Dresses and Dreams promises prom for all at Hamilton Heights

By KYLIE READING-GRIFFIS and ANNA RICKEY

As a junior at Hamilton Heights High School, Anna Rickey has set out to ensure every student at her school has a dream prom. Dresses and Dreams is a nonprofit organization founded by Rickey with the goal to provide prom dresses to any student in need at Hamilton Heights High School.

"Last year I saw a need when my mom helped two students buy prom dresses," Rickey said. "I saw first-hand the smile on their faces when they found their dream dress."

Dresses are housed in the Hamilton Heights Husky Fan have their hair and nails done access the dresses from 10 a.m. the high school on prom day. All to 2 p.m. on Saturday, April 16 and 23 at the fan shop. Dresses can also pick out free shoes, jewelry, and choose a time to rod Mason said.

When someone asks me what is the hardest part of being in the sandwich generation, I immediately reply "the role reversal." After decades of your mother or father parenting and advising you, it seems like all of a sudden you have to parent them. And it involves a roller coaster of emotions.

After meeting someone new, I'll sometimes explain to them that I have a 21-yearold child, a 19-year-old child, and an 89-year-old child. I don't mean any disrespect to my mother with that, but it helps lighten the mood.

Role reversal

Mom's hospice nurse Laurie (one of her many angels) called me Tuesday to update me on what she is seeing. Mom's pain continues to worsen, which is heartbreaking. It's also not surprising with her advanced cancer. And she's refusing to take showers, which a hospice aide tries to help her with two times a week.

Working to improve lives through Hope Cicero's Hope Family Care Center shares its secret

At Saturday's Cicero Kiwanis Club breakfast meeting, Mike Jenkins and Barb Green from the Hope Family Care Center in Cicero took center stage sharing what they referenced as "the best kept secret in the area." Members learned about the great work Hope Family Care Center is doing in the community to meet health care needs.

The REPORTER

According to Jenkins and Green, the secret really shouldn't be one because it's open to the public. Hope Family Care Center at 270 W. Jackson St., Cicero, is the only free health clinic in the local area, serving people in Arcadia, Noblesville, Atlanta, Cicero, Sheridan, and Tipton who cannot afford medical and dental care.

Dear Editor:

I'm sure it's disappointing for many Indiana families with school age children when the state legislature can't find the courage and resolve to push through even a compromised Curriculum Bill to protect children and give parents a voice.

The idea being pushed that it's somehow threatening to teachers for parents to have expectations and want transparency is nonsense.

I learned early in my business career that we all have customers, internal as well as external, and we all have bosses. Both children and their parents are the school system's customers. If you feel threatened by your customer, you're probably doing something you shouldn't be doing.

I'd like to say to parents this is just another bump in the road. It should now be abundantly clear that you must get involved with school board elections and recall where necessary. I also believe this is an opportunity for county and state political organizations to provide voters with their school board candidates' philosophy and specific position on these controversial subjects and resultant classroom materials. All candidates for public office should be required to identify party affiliation, once again, providing transparency! Finally, I'd like to share a letter that best captures my feeling on this important matter from Noah Bloomberg of Chicago who recently wrote in the Wall Street Journal: "It's a shame there's no Geneva Convention for the culture wars. The progressive left has stationed children at the front lines of its battle for a woke revolution. During the COVID era, children have borne the brunt of the collateral damage. I hope primary education becomes a central issue in the midterm elections. We've seen too many casualties in the past two years."

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Now may the Lord of peace himself give you peace at all times and in every way. The Lord be with all of you.

I, Paul, write this greeting in my own hand, which is the distinguishing mark in all my letters. This is how I write.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

2 Thessalonians 3:16-18 (NIV)

Bruce David Gilliam July 21, 1954 – February 25, 2022

Bruce David Gilliam, 67, Noblesville, passed away on Friday, February 25, 2022, at Riverview Health in Noblesville. He was born on July 21, 1954, to the late James and Patricia (Woodring) Gilliam in Noblesville.

Bruce worked as a plumber for Scott's Plumbing & Heating as well as Summers Plumbing, Heating & Cooling before retiring. He enjoyed fishing and riding his bike. Bruce was a great athlete (cross country, track, baseball and basketball). He was also an avid music enthusiast.

Bruce is survived by his brothers, Ken (Wendy) Gilliam and Larry Gilliam; sister, Shelly (Brad) Bennett; as well as nieces, nephews, and other loved ones.

A Celebration of Life gathering will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. on Saturday, March 12, 2022, at The Lodge at Forest Park, 701 Cicero Road, Noblesville.

With indoor meets this weekend...

Track and field season is beginning

The high school track and field season begins today in Hamilton County.

Westfield is the first team to participate in a meet, as the Shamrocks travel to Indiana Wesleyan University for a Hoosier State Relays qualifier. The annual meet, known as the unofficial indoor track state meet, is back on this year after a hiatus due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The last HSR took place in 2019.

Several teams will be competing in HSR qualifier meets on Saturday, including the Carmel girls, and both Guerin Catholic, Hamilton Heights and Noblesville teams. Westfield is back in action at an HSR qualifier as well. Fishers will travel to Mount Vernon for an outdoor meet.

In fact, some local schools will be headed outside next week. Carmel and Westfield will compete in a dual meet, with the girls at the Shamrocks' Riverview Health Stadium and the boys at the Greyhounds' stadium. There will be a few other outdoor meets, but most of the schools will be focused on indoor competition that leads up to the Hoosier State Relays, which take place March 26 at Indiana University.

The outdoor season begins in earnest once April rolls around. All schools will be back in action by the week of April 11. Some significant events on the calendar include the Flashes Showcase at Franklin Central on April 15, Hamilton Heights' Big Orange Invitational on April 16 and the Carmel 3200 Showcase on April 22.

The Hamilton County meets are scheduled for the second week in May. The girls' meet is May 10 at Westfield, while the boys' meet is May 12 at Hamilton Southeastern.

The Royals will also host the girls secboys sectional on May 19. Regionals take place at Lafayette Jefferson May 24 for the girls and May 26 for the boys. The state finals are back at IU the first weekend in June, with the girls meet on June 3 and the boys meet on June 4.

Here is a list of county track schedules, from each school's respective athletic website.

Castroneves unveils historic image on Borg-Warner Trophy at Indiana Statehouse

2021 Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge winner Helio Castroneves unveiled his likeness on the Borg-Warner Trophy for the fourth time Thursday, March 3 at the Indiana Statehouse.

Castroneves, a native of Brazil, became the fourth four-time "500" winner when he captured the 105th edition of "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing" last May 30. He etched his name alongside this race's greatest names in A.J. Foyt, Al Unser and Rick Mears by joining their exclusive club of four-time winners.

"I'm beyond lucky to get to have another face added to the Borg-Warner Trophy," Castroneves said. "It's an exciting time to get to celebrate this special moment at the Indiana Statehouse, as well. It's been such a great experience making my full-time return to INDYCAR with Meyer Shank Racing. Last year was just the start of a really great partnership together, and now we begin the drive for five."

Among the guests present at the trophy unveiling were Indiana Governor Eric J. Holcomb, Penske Entertainment President house today for this very special occasion." and CEO Mark Miles, Indianapolis Motor Speedway President J. Douglas Boles and BorgWarner Inc. Global Director of Marketing and Public Relations Michelle Collins

"This is one of the most historic unveilings of a likeness on the Borg-Warner Trophy we've ever had as Helio's image now appears for the fourth time on this beautiful trophy," Boles said. "It's exciting to get to celebrate something that only A.J. Foyt, Al Unser and Rick Mears have done and place Helio alongside those iconic names. While Helio isn't from Indiana, he definitely knows what it means to be a Hoosier, and we are proud to stand in the Indiana State-

Said Collins: "Today is a special day for everyone involved as we get to finally unveil the winning driver's image on the Borg-Warner Trophy. BorgWarner is proud to be able to reward Helio Castroneves' hard work on the track, winning his record tying fourth Indianapolis 500, with this beautiful sterling silver likeness created by sculptor William Behrends. The unveiling of the winning driver's image is a fun and memorable annual event that showcases the winner's likeness, along with all the other past winners of the Indianapolis 500 dating back to 1911 when Ray Harroun drove to victory.

last May to put their names atop the record was the first time Castroneves visited Behthe sport, and everyone at BorgWarner is proud to be associated with him. We recognize his greatness and never-ending smile on and off the track."

book. Helio is a wonderful ambassador for rends' studio. Until 2015, Behrends created the faces on the Borg-Warner Trophy from 360-degree, black and white photos taken the morning after the race.

The life-size clay image is used as a As part of the unveiling ceremony, Hol- reference when Behrends works on the comb presented Castroneves with the flag smaller model, which is created out of a mixture of oil-based clays. The clay model is eventually turned into a mold and then cast in wax, which is sent out to a jeweler to be transformed into sterling silver. Behrends ends his process by polishing and buffing the image before attaching it to the Borg-Warner Trophy. Later this year, Castroneves will receive his fourth BorgWarner Championship Driver's Trophy, also known as a "Baby Borg," which is a miniature replica of the Borg-Warner Trophy that will feature a duplicate of his sterling silver image. Meyer Shank Racing also will receive a memento commemorating the victory: its first the BorgWarner Championship Team Owner's Trophy. Castroneves' Indy win also was the first in NTT INDYCAR SERIES competition for the team. Tickets for the 106th Indianapolis 500 in-person session to produce a full-scale presented by Gainbridge, the GMR Grand Prix and all Month of May events at Indianapolis Motor Speedway are on sale at flown at the Indiana Statehouse on the day of his historic win. Castroneves reciprocated by giving Holcomb an iconic bottle of milk, the drink enjoyed by all Indy 500 winners in Victory Lane at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Castroneves's image on the world-fa-"Helio and everyone at Meyer Shank mous trophy was created once again by sculptor William Behrends, who has crafted the sterling silver, bas relief images of all winners for the trophy since 1990.

Commissioned by BorgWarner in 1935, the sterling silver trophy stands more than 5 feet, 4 inches tall and weighs approximately 110 pounds, honoring every winner since 1911 with their sculpted faces affixed to the iconic trophy.

Through a multi-phase process, Behrends begins creating the likeness of the drivers. Castroneves visited Behrends at his studio in Tryon, North Carolina, for an clay model of his face. While Behrends has sculpted Castroneves' face three previous times for his wins in 2001, '02 and '09, this IMS.com.
