Carmel Clay Schools issues update on ‘no-bus zones’

The REPORTER

Carmel Clay Schools (CCS) has announced that families who reside in newly created no-bus zones have all been notified.

According to CCS, the zones were created to be approximately a one-mile radius around the school, with consideration given to major streets and intersections. If you are a parent of a CCS student and have not received further notice of being in a no-bus zone, you can now check PowerSchool for bus stop information.

Working closely with the Carmel Police Department (CPD), each school has identified a designated crosswalk for students to use when arriving at or leaving school. Most preferred crossing locations will be staffed by school personnel. Some schools have identified secondary locations that may be used, but will not be currently staffed. School staff encourages everyone to take a moment and review all the crosswalks in your area to ensure students are as safe as possible during arrivals and dismissals. Families will be notified if their specific school updates its crosswalk or safety procedures.

Bus schedules and stops are now available on PowerSchool. All questions and concerns must be submitted through the Transportation Service Form. Emails and calls will not be given priority.

The district issued a statement saying, "We ask that everyone be patient with bus transportation and the implementation of ‘No-Bus Zones.’ Bus updates and short delays can be found on Twitter @myCCSbus and parents will be notified via School Messenger for delays of more than 15 minutes. School staff, along with CPD, will be stationed across the district to ensure our students’ safety. Please be extra aware while driving in and around school zones."

Plan OK'd for uses of $65M in COVID relief $1 million Community Block Grant disbursed

By FRED SWIFT
ReadTheReporter.com

A plan for the distribution of Hamilton County's $65 million share of American Rescue Plan Act funds was adopted Monday by County Commissioners.

The federally mandated plan lists 73 possible uses for the COVID relief money ranging from COVID vaccination expenses to stormwater control projects.

The idea is to compensate government agencies, small business and community service organizations for lost revenue experienced during last year's national pandemic. The 12-page local plan is available for inspection at the County Auditor's office. And, applications from eligible agencies can soon be made online at the county's website, hamiltoncounty.in.gov.

Actually, the county has already distributed about $3.5 million in bonus pay to essential employees who worked during the pandemic. But, the bulk of the money will be allocated during the next two years.

In a meeting that largely concerned financial distributions, commissioners also approved a Noblesville Housing Authority plan to distribute more than $1 million in Community Block Grant funds to local municipalities and organizations. For Noblesville, Westfield, Fishers, Carmel and county government, most of the $1,092,260 goes for infrastructure projects.

Prevail and Family Promise of Hamilton County received $58,500 and $10,000, respectively, for assistance to the homeless.

Smooth budget hearings lead to good outcomes for county's taxpayers

Thank you to the Hamilton County Reporter again. It is wonderful to participate in local news reporting, and as a reader of this article, I know that you share the same passion for our local community. I'm honored to be provided this opportunity to share my comments with regards to the County Council.

I trust everyone has had a wonderful summer. It is nice to have spent time with family and friends and even better to enjoy it without masks. August is budget season and your County Council deliberated over department budget requests, non-profit funding, and county project planning for two days. The goal of every Councilor is to keep the tax rate low and maintain or improve the quality services that our citizens and businesses demand.

The last 18 months have been hard on everyone, but it has not been without some positives. Difficult times require us to rethink things which can be a catalyst to growth. As I began to look over the notes from the budget hearings and the August Council meeting, I happened upon some information from the Health Department. I am awed by the county's reaction to the coronavirus. The hard work and determination of so many have helped Hamilton County lead the state in our vaccination rate of 76 percent for eligible persons 12 and older. It is this effort that is going to help our businesses cope and stay open should the Delta variant continue to spread. No one wants to relive 2020, so thank you for your efforts to keep our numbers lower than any other county in the Indianapolis metro area.

Budget hearings are two days of meetings that are the culmination of months of work by our county departments. It would be a mistake to not state how thorough and supportive the Auditor, her staff and the rest of the departments have been during our deliberations. The hearings went very smoothly, but I've had several requests to explain the process.

The budget hearings are in effect a work session with the various departments. It is advertised like any other public meeting but is not the actual public budget hearing.

Mayor Cook: We need patience going into this new school year

Across the region, the buses are zooming through our city streets. I am so energized to see our kids back in school.

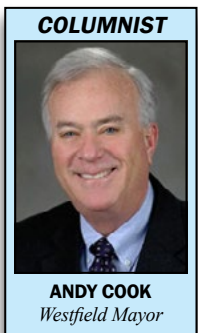

Every year we caution our motorists to watch out for kids, slow down in school zones and just be extra attentive.

I echo those sentiments this year. The most important job we have as a city is to ensure the safety of our residents.

In Westfield, our fire and police departments are among the top in the nation and we are one of the safest cities in the state. To achieve these heights, it takes a partnership. Our police officers and firefighters cannot do it alone. We work with our schools, businesses and families. Together we make Westfield safe.

That is my first "ask" heading into the school year.

My second "ask" this year is

COLUMNIST

ANDY COOK
Westfield Mayor

The safety of our children is paramount. Please remember this as schools start back.

for patience.

The 2021-22 school year will certainly be different from last year, which was vastly different from the year before. Westfield has a new superintendent, Dr. Paul Kaiser. We have met several times and I know he has a heart for kids and education. He, along with his partner, Assistant Superintendent Dr. John Atha, realize the challenges we face this year. Their goal is for kids to be in school. That is what we all want but, as we all know, COVID continues to wreak havoc.

One of the hot button issues is masks. Dr. Kaiser has said repeatedly that he will rely on data. My ask of our community is to support the leaders who make these decisions. Nobody wants to wear masks, but if the positivity rates put us in a position that we need to, then let's have the patience to do it. My hope is that it would not be for long.

If the last year-and-a-half have taught us anything, it is that we need to be patient and flexible. This school year, I am going to add "hopeful" to the list. I am hopeful for a safe, fun and as normal year as possible.

Apply now for Noblesville PD's upcoming Citizens Police Academy

The REPORTER

The Noblesville Police Department (NPD) is currently accepting applications for the next Citizens Police Academy classes. The academy is a 12-week course, free of charge, designed to provide community members with an opportunity to become better acquainted with our professional staff and to learn about police procedures.

The academy familiarizes citizens with the operations of the police department. This includes classes on patrol procedures, criminal law, narcotics, search and seizure, tactical operations, investigations, juvenile law, emergency vehicle operations, use of force issues, and a police canine demonstration.

Participants will also have the option to ride with a patrol officer and witness the activities Noblesville police officers encounter on a day-to-day basis.

The objective of the Citizens Police Academy is not to create quasi-cops, but to produce informed citizens. The academy is intended to open lines of communication between the community and the police department. By allowing citizens a firsthand look at the police department and how its operations are handled, citizens take away a better understanding of the role of police officers in the community.

Additionally, citizens bring a wealth of knowledge about their community and particularly, the problems in their neighborhoods. In this way, police officers learn and better understand the concerns of the citizens.

Eligible candidates must:

1. Be at least 16 years of age
2. Have no felony convictions and no misdemeanor convictions within the last three years
3. Pass a background check
4. Reside or be employed in Noblesville

The fall 2021 session will begin on Sept. 8 and will conclude on Nov. 23 with a graduation ceremony. Classes are held from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. every Wednesday evening.

Applications are available online at cityofnoblesville.org/police or at the Noblesville Police Department. Class size is limited so be sure to apply as soon as possible. For further information, please contact Lieutenant Bruce Barnes at (317) 776-6340 ext. 1243 or bbarnes@noblesville.in.us.

Hamilton County remains on ‘do not feed’ list Indiana DNR says 76 counties can resume feeding birds

The REPORTER

The Indiana Department of Natural Resources (DNR) announced Tuesday that Hoosiers in 76 counties across the state can resume feeding birds but asks that residents of Hamilton County keep their feeders down while the investigation into what is killing songbirds continues.

The DNR recommended a statewide moratorium on bird feeding on June 25 to slow the spread of a still-undetermined illness that is killing birds across the state. Hoosiers answered the call, removing feeders, cleaning birdbaths, and submitting more than 3,400 reports of sick or dead birds. DNR biologists believe there to be more than 500 cases in 72 counties that involve a very specific set of clinical signs (crusty eyes, eye discharge, and/or neurological issues).

Based on the data, it appears that the bird illness is consistently affecting specific areas. There is no imminent threat to people, the population of specific bird species, or to the overall population of birds in Indiana.

The DNR recommends that residents of the following counties continue to refrain from feeding birds: Allen, Carroll, Clark, Floyd, Hamilton, Hancock, Hendricks, Johnson, Lake, Marion, Monroe, Morgan, Porter, St. Joseph, Tippecanoe, and Whitley.

Residents of other counties may again put out their feeders. Seed and suet feeders should be cleaned at least once every two weeks by scrubbing feeders with soap and water, followed by a short soak in a 10 percent bleach solution. Feeders which will happen on Oct. 5 at our regularly scheduled meeting. At that meeting, the public is welcome to participate and provide comments. The adoption of the budget will happen after the public hearing concludes at a special meeting currently scheduled for Oct. 17.

The timing of these various meetings also coincides with revenue information provided by the state and overseen by the Department of Local Government Finance (DLGF). I would recommend that all taxpayers become knowledgeable of the process and understand how your taxes are divided up and spent by your various governmental units.

How will the audit help this? Our audit has a focus on creating efficiencies and possibly better ways to provide services so that the need for more people can be automated or processed differently. We have no doubt that our departments run very lean and efficiently, but we want to give the department leaders the opportunity to challenge their own thoughts and ideas.

We do not want to advocate for a single entity in each department but will turn to the audit to determine how best to support grant writing and administration. We do not want to overwhelm the audit team but it is an opportunity to relieve financial burdens, possibly in a way that is highly efficient or even outsourced.

The budget hearings concluded with some news of an estimated Local Income Tax (LIT) distribution that was far below anticipated levels. In previous articles in The Reporter, this was shared, but I want to alleviate concerns about the impact of this change in our anticipated revenues.

did, and our county opened back up before all of them. We believe that this might be an error and will seek further information. This change can be absorbed without increasing our tax rate, dipping into our Rainy Day Fund, or changing our operational budgets.

As an analogy, our household can still pay all our bills, pay the kids for mowing the lawn, do the bathroom renovation we had budgeted for, but we are not going to put as much into savings as we had hoped. It is Hamilton County's fiscal discipline and strong financial position that allows for this to be achieved.

others can be the very next year. Offsetting budget costs is not a concern and is strongly encouraged for our departments. Unbudgeted projects are an issue when they are very large.

In the 2022 budget, the Sheriff is seeking body cameras for its staff, and we have accounted for that in their budget. He also plans to seek grant dollars that might minimize that expenditure.

After much deliberation, we concluded the introduction of that ordinance and will refine language based on comments shared.

This is a good ordinance that will allow us to continually refine budget plans to reflect current conditions. It is no different than how you manage your household budget and businesses.

HSE grad competing in Tokyo Paralympics

Noah Malone credits life skills success to Bosma after losing sight at age 13

The REPORTER

Noah Malone is a decorated Division I track athlete and Hamilton Southeastern High School graduate who has competed in three international meets and is a member of U.S. Paralympics. He will be in Tokyo this week to make his debut in the 2020 Summer Paralympics.

Malone is a sprinter for Team USA Track & Field, competing in the 100-meter and 400-meter dashes in the T12 classification. His many athletic accomplishments include winning gold at the 2019 World Para Athletics Championships as a member of the 4x100-meter relay and anchoring Indiana State's record-holding 4x100-meter relay team.

Malone is also one of the few legally blind Division I track athletes in the nation. At age 13, he was diagnosed with Leber's Hereditary Optic Neuropathy (LHON), a rare genetic disease that leads to central vision loss. Following his diagnosis, Malone was introduced to Bosma's Center for Visionary Solutions, which he credits with unlocking his potential.

Malone participated in Bosma's Student Training and Employment Program (STEP), which provided him with the necessary training to give him the confidence to navigate life.

"In high school, I learned about a summer internship opportunity with Bosma Enterprises, which offers a program to help blind and visually impaired high school students develop a career path and learn skills," Malone said. "Joining that program was the best decision I made. I gained valuable work experience, received training and learned interview and resume prep skills that help me be successful still today."

"Noah is a testament to what we do best here at Bosma," said Bosma President & CEO Jeffrey Mitman. "We've been able to watch him grow over the past few years, and our team is honored to watch his success. At Bosma, we create opportunities for people who are blind or visually impaired. We hope our clients gain the independence they need to navigate life in a successful way, but we never knew our impact would help Noah compete at the Paralympics."

Malone also has talents off the track. He will be publishing a memoir, Losing Vision, Not Dreams: Reflections on My Teenage Years, about his journey through vision loss and becoming a Paralympian. Malone wrote the book to encourage teenagers and kids like him going through LHON.

"With focus, hard work and a positive mindset, you too can stay the course and finish strong," Malone said.

Hoping for a strong start and finish in Tokyo, Malone arrived Monday in Tokyo for the 2020 Paralympics. Finals for the 100-meter dash is Aug. 29 and the 400-meter dash finals is scheduled for Sept. 1.

Fourth coronavirus vaccine headed to U.S.

Scientists say shot could end pandemic

By DR. MARY GILLIS, D.Ed.
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

A fourth coronavirus vaccine is making its way to the United States. Health experts say the vaccine, Covavax, is the most effective to date showing protection against the original COVID-19 strain, but also against variants of concern.

Researchers from 113 sites across the country assessed 29,000 infected patients. Results of the study showed it was 100 percent effective against the original SARs-CoV-2 and 93 percent against the alpha and delta strains, both of which are on the World Health Organization's list of variants of concern.

But what's so special about Covavax compared to Pfizer, Moderna and Johnson & Johnson?

"What they are doing is producing a protein that is immunogenic, which seems to be a stable part of the coronavirus as the virus mutates," Dr. Christopher Doehring, vice president of medical affairs at Francis-can Health, told WISH-TV News 8. "Their proprietary piece helps [the vaccine] to be delivered into the human body and allows the immune system to recognize it effectively and develop a robust response."

Not only does Covavax offer high protection, Doehring says, but side effects are milder compared to other vaccines. Reported side effects include tenderness at the injection site, headache and slight fatigue. On average, symptoms lasted for three days.

The European Union has sealed a deal with the pharmaceutical company responsible for developing the vaccine, Novavax. They will be purchasing 200 million doses of the vaccine, which is a two-shot protocol.

Novavax is expected to apply for emergency use authorization in the U.S. by the end of the year.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Therefore, since through God's mercy we have this ministry, we do not lose heart. Rather, we have renounced secret and shameful ways; we do not use deception, nor do we distort the word of God. On the contrary, by setting forth the truth plainly we commend ourselves to everyone's conscience in the sight of God. And even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled to those who are perishing. The god of this age has blinded the minds of unbelievers, so that they cannot see the light of the gospel that displays the glory of Christ, who is the image of God. For what we preach is not ourselves, but Jesus Christ as Lord, and ourselves as your servants for Jesus' sake. For God, who said, "Let light shine out of darkness," made his light shine in our hearts to give us the light of the knowledge of God's glory displayed in the face of Christ.

2 Corinthians 4:1-6 (NIV)

Husky Invitational, Fishers-GC dual open tennis season on Saturday

As the fall season begins, The Reporter is taking a look at schedules for each sport, starting today with boys tennis.

Three schools will open their tennis season on Saturday. Hamilton Heights hosts its own Husky Invitational, with play starting at 9 a.m. Frankton, Heritage Christian and Madison-Grant will be among the teams competing. Also on Saturday, Guerin Catholic travels to Fishers for a 10 a.m. dual meet.

Noblesville is the next school to begin tennis action, as the Millers host Harrison on Monday. Defending state champion Carmel will travel to Hamilton Southeastern on Tuesday for the season-opener for both schools. Westfield also is action on Tuesday, starting its season at North Central.

University will begin play on Saturday, Aug. 21 by competing in the Owls Tennis Invitational at Muncie Burris.

Here is a list of schedules for each school. NOTE: Fishers' complete schedule was unavailable at press time and will run in a later edition.

Noblesville's Noah Bushong, shown here at practice advanced to the individual regional round last year, the first Millers player to reach that level in 31 years. Noblesville begins its season Monday by hosting Harrison.

Do you love to meet new people?

Do you have a valid IN Driver's License?

Are you obsessed with roundabouts?

Do you prefer a flexible schedule?

Are you fascinated with taking temperatures?

Do you have a good driving record?

Do you love the smell of disinfectant?
