

Carmel Symphony Orchestra launches 46th season Oct. 9 with Rachmaninoff, Beethoven

The REPORTER

Dun dun dun dunnnnn!
Classical music's four most recognizable notes will resonate on Saturday evening, Oct. 9 when Carmel Symphony Orchestra (CSO), under Artistic Director Janna Hymes, opens its 46th season with its Masterworks 1 presentation: the Rachmaninoff Piano Concerto No. 2 in C Minor, plus the beloved Beethoven Symphony No. 5.

The performance begins at 7:30 p.m. at the Palladium at the Center for the Performing Arts (CPA), 1 Carter Green, Carmel. Guest pianist Orion Weiss will join the CSO in performing the Rachmaninoff selection. The concert also marks the official debut of Zachary DePue as the orchestra's new Concertmaster.

Weiss is widely regarded as a "brilliant pianist" (The New York Times) with "powerful technique and exceptional insight" (The Washington Post). He has dazzled audiences with his lush sound, and has performed with dozens of North American orchestras as well as at major venues and festivals worldwide.

Tickets begin at just $20 for adults, and are available at CarmelSymphony.org. Abundant free parking – curbside or garage – is available within a short walk of the Palladium.

"We are thrilled to welcome a full house back to the Palladium!" Hymes exclaimed. "The CSO is one of only a handful of orchestras that continued to perform throughout the past year-plus, and we loved being able to continue to make the music, but with the severe attendance restrictions inside the hall, it simply wasn't the same. Musicians feed off the excitement and enthusiasm and energy of a live audience. We've missed that, we need that, and we're all anticipating getting back to what we know and love best – and that's performing exceptional music in front of a big and appreciative crowd!"

Hymes continued, "That said, we fully acknowledge the unavoidable fact that this pandemic continues to present challenges for all of us. The CSO is working closely with the Center for the Performing Arts to ensure that we are providing the most secure and safest possible environment in which our fans can come and revel in this beautiful music, all season long."

The CPA recently announced its campus health and safety policies and protocols:

- Masks are required for everyone age 3 and older (worn at all times except when actively eating or drinking);

- All patrons age 12 and up must show proof of full COVID-19 vaccination when entering the Palladium and other CPA indoor spaces (paper vaccination cards, photocopies, photos or digital images confirming vaccination status will be accepted, along with valid ID);

• As an alternative to vaccination – and a requirement for patrons ages 5 to 11 who are not currently eligible for the vaccine – patrons may present physical or digital proof of a negative COVID-19 test taken within 72 hours prior to the event.

Complete policy details can be found at TheCenterPresents.org.

Artistic Director Hymes has compiled an exceptional 46th season of music that runs the gamut from beloved classical compositions to energetic pops favorites. The orchestra recently celebrated Labor Day Weekend with its sold-out Classical Mystery Tour – the Music of The Beatles performance at Coxhall Gardens. The outdoor event, co-presented with Hamilton County Parks & Recreation, was the CSO's first at the dazzling westside Carmel park.

The 2021-22 Carmel Symphony Orchestra season is supported by the City of Carmel, the Center for the Performing Arts, the Palladium, and Pedcor.

How many Hoosiers died from Spanish flu?

The REPORTER

This week in Indiana's history ...

1858 – The Metropolitan, the first theater in Indianapolis, opened its doors to the public. Located on the northeast corner of Washington and Tennessee streets (now Capitol Avenue), it was described by the newspaper as "the most elegant theater in the West." For the premiere performance, a cast of 23 actors presented two plays: a drama titled Love's Sacrifice and a comedy called My Neighbor's Wife, described as "a laughable farce."

1881 – Indiana Governor Albert Porter and other state officials traveled to Cleveland, Ohio, to attend the funeral of President James A. Garfield. The President had died from infection caused by an assassin's bullet. He had been shot in the Washington train station two months earlier. Governor Porter issued a proclamation encouraging the cessation of all business throughout the state on the afternoon of the funeral.

1918 – The first cases of Spanish Influenza were reported in Indianapolis. The health department issued orders effectively closing all schools, theaters, and churches. Many businesses shut down and postal workers were ordered to wear facial masks. The city would have over 6,000 influenza cases over the next two months. Statewide, over 3,200 Hoosiers died from the illness.

1934 – Elfrieda Mais LaPlante was killed while driving a stunt car through a wall of fire at the Alabama State Fairgrounds. Born and raised in Indianapolis, she was billed as the "only woman auto racer in the world." She had an adventure-filled life as a "wing walker" on airplanes, a race driver, and a stunt car star.

1953 – Brooklyn Dodgers pitcher Carl Erskine set a baseball World Series record with 14 strikeouts in one game. He led the team to a win over the New York Yankees by a score of 3 to 2. Erskine, from Anderson, Ind., spent his entire career with the Dodgers from 1948 to 1959. He was the pitching mainstay in winning five National League pennants.

2018 – Governor Eric Holcomb took part in the official commissioning of the new USS Indiana at Cape Canaveral, Fla. A fast-attack submarine, the vessel is powered by a nuclear reactor that can go three decades without refueling. The governor told the service members, "Your crew is a lot bigger than you think ... it is 6 million strong because there are 6.6 million Hoosiers who are proud of the USS Indiana."

Does GenZ hate free speech?

Editor's Note: The Sheridan Student Column is brought to readers by Sheridan High School's 10th grade English class, taught by Abby Williams.

My generation is a unique one. Growing up in modern times has shaped us into who we are, and given us challenges previously unfaced by other generations. Parenting practices have overall evolved to be more gentle and affirming, making us more fragile when people disagree with us.

We have grown up in a new era of technology, making us (among other things) more politically active at a younger age than ever before; and this has all happened in an increasingly divided political and social landscape, where those with differing opinions are seen as "others" and avoided.

All of these have contributed to GenZ's negative attitude toward those who disagree with us and our willingness to shut down conversations surrounding controversial topics. We see many things as dichotomous, when they really aren't that simple. There isn't one straightforward solution to complex issues such as systemic racism or climate change. We need discussions between diverse thinkers in order to identify problems and come up with viable solutions.

But how can this happen when, due to our faults in understanding disagreement, we don't allow these conversations to occur? Universities set the stage for what happens in the rest of the world, with what occurs in academia spilling over into other arenas. As explored in The Coddling of the American Mind by Greg Lukianoff and Jonathan Haidt, the lack of protected free speech on college campuses, which happened just as the student body shifted from Millennials to members of GenZ, is dangerous to our society.

Regardless of the way things have gone, it isn't too late to make it better. GenZ has the power to accomplish great things, and we're going to have to live up to that if we want our society to continue improving rather than to collapse. The internet gives us the resources to educate ourselves on any topic of our choosing, and our political involvement and activism can be used to do good. Once we realize that a culture of censorship (whether that's self-censorship or censorship by an institution) is harming us, we can move past it and give ourselves a chance to recover.

In regard to the political division, there is more that we agree on than that which we disagree on. Recognizing this and allowing conversations to address these issues, as well as those that are more sophisticated, will be invaluable to our future and the future of generations to come.

So no, GenZ doesn't hate free speech. We have just inherited a society with major flaws and not been equipped with the tools to fix them. We have applied a solution that was within our wheelhouse (attempting to take away free speech) and it has failed miserably, so now we're looking for where to go next.

Finding better solutions can be aided by those who educate us — and classrooms are the place to start. I've had teachers who shut down discussions due to their own beliefs in what is correct. I've also had teachers who encourage discussions among students in the pursuit of truth. The classrooms that are havens of free speech have been, in my experience, more productive, and have helped students to truly learn to think critically and display those thoughts in a civil manner.

The decisions my generation makes will affect every generation that comes after us — so I implore us, as well as our educators, to undo what we have done and once again encourage thoughtful, respectful discussions.

After all, we can't make progress solving other problems until we address this one.

Senators Braun, Hassan call for enforcement of hospital price transparency rule in letter to CMS

The REPORTER

Senator Mike Braun (R-Ind.) and Senator Maggie Hassan (D-N.H.) called for robust enforcement of key health care price transparency requirements in a letter to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) Administrator Chiquita Brooks-Lasure. The senators applauded CMS' recent efforts to enhance compliance of the Price Transparency Rule in hospitals and requested the results of CMS's current oversight efforts of non-compliant hospitals to ensure that Americans have access to the most transparent and up-to-date prices.

Read the full text of the letter below:

Dear Administrator Brooks-Lasure:

We write today to call for robust enforcement of key health care price transparency requirements, and to applaud your recent efforts to enhance compliance with such requirements by increasing civil monetary penalties for noncompliance. There is no doubt the health care system is broken, and that the American people deserve better. We appreciate your prompt attention to this matter and stand ready to assist the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) and its staff.

On September 24, 2020, President Trump issued an Executive Order that was designed to make health care pricing more transparent and accessible to the American people, support competition, and empower consumers to make informed and value-conscious decisions ("Price Transparency Rule"). The rule requires hospitals to provide the rates for 300 common services and the amount they are willing to accept in cash in a digital, consumer-friendly database. The Trump administration issued and subsequently finalized the Price Transparency Rule in November 2020, marking a significant step toward achieving full transparency in the health care market. In December 2020, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit issued a 2-0 decision upholding the Trump Administration's

The City of Carmel will hold an unveiling ceremony on Monday, Sept. 27 for Ethereal Rhapsody, a mural along the Monon Greenway inside the pedestrian tunnel under City Center Drive.

Join Mayor Jim Brainard, Carmel Clay Parks and Recreation Director Michael Klitzing, Carmel Clay Schools Superintendent Dr. Michael Beresford, Carmel High School Art Department Chair Jen Bupp, John-Michael Polly of O.N.E. Consulting, LLC, and Carmel High School student artist Caroline Hammonds at 4:30 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 27 next to the Monon Greenway on the east side of the Palladium, south of the pedestrian tunnel under City Center Drive in Carmel.

Ethereal Rhapsody, the winning design, was created by Hammonds and features musical elements within an Indiana sunset. Hammonds was listening to classical music and the song "Girl of the Year" by musical duo Beach House when she was inspired to create a piece that would hold the beauty of a state that doesn't have mountains or oceans, but is equally picturesque.

TODAY’S BIBLE READING

I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting the one who called you to live in the grace of Christ and are turning to a different gospel—which is really no gospel at all. Evidently some people are throwing you into confusion and are trying to pervert the gospel of Christ. But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach a gospel other than the one we preached to you, let them be under God’s curse! As we have already said, so now I say again: If anybody is preaching to you a gospel other than what you accepted, let them be under God’s curse!

Am I now trying to win the approval of human beings, or of God? Or am I trying to please people? If I were still trying to please people, I would not be a servant of Christ.

LETTER

Price Transparency Rule, affirming that hospitals must comply with the requirements of the final rule to publicly disclose their standard charges. However, work remains to be done to ensure hospitals fully adopt and are held accountable to the provisions within the rule.

Under the Price Transparency Rule, hospitals were required to disclose their standard charges the day the final rule took effect on January 1, 2021, providing hospitals with time to collect and publish the standard charge information. CMS is responsible for evaluating and enforcing hospital compliance with the requirements prescribed in the rule. It is our understanding that if CMS finds that a hospital failed to disclose its standard charges by January 1, 2021, CMS may take action to, in no required order, issue a warning notice to the hospital, request a corrective action plan, impose a civil monetary payment of $300 per day until rule requirements are met, and name the noncompliant hospitals publicly on CMS’s website.

A study published on March 16, 2021 examining the price transparency of the 100 highest-revenue hospitals in the United States concluded that 65 of those 100 hospitals were non-compliant with the Price Transparency Rule. Of these 65, 12 did not provide files or links to searchable databases. Furthermore, 53 of the 65 non-compliant hospitals did not include payer-specific negotiated rates or were non-compliant in other ways.

Even “compliance” under the current definition has not resulted in adequate tools for patient price shopping. Hospitals deemed compliant have engaged in practices that do not meet the rule’s intent, including providing incomplete information, implementing burdensome access restrictions, utilizing code to block prices from being displayed on search engines, and creating tools to obfuscate access to mobile app developers or patients. Nearly every hospital evaluated for compliance in one study buried their cost sheets deep within their websites. The hospitals engaging in these practices should not be considered compliant with the law, as even savvy patients would struggle to navigate these intentionally complex systems.

It is clear that the current $300 per day civil monetary penalty threshold was not sufficient to hold hospitals accountable for complying with the transparency agreements. For that reason, we commend CMS’s recent proposal to increase the civil monetary threshold for non-compliant hospitals. In the interim, we write to inquire about the results of CMS’s current oversight efforts of non-compliant hospitals to ensure that Americans have access to the most transparent and up-to-date prices.

We respectfully request that you provide to us no later than 5 p.m. on Friday, October 1st, 2021, the following information:

1. The number of hospitals currently subject to the Price Transparency Rule;
2. Of these hospitals subject to the rule:

1. The number of hospitals that have received warning letters and/or correction action plans (CAP) from CMS for non-compliance

(preferably by state);

2. The number of responses CMS received from non-compliant hospitals (preferably by state), and a description sufficient to help Congress understand either the improvement that is underway, or the work that remains to be done;

3. The number of hospitals that have been issued a civil monetary penalty by CMS;

3. A description of how CMS is auditing compliance with warning letters and/or CAPs;

4. The date by which CMS expects to issue its first civil monetary penalty for non-compliance;

5. A description of how CMS informs Congress and the American people about which hospitals are fully compliant (or not) with efforts to increase transparency of health care pricing.

Thank you again for your attention to this important matter. We look forward to working with CMS and its staff to ensure full compliance with this important rule.

Sincerely,
Sen. Mike Braun

Girls golf regional Millers win team title, HSE's Rolston is medalist

As the sun was preparing to set at The Edge (formerly Edgewood Golf Club), the host of the Lapel girls golf regional, one of the members of the Noblesville team noted that it had been a long day.

"Yes," said Millers coach Justin Werkley, "but it was worth it in the end."

Indeed. Noblesville waited out a rain delay that pushed back the start of the regional by an hour, then went out and played a consistent round of golf – one that gave the Millers another regional title.

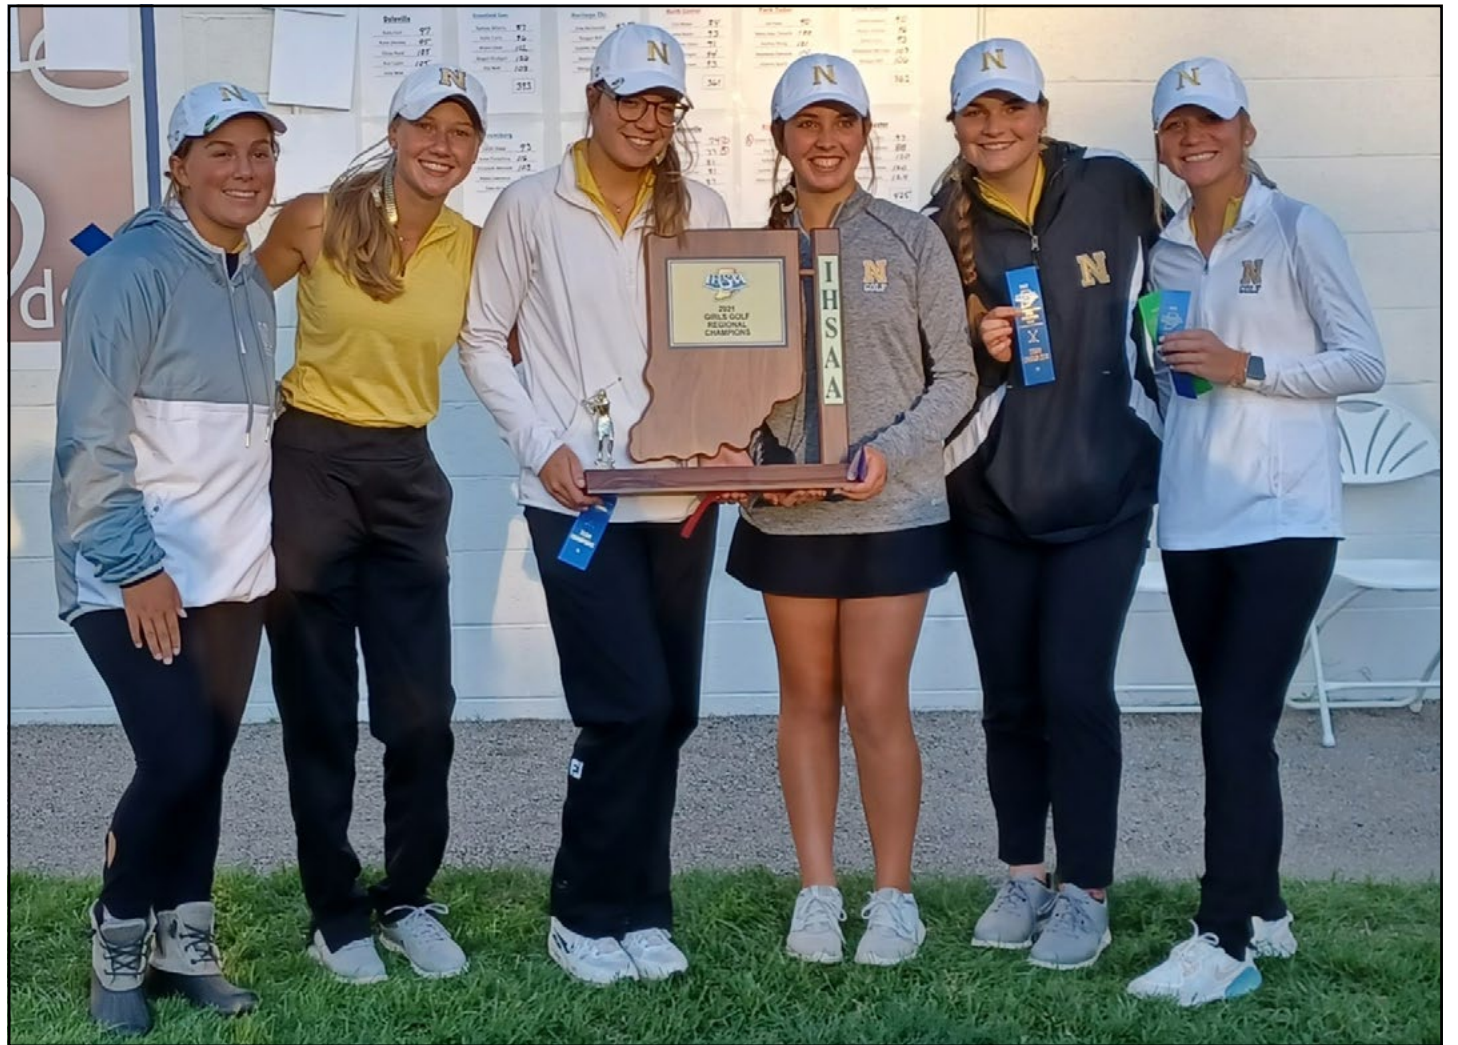

Noblesville totaled a score of 313 to win the Lapel regional, thus defending its championship. It's the first time the Millers have won consecutive regional titles in 19 years; the last time Noblesville did so was during a streak of five championships in a row from 1998 to 2002.

"We played really well today," said Werkley. "Just a good day to have a good day. The goal is always just to advance, but to get a win is a nice extra, nice cherry on top."

The top three teams at the regional advance to the state finals, which begin Friday at Prairie View Golf Club in Carmel. Hamilton Southeastern will join the Millers at the state; the Royals finished a close second with a score of 315. Batesville finished third with a 331 and qualified for state for the first time in school history.

Noblesville had two golfers finish in the top five. Caroline Whallon led the way with a 74, good for runner-up honors. Whallon carded a 34 on her back nine.

Jordan Adam placed fifth by scoring 77, followed by 81s from Sophi Stutz and Olivia Anderson, both of whom were playing in their first regional. Erin Burt, also a first-time regional participant, rounded out the Millers scoring with an 87. Noblesville's consistency won the day, and Werkley called it "the name of the game."

The Noblesville girls golf team defended its title at the Lapel regional Saturday at The Edge Golf Club. The Millers won the program's 13th regional championship and will play at next weekend's state meet.

"We were steady, we didn't make a lot of mistakes," said Werkley. "The rain delay this morning and the tough conditions, they were just mentally tough and gutted it out all day."

The regional victory was the 13th for the Millers. Noblesville is now tied with

Carmel boys win all-county game

In a Friday all-county boys soccer game, Class 3A No. 13 Carmel beat 2A No. 2 Guerin Catholic 3-0. Senior Baenan McKeown scored two goals for the Greyhounds, with junior Will Latham scoring one. Seniors Drew Valdez and Josh Martinez and junior Callum McKeown each had one assist. Senior TJ Barrett got the goalkeeper shutout. "I am proud of the effort the guys gave tonight," said Carmel coach Shane Schmidt. "Wrapping up three straight weeks of Tuesday, Thursday, Friday games. I felt our mixture of direct play and combination play was good."

Carmel is 10-3-1 and plays Monday at Center Grove in a Metropolitan Conference game. Guerin Catholic is 7-3 and hosts Lafayette Central Catholic on Tuesday.

Noblesville's boys team won two games on Saturday. In their first game, the Class 3A No. 2 Millers beat Fort Wayne Carroll 3-0, scoring all of their goals in the first half. Noblesville got the first goal during the sixth minute, with Kyle Goad setting up a Palmer Ault shot that deflected off a defender and rolled into the net. Brayden Doll scored the Millers' second goal, then Sammy Holland made a penalty kick for the third goal. Noblesville beat 3A No. 20 Homestead 1-0 in its second game, which also served as its Senior Night game. Cole Bramblett scored the Millers' goal in the fourth minute. Noblesville finishes its regular and Hoosier Crossroads Conference season Thursday at Brownsburg.

Fishers' boys team also played two games on Saturday. First, the Class 3A No. 1 Tigers cruised past Evansville Harrison 9-0. Andres Carabano scored three goals, followed by Keiji Nakamae with two goals. Kyle Clayton, Santi Morales, Charlie Stump and Tyler March each got one goal. In its second game, Fishers played to a 2-2 tie with 3A No. 5 Penn. Noah Reinhart and Nakamae each scored one goal. The Tigers are 12-0-2 and finish the regular season Tuesday at Greenfield-Central.

Carmel's girls team, ranked No. 3 in 3A, beat 3A No. 10 Zionsville 2-0 in a Saturday away game. The Greyhounds scored both goals in the first half. Emily Roper scored off an assist by Megan Hamm, then Sophie Shepherd scored off an Olivia Cebalo assist. Carmel is 11-2-2 and finishes its regular season Monday by hosting Westfield.

Noblesville's girls team, ranked No. 1 in 3A, swept past Penn 4-0 on Saturday. Meredith Tippner got the Millers on the board in the first minute by scoring off an Ava Bramblett assist. Bramblett scored Noblesville's second goal in the 10th minute, with Meskerem James providing the assist. Right before halftime, Marit McLaughlin put the ball in the net, with Makenna Maloy assisting. Paige Smucker completed the scoring with a goal in the 69th minute.

The Millers are 13-0 and play at Hamilton Southeastern Wednesday in their HCC and regular-season finale.

Penn and Carmel (which won its 13th regional title yesterday at Smock Golf Club) for second in terms of most regional championships. Martinsville leads the list with 21 regional titles.

The Millers will be making their 28th appearance at the state meet, tying them for third place with Columbus North. Lafayette Jefferson has the most state appearances with 31, followed by Carmel with 30.

The Royals had the top individual at the regional: Yanah Rolston scored a 69 to earn medalist honors at this regional for the second time. Rolston won in 2019, when she was playing at Heritage Christian.

"I played pretty good," said Rolston. "My short game was pretty solid and putting, so I think that's how I got some birdies."

Rolston played bogey-free golf through her first 13 holes, "so it was a pretty solid day," she said.

The Southeastern team played consistent as well. Lauren Stewart was next in line with an 81, Ella Bui scored 82, Marissa Spreitzer added an 83 and Cora Zink scored an 84.

"We're excited about Yanah," said HSE coach Steve Guenin. "She had a great day today. We weren't great today by a long shot, but we did a lot of nice things and obviously, we just did enough today. Nothing great, nothing fancy."

Southeastern qualified for state for the 17th time in the program's history.

"We don't want to ever take that for granted or anything like that," said Guenin. "We want to recognize how special it is, because it just doesn't happen for everybody all the time. We'll work hard to get prepared to do the best we can out there. More importantly, can we get out there and enjoy the experience and being a part of that. We'll talk a lot about that this week, getting ready for Friday."

Two county individuals also played at the regional. Fishers' Lilly McVay carded an 82 and was part of a three-woman playoff for the fifth individual advancing spot. Mount Vernon's Alaina Nugent won the playoff to advance to state. Hamilton Heights' Ashlyn Tharp also played at the regional, scoring a 91.
