

Making it official: Jackson Township Fire's new chief

John Moore is now officially the Jackson Township Fire Chief. He has 22 years of experience in fire and EMS services. Currently he also serves as the full-time deputy chief at Richland Township. He has worked part-time at Jackson Township for two years. When he first started at Jackson Township Fire, he quickly earned the respect of everyone with his natural leadership abilities. It is not uncommon for him to work on shift with the guys when there is a scheduling need. According to Jackson Township Trustee Robyn Cook, there has been a boost in morale and department unity under Moore's direction. Other recent promotions include Mike Kirchberg, now Lieutenant; Fred McComiskey, now Lieutenant; and James Carter, now Captain. The REPORTER

Noblesville city officials and construction crew members from E&B Paving, 3D Company, HWC Engineering, and Butler, Fairman & Seufert, Inc. gathered last week at Olio Road for a ribbon-cutting ceremony to mark the completion of the new Corporate Campus infrastructure improvements.

The project reopened to traffic last Tuesday evening – more than three months ahead of schedule.

"This project improves travel and safety in a growing area of our city," said Mayor Chris Jensen. "It also improves access to one of the greatest outdoor music venues in America, so concert fans can get in and out of Ruoff Music Center easier."

The new Corporate Campus infrastructure improvements included:

- Widening Olio Road from 141st Street to 146th Street to four lanes
- Widening 146th Street from Bergen Boulevard to Olio

Noblesville Common Council President Darren Peterson, Councilor Megan Wiles, Mayor Chris Jensen, Councilor Greg O'Connor, City Engineer Ali Krupski and Project Manager Andrew Rodewald cut the ribbon to open the Corporate Campus improvements to Olio Road and 146th Street.

New pavilion on Carter Green in Carmel will be ready in time for Christkindlmarkt

The REPORTER

The City of Carmel will begin construction this week on a new winter pavilion that will serve as a place for families, friends and visitors to Carter Green – during the winter ice-skating season and Carmel Christkindlmarkt – to gather for entertainment on a new stage or to enjoy a covered area for meals and events.

The 34-by-70-foot open-air pavilion, designed by Forever Redwood, will be constructed on the east end of Carter Green, near the Monon Greenway, and will be built using recycled redwood timber. It will include seating and will hold about 100 people.

Construction is expected to begin on Tuesday, Sept. 7. The project will be completed just in time for the 2021 Christkindlmarkt, which opens Saturday, Nov. 20. The construction project will result in temporarily relocating a few of the vendors to the central part of Carter Green at the Carmel Farmers Market, its final three weekends (Sept. 11, 18 and 25).

Current plans call for the pavilion to stay up each November

Rendering provided by City of Carmel

The winter pavilion – which will be set up on the east end of Carter Green near the Monon Greenway – will stay up each November to March. Then it will be disassembled and stored away for the remainder of the year.

through March, at which time it will be disassembled and stored away for the next winter season. The new ground-level stage will remain in place permanently for concerts that will be featured throughout the spring, summer and fall seasons. City officials are investigating the feasibility of finding a location in one of Carmel's parks for the pavilion during the summer months to be used for parks programming or rentals.

The new pavilion and stage will result in the replacement of the current Rotary Amphitheater (which is below ground level) with a permanent stage above ground that will boost the visibility and listening ability for audiences during events such as Music on the Monon and the Carmel Farmer's Market.

"We truly appreciate the gift of Carmel Rotary for the Amphitheater, which has been a tradition for many years at Carter Green and served its purpose well," said Nancy Heck, Director of Community Relations and Economic Development, who is overseeing the project. "But as the crowd sizes have grown and new events have been added, we felt it was time to bring the stage level up to a point where more people could gather to enjoy musical offerings throughout the year."

Health officials: Delta variant is eating lungs of the unvaccinated

By DR. MARY GILLIS, D.Ed.
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Another coronavirus surge is here and because of the delta variant, it's stronger than ever.

The numbers don't lie; hospitalizations, testing and death rates are reaching levels haven't been seen since the worst of the pandemic last winter.

As one doctor put it, when a person is infected with the mutation, it's eating their lungs. This is resulting in a more rapid decline in health status – which is mostly occurring in the unvaccinated. This group is requiring oxygen, intubation and ventilators – which may have not been the case earlier in the pandemic.

“What we know for sure is it is much more infectious than the other variants, 10 times more,” Dr. Ram Yeleti, chief physician executive at Community Health, told WISH-TV News 8. “How badly is it affecting the lungs? It looks like it's more severe. There was a recent study that was done out of the UK (United Kingdom) that shows the delta variant does look like it's worse now than it was before. So, there is a suggestion that the virus itself is attacking in different ways and attacking our immune system differently than it did before.”

While scientists don't know exactly the mechanism driving rapid deterioration, Yeleti says a delta infection causes the body to attack itself more aggressively, leading to organ failure, inflammation and, at worst, death.

He also says the mortality rate is so high because – even though we do have treatments such as anti-inflammatory steroids available – there is no cure, which is why getting vaccinated is essential now more than ever.

Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville to unveil outdoor basketball court

The REPORTER

Members at the Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville (BGCN) now have a new opportunity outdoors to participate in Indiana's pastime: Basketball. On Tuesday, Sept. 7, BGCN will hold a ribbon cutting ceremony on the court that was made possible thanks to funding by the Indianapolis NBA All-Star Legacy Project Grant.

"This project has provided an outdoor space where we can provide additional programming during after-school and out-of-school hours to youth members ages 5-18 that promotes basketball education, physical fitness and recreation while teaching members the importance of an active, healthy lifestyle," said BGCN Executive Director Becky Terry. "The Club will be able to offer new programs to recruit teenagers, such as 3-on-3 tournaments, events, or leagues, during Club hours and after-hours to provide them with a safe space where they can meet friends, have fun and engage

Nonstop comedy landing in Carmel this Friday

By STU CLAMPITT
ReadTheReporter.com

Carmel Community Players (CCP) is staging a classic comedy beginning this weekend at the Cat, 254 Veterans Way, Carmel.

Boeing Boeing is a 1960's French comedy about a Parisian player named Bernard, who has Italian, German, and American fiancées. Each woman is an airline hostess with frequent layovers. Bernard keeps "one up, one down, and one pending" until unexpected schedule changes bring all three to Paris, and Bernard's apartment, at the same time.

Bernard is played by Kirk Donlan, who has only been in two previous plays, but has a strong acting background in the improv world.

"I spent a number of years doing improv comedy with a group called IndyProv and that was my gateway into theater," Donlan said. "I had some friends through improv who were also doing theater and I expressed some interest. A part had come up in a play through Carmel Community Players called Failure to Zig-Zag. When I was in that one it was a last-minute thing. They asked me if I could fill in for someone who had to drop out, so I jumped into that. It was a really good experience. I did another play after that, and this is my third play."

Donlan said he sees his character, Bernard, as someone who thinks he has a good thing going where he has multiple women in his life at the same time who don't know about each other because they are always traveling.

"He feels like he's living in the bachelor's paradise," Donlan said. "He thinks he has the best of both worlds, but of course, through the course of the play he gets his comeuppance when they all arrive at the same time. He's working overtime to try to keep his ruse going, which is obviously not sustainable."

Robert Francis Kraft December 25, 1930 – June 29, 2021

Bob has a history of consistency, which he deemed the most important part of one's character. We often argued that point! That aside, he was consistently kind to people, helpful to those who needed help, forgiving of all his son's and wife's peccadilloes. Patient to a fault, he would think long and hard about making decisions and starting projects. Firm in his belief in a moral life, he was very reluctant to condemn anyone who didn't have the same moral code. He has given money away to anyone who knocks on the door, he has helped friends build porches, fix auto engines, repair anything broken.

As an example, we had a friend, Ted, a well-known Indianapolis photographic artist, who had advanced Multiple Sclerosis. As that man's father was on his deathbed, he wanted to get one last photo of his dad, but his muscles would not let him operate any of his cameras. Bob surreptitiously observed the movements that Ted could make, then spent hours grubbing around in his mysterious junk drawers in the garage, subsequently inventing a mechanism that he attached to our friend's wheelchair. Ted was then able to make that cherished photo and was most appreciative.

Bob loved being around kids of all ages, so he helped with Webelos, tutored elementary and junior high students in mathematics, and coached Little League baseball teams for several years, emphasizing sportsmanship and team building, not just winning. He kept complete records so that every player had exactly the same amount of playing time, no matter the skill of that player. (Ignoring parental protests!)

He was a member of the Indiana chapter of the American Society of Lubrication Engineers (two years as president), led the W.S. Blatchley Nature Study Club for a year or two, was one of the seven founders of the Hamilton County Theatre Guild in 1965. He recruited teenage students to help him build sets that actually stood up, and acted in a couple plays (always a non-speaking part!). One of those fellows is still a dear friend today.

He was born on Christmas Day in 1930, in the bedroom of their home in Hazel Crest, Ill., just as his mother was cooking Christmas dinner for family and friends. Shortly thereafter, the family moved to Gary, where he attended Lew Wallace elementary school in Gary until fifth grade. They moved to Merrillville where he was educated from fifth through twelfth grade. He played basketball, football, and baseball for Merrillville High School, then attended the University of Nebraska on a full basketball scholarship in 1949. After one semester, he decided to return to Indiana, and finished his education at Hanover College, where he played football and occasionally stayed awake in classes. He majored in P.E. and Mathematics, graduating in 1954.

He was in the U.S. Army, mostly in Alaska, from 1954 through 1956, at which time he married Mary Ellen Harkins. He then enrolled in Case-Western Reserve University in Cleveland for advanced engineering courses, while working at the Cleveland Worm and Gear Company and the Farval Corporation. After moving to Noblesville in 1956, the "team" produced three fantastic sons (Ned, Steve, and Tim) who now live in California and Georgia. All three graduated from Noblesville High School. Ned graduated from Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology, Steve attended Purdue University, and Tim went to Indiana University. Bob, as loving father, was gentle ... an educator, not a punisher.

Bob had two brothers who predeceased him, Richard (1928) and Carl (1935). Both were engineers and lived most of their lives in Illinois. Bob was very fond of his 11 nieces and nephews.

After moving to Madison in 2006, he supported the Jefferson County History Center, Historic Madison Inc., Madison Music Movement, Madison Arts Alliance, Jefferson County Community Foundation, and many national charities.

Bob's family will host a celebration of his life from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 19, 2021 in the Overlook Room at the Forest Park Inn, 701 Cicero Road, Noblesville.

It is expressly requested that in lieu of flowers, expressions of sympathy take the form of donations to: For the Little Ones Fund, an endowment created by Bob and Mary to benefit the Madison Consolidated Schools Pre-Kindergarten Program.

Christopher S. D. Davis

December 25, 1966 – August 18, 2021

Christopher S. D. Davis, 54, Noblesville, passed away on Wednesday, August 18, 2021 at IU Health University Hospital in Indianapolis.

Chris was born on December 25, 1966 in Anderson, Ind., where he grew into his teens until moving to Eaton, Ind., before starting seventh grade. Excelling in athletics, he played basketball, volleyball, ran track and was a star baseball player. With an equally competitive nature, he would meet his match on the tennis court, leading Delta High School in rankings before graduating in 1985.

Growing up in a family of law enforcement officers, Chris had a special admiration for his uncle, Randy Davis, who was an instructor at the Indiana Law Enforcement Academy for 30 years. Their close relationship would initially gain him a front row seat in classroom instruction as well as field training and would eventually contribute to his desire and motivation to open a paintball arena, which he did, owning and operating Arena Combat (Muncie, Ind.) with much help from his childhood and lifelong friend, Patrick Lutz. While running Arena Combat, he continued collaborations with his uncle in support of the academy, organizing and conducting various field training operations.

Throughout his affiliation with the academy and while operating his paintball business, he also worked at Vince's Restaurant at the Muncie Airport. Excelling in every position, he advanced from kitchen to management and, as a server, he was favored by owner of Vince's, Jim Davis. It would be his serving experience and the impressions he made upon guests that inspired him to explore his future and interests. With much respect and admiration for the careers of the men in his family, he would find success and fulfillment following a different path that would ultimately lead him to a successful career in sales. Enrolling in classes at Ball State University, he studied Business Administration and pursued a degree in Marketing, which he completed in 2004. Upon graduation, he began his career working for a manufacturer's representative firm, quickly excelling in his role selling fiber optic and construction test equipment in the CATV/broadband industry and dominated industry sales. His leadership qualities and entrepreneurial spirit would eventually guide him in establishing his own CATV manufacturers rep firm, along with his close friend and colleague, John Bennett. Together, they formed Team Sales Inc. in 2002, which they would develop into a reputable and prevalent CATV manufacturer's representative firm across the U.S. Chris was consistently recognized for his outstanding sales achievements, professionalism, integrity and industry knowledge.

He moved to Noblesville in 2001, creating the life he desired, surrounding himself with the people and things that made him complete. He was a loving, passionate father, who instilled work ethic and independence in his children. He taught them to swim at young ages, then enjoyed time swimming together. He introduced them to the kitchen, to ultimately enjoy their cooking. He enlightened them with many genres of music, and loved family jam sessions creating his own original content. He taught them how to play Texas Holdem to, in turn, enjoy an opportunity to win against them. He enjoyed teaching his son (Jax) gaming, specifically those games he grew up playing, until Jax exceeded him in his abilities. He also enjoyed darts, movies and television, talking politics around the dinner table, playing pool and boating. He was athletic and competitive, and took time to educate his children, teaching them everything he knew. He succeeded in his goal as a father: To make his children better versions of himself.

Chris is survived by his daughter, Parker Davis; son, Jax; mother, Gayle (Phil) Baker; sister, Angela Baxter; niece and nephew, Peyton and Reese; stepdaughter, Alesea Fritz; stepbrothers, Chad (Lisa) Baker and Aaron Baker; aunt, Kim Cannon; cousins, Mallory and Tiffany Cannon Cooper; and his life-long friends, Pat Lutz, John Bennett, and Brian Spangler.

He was preceded in death by his father, Rodney Noland Davis; and his uncle, Randy Davis.

Private family services and Celebration of Life will be held at a later date.

Patience, kindness and laughter

I have always wondered why 1 Corinthians 13:4 starts with “Love is patient and kind.”

While Paul, the Apostle and writer to the Corinthians, may have never been married, he might have had a glimpse of married life through the marriages of those to whom he brought the Good News.

Patience and kindness go hand in hand. In marriage, it may go heart to heart.

Chuck and I might be old enough to be set in our ways. Maybe, just a bit.

I have a certain way I like my towels folded. It makes them look pretty, when stacked in the cabinet. Chuck says it’s complicated.

Chuck thinks butter must be spread on the bread or bun of every sandwich. I ask why. His response: “Because it makes the sandwich taste better.”

He learned to fold the towels – my way.

I learned to always butter his bread.

We keep it simple. We keep it kind.

When Chuck folded the towels in a different way than I did, I didn’t tell him he was wrong. I kindly told him it wasn’t the way it needed to be done. He laughed. “Yes, dear, I guess I have a lot to learn.”

And so, did I.

I learned his “on time” is 10 minutes early, so I plan accordingly.

While I may not have learned to play golf, I have learned to love watching the tournaments with him. I have learned a new language. Eagle. Birdie. Bogey. D*#N Double Bogey. Mink Stole.

Mink Stole. It’s when you hit a good drive. He calls it a mink stole because, it goes a “fur” piece. That’s the humor I am blessed to live with.

We laugh – a lot.

Oh, and back to the butter. When we first married, he noticed the way I took the butter out of the tub. He called it strange. We were eating chips and salsa when he mentioned it. I laughed so hard the tears ran down my cheeks. There was no butter on the table, and he just randomly told me his thoughts.

Much of what we say and do is random.

We get in the car and go for a Sunday evening drive. I say to him, “Have I told you lately?” No mention of love, just the question. He knows.

I tell him I’ll be ready in five minutes. He knows that means 15. I tell him my car has 58 miles to empty. He returns from the gas station and lets me know it was 28 miles to empty. I remind him that I was never good at math. He was a math/history teacher.

He asks me if I remember when John F. Kennedy was shot. I was in the second grade. I was home from school with the measles. I remember Walter Cronkite announcing it on the TV. Chuck was teaching at Belzer Junior High School. He remembers it being announced over the PA system.

So many ways in which we are different and yet, our hearts blend the differences well. We always try to add kindness and patience along with a little humor.

I wouldn’t change a thing about my husband. Well, except the way he takes the butter out of the tub. At least he spreads it with kindness and is patient with me as I take it out the right way.

Make the decision to serve your neighbor

Everyone gets to decide, do I serve a neighbor or not? Will I choose to make a difference today or stay on the sidelines? It’s estimated that the average adult makes about 35,000 remotely conscious decisions each day. Researchers at Cornell University estimate we make 226.7 decisions each day on food alone.

Purposeful decisions to serve others selflessly reflects the character of the community. Today’s example of selfless sacrificial service to a neighbor is inspiring for us all.

Recently while loading the pantry at the Hamilton County Fire Fighters Local 4416, we met “Bill” (not his real name) and learned that he regularly shops the pantries. Cautious, he left his car running as he approached to make his request. Bill is in his eighties, a tall man at 6-foot-8 and weathered, rugged from life. As he told his story, we shook hands and he recoiled in arthritic pain. He talked about recently losing his wife and the struggles of being his age and now alone. He was searching for dried white beans and stewed tomatoes. Unfortunately, we did not have any with us and there wasn’t any in the three pantries that Bill frequents. He likes to ferment the beans, but his wife was not a fan. Bill walked away with several items thanking us for the kindness and drove away.

We wrote about Bill on social media and immediately neighbors started reaching out asking to help. As a no questions asked organization, we didn’t have Bill’s contact information. We only know Bill’s story because he offered it.

Enter Sarah (also not her real name). Sarah, a local neighbor herself is 84 and on dialysis three times a week. Sarah took it upon herself to solve this challenge. During a week with three dialysis treatments and a surgery, she took the time to go shopping and buy enough dried white beans and stewed tomatoes to supply all three of the pantries that Bill frequents.

This selfless, kind, caring act was Sarah’s choice and it’s what we stand for. These two elderly neighbors will never know each other, and that’s okay. We see thousands of meals going out every month completely confidentially. Neighbors Serving Neighbors is fully on display through our neighbors in Hamilton County.

We will never know the stories of most of our neighbors who struggle with food insecurity. We believe it’s not our business unless a neighbor shares their story. In future columns we will share stories from neighbors about how your generosity served them in times of need. Be assured that the face of hunger in Hamilton County is not what you may think.

In practical terms this simple way to help neighbors is having real impact on lives, families, and our communities. Thank you. A few meals can change the course of a person’s life. A can of green beans means so much more when you have nothing to feed your kids. Want to get involved? Go to feedingteam.org right now.

Worried? Stressed? Get busy!

Last Saturday I volunteered for the morning shift at Agape Therapeutic Riding Center’s Mane Event horse show in Cicero. If you’ve never been there, by the way, I highly recommend you visit – it’s one of the top centers in the country.

If you recall, last weekend was brutally hot, and I was a bit nervous for all of us as we gathered in prayer. Would the riders, their families, the horses, the staff, and volunteers be okay?

But I soon pushed away my thoughts and just dove in, helping out wherever and whenever I could. I walked alongside happy kids and teenagers to make sure they were safe on their horses, braided manes, scooped poop, and set up tents. I chatted occasionally with other volunteers and got to know some incredible people.

My deodorant basically quit working. I had sweat in my eyes and barn dust covering me from head to toe. By the time we all sat down to eat Chick-fil-A (which I devoured in less than 10 minutes) I felt absolutely gross.

And yet, I was incredibly happy as I drove home afterwards. I realized I hadn’t felt that good in weeks. Why? Because I had been helping others for four hours without a moment to spare.

2021 is becoming just as bad as 2020, if not worse, for many of us. I’ve had some personal blows this year that I’ve shared with you. I know I’m not alone in feeling like throwing in the towel some days.

But I’ve been forgetting one great way to deal with worry and stress – getting busy. Even better, we need to get busy helping others.

Sure, work and writing my books keep my mind occupied. And you would think yard work and home projects would do the same. Unfortunately, many of the latter tasks allow my mind to wander. I’ll bet many of you experience the same thing.

When you’re volunteering alongside others, however, both your body and mind are focused on the tasks at hand. There’s no time to think! Plus, you get the bonus of knowing you’ve made a difference for others and for an organization.

It can be tough to find the time to do this, especially if you’re in the sandwich generation. But even an hour a week, like what I typically do at Agape, can make all the difference. We’re outside a lot and we wear our masks, so it’s been a good activity during this pandemic.

If you’re worried and stressed (heck, who isn’t right now?) and not volunteering somewhere, look up opportunities at your favorite organization or church. Find something safe that will keep both your mind and body occupied. You’ll be amazed at the difference even a little bit of time can make.

Shameless plug – if you love kids and horses, I’ve got the perfect place for you! Check out Agape at agapetheriding.org.

The Library reserves the right to adjust the maturity schedule following the sale in order to accomplish the Library's financial objectives by reallocating debt service based upon the rates by the successful bidder (the "Purchaser").

Notice is hereby given that electronic proposals will be received via PARITY®, in the manner described below, up until the hour of 11:00 a.m. (Indianapolis Time), on September 16, 2021. Bids may be submitted electronically via PARITY® pursuant to this Notice until the time specified in the Notice, but no bid will be received after the time for receiving bids specified above. To the extent any instructions or directions set forth in PARITY® conflict with this Notice, the terms of this Notice shall control. For further information about PARITY®, potential bidders may contact the Library's municipal advisor, Baker Tilly at (317) 465-1500 and by email at bids@bakertilly.com or PARITY® at (212) 849-5021.

As an alternative to PARITY®, bidders may submit a sealed bid or e-mail the bid electronically to the Library's municipal advisor at the address described above until the time of the bond sale as listed above. Upon completion of the bidding procedures described herein, the results of the sealed or emailed bids received shall be compared to the electronic bids received by the Library.

If a potential bidder has questions related to the Library, the financing or submission of bids, questions should be submitted by email to the address above no later than 11:00 a.m. (Indianapolis Time) on September 14, 2021. To the best of the Library's ability, all questions will be addressed by the Library and sent to potential bidders, including any bidders requesting 24 hours' notice of sale, no later than 5:00 p.m. (Indianapolis Time) on September 14, 2021. Additionally, upon request, the written responses will be emailed to any other interested bidder. Bidders should review this notice as well as the preliminary official statement and submit any questions in advance of this deadline to submit questions.

The Bonds have been designated by the Library as qualified tax-exempt obligations for purposes of Section 265(b)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended to the date hereof (the "Code").

The Bonds are not redeemable prior to maturity at the option of the Library.

Bidders for the Bonds will be required to name the purchase price, not less than 99.50% of par and the interest rate or rates which the Bonds are to bear. Such interest rate or rates must be in multiples of 1/8th or 1/100th of 1%. Bids specifying two or more interest rates shall also specify the amount and maturities of the Bonds bearing each rate, but all Bonds maturing on the same date shall bear the same single interest rate. The Bonds will be awarded to the lowest responsible and responsive bidder whose bid is submitted in accordance herewith. The winning bidder will be the one who offers the lowest net interest cost to the Library, to be determined by computing the total interest on all of the Bonds to their maturities based upon the schedule provided by the Library prior to the sale and deducting therefrom the premium bid, if any, and adding thereto the discount bid, if any. Any premium bid must be paid at closing as a part of the purchase price. Although not a term of sale, it is requested that each bid show the net dollar interest cost from the date of the Bonds to final maturity and the net effective average interest rate. No conditional bids will be considered. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. If an acceptable bid is not received for the Bonds on the date of sale hereinbefore fixed, the sale may be continued from day to day thereafter without further advertisement, during which time no bid which provides a higher net interest cost to the Library than the best bid received at the time of the advertised sale will be considered.

A good faith deposit ("Deposit") in the form of cash or certified or cashier's check in the amount of $78,300 payable to the order of Hamilton East Public Library is required to be submitted by the successful Purchaser not later than 3:30 p.m. (Indianapolis time) on the next business day following the award. If such Deposit is not received by that time, the Library may reject the bid. No interest on the Deposit will accrue to the Purchaser. The Deposit will be applied to the purchase price of the Bonds. In the event the Purchaser fails to honor the accepted bid, the Deposit will be retained by the Library as liquidated damages.

The Purchaser shall make payment for such Bonds and accept delivery thereof within five days after being notified that the Bonds are ready for delivery, at such place in the City of Indianapolis, Indiana, as the Purchaser may designate, or at such other location mutually agreed to by the Library and the Purchaser. The Bonds will be ready for delivery within 45 days after the date of sale. If the Library fails to have the Bonds ready for delivery prior to the close of banking hours on the forty-fifth day after the date of sale, the Purchaser may secure the release of the bid upon request in writing, filed with the Library. Unless otherwise requested by the winning bidder, the Purchaser is expected to apply to a securities depository registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") to make such Bonds depository-eligible. If the Bonds are reoffered by an underwriter, at the time of delivery of the Bonds to the Purchaser, the Purchaser will be required to certify to the Library the initial reoffering price to the public of a substantial amount of each maturity of the Bonds.

All provisions of the bid form and Preliminary Official Statement (as hereinafter defined) are incorporated herein. As set forth in the Preliminary Official Statement, the Purchaser agrees by submission of their bid to assist the Library in establishing the issue price of the Bonds under the terms outlined therein and shall execute and deliver to the Library at closing an "issue price" certificate, together with the supporting pricing wires or equivalent communications, with such modifications as may be appropriate or necessary, in the reasonable judgment of the Purchaser, the Library and Ice Miller LLP ("Bond Counsel").

Bidders must comply with the Rules of PARITY® (the "Rules") in addition to requirements of this Notice. To the extent there is a conflict between the Rules and this Notice, this Notice shall control. Bidders may change and submit bids as many times as they wish during the sale, but they may not withdraw a submitted bid. The last bid submitted by a bidder prior to the deadline for the receipt of bids will be compared to all other final bids to determine the winning bid. During the sale, no bidder will see any other bidder's bid, nor will they see the status of their bid relative to other bids (e.g., whether their bid is a leading bid).

It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be printed on the Bonds, but neither the failure to print such numbers on any Bond nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the Purchaser therefore to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds in accordance with the terms of its proposal. No CUSIP identification number shall be deemed to be a part of any Bond or a part of the contract evidenced thereby and no liability shall hereafter attach to the Library or any of its officers or agents because of or on account of such numbers. All expenses in relation to the printing of CUSIP identification numbers on the Bonds shall be paid for by the Library; provided, however, that the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of said numbers shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid for by the Purchaser. The Purchaser will also be responsible for any other fees or expenses it incurs in connection with the resale of the Bonds.

The Bonds are being issued for the purpose of procuring funds for the (i) renovation of and improvements to Fishers Library, including site improvements and the purchase of real estate, equipment and technology; and (ii) renovation of and improvements to Noblesville Library, including site improvements and the purchase of real estate, equipment and technology, and will be the direct obligations of the Library, payable out of ad valorem taxes to be collected on the taxable property within the Library; however, the Library's collection of the levy may be limited by operation of I.C. 6-1.1-20.6, which provides taxpayers with tax credits for property taxes attributable to different classes of property in an amount that exceeds certain percentages of the gross assessed value of that property. The Library is required by law to fully fund the payment of debt service on the Bonds in an amount sufficient to pay the debt service, regardless of any reduction in property tax collections due to the application of such tax credits. The Library may not be able to levy or collect additional property taxes to make up this shortfall. The Library is a library district organized pursuant to the provisions of I.C. 20-23; the Bonds will not be "private activity bonds" as defined in Section 141 of the Code.

The Library has prepared a Preliminary Official Statement ("Preliminary Official Statement") relating to the Bonds which it has deemed nearly final. A copy of the Preliminary Official Statement may be obtained from the Library's municipal advisor, Baker Tilly, 8365 Keystone Crossing, Suite 300, Indianapolis, Indiana 46240-2687. Within seven (7) business days of the sale, the Library will provide the successful bidder with sufficient copies of the Final Official Statement (the "Final Official Statement") in order for the Purchaser to comply with Section (b)(4) of SEC Rule 15c2-12 and the rules of the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board at the Library's expense. Additional copies, at the Purchaser's expense, must be requested within five (5) business days of the sale. Inquiries concerning matters contained in the Preliminary Official Statement must be made and pricing and other information necessary to complete the Final Official Statement must be submitted by the Purchaser within two (2) business days following the sale to be included in the Final Official Statement.

If the Bonds are reoffered by an underwriter, the Library agrees to enter into a first supplement to master continuing disclosure undertaking (the "Master Agreement") in order to permit the Purchaser to comply with the SEC Rule 15c2-12, as amended to the date hereof. A copy of such Master Agreement is available from the Library or municipal advisor at the addresses below.

Further information relative to the Bonds and a copy of the Preliminary Official Statement may be obtained upon application to Edra Waterman, Director of the Library, 1 Library Plaza, Noblesville, Indiana 46060. If bids are submitted by mail, they should be addressed to the Library, attention of Baker Tilly, 8365 Keystone Crossing, Suite 300, Indianapolis, Indiana 46240-2687.

These Bonds are offered subject to the approving opinion of Bond Counsel. The Library will furnish at its expense the bond counsel opinion, printed bond forms, a transcript of proceedings, and closing papers in the usual form showing no litigation questioning the validity of the Bonds at the time of delivery.

Developer-backed bonds are a win-win

Years ago, you might have seen yard signs popping up around Carmel alerting residents to the fact that the City of Carmel has more than $1 billion in debt.

Technically, this is true, according to the Indiana Department of Local Government Finance. But like most yard signs, it doesn't tell the whole story.

In fact, much of that debt will never – and I mean never – be paid by residential taxpayers.

That's because private developers guaranteed the debt, which was issued to pay for infrastructure improvements like roundabouts and parking garages.

In the last two years, Carmel City Council has approved more than $85 million in developer-backed bonds, encouraging hundreds of millions of dollars in new construction in our city. It's a tremendous win for our local economy and, again, taxpayers aren't on the hook. In some cases, the developer just bought the bond.

Yet due to an accounting quirk, it counts as city debt when you look at our totals.

Here's how it works: A private developer looks to build on a piece of land.

The Carmel Redevelopment Commission approaches the builder and suggests that instead of building a smaller building with a large sprawling Walmart-style parking lot, they could build a larger building which would generate a lot more jobs and tax revenue for the city. In many cases, these buildings would be of mixed use and feature residences, offices and retail.

The CRC incentivizes this by issuing a bond to fund infrastructure improvements, like parking, and then repays the debt by using the new taxes generated by the increase in assessed value.

This additional tax revenue would not exist if the project wasn't built to full scale. The larger mixed-use building with a parking garage is worth a lot more in assessed value and so that increase in real estate taxes is captured to put toward paying off the bond.

The city acts only as an "issuer." If the tax revenue falls short of what's needed to pay off the bond, the developer is on the hook, not the people of Carmel.

Why is this a good incentive? Because developers can take advantage of the city's bond rating which allows for lower interest rates and the developer can use their property taxes to pay off the debt associated with the project.

What happens if the developer goes broke? They're still on the hook for the debt and, in most cases, someone will buy the land and take on the payments.

There is no risk to the public.

- $2.5 million – Improvements at the Brookshire Village Shoppes which attracted Needler's Fresh Market
- $14 million – Retail units and apartments to be built at 116th Street and Range Line Road
- $3.7 million – Condos and brownstones, under construction near Civic Square
- $5.6 million – Offices and condos to be built at the corner of Main Street and Range Line Road
- $12.5 million – Four-acre mixed-use development just north of the Proscenium
- $16.5 million – The Franciscan Health Orthopedic Center of Excellence
- $6.2 million – Residential units, retail and office space on 27 acres along the north side of Smokey Row Road
- $3.6 million – Several improvements at City Center, including new public restrooms
- $16 million – The Signature project at Main Street and Old Meridian, including restaurant and offices
- $5 million – Proscenium II project near Kroger, with condos and retail

This is a huge win. Once the bonds are paid off, tax revenue flows to the city that can be used to pay off other debt or to fund new projects.

The public gets to enjoy new restaurants and public plazas. These parking garages include many spaces open to the public. New jobs bring workers to the area, who pay income taxes and, if they live here, pay property taxes. All of this helps fund schools, parks, road improvements, public safety and more. We all benefit.

Up and down Range Line Road, several new projects are under construction, or will be soon, due to developer-backed bonds. The use of developer-backed bonds is how the City Council was able to help attract the Needler's Fresh Market in the former O'Malia's spot. It's truly a gift for residents of Carmel and future generations as well.

Embracing uncertainties of this pandemic life

Editor's Note: The Sheridan Student Column is brought to readers by Sheridan High School's 10th grade English class, taught by Abby Williams, who begins this year's series.

ABBY WILLIAMS
Sheridan High School Teacher

I am happy to be once again starting this year's series of student articles with one of my own. I feel a lot of gratitude that people want to read my students' stories and also that Jeff Jellison and the Reporter allow us to continue with the series. Last school year was a challenge for everyone: students, teachers, school staff, and families. In my 18 years in education, I have never experienced anything so emotionally and mentally difficult, and that's with the benefit of an adult perspective. I know our kids struggled even more.

I've found that the reason the pandemic is so hard to deal with emotionally and mentally is due to all the uncertainty it brings about. At school, we're all in the same boat, meaning all the kids and all the adults, because of one thing: we never know what's going to happen next. Will I be quarantined? Will I get COVID? Will I miss football games? Will the school move to e-learning? Will I have to wear a mask? Will someone I care about be very sick or even die?

All this uncertainty, this unknown, is so hard! We, as humans, make our lives manageable by creating routines, so we know what to expect. Routines make us more comfortable. Research even shows that creating routines in classrooms help students feel safe and able to learn, especially students who have experienced trauma in their lives. So, when the pandemic takes away the things we have previously counted on, it's scary and draining!

What I've experimented with and found to be helpful in the face of this uncertainty is the idea of radical acceptance. Radical acceptance is the idea that a person accepts the moment or the situation as-is, acknowledges they can't control it, and just goes with it, without judging it. Many of us spend minutes or hours each day mulling over or playing out future scenarios, trying to imagine what tomorrow will bring and how we will encounter it when it comes. With radical acceptance, we can let go of all of that, and just know that the future will come, we can't control what will happen, and we will take what comes and deal with it the best way we can.

For me personally, this idea is helpful. I can't always maintain that attitude of radical acceptance, but when I can, I do feel a sense of relief, almost as if the weight of that worry is off of me. Another part of this to consider is, if a person stops spending those minutes or hours thinking about or worrying about the future, then those minutes or hours could open up for other, more relaxing or restorative activities. For me, this means I spend more time reading, gardening, and working out.

As we move forward into more uncertain times, I hope to accept what happens, knowing that I can't control the future. I also hope to make the best of it and enjoy each moment as it comes. For our students, I wish the same: that they can find ways to manage this stress, worry a bit less, and spend time doing things that make them feel a little better. I wish that for us all.

How often do you choose “slow food” over fast food?

"I saw few die of hunger; of eating, a hundred thousand." – Benjamin Franklin

In reference to Mr. Franklin's quote above ... he obviously was very astute (on many levels!) though I am not certain he took his own advice as he was quite corpulent. Although I doubt Mr. Franklin partook of "fast food" it appears that poor eating habits are not new to the 21st Century. I do believe that the pandemic, however, has incentivized some people to spend a little more time in the kitchen preparing "slow food" as opposed to the "fast food" habits of so many.

Eating can be such a pleasure; a good meal filled with nutrient-rich foods, prepared well and shared with others is a wonderful experience. That is a meal which will leave us satiated and our bodies fueled with the energy we need to "take on the day." How often do your meals fit that description? Always? Often? Sometimes or maybe never?

My first experience with a "drive thru" meal was about 1965 or so when my family tried out the new Clancy's on Tenth Street in Noblesville. (I was 15 so I guess you can, sigh, do the math!) My dad drove up to the window (no speakers then) and placed our order and we received our meal in a bag and drove away – how cool was that! Thankfully, however, most of my family meals growing up were spent sitting at the dinner table with family enjoying simple fare prepared at home. Unfortunately, life has changed for most of us due to increased scheduling demands and the opportunities to eat poorly outweigh (really, no pun intended here) the opportunities to properly plan our meals.

My interest in nutrition and wellness has persevered over the years throughout a long management career and kept alive in part due to my 20-plus years as a certified fitness instructor pursued alongside my professional career. (Now I feel tired just thinking about that!) As I am now in my "rewired" retirement, I am again teaching classes and responding to those who approach me to ask my opinion in nutrition matters by becoming certified through the American Fitness Professionals Association in nutrition and wellness consulting. I found the study and practicum to be essential to helping clients to assess their eating habits and to meet their weight management and nutritional goals.

Discussing strategies and plans to optimize better fitness and food relationships is very rewarding to me as I work with my clients. Continuing education through AFPA enables me to be on the forefront of presenting the best opportunities and information to those who seek my assistance.

Alas, "fast food" is here to stay, but so are the options to increase our personal eating plans to be more nutrient-rich and satisfying. As we close up the summer season and look forward to fall, the local produce stands can be your best friend. When in doubt about the source of your produce, simply ask if the items are organic. In particular I would advise that any items which are consumed with "skin on" should definitely be organic. There are specific guidelines in place by the USDA for organically grown produce. If there is the slightest bit of mold visible, pass it up even if it is on sale! Clean your produce carefully and be creative in your meal planning and snacking – Bon appétit!

High school football - Week 3

Tigers win county clash with Millers

The first all-Hamilton County football clash of the season went down to the wire last Friday, as Fishers visited Noblesville at Beaver Materials Field for what was also the Hoosier Crossroads Conference opener for both teams.

The Tigers trailed the Millers after the first quarter, but took the lead in the second period, extended it in the third, then held off a Noblesville comeback in the fourth quarter to escape with a 16-13 victory.

“I thought our defense played outstanding,” said Tigers coach Curt Funk. Fishers had to contend with a Millers offense that had scored 102 points in its first two games. Funk credited his team with holding the line in “some crucial situations there at the end” to get the win.

Noblesville scored first, marching down the field in the first quarter and finally getting in the end zone when Brayan Gómez Sánchez took the ball in from the one-yard line. Fishers answered in the second period when Carson Dunn took a six-yard rush in for a touchdown. Dunn then caught a two-point conversion pass from Dominic Oliverio.

Thus, the Tigers led 8-6 at halftime. Fishers put up another touchdown during the middle of the third period, when Luke Minns found Aidan Zimmer for an 11-yard pass play score. Oliverio then took a two-point run into the end zone.

“It was a great high school football game,” said Millers coach Dave Sharpe. “The execution on the PATs was critical, obviously because of the final score. It made them play comfortably with the lead in the second half. I have to just give them tremendous amount of credit for having tremendous execution on third and long and fourth down in the second half.”

Noblesville kept battling, and cut into Fishers’ lead when Parker Bell punched the ball in from the two-yard line. Jack Letourneau’s kick got the Millers within three. Both team’s defenses stepped up after that: Noblesville broke up an end-zone pass with 5:03 left, then the Tigers stopped the Millers’ final scoring drive.

“I am really just satisfied with how hard they played,” said Funk. “I thought our offense made the plays they needed to. We’ve got some things that we got to fix. But these kids keep getting better and better every week and that’s all we could ask for is that they keep being coachable and they keep improving.”

Minns completed 16 of 22 pass attempts for 135 yards, while Dunn led the rushing with 96 yards. Luke Valerio and Zimmer both had five catches. Dawson Scally made 11 tackles (10 solo, one assist) on defense.

Logan Shoffner continued to pace Noblesville’s offense, rushing for 136 yards.

“I felt like we had a lot of offensive momentum late in the game,” said Sharpe. “It’s a shame there’s not a fifth quarter, because it would have been another dogfight. That’s two evenly matched teams and there’s obviously a good chance in sectionals we can meet back up. They just made a couple of big-time money plays on third down and we were just not quite there.”

Fishers is 3-0 and will host Hamilton Southeastern Friday in the Mudsock game. The Millers are 2-1 and go on the road to Westfield Friday.

Noblesville's Parker Bell (2) helped keep the Millers in the game by scoring a fourth-quarter touchdown. Also pictured for Noblesville is Jacob Long.

Gritty Huskies stun Rensselaer, 26-21

For the past two weeks, the Hamilton Heights football team has had to make long bus rides home on Friday night.

But they have been happy rides. Last Friday’s trip home must have been especially nice, since the Huskies came back from a 14-0 first-quarter deficit to stun Rensselaer Central 26-21.

“Anytime you win, it’s awesome for the kids,” said Heights coach Jonathan Kirschner. He reflected on the past two weeks, starting with last Friday’s last-minute trip to Bluffton, where the Huskies picked up their first win of the season. Then it was a long trip last Friday.

Because of all this, Kirschner said his team is finding out it has the ability to fight through adversity.

“We have the will and the fortitude and the grit,” said Kirschner. “To their credit, these young men have found a way to fight through that adversity.”

The game started rocky for Heights, as the Bombers scored twice in the first quarter to go up 14-0. The Huskies got on the board during the waning seconds of the period, as Trey Ehman punched the ball in from the one-yard line with nine seconds left. Jonathan Glenn made the extra-point kick.

Heights tied the game late in the second quarter after Gavin Bramel collected a six-yard touchdown pass from Guy Griffey. Glenn’s kick knotted the game at 14-14. But Rensselaer scored minutes later on a short run and went into halftime ahead 21-14.

The Huskies wouldn’t let the Bombers score again. Instead, Heights added one touchdown in each of the next quarters. Isaac Tuma went first, catching a six-yard pass from Griffey midway through the third period. That got the Huskies within 21-20.

Heights had a late drive stall out in the end zone, and Rensselaer took over. The Bombers got the ball inside the Huskies 30, but the ball came loose and Heights recovered. The Huskies then marched down the field and scored the go-ahead touchdown when Bramel caught a 38-yard pass from Griffey with 1:04 left.

For the kickoff, Kirschner said Heights sent out its “elite kickoff team,” which covered the ball “like wild banshees.” The Huskies kept Rensselaer deep in its own territory, then sealed the game when Vincent Harley made an interception.

win,” said Kirschner. “They have a storied history with football and they’re a really good football team.”

Ehman finished the game with 110 yards, while Griffey went 12-of-22 through the air for 165 yards and three touchdowns. Tuma led the receptions with eight.

Heights is 2-1 and begins Hoosier Conference divisional play Friday when it hosts Northwestern.

Sheridan rolls past Tri-Central Sheridan put together a solid performance on both ends of the ball at Tri-Central last Friday night, and that sent the Blackhawks to a 40-6 Hoosier Heartland Conference victory.

“I thought we played our best ball game of the year,” said Sheridan coach Bud Wright. “We’re getting better as we go.”

The young Blackhawks scored in every quarter, and only gave up one touchdown to the Trojans in the first period. Aiden Garrison got Sheridan’s first score on an 11-yard pass from sophomore quarterback Mason Robinson.

In the second quarter, Gavin Reners and Peyton Cross both rushed in for touchdowns, and that was enough to give the ‘Hawks an 18-6 halftime lead. The second half followed the same pattern, as it began with Garrison catching a 19-yard touchdown throw from Robinson. Cross then caught a two-point conversion pass, and Sheridan led 26-6 after three.

The Blackhawks opened the fourth quarter with another pass play touchdown. Cole Webel hauled in an eight-yard pass from Robinson to score. Camden Spencer completed Sheridan’s scoring by making a short run to the end zone with 16 seconds left in the game. Freshman Owen Bell kicked both extra points in the quarter.

“We were missing several kids with injury,” said Wright. “I hope we get them before long. We had kids stepping and doing a heck of a job for us.”

Reners led the ‘Hawks offense with 137 yards rushing, while Cross gained 82 yards. It all added up to a big win, and one that gave Sheridan a 2-0 record in conference play.

“Last year we got off to that bad start in the conference,” said Wright. “This year we’re getting off to a lot better start.”

The Blackhawks are 2-1 overall and continue HHC play Friday by hosting Delphi.

Shamrocks use big plays to beat Eagles

Westfield picked up a solid victory at Zionsville last Friday, beating the Eagles 42-21 to open Hoosier Crossroads Conference play.

Both teams got on the board in the first quarter; Micah Hauser broke the ice for the Shamrocks by punching the ball in from the two-yard line. Westfield opened the game up in the second period, scoring 21 unanswered points to take a 28-7 halftime lead.

Maximus Webster got things started with 4:28 left by zooming 78 yards for a touchdown score. Trevon Hatchett then added a 10-yard touchdown with under a minute to go; a 29-yard catch from Ian Bruch set up the score. Zionsville fumbled the kickoff, and Gabe Arambles streaked 83 yards on a reverse to give the ‘Rocks another touchdown.

The Eagles made a comeback in the third period, scoring twice to get within 28-21. But Westfield wouldn’t let them get closer, putting up 14 more points in the fourth. Hauser scored both touchdowns, first on a 43-yard run. For the second touchdown, Hatchett made an interception, the ball got loose, and Hauser recovered it for a 95-yard return.

Shamrocks coach Jake Gilbert was pleased with his offense, noting that Westfield “had a lot of yards per play. We were way down in time of possession and number of plays run. We made a lot of what we had.”

The ‘Rocks were helped by short-field situations, as well as two scores that were set up by special teams, which the coach said were “dominant tonight.” Caleb King had five extra point kicks and Brody Boehm had one, making Westfield 6-for-6 on extra points.

“We had several really explosive plays that covered a lot of distance,” said Gilbert.

Webster was his usual efficient self, completing nine of 15 pass attempts for 123 yards. He also led the rushing with 99 yards, followed by Hauser with 93 yards. Arambles had three receptions in addition to the 83-yard touchdown run.

Hauser led the defense with 14 total tackles, while Alex Wolf and Popeye Williams both had nine stops. Williams had 2.5 tackles for a loss.

The Shamrocks are 2-1 and host Noblesville Friday.

Strong start sends HSE past Avon

Hamilton Southeastern got off to an outstanding start in Hoosier Crossroads Conference play last Friday, taking care of Avon 40-13 at TCU Field.

The Royals left no doubt in this game, scoring 20 points in each of the first two quarters to hold a 40-0 halftime lead. The first quarter belonged to Southeastern's ground game, as it scored three rushing touchdowns. Blaine Wertz made a pair of medium-sized runs, with Owen Jones getting a six-yard score in between.

In the second quarter, Wertz picked up his third touchdown of the game with 5:30 left on a nine-yard run. The Royals then recovered a fumble during the kickoff return, and that led immediately to a touchdown, as Ty Bradle found Jack Wafford for a 25-yard score.

Southeastern got one more touchdown late in the period, as Sam Jacobs and Dylan Conner combined for a 78-yard pass play score. Alex Geroulis made four extra-point kicks.

Royals coach Michael Kelly said his team "played really well," especially in the first half. He said the defense "played exceptionally well," noting that it was able to stop a team that had put 35 points up against Ben Davis the previous week.

Wertz rushed for 92 yards in addition to the three touchdowns, while Jacobs totaled 90 yards passing and 56 yards rushing.

The Royals are 3-0 and travel to Fishers Friday for the Mudsock game.

HSE boys, Carmel girls win county cross country meet

There was some well-deserved celebration at the Hamilton Southeastern tent last Tuesday night at the Hamilton County cross country meet, as the Royals boys won the team championship.

Southeastern used its depth to score 40 points and come away with the victory at the county meet, which took place at the Chinquapin Ridge course at White River Elementary School in Noblesville. While there was a lot of excitement, Royals coach Joe Golden was quick to put everything in perspective.

"Being a county meet, sometimes we can make too much of it and I just wanted to make sure we just came in and put it in place that it's the first step in a long season," said Golden.

It was certainly a big first step for HSE, and an opportunity for the Royals to show what they can do. Southeastern had four runners, all of them seniors, finish in the top 10, led by Nolan Satterfield's individual runner-up performance.

Bennett Dubois placed fourth for the Royals,

Will Marquardt was sixth and Garrett Hicks finished in 10th place.

The next schools all finished very close to each other. Fishers nosed out Carmel by one point, 56-57 for second place. Noblesville was right there too, placing fourth with 60 points.

The Tigers placed two runners in the top 10. Senior Nick Pulos took seventh and freshman Sam Quaglianoli was next in line at eighth place. Fishers had three more runners finish in the top 16, helping to close the score early.

The Greyhounds will be a contender in every meet, of course, because they have Kole Mathison. Now a junior, Mathison ran away with the individual championship, clocking in at 15 minutes, 24 seconds. This is the third year in a row Mathison has won the county title.

Senior Charles Schuman also reached the top 10 for Carmel, finishing ninth.

Carmel endured a frustrating night last Friday, as Center Grove came into town and beat the Greyhounds 41-14 in their Metropolitan Conference opener.

The defending Class 6A state champion Trojans led 10-0 after the first quarter, and held Carmel to negative rushing during the period. The 'Hounds got back on track in the second period, as their defense stepped up and didn't allow Center Grove any points. Meanwhile, Desmond Duffy got Carmel on the board by catching a two-yard pass from Lleyton Lukowski.

Ben Sponsler made the extra-point kick, and the Greyhounds were within 10-7 at halftime. But the Trojans got going again, putting up 24 unanswered points to lead 34-7 by the fourth quarter.

Lukowski scored in the fourth quarter on a 10-yard run, with Sponsler again making the extra-point kick. The Trojans added a late touchdown to bring the score to the final margin.

Lukowski, filling in for injured Zach Osborne, had a solid game, going 12-for-25 and totaling 160 yards through the air, and also rushing for 53 yards. Jaedon King and Duffy both made five catches.

Carmel is 2-1 and continues MIC play Friday at Pike.
