Republic Airways to build new headquarters along Meridian Corporate Corridor in Carmel

Mayor Fadness presents 2022 Fishers budget

Submitted by City of Carmel

The City of Carmel and Republic Airways have jointly announced that Republic Airways plans to move its training activities and corporate headquarters to Carmel. Republic, one of the largest regional airlines in the U.S., will be part of a redevelopment project along the Meridian Corporate Corridor (U.S. 31). In addition to its headquarters, the site will include a high-tech training facility for pilots, technicians, flight attendants and other positions within the airline, the expansion of an adjacent hotel and a new parking garage wrapped with commercial amenities on the first floor and multifamily living above.

The investment for the initial phases will bring approximately 1,900 new jobs to Carmel with estimated annual wages of $150 million and will allow the company to consolidate training centers currently located in Cincinnati, St. Louis, Indianapolis and a number of other locations. Republic operates a fleet of 220 Embraer aircraft and 6,000 aviation professionals located across 12 crew and maintenance bases, providing nearly 1,000 daily flights to 100 cities in 40 states, Canada, the Caribbean and Central America.

“We are proud of the new investment we are bringing to Carmel,” said Matt Koscal, Republic Airways Chief Administrative Officer. “This project ensures Republic is positioned to attract and retain, the most talented and trained professionals in aviation, by creating a space designed specifically to meet the needs of our associates and to reduce inefficiencies. Locating in the city of Carmel indicates our desire to provide a first-class corporate campus and training facility as this city is often listed among the best places to live, work and raise a family.”

An increase in the daily flow of instructors, pilots, technicians and flight attendants in training and others who work at the corporate headquarters will breathe new life into a commercial development that was

Noblesville, Carmel raving about roundabouts

Carmel celebrating National Roundabouts Week with fun, educational events

The REPORTER

Noblesville Schools announced Monday the upcoming construction of a school-themed art sculpture at the roundabout intersection of Field Drive and Cumberland Road.

The art will celebrate the district's distinctive N in school colors black and gold with the words “Noblesville” and “Millers” highlighted. Two 17-foot aluminum Ns facing in opposite directions will be featured and will be angled in the roundabout to provide visibility from many viewpoints.

The district launched a community art contest in 2019 to seek design inspiration for the project and received five submissions that featured a

Noblesville Mayor Jensen delivers ‘State of the City’ address

The REPORTER

Noblesville Mayor Chris Jensen delivered his annual “State of the City” address to a sold-out crowd at the Noblesville Chamber of Commerce luncheon Tuesday afternoon at Embassy Suites’ Conference Center. Jensen focused on key areas surrounding infrastructure, downtown investment and preservation, public health and safety, and economic development. Some key highlights include:

- The City of Noblesville has announced more than $145 million of downtown investment in the past year. The city is leveraging its partnerships with the Noblesville Preservation Alliance, Main Street and the Chamber of Commerce to work together to maintain the authentic downtown feel while moving impactful projects forward.
- The Milhaus Development is a $118 million mixed-use development at the northwest corner of 146th Street and River Road. The project includes 102 townhome units, 28,800 square feet of commercial/retail space, 312 market rate apartments, and 132 age-restricted market rate apartments.

“This is a gateway to the community along 146th Street and we’re very excited about the redevelopment on that key corridor,” Jensen said.

impacted by upgrades made to U.S. 31. These changes resulted in the loss of direct access from the highway due to the federal highway guidelines about spacing highway exits at least one mile apart.

“This has been an exciting project to be a part of as the economic impact of this project will benefit the City of Carmel, its residents and small businesses for many years to come,” said Tom McGowan, President and COO of Kite Realty Group Trust, the master developer of this project along with Pure Development. “Republic Airways’ enthusiasm to partner with local schools and engage in the community and its workforce development initiatives makes this a great fit for Carmel and the State of Indiana.”

Another positive impact will be an increase in employment opportunities and diversification of Car-mel’s industry sectors that will help further stabilize the city’s workforce. Carmel has been able to weather economic downturns in the past because of a wide variety of businesses in the community better insulating the city from a crisis of a specific sector.

“We are excited to welcome Republic Airways to Carmel,” said Mayor Jim Brainard. “We are especially pleased that their state-of-the-art training facility will bring opportunities for career and workforce development in an industry sector that is not available elsewhere in the area. The ancillary increase in commerce from supporting trades and other industries will further improve our economy. We are also looking forward to the new residents this will bring to the community who can enrich our lives through participation in volunteer outreach and other citizen

The City of Carmel will also invest in the project through a Tax Incremental Financing (TIF) bond that will be considered for approval by the Carmel City Council. The TIF bond will be used for infrastructure improvements, which will benefit and support both the public and the private corporate employees and visitors. Site development, parking facilities, streets and other infrastructure improvements will be funded by the increase in property tax revenues from the new building. The bonds will be backed solely by Republic Airways and the City of Carmel, and its taxpayers will have no liability.

Airline employees in training will be able to live on site during the course of their training. Brainard added that the training center will have a positive impact on local restaurants and retail businesses.

The 105,000 square-foot training facility will be three stories tall and visible to travelers on nearby U.S. 31, providing passersby with a unique view of pilot-training simulators through large bay windows that will face the highway. Within the development, an “eagles nest” viewing deck will allow visitors, school students and other aviation partners a unique view of the excitement of aviation.

Construction will begin with the training facility, which will include 20 classrooms, 94 workstations, two cabin trainers and eight flight simulators. After the corporate headquarters is constructed, four more classrooms will be added along with two more flight simulators. The hotel adjacent to the training center will be expanded to 274 rooms and used exclusively as accommodations for trainees, visiting instructors, business partners and colleagues traveling to the aviation campus.

A key part of the development will be the City of Carmel’s role in financing the construction of a new parking garage to serve both employees and visitors. The garage will not only be convenient it will also allow for more land to be developed in revenue-producing projects, as opposed to open, sprawling parking lots. In addition, the parking garage will be wrapped with commercial amenities on the first floor and multifamily living above, providing shopping and dining options for the thousands who will work in and visit Republic Airways’ facilities. These buildings will be operational 365 days a year. Training and recertification classes are scheduled consistently throughout the year.

Kite Realty is developing the site, and RATIO Architects has designed the buildings with a fresh modern architectural style reflective of technical nature of the facility. Amenities will include outdoor courtyards, rooftop terraces, recreational spaces and other gathering places that will provide places for employees and visitors to meet, relax or simply take a break from the busy working and training environment.

“We want to thank both the Indiana Economic Development Corporation (IEDC) and the City of Carmel for their commitment to making Indiana an aviation destination,” said Koscal. “Today’s announcement builds upon Republic’s partnership with the IEDC to bring affordable flight and technician training to Indianapolis through our LIFT Academy. Taking this partnership to the next level with the City of Carmel and the State of Indiana further enhances Republic’s ability to show students the various career opportunities available within aviation. Providing a clear pathway to fulfilling careers directly from high school is a priority for Hoosiers and the aviation industry and Republic offers a wide variety of opportunities.”

PREVAIL

Advocating for Victims of Crime and Abuse

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

"The black and gold N design is iconic and honors Noblesville Schools' students, staff, alumni and families – past, present and future," said Marnie Cooke, director of marketing and communications for Noblesville Schools. "We hope this becomes a special landmark for the community to enjoy for many years to come and are thankful to the City of Noblesville and Nickel Plate Arts for their support with this project."

"Field Drive and Cumberland Road will be the second roundabout in the city with artwork, and I cannot think of anything more appropriate than a group of Noblesville students and staff collaborating to showcase our community's school spirit through this sculpture," added Noblesville Mayor Chris Jensen.

The district chose this specific roundabout to feature the art thanks to its location at the center of several schools, school facilities and athletic venues, including the new Noblesville High School multipurpose stadium coming in 2022.

The sculpture is being funded through the same construction bond used to build the stadium, with no impact to the tax rate and no use of classroom or referendum dollars.

The project is expected to be completed in October 2021.

AROUND CARMEL

end with special Bike Carmel Roundabout Rides on Saturday.

Carmel has more roundabouts than any city in the United States and continues to replace signalized intersections with more roundabouts. The city of about 102,000 has only 15 traffic lights remaining and continues to earn national recognition, such as a study released in August by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety that credits the city's double-tear-drop interchange design over Keystone Parkway and other historically dangerous intersections for an 84 percent reduction in personal injury crashes and a nearly two-thirds drop in all accidents. Carmel is also being highlighted this month by the Federal Highway Administration as a "Roadway Safety Champion" on the federal agency's website.

"It's important for us to recognize this week and celebrate the many positive results of our network of roundabouts, most importantly their safety," said Mayor Jim Brainard, who has led the charge to build roundabouts since the late 1990s. "The average fatality rate in cities across the country is about 14 deaths annually per 100,000 population. In Carmel, that number is two. We know they are safer, they move traffic more efficiently and they are better for the environment because they drastically reduce emissions from vehicles because less time is spent idling in traffic, waiting for a light to change."

Although roundabouts are still the scene for accidents, most of those result in property damage only. Because of their design, the often-deadly T-bone crashes that are common in intersections, where a driver runs a red light and strikes another car broadside, have been eliminated. Roundabouts force drivers to slow down and yield as they enter the circle at an angle. Federal statistics show that roundabouts lead to 80 percent fewer personal injury accidents and 40 percent fewer accidents of all types.

NOBLESVILLE STATE OF THE CITY

• Patch Development is transforming 75 acres of prime real estate along State Road 37 into a business park to include 11 parcels ranging from two-acre to 22-acre sites. Washington Business Park will have over 800,000 square feet of innovative/flex space. Final development costs are expected to be approximately $70 million, and the project is projected to attract more than 500 new jobs to the city.

• The city is in the planning stage of "Innovation Mile," a master-planned business district which will be along the 141st Street corridor from Olivo Road to Prairie Baptist Road. Innovation Mile will include over 200 acres of high-end, campus-like commercial space where companies can collaborate with other like-minded businesses to catapult Noblesville's economy into the future.

"We realize that advanced technology companies are looking to relocate here – companies that focus on growth and invention. We want to make sure we are fostering that innovative spirit," said Jensen. "The vision for the district is to become a work, play, engage and learn community designed to drive growth from commercial, flex, office, light industrial uses within the city's targeted industries."

• Cityscape Residential is redeveloping the former Marsh site on River Road, building a new $52 million facility. The Nexus project includes 287 residential units and 36,000 square feet of commercial space. It is expected to be completed next winter.

• The Levinson will be open in less than two weeks. The mixed-use project in partnership with Rebar Development includes 85 apartment units, a four-level parking garage with 299 spaces and 7,100 square feet of commercial space.

Jensen also discussed the city's infrastructure and future road improvements – most notably the necessity to move forward on the expansion of Pleasant Street from State Road 37 to Hague Road.

"The expansion of Pleasant Street is my No. 1 infrastructure priority. We will break ground on the $125 million investment by the end of 2022," he said.

Noblesville recently opened the Corporate Campus Infrastructure Improvements in August – three months ahead of schedule. The project widened Olivo Road from 141st Street to 146th Street, and widened 146th Street from Bergen Boulevard to Olivo Road. A new roundabout at 146th Street and Olivo Road was constructed. The $8.5 million investment improves traffic capacity, flow and safety. It also extends sanitary sewer, improved drainage to reduce flooding, and expanded premium developable land.

"This project improves travel and safety in a growing area of our city," said Jensen. "It also improves access to one of the greatest outdoor music venues in America, so concert fans can get in and out of Ruoff Music Center easier."

The City of Noblesville and the Indiana Department of Transportation have an infrastructure partnership for the construction of five new roundabout intersections to improve traffic flow throughout the community by enhancing east-west connectivity. Utility relocation work began this year along State Road 32 and the roundabout with State Road 38 will be in construction next year. The roundabout at SR 32 and River Road will be built in 2023.

Other highlights of Jensen's State of the City speech include:

- Police De-Escalation Simulator Training Room
- The VirTra simulator provides NPD active threat training such as ambushes, domestic violence, emotionally disturbed people, high-risk vehicle stops, hostage situations.

"Our officers are faced with crisis situations when calls come in," Jensen said. "This allows our police department to train in real-time with specifically created scenarios or previous incidents we have encountered. The scenarios are customizable to provide officers real-life outcomes based on the actions and tactics they use."

• NobleAct – The paramedicine program has expanded and the Noblesville Fire Department has added Community Resource Paramedics to NobleAct to address other medical needs such as fall assessment and prevention, vaccinating homebound Hoosiers, and telehealth visits.

• Finch Creek Park – The city's sixth park opened in fall 2020. Amenities include shelters, playgrounds, splash pad, trails, open space, basketball and pickleball. This is the first phase of development of the park.

• Bike Share Returns –

The City of Noblesville has partnered with Tandem Mobility to relaunch its bike-share program that provides all Noblesville residents and visitors with a convenient, affordable and healthy way to get around town. Ten cruiser bikes will be available between the city's two stations at Forest Park and the Midland Trace Trailhead for members to use for on-demand, local trips.

• Santa Tour – Due to public health concerns, the city replaced its annual Christmas Parade last year with the "Home for the Holidays Tour" featuring Santa Claus. Instead of one parade right after Thanksgiving, the city created seven routes over two weekends bringing Santa to neighborhoods throughout the city. Since it was a success, Jensen announced the Holidays' Santa Tour will return this winter.

DNR is celebrating National Public Lands Day on Saturday, Sept. 25 and Sunday, Sept. 26. That means it's time to get outside and choose your favorite outdoor activity at one of the many DNR properties throughout Indiana (on.IN.gov/recfinder).

National Public Lands Day is the nation's largest single-day volunteer effort involving public lands. Many properties are hosting volunteer events, but every act of kindness counts. Whether you pick up trash on a walk or volunteer at an

Worrell: Shaffer wrong to use Rotarians to fabricate a narrative

Dear Editor: I am writing to defend the Rotary Club of Carmel against the disparaging remarks by serial letter writer William Shaffer in his Sept. 17 letter, "Shaffer to Brainard: Taking responsibility is your job."

While I expect him to routinely kick the Mayor of Carmel in the teeth and constantly complain about his own hometown, I was surprised to see him project his bitter nature onto the upstanding men and women of the Rotary Club of Carmel. In essence, Mr. Shaffer presumes the Rotary Club of Carmel would react out of vindictiveness, just as he might have.

The complete opposite is true. Mr. Shaffer states in his letter, "Carmel Rotary Club members will think twice before volunteering to stage CarmelFest 2022 or any other civic amusement dependent upon volunteers."

Not the Rotarians I know. Unlike Mr. Shaffer, Carmel Rotarians are civic minded, love their community and work hard on its behalf, root FOR the city, not against, and would not punish citizens and their neighbors by holding back because of a disagreement. But, as is the case with most of Mr. Shaffer's writing, he is fabricating a narrative and carelessly decided to use Rotarians as a prop in his tale of woe.

Thank goodness Rotary Club of Carmel is hard at work planning for CarmelFest 2022, and Mr. Shaffer once again, does not know what he is writing about.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

This will be my third visit to you. "Every matter must be established by the testimony of two or three witnesses." I already gave you a warning when I was with you the second time. I now repeat it while absent: On my return I will not spare those who sinned earlier or any of the others, since you are demanding proof that Christ is speaking through me. He is not weak in dealing with you, but is powerful among you. For to be sure, he was crucified in weakness, yet he lives by God's power. Likewise, we are weak in him, yet by God's power we will live with him in our dealing with you.

Website makes it easy to find accurate, high-quality health care pricing information

The REPORTER

The Indiana Hospital Association (IHA) last Friday announced a new update to mycareInsight.org, a tool it created in 2015 to make health care price and quality information publicly available to consumers. The updated site now includes a single location in which Hoosiers can find hospital-specific price information for common shoppable services, out-of-pocket price estimator tools where available, and standard charges for all items and services in a machine-readable format, as required by the federal Price Transparency Rule.

"Our hospitals are working individually and collectively to continuously improve mycareInsight so every patient has the information they need to make informed decisions about their care," said IHA President Brian Tabor.

Since 2015, mycareInsight has allowed consumers to compare hospital charges and quality ratings for the 100 most frequent inpatient services and the 50 most frequent outpatient procedures, helping to clarify the complex factors that affect the cost of hospital services.

Although Indiana hospitals have complied with the federal Price Transparency Rule, there was no single location to quickly find links to each hospital's information until now.

"I'm proud of our member hospitals' commitment to transparency and their compliance with new federal regulations despite the ongoing challenges of the pandemic," said Tabor. "Today's announcement makes this information even more accessible to Hoosier consumers."

While IHA has enhanced the mycareInsight tool to include direct links to hospital-specific price information for all Indiana hospitals, the overall function of the website remains the same. The website was developed using public data that is reported to the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services and the Indiana Department of Health and includes important measures of care provided in the hospital, including patient satisfaction, readmissions, infections, deaths, birthing outcomes, hospital charges, and more.

"While the data on mycareInsight provides a great starting point for consumers to begin comparing hospitals and making health care decisions, it only tells part of the story and we cannot provide what a patient's out-of-pocket cost will be based on their insurance," said Tabor. "To make health care prices truly transparent, pending federal transparency requirements for health insurance companies should be accelerated and put into state law."

To access the updated site, consumers can visit mycareInsight.org.

Girls golf sectionals

'Rocks, Royals win team championships

Even a little rain couldn't stop the Westfield girls golf team from another sectional championship.

The Shamrocks triumphed at the Guerin Catholic sectional, which took place Monday at Pebble Brook Golf Club. Westfield won its sixth title in eight years by carding a 295, leading a Hamilton County sweep of the top four positions.

Carmel placed second with a solid score of 305, while University placed third with a 328. The top three teams advance to the Roncalli regional, which takes place Friday at Smock Golf Club in Indianapolis. Guerin Catholic finished fourth, but will have two players advance to Smock as individuals.

In addition to the team trophy, the 'Rocks also claimed the meet medalist. Samantha Brown earned that honor with a score of 71. Brown had two birdies in her round.

"I was hitting it well," said Brown. "I think that my putting was off. I didn't really get many putts to drop, but I was able to manage my way around that and I was hitting it close, just two-putting most of the day."

Sophie McGinnis tied for second individually with a score of 72, with one birdie. Westfield had four players score in the 70s, with Addi Kooi carding a 75 and Brette Hanavan finishing with a 77. Kooi made two birdies and Hanavan had one.

"We played really consistent today," said Shamrocks coach Trevor Neu. "One of the things we talked about as a team on Friday was limiting our mistakes out there. As a team, I think we had maybe three holes where we had a double (bogey) or higher, so we really did a good job of managing that and just staying consistent throughout both nine holes."

Carmel was led by senior Ava Hedrick, who placed fourth individually with a score of 73. Hedrick made two birdies in her round. Michaela Headlee scored 75 and Claire Swathwood had a 76; both drained one birdie.

"I think we played well," said Greyhounds coach Kelly Kluesner. "We dealt with some rain, we dealt with a lot of wind. The girls stayed focused. Our goal always at the sectional is just to survive and advance. We accomplished that goal."

University also has a senior leader helping the Trailblazers to a second consecutive trip to the regional. Becky Williams tied with McGinnis for second place by carding a 72; Williams made three birdies during her round. Sydni Zebrasukas placed fifth individually by scoring a 74.

"We were able to pull it off," said University coach Taylor Newell. The coach said his team "did a really good job with the wind conditions," as that posed a challenge.

"They were really dialed in and I think we're really just trying to have fun on the golf course, which is what we always try to do. They pulled it off, so I'm very proud."

Guerin Catholic scored 343 as a team. Christina Pfefferkorn earned a ticket to the regional with her round of 76, and will be joined by Jenny Zerla, as her 84 also placed her among the top three individuals not on an advancing team. Isabella Pinon and Grace Cates both had one birdie in their respective rounds.

Over at Harbour Trees, Hamilton Southeastern ran away with the Noblesville sectional championship.

The Royals claimed the program's 12th sectional title with an outstanding score of 299. It was the first time this season that Southeastern broke 300, and the Royals picked the best time to do that.

"It was pretty consistent today," said HSE coach Steve Guenin. "It started out kind of nasty, just blowing around a little bit, raining a little bit. But it turned out okay in the end, for sure. The course was in great shape. They did a really nice job of getting this thing set up for us, and so it was exciting to get our here and put together a nice round."

Marissa Spreitzer was the meet medalist with a score of three under par 68, by far a personal best. She made four birdies in her round.

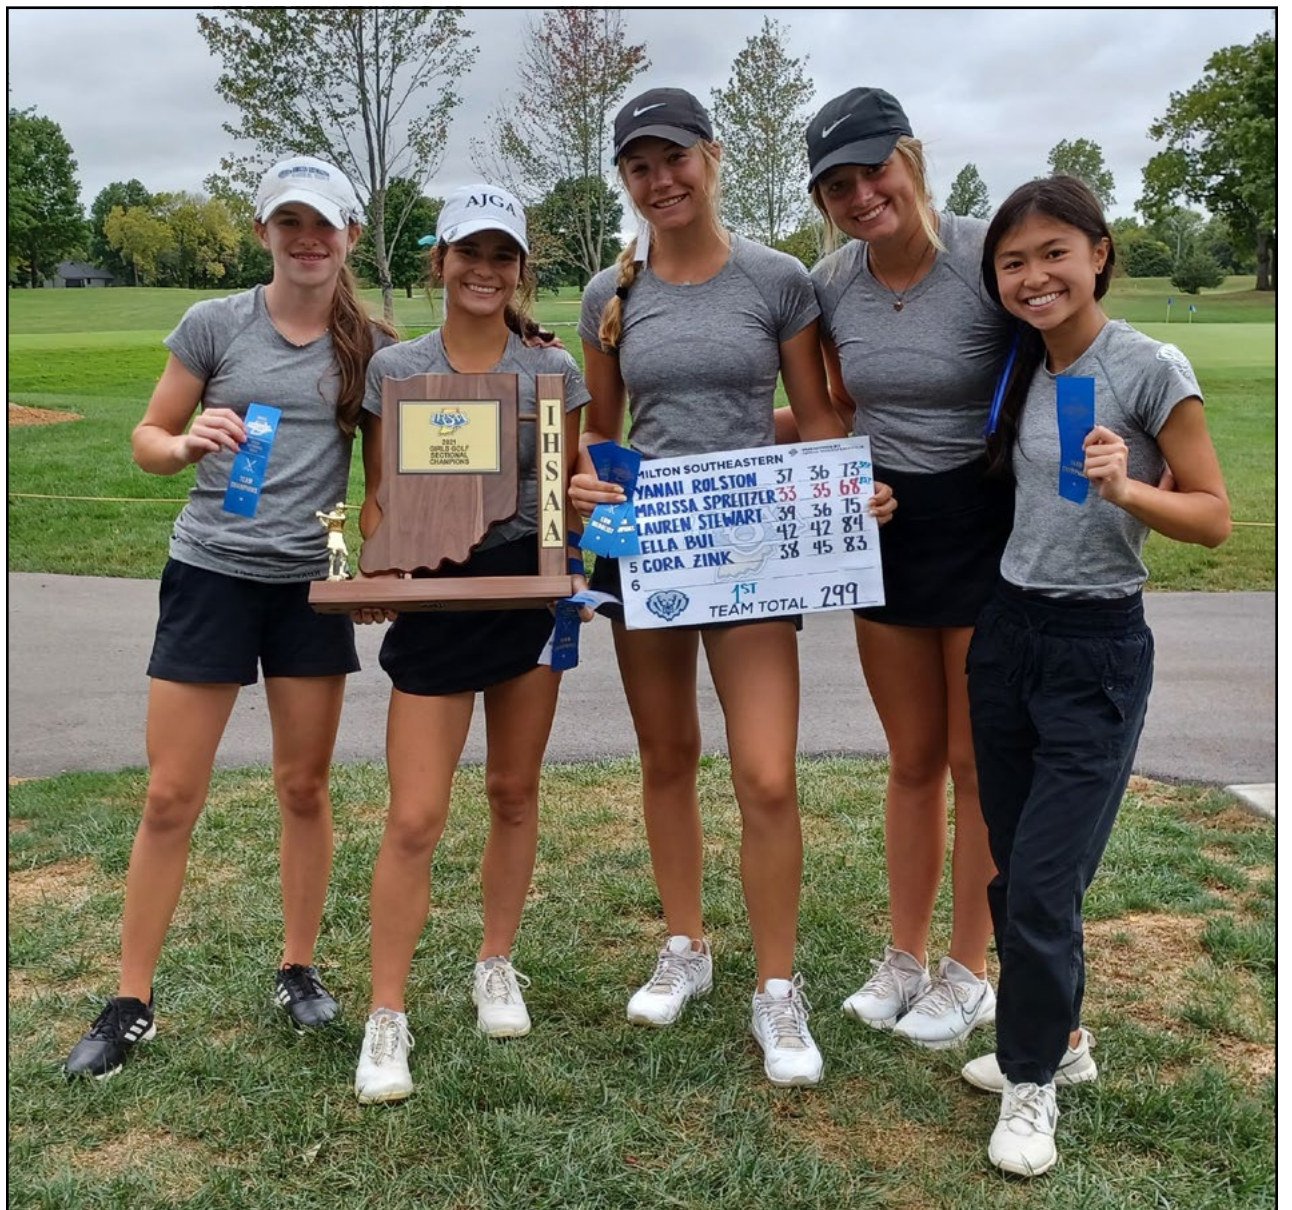

"I played pretty good," said Spreitzer. "I'm really proud of everything that I've done and how I've worked really hard to get something as amazing as this, especially senior Southeastern had three players finish in the top five. Yanah Ralston's score of 73 earned her third place, while Lauren Stewart carded a 75, placing her fifth. Ralston also made four birdies, while Stewart had one. Ella Bui had two birdies and Cora Zink made one.

Millers girls beat 'Hounds, Carmel boys clinch MIC title, Fishers boys win share of HCC

In a Monday all-county girls soccer game, Class 3A No. 1 Noblesville got going in the second half and beat 3A No. 3 Carmel 2-0 at the Greyhounds' Murray Stadium.

The Millers had to wait until the 54th minute to get their first goal. Meredith Tippner scored that goal, as she took a pass from Lauren Adam and eventually kicked it into the net.
