That I was not even a Norton customer showed how much they truly cared. That they chose to not disturb me with such trivial matters as requesting my bank account number said a lot about their customer care philosophy.

That they had apparently accessed my bank account without my assistance told me they were top-notch cyber-sleuths. I took comfort in knowing I could benefit from their cloak of invisibility.

Finally, someone to trust during these distrustful times. In appreciation, I pondered replies to my protectors. Providing positive feedback is necessary to any important relationship. What more can I say? Mama didn't raise no cyber fool.

Dear Liam Thomas: Thank you so much for your 6-16-21 email letting me know that my Norton subscription has successfully been renewed and updated via the auto-renewal amount of 599.49 USD. It's a relief knowing that someone like you is concerned enough about a total stranger like me to provide protection from the cybercriminal element. This favorable customer service experience has inspired me to repeatedly play Ella Fitzgerald's "Someone To Watch Over Me" on Spotify – but I suspect you already know this. God bless.

Dear Himelton Holton: Thank you so much for your 6-11-21 email letting me know that my Norton subscription has been successfully renewed and updated via the auto-renewal amount of 252.52 USD. It's a relief knowing that someone like you is concerned enough about a stranger like me to provide protection from the cybercriminal element. Tell Liam Thomas I said hello. I'm sure you see each other in the Norton coffee bar. Your auto-charge of $252.52 is a good deal, especially knowing Liam charged $599.49 for the same service.

Dear Dip Avi: Thank you so much for your 6-10-

21 email letting me know that my Norton subscription has been successfully renewed and updated via the auto-renewal amount of 298.98 USD. It's a comfort knowing someone like you is concerned enough about a total stranger like me to provide protection from the cybercriminal element. Your $298.98 charge falls between Himelton Holton's $252.52 and Liam Thomas' $599.49. It is a fair offer. Despite the escalating costs I am facing for your cybersecurity services, I consider the current "triple wall of protection" provided by you, Liam and Himelton to be, in the long run, nothing short of priceless.

Dear Sammy Dibble: Thank you so much for your 5-19-21 email letting me know that my Norton subscription has been successfully renewed and updated via the auto-renewal amount of 210.29 USD. The cheeky little way you misspelled "Hey" in your email's salutation, "Hay Valuable customer," made me laugh where normally I would groan. It's as if you knew my reputation for being a spelling snob. Beware: My account that Norton is siphoning money from likely, at this point, lacks sufficient funds for added services. But don't you worry, Sammy Dibble, after I send this email, I promise to dial the overseas phone number conveniently provided at the bottom of your email and share a second bank account number – plus my Social Security number, my mother's maiden name, and my first pet's name (Target) – as a good-faith measure to assure you that I'm not trying to scam Norton (not that that could be possible). Thank you for protecting me from the bad cyber seeds out there. Please tell Liam, Himelton, Dip, Jitrub, Cyn-di, Hung, Anntonu and Porter Meehorter, "hay" for me.

Contact Scott at scottsaa1man@gmail.com, especially if you, too, have cybersecurity products to offer.

after or if the senator is trying to remove any mandatory use of turn signals in Indiana. That evening, Freeman sent I-Team 8 a statement about his proposal, which he says addresses confusion in laws dealing with turn signals. (See below for that statement.) His statement came after the story had already aired on News 8 at 5 p.m. Freeman also shared on Wednesday night the ruling from an Indiana Court of Appeals case in which the confusion was highlighted.

Avid bicyclist Monte Oglesby lives downtown and rides his bike almost everywhere. He says a driver not using a turn signal can mean life or death for him.

"I got bumped by a car a couple weeks ago," Oglesby said.

The use of turn signals became a viral topic for Indiana State Police a couple years ago when Sgt. John Perrine recorded a tongue-in-cheek public-service announcement.

"What if I told you there is a feature on every car that's standard that not only will help prevent crashes but will help road rage a little bit? Let me show you. If you look at your steering wheel, to the left side of your steering wheel, there is this stick that comes out. It is pretty incredible. It is called a turn signal," Perrine said in the video that went viral.

Read Sen. Freeman's statement below, which was sent to WISH-TV the night of Dec. 29, 2021:

"Below is some background on the turn signal issue.

"IC 9-21-8-24 and 9-21-8-25 both address turn signals. IC 9-21-8-24, copied below, already contains a reasonableness standard.

"IC 9-21-8-24 Slowing down, turning from a direct course, and changing lanes; performance with reasonable safety; signal

"Sec. 24. A person may not:

"(1) slow down or stop

a vehicle;

"(2) turn a vehicle from a direct course upon a highway; or

"(3) change from one (1) traffic lane to another;

"unless the movement can be made with reasonable safety. Before making a movement described in this section, a person shall give a clearly audible signal by sounding the horn if any pedestrian may be affected by the movement and give an appropriate stop or turn signal in the manner provided in sections 27 through 28 of this chapter if any other vehicle may be affected by the movement."

"If that language is sufficient, it may be easier to repeal IC 9-21-8-25 which is the statute requiring a specific distance, i.e. 200 feet or 300 feet. Just don't want to make it more confusing if there are 2 "reasonableness" statutes dealing with turn signals.

"Those were my thoughts going into this."

Then, on the morning of Dec. 30, 2021, Charlie Tinkle, who serves as the press secretary for the Indiana Senate Majority Communications Office, sent the following statement to WISH-TV:

"The LSA (Legislative Services Agency) attorney who drafted the bill gave me this summation of what the legislation does:

"The short explanation is that IC 9-21-8-24 is technically the requirement to give a turn signal, while IC 9-21-8-25 is the requirement to give the turn signal a certain number of feet before the turn. So, there is still a requirement to signal in code, it just no longer has an accompanying distance specification."

"Sen. Freeman described it to me this morning that If you pull out of the lot at the Statehouse on Ohio with your turn signal on the whole time before taking a right turn onto Capital [Capitol] you could still technically get pulled over because it is less than footage than currently specified in code."

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Responsible food pantry use ensures everyone can get the food they need

This month's column is about a neighbor we met recently at a pantry in Carmel. This encounter is a frequent example of what we find to be a face of hunger in Hamilton County.

MARK HALL
The Feeding Team Feature

he commented. "It's amazing to have a resource like this available to take care of people in need." Most weeks, Alan stops by once or twice a week for meals between 2 and 3 a.m. Unfortunately, his story is common. Alan and the thousands of other food challenged neighbors in Hamilton County are why we do this. Today, he just happened to stop by for breakfast – Pop-Tarts – right after daybreak at the same time we arrived to stock that pantry. Alan is a notable example of responsible use of the pantries. He takes what he needs, leaving food for other neighbors in need.

Neighbors ask, "Why do this? What's in it for you?" The answer is always the same: Serving people feeds my soul. It is a calling, not work.

There were many suppers when we as a young couple with young kids could only afford Dinty Moore beef stew and a potato for dinner. Surreal moment. This is why the pantries exist. As a typical young family, we could not always make ends meet. Alan needs food, too.

This is why feedingteam.org exists – all starting from a can of beef stew. Thank you for embracing the pantries. We love serving with you.

In future columns we will share more stories from neighbors about how your generosity served them in times of need. Be assured that the face of hunger in Hamilton County is not what you may think.

In practical terms, this simple way to help neighbors is having real impact on lives, families, and our communities. Thank you. A few meals can change the course of a person's life. A can of green beans means so much more when you have nothing to feed your kids. Would you like to get involved? We are in the process of evaluating our next 10 pantry locations. If you think you have a potential location, please contact us.

Products recalled in December

The REPORTER

The Office of Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita is encouraging all Hoosiers who purchased consumer products that were recalled in December to take advantage of the remedies available to them.

"With ongoing supply chain issues, Hoosiers should not have to tolerate products that don't work," Rokita said. "If you purchased an item in December that has been recalled, then you should immediately stop using the product and see what forms of reimbursement the company that sold or manufactured the product is offering."

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division (CPD) serves to safeguard Hoosiers from predatory business practices and will take legal action in response to violations of the Deceptive Consumer Sales

Act, and other consumer-related statutes.

According to the Consumer Product Safety Commission, the following consumer products were recalled in December:

- American Angler Electric Fillet Knives from American Angler
- Polaris RZR and GENERAL Recreational Off-Road Vehicles from Polaris
- Royal Sovereign/Royal Centurian Portable Air Conditioners from Royal Sovereign
- DEWALT Jobsite Pro Wireless Earphones from DEWALT
- Bed Assist Handles and Bed Assist Rail from Drive DeVilbiss Healthcare
- Children's robes from Mark of Fifth Avenue
- Schwinn Tone Electric Scooters (e-scooters) from Pacific Cycle
- Hisun 250cc Utility Vehicles from Hisun Motors
- Harbor Breeze Bel-

leisle Bay and Honeywell Rio Ceiling Fans from Hong Kong China Electric Appliance Manufacture Company

- Infant Bath Seats from Karmas Far
- Endurance Hand Bed Rails from Essential Medical Supply
- Angel Line Bunk Beds with angled ladders from Angel Line

If you believe you recently purchased a recalled product, stop using it and check its recall notice at this link. Then follow the notice's instructions, including where to return the product, how to get the product fixed, how to dispose of the product, how to receive a refund for the product, or what steps must be taken to receive a replacement product.

Bill to ban Indiana vaccine mandates altered to cover employers' costs for COVID testing

By GARRETT BERGQUIST
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

The sponsor of an Indiana bill on vaccine mandates said Thursday that COVID relief could cover testing costs for unvaccinated workers.

An Indiana House of Representatives committee on Thursday added the provision to House Bill

1001 from Rep. Matt Lehman that would restrict employer COVID-19 vaccine mandates. The measure would prohibit such mandates unless employers allow religious and medical exemptions or give employees the option of weekly testing in lieu of the vaccine at the employer's expense.

Business leaders have criticized this latest provision of the bill. Lehman, a Republican from Berne, said the change would let employers apply for reimbursement from state or federal COVID relief until June 30, 2023.

"This bill is very clear and that is, we need to protect Hoosier employees," Lehman said. "It's that fine line of not interjecting ourselves into the employer's business, but at the same time, there's a line that they don't cross into the employee's rights."

The bill's opponents said the amendment and other changes made in committee make the bill somewhat better, but they still disagree with the overall concept.

Rep. Ryan Hatfield,

an Evansville Democrat, said the bill unnecessarily intrudes on employers' responsibilities. "What we need to do in the state of Indiana is allow employers to keep their workplaces safe, and they're in the best position to do that," he said. "This bill basically goes in and hamstring those employers."

The panel's vote to send the bill to the full House did not quite break down along party lines. Rep. Cindy Ziemke, a Republican from Batesville, sided with Democrats against the bill.

House Speaker Todd Huston, a Republican from Fishers, on Thursday said the bill will come up for debate in the full House next week, but he couldn't provide exact timing.

Sen. Mike Braun: U.S. Supreme Court "must end Biden vax overreach"

Submitted

U.S. Senator Mike Braun (R-Ind.), ranking member of the Senate HELP Subcommittee on Employment and Workplace safety, on Friday released the following statement as the Supreme Court convened to hear oral arguments on the Biden administration's vaccine mandate for private businesses:

"I've led the charge against the unconstitutional federal overreach of Biden's vaccine mandate for private businesses because no one should lose their job because of their personal decision to get vaccinated or not. The Supreme Court must permanently halt this illegal rule and protect Americans' liberties and livelihoods."

Last week, Sen. Braun led 47 other Senators, and Rep. Elise Stefanik (R-N.Y.-26) led 136 other Representatives in filing an amicus brief to the Supreme Court on this case, arguing that Congress did not give the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) the authority to impose a vaccine mandate and urged the Supreme Court to stay the mandate.

Braun

In November, Sen. Braun led the entire Senate Republican Conference in filing a formal challenge against the Biden Administration's vaccine mandate under the Congressional Review Act, the official process for Congress to eliminate an executive branch rule. This challenge was passed by a bipartisan vote the following month with two Democratic senators joining the Senate Republican Conference.

Rep. Fred Keller (R-Pa.-12) introduced the same resolution in the House of Representatives, which was cosponsored by every House Republican.

AG Rokita: Hoosiers' liberty hangs in the balance as U.S. Supreme Court hears arguments on vaccine mandates

Submitted

Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita says he will "continue defending personal freedoms" as the U.S. Supreme Court heard oral arguments Friday on two of President Joe Biden's COVID-19 vaccine mandates.

"In a free republic, the protection of individual liberty must be a priority," Rokita said. "The federal government's overreach through vaccine mandates threatens our country's foundation. Truly, Hoosiers' liberty hangs in the balance as the Supreme Court deliberates over these important constitutional issues."

The Supreme Court on Friday heard oral arguments over two separate vaccine mandates. One of those is an Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) rule requiring vaccination or weekly testing of workers at large employers. Rokita's lawsuit challenging this OSHA vaccine mandate was consolidated with other similar suits and is part of what was heard at the Supreme Court. The other vaccine mandate heard was a Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) rule requiring vaccination of all staff at all Medicare and Medicaid providers. Rokita filed suit to stop what he calls government overreach.

Rokita has filed four separate lawsuits against the Biden administration over what he calls its "draconian" vaccine mandates. In addition to lawsuits over the OSHA and CMS mandates, he also has filed lawsuits over 1) a vaccine mandate for federal contractors and 2) a mandate requiring masks for children as young as 2 years old and vaccines for staff and volunteers at childcare programs receiving Head Start funds.

According to Rokita, all these lawsuits have borne what he says are positive results.

A federal appeals court

initially prevented the OSHA mandate from going into effect. "Although another federal appeals court subsequently lifted that ruling, the Supreme Court now has the opportunity to chart the correct course," Rokita said.

In Indiana, the federal vaccine mandates for Medicare/Medicaid providers and Head Start facilities are not in effect due to the lawsuits filed by Rokita and likeminded attorneys general in other states. Indiana has also secured an injunction against the federal contractor mandate, but the court limited that injunction to the State of Indiana's contracts.

"Hoosiers can rest assured we will keep working to protect their constitutional freedoms," Rokita said. "This fight against gross federal overreach is one we absolutely must win, and we will not rest until we prevail on behalf of liberty."

Norman Ralph Strawn April 23, 1939 – January 2, 2022

Norman Ralph Strawn, 82, Sheridan, passed away on Sunday morning, January 2, 2022, at Hendricks Regional Health in Danville, Ind. Born on April 23, 1939, in Hamilton County, he was the son of the late Ralph Virgil and Joyce Lucille (Biddle) Strawn.

After graduating from Sheridan High School with the Class of 1957, Norman hired on at Biddle Manufacturing in Sheridan. Following in his father's footsteps, he began learning the machinist trade. He would eventually retire after 44 ½ years of dedicated service to the company that his father, along with the late Ken Biddle, helped create.

Norman loved spending his life in the small town of Sheridan and sharing in the things that made it a great place to call home. A man of strong faith, he was a life member of the Sheridan First United Methodist Church, where he rarely missed an opportunity to attend their delicious coal suppers and other church dinners. During the last few years, he couldn't attend as frequently, mostly due to health concerns. (Though it could be, in some small part, that his favorite spot, in his favorite pew, where he has sat every week since he was a child, fell victim to the dreaded "Do Not Sit Here" sticker of social distancing protocol.) He loved celebrating his favorite holiday, the Fourth of July, which is filled with plenty of Sheridan traditions – start with the parade, move immediately to Biddle Park to get a fish dinner before they sell out, follow that with some corn on the cob, and finish the day watching the fireworks show.

Raising his family in the same town he grew up in was by far the best part of living in Sheridan. Family was the most important thing in Norman's life. He absolutely loved family cookouts and celebrating birthdays – piling everybody into the car, year after year, and heading down to the track to take in everything the Month of May could dish out – or teaching his children, usually through a pick-up basketball game, how to gracefully loose to dad, especially against his trademark left-handed hook shot. Norman was an avid sports fan. In addition to the 500, he followed Notre Dame football and the Indianapolis Colts, and he was a die-hard, never-miss-a-game Sheridan Blackhawk fan. When it was game time, his standing order was always a pizza and some of Leon's famous iced tea. No matter who tried to make it, Leon seemed to be the only one who could do it the way he liked it. He enjoyed playing a good round of golf as much as just cruising around in his blue (even though red was his favorite color) 1992 Buick Riviera, which he still drove. Norman was also a supporter of the 2nd Amendment and of the NRA.

He loved his children and his grandchildren equally, but Daisy, his son's Great Pyrenees, always seemed to be the favorite.

Norman is survived by his sons, Richard Norman Strawn (Wendy) of Logansport, and Leon Dean Strawn (Brenda) of Sheridan; daughter, Anita Marie Brillenger (Daniel) of Noblesville; seven grandchildren, Caitlyn Strawn of Westfield, Carolyn Sandahl of Westfield, Jacob Wade Strawn of Sheridan, Justin Dean Strawn of Fort Hood, Texas, Cecilia Brillenger of Texas, Clarissa Brillenger of Noblesville, and Serena Brillenger of Noblesville; great-grandchild, Lilly Strawn; brother, Ernie D. Strawn of California; sister, Gloria Young of Angola, Ind.; and former wife, Carol Ann Strawn of Noblesville.

He was preceded in death by his parents, and brother-in-law, Olin Young.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, January 11, 2022, at the Sheridan First United Methodist Church, 207 E. 2nd St., Sheridan, with Visitation from noon until the time of Service. Burial will follow at Crown View Cemetery in Sheridan. Pastor John Meunier will be officiating.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be presented to the Sheridan First United Methodist Church.

Centier Bank recognized as top business lender

The REPORTER

The Indiana District Office of the Small Business Administration recently recognized Indiana-based Centier Bank as part of its annual lender awards for outstanding efforts in Indiana business lending. Centier received the Silver Award for Community Lending and the Third-Party Lender Award from the administration.

The U.S. Small Business Administration approved 1,371 loans for Indiana small businesses in the 7(a) and 504 programs in 2021. Stacey Poynter, director of the SBA Indiana District Office said the loans provided a record of $759 million directly to entrepreneurs and supported over $910 million that they used to start, grow, and expand their Indiana-based businesses.

Centier Bank is Indiana's largest private, family-owned bank that has locations throughout 11 counties in the state of Indiana, including Lake and Porter counties, extending into Michiana and the Greater South Bend area, as well as Fort Wayne, Lafayette, and Greater Indianapolis.

"This record lending volume occurred in our core loan programs ... in addition to all the COVID relief loans and grants," Poynter said. "We couldn't have achieved these record numbers without the hard work and dedication to small business growth from our SBA lending partners. We are grateful for their support and look forward to the continued growth of this collaborative partnership."

Christopher Campbell, Executive Vice President of Centier Bank, said small businesses are the heart and soul of Indiana, and he looks forward to helping the SBA celebrate more record-setting lending years in the future.

"Owning a business is among the most admirable of American dreams," Campbell explained. "When businesses put down roots in communities, their contribution to the quality of life for all who live and there is truly invaluable. As a true community bank, being devoted to the growth of small businesses is part of the fabric of who we are at Centier Bank."

TODAY’S BIBLE VERSE

Yet it was good of you to share in my troubles. Moreover, as you Philippians know, in the early days of your acquaintance with the gospel, when I set out from Macedonia, not one church shared with me in the matter of giving and receiving, except you only; for even when I was in Thessalonica, you sent me aid more than once when I was in need. Not that I desire your gifts; what I desire is that more be credited to your account. I have received full payment and have more than enough. I am amply supplied, now that I have received from Epaphroditus the gifts you sent. They are a fragrant offering, an acceptable sacrifice, pleasing to God. And my God will meet all your needs according to the riches of his glory in Christ Jesus.

To our God and Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Philippians 4:14-20 (NIV)

Robert Anthony Bohuk
July 29, 1988 – January 1, 2022

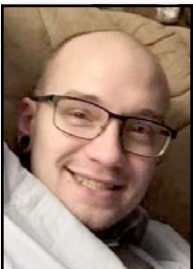

Robert Anthony Bohuk, 33, Nashville, Ind., left this earth on January 1, 2022, the beginning of the New Year. Robert, referred to as Bob or Bobby by many, was a good person, a great father, the oldest brother and the first son. His friends, all the way back to elementary school, regarded him as a fun, kind, and caring person. He loved to play guitar and have a good time with those around him, which was usually with his brothers and father.

Bob is remembered as a talented musician and fantastic flat picker. He enjoyed writing in his journals, playing games, and doing anything with music. One of his biggest dreams was to be a writer. Anyone that knew him would always see him reading or writing in his journals, frequently. He believed in hard work and hard play and would’ve given anything for anyone to join him in those activities. He is also remembered as having both a deep fear and hatred for mustard. Most of all, he loved his 5-year-old daughter, Fiona Mae, who was the light of his life. She had him wrapped around her little finger.

Bob is survived by his daughter, Fiona Mae Bohuk; brothers, Alec Bohuk, Sydney Bohuk, Nathan Hoover, Kaleb Luttrell, and William Luttrell; his mother, Rachel Luttrell (Jeremie); his father, Richard Bohuk (Ronda McClay-Bohuk); his grandfather, Brad Johnson; and by Fiona’s mother, Alyssa Thompson.

A Celebration of Life will take place at 4 p.m. on Saturday, January 8, 2022, at the Tipton Moose Lodge, 900 W. Jefferson St., Tipton.

James Michael (Mike) Ducey
April 21, 1955 – January 4, 2022

James Michael (Mike) Ducey, 66, Carmel, passed away on Tuesday, January 4, 2022. He was born on April 21, 1955, in Muncie to James Richard and Vivienne (Berg-falk) Ducey.

Mike attended Blackford High School where he once held multiple records as a freestyle swimmer and graduated in 1973.

While Mike had several jobs early in life, in the 1980s, he found a way to turn his passion for running into a business. Mike began a small business acting as the official timer in local running races. Because of Mike’s customer service and impeccable attention to detail, his business, “The End Result Company” expanded state and nationwide. Before selling his business, Mike and his team were responsible for providing the times and results for many large races such as: The Indianapolis Mini Marathon, Boston Marathon, Chicago Marathon, and the Disney World marathon, to name a few.

While Mike loved the challenge of providing the results for the big races, he never lost sight of the smaller local races around the state of Indiana, many of which were charitable fund-raising events. Mike’s other passion was timing high school and college cross country races. Mike and his longtime friend, Marty Day, could be seen many nights and weekends at the finish line of a cross country course.

Whether a race had 50 runners or 20,000, Mike was meticulous in his preparation and planning so that providing the results to the runners looked easy. If you ran or walked in road races between 1985 and 2010, there is a good possibility that Mike provided a race result for you.

Although Mike has crossed the finish line, his many years encouraging the fourth and fifth grade boys and girls involved with the Carmel Pup Running program has ensured that there is another generation that will develop a lifelong passion for running.

Most recently, Mike worked as a courier for American Expediting. His positive attitude, dedication, and attention to detail led him straight into the fight against COVID-19 as he worked directly with the Lilly testing program. Mike developed many treasured friendships, making these challenging and uncertain times just a little more enjoyable.

Mike was a member of Northview Church in Carmel. He found comfort and resolve in his faith taking every opportunity to share his belief in Jesus Christ as his friend and savior.

Mike was preceded in death by his father, James Richard (Dick) Ducey, and mother, Vivienne B. Ducey.

Survivors include his son, Paxton Michael Ducey of Carmel; daughter, Kandace (Charles) Weaver and grandsons Abram, Owen, Emmitt of Clarksville, Tenn.; daughter, Kaylee (Caleb) Johnson; granddaughter, Mackenzie; grandson, Camden of Wahiawa, Hawaii; sister, Kendra (Susan Bass) Ducey of Indianapolis; brother, James Patrick (Susan Anderson) Ducey of Stoughton, Wis.; and Yvonne Ducey of Carmel.

A Celebration of Life service for Mike will be held in the Spring 2022. Mike’s final resting place will be in Union Cemetery, Eaton, Ind.

Bussell Family Funerals is privileged to assist the family with arrangements.

Carmel powers past Center Grove, Ryan Osborn collects 100th win

After his Carmel team beat Center Grove Friday night, Greyhounds coach Ryan Osborn discussed how the first month of the New Year can also be the toughest month.

"I think every year, January, it can be challenging," said Osborn. He then listed all the challenges: It's the middle of winter, teams are trying to get back into a routine after the break - "You're in the dark stages of the season," he said.

Carmel, of course, always seems to be up to whatever challenges come its way. The Greyhounds, who have returned to No. 1 in both the Associated Press Class 4A poll and the IBCA one-class poll, proved that Friday at the Eric Clark Activity Center by beating the Trojans in a superb defensive effort, 44-20. It was also a big occasion because it marked the 100th win for Osborn, in only his fifth season coaching the 'Hounds.

Osborn said that this part of the season has been about "challenging them to find out what you need to do to get better and not just coast through these two weeks. I think that's really important. And now you have a situation where you have two starters out and Pete's coming back from his injury."

The Greyhounds were playing without two starters, Josh Whack and Charlie Williams, and Peter Suder is the player coming back from injury. As a result, other players had to step up and take on different roles.

"It wasn't filling the people that we were losing, it's just everybody's being a little better," said Osborn.

Carmel jumped out to a 13-1 lead after the first quarter. Sam Orme was a big part of that, as he scored nine points during that period, including a 3-pointer. After a low-scoring second quarter, the Greyhounds poured it on again in the third period, outscoring Center Grove 14-2 to take a 32-9 lead. Orme and Suder each added another five points in the third. Carmel then cruised through the fourth quarter on its way to victory, with Orme and Garwey Dual both scoring four points.

"I was proud of the way that we competed," said Osborn. "That's what we want to see this time of year is just compete."

Orme led the way with a double-double of 18 points and 11 rebounds, also making four steals. Suder was next with eight points, while Jared Bonds had six points and two blocked shots. Dual also made two blocks.

The Greyhounds improved to 9-2 for the season. Carmel travels to Westfield tonight for a 7:30 p.m. game with the Shamrocks, who are ranked No. 3 in the IBCA poll and No. 7 in the AP's 4A rankings.

Shamrocks sail past Yorktown

Westfield sailed to its sixth straight win on Friday, beating Yorktown 68-36 in an away game.

The Shamrocks, ranked No. 2 in the IBCA poll and No. 7 in the Associated Press Class 4A poll, had control of this game early, leading 20-2 after the first quarter. Cam Haffner scored seven points in that period, while Nic Depasquale had five.

Westfield would outscore the Tigers in all four quarters. The 'Rocks led 36-12 at halftime, then poured in another 20 points in the third to lead 56-28. Haffner threw in three 3s during that quarter.

Haffner led the scoring with 18 points, totaling four 3s for the game. Alex Romack added 13 points, while Braden Smith scored 11. Trey Buchanan made three triples, including two in the fourth quarter, for nine points. Smith, Trey Dorton, Depasquale and Kai Butterworth all made one 3-pointer.
