Noblesville Schools mandates masks for all staff, students, visitors indoors

The REPORTER
On Friday, Noblesville Schools announced that, in an effort to keep schools open and minimize learning disruptions, the district will move to an indoor mask requirement for all staff, students and visitors at all schools effective Monday, Aug. 16.

A statement issued by Noblesville Schools said:

We have loved having our students back in our buildings these past two weeks and are excited for the learning adventures we have ahead. Unfortunately, COVID rates are putting in-person learning, athletics, performing arts, and special events and activities at risk.

Specifically we are seeing:

- Noblesville Schools COVID rates that are already at the peak of what we experienced last winter.
- Student absenteeism rates that are among the highest we have ever seen at any time.
- A significantly more contagious and powerful COVID Delta variant than the COVID we experienced

Noblesville Schools Immunization Clinic

The school district will hold an immunization clinic from 3 to 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 25 at the Noblesville Schools Community Center, 1775 Field Drive, Noblesville. Noblesville Schools will offer the Pfizer COVID vaccine for students and adults age 12 years and older.

To participate in the immunization clinic, please sign up here and complete a consent form either online with code IN65942 or by downloading, signing and bringing a hard copy from the links below. Please also bring your health insurance card, if you have one. We will still provide vaccinations for uninsured students.

last year, spreading and infecting much more rapidly. National data is showing that these infections in children can be more serious than last year's COVID.

• Many students coming to school with symptoms of illness, despite our COVID protocol that anyone with symptoms of illness should stay home.

• COVID coming into our buildings from those who are not vaccinated and spreading to both unvaccinated and vaccinated individuals.

This week Noblesville schools experienced three major outbreaks that required school officials to disrupt learning for hundreds of students by quarantining two teams at Noblesville East Middle School and a classroom at White River. This was in addition to many other individual quarantines throughout the district.

Approved masks include cloth, neck gaiter, disposal or medical grade. Bandanas are not approved for use as a mask and face shields will only be used by select staff and students in specific, approved situations.

The mask requirement is just one level of protection

HSE Superintendent Dr. Yvonne Stokes explains rationale for masking rules

The REPORTER

Hamilton Southeastern Schools Superintendent Dr. Yvonne Stokes released the following statement about the school district's policy on masking.

We have made it through a partial and first full week of the new school year, and I believe I speak for most for when I say – the return of students to our buildings has given us a renewed sense of purpose and appreciation to work alongside you and your family once again.

I also would like to thank you for your understanding and patience as we ramped up operations following a year without being at full capacity. Last year was tough, and we had hoped this year would be as close to pre-COVID times for our students and staff as possible. Unfortunately, we are still living in a pandemic.

As you know, our community and state are experiencing an increase in COVID-positive cases due the highly contagious, circulating Delta variant. Our schools are not immune to this trend. Since classes began, we have tracked 80 positive cases in our student population and more than 500 students have been notified as being a close contact.

Due to the spike in numbers and the updated guidance from healthcare officials, beginning on Monday, August 16, masks will be required for all students and staff, K through 12, when indoors during the school day, regardless of vaccination status.

I know this will not make everyone happy, but it is my goal to protect our students and staff and keep our schools open and running.

This change is reflective of what local and state health departments have messaged to schools.

A benefit of universal masking is that it will allow us to limit the number of students and staff quarantined by contact tracing at 3-feet versus at 6-feet in the classroom-setting only.

Another change we are

making is reducing the length of quarantine for unvaccinated students and staff. The CDC gives options for reduced quarantine which include:

- 10-day quarantine with return to school on day 11, or

- 7-day quarantine with a return to school on day 8, if a negative PCR test was obtained on day 5, 6 or 7 from date of exposure. (Result must be given to school nurse prior to student's return to school.)

In both circumstances, individuals will need to be symptom-free and will also need to maintain distancing and increase personal hygiene for the full 14 days.

Please remember, these changes are what we believe will keep our students learning in-person, in their classrooms – and that is our goal.

You can review these updates and more in our Return to In-person Instruction Plan, which can be downloaded from our website.

Westfield Kiwanis donate $750 to Eagle Scout project

The Westfield Kiwanis take great pride in their community, including the upkeep and beautification of parks and local resources. Kiwanis also strongly believe in their mission to support Westfield residents, especially in keeping with the motto "Kids Need Kiwanis." The opportunity to provide support to Grayson Gladura with his Eagle Scout Service Project provided a fantastic opportunity for both. Gladura's plans involve beautifying and supporting Cool Creek Park. His project involves replacing a 200 square-foot paver patio with a stand to display plants for sale by the staff of Cool Creek. He will also install a French drain that will divert rainwater from the Nature Center. (Above) Club President Pete Tinsley (right) and Future President-Elect Jake Plummer (left) were both on hand to present Gladura (center) with a donation of $750 towards his $1,750 goal.

Helping others part of being better people

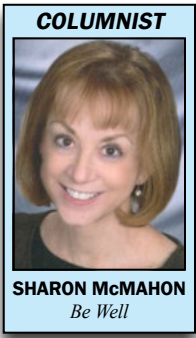

"Remember this. Hold on to this. This is the only perfection there is, the perfection of helping others. This is the only thing we can do that has any lasting meaning. This is why we're here."

– Andre Agassi

I am not sure why I have watched more Summer Olympics this year than usual; maybe I just wanted to see that in spite of all that is going wrong in the world there are those with optimism and courage who stay true to their dreams. It is amazing to see what the human body is capable of; it both gives me hope and also makes me realize that I need to move more!

There have been quite a few inspirational quotes and ideas shared by the Olympic athletes during these troubled Covid times. And although I am not necessarily a "tennis buff" I found that this quote by Agassi says really everything there is to say about striving for perfection and what is really important.

Who among us reading this article (I dare say there are no Olympic athletes among my readers!) have not critiqued the athletes we have witnessed the past few weeks – and others – because we are expecting physical "perfection" from their performances? Guilty as charged here! Of course, we want our USA athletes to do well – to "bring home the gold" for our country! We cheer them on, we are dismayed when they do not medal, or do not win the color

Duke Energy Foundation awards $40K to county schools

The REPORTER

The Duke Energy Foundation has awarded approximately $280,000 in grants to 11 workforce development and education programs in Indiana to help create a pipeline of workers prepared for employment.

Locally, Hamilton Heights School Corporation received $20,000 for career technical education programs. Noblesville Schools received $10,000 for SoftSkills integration within Noblesville Schools' internship program, and the Westfield Education Foundation received $10,000 to support certification cost for students and teachers in its trades program.

"I hear consistently from Indiana businesses that well-trained workers are one of their greatest needs," said Duke Energy Indiana President Stan Pinegar. "Many of the jobs don't require a college degree but instead need skilled workers with specialized training. These grants support that demand. Developing a skilled workforce is key to attracting and retaining business in Indiana, and it's a high priority of Duke Energy."

No surprise, Hamiton County is fastest growing in the state

By FRED SWIFT
ReadTheReporter.com

To no one's surprise, Hamilton County's new official census shows explosive growth in the past 10 years, increasing by 26 percent to 347,467. In 2010 the total was 274,569. The 2020 census released yesterday shows the county as the fourth most populous in Indiana after Marion, Lake and Allen.

Two of the state's 10 largest cities are now Carmel, in fifth place at 99,757, followed closely by Fishers at 98,977. Noblesville is at 69,604, and Westfield – which is actually the fastest growing – has a population of 46,410.

of Allied Solutions, which sponsors the Center Presents performance season. He graduated from Butler University with a bachelor's degree in business administration and is licensed as a Certified Public Accountant by the State of Indiana.

"We are fortunate to have such talented local leaders who are willing to lend their perspective and expertise to the Center for the Performing Arts," President/CEO Jeff McDermott said. "These new members will certainly enhance the quality and diversity of thinking on our board."

About the Center for the Performing Arts

The mission of the non-profit Center for the Performing Arts is to engage and inspire the Central Indiana community through enriching arts experiences. The Center presents and hosts hundreds of events each year, including the Center Presents performance series, featuring the best in classical, jazz, pop, rock, country, comedy and other genres. The campus in Carmel includes a 1,600-seat concert hall, the Palladium; a 500-seat proscenium theater, the Tarkington; and the black-box Studio Theater. The Center is home to the affiliated Great American Songbook Foundation and provides space and support services for six resident companies: Actors Theatre of Indiana, Carmel Symphony Orchestra, Central Indiana Dance Ensemble, Civic Theatre, Gregory Hancock Dance Theatre and Indiana Wind Symphony. The Center also provides educational and experiential programming for people of all ages. More information is available at TheCenterPresents.org.

You can still register for Prevail's 100 Men summit

The REPORTER

Prevail's 100 Men announces its inaugural Men's Leadership Summit.

100 Men will host the summit from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday, Sept. 11 at the Cambria Hotel Westfield-Indianapolis, 18592 Carousel Lane, Westfield. Breakfast and refreshments will be provided.

This leadership summit is specifically designed to inspire and mobilize men in breaking the traditional mold of what it means to be a male leader in the community. Attendees will learn the Web of Supports Model and how to engage in this interconnected system to better shape the community.

The Web of Support Model provides a clear and inspiring story that will help you understand the power of human connection and how your personal web serves as your safety net, filter, and launch pad. You will also learn the importance of anchoring others around you to strengthen those you love and care about as we build a stronger, more connected community. Please plan to join for a fun and inspiring day as attendees explore the web story and understand the power of connection. Everyone needs a web.

Keynote speakers include Kyle Miller, Director of Student Support & Counseling Services for Westfield Washington Schools, and Mike Hall, Westfield Middle School principal, with Westfield Mayor Andy Cook emceeding.

Early bird registration has ended, but you can still get your ticket now. Click here to register. For more information, please visit prevailinc.org or email Sara Roorbach at 100men@prevailinc.org.

About Prevail, Inc.

Prevail is committed to offering crisis intervention and restorative support services for adult, adolescent and child survivors of crime and abuse. All services are free of charge and offered in a confidential, supportive, non-judgmental environment that is meant to empower, educate, and strengthen. In addition to advocacy work, Prevail also has prevention programming aimed at stopping violence before it starts. The goal is to create protective environments and promote social norms that protect against violence. This is done in many ways, one being Prevail's 100 Men program.

About 100 Men

100 Men is Prevail's male engagement program aimed at developing male leaders who are willing to stand up and oppose violence. Members are committed to self and youth development with the goal of creating protective environments and building a safe and healthy community for all people.

Sen. Todd Young introduces 'Not One Penny in Taxes Raised' amendment

The REPORTER

U.S. Senator Todd Young (R-Ind.) introduced on Tuesday an amendment to the Democrats' $3.5 trillion budget proposal that would require Congress to uphold the Biden-Harris Administration's repeated promise to not raise a single penny in taxes on anyone making less than $400,000 per year.

President Biden and Vice President Harris have together pledged over 60 times that they would not raise taxes, "not one penny," on anyone making less than $400,000 per year. The Not One Penny in Taxes Raised amendment would prevent such a tax increase.

"Over 60 times during their campaign and since taking office, President Biden and Vice President Harris have pledged not to raise a single penny in taxes on anyone making less than $400,000 a year, but if Democrats move forward with their $3.5 trillion wish-list, it will be working and middle-class families that bear the brunt of the costs and the President's promise will be broken," Sen. Young said. "By passing my amendment, Democrats have the chance to keep the pledge President Biden and Vice President Harris have made to the American people. As President Biden said, 'Not one penny. It's a guarantee.'"

According to Sen. Young, claiming that broad tax increases – such as the corporate tax increase Democrats have contemplated using to pay for some of the $3.5 trillion proposal – are purely borne by capital is disingenuous and actively ignores accepted economic research.

Analysis from the Joint Committee on Taxation and the Congressional Budget

Young

Office show that a minimum of 25 percent of corporate tax hikes are paid for by workers through fewer job opportunities, slower wage growth, and reduced retirement investments, while many studies suggest this figure is above 50 percent.

Sen. Young says his amendment will "prevent Senate Democrats from breaking their promise to the American taxpayer that middle-class Americans would not foot the bill for these proposals."

The amendment is supported by Americans for Tax Reform, who said, "Clearly, Democrats are lying when they claim their tax hikes will not impact Americans earning less than $400,000. Raising the corporate tax would harm millions of middle-class American families by increasing the cost of goods and services, decreasing wages and the availability of new jobs, and reducing the value of stocks, 401(k)s, and other investments. ATR urges all Senators to vote YES on Senator Young's important amendment."

Justice Amy Coney Barrett denies request to block IU's vaccine mandate

WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Justice Amy Coney Barrett declined a request to block Indiana University's vaccine mandate, signaling that similar policies going into effect amid a COVID-19 surge could pass legal muster.

Barrett, who has jurisdiction over the appeals court involved in the case, acted alone without referring the matter to the full court.

Barrett's action marks the first time the justices have been asked to weigh in on the legality of a mandate meant to slow spread of COVID-19.

The Pentagon moved recently to mandate the vaccine for active-duty military members, and California Gov. Gavin Newsom announced on Wednesday that teachers and other school employees must either be vaccinated against COVID-19 or submit to regular testing.

Indiana University requires students to be vaccinated by the start of the fall session on Aug. 23. If students can't get both doses done by then, they will be tested weekly until they can get the vaccine. If they qualify for an exemption, they are also tested weekly.

"IU is coercing students to give up their rights to bodily integrity, autonomy, and of medical treatment choice in exchange for the discretionary benefit of matriculating at IU," James Bopp, a lawyer for students who objected to the school's requirement, told the Supreme Court in an emergency petition asking the justices to act by the end of this week.

Bopp said the students' refusal is "based on legitimate concerns" including underlying medical conditions, having natural antibodies, and the risks associated with the vaccine.

Lower courts have ruled against the students, citing a Supreme Court decision from 1905, which said that a state may require vaccines against smallpox.

A panel of judges on the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals — all Republican appointees — said that vaccination requirements "have been common in this nation" and stressed that the school's policies allow exemptions for those who have medical issues related to the vaccine or religious objections.

"These plaintiffs just need to wear a mask and be tested, requirements that are not constitutionally problematic," the court held, and added that otherwise, vaccination is a condition for attending the university. Those who do not want to be vaccinated may "go elsewhere."

"A university will have trouble operating when each student fears that everyone else may be spreading diseases," the court held. "Few people want to return to remote education — and we do not think that the Constitution forces the distance-learning approach on a university that believes vaccination (or masks and frequent testing of the unvaccinated) will make in-person operations safe enough."

Indiana University spokesperson Chuck Carney said that 85 percent of students, faculty and staff already "are approaching full vaccination."

"With a third ruling, now from the nation's highest court, affirming Indiana University's COVID-19 vaccination plan, we look forward to beginning fall semester with our health and safety policies in place," Carney said.

Bopp said the students are "disappointed that Justice Barrett refused to intervene" but they will continue to fight the vaccine mandate at lower courts.

Football scrimmages take place on Friday

High school football teams across Indiana got the chance to take the fields on Friday, as they played in scrimmages. Hamilton County teams were involved in scrimmages all around Central Indiana, with Noblesville (above right) traveling to North Central. Pictured for the Millers is senior Alaric Rogers-Walton, carrying the ball.

Turn to Page 8 to see more pictures from other scrimmages in the county, and be sure to stay with the Reporter during the fall to keep track of your favorite team.

Volleyball schedules

Early part of season features three all-county matches

Hamilton County's volleyball teams won't be wasting any time jumping into the big county rivalry matches once the season begins today.

In fact, there will be three big all-local matches over the next few days, including one this morning. Carmel travels to Fishers today in what will be the season-opener for both teams. On Monday, the Greyhounds will head a little farther east, to Hamilton Southeastern to take on the defending sectional champion Royals.

Before hosting Carmel, Southeastern plays its season opener today at McCutcheon. Another big first match is Guerin Catholic traveling to Hamilton Heights on Tuesday, the opener for both teams.

As for other schools, Westfield starts its season today by playing at Lawrence

North. Sheridan and University both open on Monday, with the Blackhawks hosting Crawfordsville and the Trailblazers playing at Traders Point Christian. Noblesville will begin its season on Tuesday by hosting North Central.

A complete list of county volleyball schedules now follows, with dates and times from the school athletic websites.
