run full-time to clear more than 600 lane miles in the city from curb to curb. During snow removal, the city is broken into three categories. Crews do not move to the next level until the one before it is completed:

1. Primary – main roadways and major arteries for traffic.

2. Secondary – main roadways in neighborhoods, minor roads throughout the city with lower traffic counts.

3. Alternate – lowest traveled roads and the city’s more than 500 cul-de-sacs.

Also, not all roadways in Noblesville fall under the city’s jurisdiction. These include those under the jurisdiction of INDOT (State Roads 19, 32, 37 and 38) and numerous Hamilton County roads. There also are private roads that have agreements with the city that they will maintain and remove snow.

salted as needed.

It takes approximately 24 hours to plow all 560 miles of streets and over 1,100 cul-de-sacs in the city.

A second crew came in at midnight Tuesday night. This is the crew that started the 12-hour shifts. The shift change time will be noon and midnight. The crews will remain on 12-hour shifts until the end of the snow event.

full force for the duration of the winter storm and afterward to continue cleanup efforts.

Road conditions across the state will be challenging as the storm moves through. INDOT’s goal is to keep highways passable during the storm, but motorists that must travel should expect to encounter snow- and ice-covered roads, blowing and drifting, and whiteout conditions.

Rain is expected across most of the state beginning Tuesday evening leading into a wintry mix overnight, meaning that in most cases INDOT will not be able to pretreat roads in advance of the snow and ice. Without pretreatment, highways are more likely to develop slick spots and snow to stick to pavement and bridges.

INDOT urges motorists to stay off the roads and avoid unnecessary travel to allow plow truck drivers room to work safely and so they may complete their routes as quickly as possible.

If you do have to travel, slow down, increase following distance, don’t crowd plow trucks, give yourself extra time, and travel with an emergency kit. Monitor real-time travel conditions at trafficwise.org and be sure to check in.gov/dhs/traveladvisory for travel advisories in your area.

PREVAIL
Advocating for Victims of Crime & Abuse

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Duke Energy gives you advice on what to do during power outages

The REPORTER

Duke Energy is monitoring and preparing for a winter storm system that may cause power outages across Indiana. A mix of heavy snow, sleet, freezing rain and high winds is predicted to move across the state.

“As severe winter weather approaches, we’re encouraging customers across our service territories to prepare for possible outages,” said Kevin Morgan, Duke Energy’s general manager for emergency preparedness. “Our team is making preparations to ensure we can restore electricity to impacted customers as soon as possible.”

Snow on its own typically has little to no impact on the electric system. However, heavy wet snow accumulation, freezing rain and high winds may bring down trees, limbs and power lines. These types of winter storms can also create hazardous driving conditions, which could delay and impede Duke Energy workers’ ability to assess storm damage and restore power.

Duke Energy has called in 300 additional response workers from out-of-state utilities – including linemen, damage assessors and vegetation crews – to supplement local crews and speed power restoration. Crews will work around the clock to restore power in impacted communities as quickly as possible.

Heavy ice on trees, branches, power lines

Ice buildup on trees and branches that causes them to fall on power lines is usually the main culprit behind power outages during a winter storm. Specifically, ice buildup of a quarter inch or more is often the threshold amount that causes trees and branches to topple.

The heavy weight of significant ice buildup directly on power lines themselves can sometimes cause the lines to fall or sag, as well. Heavy, wet snow of 6 inches or more also can cause trees and branches to fall on power lines.

Damage assessment

After the storm, as conditions permit, crews will assess damage – a process that can take 24 hours or more, depending on damage severity and road conditions.

Damage assessment determines the types of crews, equipment and supplies needed to restore electricity to each power outage location.

Simultaneously, while damage assessment is underway in some of the harder-hit areas, repair work will begin in other areas where feasible.

Reporting power outages

Customers can report power outages by texting “OUT” to 57801 or by calling (800) 343-3525. They may also report an outage online at duke-energy.com/outages or through the Duke Energy mobile app. Duke Energy will provide estimated power restoration times to customers as soon as those times are determined.

The company also will provide regular updates to customers and communities through emails, text messages, outbound phone calls, social media and its website, which includes power outage maps.

Winter storm safety reminders

Customers can take steps to safely prepare for winter weather and outages that may impact them by doing the following:

- Ensure an adequate supply of flashlights, batteries, bottled water, nonperishable foods, medicines, etc., as well as the availability of a portable, battery-operated radio, TV or weather radio.
- Customers should make alternate shelter arrangements as needed if they will be significantly impacted by a loss of power – especially families who have special medical needs or elderly members.

- Stay away from power lines that have fallen or are sagging. Consider all lines energized as well as trees or limbs in contact with lines. Please report downed power lines to Duke Energy or local emergency services.
- If a power line falls across a car that you’re in, stay in the car. If you MUST get out of the car due to a fire or other immediate life-threatening situation, do your best to jump clear of the car and land on both feet. Be sure that no part of your body is touching the car when your feet touch the ground.
- Ice and snow can cause hazardous driving conditions resulting in traffic accidents and downed utility poles and power lines that, in turn, can cause isolated power outages. If you’re driving and encounter emergency responders or other roadside work crews, remember to MOVE OVER.
- If you use a generator due to a power outage, follow the manufacturer’s instructions to ensure safe and proper operation. Operate your generator outside; never operate it inside a building or garage.
- Don’t use grills or other outdoor appliances or equipment indoors for space heating or cooking, as these devices may emit carbon monoxide.
- Be prepared for an emergency by purchasing an emergency preparedness kit from the Red Cross.

More tips on what to do before, during and after a storm can be found at duke-energy.com/safety-and-preparedness/storm-safety. A checklist serves as a helpful guide, but it’s critical before, during and after a storm to follow the instructions and warnings of emergency management officials in your area.

Winter storm forces closure of county vaccine, testing sites

The REPORTER

Out of an abundance of caution for the approaching winter storm, the Hamilton County Health Department will close its testing and vaccination clinics.

The vaccination site at the 4-H Fairgrounds in Noblesville will be closed all day Wednesday. The testing site at the Hamilton County Health Department will close at 1 p.m. Wednesday. Both sites will be closed all day Thursday and Friday with operations resuming Monday.

Individuals with appointments will receive a call to reschedule.

Because sites run by the State Department of Health and other local health departments could be affected, anyone who plans a walk-in visit to a COVID-19 testing or vaccination site should contact the site to ensure it is open before going. Updates to state-operated sites will be reflected at coronavirus.in.gov and ourshot.in.gov.

GreenPal offering on-demand snow removal in Noblesville

The REPORTER

The nation’s leader in on-demand lawn mowing has just launched its on-demand snow removal service in Noblesville.

GreenPal, which has been described as “Uber for lawn care,” is already being used in 48 states by more than 1 million homeowners.

With the coronavirus running rampant and social distancing a communal priority, our service lends itself to be the only way to get your snow removed this season. Here’s why:

- GreenPal’s technology allows vendors to bid on lawns without having to visit the property and talk face-to-face with the homeowner.

- Historically, this industry has been a cash business. GreenPal eliminates the need to meet for payment.
- Over 30 percent of GreenPal customers are over the age of 60. That demographic is the most susceptible to contracting COVID-19 and falling fatally ill from it.

Homeowners can list their snow removal needs with their desired service date and snow removal companies then bid on the property based on Google Street View and aerial images and any other details the homeowner provides.

Homeowners can then select who they want to work with based on the vendor’s ratings, reviews, and price.

Once the service provider has completed the job, they send a time-stamped photo of the completed work. Homeowners pay using the app and can set up more appointments.

The app has already launched in about 250 major markets around the U.S., including Pittsburgh, Pa., Omaha, Neb., Boise, Idaho, Chicago, Ill., Green Bay, Wis., Rochester, N.Y., and Indianapolis, among others.

Glynn files for state rep

By FRED SWIFT
ReadTheReporter.com

Two-term Hamilton County Council member Fred Glynn has filed his candidacy for state representative in District 32. A Republican, Glynn first considered a run for the new House district in October, but then filed for re-election to the council.

This week he withdrew his candidacy for council and decided to run for state representative. "People kept coming to me suggesting I run" for the House, he said.

The new district includes portions of southern Clay and Delaware townships as well as a few precincts in northern Marion County. It is considered a competitive district with a slight Republican edge based on recent election results. Reapportionment created the district because of population growth in the area.

Glynn says his reasons for making the run include his interest in local government's relationship with the state, and an interest in public education. He is a 20-year resident of Carmel where he made an aggressive, but ultimately unsuccessful run for mayor in 2019.

The candidate says he considers himself a political conservative. He has been employed in the banking and insurance industry since graduation from Embury-Riddle Aeronautical University. Glynn and his wife are parents of one daughter and belong to the St. Elizabeth Seton Catholic Church in Carmel.

Three other candidates have filed for the District 32 House seat: Paul Nix, a Fishers Republican; Victoria Wilburn, a Fishers Democrat; and Suzie Jaworowski, a Fishers Republican.

Upon Glynn's withdrawal from the council race, John Accetturo, former Carmel City Council member, and Tim Griffin filed for the council nomination in the GOP primary.

Filing deadline for the May 3 primary election is noon Friday.

Letter to the Editor

Shaffer: Carmel's debt service payments serve as warning for rest of county

Dear Editor:

Inflation and basic economic reality are making Carmel's municipal finances a lesson for the rests of the county on what not to do.

According to public records, Carmel's population grew 24 percent in the last decade as total city revenues increased 98 percent and debt service payments, 319 percent (from $11.8 million in 2011 to $49.8 million in 2020).

On a per-capita basis, city revenues increased from $618 in 2011 to $981 in 2020. We don't have 2021 numbers yet.

The mayor's super-secret fiscal plan projects one-third of city tax revenues will go to pay down debt in 2022.

The latest Bureau of Labor Statistics indicate the average U.S. household pays less than 10 percent of disposable income in debt service of all kinds. That's as of the Jan. 7, 2022, update.

Consider what your household budget would look like if that tripled.

Well, with inflation at a 7.7 percent level in Indiana according to Bureau of Labor Statistics reporting, lots of things will soon triple.

Not a pretty picture for a city $1.5 billion in debt with $86 million due by the end of the year. Some $52 million of that is to come from Carmel Redevelopment Commission projects.

Sad news for Carmel residents but a blazing warning sign for other Hamilton County taxpayers.

State Senate approves bill for greater transparency in health care licensure, advertising

Amended version of SB 239 advances to House

The REPORTER

The Indiana Senate voted to approve an amended version of Senate Bill 239 that aims to help Hoosier patients answer the question: Who's who in health care? The vote sends the bill on practitioner identification and advertising to the House for consideration during the second half of the 2022 legislative session.

"Thanks to members of the Senate, Hoosiers are one step closer to seeing greater transparency in health care licensure," said Elizabeth Struble, MD, a family medicine physician and president of the Indiana State Medical Association. "And we thank the bill's authors, Sen. Kevin Boehnlein and Sen. Liz Brown, and their fellow co-authors, for providing the leadership to protect patients by helping them understand who is providing their health care."

Provisions included in the bill as introduced would require that advertisements clearly state a health care professional's license type; that an ID with license type be worn in appropriate clinical settings, and if applicable, include their status as a student, intern, trainee or resident; and that medical specialty designations be reserved only for physician specialists, such as anesthesiologist, dermatologist, cardiologist, etc.

Removed through amendment was any change to a health care worker's ID badge.

However, an independent survey conducted in 2020 of Hoosier consumers found significant public confusion in the medical industry. For example, 25 percent of respondents, or one in four Hoosiers, were not confident which medical professional they saw the past few years.

Such confusion, according to the Indiana Physician Coalition, is caused by the "alphabet soup" of abbreviations that attempt to identify members of a patient's health care team, such as MD, DO, APRN, NP, CRNA, PA, DNP, etc. Instead, the coalition supports a new law that would require identification in advertisements and on ID badges to be based on license type, such as physician, nurse practitioner, nurse anesthetist, physician assistant, and others.

"Using terms for providers based on license type allows Hoosiers to make a truly informed choice when seeking out options for health care," said Carrie Davis, MD, a physician and dermatologist representing the Indiana Academy of Dermatology. "And in some clinical settings like urgent cares or hospitals, the patient may not have a choice in who provides their care, making immediate transparency of their title and qualifications on their name badge even more critical."

The coalition hopes to continue working with representatives in the House to address any concerns and refine its provisions as the bill proceeds through the legislative process.

For more information on why Indiana Physician Coalition supports practitioner identification and advertising, download the coalition's fact sheet on health care licensure transparency at bit.ly/3rP6PaM.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

My fellow prisoner Aristarchus sends you his greetings, as does Mark, the cousin of Barnabas. (You have received instructions about him; if he comes to you, welcome him.) Jesus, who is called Justus, also sends greetings. These are the only Jews among my co-workers for the kingdom of God, and they have proved a comfort to me. Epaphras, who is one of you and a servant of Christ Jesus, sends greetings. He is always wrestling in prayer for you, that you may stand firm in all the will of God, mature and fully assured. I vouch for him that he is working hard for you and for those at Laodicea and Hierapolis. Our dear friend Luke, the doctor, and Demas send greetings. Give my greetings to the brothers and sisters at Laodicea, and to Nympha and the church in her house.

After this letter has been read to you, see that it is also read in the church of the Laodiceans and that you in turn read the letter from Laodicea.

Tell Archippus: "See to it that you complete the ministry you have received in the Lord."

I, Paul, write this greeting in my own hand. Remember my chains. Grace be with you.

Tigers beat rival, Millers get redemption . . .

Fishers, Noblesville reach Sectional 8 semis

By RICHIE HALL

WESTFIELD - Play at Class 4A Sectional 8, the toughest girls basketball sectional in the state of Indiana, began Tuesday at Westfield's CSI Gymnasium.

With all six teams ranked in the top 13 of the Sagarin ratings, each game is expected to be a tough one. Tuesday featured two first-round games, and while the winners got their victories by double digits over their opponents, it was tougher than it looked.

In the first game, Fishers (ranked No. 7 in the ICGSA Class 4A poll) beat district rival Hamilton Southeastern 43-33 to advance to the semi-finals, which are scheduled for Friday - weather permitting, of course. Tuesday's second game saw No. 5-ranked Noblesville break away from Zionsville in the second half and win 62-46 to clinch a spot in the semis.

The Tigers will play No. 7-ranked Westfield in the first semi-final, while the Millers will play Carmel in the second game.

GAME OF RUNS

Fishers coach Lauren Votaw said that before the game, the team talked about "how in this sectional, in any sectional, but really in this sectional, every single game will have runs." Both teams will make runs, and Votaw said the team that comes out on top will be the team "that can withstand those, stay together, keep their poise during those moments. We did, we were able to bounce back and hit some big shots in those moments."

And the Fishers-Southeastern game

featured four distinct runs. The Tigers had three runs, and each of them gave Fishers a good-sized lead once it was finished. The Royals also made a significant run in the third quarter that made things interesting.

Fishers' first run came in the latter stages of the first period. Trailing 6-5, the Tigers scored eight straight points to hold a 13-6 lead. All four were inside baskets, from Morgan Roberts, Talia Harris, Hailey Smith and Olivia Smith.

Fishers led 13-7 at the end of the quarter, and increased that lead to 22-13 by halftime. Olivia Smith scored seven of the Tigers' points in the second, including a three-point play with 1:55 left, then a layin at the buzzer. Meanwhile, Olivia Brown scored all six of Southeastern's points in the quarter.

The Royals worked their way back into the game during the first part of the third period, outscoring Fishers 10-0 in a run that took up nearly six minutes of the quarter. Riley Makalusky and Brown made layins, then Maya Makalusky hit consecutive 3-pointers.

"We gave up some 3s, they hit some big shots," said Votaw. "But in this sectional, that's what you've got to expect."

Southeastern was now up 23-22. But the Tigers quickly came back with a 7-0 spurt. Hailey Smith scored Fishers' first basket of the period at the 2:07 mark on the layin, then Alycia Triplett made her own layin. Joirdyn Smith nailed a 3, and the Tigers were back up 29-23.

"Our defense carried us the whole game, so that's really where our main focus was," said Joirdyn Smith. "We stop them, we go down, take a good shot and then we stop them again. Stop, score, stop. We work on it every day in practice."

Riley Makalusky finished the period with a triple, so the Royals were within 29-26 going into the fourth quarter. Hailey Smith opened the period with a 3, and Fishers was back up 32-26.

Harris made an and-1 to push the Tigers ahead 37-28 with 4:33 left. Southeastern made one more push, cutting that lead to 37-33 on a Makayla Hinshaw layin and another Riley Makalusky 3. But Fishers wouldn't allow the Royals to score again, finishing the game on a 6-0 run. Joirdyn Smith took over, with a three-point play and a jumper to give Fishers a nine-point lead. Triplett hit a free throw to finish the scoring.

Hailey Smith scored 12 points to lead the Tigers, while Olivia Smith scored 11 and Joirdyn Smith had eight. Riley Makalusky led the Royals with 11 points, followed by Brown with 10.

Fishers improved to 19-4 with the win, while Southeastern finished its season 14-8.

CLEANING IT UP

If Noblesville seemed more pumped up for its game with Zionsville than normal, the Millers had a good reason.

The two teams played at the Eagles' gym on Jan. 14, and Noblesville received a thudding loss, 44-33. Redemption was on the Millers' mind, and they got it at the sectional.

"The regular season's about finding yourself and that game, we got it handed to us," said Noblesville coach Donna Buckley. "We got on them pretty good after that game and really challenged them to clean up a little bit here and there, and they really did that."

The first quarter was a back-and-forth affair until the two-minute mark. With the game tied at 5-5, Ashlynn Shade hit four free throws in the span of 29 seconds to get the Millers ahead 9-5. Isabelle Poehlein made a layin for the Eagles, but Shade answered with her own layin, and Noblesville led 11-7 at the end of the quarter.

Zionsville went on a 6-0 run that took up several minutes of the second quarter, and the Eagles led 13-11. Meredith Tippner tied the game with a layin, but Emma Haan answered that with a 3-pointer.

With that, Zionsville led 16-13. But the Millers answered again, this time with a 10-0 run that bridged into the second quarter. A Shade jumper, Dani Mendez free

Huskies edge out Patriots in overtime

Hamilton Heights got the toughest draw possible when the Huskies traveled to Yorktown to compete in Class 3A Sectional 24 Tuesday night.

Heights had to take on a 20-win Jay County team in the first round. The No. 8-ranked Huskies and the Patriots eventually went to overtime, which is where Heights won 36-33 to advance to the semi-finals.

Jay County got the Huskies down 15-8 after the first quarter, but Heights came roaring back in the second period, outscoring the Patriots 15-4 to take a 23-19 half-time lead. MyKayla Moran stepped in the second quarter, scoring eight points.

The Huskies led 28-24 after three periods, with Camryn Runner scoring five for Heights in that quarter. Jay County came back to tie the game at 32-32 by the end of regulation, but the Huskies' defense clamped down again, allowing the Patriots only one point in the extra period. Runner, meanwhile, scored all four of Heights' overtime points.

"Tournament is all about survival," said Heights coach Keegan Cherry. "Two really good teams battled tonight. Hats off to Jay County and Coach Comer. That's a really nice team he has. I think both of us would say it wasn't the prettiest tonight."

Cherry credited his team with grinding, never giving up and finding a way to win.

"We took a big punch early and our girls responded," said Cherry. "Getting that momentum to close out the first half was huge. Camryn Runner was special in the closing minute of overtime."

Runner finished with 13 points, while Moran had 10 points.

The Huskies are 16-5 and play Delta in the semi-finals, which are scheduled for Friday.

"We know we still have unfinished business," said Cherry. "Multiple teams remain in our sectional that are capable of beating us. We must remain humble and hungry."

throw and two foul shots by Ava Shoemaker started the run, and Noblesville led 18-16 at halftime.

"They didn't panic when Zionsville put it on us a little bit in that half," said Buckley. "We just kept punching and knew that eventually a shot would go down. Once they started falling, you could just feel the whole momentum change. Our kids rode that momentum."

The Millers extended that lead to 23-16 in the third quarter. Kaitlyn Shoemaker made a basket, Tippner hit a free throw, and Shade connected on a layin again.

From that point forward, Noblesville began to slowly build up its lead. A jumper and 3-pointer by Reagan Wilson put the Millers up by 30-20. Later, Kaitlyn Shoemaker and Ava Shoemaker nailed back-to-back 3s for a 6-0 run, and Noblesville led 43-28.

Chikamba scores 24, sets UHS steals record . . .

'Blazers heat up, beat Cascade

The temperature outside Western Boone at tipoff of the highly anticipated Sectional 43 showdown between Class 2A No. 6 University and No. 8 Cascade was a balmy 55 degrees

Inside the gym it was uncomfortably warm, but University's shooting at the start of the game was frigid, with the Trailblazers not scoring for the 5:15 of the game as Cascade built leads of 8-0, 10-3 and 19-10.

In the fourth quarter University senior Patty Chikamba was red hot, scoring 15 fourth quarter points as the Trailblazers pulled away late for a 63-51 win in a contest that was closer than the final score.

Chikamba had a game-high 24 points, pulled down 10 rebounds, had six assists and seven steals as University pulled away from a 45-45 tie midway through the final period by outscoring the Cadets 18-6 in the last four minutes. Chikamba's seven steals gave her 108 on the season, establishing a new University school record. She entered the game tied for the school record with Lily Snyder (2018-19 season) with 101 steals in a season.

Kelsey DuBois and Payton Seay each had 14 points to help pace the Blazers attack. DuBois had eight rebounds while Seay corralled seven missed shots.

University finally got on the board when DuBois hit a three pointer with 2:45 left in the opening stanza. Chikamba added a three pointer and scored a rebound basket before Seay scored with five seconds left to get University within 14-10 after one period despite missing several close in shots early in the game.

Cascade ran out to a 19-10 lead early in the second quarter forcing a University time out. The Blazers then grew in to the game, getting within two points at halftime. Kamryn Washington hit a pair of foul shots before Cascade pushed the lead back to 22-12. DuBois made another three pointer but Christina Lamb answered with a triple the Cadets still had a double-digit lead at 25-15 with 4:06 left in the half.

University went on a 10-2 run to end the half. Seay made a free throw then hit a three pointer. After Lamb made two foul shots, the Blazers scored the last six points on the half. Emily Adamowicz scored off a Chikamba assist, DuBois scored in the post and Seay scored on a layin with 47 seconds left to cut the Cascade lead to 27-25 at halftime.

University changed defenses at halftime and came out in a zone that caused Cascade trouble. Chikamba tied the game at 27 before Sydney Warren gave the Cadets their last lead of the night at 29-27. DuBois scored the next six points, including a pair of offensive rebound baskets to give University a 33-29 advantage. Cascade came right back with Lamb making two foul shots after an offensive rebound and Creedance Chittenden making a basket to knot the score at 33.

Seay hit a three pointer and then fed Chikamba for a basket to put the Blazers up 38-33. University had three possessions to try to extend the lead, but turnovers ended each of those possession. Crittenden made a three pointer with 10 seconds left in the third and University held a 38-36 advantage entering the fourth quarter.

Jordan Patterson scored University's first five points of the fourth quarter on a three pointer and two foul shots to give the Blazers a 43-39 advantage. The Cadets came right back with Lamb again making two free throws after an offensive rebound before Madison Short scored on a putback to tie the game at 43. Chikamba and Lamb traded baskets to put the count at 45-45 with four minutes remaining.

University went on top for good when Chikamba was fouled with 3:46 remaining and made both foul shots. Warren fouled out on the play, leaving with 11 points. Chikamba then made a steal and layin and a pair of foul shots to give her six points in 32 seconds and University had a 51-45 lead.

Washington made the defensive play of the game with 3:01 left, stealing the ball on the sideline and calling timeout before Cascade could tie her up for a held ball. University got Seay open deep on the inbound play for a layin and a 53-45 advantage. Chikamba followed 14 seconds later with another steal and lay-in with 2:44 left.
