Hamilton County Health Department encourages mask wearing at school

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Health Department is urging residents to follow the State Department of Health's recommendation that all Hoosiers over the age of two wear masks in public indoor spaces, including school buildings. The recommendation follows the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's announcement earlier this week.

"We have shared this guidance with the school districts in Hamilton County and are encouraging them to modify their operational plans for a safe return to in-person learning," said Jason LeMaster, the health department administrator. "Local school boards are responsible for implementing their own restrictions to address the impact and spread of COVID-19 in their buildings, facilities, and grounds, except as required by federal or state authority.'

At this time, there are no additional local orders beyond what the State Health Department has recommended. Below are the latest recommendations:

Unvaccinated staff and students:

- Masks recommended indoors (except when eating)
- Keep social distance of at least three feet if all (unvaccinated) individuals are
- Keep social distance of at least six feet in all other areas of the school or if un-

Indy Shorts International Film Festival announces audience winners

The REPORTER

The 2021 Indy Shorts International Film Festival, presented by Heartland Film (Indy Shorts), successfully concluded its six-day run on Sunday, July 25. The festival showed growth across many areas, including record numbers in attendance and nearly double the number of films programmed from previous years.

Indy Shorts guests were treated to a Short Escape at indoor theater screenings, outdoor picnic-style screenings, and virtual on-demand screenings. With sold-out screenings, continuous festival streaming from around the world, and more than 160 filmmakers participating virtually and in-person, Indy Shorts continued to grow in spite of the ongoing pandemic.

"Refreshing and rejuvenating! Indy Shorts was a breath of fresh air following the isolation of last year," said Heartland Film President Craig Prater. "From lounging in gardens on picnic blankets to reclining in theaters with cocktails, our community and filmmakers were truly able to escape together into the world of short films."

This year's festival received 3,300 short film submissions which were narrowed down to 201 shorts that included 23 World Premiere and 18 U.S. Premieres from 42 countries. On Friday, the fourth annual Indy Shorts presented Academy Award-Qualifi- Knight.

Why summer Colts trips to Texas may help make up for lost time for QB Wentz at camp

By CHARLIE CLIFFORD WISH-TV

Friday brought the latest round of bad luck at Colts training camp in Westfield.

Thursday, the team on Friday awaited the details on quarterback Carson Wentz's foot injury suffered late in practice Thurs-

For now, the new franchise quarterback is out indefinitely. Second-year quarterback Jacob Eason took the first team reps on Friday.

So, what can save the Colts for the time being?

Certainly a backup quarterback with NFL game experience to work alongside Eason is a must.

Did Wentz inadvertently help himself already this summer?

Without much of any playing up pub-Coming off a near-perfect showing licly on social media, Wentz organized two separate trips for his new Colts playmakers.

> The home base for "Colts South" was set with veterans coming for one threeday period and rookies visiting for a separate three-day stay. "We went out to Houston with Car> son, out there for three days throwing with him," wide receiver Parris Campbell said. "Carson is a great guy man."

> The morning workouts allowed the squad to get acclimated before even taking the field together at Grand Park for training camp — and it was all sparked by Wentz.

'Carson kind of got us all there, organized everything," wide receiver Desmond Patmon said. "He's kind of the mastermind behind all of that.'

The trips didn't just include workouts, though. Wentz chalked up a full itinerary featuring trips to the golf course, Topgolf and even to his house to introduce the guys to his two dogs.

"Everyone knows he is talented on the Colts General Manager Chris Ballard said it was a work period but also a bonding period for them, and that became especially clear when it came to their golf game. Patmon said Wentz beat him on their first outing to the course, but he got revenge the second time they golfed.

"I think I have gotten to know him pretty well," running back Nyheim Hines said. "I have seen how he acts after he has a bad golf game because we both had a terrible golf day together."

As the team waits on the foot injufield. We know he has a big arm. But, he ry recovery timeline, know this: Wentz is just a great guy. He is a great guy to working overtime this summer may help be around, he is a great leader," Campbell lessen the burden of his absence this sum-
