Mosquito tests positive for West Nile virus in Noblesville

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Health Department Vector Control Program has received confirmation notice from the Indiana State Department of Health (ISDH) that the first mosquito sample of the season has tested positive for West Nile Virus (WNV).

The sample was collected from a trap site located in the near Greenfield Avenue and Summer Road in Noblesville. The detection of WNV activity is evidence that the disease is present in Hamilton County and the public should take proper precautions to stay protected.

For optimum protection the Health Department recommends individuals:

1. Wear long sleeves, pants, socks, and shoes when outdoors.
2. Apply EPA approved insect repellent containing DEET, Picaridin, or Oil of Lemon Eucalyptus to any exposed skin.
3. Keep mosquitoes outside by keeping doors and windows closed or making sure screens are in good repair.
4. Avoid outdoor activities at dusk and dawn, when the mosquitoes that transmit WNV are most active.

In addition, all Hamilton County residents are asked to do the following in order to eliminate mosquito breeding sites around their home:

1. Remove all unneeded containers that hold water (tires, cans, bottles, buckets, jars, drums, and other trash/rubbish).

2. Dump and invert wheel barrows and kiddie/toddler pools when not in use.
3. Change water in bird-baths and pet bowls weekly.
4. Inspect water in flower pots and plant containers weekly.

5. Clean rain gutters.
6. Drain and fill tire ruts, stagnant pools, and puddles.
7. Place tight covers over cisterns, cesspools, septic tanks, tubs, and rain barrels where water is stored.
8. Keep the margins of ponds clear of vegetation and stock ornamental ponds with top – feeding minnows.

In response to finding WNV, the Hamilton County Health Department will increase surveillance and control activities in the sample positive area. Adult mosquito fogging will be conducted to rapidly decrease the number of adult mosquitoes in the sample positive area.

For current information about Hamilton County surveillance and control activities, please visit hamiltoncounty.in.gov/323/Mosquito-Control. This site will be updated with positive WNV mosquito reports and spray schedules. Use the “Notify Me” link to receive future updates.

You are not the King or Queen of Mistakes

I met a colleague last Thursday morning at Noble Coffee and Tea. I hadn't seen this gal in a couple of years due to the pandemic. One of my team members was supposed to meet us.

I enjoyed catching up with my friend, but we soon began to worry. My teammate was 15 minutes late. When this happens, my mind has a funny habit of thinking that someone's stranded in a ditch in the middle of nowhere. I called her and was relieved to hear her voice.

She was instantly embarrassed. She had completely forgotten about the meeting, but reassured me that she would be there in less than 20 minutes. I told her that it was okay and that I'd catch her up on what she missed later.

Do you know what my real thought was at that moment? It was “Thank God! She's human.”

That may sound a little unusual. I'm embarrassed to admit that I used to be rather critical of people in my younger days. I was a bit spoiled and selfish growing up. I even had a college boyfriend tell me that.

But age brings wisdom, especially when you're in the sandwich generation. I pride myself on being organized, especially with my schedule. I'm the Queen of Planning. But over the last 10 years, my responsibilities have grown. I've been working along with taking care of my family and my mother.

Most of the time, I can juggle all of the balls up in the air like a pro. Some days I feel energetic and confidently proclaim in my head “I've got this!” Others ... well, I drop one of those balls ... or two ... or three.

I used to beat myself up regularly over those instances. Then one day, I read a phrase from Jen Sincero, author of numerous self-help books. She wrote, “You are not the Queen of Mistakes.”

I think I read Jen's phrase 10 times that day. I felt something shift within me. Suddenly, I realized that all of my self-criticism over my mistakes was almost ridiculous.

You've heard it before – we all make mistakes. We're human. We have to dust ourselves off, learn from them, and move on.

But we also need to extend grace to recognize that others make mistakes, too. Boy, is this hard. Especially with that guy who cut you off in traffic. Or the lady standing in the middle of the grocery aisle right in front of the item you need. Or the person who was late to your meeting.

However, I'll bet you almost anything that if we think back, we've made the same error or something similar. We can only work to do better and hope that others can forgive us for these blunders.

Since I've adopted my new attitude, I find that I treat myself and other people better. It's a more peaceful way to live knowing that we are not the Kings and Queens of Mistakes and a gentler way to exist in the sandwich generation.

Carmel Arts Council welcomes Walt Thacker to ‘Art in the Garden’

The REPORTER

The Carmel Arts Council (CAC) will welcome artist Walt Thacker to Art in the Garden from 4 to 8 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 14. The artist will demonstrate oil painting in the garden for visitors during the monthly Meet Me on Main event in the Arts & Design District.

Thacker is an oil painter with a talent for taking ordinary landscapes and turning them into masterpieces.

“I've always been a good artist but getting married and starting a family, I had to have a career with a consistent paycheck,” Thacker said. “At this time, my art endeavors went well beyond the back burner for several years. At age 36, I was reaching a different state of mind. Many men go through this, and you contemplate just about everything – your life, your marriage, career. In retrospect, I have a great wife, good kids, work was hard, but going along well. Still, is this all there is?”

Thacker continued, “Something told me to get back into oil painting, and this was a great awakening for me. It filled a lot of the voids I thought I was experiencing. Thirty years later I'm at my best! My artwork is always upbeat and it helps me keep an upbeat outlook. I do eat healthy and exercise, which is keeping me in good shape in my senior years. I'm an avid gardener and make most of the frames for my artwork.”

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Beat the heat, enjoy the art this Saturday in Carmel Arts District

The REPORTER

No doubt about it ... this is the hottest month of the year, but do not despair. Come to the Carmel Arts and Design District this Saturday, Aug. 14, for the "dog days of summer" at Allied Solutions' Meet Me on Main from 5 to 9 p.m.

Come to the public plaza at Main Street and the Monon Greenway (in front of Anthony's Chophouse) for a chance to take part in the completion of a beautiful community chip-in mosaic project that began in July and will be completed in August and ultimately be placed in Carmel for thousands to see in the future.

The mosaic, which is described as a "butterfly mural" by artist Nancy Keating, will be put together piece-by-piece under the direction of Keating – but with your hands as the community comes together to create an authentic art project once again in the District.

Meet Me on Main is the City of Carmel's monthly "second Saturday" event along Main Street and Range Line Road to highlight local galleries, restaurants and design-related businesses in the Arts & Design District. Art galleries and businesses will feature special events to help you experience the wonderful art-related and design-related features in the District. Live music will be playing in the streets, and the traditional prize giveaways are returning that have been on hiatus since the global pandemic.

In addition to the community mosaic project, there will be an opportunity to register to win one of three $100 gift cards by visiting participating merchants and entering your name in a special drawing. Winners will be selected the following week. The gift cards will be from select Arts District businesses. Be sure to visit as many galleries and shops as possible to increase your chance to win.

All Things Carmel

This local gift shop and tourism information spot will be promoting the summer wines from the city's local wineries – Sugar Creek and Peace Water. Stop by for a sample while shopping for unique, Carmel-related gifts. (All Things Carmel, 110 W. Main St., #104)

Art on Main

Art on Main Gallery & Gifts is featuring a final exhibit of Marie Reamer's photography. After 11 years of exhibiting her photography in the District, Marie Reamer is retiring. Her final exhibit is titled "Travel the World thru my Photos:

The community mosaic project began in July and will complete this month. Come to the public plaza at Main Street and the Monon Greenway to participate.

A Photo Estate Sale" and presents her photos from Barcelona; Paris and the south of France; London; Japan; New Zealand; and of course, Indiana and various other states. She will be at the gallery for Meet Me on Main. (Art On Main, 111 W. Main St., #140)

Art Studio of Carmel

Decorate your own 'Hamsa hands' which are common in Middle Eastern and Israeli culture. The hands have an eye on them that "protects" the wearer, a talismanic symbol that people believed to protect them from harm against the evil eye and brings them goodness, abundance, fertility, luck and good health. (The Art Studio, 30 N. Range Line Road)

Carmel Arts Council

This month's Art in the Garden event will feature Walt Thacker, an oil painter who will demonstrate his talents. Also featured will be a children's activity table, where kids will be given a similar rendition of what Walt is painting to do their own creation. (Carmel Arts Council, 40 W. Main St.)

CCC Gallery & Gifts

Enjoy the colors of summer with artist Kelly Jenkins who creates beautiful, vibrant, colorful jewelry in fused glass. Also, Linda Wesolowski paints in acrylic, oils and watercolor, creating gorgeous abstract and colorful detailed paintings. (CCA Gallery, 111 W. Main St., #135)

Indiana Artisan Gallery

This gallery will feature wood-turner Jim Duper who will demonstrate his creative process on an antique, foot-pedaled lathe and the public will be able to try their hands (actually, their feet) at this unique process. In addition, they will have a "Fantastic Frittle" contest where guests can enter to win a gift collection of Frittle, an Indiana confection that is a cross between fudge and brittle, by guessing how many pieces are in a bowl that evening. (Indiana Artisan Gifts & Gallery, 22 N. Range Line Road)

Indiana Design Center

Join Holder Mattress and Rusted Window for refreshments, summer clearance items, and 20 percent off all dog-themed gifts. Bring the whole family. ## Synergize Month of Legacy will honor Carmel's impact

Mayor Brainard to speak at 'Impact Rally'

The REPORTER

Since 2020, Synergize has been building relationships and creating community impact at monthly 4:30 Meetups. But this August, the group will switch things up with a special event. In place of the 4:30 Meetup, the professional group will gather for a one-time Synergize Impact Rally, a special event celebrating Carmel – the city Synergize calls home.

Synergize members and nonmembers can attend the Impact Rally from 6 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 24. The event will take place inside Iron & Ember at the Brookshire Golf Club in Carmel. Like all Synergize events, it's a come-as-you-are function based on building deep relationships instead of selling products.

The Synergize Impact Rally is open to members and nonmembers. Tickets for this one-time Impact Rally are $100. Click here to get yours now.

"Through Synergize, we create a space where people can build professional relationships around asking each other, 'What can we do together? How can our friendship make better businesses that serve a greater purpose?'" explained Synergize founder Arron Stanton.

Part of Synergize's greater purpose is encouraging its members to give back in their lives and businesses with its ROI Initiative. The initiative encourages members to redefine ROI as ripples of impact instead of return on investment.

"By making investments in your friends and your community, even people you don't know, you create ripples of impact that benefit people you'll never see," said Stanton.

A sizable portion of each Synergize membership supports a nonprofit impact at each 4:30 Meetup. Ordinarily, Synergize announces the impact several months prior to each event. But for August's Impact Rally, the cause will remain a surprise. Instead, it will be announced at the event, following a keynote speech from Carmel Mayor Jim Brainard.

In his 25-year tenure, Mayor Brainard's impact on Carmel has led to national and international recognition. This event will give him an opportunity to speak about the ripples of impact his changes have made in the city, in the state, and in the nation as a whole.

"We're honored to have Mayor Brainard come speak about this community, which has been a true home to Synergize," said Stanton. "He's a great leader. The greatest leaders don't build a legacy of what they've accomplished for themselves. They create opportunities that empower others... that's a true legacy."

Bosma's Dining in the Dark raises more than $100,000

Signature fundraiser supports blind, visually-impaired Hoosiers

The REPORTER

Bosma Visionary Opportunities Foundation's 11th annual Dining in the Dark raised more than $100,000 to benefit programs that help Hoosiers navigate blindness. One of Indianapolis' largest philanthropic events, this year's gala took place Aug. 7 at the JW Marriott in Downtown Indianapolis. The event raised much-needed funds for Bosma and its mission.

During the event, guests donned sleep masks as the lights were dimmed for dinner. Ambassadors at each table offered guidance on how to eat a meal without sight. This year's theme was Independence Island, featuring food, drinks, dancing and even a few games. Attendees heard inspiring stories and learned more about Bosma's many programs to help Hoosiers who are blind or visually impaired.

"Dining in the Dark is a critically important event for Bosma because it contributes to our ability to serve hundreds of Hoosiers every year," said CEO Jeffrey Mittman. "The event has become an annual tradition for many in the community, and we were excited to bring it back in-person at the JW Marriott."

Rooted in more than 100 years of history, Bosma is one of Indiana's largest non-profit organizations providing training and employment programs for people who are blind or visually impaired. ## TODAY'S BIBLE READING

It is written: "I believed; therefore I have spoken." Since we have that same spirit of faith, we also believe and therefore speak, because we know that the one who raised the Lord Jesus from the dead will also raise us with Jesus and present us with you to himself. All this is for your benefit, so that the grace that is reaching more and more people may cause thanksgiving to overflow to the glory of God.

Four boys team in Indiana Runner's pre-season Top 10, Carmel girls are No. 1 . . .

Cross country will be strong again

Hamilton County has arguably been the strongest cross-country county in Indiana over the past few years.

This year is no exception. As runners prepare for their first meets, teams across the area have high expectations that their seasons will finish at the state meet, again to be held at the LaVern Gibson Championship Cross Country Course in Terre Haute.

Cross-country experts in Indiana have those same high expectations. Indianarunner.com rated four boys teams in the top 10 of its Pre-season Top 50 rankings. Leading the way is Hamilton Southeastern, which is ranked No. 3 in the pre-season list. The website also has a pre-season All-State Top 25 for individuals, and the Royals' Nolan Satterfield is No. 10 in that list. Three more Southeastern runners – Bennett DuBois, Garrett Hicks and Will Marquardt – received Honorable Mention.

Brebeuf Jesuit is ranked No. 1 for the boys, while defending state champion Columbus North is No. 2. Meanwhile, Carmel is rated No. 4 on the list; the Greyhounds were runners-up last season, their ninth straight year finishing in the top two at state.

Carmel junior Kole Mathison will be the focal point for his team again, and he is No. 2 on the pre-season All-State list. Defending state champion Izaiah Steury of Angola is No. 1. The Greyhounds' Charlie Schuman is No. 16 on the All-State list.

Fishers is No. 7 on the Indiana Runner pre-season team list; the website names seniors Nick Pulos and Alec Foster and junior Tate Meaux as the Tigers' returning runners. Noblesville holds the No. 9 ranking pre-season, with Joel Mumav and Asher Propst receiving Honorable Mention individually.

Westfield is No. 15 as a team, and has a top returner in Kai Connor. The senior is listed at No. 19 on the individual pre-season ratings. Guerin Catholic is also on the team pre-season list, at No. 34; Evan McNeany and Ethan Hines are back for the Golden Eagles.

On the girls side, defending state champion Carmel is Indiana Runner's No. 1 pre-season team. The Greyhounds have three individuals ranked on the website's pre-season All-State list: Jasmine Klopstad is No. 10, Cara Naas is No. 12 and Alivia Romaniuk is No. 15. Jamie Klavon was named Honorable Mention.

Hamilton Southeastern is the No. 6 team on the pre-season list; with Maggie Powers on the Honorable Mention list as an individual. The Royals also return Allie Latta, Grace Newton and Katherine Kesler.

Noblesville is ranked No. 10 by Indiana Runner, on the strength of three sophomore returners (Summer Rempe, Nadia Perez, Kennedy Applegate). Fishers is No. 15, with Elizabeth Barrett, an Honorable Mention runner, coming back.

Guerin Catholic is rated No. 33, with the website rating Bridget Gallagher No. 14 on the individual pre-season list. Westfield is ranked No. 36; junior Robyn Schemel returns for the Shamrocks.

A list of cross country schedules for each school now follows, with information from the respective schools' athletic website. Carmel and Westfield travel to Terre Haute South for the Valley Cross Kickoff on Saturday, with Southeastern
