And away we no go!

I simply asked Elsa to let us go. She said "NO!"

How is it that I seem to find myself in these "traveling adventures" that give me quite the fodder for my column but leave my nerves a bit frazzled?

And so it was this week. When we were headed home from Tampa, Tropical Storm Elsa was headed straight for us. She was making promises as she gathered strength. "Ready or not, here I come!"

By Monday night she was a hurricane.

I spoke for 20 minutes with David, a 26-year veteran with Southwest Airlines. He looked at the weather maps. He told me that there were no flight cancellations in the area where Elsa was traveling.

He checked the non-stop flights for Wednesday, if our non-stop flight was canceled on Tuesday night. Plenty of seats available. I could change at no charge. He said he thought my chances were good to make it home Tuesday night.

I took David's advice and waited. David was wrong.

Chuck and I were down in Florida without a flight home. Chuck had a Wednesday morning tee time.

At 8:00 Tuesday morning the alert from Southwest came in a text ... all flights after 5:00 were canceled. Our flight was at 7:30.

Fishers resident Kaiden Miller earns full scholarship to Purdue University

By CHARLIE CLIFFORD

WISH-TV | wishtv.com

The Chick Evans caddie scholarship is sending a stellar Central Indiana caddie to Purdue University on a full scholarship. Fishers resident Kaiden Miller is off to West Lafayette to begin classes early after his recent Cathedral High School graduation.

After beginning his caddying career as a seventh-grader, Miller has worked as a caddie predominantly at Prairie View Golf Club in Carmel and its sister course, Wood Wind Golf Club in Westfield, over the past few summers.

The Chick Evans caddie scholarship equates to an estimated $120,000 value over the next four years of Miller's academic pursuits at Purdue, and he earned it. "Waking up day to day, it's around 5:30 a.m., you hop in the shower, you come out to the golf course, and you're doing whatever they need you to," he said.

He said the Chick Evans caddie scholarship "definitely feels like waiting to get one of those golden tickets. My mom brought it straight to me at the table, we opened it, and there it was ... an acceptance letter."

Kaiden Miller (left) said his mother Rachel (right) is his biggest cheerleader and has played a significant role in keep his scholarship dream alive.

The nationwide foundation that rewards dedicated high school students just found a son who goes above and beyond for a single mother who needs a hand.

"She is my biggest cheerleader," Miller said. "For the past four years, she has driven me out to the course every morning."

Rachel Miller, Kaiden's mother, plays a significant role in this story. Her sacrifice and strength made it possible to keep Kaiden's scholarship dream alive.

"I do have an autoimmune condition, and it does affect me," Rachel Miller said. "It looks like MS (multiple sclerosis) it's called CIDP (chronic inflammatory demyelinating polyneuropathy), so a lot of neuropathies. There are days where I'm bedridden and exhausted ... Kaiden's been my partner. He's my greatest accomplishment."

Rachel Miller's caring nature clearly carried over to her son. Kaiden's attitude on the golf course mirrored his work in the classroom at Cathedral. For the past two school years, after scholarships were factored in, Kaiden paid the remainder of his own junior- and senior-year tuition bills.

"It's amazing. He started out as a young, shy kid before seventh grade, and it's just been remarkable to see him become an adult," Rachel Miller said.

"Caddying will continue into college," Kaiden Miller said. "It probably will continue sporadically for the rest of my life."

This opportunity is an excellent reward for the most important walk of life: The one we do together.

Carmel City Councilor Adam Aasen will host his first town hall meeting for the city's Southeast District.

The event, which is free and open to the public, will be held at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, July 14 at the Brookshire Golf Clubhouse, 12120 Brookshire Pkwy., just off Gray Road and north of 116th Street.

Aasen will give an update on what's going on in Carmel when it comes to council actions, new road construction, crime numbers, upcoming events and developments with the parks department. In addition to his remarks, he will have a detailed handout for community members in attendance.

"Town hall settings like these are a great way to connect with neighbors and answer any questions they might have about the city," Aasen said. "Not only do I provide information but it's just as important that I listen. I want to hear about any concerns and continuously learn more about which issues matter to the people of southeast Carmel. I'm always available via email, but it's nice to connect with residents face-to-face."

Carmel Mayor Jim Brainerd, Carmel Police Chief Jim Barlow, and representatives from the Carmel Street Department will all be in attendance to give a presentation and answer questions.

Cookies and lemonade will be provided, and a snack bar is available at the Brookshire Golf Clubhouse.

The event will be recorded and video will be available at Facebook.com/AdamForCarmel. Any slides or handouts will also be posted there as well.

City Councilor Adam Aasen (R-SE District) represents southeast Carmel, which is east of Keystone Parkway and north of 96th Street. The district borders the north along Main Street from Keystone to Gray Road and along 126th Street from Gray to the eastern city limits.

Noblesville's downtown Darlington Bed Race set to kick off Summer 2022

The REPORTER

Noblesville's annual event that is the sought after "kickoff to summer on the square" was unfortunately postponed twice in 2020 due to the pandemic. Uncertainty in early 2021 also postponed the planning process of the event that hosts more than 1,000 onlookers on the downtown square.

However, a decision has been made to host the Darlington Bed Race bigger and better than ever to kick off Summer 2022.

Now what? Check direct flights available. Remember those available seats on a direct flight? They disappeared. I searched on my phone for the "best" one-stop, with a layover. Houston? Baltimore? Seriously? This two-hour tour was becoming more like a binge-watch of a really bad reality TV show. Five hours. Seven hours. Middle of the night arrivals. Ugh and double ugh. Finally booked a flight that took us to Ft. Lauderdale. We got there in less than an hour. Yes! Flight delayed to Indy. Of course it was. You realize when you get to an airport you must wear a mask. Mask went on at noon on Wednesday.

We had dinner at Starbucks. Not a lot of choices in a small airport. I might suggest the pre-packaged protein pack for future reference. We had the sweetest all-female crew. Yes, even our pilot was female. They made it fun. They welcomed us to the Love Plane. The flight attendant said, "Fasten your seatbelts, this Boeing is going!" Oh, and about Elsa? At 7:30 on Tuesday night she was a NO SHOW. She stood us up. Even her "scheduled" arrival between 9:00 p.m. and 3:00 a.m. was more of a tiptoe in and sprinkle a bit rather than Category 1-force winds with flooding. We arrived in Indy about 9:30 on Wednesday night and guess what welcomed us. A monsoon. Seriously, I can't make up this stuff. Oh yes, our masks were removed a little before 10:00. Thank you, Elsa – at least you wrote my column.

she has enjoyed far more than she expected to.

"When we started this journey together for this show we collaborated on everything we did," Lutz said. "She [Ruddell] called me and said she was doing a children's themed play." Lutz laughed as she told The Reporter, "I told her, 'You're kidding. You don't want me involved. I'm an old woman. I don't do well with children.'"

Now, days away from opening night, Lutz says, "My kids are ready. These kids are SO good. We have 16 kids from ages 8 to 18. They have developed little characters and they have really just blossomed in this show."

Lutz, at 68 years old, admits she was a bit intimidated by the prospect of co-directing a youth play.

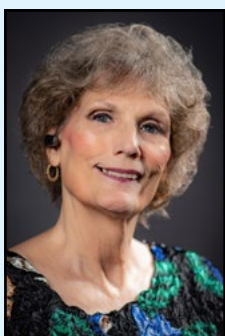

"I was more fearful of them I believe than they were of me because I'm not around children," Lutz said. "I have cats! My boys are 41 and 32. I have not been around children in a long time. But they really embraced me and we have a little family going on. I really enjoy it."

Co-directing her first youth production was only one of the challenges Meet Me in St. Louis brought to Lutz.

After two weeks of rehearsals, Lutz's friend and co-director Elizabeth Ruddell took a week off to attend her daughter's wedding in Nantucket. During what was supposed to be a brief time alone at the helm, Lutz began to deeply enjoy working with the young actors from MSP. Then, just after her return from the wedding, Ruddell fell ill, was admitted to the hospital and was eventually placed on a respirator for a non-COVID related illness. Ruddell was told by her doctor that she would not be able to return to work on the play after her recovery.

Lutz ("Nikki McLaine") in 1974

Richelle Lutz today

From nursing to nightclubs to Westfield Playhouse

Richelle Lutz, currently at the helm for the MSP staging of Meet Me in St. Louis, started her entertainment career in 1971 as a nightclub entertainer working under the stage name Nikki McLaine.

"I was a nightclub entertainer for eight years," Lutz said. "I went to college and graduated with my Associate's Degree in nursing in 1974. I was a singer and I had a chance to go sing with a band. I thought, 'You know what? I'm going to live my life before I start having to work my life.'"

After singing with a band in Chicago for a year, Lutz struck out on her own as a solo act.

"I got an agent and I got a Ramada Inn circuit," Lutz told The Reporter. "There are no Ramada Inns anymore, so you know this was years ago! I had my own show. I did singing and I did comedy. My stage name was Nikki McLaine and I traveled all over the United States."

Lutz was kind enough to share both her current headshot and one as Nikki McLaine from 1971.

"I tell people 'I was beautiful and I've got the pictures to prove it,'" Lutz told The Reporter as she laughed. "I was making $1,500 a week back in the '70s. They gave me my rooms at the Ramada so I never had to pay for any place to live or for anything to eat."

$1,500 in 1971 had the same purchasing power as just under $10,000 today.

Shortly thereafter, the stage manager for this play had a death in the family and had to leave production as well.

This left Lutz fully in charge of getting this play to the stage on time.

"We didn't even have use of the stage at the theater yet," Lutz said. "We were still rehearsing upstairs because there were so many other things going on at the theater."

Lutz said the entire MSP community came together to help her and this play succeed. She specifically noted the assistance of Producer Julie Wallyn, Property Manager Beth Montag and MSP Board Member Bill Miller as being exceptionally helpful.

Since rehearsals only started at the end of May, this reporter considers bringing the show to stage after such difficulties to be an impressive feat.

Celebrating six years of ‘Meating the Need’ in Hamilton County

The REPORTER

Meating the Need, a joint project between Hamilton County 4-H Beef, Dairy, and Swine Projects and Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank, will provide over 4,000 pounds of local beef and pork to friends and families in need.

In its history, the program has already provided over 17,785 pounds of meat for Hamilton County food pantries and meals programs.

On Tuesday, July 20 at the 4-H Livestock Auction, the Food Bank will purchase – with help from donors all across the county – nine beef and dairy cattle and eight hogs from 16 local 4-H members.

Two of these 4-H members, Jenna Peterson and Andrew Holloway, are 10-year 4-H’ers and have participated in the program multiple years. Meating the Need donations go towards the sale of the animals and to the 4-H members as they pursue their 4-H, education, and life goals.

Hoosiers Feeding the Hungry will again donate all of the meat processing costs.

Please consider a monetary donation towards Meating the Need 2021. This program helps to not only provide good healthy local protein for the coun-

Hamilton County Emergency Rental Assistance Program helps hundreds of local residents

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Township Association (HCTA) announced Thursday that since the launch of the Hamilton County Emergency Rental Assistance Program (HC ERAP) on March 15, a total of $2.4 million in rental/utility assistance to Hamilton County residents has been awarded.

Earlier this year, Hamilton County was given a $10 million Emergency Rental Assistance grant from the U.S. Department of Treasury for COVID-19 assistance. Specifically, this funding will assist renter households unable to pay rent and/or utilities due to loss of income from the COVID-19 pandemic.

“Unfortunately, the program had to close for approximately two weeks in June so that we could replenish funds and prepare for the next round of funding,” said Danielle Carey Tolan, President of the Hamilton County Township

Association, who also serves as the Washington Township Trustee. “We are happy to report that we are now open and don’t anticipate needing to close the program in the future. We’ll be able to help local renters and landlords until we have spent the entire grant. We especially want to help households who are at risk of homelessness, have been unemployed for 90 days or more, or who make less than 50 percent of our area median income.”

To be eligible for financial assistance from HC ERAP, you must be a renter in Hamilton County, at least one adult in your household must have experienced a loss of income due to COVID-19, and your household income must be at or below 80 percent of the area’s median income. The application has a short pre-qualification section to confirm eligibility before you fill out the full application.

The online application, available in ten languages, can be found at HCTAIndiana.com. A call center has been established for assistance; that number is (317) 618-3125 and is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The website also provides a list of local partners throughout the county available to help residents with the application process. You can visit your local library or a partner site if you need internet access. Paper applications are also available at partner sites.

“Many of our neighbors and friends here in Hamilton County have financially struggled over the course of the pandemic,” said County Commissioner Christine Altman. “This funding helps fill in the gaps for renters and landlords who are struggling to pay their rent and utility bills. We will continue to do everything in our power to help residents weather this storm.”

Background

The Hamilton County Emergency Rental Assistance Program is included in the most recent stimulus package from the U.S. Department of Treasury. Six Indiana counties, including Hamilton County, were allocated funds in terms of grant dollars for COVID-19 relief assistance for rent and utilities. Specifically, Hamilton County received $10,120,511.40. These funds will be administered through Dec. 31, 2021, or until all funds have been distributed. For more information, visit HCTAIndiana.com.

Diamond Grinding

Beginning the week of July 12, DPW and its contractor will be diamond grinding both northbound and southbound lanes of Allisonville Road between 116th Street and Orchard Boulevard. The work will require rolling single lane restrictions and reduced lane width. The work will take place between 4:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Strip Patching

Beginning the week of July 12, DPW will be strip patching westbound 131st Street east of Promise Road, westbound 106th Street between Allisonville Road and Eller Road, Gatwick View Drive and Belle Plaine Boulevard. Lane restrictions and flaggers will be in place.

Major changes coming to Range Line Road

The REPORTER

Major changes are coming to Range Line Road, between City Center Drive and Elm Street, as the City of Carmel continues to transform this corridor into one that is more walkable and bicycle friendly. Similar to changes made to the south of City Center Drive, the city will reduce this five-lane stretch of roadway into just two lanes, one in each direction, with a landscaped median and a protected bicycle and pedestrian path, while also adding the City's 140th roundabout at Walnut Street and providing a new east-west connection to Monon

Boulevard and the Mid-town area. On or after Monday, July 12, Range Line Road will be closed to thru traffic from City Center Drive to Elm Street for the reconstruction project that is expected to last 60 days. Access to businesses along Range Line Road from Midas north will be maintained from the north throughout the project. The detour route for bypassing the area is 3rd Avenue SW. The project includes the construction of a new section of roadway – Walnut Street – which will connect at the new Range Line Road roundabout and extend to the west toward Monon Boulevard. In order to make that happen, the northeast block of buildings at Monon Square will be removed. It's important to note that the remaining businesses in Monon Square will continue to be open during this project. Access will be maintained from the south by Range Line Road and from the north by Veterans Way via Elm. Utility work on Veterans Way Meanwhile, a separate project involving the burial of Duke transmission lines and water main upgrades along Veterans Way from Elm Street to Main Street will get underway on or after Thursday, July 15. This first phase of a four-part project will be focused primarily near the Cat Theater and will involve a partial closure of Veterans Way. During all phases of work, access to properties and businesses will be maintained in the region. Most of this work will be completed under a partial road closure. Additional phases of this project will begin in late September with an anticipated completion date of May 2022. For continued updates, click the button below or visit CarmelLink.com.

New vaccine clinic opens at Sheridan High School July 13

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Health Department will open a new vaccine clinic at Sheridan High School on Tuesday, July 13. The new clinic is designed to help boost the number of fully-vaccinated residents in northern Hamilton County. "When we break our vaccination numbers down by zip code, we see considerably fewer people getting vaccinated in the northern, more rural area of our county," said Chris Walker, emergency preparedness coordinator for the Hamilton County Health Department. "We hope the convenience of having a clinic closer to those residents, open during evening and weekend hours, will encourage more families to get vaccinated."

code (Atlanta), 45 percent of the residents in the 46069 zip code (Sheridan), and 46 percent of residents in the 46030 zip code (Arcadia). "The numbers shouldn't surprise us," Walker added. "There are 51 vaccination sites in Hamilton County, but only two north of State Road 32. We're hoping this pop-up clinic will help alleviate that." There is no registration for this clinic. Walk-ins are welcome and encouraged. The Pfizer vaccine will be administered, which requires two doses. The clinic will be open during the following dates and times. Second doses will be scheduled at Sheridan High School the weeks of Aug. 3 and Aug. 10.

Sen. Young introduces bills to boost civic engagement, support Hoosier communities

The REPORTER

U.S. Senator Todd Young (R-Ind.), along with Senator Jack Reed (D-R.I.), recently announced the introduction of the Volunteer Innovation Act and the Unity through Service Act, which seeks to unite the nation by supporting volunteerism and service opportunities. The bipartisan bills would modernize AmeriCorps' national service programs and allow them to adapt to changing times. Over 24 million Americans actively serve through the military, national, or public service opportunities. However, over the past two decades, rates of volunteerism have declined. The national volunteer rate has not surpassed 28.8 percent since 2005 and dropped to a low of 24.9 percent in 2015. "Civic engagement and giving back to one's community are woven into the fabric of the American spirit," Sen. Young said. "Service brings forth positive change and promotes unity across the nation. These bipartisan bills will help modernize our federal programs, establish new online platforms to help people find service opportunities, and provide more opportunities for volunteers to impact their communities, all while wisely using taxpayer dollars." "The combined impact of the Unity through Service Act and Volunteer Innovation Act would be tremendous," said Marc McAleavey, Executive Director of Serve Indiana. "They would unite Americans together as leaders, neighbors, and citizens, as well as further amplify the deep assets in the corporate and social sectors to bring out the best in each other and in our communities." About the Volunteer Innovation Act The Volunteer Innovation Act establishes a pay-for-results program within AmeriCorps. This will allow community-based entities to access reliable volunteer pathways to achieve measurable success. Community-based entities can partner with a B Corporation providing new opportunities for capital influx to communities in need. Specifically, the bill does the following:

- Create an open format for community-based entities to submit an application demonstrating how to achieve measurable, clearly defined outcomes that result in federal savings and social benefits.
- Require the Chief Executive Officer for AmeriCorps to select between 4 and 6 projects reflecting the geographic diversity of the nation.
- Achieve results by requiring the selected participant to meet outcomes in order to receive payment.
- Ensure taxpayer dollars are spent wisely through a report to Congress and AmeriCorps. Click here to see the full text of the bill. About the Unity through Service Act The Unity through Service Act would establish a Council to advise and coordinate action on policies and initiatives designed to foster an increased sense of service, promote and expand opportunities for service, develop and oversee cross-service initiatives, and cultivate pathways for Americans to develop critical skills to address national needs. The legislation also promotes cross-service marketing, recruitment, and retention through joint advertising campaigns, shared market research, and cross-service referrals. Critically, the Unity through Service Act would create a service platform to enable individuals to learn about the full range of available service opportunities and match them with programs that fit their interests, qualifications, and goals.

Major transformations coming to Benjamin Harrison Presidential Site

Submitted

The Benjamin Harrison Presidential Site has announced a $6 Million Old Glory, New Vision capital campaign that will significantly enhance its two-plus acres of museum grounds and make renovations to the National Historic Landmark home of the 23rd president of the United States.

Old Glory, New Vision will help transform the museum into a gathering place in the heart of Indy’s Old Northside, complete with expansive greenspace. This welcoming space will host almost 18,000 students – and a total of 30,000 visitors – each year at more than 30 special events, and bring visitors and the community together for the naturalization of new citizens, to vote in local and national elections, and for civil civic discourse.

The cornerstone of the Old Glory, New Vision initiative is a new public commons that will give the Presidential Site the prominence the home of America’s Hoosier president has long deserved. As one of Tripadvisor’s top 5 "Things to Do" in Indianapolis, the Benjamin Harrison Presidential Site is poised

The Johnson-Floyd Family Presidential Commons will serve as the entry way into Citizenship Plaza at the Benjamin Harrison Presidential Site.

Historic Landmark residence, exciting enhancements to the first, second and third floors will make the museum even more engaging for students, visitors and scholars.

“Benjamin Harrison once said, ‘Great lives don’t go out, they go on.’ But it takes engaged citizens to keep the torch of good citizenship burning – and ready to hand off to the next generation,” said Charlie Hyde, President and CEO of the Benjamin Harrison Presidential Site. “We are setting the stage for a stunning transformation of the Benjamin Harrison Presidential Site – one that will increase our visibility and create a more civically engaged community by improving livability and offering new outdoor educational opportunities and events accessible to everyone.”

The Old Glory, New Vision capital campaign’s successful launch was made possible largely in part due to grant awards from The Arthur Jordan Foundation and Lilly Endowment Inc., which have each supported the project with $1.5 million gifts. In addition, the Benjamin Harrison Presidential Site, a 501(c)(3) organization, has raised over $5.5 million towards its $6 million goal with gifts from R.B. Annis Educational Foundation, Allen Whitehill Clowes Charitable Foundation, Inc., The Dorsey Foundation, and many individuals making lead gifts. The Presidential Site has also received $75,000 in matching gift commitments it is seeking to unlock through the support of new donors. Any gift between $50 and $5,000 will be eligible for up to a one-to-one match.

What agency was the precursor to the Indiana State Police?

The REPORTER

This week in Indiana's history ...

1812 – Little Turtle, leader of the Miami People, died in Fort Wayne near the Eel River. One of the most important Native American leaders of his time, he led the Indian Confederacy against soldiers who were taking over the Northwest Territory in the late 18th Century. After he signed the Treaty of Greenville in 1795, he became an advocate for peace.

1837 – The United States Post Office made a contract with the Great Western Express Company to deliver mail to western cities. Coming by express coach along the National Road, letters could be brought from Washington, D.C., to Indianapolis in 65 hours. Normal delivery took six days. To prepare for the quick transfer of mail, the driver of the coach would blast a bugle as he approached the inn or stopping place.

1911 – The Indianapolis Board of School Commissioners voted to accept a gift of land from Poet James Whitcomb Riley. The property on St. Clair Street between Meridian and Pennsylvania Streets brought into focus long-hoped-for plans for a new city library. The donation, which included three adjacent lots, was valued at $75,000 (nearly $2.5 million in today's dollars.) The library opened in 1917.

1921 – The Indiana Legislature created the Indiana Motor Vehicle Police Department. It was the first law enforcement agency to have statewide authority to enforce traffic laws. The division was also charged with investigating the growing problem of car thefts. The first force was made up of 16 officers. In 1933, the agency was reorganized as the Indiana State Police.

1961 – Margaret Truman starred in the play The

Time of the Cuckoo on stage at the Avondale Summer Theater in Indianapolis. The daughter of President Harry S. Truman received kind reviews from local critic Charles Staff, who wrote that "the role of an American spinster and her ill-fated fling fit Miss Truman's talent admirably." After the show, Governor Matthew Welsh and his wife Virginia hosted a reception for the actress at the Governor's Mansion.

2005 – President George W. Bush was the featured speaker at the Indiana Black Expo in Indianapolis. Addressing a crowd of 3,000 at the RCA Dome, the President said, "I see an America where every citizen owns a stake in the future of our country." He was accompanied on Air Force One by Indiana Congresswoman Julia Carson.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Now if there is no resurrection, what will those do who are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why are people baptized for them? And as for us, why do we endanger ourselves every hour? I face death every day—yes, just as surely as I boast about you in Christ Jesus our Lord. If I fought wild beasts in Ephesus with no more than human hopes, what have I gained? If the dead are not raised, "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."

Do not be misled: "Bad company corrupts good character." Come back to your senses as you ought, and stop sinning; for there are some who are ignorant of God—I say this to your shame.

AUDL at Grand Park . . .

AlleyCats fall to Minnesota, begin long road trip next week

By RICHIE HALL

WESTFIELD - The second half of the AUDL season began for the Indianapolis AlleyCats Saturday night, and the team is hoping for a turnaround.

The AlleyCats hosted the Minnesota Wind Chill at the Grand Park Events Center. While there were some solid moments for Indianapolis during the game, the inexperience still showed at times from the young 'Cats, and they fell to Minnesota 25-18.

Indianapolis coach Will Drumright called it "feast or famine" - he said the team hasn't "been able to find that middle ground" of being able to play consistently one way or the other.

"We're allowing mistakes to build up early in the game and we're having to find a way to claw ourselves out of it," said Drumright.

The Wind Chill scored the game's first goal 50 seconds in. The AlleyCats answered right at the 10-minute mark, with Lucas Coniaris throwing to Travis Carpenter, a 14-yard pass for the tying goal.

But that would be as close as the 'Cats would get. Minnesota quickly scored back-to-back goals and never trailed again. The Wind Chill led 7-5 after the first quarter and 12-9 at halftime.

There were some highlight plays from Indianapolis. The first quarter ended with Jacob Fella (one of the tallest players on the AlleyCats team at 6'4") making a one-handed grab off a 75-yard pass from Levi Jacobs for a goal. Indianapolis then emerged victorious in the first sequence of the second quarter when, after 2 minutes and 49 seconds of back-and-forth, Carter Rae threw a 39-yard pass to Nick Hutton.

That was the AlleyCats' first back-to-back scoring of the night, and it got them within 7-6. Minnesota scored again for an 8-7 lead, but the 'Cats cut it again:

Chris Walsh's block set up a 19-yard score, with Cameron Brock catching the goal pass from Carpenter.

This was Brock's second game since coming out of retirement last week. Brock intended to play in the 2020 season, but it was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Brock announced his retirement last year during Labor Day weekend.

Brock and his wife were planning on being foster parents this summer, but that changed when they found out she was pregnant.

"We've been going through training, and when we found out she was pregnant and that we were going to be having another baby soon, we decided to put the foster care stuff on hold until the next baby's here and gets a little older," said Brock.

Meanwhile, Brock had been staying in shape and thinking about returning to ultimate disc play. Many of his former teammates had been reaching out to him about potentially coming back.

"They kept asking like, 'Hey, you want to?'" said Brock. "They were kind of joking and kind of not joking."

After discussing it with the coach and the team, Brock came back to the AlleyCats. As one of the veteran players on the team, he said he has been communicating with the younger players.

"I don't know if I'd say I have a leadership role, necessarily, but I definitely am trying to be talking to the younger guys and the new guys as much as possible just to make sure that they're feeling good about what's going on, answer any questions, try to build them up and build some confidence in them," said Brock.

The AlleyCats and the Wind Chill continued to trade goals in the third quarter. When Minnesota scored back-to-back goals late in the period, Indianapolis was able to respond with consecutive scores, with the first goal a diving catch by Carpenter off a 72-yard toss by Rick Gross. On the next sequence, Carpenter sent a 24-yard goal pass to Conner Henderson, keeping the 'Cats within 18-15.

The Wind Chill scored at the last second, though, giving them a 19-15 lead at the end of three. A pass from Henderson to Kyle Romard kept Indianapolis within 20-17, but Minnesota ran away with the game after that, scoring four straight goals to clinch the contest.

Henderson, Carpenter and Brock all finished the game with three goals, while Levi Jacobs scored two. Gross had four assists, followed by Jacobs and Carpenter with three each and Walsh and Henderson with two each.

The AlleyCats dropped to 2-5 and will be away from Grand Park for the next month, playing their next four games on the road. Indianapolis plays at Madison on Saturday night, then has a quick trip to Chicago the next day (July 18) for an afternoon game with the Union.

All of those road games will be outdoors, which Drumright said will "change up the game a little bit."

"With the team, we're going to change the metrics of how we view success of what we need to be doing on the field," said Drumright. "Very simple Xs and Os are what's going to be what we're going to focus on."

"I think no matter what happens this year, we need to keep trying to build positive momentum, so that no matter what happens this year, we can still take that positive momentum into next year," said Brock. He used the example of the Phoenix Suns, who after a bad season last year, won their last eight games and used that as momentum for this season - and they are presently playing in the NBA Finals.

"They talk about how that was a catalyst for this season, and I think that's got to be the same with us," said Brock.

Fishers native set to be picked in first round of MLB draft

By CHARLIE CLIFFORD
WISH-TV

This coming Sunday, eyes will be on Denver, Colorado, as some of the world's most talented prospects look to be selected in this year's MLB draft.

Sam Bachman could be the highest drafted player with Indiana ties since former Hoosier Kyle Schwarber went No. 4 overall in 2014.

The former Hamilton Southeastern Royal is coming off a strong junior season at the University of Miami (Ohio) where he recorded a 1.91 ERA and 93 strikeouts in 59.2 innings pitched.

Bachman's work ethic only grew despite not being highly recruited out of high school.

"Honestly, I was just a good high school player," Bachman said. "I got some good innings, some good outings and got some wins and stuff, but I was never the top guy. I was never the first starter, or the guy that people were throwing in the game first so, I was always watching from afar."

While Bachman is ready for the next step, he is still anxiously awaiting draft night.

"I'm sure it's going to be pretty emotional, but it's a lifelong dream," said Bachman.

"This is the MLB draft, it's the vehicle to get me into where I want to be, in the big league. And so, you think back to those late nights, early mornings, even playing tee-ball with dad at 4 years old.

Hamilton Southeastern graduate Sam Bachman has the potential to be the highest-drafted player with Indiana ties in seven years when the MLB draft begins on Sunday. Bachman is coming off a strong junior season at the University of Miami (Ohio), where he recorded a 1.91 ERA and 93 strikeouts.

And so, with all that stuff is kind of going in my head and then we're here, so everything's kind of crazy."

Although Bachman has made it to the top of some draft boards, his goals do not stop there.

"I want to be the best pitcher in the Midwest, in the country, in this draft, and eventually I want to be the best in the major leagues."

The 2021 MLB Draft will take place July 11-13.

Enchanted Forest Swim Meet Day 2 results

Day 2 of the Noblesville Swim Club's Enchanted Forest meet saw the county swim clubs sharing the wealth.

All five local clubs had an event winner at the meet, which is taking place at the Forest Park Aquatic Center. That included double wins for some Fishers Area Swimming Tigers competitors.
