left.

After that, the 'Cats began a furious rally. Lucas Coniaris caught a 45-yard pass from Brock for the first goal. Indianapolis forced a throwaway, then Carter Rae blasted a 73-yard throw to Mason Zetsch, who found Cody Curran for a score.

Michael Ames made a block on the next drive, and he would later make a short pass to Joshua Venegas for the AlleyCats' third straight goal. Another throwaway led to Indianapolis' fourth consecutive score, after a long sequence that finished on a 14-yard throw from Jacobs to Gross. The 'Cats were within four with 2:01 left, but Madison would let them get no further.

Dynes finished the game with five goals. Brock scored four goals in his comeback, with Jacobs also scoring four goals and handing out six assists. Travis Carpenter had four assists.

The loss dropped Indianapolis to 2-4 for the season. The AlleyCats will start a long road trip this weekend, heading to Madison for a Saturday re-match, then playing at the undefeated Chicago Union Sunday afternoon.

Westfield players make impact at Age Group Championship

If the results of the Indiana Golf Foundation's Age Group Championship are a predictor of results to come, then it looks like the Shamrocks are going to be on a roll this upcoming school year.

Three incoming Westfield High School freshmen made an impact at Age Group, which took place last Thursday and Friday at Swan Lake Result in Plymouth as part of the Howard Bailey Junior Golf Tour. Jake Cesare and Will Harvey finished 1-2 in the Boys 14 division, while Addison Kooi was a decisive winner in the Girls 14 division.

Kooi came out swinging in her first round, blasting to a three-under par 69. She made five birdies in her round, and that helped her to a 10-stroke lead at the midpoint of the 36-hole event. Kooi's second-round score was an 81, but that was good enough to give her a five-stroke win, with a two-day total of 150.

Cesare played a consistent 36 holes, finishing with one-under 71s both days for a total score of two-under par 142. Cesare made three birdies during his first round. In his second round, he made one birdie, but parred all of the other holes.

Harvey carded a 74 for his first round, then rose up to the runner-up position with a two-under par 70 for his second round. Harvey drained two birdies during his first round and made three more in the second round.

Another local winner was Carmel's Christina Pfefferkorn, soon to be a senior at Guerin Catholic. Pfefferkorn won the Girls 17 division with an even-par 144 for the tournament, starting with a one-under par 71 in the first round. Pfefferkorn finished her first 18 holes with an eagle on No. 18, adding to two birdies, then made

NTT INDYCAR SERIES announces extension with Road America

INDYCAR and Road America announced on Tuesday a new, multiyear extension designed to keep the NTT INDYCAR SERIES racing at the legendary 4.014-mile permanent road course for years to come.

The series began racing at the picturesque layout in 1982. After a brief hiatus, the NTT INDYCAR SERIES returned in 2016 to packed grandstands and campgrounds. This year marked the sixth consecutive year Road America has hosted North America’s premier open-wheel series since the series’ return.

“INDYCAR is pleased to continue its relationship with Road America,” said Penske Entertainment Corp. President and CEO Mark Miles. “It is clear that NTT INDYCAR SERIES events in Wisconsin’s scenic Kettle Moraine have developed into exciting and favored weekends for our fans and athletes, as well.

“Last year, Road America became a central figure in the series’ return to racing during the global pandemic and the first to host a doubleheader. It has been a fantastic addition to our championship, and it is gratifying to know that it will remain a mainstay on our calendar.”

A stellar list of INDYCAR SERIES champions have claimed victories at one of the world’s fastest permanent road racing tracks. Mario Andretti, Emerson Fittipaldi and Michael Andretti are three-time winners at Road America. Double winners include Jacques Villeneuve, Paul Tracy and Scott Dixon. Danny Sullivan, Alex Zanardi, Dario Franchitti, Sebastien Bourdais, Will Power and Josef Newgarden have also visited victory lane.

This year, Alex Palou thrilled a massive crowd with a daring drive and a late-race pass to win the REV Group Grand Prix presented by AMR on June 20.

“The NTT INDYCAR SERIES is clearly one of the greatest forms of open-wheel racing ever to grace our beautiful 4-mile road course,” said Road America President and General Manager Mike Kertscher. “We’ve had a strong relationship since its return in 2016, and we are very proud to continue the tradition. The response from our fans has been tremendous over the past five seasons, and as part of showing our appreciation to them, we are offering a special four-day ticket package for $122. This special is only available online as a print-at-home ticket, and the special price ends on Sept. 30, 2021, so go to roadamerica.com and get yours today.”

The 2022 race date will mark the 33rd appearance of the NTT INDYCAR SERIES at “America’s National Park of Speed.” The entire 2022 NTT INDYCAR SERIES schedule will be announced at a later date.
