The funds raised at this “aloha style” themed event go to support all 10 Noblesville Schools and further the Foundation’s mission of promoting and investing in Noblesville Schools through grants, scholarships, strategic partnerships, and volunteer support.

The in-person event starts at 6 p.m. and will feature food stations, spirits, a large auc-

He’s feeling the concert ‘Sting’

I’m still reeling from the sting of Sting right now.

Sting, as in the world-famous Rock and Roll Hall of Fame singer-songwriter who once fronted one of the most arresting bands of the day (back in my day at least) before embarking on a successful, decades-long solo career.

Sting, as in one of the few remaining performers I still hope to see live before, well, one of us is no longer alive. Neither of us is getting younger. Sting is 13 years older, but something tells me he’ll still be around when I’m not. He’s a healthy-looking soul, which probably has something to do with all that reported tantric sex (I bet it’s good for his pores too).

The sting I’m feeling stems from failing to secure tickets for Sting’s upcoming May 8 performance in Carmel at The Palladium Center for the Performing Arts, the 1,600-seat, crown jewel of Midwestern concert halls. I take my concert losses very personally.

My wife Brynne loves Sting. We appreciate both his solo and Police stuff. I was determined to take her to see Sting because, well, every little thing she does is magic.

Last week, I first learned about Sting’s Carmel stopover. On Tuesday, at 10 a.m., I was ready to pounce during a presale opportunity being held prior to a public sale on Friday. Having someone of such a global stature as Sting performing in an intimate, all-seats-are-good-seats venue like The Palladium would be a surefire recipe for a supersonic sellout, I reasoned. I would have to act fast. Display my cunningness.

Pre-planning for the pre-sale, I tried to gain an edge by paying $45 to join the official Sting fan club, which entitled me to a pre-sale code, thus “possibly” being put on the fast track for tickets. It was the most desperate measure I have ever taken to buy tickets. I’ve never joined any kind of club before, not even as a kid. Suddenly, at 57, I was akin to being a barely pubescent squealing girl joining a fan club for The Beatles in the 1960s. I almost felt creeper-like. What can I say? – other than I had a personal quest to take Brynne to see and hear Sting.

The $45 pre-concert-ticket-buying expenditure did inflate my confidence. I was in the CLUB! Does that make me a Stinger? Surely, I was a shoo-in for Sting tickets. My excitement got Brynne’s hopes up.

I’ve seen more concerts than one human being should be allowed, and typically, I have been one step ahead of the secondary-market ticket resellers who inflate the prices to crazy levels. I still don’t understand how this is legal – it’s certainly not fair.

Only once before during my almost 40-year-concert-going history had I failed nailing desired tickets, those being for Van Morrison at the Chicago Theatre sometime around 2010. Van’s shows, then and now,

United Way donating 500 books for elementary school children

The REPORTER

United Way of Central Indiana will donate about 500 books to first through third graders next week as part of Read Across America Day.

United Way will drop off books on Wednesday, March 2 at Hamilton North Public Library branches, Hamilton East

Public Library branches, the Sheridan Public Library, and the Westfield Washington Public Library.

Children will get to keep the books to add to their at-home libraries. Books will be available in English and Spanish.

Early childhood education is a major focus of United Way of Central Indiana. For 14 years, United Way has operated the ReadUP program, which sends volunteers into schools across the region to read with third graders who are falling behind on their literacy skills. Third grade is a considered a significant milestone that marks a shift from learning to read to reading to learn.

For Read Across America Day, United Way also is asking employees at its corporate partners – businesses that run United Way fundraising campaigns in the workplace – to donate a copy of their favorite childhood book. At least eight businesses plan to participate.

Local police stepping up enforcement against dangerous, aggressive driving

The REPORTER

As of Friday, Feb. 25, the Hamilton County Sheriff’s Office has stepped up patrols to help curb dangerous and aggressive driving. The enforcement campaign will run through Monday, March 21.

The safety initiative is designed to reduce crashes and traffic fatalities and to promote safe driving around St. Patrick’s Day and the NCAA Tournament. It also comes at a time when roadway deaths continue to climb across the state and nation.

In response, officers will conduct high-visibility patrols over the next several weeks, showing zero tolerance for anyone driving aggressively, over the speed limit or under the influence. The extra enforcement is funded through National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) grants administered by the Indiana Criminal Justice Institute (ICJI).

“Hamilton County has a zero-tolerance approach for impaired driving,” Sheriff Dennis Quakenbush said. “Help keep Hamilton County safe by immediately reporting dangerous drivers to 911. Please provide a vehicle description, license plate number and a direction of travel whenever possible.”

Nationwide, traffic fatalities continued to rise at a record pace last year, according to newly released federal data. NHTSA projects that an estimated 31,720 people were killed on U.S. roadways in the first nine months of 2021, a 12 percent increase from the same period in 2020.

In Indiana, preliminary data from ICJI shows that 941 people died in fatal crashes last year. While that’s up 5 percent from 2020, it’s a 16 percent increase from pre-pandemic 2019 and represents the highest number of traffic fatalities since 2005.

Alcohol and drug impairment, distracted driving, speeding and not wearing seat belts are some of the leading causes behind the rise in fatalities.

“Last year, Indiana saw more traffic fatalities than we’ve seen in over a decade, and it doesn’t appear to be improving,” ICJI Executive Director Devon McDonald said. “So far this year, fatal crashes in Indiana have claimed the lives of 2.5 people every day on average with over 100 lives lost already. It’s going to take an all-hands-on-deck approach to turn this around.”

Throughout the campaign, the department will be encouraging motorists to focus on safe driving and follow the rules of the road. This means always sell out quickly, so imagine my initial excitement when I actually had momentary rights, via Ticketmaster, to two seats. Imagine then my disappointment when the system timed out before I could find my wallet and enter, with shaky fingers, a valid credit card number, thus losing my place in the long virtual line. I retried, but the show was sold out. The loss of Van Morrison tickets came with a sting, too – hell, here it is 2022 and I’m still writing about it. A few years later, I was fortunate enough to see Van play in a 300-seat resort in Trim, Ireland. I still pinch myself over my good luck to have seen him in his Irish homeland. It was a dream concert.

Twice, Brynne and I actually had tickets to highly-anticipated shows that were ultimately canceled. In 2018, we bought tickets to see Randy Newman at Lincoln Center in NYC, a show Newman had to cancel due to knee surgery. My first thought was, “Are you telling me Randy Newman plays piano with his knees?” In 2020, we had tickets to see John Prine in Louisville. Sadly, Prine died of COVID-19 in the early part of the pandemic. We both still mourn not over the cancellation of a concert but over the music world’s tragic loss of arguably the best singer-songwriter ever. Even now, Prine’s passing makes it hard for me to listen to his music. It’s just hard. It’s just too hard to explain. At least I was fortunate enough to have seen four Prine concerts.

But back to the sting of Sting. As you already know from the fourth paragraph, despite spending $45 for a pre-sale passcode, Sting tickets eluded me. As expected, the show sold out in what seemed like a mere eyeblink in time.

I actually stooped low enough to search the online reseller sites. Sure enough, tickets originally going for $100 at the venue had more than tripled in price. As much as I would love to see Sting, I refuse to condone the StubHubs of the world.

I guess I’ll just live with the sting and remain disconcerted over a concert, as well as accept that I am $45 poorer for the failed effort. Perhaps – at least for now – it’s my destiny to be the king of pain.

Verizon waves calling charges to Ukraine

The REPORTER

In response to developments in Ukraine, Verizon has waived charges for calls from its postpaid consumer and business wireless customers and residential landline customers to and from Ukraine, now through March 10.

The company is also waiving voice and text roaming charges for customers in Ukraine.

"During these challenging times, customers need to stay connected with loved ones in Ukraine," said Manon Brouillette, executive vice president and CEO of Verizon Consumer Group. "Waiving long distance charges for customers calling Ukraine will help them focus on what matters: Communicating with family and loved ones."

As of Friday, Feb. 25 all calls made from Verizon residential landline, and consumer or business wireless phones to Ukraine will be rated at $0 per minute. It also includes calls made within Ukraine. Additionally, customers with international coverage plans can call Ukraine without using any minutes from their time-allotment blocks.

I invite all public officials to speak up for our schools

I am the daughter of Indiana educators. Mom and Dad provided me with a bright vision for Indiana's public schools. Over the last few weeks, the people of Fishers have shown me that they share this vision and understand the tie between our community and our public schools.

Sadly, Indiana's Supermajority at the Statehouse have revealed they have no interest in strong public schools, investing in our future, nor listening to the people they are supposed to serve. Even with recently announced amendments, their education bills offer a bleak future in which teachers and parents are pitted against each other, lessons are mined for controversy, teachers quit the profession in droves, and our students languish behind peers in other states.

Thankfully, people in Fishers and throughout Hamilton County are actively fighting for a future our students deserve. When I join them in conversation and at the Statehouse, their resolve is clear. The people in our community support public schools.

- People know strong public schools offer a better future for our students and our city.

- People want a public education system that serves all students by bringing parents, teachers, and the community together.

- People want the best and brightest attracted to the teaching profession.

- People expect public schools to embrace every child and discriminate against no one.

- People know a strong public education sets students up for successful careers.

From teacher shortages to making up for two years of disrupted learning, our schools have real problems to address. These problems are fixable. It is baffling that the Statehouse Supermajority ignores real solutions and sidesteps their responsibility to serve our community.

I invite all elected officials in Fishers, from our mayor to township trustees, to join Fishers residents in support of public education. Speak up against the Statehouse Supermajority's bills that damage our public schools.

Looking for Peace in the Midst of Turbulent Times?

These are crazy turbulent times. Life is so uncertain and unstable. Blustery winds of crime, disease, betrayal and fear are blowing all around us. Often, we are robbed of peaceful sleep by all the very real troubles of life. Even during these trying times would you like to live a peaceful and contented life?

In coming to this troubled earth, Jesus said that He came so that we might have life and more abundantly (John 10:10). He is our Good Shephard who leads us by quiet waters and green pastures (John 10:11; Psalm 23). Quiet waters and green pastures where there is no cause of fear and want. Turbulent times? Yes, but following our Good Shephard we can find a peaceful, abundant and contented life. Sound appealing?

Do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus. (Phil. 4:6-7)

Sen. Young introduces bill to create ‘portable benefits’ pilot program for independent, non-full-time workers

The REPORTER

Last week, U.S. Senators Todd Young (R-Ind.) and Mark Warner (D-Va.) introduced legislation to test innovative portable benefit designs for the growing independent workforce.

The Portable Benefits for Independent Workers Pilot Program Act seeks to provide these workers with access to benefits typically provided through traditional full-time employment. This legislation would establish a $20 million grant fund within the U.S. Department of Labor to incentivize states, localities, and nonprofit organizations to experiment with portable benefits models for the independent workforce.

“Job opportunities in the gig economy provide workers with utmost flexibility, which is increasingly needed as parents continue to adjust schedules due to the pandemic,” Sen. Young said. “Supporting portable benefit options helps uncover creative solutions to addressing the needs of our drastically changing workforce. I am pleased to reintroduce this bill to make it easier for Hoosiers find the job opportunity that best suits their family situation.”

“More Americans than ever are engaging in part-time, contract or other alternative work arrangements. As the workforce changes, it is increasingly important that we provide workers with an ability to access more flexible benefits that can be carried to multiple jobs across a day, a year, and even a career,” Sen. Warner said. “This program will encourage experimentation at the state and local levels to find ways we can better support our independent, 21st century workforce.”

Young

The legislation is co-sponsored by Sens. Angus King (I-Maine), Ben Sasse (R-Neb.), Michael Bennet (D-Colo.), and John Hoeven (R-N.D.).

While the composition of the workforce has changed, those who earn all or some of their income as independent contractors, part-time workers, temporary workers, or contingent workers find it difficult and expensive to access benefits and protections that are commonly provided to full-time employees, such as paid leave, workers’ compensation, skills training, unemployment insurance, tax withholding, and tax-advantaged retirement savings. As the workforce changes, employers and policymakers need to consider a system of portable benefits that allow workers to carry these benefits with them from job to job across a lifetime in the workforce.

The Portable Benefits for Independent Workers Pilot Program Act would establish a portable benefits pilot program at the U.S. Department of Labor. It authorizes a total of $20 million for competitive grants to states, local governments, and nonprofits for pilot projects to design, implement and evaluate new models or assess and improve existing models for portable benefits for independent workers such as contractors, temporary workers, and self-employed workers.

Eligible models should provide any number of work-related benefits and protections – such as retirement savings, workers compensation, life or disability insurance, sick leave, training and educational benefits, health care, and more. In order to encourage innovative thinking on these challenging issues, programs focused solely on retirement-related benefits will not be eligible. In awarding grants, the Secretary of Labor is directed to prioritize models that can be replicated on a large scale or at the national level.

CareSource, Wayspring partner for substance use disorder program

The REPORTER

CareSource, a nationally recognized nonprofit health plan, announced on Wednesday a partnership with Wayspring, a leading value-based provider of high-touch care coordination and treatment services for those with substance use disorder (SUD), launching the first-of-its-kind SUD Home program for the state of Indiana. This collaboration leverages Wayspring’s SUD-focused analytics platform and local, community-based teams of medical clinicians, social workers and peer recovery specialists to support the complex medical, behavioral and social needs of members with SUD. Through the integration of Wayspring’s clinical and peer recovery team with CareSource’s case management team, a collaborative relationship was established to promote greater data exchange, shared problem solving and clinical rounds. The SUD Home program, the result of this partnership, aims to reduce the burdens and barriers on members throughout the full rehabilitation process by:

- Supporting care navigation during high-risk care transitions, each individual’s connection to outpatient services and the critical early recovery periods
- Establishing clients with a primary care provider in order to effectively detect and manage any current or underlying medical conditions
- Prioritizing the management of high-risk individuals through the use of Wayspring’s virtual and in-person behavioral health, primary care and addiction medicine services

- Utilizing CareSource’s case management team to ensure the development of an individualized and integrated care plan, facilitation of interdisciplinary care team meetings, and that members receive assistance with matters such as transportation, appointment scheduling and housing

“The challenges that our communities and individuals with SUD face have never been greater, and the stakes have never been higher,” said Wayspring CEO Carter Paine. “Through this innovative partnership with CareSource, we will work together to solve the complex social, medical and behavioral needs of this population with a community-based service offering.”

The implications of COVID-19 have exacerbated the number of mental health and substance use disorder diagnoses with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) reporting that one in 10 individuals relied on substance use in order to cope with stress brought on by the pandemic. For the last several years, occurring prior to and alongside COVID-19, the drug epidemic has continued to hold a tight grip over populations across Indiana and throughout the entire U.S. As an increasing number of Hoosiers fall within these vulnerable populations, struggling to access fair, adequate and affordable care, the SUD Home program is equipped to help overcome these external issues by relying on evidence-based treatment options and reliable support systems.

“The process of accessing and completing proper treatment and care for substance use disorder was greatly hindered during the beginning months of the COVID-19 pandemic,” said CareSource Indiana President Steve Smitherman. “Simultaneously, the number of vulnerable Hoosiers within these populations greatly increased as well as the barriers standing in their way of receiving assistance. We are thrilled to be a part of the SUD Home program as it upholds CareSource’s mission of transforming health care for our members, ensuring that their care is obtainable, beneficial and improves their well-being.”

The SUD Home program will launch in central Indiana, available to eligible Medicaid members in 25 counties. Members eligible for Wayspring’s services must have a physical living address within Bartholomew, Boone, Brown, Clinton, Delaware, Fayette, Grant, Hamilton, Hancock, Hendricks, Henry, Howard, Johnson, Madison, Marion, Monroe, Montgomery, Morgan, Owen, Putnam, Shelby, Tippecanoe, Tipton, Vermillion or Wayne counties in Indiana. For more information about CareSource or the SUD Home program, visit wayspring.com.

New locations, prizes added to Indiana State Nature Passport

The REPORTER

The Indiana Destination Development Corporation (IDDC) and the Indiana Department of Natural Resources (DNR) launched the Indiana State Nature Passport last year. To date, over 17,000 travelers have signed up for the passport. There are 22 new locations to discover, and additional prizes are now available for outdoor adventure-seekers.

"From State Parks to forests and lakes, the passport now includes 81 outdoor locations to explore," said Lt. Governor Crouch. "The more you visit, the more you earn."

The free "digital passport" encourages visitors to discover new places and enjoy the outdoors. Participants sign up online for the passport and receive prizes for visiting multiple parks and properties across the state. Visitors need to check in from their smartphone at one of the designated passport locations.

Participants can claim prizes with more visits:

- 10 check-ins, a pair of sunglasses
- 25 check-ins, a water bottle
- 40 check-ins, a hat
- 59 check-ins, a backpack

"If a person visits all 81 locations, they will receive a custom passport completion pin," Elaine Bedel, IDDC's

Secretary, and CEO said. "Those who complete all 81 locations will also qualify for special grand prize giveaways throughout the year."

For more information go to VisitIndiana.com/Explore and follow along on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram.

The passport does not replace the entrance fee for a state property.*

All prizes are available while supplies last.*

AG Todd Rokita assists Hoosiers victimized by hackers following donations to Freedom Convoy

The REPORTER

Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita is helping protect Hoosiers impacted by hackers who infiltrated a crowdfunding website that was facilitating donations to the Freedom Convoy.

Hackers broke into the GiveSendGo website earlier this month and obtained records of online donations to the Freedom Convoy – a group of truckers and other pro-liberty individuals protesting COVID-19 vaccine mandates and other restrictions. The demonstrators have rallied at several U.S.-Canada border crossings and elsewhere.

A database containing donors' names, Zip codes and email addresses became publicly available as a result of the hack.

"Our data privacy team sprang into action and identified Hoosier victims," Rokita said. "We are emailing them to put them on notice and advise them on steps they should take at this juncture to protect themselves – and we are standing ready to assist them further however we can."

Of approximately 92,000 donors, Rokita's team has identified 519 Indiana residents who donated a total of $27,524.

Rokita

Most demonstrators affiliated with the Freedom Convoy have simply participated in the time-honored tradition of peaceful protest, Rokita said.

"The hackers' primary objective is to squelch free speech through their harassment and intimidation of the protesters," Rokita said. "But Hoosiers will not be silenced from speaking out in defense of their liberties, whether through direct participation in rallies or through contributing resources to fellow patriots staging the demonstrations."

Rokita's team continues to investigate this breach and the subsequent use of the data. A Canadian hacker has claimed responsibility for this incident.

Anyone who believes their personal information has been compromised – through any type of breach or scam – should file a complaint at indianaconsumer.com or call Attorney General Rokita at 1-800-382-5516.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

The coming of the lawless one will be in accordance with how Satan works. He will use all sorts of displays of power through signs and wonders that serve the lie, and all the ways that wickedness deceives those who are perishing. They perish because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. For this reason God sends them a powerful delusion so that they will believe the lie and so that all will be condemned who have not believed the truth but have delighted in wickedness.

But we ought always to thank God for you, brothers and sisters loved by the Lord, because God chose you as firstfruits to be saved through the sanctifying work of the Spirit and through belief in the truth. He called you to this through our gospel, that you might share in the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

So then, brothers and sisters, stand firm and hold fast to the teachings we passed on to you, whether by word of mouth or by letter.

May our Lord Jesus Christ himself and God our Father, who loved us and by his grace gave us eternal encouragement and good hope, encourage your hearts and strengthen you in every good deed and word.

2 Thessalonians 2:9-17 (NIV)

Lorraine Rossi

November 24, 1935 – February 23, 2022

Lorraine Rossi, 86, Westfield, passed away on February 23, 2022. She was born on November 24, 1935, in Brooklyn, N.Y., daughter of Anthony and Mary (Calsetta) Rossi. She was self-employed with an electronics firm and later worked in housekeeping at Carmel Manor Care Senior Living.

The following endearment was lovingly written by family.

Today we lost our Aunt Lorraine. My whole life she has been everyone's "Aunt" Lorraine. Including my parents, aunts, uncles, cousins, my friends, my mom's side of the family, my parent's friends, and my neighbors – you get it. Everyone called her "Aunt" Lorraine. She had so many people who loved and cared about her, and that has always made me happy.

How could you not love Aunt Lorraine? She loved to laugh, loved kids and dogs, always wanted to help around the house. (Dishes? Madone, she could wash some dishes!) She always wanted to make sure everyone was cared for before herself. Aunt Lorraine spent every single day by my nana's bedside during the last year of her life, supporting her older sister. At family gatherings, Aunt Lorraine provided enough dessert for an army because she wanted to make sure everyone received their favorite dessert. She always wanted to help in every way possible. Helping others was at her core, probably stemming from being the youngest of 10 children.

Our Aunt Lorraine will be sorely missed. I take comfort in knowing she was greeted in heaven by her brothers, sisters, parents, and her beloved dog Schatzi – all of whom she missed dearly. I'm sure she's sitting with a cup of coffee in one hand, a cigarette in the other, a collared shirt and her best blue jeans with the crispest pleat in them. Aunt Lorraine, Rest in Peace.

Burial will take place in St. Charles Cemetery, East Farmingdale, N.Y.

Mila Jane Wallace

February 8, 1957 – February 23, 2022

Mila Jane Wallace, 65, Sheridan, passed away in the early morning of Wednesday, February 23, while in hospice care. She was surrounded by family as she peacefully departed. Known to most as Jane, she was born on February 8, 1957, to Dortha Lee (Ferguson) Boulden and Robert K. Boulden of Sheridan.

Jane graduated from Sheridan High School in 1975, then attended Ball State University for a time. She was also a member of the Sheridan First Christian Church. Jane and Chris Wallace married in 1980, and from that union they had two children: Jessica Lee (Wallace) Kilies and Jamie Lynn (Wallace) Connors.

Jane was a loving homemaker and mother for many years. She found immense joy in landscaping and being outdoors in her flowerbeds. She created a home and space where her children as well as nieces and nephews' friends all found a place to gather and have fun. Jane's house was the broader family gathering place and many significant life events and holidays were spent together under her roof.

Jane is survived by her two daughters and sons-in-law, Jessica and Chad Kilies, and Jamie and Rob Connors; a new granddaughter, Remi Jane Kilies; two sisters, Vicki Anne (Boulden) Combs and Dana Kay (Boulden) Hart; and many nieces and nephews.

Jane's funeral will be held at 11 a.m. on Monday, February 28, 2022, at Sheridan First Christian Church, 107 W. 3rd St. Sheridan. Calling will be held from 3 to 7 p.m. on Sunday, February 27, 2022, at Sheridan First Christian Church. Burial will follow the service at Crown View Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, the family wishes memorial contributions can be made to Elsie's Flower Shoppe so Jessica and Jamie can purchase two trees they can plant in honor of their mother.

Those who will not be able to attend Jane's service can view the service on Facebook Live at Fisher Family Funeral Services Facebook page. Everyone is welcome to sign the online guestbook, leave a condolence or share a memory at fisherfunerals.com.

Fisher Family Funeral Services is honored to be entrusted with Jane Wallace's services.

Jennifer Annette Ehle (Mills, Sylvester)

January 28, 1968 – February 21, 2022

Jennifer, who was already an angel on Earth, gained her heavenly wings on February 21, 2022. While the absence losing her brings overwhelming grief to those who loved her and whom she loved, we know she was simply too good for this world. She loved the Lord; she was a shining example of God's grace and the teachings of Christ. She embodied Christ and lead by example in Love. She was a selfless, kind, considerate, intentional, loving, funny, clever, artistic, smart and courageous woman.

It is an understatement to say that she was a devoted mother, grandmother, and wife. She lived to enjoy the company of her family and to plan special and wonderful moments for us to enjoy. She was giving, always buying, or making the most thoughtful and insightful gifts for those she loved. She could choose the best gifts because she knew our true hearts better than anyone. She was there for those she loved at the drop of a hat, without question, hesitation, or expectation. She was so exceptionally proud of her children and grandchildren. She taught love, compassion, understanding, and forgiveness. She encouraged us in everything and taught us to follow our dreams no matter what. She never missed an opportunity to be there for all our special events.

She was an expert homemaker. She taught us how to make a home cozy, make ordinary things special, make holidays memorable and that taking care of one another was of the highest priority. She had flawless taste, creating beauty wherever she went. Her presence in a room provided light, comfort, and joy. She was everyone's confidant and the truest friend we will ever know. She was an amazing cook, she delighted in sharing her recipes and food with her family. She believed you showed love through a warm home cooked meal, and we tasted it in every crafted dish.

She was highly intelligent. She had a Master's in Business Administration and was pursuing her PhD. She was well read and loved reading. Her favorites were mystery books like Sherlock Holmes, and adventure books such as Into Thin Air. She always shared her love of books with her children and grandchildren, filling their homes with many, many cherished books.

She was artistic, with a creative heart. She was a published writer. She wrote wonderful children's poems and stories. They were a delight to all that read them. She loved to sketch and paint with watercolors. She would create beautiful woodland animals and flowers that were filled with whimsy, playfulness and beauty. Her eye for beauty was unmatched. She loved music and taking pictures of her grandchildren. She loved nature, and gardening. She taught us to love flowers and helped us plant our gardens. Her love and passion were contagious.

She was married just a little less than a year ago to the love of her life, John. They were soulmates. She took so much joy in being married and being his wife. They loved in a world of their own. She loved his witty sense of humor. She was a total comedic and loved to laugh and make others laugh. She was married on the first day of spring in Tennessee last year. She adored him; she told her family that being with him made everything wonderful, and special. She waited her whole life to find a true love, and she found that in John.

As a person, mother, grandmother, and wife she was exceptional. She was the standard for living like Jesus, being thoughtful, being considerate, and most importantly loving with everything she had.

Waiting to greet her in Heaven is her mother, Georgia Sylvester, and her brother, Mark Sylvester. She is survived by her husband, John Ehle; her son, Nicolas Mills (Shawna Mills); her daughter, Monica Hayes (Nicholas Hayes); her daughter, Sara Mikac (Erik Mikac); and her son, Nathan Mills (Morgan New). She has five grandchildren, Aidan Hayes, Liam Hayes, Mandi Mills, Hayden Mills, and Henry Mikac. She is also survived by brother, Lee Sylvester (Stacy Sylvester); and sister, Marilyn Harris (Grady Harris).

One of her favorite quotes was, "At times the world may seem an unfriendly and sinister place but believe that there is much more good in it than bad." – Lemony Snicket. We thank her for being the reason we could believe this.

Visitation will be from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., with services at 1 p.m., on Tuesday, March 1, 2022, at Randall & Roberts Fishers Mortuary, 12010 Allisonville Road, Fishers. Burial will be at Odd Fellows Cemetery in Martinsville, Ind.

Gymnastics sectional

Rookie Tigers advance to the regional

By RICHIE HALL

LAFAYETTE - The fact that Fishers was competing at the Lafayette Jefferson gymnastics sectional was a big occasion in itself, as this is the first season the Tigers had fielded a full team.

But Fishers took it even further Friday at the Bronchos' Dennis Blind Gymnasium. The Tigers finished third at the sectional, which means they will get to compete at the Valparaiso regional next Saturday, March 5. A big occasion has now turned into an historic one.

"I'm very proud," said Fishers coach Susie Strange. "I'm very excited for my team. It's been a lot of trial and tribulations, but we've succeeded and they've really done a really good job."

The Tigers scored 102.775 points to take the third spot. Harrison won the sectional championship with a score of 105.525 points, and host Lafayette Jeff was second with 103.40 points.

Fishers had scores in the 26 range in three of the four events. The Tigers' best rotation was in vault, where they totaled 26.825 points. Megan Jerrell led the way with a 9.25, Fishers' highest score of the night. That gave her fourth place, the best finish of the night for the Tigers. It also got Jerrell a ribbon, as those go to the top six in each event.

Senior Gianna Dewald picked up two event ribbons, placing sixth in the uneven bars and the balance beam. Dewald also got an extra ribbon for finishing sixth in the all-around. Her four-event total was 34.825 points. Dewald also scored a 9.05 on vault, good for seventh place.

"It feels really great," said Dewald. "I'm actually really proud of us. We worked really hard to get where we are and I'm really proud of us as a team."

"We've had some personal bests," said Strange. "We've had some new skills that we performed tonight for the very first time. And hopefully we have some other things up our sleeves for regional."

In other words, Fishers is happy to be going to the regional, but the Tigers don't want to stop there. Six teams compete at the regional, with Valparaiso hosting the top three from Lafayette Jeff and the top three from Chesterton. Then, the top three teams at the regional will advance to the state finals, which take place March 12 at Ball State University's Worthen Arena.

"We'll do some practicing and up our skills and hopefully do even better at regionals," said Strange.

MILLERS PLACE SIXTH

Noblesville had a good night at the sectional, finishing in sixth place with a score of 93.65.

The Millers' young gymnasts were solid, with sophomore Lyric Barnett getting her team's highest score and place of the night: An 11th-place result on the vault with an 8.65.

Noblesville had its best score on the vault, with a team total of 25.125 points. The Millers also were strong on the floor exercise with a 24.775. Freshman Charlotte
