‘Go Orange’ with Prevail for Teen Dating Violence Prevention

The REPORTER
Please join Prevail in recognizing February as National Teen Dating Violence Prevention Month (TDVPM). The theme for 2022 is “Talk About It,” set by the organization Love Is Respect, a national organization bringing awareness to teen dating violence.

TDVPM is a call to action for youth and the adults who support them to have conversations about relationships and how to navigate them in healthy and safe ways.

It is important to Talk About It because teen dating violence happens. Talking around it or avoiding the topic is not helping but talking about such a challenging subject is scary and intimidating. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention lists teen dating violence as a public health crisis, and the pandemic has only increased the instances that go unrecognized and the number of youth who are not receiving support.

To enhance this important work, Prevail has an updated Teen Dating Violence Prevention Month (TDVPM) Toolkit available Prevailinc.org. With this kit the community will find information about resources, discussion starters, activities, and handouts about teen dating violence. Prevail’s hope is that everyone can use any or all of what is included to start conversations with the teens in your life and enhance your knowledge about healthy relationships, which are the antidote to dating violence. Included in the toolkit are activity suggestions ranging from five-minute conversations to full lesson plans, so there are many options to fit any time you have available.

In addition to Talking About It, Prevail challenges you to “go orange with Prevail” by wearing an orange article of clothing on Feb. 4 and posting a picture online using #GoOrangePrevail.

Thank you for your support and active involvement with the teens in our local communities. Change cannot be brought about without you. If you would like more information about Prevail’s TDVPM Toolkit or teen dating violence, contact Prevail’s Advocacy Supervisor, Kelly Ferriell at kferriell@prevailinc.org or (317) 773-6942.

Noblesville’s Village at Federal Hill now under construction

Development seeks to implement former Mayor Ditslear’s vision

The REPORTER
Old Town Companies has begun construction on a new project located on State Road 32 adjacent to Federal Hill Commons in Noblesville. Old Town’s plan includes a mixed-use residential community of apartment homes, a coffee shop, restaurant, office space, and a parking garage. The Village at Federal Hill will bring new amenities to Noblesville’s public park and amphitheater.

While this community will be a place where apartment residents can enjoy modern amenities, it will also provide a convenient public parking structure and walking path to downtown, as well as the amphitheater and summer farmer’s market just steps away.

According to Old Town Companies Senior VP Brad Richey, this comes with a price tag of $50 million, which is not coming from public funds.

The project will be located at 175 Logan St. The parking structure is the first part being built, according to Richey. Unlike the apartment buildings, the parking garage will be paid for and under the control of the city.

“We’re extremely excited for the Village at Federal Hill to become a reality,” said BlueSky Commerce CEO Todd Irwin. “Having Old Town invest in this development fits right along with the vision for

Rep. Tony Cook goes in depth on House Bill 1134: “Education matters”

Learning from mistakes made with Senate Bill 167

By STU CLAMPITT
ReadTheReporter.com

In an exclusive interview with The Reporter, Rep. Tony Cook (R-Cicero) spoke at length about the details and intentions of House Bill 1134, the “Education Matters” bill. After the death of Senate Bill 167, HB 1134 is now more in the spotlight.

When asked about the difference between this bill and the ill-fated SB 167, Cook was abundantly clear that teachers are encouraged to speak out against ideologies like Nazism.

“I want to really emphasize to your readers that we added even stronger language to ensure that nothing in the bill should be construed to exclude teaching against ideals and values that conflict with the Constitution of the United States,” Cook told The Reporter. “We are saying about those ‘isms,’ we are encouraging teachers to speak out about how those violate the expressed ideals and values in our constitution and how they are incompatible with what our constitution and our values in the United States seek to achieve. That was crucial for us. That’s been added in Section 12, page 20, lines 4 through 12 in the ‘good citizenship instruction’ statute, which is already there.”

Cook put amendments in multiple places in HB 1134 to reemphasize that point.

“The other place is in Section 22 of the bill on Page 35, lines 14 through 15,” Cook said. “I want to be very explicit with that. And as an old government and history teacher myself, I would have a concern if I couldn’t teach opposing those kind of isms out there, whether that’s Nazism, whether that is any kind of thing you can think of in a discriminatory manner that was done across the world in different countries. You utilize the facts when you teach history and government, and those things were wrong. They are in our constitution. They were wrong. That’s why we put in amendments and the Bill or Rights. We want to oppose those kinds of evil things that have arisen across the world over time.”

Lines HB 1134 adds to the good citizenship statute include, “The ideals and values expressed or enumerated in the Constitution of the United States compared to forms of government that conflict with and are incompatible with the principles of western political thought upon which the United States was founded. Individual rights, freedoms, and political suffrage. The economic and political institutions which have best contributed toward human advancement, prosperity, scientific inquiry, and well-being.”

Origins of HB 1134
“I got involved with this in the summer when I was trying to bridge the gap between the education community and the parental concerns that were being raised across the state, of which there are many,” Cook told The Reporter. “It’s been a real issue and I’m trying to get some guardrails put around for both understanding as educators and for parents.”

Cook said the bill began from a common theme across the state of a lack of transparency concerning various curricula and the way some programs were being implemented in the classroom.

“We decided to put together a bill trying to bridge some of those concerns,” Cook said. “I need to point out when I say that I mean we have had teacher concerns about some of the things they have been asked to implement in a classroom and that they don’t feel comfortable with either.”

Cook says much of this bill is about transparency for everyone involved.

“We are trying to require transparency and really reinvigorate

Jonathan Mirgeaux named Noblesville Utilities director

The REPORTER
Jonathan Mirgeaux has been named the new director of Noblesville Utilities. Mirgeaux replaces Ray Thompson, who retired Jan. 7 after 42 years with the city and 11 as utilities director. Mirgeaux has 18 years of experience as a wastewater and storm water engineer. Prior to joining the city, Mirgeaux worked as a consultant at R.W. Armstrong, CHA Consulting and HWC Engineering. This lets me focus on the big picture, growth, incorporation of best practices and becoming the utility of the future." As an entry-level engineer, Mirgeaux was part of the team who developed the city's Long Term Control Plan (LTCP) when Noblesville was negotiating with Indiana Department of Environmental Management in 2006. The 15-year unfunded mandate was completed last year and consisted of nine individual projects conducted in five different phases. Raised in Cape Girardeau, Mo., Mirgeaux graduated high school in Louisville. He earned his undergraduate and graduate diplomas in Biosystems and Agricultural Engineering at the University of Kentucky. Mirgeaux and his wife, Kelli, have two children and enjoy bicycling as a family.

Noblesville Fire Dept. Lt. Scott Hunter completes international professional designation process

The REPORTER
Noblesville Fire Department (NFD) Lieutenant Scott Hunter has successfully completed the process that awards the professional designation of "Fire Officer" (FO). The Commission on Professional Credentialing (CPC) met on Dec. 7, 2021, to confer the designation.

Hunter

Lt. Hunter becomes one of only 602 FOs worldwide, and the first with that designation in the NFD. The designation program is a voluntary program designed to recognize individuals who demonstrate their excellence in seven measured components including experience, education, professional development, professional contributions, association membership, community involvement and technical competence. In addition, all applicants are required to identify a future professional development plan. The FO designation program uses a comprehensive peer review model to evaluate candidates seeking the credential. The CPC awards the designation only after an individual successfully meets all the organization's stringent criteria. "Achieving this designation signifies Scott's commitment to his career in fire and emergency services and his emphasis on professional growth," said NFD Chief Matt Mitchell, who has the Fire Marshal CPC designation. "I'm proud of Lt. Hunter for earning this distinction, but also the example it sets for his fellow firefighters with life-long learning, skill development and community service." This professional designation is valid for three years. Maintaining the designation requires recipients to show continued growth in the areas of professional development, professional contributions, active association membership and community involvement as well as adhere to a strict code of professional conduct. The CPC, an entity of the Center for Public Safety Excellence, Inc., administers the designation program. It consists of individuals from academia, federal and local government, and the fire and emergency medical services profession. To learn more about CPC, visit cpse.org. About the Noblesville Fire Department The Noblesville Fire Department has 140 career firefighters, including 10 full time staff positions, operating out of seven fire stations. NFD covers a rapidly growing area of 58 square miles within its jurisdiction. In addition to fire suppression, NFD provides emergency medical services (EMS), consisting of Basic Life Support (BLS) and Advanced Life Support (ALS/Paramedics), and maintains a Hazardous Materials Team, Dive Team, and Tactical Rescue Team. ## Chief Deputy Coroner Jeff Jellison: "We must be more compassionate"

The REPORTER
Hamilton County Chief Deputy Coroner Jeff Jellison is turning to the local community for help. Jellison's search is not for clues in a death investigation; he's asking the community to donate quilts for the deceased. "It is not uncommon for next-of-kin or loved ones to view a deceased person in the morgue," Jellison said. "It can be a very unpleasant experience. The death of a loved one is traumatic. Many times, the morgue is the last place a family member will see their loved one. The white sheet stainless steel environment is not the most pleasant experience." Jellison said he hopes replacing the traditional white sheet with a quilt provided by a community member might soften the experience. The quilts will remain

"This idea came to me after viewing a young child wrapped in a sheet in the morgue," Jellison said. "I said to myself, we can do better. We must be more compassionate. I've talked about this idea with several people in the community and it has been well accepted. I think it makes a statement that the community cares. It is an opportunity for the community to support a grieving family." Quilts can be handmade or store-bought. To donate a quilt, please call the Hamilton County Coroner's Office at (317) 770-4415.

Kathy Williams awarded for 45 years of service to county

The REPORTER

Hamilton County is celebrating 164 employees for their service to the community. Each year the Board of Commissioners and Human Resource Department recognizes and honors employees for long and meritorious service by presenting service awards at the end of each five years of employment.

Each recipient is given a service pin with the number of years on it.

"Our goal is to bring to the citizens and taxpayers of Hamilton County the most responsive governmental services possible," Human Resource Director Sheena Randall said. "Employing top quality people, providing them with meaningful work, and retaining their services helps us serve the public efficiently and effectively."

Hamilton County Clerk Kathy (Richardson) Williams tops this year's list of employees with the most longevity. She has been employed with the county for 45 years.

"Hamilton County has always been a great place to work," Williams said. "Frankly, it is like home to me. I started working in the Clerk's Office when I was 19 years old, so I've basically spent my entire life here. I love the work I do and the people I work with."

"The county offers great benefits too," Randall added, "such as health insurance, paid holidays, and a 37.5-hour work week."

the west side of the river established by former Mayor Ditslear and fully embraced by Mayor Jensen, a vision that BlueSky bought into six years ago that is now coming to fruition. We could not be more pleased than for this Old Town development to happen next door!"

Old Town Companies partnered with the City of Noblesville, Centier Bank, and Hageman Capital to make this project a reality. Studio M, a local architectural firm, and Kimley Horn, engineering consultants, teamed with Old Town to complete the design, while Old Town Construction will execute the build-out. The additional parking made possible by the city will ensure more visitors than ever can enjoy a day in Noblesville.

According to Richey, there will be two apartment buildings with a total of 220 units available.

Richey told The Reporter that Building A, with 118 apartments, will have 90 parking spaces set aside for residents and approximately 210 more spaces for public use. The garage will be owned by the city, so the decision to make the public spaces free, paid, or mixed will be up to the city.

Building B, which will have 102 apartments, will have 65 parking spaces for private resident use only, according to Richey.

The city is still working on details on how many parking spaces will be available and if they will be free or if the parking rules will resemble those of the Levinson. One variable in the number of available spaces is about how many electric vehicle charging stations will be included and how many spaces might be set aside specifically for compact cars or motorcycles.

Dippers, crumblers: A soup nation divided

I considered it my civic responsibility to help find a fix for our fractured country, the States of America. We must start small, take baby steps, and embrace our simple commonalities if we want “United” returned to our nation’s name, I thought.

Immediately, one word came to mind: Soup. Everyone likes soup (even our unfortunate, toothless brethren like soup – especially them). Granted, we don’t like the same kinds of soup. But that’s OK. We do, after all, still live in a democracy. We should not be shamed for our soup choice – well, except for you gross pea soup people (there was good reason The Exorcist used pea soup in its vomit scenes).

Still, soup in general, as a working concept, could, in essence, save the free world, I thought.

Excited, I shouted my hypothesis aloud, “We can cure an ailing America over the sharing of a soothing pot of homemade soup!” I was onto something big. I planned to place my Nobel Peace Prize trophy beside the KEY TO THE CITY given to me by Jasper, Indiana’s mayor in 2018.

The idea, I soon learned, would not be an easy sell. Soup, itself, can be polarizing. Soup eaters are divided into two camps: Those who dip crackers into their soup (The Dippers); those who crumble crackers into their soup (The Crumblers).

I’m sure someone probably is thinking, “But what about those who refuse crackers altogether when eating soup?”

Ah, yes, The Slurpers! Don’t get me started on The Slurpers! This weird third-party of soup enthusiasts represents nothing other than another frayed thread in the fabric of our nation.

All that was needed to jell our nation was Dippers to become Crumblers or Crumblers to become Dippers.

Full disclosure: Despite Dipperism running contrary to my family lineage, I am a Dipper.

My dear mother (may she rest in peace) was a Crumbler. As a child, I watched while she brutishly crumbled her crackers over a steaming bowl of salty Campbell’s Soup, creating a soggy, central mound that she then stirred, much like a witch at a cauldron, to evenly scatter the cracker’s offal, causing a mushroom cloud to rise to the ceiling. Then, she lifted a spoonful to her lips and ingested her hellish mush. Her Crumbler way was as unsettling to witness as a seal-clubbing. I secretly suspected her to be a closet serial killer.

Dippers, in comparison, are the derivative of a civilized ilk. Our refined soup-eating technique makes us the sophisticates of soup eaters. We respect the cracker. We demonstrate a quick, shallow dip, then pull back before sogginess sets in. We take a simple, calculated bite then dip again. It typically takes two or three bites before the cracker is no more. Unlike Crumblers, we don’t need to show off our hand strength or work out anger issues at the dining table. We don’t decimate the cracker. We don’t drown it. We want our Zestas to retain their zest to the very end. We demonstrate a humaneness for the cracker – think free-range chicken. We delicately dip. We delicately bite. Dip. Bite. Dip. Bite. Think waterboarding, but with heart.

I had long avoided discussing soup and crackers with Mom. It was only during my quest to fix America following the 2021 breach of our U.S. Capitol (talk about those who’ve gone more than a little crackers) that I broached the subject of our soup differences.

“Why are you a Crumbler?” I asked. “I don’t always crumble.” “Yes, you do.” “I don’t.” “Am I adopted?” Silence.

“Will you cross the great cracker divide for the sake of nation reunification?”

“Well, sometimes instead of crumbling, I lift my spoon over a whole cracker and pour soup on it.”

“Malarky,” I said. “No one does that, Mom! I’d rather eat soup with a Slurper!”

Mom crumbled. Defiantly, I dipped. A house divided.

What I learned from this uncomfortable conversation was that I needed to keep my biasness in check if I wanted to draw others from the dark and into the light, ultimately bringing fruition to my solution. Naturally, I took to Facebook, which is a great platform for unbiased reporting, factual data, and an openness to opposing opinions – the final bulwark, per se, against the breakdown of modern society as we know it. God bless you, Mark Zuckerberg.

To sway supporters, I posted: “You Who Crumble Your Crackers Into Your Soup Are So Wrong.” An angry-faced emoji immediately appeared, followed by dissenting comments from thin-skinned Dumblers, er, I mean Crumblers.

Dave: Them’s fightin’ words.

Judi: I have so many crackers in my soup I can eat it with a fork.

Nick: Crumble away. It’s soup, not dip.

Amy: My crackers, my choice.

My hope to fix a soup-divided America crumbled. I brooded over my fresh failure, that is, until the voice of an angel sounded via Spotify, “Working nine to five, what a way to make a living ....” resulting in a true eureka moment.

It was so obvious. The elixir to fixing America: Dolly Parton.

Dippers love Dolly. Crumblers love Dolly. Even Slurpers (not that their votes count) love Dolly. We adore Dolly. Together, as Dollyists, we can bring United back to the United States of America, making “one nation indivisible” visible again.

As far as the Nobel Prize, I selflessly conceded to Dolly.

I’m sure Dolly is a Dipper. We have that going for us as well.

Confessions of a “fixer”

Oh, how I can relate to Jehoshaphat. You know him. The king of Judah in 2 Chronicles in the Old Testament of the Bible. He was overwhelmed. He was told by Jahaziel, the son of Zechariah, in 2 Chronicles 20:15, “Do not be afraid or discouraged because of this vast army. For the battle is not yours, but God’s.” NIV

Back to my friends Merriam-Webster to see exactly what VAST means: “very great in size, amount, degree or intensity.”

Hello life!

Truth is, we never know what army we will be going up against. Some days it seems there is one on every side. If not an army, it may appear as just one very large Goliath.

JANET HART LEONARD
From the Hart

I realized a long time ago that I am a “fixer.” I try to fix people, situations, issues and anything else that seems broken or in need of rescuing. It’s just the way I am.

It is exhausting. My mind and heart get worn out.

I lay awake at night figuring out all kinds of scenarios. What if this happens? What should I say? What should or could I do to help? With what changes can I help? Will my help change anything? Should I say something or keep quiet? Would my suggestions be accepted or resented? Will they make matters worse?

Am I taking on too much responsibility? Is it something I really need to insert myself into? Is it really “my” battle? Am I trying to hold up a sinking ship even though I am not the designated captain?

The weight of the world has never been mine to bear. Janet, read what you just typed.

“But God ...” And so I begin telling God how I think He needs to handle the situation. Seriously, ME telling God how to answer my prayer.

Can anyone relate?

You would think at 66 years of age I would have learned I am not obligated to carry the burdens of others. My heart was not designed to carry the weight.

I read all the wise memes. I read scripture while having my devotions. My mind knows it; it’s just that my heart struggles with what my mind knows to be true.

God gave me a tender, caring and loving heart. I hate seeing my friends and family hurt. I want to rescue. I want to fix.

Then I remember the Serenity Prayer. Oh yeah, that.

God grant me the Serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the Courage to change the things I can, and the Wisdom to know the difference. Oh, Wisdom where art thou?

God: “Janet, the battle belongs to me.”

Me: “Okay God, I’ll try to remember that.”

Me: “But God ...”

God: “No buts.”

God: “If you forget, I’ll have Jehoshaphat remind you.”

Me: “Okay God.”

God: “I got this!”

LIFE goals are about helping other people

In a previous column we talked about setting goals.

Ancient wisdom from the Book of Habakkuk tells us to write our goals on tablets of stone and make it plain. Zig Zigler encouraged short-term, medium-term, and long-term written goals. I have found written goals to be highly effective as written goals are tangible and can be reviewed and periodically re-evaluated. Goals should be specific, measurable, actionable, risky, time-keyed with a deadline, exciting, and relevant (see Ask Adler, Jan. 6, 2022).

Today I would like to talk about LIFE goals. LIFE goals are those goals directed toward helping others, whether it be a church, a non-profit, a client, a friend, or even the community. LIFE stands for Labor, Influence, Finances, and Expertise.

It is not uncommon for one to focus on their personal goals, an inward focus. Goals, by their nature, are personal, so it is not surprising that most goals emphasize self-improvement. For example, being a better parent, eating healthier, working toward a promotion at work. But how many of your goals are directed outside of yourself? I would suggest that setting goals with the intention of serving others brings an added dimension of joy to one’s life. In my own experience, setting and striving to accomplish LIFE goals has brought satisfaction to my life and the life of my family.

LIFE goals are wonderful in that they naturally expand and mature throughout one’s lifetime. As a young person, one may be limited in the areas of Influence, Finances, and Expertise, but will have an abundance of Labor to offer. We all have seen a charity car wash full of excited teenagers or a Girl Scout Troop selling cookies outside Kroger. The young person matures into adulthood, beginning a career and building wealth. Here, in addition to Labor, one can begin offering Finances and Expertise. Lastly, as one enters their later years, at the precipice of their career, after the house is paid off and the kids are grown, the balance shifts to Influence, Finances, and Expertise. Learn, earn, and then return. No matter what stage of life, LIFE goals can be made and achieved. One need only examine what they have to offer, and act on their goals.

As I enter my later years, I can testify to the fruitfulness of setting and achieving LIFE goals. In seeking to serve others, I have gained valuable friendships and been given opportunities that I could never have imagined. More important, I have been able to see countless lives changed for the better, which in turn has blessed both my family and me.

‘Diet’ is a noun, but it’s not about deprivation

“Our bodies are our gardens – our wills are our gardeners.” – William Shakespeare

Have you had enough of winter yet? This is the time of year when we yearn for the “green” here in Indiana! (Not to mention that warmer weather promises a break from pandemic issues hopefully!)

I am pleased to say that gardening seems to be gaining popularity and indulging in local, fresh produce is both encouraged and enjoyed. However, today’s column is not directly referring to gardening. (Believe me, you don’t want gardening or seamstress tips from me!) Instead, I will discuss the analogy above from Mr. Shakespeare. A garden will only flourish when it is tended, fertilized properly, watered, weeded, and cared for – if our bodies are our gardens, how is your will doing as a gardener?

If there is one thing I would ask that you take away from today’s column, it is this: The word “diet” is a noun, not a verb! We tend to think of “dieting” (verb) as opposed to a healthy, nutritious diet (noun) or food plan.

Another problem with the word “diet” is that the word is closely associated in our minds with “deprivation.” We humans do not like to be deprived! When you omit something from your food plan, introduce a food item to take its place. A great place to start is the grocery store. Unless you are providing potato chips for the annual family reunion, skip that aisle but be sure to pick up a lovely red pepper in the produce aisle and a small container of hummus to enjoy as a snack. One suggestion is to also purchase small portion cups and divide your hummus into those so that you monitor your snack portions.

Now, let me also be clear – we all need to indulge in our “comfort food” occasionally! Thanksgiving, you bet! Some cheese ball, cookies and fudge at Christmas, oh my, yes! Super Bowl goodies, of course! Keep in mind that these are specific occasions, not our everyday cuisine.

Dr. Brian Wansink, director of the Food and Brand Lab at Cornell University, in his book, Slim by Design: Mindless Eating Decisions, recommends changing your eating environment. According to Dr. Wansink, a primary predictor of healthy or unhealthy weight is what food is out on the counter in the kitchen. People who keep chips or cookies on the counter, even a single cookie, weigh an average of 10 pounds more than their neighbors who don’t. When the cookies are in sight, you must repeatedly make a decision about eating them. You might resist 25 times, consider it on the 26th, and give in on the 27th.

Cereal is even more enticing, according to Wansink, because we perceive it as healthier. If cereal is on the counter, you’re likely to weigh 20 pounds more than average, he indicates. Keep those chips and snacks, if they are in your house, behind closed doors and preferably on a high shelf!

Is ice cream your thing? If so, try a fruit/veggie smoothie in your blender or food processor. Here is one I especially like: Fresh kale, chopped + fresh chilled pineapple chunks + a good quality protein powder + crushed ice + unsweetened almond milk. Blend all in your blender until smooth and enjoy! Experiment to taste; start with small amounts of kale if you need to do so and increase proportionately. You can also substitute frozen bananas or berries for the pineapple. If you are one who likes to keep some yummy items on your kitchen counter, try a container of varieties of green tea, there are many delicious flavors from which to choose. You will enjoy a filling and tasty beverage and at the same time benefit your immune system, a win-win situation.

I will caution you to be wary of shelf-stable and processed foods. Many canned food items are fine to add occasionally to your meals, but be aware of the sodium content. Boxed “meals” in particular are usually very high in carbohydrates. While today’s busy schedules sometimes call for quick family meals, this is one which should not be included on a frequent basis.

One of my favorite “quick” meals consists of the following veggies which can simply be stirred into olive oil (using a wok is fine, but not necessary) over a low heat: Brussel sprouts (microwave briefly as they are very dense) along with sliced bell peppers, mushrooms, several cloves of garlic (great for your immunity) some sliced potatoes, and one or more of green beans/snow peas/asparagus – whatever you like best. Combine all in a large frying pan (or wok) when the oil is ready. Stir for several minutes. For added flavor, some low-sodium soy sauce and curry could be added. You may have noticed that I have not included a meat item here, but you certainly could, perhaps chicken breast (cook thoroughly before adding to your veggies) or salmon would be a delicious addition. You might wish to add some rice as a side dish, although I would suggest brown rice instead of white rice.

You may wonder why I am not mentioning “fast food” and, frankly, I do not have enough space in my column this week to do so! Those menu items should be rarely included in one’s eating plan, although there are a few suggestions which can be incorporated on a limited basis – more about that in a future column.

While endless commercials, ads, and apps would endeavor to convince you that their “proven methods” work for your healthy weight-loss goals (there is a reason that the “diet industry” is a multi-billion-dollar industry!) remember that each one of us is different and we need to find the approach that works best for our personality, schedules, family life, and lifestyle. The changes you make in your eating habits should be changes that you plan to incorporate for a lifetime.

A nutrition coach can help you find your best plan to begin and sustain a healthier eating environment and life-long positive changes. There is no one “diet” or identical plan for everyone. You will be surprised how reduction in your consumption of dairy, sugar, salt, flour, rice, “diet” sodas (that’s an oxymoron if I ever heard one!) and other simple carbohydrates can make a difference. The addition of good protein sources and complex carbohydrates will leave you more satisfied with the way you feel and your appearance – not to mention better health, better sleep, and more energy!

Indiana is known to many as the “Basketball State” and we Hoosiers are definitely proud of that fact! However, Indiana has also been designated eighth in the “top 10 least healthy states” and “41st out of all 50 states in overall health.” Those are statistics that can, and should, change – and we are all part of that change. Let’s work together to reduce Hoosiers’ obesity rate, which is largely responsible for diabetes, heart problems, and many other health issues, including susceptibility to infectious diseases. Hoosiers, let’s be a winning team! We can do this!

John Joseph Rushinsky

September 28, 1940 – January 17, 2022

John Joseph Rushinsky, 81, Fort Wayne, passed peacefully on Monday, January 17, 2022, surrounded by loved ones at Coventry Meadows in Fort Wayne. He was born on September 28, 1940, to the late Nicholas and Mary (Swinkunas) Rushinsky in Lorain, Ohio. On October 25, 1964, in El Puerto de Santa María, Spain, he married the love of his life, María del Carmen Galán Villar, who preceded him in death on February 21, 2012.

John was a brilliant and humble man. He retired as a government contracts quality control employee from ITT Aerospace, and he prided himself on his meticulous work to ensure civilian safety. John was also a Navy veteran and achieved the rank of Chief Petty Officer (E7). He was a recipient of The Vietnam Service Medal, The National Defense Service Medal, The Navy Expeditionary Medal, and the Good Conduct Medal (twice). The position with the greatest impact on him was that of Electronics Technician in the Cryptology Department in Rota, Spain, for it was there that he would meet his beloved wife and the trajectory of his life would forever change.

John and Maria went on to live in many places and were blessed to grow their family to include five children whom they dearly loved. John worked tirelessly to ensure that their needs were met. He enjoyed playing cards, playing chess, repairing anything mechanical for himself and others, research, challenging his grandchildren with math problems to solve, enjoying a good meal in the company of people he loved, sneaking sweet treats, and spending time with family. John also was a gifted accordion player and enjoyed entertaining his own family and his children with his polka music.

In his later years, after the passing of his wife, Maria, he fiercely made sure all his children were taken care of. He enjoyed his grandchildren, and in particular loved witnessing his youngest grandson, Antonio, grow into a sweet child and was often heard bragging about what a good boy he was. Unbeknownst to his children, he kept a box next to his recliner with pictures of his children and grandchildren as well as cards he had received from them.

He is survived by his son, John Joseph (Katy) Rushinsky Jr.; son, Michael (Laura) Rushinsky; daughter, Tanya Marie (Vincent) Aviles; son, Mark Anthony (Laura) Rushinsky; daughter, Celeste Nicole Rushinsky; sister, Veronica Loper; and 11 grandchildren: Joseph Thomas Aviles, Austin Rushinsky, John Edward "Jack" Rushinsky, Anabella Rose Klepper, Meghan Rose Rushinsky, Alex Rushinsky, Bridget Marie Rushinsky, Noah Anthony Aviles, Gabriel Manolo Rushinsky, Andrew Vincent Aviles, and Antonio Michael Klepper.

Don't stop those tears

About 10 days ago, while my husband John was away working in Kentucky, I sat on the floor with one of our cats in my lap after work and had a good cry. Okay, it was more like a snot-covered, downright ugly sobbing session. And I'm so glad I let myself do it.

The world was just getting to me that day, especially the stupid "C" word – COVID. More and more people that I knew and loved were getting it, and it broke my heart. I felt especially bad for my niece, Melissa, who is a mother to seven kids. Moms should somehow have immunity to any illness until their youngest child turns 12.

There was a time where I would have felt bad for losing it like that. It used to make me feel weak. In fact, years ago some of my family and friends would say when someone cried that they were pulling "an Amy." So I worked to suppress my tears and hardly cried at all in my late 20s and 30s.

COLUMNIST
AMY SHANKLAND
Sandwiched

Our society doesn't exactly celebrate tears. But I'm no longer embarrassed or ashamed when I cry. Psychotherapists actually encourage it. I've realized in my middle age that tears are incredibly healing.

I'll never forget an episode of Everybody Loves Raymond years ago where Ray spies on his wife Debra and catches her crying. When he feels bad and approaches her about it, she simply states that she likes to cry to let some of her emotions out.

I've discovered that a good cry makes me far from weak. In fact, it helps me feel much better overall and gives me strength!

Last week was a prime example of that. When John came home the next afternoon, I hugged and kissed him with joy ... and that evening he started to have symptoms of COVID. The whole "keep your distance" thing had already been blown to heck, so I didn't freak out about myself.

Poor John was supposed to have his booster a week ago. Instead, I drove him to get a COVID test last Friday, which not surprisingly turned out to be positive.

I've not fallen apart about this, but instead, have felt calm and strong. I've even been grateful for our situation. It's great that I work from home and can help John heal. I've been able to pick up groceries curbside and our son dropped off other items we needed. And through all of this, I've felt absolutely fine. (Thank you, booster shot.)

I think if I hadn't had a good, cleansing cry last week, I wouldn't have had the internal armor I need to face this ugly virus. Instead of shrinking away and losing my faith, I've felt it increase tenfold. I've prayed hard for John and others and know God's got this handled.

Unless you're in work or other situations where you just shouldn't lose it, I want to encourage anyone to have a good cry when you need to. By letting those tears fall down, you actually lift yourself up to be ready for whatever lies ahead!

Cook

a curriculum advisory committee, which I operated under as a teacher," Cook said. "Until about 2010, we had curriculum advisory committees that were required. The statute moved to a 'may,' and when it moved to 'may,' not all school corporations are doing that at all. Even though the committee was just making recommendations, at least we had people who were interested in the various subject areas and various materials stepping forward and helping us vet those materials."

Disciplinary process

"The bill does set up a complaint process, but we have gone out of our way to make sure that teachers understand that you have to willfully and wantonly do something," Cook said. "The statute emphasizes that in another amendment I put in last Monday."

Section 10, Page 18 lines 8 through 12 read, "On the written recommendation of the secretary of education, the department may suspend or revoke a license of a teacher, principal, superintendent, or any other individual licensed by the department under this chapter if the individual willfully or wantonly violates IC 20-28-10-20, IC 20-33-1.5, or IC 20-34-3-27" [emphasis added].

"Before you would get into an issue where you would go through a disciplinary process, the appeal process for someone who feels there has been a violation is the same as it is on basic things now," Cook explained. "If the teacher has insubordination or immorality it goes through the process of the principal first, who makes a decision if there is no validity or if there is and what they are going to do about that. If that isn't acceptable, then it goes to the superintendent. Then from the superintendent it goes to the board. The board can have a hearing and if that is still unsatisfied, it goes to the Secretary of Education. That is currently the way some things go."

SEL & Counseling

There has been a great deal of community concern about counseling and about participating in Social Emotional Learning (SEL) as it is addressed in HB 1134.

"What we did there was, again, to put in clarity," Cook said. "Language was added that says and makes clear that educators do not have to obtain parental consent when there is an emergency response in a crisis situation in which an intervention or rapid response service is needed to evaluate or stabilize and immediate medical, behavioral or mental health condition or provide intervention for students who are in immediate danger of experiencing abuse or neglect. That's Section 21, Page 33 line 36 through Page 34 line 1."

According to Cook, a key point is that when there are outside counseling providers or inhouse programs provided to a student, then they MUST HAVE parental consent and knowledge that it's to occur.

"Some of the programming that the state used at this time is good programming, some of it is bad programming," Cook told The Reporter. "It gets into everything from SEL (Social Emotional Learning) to sexual orientation and things that classrooms are now discussing. Some things really move over the line, and we are trying to protect against that."

Cook specified that HB 1134 is largely about opening good communication between educators, parents and administrations for the benefit of the children in

"I want to emphasize that this legislation is NOT an attack on the men and women who educate our children," Cook said. "The bill allows schools across the state to better communicate with parents and make it easier to identify the areas the school may be excelling in and also areas for improvement in the curricular realm. That was an overall driving purpose for me: To bridge that between parents and educators, and educators and school corporations. It is coming a lot from corporation adopted programs and we have educators who have been reaching out saying, 'I am concerned about this. I don't feel competent. I don't feel comfortable teaching some of these things in the classroom.' It's across the board, this concern about some of these divisive concepts and programs that we are utilizing in school. I'm not saying they are all bad. There are good approaches and there are good topic areas that can be approached particularly in a manner that is age appropriate."

Advisory committees

"There has been some misconception about where the ultimate authority over the curriculum lies," Cook said. "It has been shared [on social media] that curricular committees' recommendations are binding. That's not true at all. Another belief is that most curriculum will become opt in or opt out. That's not true either. The advisory committee will have to review and approve all educational activities. That's not true either. This was never the case. Language has been adapted or modified to make this abundantly clear. We adopted language to make explicit that the school boards may accept, reject or modify recommendations that the curricular advisory committee puts forward. That language is found in Section 6, Page 16, lines 19-20."

Perception of the bill

"Sometimes people react or they get on social media and they haven't really read it, or they don't understand the process," Cook said. "The amendments were accepted last Monday [Jan. 10] and I'm still probably going to have a couple more amendments because we have met with principals' associations, superintendents' associations, parental associations and groups like PTAs – we've met with literally hundreds of people."

Cook credits his co-author, Rep, Chuck Goodrich (R-Noblesville) with making HB 1134 a much better document than it could have been without his involvement.

"Most co-authors don't put in the kind of time and effort that he has with this in going through group after group after group and even state after state," Cook said. "Chuck's business goes across 20-some states. He has heard these things from parents and from educators. We value all that. That's why we are trying to span the gap here that's created some of the problems."

When asked if the controversy around SB 167 has given him and his team the opportunity to make HB 1134 a better piece of legislation, Cook said, "That's exactly right. That's why several things were put in to be more direct, more specific and to protect teachers. I particularly do not want teachers attacked for teaching factual information and saying, 'Stalin was terrible.' They need that freedom. In fact, we encourage it with what I put in the amendments."

After graduating from eighth grade, Florence helped her parents survive the Great Depression by cleaning houses. She always regretted not going to high school, but never regretted making sure her parents had food to eat during those difficult years.

In addition to raising a family, Florence worked at Madigan's store in Chicago during the 1950s. She also sold crocheted items to help raise money for a down-payment on a new house. Florence and Al bought their house in Justice, Ill., in 1957.

Florence then worked at Sears and Roebucks until she had to leave her job to care for her husband after he was diagnosed with cancer. After Al passed in 1967, she moved to Sheridan with her son Richard, and began working at Curtis Automotive Devices, Inc. in Westfield.

Florence worked there until retirement at the age of 60. She then moved in with her daughter in Westfield to help care for her granddaughters. She also worked as a babysitter for several families.

Florence lived in Noblesville for a few years, then moved to Milan, Tenn., to live with her son, Richard.

Sonya Denise Pearson

December 25, 1964 – January 15, 2022

Sonya Denise Pearson, 57, Atlanta, passed away on Saturday evening, January 15, 2022, at University Hospital in Indianapolis. She was born on December 25, 1964, in Cherry Valley, Ark., and later attended Hamilton Heights High School.

Sonya worked for the Hamilton Southeastern School District for many years as both a custodian and a cafeteria manager. After 20 years of dedicated service, she decided it was time for retirement.

Sonya loved watching reruns of The Andy Griffith Show. She was also a fan of the old Sylvester and Tweety cartoons – her favorite being Tweety, of course. These shows took care of her on Monday through Saturday, but her Sunday TV time was dedicated to NASCAR. Dale Earnhardt was her driver, and that was that. Sonya also loved to play cards, and would usually take a very NASCAR-ish, "rubbin' is racin'" approach to the game. Losing was not an option.

Sonya liked country music. Whether it was classic country or one of the newer artists, she enjoyed it just the same. She also had a great appreciation for Native American culture.

Sonya is survived by her loving husband, Randy Allen Pearson. She and Randy were married on February 17, 2009. Also surviving are stepfather, Doug Stoops; sons, Nicholas Pearson (Tiffany), Randy Joseph Pearson, and Bradley Pearson, all of Elwood; daughters, Tanaya Hitt (Nicholas) of Lafayette, Amy Townsend (James) of Kokomo, and Sierra Townsend of Atlanta; grandchildren, Chazz, Nicholas, Jr., Joshua, Dakota, Cameron, Dustin, Alyssa, Silas, Lexi, Brinley, Gracie, and Maria; brothers, James DeWitt (Vicki) of Arkansas, Randall DeWitt, Sr. (Glenda) of Arkansas, Ricky DeWitt (Diane) of Arkansas, Dougie Stoops (Melissa) of Atlanta, and David Stoops (partner, Charles) of Noblesville; sisters, Debbie Anderson of Arkansas, and Sheila Abbott (Carl) of Noblesville; half-sisters, Tammy Watson, and Angel Harris; many nieces, cousins, and nephews; and by her canine BFF, Ruger.

She was preceded in death by her mother, Ellen Mae (Forkner) DeWitt-Stoops; and by her brother-in-law, Donald Anderson.

A Celebration of Life was held on Saturday, January 22, 2022, at Kercheval Funeral Home, 306 E. 10th St., Sheridan, with visitation prior to the time of service.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be presented to the Indiana School for the Blind and Visually Impaired.

Girls basketball

Tigers beat Avon, clinch HCC title

By RICHIE HALL

FISHERS - Fishers junior Alycia Triplett moved in this school year from Charleston, Ill., and has gotten a crash course on what Indiana high school basketball is all about.

Triplett can also call herself a Hoosier Crossroads Conference champion, along with her Tigers teammates. Fishers sprinted to the HCC title last Saturday at the Tiger Den, overwhelming Avon 72-35 for the outright championship.

The Tigers are 6-0 in the conference and still have one more game HCC game to play, against Franklin Central on Friday, which will also be their regular-season finale.

"I didn't think being a conference champ was a huge deal, because back in my state, it was just like a common thing," said Triplett. "When we were in the locker room, we poured water on our coach, it was just a whole celebration, so it was just a whole eye-opener and seeing how competitive and a great accomplishment it is."

Once she had dried off, Fishers coach Lauren Votaw took some time to reflect on what it means to win an HCC championship.

"It feels great, especially for my coaching staff and these players, because they've just worked so hard," said Votaw. "My staff in the preparation for each of these games, because winning the conference is hard. We have one of the toughest conferences, if not the toughest conference in the state. That means you have to go out seven times and compete. We have six of seven done, and I just feel like our kids have done a really good job of staying focused in those times."

The Tigers got their offense going very quickly, although the Orioles didn't make it totally easy. Fishers led 26-16 after one quarter, with Olivia Smith scoring 10 points. Five other Tigers players scored, with Hailey Smith adding five points and Triplett four.

"Today was a game where we knew Avon had some weapons and we knew we had to come out from the start and really set the tone, and I was very proud of the way that our kids did that early on today," said Votaw.

With the offensive tone set, Fishers stepped up its defense in the second quarter, outscoring Avon 23-4 to take a 49-20 halftime lead. The Tigers made two runs, first a 15-0 spurt that included six points from Joirdyn Smith. The Orioles interrupted the run with a pair of free throws, but Fishers simply added seven unanswered points.

The Tigers then continued to roll in the third quarter, adding another 15 points for a 64-31 advantage at the end of the period. Triplett and Hailey Smith scored four points during that quarter. Avon never stopped battling, but Fishers' depth proved to be too much.

Ten different Tigers scored during the game, with Triplett pouring in 14 points to lead the way.

"Moving here, I just had the mindset of I have to prove myself, because the school I originally came from, I was a starter, and I was just given the title," said Triplett. "So it's here, I have to fight for it and I feel like all the time that I've worked towards, it led up to this game."

Triplett is also enjoying playing high school basketball in Indiana.

"It's a lot more competitive," said Triplett. "I feel like I needed it. It's more up-pace, it's more physical and they take it a lot more seriously, and I love it."

Three other Fishers players reached double figures. Joirdyn Smith and Hailey Smith both had 12 points, while Olivia Smith contributed 10 points.

Fishers edges out Carmel; 'Hounds rebound against Pike

Fishers hosted Carmel last Tuesday night, and the Greyhounds gave the Tigers a tough battle before Fishers was able to pull away in the fourth quarter for a 52-47 victory.

"I felt like it was like, big shot, big shot, big shot there for a while," said Votaw. "It was fun. It felt like tournament atmosphere a little bit, which was great."

Carmel had been on a seven-game win streak, and after absorbing an early 6-2 Fishers lead (Karina Scott and Olivia Smith made 3-pointers), the 'Hounds took off on a 9-0 run that would keep them ahead for most of the next two quarters. Emily Roper scored the first six points of that run, then Laura Valiente threw in a 3.

The Tigers stopped the run when Morgan Roberts hit a triple, but Hannah Lach scored off a steal to finish the first quarter and give Carmel a 13-9 advantage.

The Greyhounds led 17-11 during the middle minutes of the second quarter before Fishers' Joirdyn Smith drained back-to-back 3s to tie the game at 17-17, the only time in the period where Carmel didn't lead. Clarke answered that with a three-point play, then hit another 3 to give the 'Hounds a 23-19 advantage. Hailey Smith kept Fishers close with five points during the final two minutes of the half, but Carmel still led 25-24 at the break.

Votaw said that the Greyhounds' length made it difficult to find openings and attack their zone.

"They do a good job of mixing up the depth of it, the aggressiveness of it and so it keeps you guessing," said Votaw. "They just do a really great job. Credit to (coach) Erin (Trimpe), because she's got them playing that thing really well."

Carmel's Mackenzie Thomas opened the second half with a layin to move the Greyhounds ahead 27-24. Olivia Smith cut it to one with a layin, then a putback from Hailey Smith got Fishers back in front 28-27, and the two teams began trading the lead throughout the third quarter. Clarke made another triple to push Carmel in front 36-34, but the Tigers' Talia Harris and Joirdyn Smith hit consecutive 3s towards the end of the quarter, which finished with Fishers ahead 40-36.

Joirdyn Smith scored the first basket of the fourth period with a jumper.

"I thought that Joirdyn Smith, for the most part, played very well at the point under control," said Votaw. "She did a good job of driving and then when people collapsed on her, she found her open teammates."

Joirdyn Smith said that she's "coming in every morning, after practice I'm staying after, getting extra shots, just fine-tuning my shots before sectionals. And I know as the season goes on, the games get more important, game by game."

Carmel went on a 7-0 run to take a 43-42 lead; Clarke scored five points and Roper got a basket off a steal. But Fishers would finish the game on a 10-4 run; Hailey Smith scored seven of those points during the run. The Greyhounds got within 48-47 after a Clarke jumper, but Harris, Hailey Smith and Karina Scott combined for the game's last four points, all from the free-throw line.

"I thought we did a lot of good things, just not enough," said Trimpe. "And they did just a few more of those. Their offensive rebounds in the second half just absolutely destroyed us. Our turnovers, our pass selection, missed layups was obviously a huge problem for us. But we told them, we did all the things to put ourselves in a position to beat a really good team, but we have to figure out how to get over that hump and make those plays to get it done."

Hailey Smith led the Tigers with 15 points, while Joirdyn Smith scored 14 points. For Carmel, Clarke led with 18 points, followed by Roper with 16 points.

'HOUNDS CRUISE PAST PIKE

Carmel's girls basketball team cruised to Metropolitan Conference victory at Pike last Friday, beating the Red Devils 65-33.

The Greyhounds outscored Pike in each of the four quarters, going up 18-10 after the first period and 37-17 at halftime. Carmel then outscored the Red Devils 28-16 in the second half, adding 14 points in both the third and fourth quarters.

Lach drained four 3-pointers on her way to 20 points, while Roper scored 11 points. Valiente led the rebounds with five and also handed out four assists. Valiente and Sophie Shepherd each had six points.

NEXT GAMES

The Tigers are 16-4 overall, and will finish up the regular season on the road. Fishers plays Tuesday at Lawrence North, then heads to Franklin Central on Friday.

The 'Hounds are 5-1 in MIC play and 13-7 overall. Carmel hosts Cathedral on Tuesday, then travels to Ben Davis on Friday to wrap up its conference and regular seasons.

Carmel's Kate Clarke scored 18 points.

Millers get two wins

Noblesville picked up two wins last week.

First, the Millers blasted Harrison 69-26 in their final home game of the season last Tuesday at The Mill.

Noblesville took care of this contest early. The Millers led 20-8 after one quarter and 41-14 at halftime, then cruised ahead 53-20 after three periods. Noblesville didn't allow the Raiders more than eight points in a quarter.

Millers coach Donna Buckley said her team played "much better" than it did last week, especially in a Jan. 14 defeat to Zionsville.

"I thought our kids really came out and understood what we need to do to be successful," said Buckley, who also said that her team is "trying to do the right things on both ends of the floor."

Ashlynn Shade led Noblesville with 21 points, and also had eight rebounds and six steals. Kaitlyn Shoemaker drained three 3-pointers on her way to 14 points. Reagan Wilson had 10 points, six assists and five steals.

Ava Shoemaker collected nine rebounds, while Meredith Tippner pulled six and Dani Mendez five. Tippner also dished out four assists and Brooklyn Smitherman had two blocked shots.

"We challenged them the last two days, so they definitely responded to the challenge that we gave them," said Buckley.

Noblesville finished up Hoosier Crossroads Conference play on a winning note, overwhelming Franklin Central 62-25 in an away game last Saturday.

The Millers had control of the game from the start, leading 21-7 after the first quarter. Noblesville then was up 41-16 by halftime, then shut out the Flashes in the third period to take a 55-16 lead.

"Our kids really made a commitment to play defense and get after it and rebound the basketball, not to give up second and third opportunities," said Buckley. "When

Hot-shooting Bison stop Huskies in Hoosier Conference championship game

By RICHIE HALL

ARCADIA - Hamilton Heights girls basketball coach Keegan Cherry got a surprise last Friday night, and not the good kind.

Cherry had been scouting Benton Central over several games as he prepared his Huskies team to play the Bison Friday for the Hoosier Conference championship at the Heights gym. The surprise came during the game, when it seemed as if Benton Central couldn't miss.

The Bison shot 53 percent for the game, and that led them to a 54-46 victory over the Huskies. Benton Central, the champion of the conference's West Division, thus won the title while Heights, the East Division champion, is the runner-up.

"That second half, they spurted there," said Cherry. "I've watched several games on them - five - plus a live scout and hadn't seen them shoot the basketball like that.

Credit to them, they made shots tonight."

The Huskies were the ones making the shots early, as they ran out to an 11-5 first-quarter lead. MyKayla Moran scored the game's first points on a jump shot, then Camryn Runner threw in two 3-pointers. Kaylee Rhoton made a 3 to give Heights its six-point lead.

Benton Central began to find its range towards the end of the quarter, but Rhoton and Mia Shields both nailed triples to keep the Huskies in front 17-14 going into the second period. Heights pushed its lead back up to 21-15 after Moran scored off a rebounds and Runner made two free throws with 4:49 left in the half.

The Bison then went on a 13-2 run, including 11 straight points, to jump ahead 28-23. Shields scored the last basket of the half, but the Huskies trailed 28-25 at the break.

Benton Central kept rolling in the third quarter, outscoring Heights 16-3. Sienna Foster got hot for BC, scoring eight straight points. Kennedy Tolen scored the period's last five points to put the Bison up 44-28. A free throw from Moran and a layin by Ella Hickok were the only points Heights could score in the period.

"For us, we were trying to eliminate any paint touches for them," said Cherry. "Their size for us is a problem, so we were trying to protect the paint, and we were giving up those outside shots. And they made them. So I told the girls in the locker room, 'This one's on me. I had five games on them and a live scout, and I didn't see them shoot the ball like this one time.' Sometimes that happens, but our girls did exactly what we were asking them to do. They just made the shots."

Benton Central kept its lead in double digits for all but the final few seconds of the fourth quarter, when the Huskies made a run. Ella Hickok went off for seven points during a 25-second period, getting Heights within 52-44. But there were 23.9 seconds left, and it was simply too much to overcome.

Runner scored 13 points to lead Heights, while Hickok scored 11. Moran led the rebounds with seven, followed by Runner with six and Hickok with five. Both Hickok and Runner handed out four assists.

Kennedy Tolen scored 22 points to lead the Bison, and scored her 1,000th point late in the second quarter. Heights stopped the game to recognize her achievement.

The Huskies are 15-5 for the season. Heights' Thursday game with Lafayette Jefferson was canceled, so as of right now, the conference championship game was the season finale. The Huskies are trying to find replacement games for this week.

Huskies win all-county game over 'Hawks

By RICHIE HALL

SHERIDAN - An all-county boys basketball game went Hamilton Heights' way last Saturday night.

The Huskies traveled to Sheridan and took care of business early, winning 71-36 at Larry Hobbs Hall. Heights scored the first seven points of the game and never looked back.

The Huskies made three separate 7-0 runs during the first quarter to hold a 21-4 lead at the end of the period. Tillman Etchison started things off with a 3-pointer, and that was followed by Dean Mason hitting two free throws and Luke Carroll making a dunk.

"I thought we played real well," said Heights coach Chad Ballenger. "We did all the things we needed to. Our word for the night, we wanted to be disciplined. We really had a good weekend of basketball."

Carroll wound up with seven points during the quarter, and his late steal lead to an easy basket for Etchison. Mason was 6 of 6 from the line in the period.

The Huskies continued to roll in the second period, jumping out to a 31-11 lead late in the quarter. Isaac Tuma scored six points during that run. Sheridan battled back with a 9-0 spurt as halftime drew near; Ethan Moistner hit a 3-pointer and Evan Grinstead made a lay-in. Grinstead finished the second quarter with seven points.

The Huskies' Cooper Vondersaar finished the first half with a 3-pointer, and that gave his team a 34-20 lead at the break. It also started a 9-0 run that included the opening minutes of the second half. Carroll, Etchison and Mason all made baskets to give Heights a 40-20 lead early in the third.

Carroll continued to dominate during the second half, with eight points in the third quarter alone. His free throws with 4.6 seconds left gave Heights a 55-27 lead after three periods. That was part of a 16-0 spurt for the Huskies that bridged the third and fourth quarters and gave them a 63-27 lead.

Heights was missing several kids, so Ballenger was pleased to see other players step up.

"Some other kids rose up and played," said Ballenger. "Luke did a good job. I thought Tillman ran the show. Sheridan does a lot of stuff that you don't see all the time. They play that 1-3-1 and into a 2-3 and 2-2-1, three-quarter court and a lot of stuff that we haven't seen, so they keep you off-balance. But it's good. It's a good win and gets us going into next week."

Carroll reached double-double status with 21 points and 15 rebounds. Etchison scored 12 points, with Tuma and Mason each contributing 10 points. Tanner Maynard added nine points; both he and Etchison knocked down two 3s.

"Tanner Maynard hit some big shots tonight and came through," said Ballenger.

Etchison handed out four assists and Carroll made four steals.

Moistner led Sheridan with 12 points, including two 3s, and also had two blocked shots. Grinstead finished with 10 points and five rebounds, while Caleb Wright dished out four assists.

"I thought we definitely struggled with them," said Blackhawks coach Chip Flemmer. "But we kept telling them, we're fighting regardless if you're up 30 or down 30. Doesn't matter, we're going to keep battling. I was glad they didn't throw in the towel. We just kept getting after it. We just didn't see the result."

EARLIER GAMES

Heights fought until the end before dropping a 59-52 away game at Mount Vernon last Friday.

The Marauders led 15-12 after the first quarter and 27-17 at halftime. Carroll helped keep the Huskies within shouting distance in the first half by scoring eight points.

Heights made a move in the third quarter, cutting Mount Vernon's lead to 39-36 by the end of the period. Etchison scored seven points, including a 3-pointer, while Mason knocked down two 3s. The Marauders scored 20 points in the fourth in order to hold on for the win.

Carroll scored 16 points and pulled seven rebounds to lead the Huskies. Etchison added 13 points and

The Westfield boys basketball team dropped a Hoosier Crossroads Conference game at Brownsburg 53-44 last Friday.

The Shamrocks trailed the Bulldogs 15-12 after one quarter, but came back in the second period and tied the game at 25-25 by halftime. Nic Depasquale scored seven points in the half, while Cam Haffner and Trey Buchanan both hit two 3-pointers.

Brownsburg jumped back ahead in the third quarter to take a 38-33 lead. Westfield continued battling in the fourth quarter, but the Bulldogs were able to hold off the 'Rocks for the win.

Depasquale scored 13 points, while Buchanan hit four 3-pointers for 12 points.

Westfield traveled back to Hendricks County last Saturday and came home with a 66-59 win over Tri-West.

The Shamrocks led 17-15 after the first quarter, then jumped ahead 36-23 by halftime. Haffner scored 11 first-half points, with Alex Romack adding eight.

The Bruins made a comeback in the third quarter, cutting Westfield's lead to 51-45 by the end of the period. The 'Rocks were able to hold on in the fourth quarter; Romack helped out with six points in that quarter, and 14 for the second half.

Romack was the leading scorer with 24 points, followed by Haffner with 17.

Westfield is 11-4 and plays a Hoosier Crossroads Conference game Tuesday at Noblesville, then hosts an HCC contest with Avon Friday before welcoming Liberty Christian on Saturday.

Millers pull away from FC in overtime

If Noblesville boys basketball coach Scott McClelland had been in the stands watching the Millers take on Franklin Central last Friday night at The Mill, he would've had a blast.

The Hoosier Crossroads Conference game between Noblesville and the Flashes was a close one all the way through, then went to overtime, where the Millers were able to pull away and pick up a gritty 69-63 conference victory. Since he was coaching, the contest was a little more stressful for McClelland, but at least it finished in a good way, with a Millers win.

"If you're a fan, and you're just a pure basketball fan, you paid your five bucks to get in tonight, you probably enjoyed the game, because it was back and forth, different kids make big shots all night, both teams," said McClelland.

The Millers led 13-12 after one quarter, with Aaron Fine scoring eight points. Noblesville held a 27-26 lead at halftime and was up 45-43 after three periods; Preston Roberts scored nine in the third quarter.

The Flashes had the game tied at 60-60 with seconds to go in regulation, but a last-second shot didn't go and it was on to overtime. The Millers outscored FC by a 9-3 margin in the extra period thanks to its foul shooting. Noblesville was 5 of 5 from the line, and baskets from E.J. Smith and Luke Almodovar helped seal the win. Smith's basket was part of a three-point play.

"We showed some grit, some toughness," said McClelland. "We were able to make a couple plays, hit our free throws, so I think that was huge."

Fine and Roberts both scored 19 points for the Millers, while Almodovar added 10. McClelland also praised Smith, who had to deal with the Flashes' defense during the game.

"He was getting just denied all over," said McClelland. "He really did a good job of keeping his composure and he made his teammates better. Early because they were so geared on him and late because he took some pressure away from other guys because they were so worried about him, and it freed up some things. It doesn't show as an assist, it doesn't show as a made basket, but it was certainly a mature, growing basketball player play. And it made our team better tonight."

Smith finished with nine points and was 5 of 5 from the line. Roberts made all seven of his foul shots. Seven was a good number for Noblesville: All seven players that took to the floor scored at least two points.

The Millers are 2-1 in HCC play and 7-6 overall. Noblesville hosts three all-county games this week, starting with an HCC contest with Westfield on Tuesday. The Millers continue conference play Friday by welcoming Hamilton Southeastern, then host Guerin Catholic Saturday afternoon.

'Hounds still perfect in MIC . . .

Carmel boys go 1-1 for the weekend

Carmel kept its Metropolitan Conference record perfect last Friday, as the Greyhounds took care of Pike 64-48 at the Eric Clark Activity Center.

Carmel steadily built a lead over the first three quarters over the Red Devils. The 'Hounds led 16-12 after one period and 35-25 at halftime, then used a solid defensive effort to hold Pike to seven points in the third. Carmel led 48-32 after three periods.

Four players reached double figures for the Greyhounds. Jared Bonds led the way with 15 points, followed by Peter Suder and Sam Orme with 14 points each. Charlie Williams chipped in 10 points. Those four players were also the leading rebounders, with Suder collecting nine and Bonds, Orme and Williams each pulling six. Josh Whack dished out four assists.

Carmel was dealt a tough loss on the road last Saturday, falling to Brownsburg 34-31.

The Greyhounds led 5-3 after the first quarter and 20-13 at halftime. The Bulldogs began to come back in the third quarter, cutting Carmel's lead to 26-23 by the end of the period. Brownsburg worked its way back to tie the game at 31-31 late in the fourth, then won on a buzzer-beater.

Suder scored 13 points to lead the Greyhounds. Orme collected eight rebounds to go with seven points, while Garwey Dual had seven points and five rebounds. Bonds also pulled five rebounds.

Carmel is 11-4 and plays a Metropolitan Conference game Friday at Ben Davis, then hosts Fort Wayne Snider on Saturday.

Westfield finished second in HCC . . . 'Rocks girls split games

Westfield rebounded from a tough loss at Brownsburg last Friday to beat Fort Wayne Northrop last Saturday afternoon, 59-40 at CSI Gymnasium.

The Shamrocks were involved in a close first half with Northrop, leading 12-11 after the first quarter and 31-27 at halftime. But Westfield blasted through the third period, outscoring the Bruins 20-4 in that quarter, and kept its lead around that margin in the fourth.

Alyssa Crockett had another great game, reaching double-double status with 26 points and 11 rebounds, and hitting four 3-pointers. Crockett also made four steals. Emmrey Collinsworth scored 10 points, making two 3s along the way.

In Friday's game, the Bulldogs took a 15-8 lead on the 'Rocks after one quarter. Westfield cut that advantage to 25-22 by halftime, but Brownsburg finished the third period ahead 37-33 and outscored the Shamrocks 12-9 in the fourth.

Crockett scored 23 points, collected eight rebounds and made two blocked shots. Ellie Kelleher pulled five rebounds.

Westfield finished Hoosier Crossroads Conference play at 5-2, giving them second place in the league. The Shamrocks are 17-4 overall and play their regular-season finale Tuesday at Ben Davis.

Sheridan girls fall to Bethesda, beat Delphi

By RICHIE HALL

SHERIDAN - After a 13-day layoff, the Sheridan girls basketball team returned to the floor last Thursday.

The Blackhawks had a tough assignment for its first game back, hosting Bethesda Christian at Larry Hobbs Hall. Sheridan was able to hang with the Patriots for the first half, but Bethesda pulled away in the second half and beat the 'Hawks 56-41.

Sheridan had a spectacular start to the game, sprinting off to a 9-0 lead. Ashley Weibel opened the contest with a 3-pointer, Taylor Bates made a putback, Jacquellynne Bates hit a free throw and Chaney Smith drained a 3.

The 'Hawks held a 13-3 lead minutes later, and it would be their biggest advantage of the game. Smith and Cecilia Timme both made layins to get Sheridan up 10. Bethesda finished the period on a 10-2 run, but the Blackhawks still led 15-13 at the end of the quarter.

Sheridan held a 22-16 lead midway through the second, with Timme contributing four points. That's when the Patriots' Kenzie Fulks took over. The sophomore scored seven points in a row to get Bethesda Christian ahead 23-22, then Paige Vawter's floater pushed the Patriots ahead by three.

"She's an absolute stud," said Blackhawks coach Jaidlin Bradshaw of Fulks. "She's a problem, and I mean that in the best possible way. Props to her, she had a great game. We just couldn't stop her. Couldn't figure it out."

Kenzie Garner made consecutive jumpers to finish the half, so Sheridan held a 26-

25 halftime lead. It was Garner's first action in several weeks; she had been out due to injury.

"This is definitely a tough game to come back to," said Bradshaw. "Bethesda is so good."

Fulks opened the third quarter by scoring five straight points, and Sheridan answered with its own five straight points. Taylor Bates made a free throw, then Jacquellynne Bates and Timme made jump shots. That put the 'Hawks up 31-30, but that would be their last lead of the game.

Fulks made her second three-point play of the quarter with 4:28 left in the third to give the Patriots a 33-31 lead. Lilly Chesney tied it up with a layin, but Holly Daugherty's 3-pointer pushed Bethesda ahead 36-33, and the Patriots would lead for the remainder of the game.

A Fulks floater was the last basket of the third quarter, which ended with the Patriots up 42-35. Sheridan opened the fourth with a layin from Taylor Bates and a triple by Smith, cutting Bethesda's lead to 42-40. But the Patriots would finish the game on a 14-1 run, with Fulks scoring 10 of those points.

Smith led the Blackhawks with 10 points, while Timme scored eight. Fulks led all scorers with 33 points.

Sheridan rebounded last Friday to cruise past Delphi 57-38 in a Hoosier Heartland Conference game. Sheridan trailed 13-9 after the first
