Noblesville H.S. Lions Leos help local homeless

The Noblesville High School (NHS) Lions Leo Club recently finished their Book Bag Drive for the Homeless. Lions Steve Morgan and Steve Shaw helped supervise the event. The Leos compiled 48 book bags filled with warm hats, gloves, scarves, blankets, socks, toothbrushes, toothpaste, soap, shampoo, and many other items. Awesome job by the senior leaders, and everyone pitched in as Lions Morgan and Shaw can attest. Lion John Smith is a teacher at NHS and is the Leo Club Sponsor.

I've often made the comment that I'm not a journalist. Writing does not come easy for me; however, I do feel that I do a good job of collecting local news and bringing it to Reporter readers. So, by definition, I'll concede to the title.

Journalists are more often read than seen. Their work is typically produced from behind a keyboard and computer screen. It may help to understand who these people are when they close their laptops each day. Some are your neighbors, some sit next to you in the church pew, some are parents and grandparents, and most are engaged in their communities outside of their work.

Dear Editor:

A year and a half ago, Carmel progressive elites hired consultants to cal- record request" with the city attorney's culate return-on-investment on portions of the $1.4 billion municipal debt that bought roundabouts and that were used to finance dozens of Tax Increment Financing projects (that allegedly pay for themselves).

Both studies would silence critics who cite police data showing Carmel streets were safe before roundabouts and have remained safe since.

And silence those who wonder why government funds should be used to replace vacant lots with vacant buildings.

The projects were managed by the mayor's speechwriter, which seems the CRC projects have created. odd.

Odder still is the absence of any re-

When this citizen filed a "written office, asking for at least the results of a public opinion survey the mayor invited us to fill out, the reply was:

"The survey results are still in draft form and will not be released at this time . . ."

Since the whole charade is a PR stunt, it is likely the results in draft form show the people who did respond didn't think a whole lot of the CRC projects.

Fortunately for the progressive elites in city hall, no surveys have been taken as to public views of vapid roundabout statuary or the increasing congestion

Wilma Jean Hunt December 17, 1934 - November 8, 2021

Wilma Jean Hunt, 86, Sheridan, passed away on Monday morning, November 8, 2021, at Riverwalk Village in Noblesville. Born on December 17, 1934 in Marion County, Ind., she was the daughter of the late Jennie F. Gray.

For over 17 years, Wilma worked for Aero Drapery in various capacities, including supervisor for the cutting department. She also enjoyed her years as a seasonal employee with Heartland Growers. Wilma was a local Avon Rep. for many years as well.

She was an active member of the Terhune United Methodist Church and the Terhune Ladies Aide.

Wilma was a woman of strong faith, calling upon it daily to help guide her through life's journey. Family was an important part of that journey. She was a loving mother and dedicated wife; however, grandma would prove to be her favorite role. There were so many things to get to experience all over again with the grandkids. She assisted her husband with farming as well as helping him in the woodshop. Together she and Philip made a lot of neat projects and crafts that they would sell at various flea markets. Wilma loved to go to flea markets, even if they weren't selling anything there.

Although she graduated from Westfield High School, Wilma was a loyal Sheridan Blackhawks fan. She faithfully followed both Blackhawk football and basketball. She really loved just getting out of the house and going for a ride, and what better excuse than to hit up a flea market or go watch Sheridan play. In Wilma's eyes, the destination was a toss-up – it was the journey she always looked forward to. Wilma enjoyed sewing and embroidery, and truly loved the time she dedicated to fussing with her garden and flowers. Wilma is survived by her sons. Stephen D. Hunt (Trena) of Kirklin, and Dana L. Hunt (Micki) of Sheridan; daughters, Nancy L. Synanowicz (Kerry) of Dobson, N.C., and Donna J. Piercy (Ron) of Whitestown; eight grandchildren; 12 great-grandchildren; several nieces and nephews; her grand lapcat, Sassy; and her canine grandbaby, Pugsy. She was preceded in death by her mother; her son, Leslie E. Hunt; her canine BFF, Max; and by her loving husband, Philip Eugene Hunt, on April 20, 2005. She and Philip were married on April 4, 1953. A Celebration of Wilma's life will take place at noon on Saturday, November 20, 2021, at the Terhune United Methodist Church, 8392 N. Washington St., Sheridan, with Visitation from 10 a.m. until the time of Service. Rev. Frank Ciampa and Pastor Cheryl Weesner will be officiating. Wilma will be laid to rest at Spencer Cemetery in Sheridan. Condolences: randallroberts.com Stanton Stuart Watts 1932 – November 13, 2021

Stanton Stuart Watts, 89, Fishers, passed away at his home on November 13, 2021. Stanton was born in Thayer, Mo., in 1932, where he spent a large part of his childhood. He also lived in Arkansas and Kansas but moved to Indiana, creating his legacy as an adult.

Stanton served in the Army as a tank mechanic in Korea and Germany until 1959. While on leave with a buddy from Ft. Knox, Ky., Stanton met Bonnie Josephine Mann on a blind and double date, and so began their entire lives together, which we are certain was his greatest happiness and pride in life. I am compelled to take out a billboard and fill it with the finest print to display his unique and impactful life, but must try to tailor his story to just a few words.

Growing up, Stanton helped his dad paint houses and build Jon boats. His first official job was taken at the young age of 15, digging post holes for REA light company. There's no romance in that nostalgia, as he said it was long, cold, and hard days and some of the worst work he'd ever done. He came to Indiana after leaving the service and worked for Railway Express in Indianapolis while also painting houses. He moved from Railway Express to Firestone and a few short years later secured a position at the Chrysler Transmission Plant in Indianapolis in 1968, where he would retire in 1993. He had his own business for many years, building Volkswagen cars in the 1970s and moving to late model cars and trucks. He was a collector of antique cars and had an impressive collection. His passion was anything on wheels. He could build and fix anything and tell you more about it than you'd be able to remember or care to know.

Stanton was preceded in death by his parents, Ernest and Jessie Isabelle Watts; brother, Harry Gene Watts; sisters, Charlotte Ann and Barbara Ann Watts; and daughter, Donna Jean (Watts) Johnson (Roger Johnson).

His life will be forever cherished in the lives of his wife, Bonnie Josephine (Mann) Watts; children, Joyce Ann (Watts) Randolph (Steve Randolph), Stacy Stuart Watts (Nicole), Opal June (Watts), Francescon (Mark Francescon), and Destry Deon Watts (Stacia); grandchildren, Chessa Johnson, Joann (Randolph) Friedman (Ben Friedman), Steven Randolph, Abbigail (Randolph) Jones, Dreama Randolph, Maxine Randolph, Victoria Randolph, Mannley Randolph, Shannon Watts, Taylor (Watts) Anderson, Mason Watts, Coralynn Watts, Tyler Francescon, Josie Francescon, Christian Francescon, Mackenzie Watts, and Xavier Watts; and great-grandchildren, Poet Kenworthy, Melody Watts, Sabian Watts, Riften Watts, Lydian Watts, Octavius Watts, and Colton Anderson.

Funeral services are scheduled for Friday, November 19, with visitation from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and services at 2 p.m. at Randall & Roberts Fishers Mortuary, 12010 Allisonville Road, Fishers. Burial will directly follow at Highland Cemetery in Fishers.

Flowers and condolences may be offered at randallroberts.com.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Then we will no longer be infants, tossed back and forth by the waves, and blown here and there by every wind of teaching and by the cunning and craftiness of people in their deceitful scheming. Instead, speaking the truth in love, we will grow to become in every respect the mature body of him who is the head, that is, Christ. From him the whole body, joined and held together by every supporting ligament, grows and builds itself up in love, as each part does its work.

Girls basketball Golden Eagles score first-ever win over Huskies

There was some history at the Eagles Nest on Tuesday, as the Guerin Catholic girls basketball team took on Hamilton Heights in an all-county game.

The Golden Eagles rolled to a big halftime lead, then weathered a comeback from the Huskies before prevailing 34-30. It was the first time Guerin Catholic had beaten Heights in girls basketball - the teams had been playing since 2007, and the Golden Eagles were 0-9 until tonight.

"We want to play together, and we want to be the hardest workers in the gym," said Guerin Catholic coach Marc Quaranta. "This is my third year here, and that's the first thing I wanted them to learn three years ago is, outwork everybody. We also have a very talented group."

The Golden Eagles jumped out to a 10-2 lead after the first quarter, then increased their lead to 19-4 by halftime. Six different GC players scored; Kathryn Loso led the way with five points.

The Huskies came roaring back in the third quarter, outscoring Guerin Catholic 20-8. Camryn Runner scored nine points during that period, with MyKayla Moran adding seven points. The Golden Eagles thus led 27-24, but they were able to hang on in the fourth quarter. Loso helped out with seven points in the fourth; she would lead all scorers with 15 points. Megan Cobb was next with six points; both she and Hannah Weitzel made one 3-pointer.

Quaranta said his team wants to model after Hamilton Heights.

"They work harder than most teams I'll see all season and they got talent," said Quaranta. The coach said that if his team could follow the Huskies' model "and just outwork everybody, now we're a little bit older, a little bit better, that we can compete with some of the best teams and I consider Hamilton Heights one of the best teams."

Runner scored 13 points for the Huskies, including a 3-pointer, while Moran finished with 11 points.

The Golden Eagles are 2-1 and play their first road game Thursday at Cardinal Ritter. The Huskies are 2-2 and host Lebanon Friday.

Eagles edge out Greyhounds, 40-39

By RICHIE HALL

CARMEL - Since the Carmel girls basketball team is nursing injuries and doing the usual early-season fine tuning, the Greyhounds are figuring things out as they go through the first few weeks of their 2021-22 campaign.

Of course, Carmel's schedule isn't one that allows any leeway. But the Greyhounds fight as they always do, and they fought a good Zionsville team Tuesday at the Eric Clark Activity Center before falling to the Class 4A No. 9 Eagles 40-39.

Both teams made fourth-quarter comebacks. Carmel was down 34-31 with five minutes left in the game before going on an 8-0 run. Mackenzie Woods made a layin, Jamie Elliott hit a 3-pointer and Hannah Lach was good on a threepoint play. Just like that, the 'Hounds led 39-34.

But the Eagles answered that with their own 6-0 run that finished the game. Allie Caldwell started it with a free throw, then Emma Haan drained a 3-pointer. Haan later scored off a steal to put Zionsville in front. Carmel got the ball back and called a timeout with 7.9 seconds left, but a last shot didn't go.

"I thought we were in control," said Greyhounds coach Erin Trimpe. "I felt pretty good and I felt like they understood needing to take care of the ball. We've got the lead. Unfortunately we just made some early-season bad decisions and it's just about getting back in the gym and hopefully fine-tuning everything. It was a great game. A lot of fun. I'm sure it was a lot of fun to watch. It was a lot of fun to coach. But we just didn't have enough to put it away in that last minute."

Carmel led 7-4 in the first quarter, with Lach scoring five of those points. After that, the Eagles' star Laila Hull took over, pouring in the next seven points to give Zionsville an 11-9 lead. Caldwell nailed a 3 for the last basket of the quarter, and the Eagles led 14-9.

second half, although the 'Hounds stayed close. Lach's tripe at the end of the half kept Carmel wtihin 19-18.

Carmel's Jamie Elliott made two 3-pointers for the Greyhounds during their Tuesday game with Zionsville at the Eric Clark Activity Center.

Thomas got the Greyhounds in front 24-23 with a putback. A Haan 3 put Zionsville back ahead, but Thomas tied it up with a layin.

"Mackenzie Thomas has just been phenomenal for us the past couple games and really creates an inside presence that people really have to pay attention to," said Trimpe. "Getting other girls to be able to hit shots from the perimeter is going to be a really big part of being able to balance our offense a little bit better."

The Eagles led 29-26 after three peri-Zionsville held the lead for the entire ods, but Woods opened the fourth quarter with a 3 to tie things up. Hull answered that with a three-point play, then answered a Lach layin with a basket of her In the third quarter, Mackenzie own to give Zionsville a 34-31 lead.

Lach finished the game with 13 points, while Thomas scored nine and collected eight rebounds. Emily Roper had six rebounds while Woods pulled five. Carmel has been without senior and Michigan commit Kate Clarke for the first few games of the season.

"She's good," said Trimpe. "She's still a little while out. We're just nursing it a little bit, taking care of her, getting her some reps and hopefully we'll see her in December."

Hull led all scorers with 17 points, while Haan had 13.

Carmel is 1-2 and hosts Noblesville next Tuesday.

The first quarter was a back and forth contest with University taking an 11-7 lead with 3:58 to go in the period on a pair of Payton Seay free throws. Those were the last Trailblazer points in the first stanza with Cathedral scoring a pair of baskets to tie the game at 11 at the end of the period. Jordan Patterson led University with seven points in the quarter.

Payton Seay scored on a fast break off a nifty pass from Kamryn Washington to give University their last lead of the game at 13-11. Layla Gold hit a three pointer for Cathedral to put the Irish up 14-13 and the Indianapolis squad did not trail for the rest of the game.

University was within 18-17 midway through the second period on a Washington rebound basket, but Cathedral controlled the rest of the period leading 32-19 at halftime. Any doubt was removed in third period as Cathedral outscored University 22-7 to take a commanding 54-26 entering the fourth quarter.

Freshman Taylor Seav came off the bench to lead University in scoring with 11 points, including all seven Trailblazer points in the fourth quarter. Junior Payton Cathedral was led by Kate Bremer with 14 points, Gold had 13 and Darryn Ely with 12.

Both teams are 2-2 on the season. University is back in action Tuesday evening when it hosts Brebeuf Jesuit. The Trailblazers game with the Indianapolis Homeschool Wildcats originally scheduled for Friday evening has been rescheduled for noon at Saturday, Dec. 18.

Three new ladies have been selected this week as their district's IBCA/Franciscan Health Players of the Week.

Northridge senior Julia Mantyla, New Palestine junior Isabella Gizzi, and Terre Haute North Vigo senior Zoe Stewart have been selected as honorees for Nov. 8-13 in the recognition program coordi-Association. Mantyla takes home honors in District 1, Gizzi is the recipient in District 2, while Stewart is the winner in District 3.

In a pair of contests against ranked opponents, Northridge senior Julia Mantyla was a standout in each matchup. On Wednesday, the Lady Raiders visited er, Mantyla was 11-of-17 from the field, 3-of-6 from downtown, and she knocked a steal.

Saturday, Northridge played host to Archers in impressive fashion, 71-34. In that game, Mantyla was an impressive 12-of-15 from the field, 3-of-5 from long range, and a perfect 8-8 from the line, as she set a school record with her 35-point performance. The University of Saint Francis (IN) commit also snagged eight rebounds, handed out an assist, and blocked three shots, helping Northridge to a 2-1 record to begin the season.

In Central Indiana, New Palestine nated by the Indiana Basketball Coaches junior Isabella Gizzi was also setting records, as the Dragons pulled out a pair of victories last week. On Wednesday, New Palestine visited Greenwood Community, escaping with a tightly contested, 43-34 win. The 5-7 point guard made just five field goals on the evening, but she was a strong 12-of-15 from the charity stripe, scoring 23 of her team's 43 points highly ranked Homestead, unfortunate- in success. She added eight rebounds, a pair of assists, five steals, and had just one turnover in the victory.

Not to be outdone, Zoe Stewart of Terre Haute North Vigo was on-target in a pair of games last week for the Patriots. In a Friday night matchup with Avon, the 5-8 senior was 13-of-24 from the field, 2-of-4 from outside, and 10-of-16 from the line, pouring in 38 points in a 72-57 home win. The athletic combo guard also grabbed six rebounds and collected a pair of steals in the matchup.

The next day, Stewart and the Patriots traveled to Martinsville, where they narrowly fell 74-66 to the Artesians. It wasn't for a lack of effort out of the Murray State University commit, however. Stewart was a sizzling 12-of-14 from the field, 2-of-3 from deep, and 2-of-3 from Saturday, Gizzi and the Dragons the stripe, as she scored another 28 points in this contest. She added three rebounds, an assist, two steals, and a blocked shot in defeat. This is the 14th season for the Indiana Basketball Coaches Association Player of the Week program, but just the second season it is being presented by Franciscan Health, a corporate sponsor of the Indiana Basketball Coaches Association.
