A historical plaque shown here was unveiled Saturday to mark the location of the former Carmel High School (CHS) and recognize the two evergreen trees that still remain flanking a walk to the school. The CHS class of 1971 donated funds for the bronze plaque as they celebrated their 50-year reunion. ## Noblesville's Toni Dickover honored as Golden Hoosier

The REPORTER

Toni Dickover, a 1965 graduate of Noblesville High School and lifelong Noblesville resident, will receive the 'Golden Hoosier' award from Lieutenant Governor Suzanne Crouch during a virtual ceremony today.

The Golden Hoosier Award "recognizes outstanding older Hoosiers for service to their communities." It acknowledges local heroes who have positively impacted their community through a lifetime of dedication and perseverance.

Dickover has served the community for decades, serving on the Noblesville Main Street, Arcadia Arts and Heritage and Nickel Plate Express boards. She has previously received awards from the Noblesville Preservation Alliance and Noblesville Chamber of Commerce. Dickover is also responsible for managing business operations for her church, Christ United Methodist of Westfield. A proud Miller, Dickover is responsible for organizing frequent reunions of her 1965 Noblesville class, which includes community leaders such as Steve Dillinger and local business owner Stephen Craig.

Dickover will be honored specifically for her most recent volunteer work as Nickel Plate Heritage Railroad former board chair and treasurer. Additionally, she logs numerous volunteer hours assisting passengers on weekend train rides.

"Toni has been instrumental in the preservation of an active railroad in Noblesville," said Nickel Plate Express Director Dagny Zupin. "She has continued to enrich Noblesville and Hamilton County with her passion, dedication and unparalleled work ethic. It has been an incredible pleasure and honor to work alongside Toni at the Nickel Plate Express and I am proud to count her as a friend."

The virtual Golden Hoosier ceremony is being live streamed this morning at 10 a.m. Viewers can watch at this link.

Mayor Andy Cook: Every community needs a Mic Mead

Westfield Mayor

I may sound like a broken record when I say this, but I believe the spirit of a community is found in the people. Although it is nice to offer all of the "things" that make a community desirable — great schools, low crime, world-class amenities, low taxes — these things are not possible without dedicated people working to make them a reality.

Take the soon-to-be Grand Junction Plaza, for example. It could have been a simple greenspace planned for the center of our city, but a group of volunteers knew our community needed a "heart" where people can connect. So, this group worked to create a one-of-a-kind space for our residents and visitors in our downtown.

One of those integral

people was Westfield resident Mic Mead. For those who do not have the privilege of knowing Mic, I will fill you in.

Mic and his wife, Jill, moved to Westfield in 1995 from San Diego. He always jokes that it was not for the weather. Finding himself retired and living in a new place, Mic decided to put his heart to serve in action in the community. Within a few years he decided to serve on the town council. In his time in office, he served on a number of committees creating plans for the future of Westfield. He had a vision of the vibrant place it could be and was integral in the beginning planning stages of the Grand Junction Plaza.

No one fought as hard as Mic for the plaza to become a reality. I hope he is proud when he drives through downtown Westfield now and sees the progress.

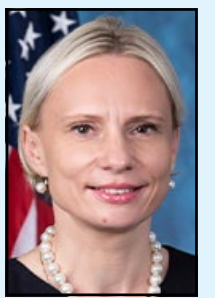

I am convinced every city needs a Mic Mead. He is the embodiment of community. It shows in the support he received this past Monday evening at the City Council meeting. I had the honor of naming September 13 Mitchell F. Mead Day in Westfield and awarding him a Lifetime Achievement Award in coordination with the Westfield Rotary Club, of which he is one of the founding members. I am proud to call Mic a friend and hope his story inspires you to serve with your heart.

Every community needs a Mic Mead.

Fifth District looks better for Spartz

By FRED SWIFT
ReadTheReporter.com

Spartz

U.S. Congresswoman Victoria Spartz should have an easier election in 2022 thanks to the drawing of proposed congressional boundaries. The Republican majority in the General Assembly yesterday released maps of re-drawn districts that show the 5th Congressional District reduced parts of eight counties to six.

Redistricting comes as a result of the 2020 federal census and is required every 10 years.

The 5th District will no longer include a part of Marion County, and is actually more compact than in 2010. The district now includes all of Hamilton, Tipton, Grant, Madison and Delaware counties, and nearly all of Howard County, all of which Spartz won in her first election in 2020. Democrats have claimed the new districts are gerrymandered to favor the GOP.

The driver of the Honda, Jose Lucas Lugo Padua, 79, McCordsville, sustained minor injuries and was treated at the scene. The driver of the Yamaha, legislative districts will be made official in October after public hearings, but are expected to change little from those released Tuesday.

Hamilton County remains split into six state House districts, the same as was the case for the past 10 years. The big change comes in District 37 represented by Tony Cook. It still includes northern Hamilton County, but picks up the eastern portion of the county and eliminates some areas north all the way to Grant County.

This author editorialized earlier this year against further splitting the county into multiple districts when state law provides that districts should be "compact and represent communities of interest."

State senatorial maps will be released later this month.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

AG Rokita negotiates significant multistate settlement with StubHub

The REPORTER

Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita has announced a settlement has been reached by his Consumer Protection Division with California-based StubHub Inc. concerning the company's refusal to pay refunds to consumers for concerts, sports events and other events canceled as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Indiana is joined by nine other states and the District of Columbia in a multistate resolution with the company.

"Hoosiers have suffered enough from the pandemic without having to pay admission to events canceled due to circumstances quite outside their control," Rokita said. "They have every right to expect these refunds, and we will always work diligently to protect consumers."

StubHub operates one of the largest ticket-reselling marketplaces in the country. Under its "FanProtect Guarantee," StubHub offered consumers full refunds of the purchase price and fees they paid for tickets if their events were canceled. In March 2020, however, following the mass cancellation of entertainment events, StubHub stopped honoring its refund guarantee and instead told its customers that they would receive account credits equal to 120 percent of their purchases to be used for future events and denied their requests for refunds.

Following the commencement of the states' coordinated investigations, in May 2021 StubHub reversed its decision and notified its customers that if they purchased tickets prior to March 25, 2020, and their events were canceled, they would receive full refunds of the amounts they paid for their tickets to events unless they elected to retain their account credits. This included approximately 6,800 consumers residing in Indiana or purchasing tickets for events in Indiana, who had previously purchased tickets on StubHub's marketplace under terms that included the FanProtect Guarantee.

Consumers who have not been contacted by StubHub and believe they are entitled to a refund may either contact StubHub at (866) 788-2482 or the Indiana Attorney General's Office at 1-800-382-5516.

The settlement also includes an injunction that requires 1) StubHub to clearly and conspicuously disclose any modification to its refund policies before a consumer agrees to it, 2) honor those policies when events are canceled and 3) promptly process refund requests it receives from consumers for the events at issue going forward. The agreement also provides for a $382,500 civil penalty, which will be waived provided that it pays the refunds owed to Indiana consumers and it does not violate the other terms of the agreement.

Obituary

Richard Dexter Seaver

October 20, 1934 – September 9, 2021

Richard "Rick" Dexter Seaver passed away on September 9, 2021. He was born on October 20, 1934, in Newport, N.H., to Helen (Brooks) Seaver and George Seaver. He was raised at the Knightstown Soldiers' and Sailors' Home in Knightstown, Ind.

While at the Knightstown Home his mentors discovered Rick had musical talent. They arranged and provided transportation for him to take vocal lessons at the Jordan School of Music in Indianapolis. This was made possible through a sponsoring American Legion Chapter. Rick graduated from Morton Memorial High School then attended Ball State University where he received his BS and MA degrees. He was a member of the BSU Concert Choir and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Rick began his teaching career as the band and choral director at Middletown High School. After serving in the U.S. Army, he returned to teach at Sccecina High School. Rick started as Choral Director of Anderson High School the next school year. While at Anderson High School he founded the show choir which through the years won many awards and accolades. He loved competing with the show choir and presenting musicals with the entire choral department. Rick was a staunch Anderson Indians supporter, truly loved teaching, and his students. After leaving the high school, he taught elementary for several years combining for 50 years of total teaching before finally retiring.

Additionally, Rick was the choral director for several churches throughout his career. These included First Baptist Church and First Presbyterian Church in Anderson as well as the First Christian Church in Noblesville. Giving back to the place which gave him so much, Rick started a show choir at the Knightstown Soldiers' and Sailors' Home which he led on weekends for numerous years. In April 1999, Governor Frank O'Bannon bestowed the honor of Sagamore of the Wabash Award to Rick, the highest civilian honor in the State of Indiana.

Rick is survived by his wife of 61 years, Dixie Lee Seaver; son, Ric Seaver, daughter-in-law, Stephanie Seaver; grandsons, Griffin and Graham Seaver; brother, Loring (Dolores) Seaver; and several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his parents and brother, Arthur.

Visitation will be from 4 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, September 16 at Loose Funeral Home, 200 W. 53rd St., Anderson. The funeral service will be at 1 p.m. on Friday, September 17 at Carmel United Methodist Church, 621 S. Range Line Road, Carmel.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Dove Harbor Transitional Housing Ministry (Anderson), Humane Society for Hamilton County (Fishers), or a charity of your choice in memory of Rick.

Millers get past Huskies in five sets

The Noblesville and Hamilton Heights volleyball teams got together for an all-county match at the Huskies' gym on Tuesday, with the Millers winning in five sets, 25-21, 17-25, 25-20, 18-25, 15-9.

It was a great match for the fans, and both teams got something out of it as well. For Noblesville, it was a fifth consecutive win, and it came against a team that was coming into Tuesday with a 10-2 record.

"They've got a good front row and their setter's really strong," said Millers coach Annie Phillips. She knew it would not be an easy match. The Huskies proved it by rebounding to take the second set after Noblesville won the first set; then Heights jumped ahead 11-6 in the third set after the score was tied at 5-5. McKinely Rose and Lauren Lewis both hit kills and Lexi Hayden served an ace.

The Millers stormed back to lead 19-13. Noblesville's serving was beginning to heat up, as Ella Peter and Anna Elkin both hit aces. Ava Harris helped out with a net tip. The Millers clinched the set when Aubrey Stichter hit a kill.

In the fourth set, the Huskies took another early lead at 9-5, and then extended it to 13-7 after Rose put down a kill. Rose would later hit an ace to give Heights its biggest lead of the set at 22-13. A kill by Jordan Fryman tied the match at two sets all.

Noblesville took the early lead in the fifth set thanks to its serving. Elkin smacked back-to-back aces to put the Millers ahead 4-1.

"She served many, many runs tonight," said Phillips. "She was really good on the service line."

The Huskies kept battling and were still within 9-8 in the middle of the set, but Noblesville used a string of five straight points to take control. A Harris kill set up match point, and the Millers won seconds later.

Phillips credited Harris with "mixing up shots, because a kill's a kill, whether it's a tip or a kill down the line. We really worked tonight on making that setter play defense and taking them out of system, and I thought tonight we were able to hit a few more shots than we have been."

"They played hard," said Heights coach Steve Ward of his team. He said that his team had a hard time on the block because of the play of the Millers' front row - "They were a little better than us on the net tonight," said Ward.

Phillips said that after Noblesville's busy weekend - the Millers won their own invitational on Saturday - the team didn't have much time to make adjustments, "and mentally we weren't quite as strong as we have been for this game," she said.

"But I thought they came out in the fifth set and they truly won that set," said Phillips. "They fought, they pushed runs, they stayed ahead the whole time, which
