Carmel seniors teach middle schoolers to make a difference

Business-savvy middle schoolers ready to 'Ignite' their ideas

By EMMA QUASNY
emma@readthereporter.com

Senior students at Carmel High School, Claire Qu and Meg Shaffer, recently launched an initiative, Ignite, focused on teaching business concepts and skills to middle school students. This program gave students the ability to develop, propose and complete a community-focused project of their own. This year's competition student winners proposed the idea of implementing a peer tutoring program into their school.

Ignite is a four-week business program that was held at two middle schools in the Carmel Clay School District, Clay Middle School and Creekside Middle School, last fall. Both Qu and Shaffer met in middle school and, when they got to high school, immediately recognized the benefit of learning business skills at a younger age.

"When we got to high school and started taking business classes ourselves and learning the content, we realized pretty quickly that middle schoolers could start to learn and apply [these skills] to many other subjects, as well as it would benefit them in their future careers no matter if they went into business or something else," Shaffer said.

Between both schools there were 60 students who participated in the programs and entered the competition in October. Students had the chance to learn business skills and apply them into their own project and present them in front of a panel of judges.

Pets' dietary needs change with age, too

"Once you have had a wonderful dog, a life without one is a life diminished."
— Dean Koontz

Some of you may recognize the author of the quote above. Dean Koontz is also the author of many science fiction-related books, but he is also a dog owner and writes his dogs into many of his stories. In fact, I sent him a copy of my book, Sweetie's Scars: A Journey of Hurt, Hope, and Healing, and he sent back to me a wonderful letter and autographed copy of his delightful book, Ask Anna – Advice for the Furry and Forlorn, written by his dog, Anna, in her senior years!

My column this week will focus on health and nutrition for senior dogs. Some of you may recall that my dog Sweetie actually wrote a couple of columns for me addressing this topic before she passed at age 16. And please note that this column does not in any way supersede your veterinarian's advice regarding your dog. I will share with you my experience with senior dogs and other important information as well as the references for that information.

Noblesville Schools, Heights receive tens of thousands in teacher residency grant funds

Grants part of larger $1M state program to support over 70 student teacher residents

The REPORTER

Fifteen new school corporations and 12 continuing corporations will host more than 70 teacher residents through the Indiana Commission for Higher Education Teacher Residency Grant Pilot Program. A total of $1,050,000 in residency grants were awarded for the 2022-23 academic year.

Locally, Noblesville Schools received a $60,000 grant for four student teachers; its post-secondary partner is Indiana University-Bloomington. Hamilton Heights School Corporation received a $15,000 grant for one student teacher; its post-secondary partner is Indiana University-Kokomo.

The Teacher Residency Grant Pilot Program was created in 2019 by the Indiana General Assembly. Modeled after medical residency and apprenticeship programs, teacher residency programs are year-long paid teaching experiences for student educators who plan on teaching kindergarten through 12th grade. Students teach alongside an experienced mentor teacher, preparing them for the classroom after graduation.

School corporations partner with an Indiana post-secondary institution to execute the program in their district. Institutions provide resources to the corporations, including program monitoring and evaluation and sourcing of residency candidates.

"The school corporations selected are making strides to "The teacher shortage continues to be a significant challenge for schools, and we expect this residency program funding to be a game changer in terms of increasing our connections with strong teaching candidates. Additionally, the program provides meaningful development opportunities for prospective and current teachers. In the long run it's really a win for everyone, especially our students."

— Ryan Rich, Assistant Superintendent of Learning of Noblesville Schools

develop a pipeline of well-prepared future educators all across Indiana," said Associate Commissioner for Legislation and Program Implementation Josh Garrison. "Under the teacher residency model, mentor teachers will prepare resident teachers for the challenges they will face in the classroom."

School corporations are awarded $15,000 for each resident teacher it hosts. Funding can be used to pay resident and mentor teacher stipends, as well as support costs for post-secondary partners. Initial grant recipients are eligible for renewal of the grant for the 2023-24 school year contingent on continued funding and initial outcomes.

IGNITE

One of the winning teams at the competition had the idea of launching a peer-tutoring program at their middle school for students in need of help. Student tutors have been selected and the tutoring program is planned to launch at Clay Middle School in the next couple of weeks. Qu said it's been amazing seeing students grow throughout Ignite.

"We got to work one-on-one with the students during the sessions and teach them a lot of content that they had never heard of before and then be able to see them present professionally in front of a judging panel and be confident in their ideas was really cool to see," Qu said.

Shaffer said that many students who participated in Ignite were hesitant at the start.

"A lot of them came into Ignite and, when they heard about the idea of creating a proposal or competing, they were really nervous," Shaffer said. "They were unsure of whether they would be able to do it or not, and then, by the end, when they came out of the program, they were confident, they were proud of what they accomplish and they were proud of their ideas and had a great time at the competition."

As for the future of Qu and Shaffer's initiative, they are hoping to expand to other schools, not only in the Carmel Clay School District, but other school districts as well. They are currently looking for two additional passionate leaders to continue leading the program in the right direction.

CHANGE

Older dogs are already more at risk for developing kidney and heart disease, diabetes, arthritis, and various forms of cancer. The immune system also weakens with age, leaving older dogs at a higher risk of infection and slowed healing. For some, there is a genetic breed link that predisposes them to disease. To combat, or to at least mitigate the effects of these conditions, there are diets that have been specially formulated for special needs pets. If you aren't already doing so, you should ensure that your pet has a nutritious diet. Try to feed him a high-quality, grain-free, balanced dog food – an important part of helping your pet to maintain a healthy weight. Regular exercise can also keep your senior pet moving as long as your veterinarian approves.

Keeping your dog at an ideal weight can help to reduce the risk of many diseases such as diabetes, heart disease, and even skin problems. Keep in mind, though, that while many older dogs are at a higher risk of obesity, some senior dogs may actually need more calories in their diet. They'll also need high-quality protein, as well as foods that are easy to digest. Look for a senior dog food that has at least 25 percent protein and moderate fat. You may also want to consider fortifying your dog's diet with DHA and EPA fatty acids; these could help a dog who has mobility issues caused by arthritis or a joint disease.¹

For example, older dogs with kidney disease are fed highly digestible proteins; those with heart disease are fed diets that are lower in sodium content. Animals that have developed problems with brain function may benefit from the addition of certain antioxidants to their daily diets; and cancer patients often benefit from the addition of omega-3 fatty acids, along with additional antioxidants in their diets. Please, no table scraps! Brushing your dog's teeth might sound silly, but keeping their teeth in good shape is an excellent preventative measure that will help to keep them healthy. Tarter build-up can lead to gingivitis, which can cause bacteria to get into the bloodstream – wreaking havoc on your dog's organs. Consider having your dog's teeth professionally cleaned; and be sure to stock up on teeth cleaning toys and treats!

And remember, just as our own dietary needs and activity levels change as we age, our beloved furry friends' needs also change and require your attention. Our pets "live in the moment" – something we can all aspire to do from time to time. And, sadly, sometimes it is time for them to say goodbye, and it is our duty to work with our veterinarian to make sure that time is as peaceful as possible for them and for us. If you have recently experienced that or you just wish to learn more about my own experience with my dog Sweetie, you may order Sweetie's Scars: A Journey of Hurt, Hope, and Healing through Amazon. All royalties I receive are donated to the Humane Society for Hamilton County. And, please, choose shelter adoption or rescue if you are considering a new family member.

Advocating for Victims of Crime & Abuse

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Fast electric vehicle charging stations coming to Chase Bank in Carmel

The REPORTER
Chase Bank announced Thursday that it will pilot public fast electric vehicle charging stations across 50 of its U.S. branches beginning this summer. This adds to the firm’s efforts to promote environmental sustainability in its retail locations as it also aims to expand on-site solar power to approximately 400 additional branches by the end of 2022. Locally, the Chase branch located at 14801 Thatcher Lane in Carmel is getting fast charging stations. That’s just north of 146th Street on the east side of U.S. 31. To bring the charging stations to branches, the bank partnered with EVgo, a pioneer and innovator in transportation electrification. The company builds, owns and operates the nation’s largest network of public DC fast chargers, powered by 100 percent renewable energy. Charging stations at branches bring added convenience to customers, allowing them to set up a meeting with a banker and conduct their banking needs while charging their cars. “We’re always listening and taking feedback from customers when it comes to the branch experience, and we know environmental sustainability is important to them,” said Jennifer Roberts, CEO of Chase Consumer Banking. “We’re excited to work together with EVgo to bring electric vehicle charging to our branches and offer this important service to thousands of customers and their communities.” Fast chargers will be installed at select Chase branch locations in states like California, Indiana, Illinois, New York, Oregon, and Pennsylvania, offering thousands of drivers access to 100kW and 350kW chargers that can charge vehicles as much as 80 percent in 15 to 45 minutes, depending on the vehicle. The bank expects to have all stations available for use by the summer of 2023. Once installed and operational at the 50 branch locations, EVgo estimates chargers will deliver up to

INDOT to release state electric vehicle charging infrastructure deployment plan

The REPORTER
The Indiana Department of Transportation, in partnership with the Indiana Office of Energy Development (OED), announced Monday that it has issued a request for information (RFI) to inform development of the state’s electric vehicle (EV) implementation plan. Indiana will soon receive National Electric Vehicle Infrastructure (NEVI) formula funds to invest in electric vehicle charging stations along the state’s federally-designated alternative fuel corridors. Indiana’s interstates have been designated as

AFC’s and under the NEVI program must have infrastructure installed first. Corridor infrastructure must adhere to guidelines set by the USDOT/USDOT Joint Office for charger efficiency, location, and accessibility. The funding is part of the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA), also known as the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law (BIL). INDOT is allocated approximately $14.7 million this year and expects to invest approximately $100 million for EV charging infrastructure over the next five years. In addition to the NEVI funding, the BIL includes $2.5 billion in competitive grants available to eligible applicants, including state and local governments, and other groups for EV charging and alternative fuel infrastructure. In preparation to deploy EV charging infrastructure through the NEVI funding, the state is developing a federally-required State EV Implementation Plan. RFI responses and the State EV Implementation Plan will guide the state’s NEVI funding deployment and evaluation of competitive grant opportunities. Click here to view the RFI opportunity. INDOT will accept RFI questions until 5 p.m. on Monday, April 11, and will post questions and answers online by 5 p.m. on Friday, April 15. RFI responses are due by 5 p.m. on Friday, April 29. RFI questions and responses may be sent to EVchargingRFI@indot.in.gov. INDOT and OED will offer additional public comment opportunities through in person and online meetings during the plan development process. Details on meeting opportunities will be shared on the program webpage. The state expects to submit the State EV Implementation Plan for federal review by Aug. 1, 2022.

Mark Hall: I'm a common man who's called to serve

An open letter to the voters of Noblesville, Jackson, Wayne, and White River townships

Submitted

I thoroughly enjoy the conversations with neighbors during this campaign process. Being a candidate for public office is a lot like being a show cow in 4-H at the fairgrounds. How do you convince the judges to minimize the imperfections and see what is good? Generally speaking, you don't. People are smart and they see through the fog and figure out what's up and why people do what they do.

With that, I am telling you right up front that I will make mistakes. While I am qualified for the job that I'd like you to hire me for, I am far from perfect. My mistakes will be mistakes of omission, not commission.

I am honored to have dozens of endorsements from local elected officials, business owners, servers, chefs, lawyers, tradespeople, police officers, firefighters, and pastors. We publish many of these folks' names and many have asked to remain anonymous. I am supported by regular folks like myself, and by executives too. The common theme from them is that change is needed, and in this case change is good.

Those in government too long now serve government, not the people.

Interestingly, you know who I am not supported by – those whose budget I'd oversee. I am not supported by those who donate perpetually to keep the same faces in needed budgetary voting positions. This would be the time to ask yourself a question: If everything is wonderful in county government, why fight so hard against new eyes and fresh oversight? If it is all great, new eyes will verify that, right? Actions scream, words do not. We all know about the $42 million in cost overrun on the State Road 37 project. Are we worried that there is more coming?

The attributes and actions cited by the Commissioners in their collective endorsement of my opponent are basic and the minimum expectations for the position. The reality is that independent oversight has long since gone away. My opponent votes for the Commissioners' projects without question or hesitation. Of course, they want that to continue. Their spending is not threatened or subject to actual deep scrutiny.

At last night's County Council meeting, an additional 12 million of our tax dollars were approved, voted for by my opponent, to cover more of the $42 million cost overrun on State Road 37. It doesn't surprise anyone that the Commissioners endorse that behavior.

Please know if you cast your ballot for me, no one will represent you with more passion, devotion, or servants' heart than I will. Ask anyone who really knows me. Thank you for taking the time to read about who and what I am.

I live conservative values. I am pro-God, pro-gun, pro-life, pro-term limits, pro-free speech, and pro-liberty. I am against government mandates and believe that the government exists to serve the people, not the other way around.

I will demonstrate fiscally conservative values on the council.

I will work cooperatively with fellow council members and the commissioners to get things done.

I will represent the voters first and not compromise conservative principles.

I will lose on issues with grace.

I will win on issues with grace.

I will not take donations from the commissioners as I believe it to be a direct conflict of interest.

I will not take donations from vendors or want-to-be vendors to the county as I believe it is a direct conflict of interest.

I will not accept perks from vendors or want-to-be vendors to the county including but not limited to golf outings, meals, and fishing trips as I believe these are direct conflicts of interest and obviously intended to sway opinions.

I will offer office hours and town hall meetings for citizens to have actual access to an elected official for questions, to voice concerns and raise issues.

I have self-imposed a two-term limit on my service to the community.

I am self-funding the vast majority of my campaign to ensure independent oversight for you, the taxpayer who pays the bills.

My qualifications

I was raised in a Union Democrat home but became a product of the Republican platform. I've started dozens of businesses, closing many and succeeding with a few. The best lessons in my life came from my failures. Living here in Noblesville for 35 years, operating my businesses here, running a local charity and raising my family here, I know firsthand the fabric of our communities. I work side by side with dozens of volunteers serving those in need right here in Hamilton County.

As a business leader, I negotiate seven-figure deals in finance, technology, and construction. As an employer I have made a payroll every Friday for the last 1,500 Fridays. That success requires finance, budgeting, benefits, and employment expertise. We employ hundreds of people in construction, manufacturing, engineering, and information technology. Have we been in our share of scraps along the way? Absolutely we have. That is an unfortunate consequence of employing tens of thousands of people over three decades – not all of them do what they say that they will. Those experiences have taught me what to do to avoid legal consequences when representing the taxpayers.

As the founder and CEO, I have to be skilled in insurance, planning, risk management, contracts, negotiations, legal issues, banking and customer service. These same skills are all required to oversee the spend of your county tax dollars.

My platform is straight-forward. My qualifications as a conservative community and business leader are, too. I was born a common man and I'll die a common man. In between those two events I am called to serve others as best I can.

There you have it, who I am and what I stand for.

To our many supporters, thank you for your votes. To those undecideds, I welcome your questions and respectfully ask for your votes.

Now, it's your call if I get a 4-H ribbon for showing well or not. Thank you.

States. While electric vehicles promise to be the future of transportation – projected to reach 145 million on the road by 2030 – the lack of charging infrastructure is one of the biggest hurdles to EV adoption. This collaboration will help scale the EV industry in communities across the U.S.

The installation of EVgo charging stations, powered by 100 percent renewable energy, builds on JPMorgan Chase's efforts to promote environmental sustainability and the adoption of renewables, including in its thousands of retail branches across the U.S.

In the coming months, Chase will also continue to expand on-site solar power at its branches across the U.S. To date, Chase has added solar installations at over 350 branches in Michigan, Arizona Nevada, and California, with additional projects underway in Florida, Ohio, Colorado, Illinois, Louisiana, Indiana and New York. Chase's goal is to complete solar installations at approximately 400 additional branches plus 125 carports – solar panels installed above parking lots – by the end of 2022. When the project is complete, it will provide over 25 megawatts of solar capacity, or enough to power approximately 3,200 homes. This effort is part of the firm's strategy to minimize the environmental impact of its operations and will contribute toward the goal of reducing greenhouse gas emissions from its buildings, branches and data centers by 40 percent by 2030.

Apparently, my opponent for Coroner does.

His recent ad features his Police buddies in uniform, who themselves served in Political appointments, telling you to vote for him. Don't the Police have a motto, "Serve and Protect"? Does that apply equally for all citizens or is there more "Serve and Protect" for political buddies?

If you want to vote the way the police tell you to, Do It!

If you want a physician for Coroner for the CORRECT medical diagnosis, vote for me, a Medical Doctor. I thank you in advance for your vote.

Sen. Mike Braun introduces bill to reform IRS

The REPORTER

U.S. Senator Mike Braun (R-Ind.) on Thursday introduced the Simplify, Don't Amplify, the IRS Act, which includes reforms to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) to promote transparency and efficiency in the agency. Congressman Tom Rice (R-S.C.-07) introduced the companion legislation in the House of Representatives.

"The IRS has a terrible track record when it comes to being good stewards of taxpayer money and protecting highly sensitive personal information, and has politically targeted conservative organizations," Sen. Braun said. "The IRS doesn't need more power, it needs to be reformed to ensure that it serves the best interest of the American people. These reforms we're introducing this week will do that."

"Senator Braun should be applauded for introducing the Simplify, Don't Amplify the IRS Act," said Grover Norquist, President of Americans for Tax Reform. "This legislation implements common-sense reforms that holds the IRS accountable and protect taxpayers. For instance, the bill prohibits the creation of the IRS bank reporting regime being pushed by President Biden and repeals the Democrat ban on states cutting taxes. It ensures the IRS spends time helping taxpayers instead of wasting time on partisan union activity. It holds IRS employees accountable when they release private taxpayer information."

Background

The Simplify, Don't Amplify the IRS Act includes the following reforms:

- S. 730, Let States Cut Taxes Act. Removes provision from American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 that prohibits states from cutting taxes should they take supplemental funding from the federal government.
- S. 1777, Don't Weaponize the IRS Act. Codifies the Trump administration rule that protects groups regardless of their political ideology or beliefs and prevents the IRS from doxxing donors to these groups

- S. 2132, IRS Customer Service Improvement Act. Prohibit agency employees from engaging in taxpayer-funded union time during tax filing season.
- S. 2222, Protect Taxpayers Privacy Act. Increases the penalty for releasing private taxpayer information and makes it easier for the IRS to terminate employees found responsible.
- S. 2721, Tax Gap Reform and IRS Enforcement Act. Requires tax gap estimates from the Joint Committee on Taxation (JCT), prohibits IRS targeting of audits and establish of new bank reporting requirements and creates an IRS enforcement fellowship pilot program to assist with the agency's most complex audits and case selection decisions.

- S. 3221, IRS Improper Payments Act. Codifies a 2009 administration rule to increase federal agencies' accountability for reducing billions in improper payments via tax credits while continuing to ensure that federal programs serve and provide access to intended beneficiaries.

AG Todd Rokita calls on Supreme Court to protect Hoosiers' 2nd Amendment rights to guns, ammo

The REPORTER

Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita is asking the U.S. Supreme Court to strike down a California law because it unconstitutionally criminalizes the possession of standard-capacity magazines – outlawing those that hold 11 or more rounds of ammunition – and endangers gun rights in all states.

"When courts allow these kinds of restrictive laws to stand," Rokita said, "it creates a dangerous precedent that jeopardizes the rights of law-abiding gun owners nationwide, including in Indiana."

States have no authority to limit ownership of firearms to those capable of firing 10 or fewer times before being reloaded, Rokita said.

"Hoosiers cherish their Second Amendment rights to keep and bear arms, as well they should," Rokita said. "I will protect those rights at every opportunity."

In total, attorneys general from 23 states are signed onto an amicus brief asking the U.S. Supreme Court to hear the case involving the California law and ultimately to uphold the Second Amendment.

"The purpose of the Second Amendment is not to ensure opportunities for hunting or target practice," Rokita said. "Rather, the purpose of the Second Amendment is to enable law-abiding Americans to protect their lives, liberty and property against all threats – whether posed by individual intruders breaking into homes or marauding armies trying to take over communities."

Kathryn Marie “Kate” Pickett

May 9, 1921 – April 4, 2022

Kathryn Marie “Kate” Pickett, 100, Sheridan, passed away on Monday morning, April 4, 2022, at Harbour Manor in Noblesville. Born May 9, 1921, in Hamilton County, she was the daughter of the late Lindley Parry and Lemon C. (Steffey) Pickett.

Kate graduated from Sheridan High School with the Class of 1939. After earning her certification from Comptometer School, she hired on with American United Life Insurance in Indianapolis and remained with the company until her retirement. Kate soon realized that retirement wasn't for her; she went back to work part-time for the Hamilton County Voter and Election Office, as well as Kohl's Department Store in Westfield.

Kate was a charter member of the Theta Alpha Alpha chapter of Phi Beta Psi; she enjoyed many years of service and friendship with the Sheridan sorority. She was also active within Job's Daughters, where she dutifully served as Guardian of Bethel #34 in Sheridan for many years and spent one term as a member of the Indiana State Bethel. Kate was a longtime member of the American Business Women's Association and served as its president for a short time.

Kate was a lifetime member of the Sheridan First United Methodist Church. If there was something going on at the church, you'd find her there. From teaching Sunday school and working in the nursery, to church dinners and everything in between, Kate was an unforgettable part of the history and legacy of her church family.

As busy as her life could get, Kate never missed an opportunity to enjoy the company of friends and family. Whether it was a trip down to the Dairy Queen or destinations much, much further away, Kate was always ready to go and would clear her schedule at a moment's notice. Over the years she was fortunate to travel quite a bit with various friends and family. She attended the Rose Bowl Parade, toured Europe, and was able to visit nearly every state, including Alaska at some point in time.

She enjoyed sitting around and visiting and was usually quick to give you the run down on all the comings and goings with her family. She loved her family very much and was always excited when she had the chance to babysit any of her nieces and nephews.

She is survived by two nephews, Donald E. Leonard (Nancy) of Monticello, and James E. Pickett (Theresa) of Smyrna, Tenn.; six nieces, Mary Ann Leonard-Morford-Lowder of Noblesville, Nancy J. Leonard-Tansy (Bob) of Loveland, Ohio, Connie Pickett-Bouse of Kirklint, Suzanne “Suzy” Pickett of Sheridan, Angie Pickett of Cicero, and Yvonne Pickett of Sheridan; and great-nieces and great-nephews, Mary Lou Finchum (John), Lewis Morford IV (Kathryn), Catherine Lyn Wilson (Darren), Donald Earl Leonard (Lisa), Daniel Eric Leonard (Aurora), Kelly Cacco (Nick), Kyle Tansy (Michelle), Scott Bouse (Buffy), Stacey Harwood (Brian), Steffanie Pickett, Kari Pickett, Olivia Pickett, Steven Pickett, Jill Pickett, and Jeremy Pickett (Amy).

She was preceded in death by her parents; sister, Emalou Leonard and her husband Clayborn “Jack” Leonard; brothers, Richard L. Pickett and his wife Lois, and Ralph “Hap” Pickett and his wife Martha; and nephews, John P. Pickett of Sheridan, and Ken Pickett of Cicero.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. on Friday, April 8, 2022, at Kercheval Funeral Home, 306 E. 10th St., Sheridan, with visitation from noon until the time of service. Burial will follow at Crown View Cemetery in Sheridan.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be presented to the Sheridan First United Methodist Church, 207 E. 2nd St., Sheridan, IN 46069.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Keep reminding God's people of these things. Warn them before God against quarreling about words; it is of no value, and only ruins those who listen. Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a worker who does not need to be ashamed and who correctly handles the word of truth. Avoid godless chatter, because those who indulge in it will become more and more ungodly.

Early 2-0 conference lead for Fishers...

Tigers overwhelm Eagles, 13-3

By RICHIE HALL
FISHERS - After a close game with Zionsville on Wednesday, things were dramatically different for the Fishers baseball team on Thursday.

The Class 4A No. 1 Tigers hosted the 4A No. 3 Eagles to complete the Hoosier Crossroads Conference series. Fishers won the Wednesday game with a seventh-inning comeback, but Thursday's game didn't make it to seven innings, because the Tigers won 13-3 in a five-inning, run-rule contest.

Fishers never trailed in the game, although it took a few innings for the Tigers to get their bats going. Fishers scored their first runs in the bottom of the third: Carson Dunn led off with a walk, then Joey Brenzewski singled to move Dunn to second.

Dunn then stole third base, then scored on an error. That also moved Brenzewski to third, and he got home on Dominic Oliverio's RBI fielder's choice. Oliverio was safe at first, and he moved around the bases before scoring on Jack Brown's single.

Tigers coach Matt Cherry said that Zionsville pitcher Aidan Hatcher kept his team guessing at the beginning of the game, and admitted he was getting "a little frustrated with our guys. I thought we took too many strikes, took too many pitches across the zone, even his curveball into the zone. I thought we could've swung out early in the count and we weren't doing it."

Eventually, Cherry and his staff "had a little conversation in the dugout and got them a little more aggressive." That began to work in the third inning and would get even better in the later parts of the game. But before that, Fishers had to absorb a three-run top of the fourth inning from Zionsville that tied the game.

Hatcher got two strikeouts on the Tigers of seven runs in that inning. Jack Brown started it with a left field double to send in Brenzewski.

Jack Backofen came in to run for Jack Brown, and Caulin Brown would send him home with a single. Quinn Seefeldt went to the plate as a pinch hitter, and smacked a left field hit to score Jackson Preston (who was walked) and Curtis Kearschner (running for Caulin Brown).

Zach Cox singled on to base, moving Seefeldt to second. That brought up Joe Hietpas, and he delivered a home run to center field. Fishers now led 10-3.

Cherry was thrilled to see Hietpas get the home run.

"He was the guy that was in our lineup the beginning of the year last year, and then we took him out and he never really got a chance again," said Cherry. "He's just worked really, really hard this off-season. He's gotten really strong and you can see by that hit into the wind right there that he has the strength to do it and drove that ball."

The Tigers got the three runs they needed to end the game in the fifth inning. Brenzewski and Oliverio were walked, then were scored by a Jack Brown double. Caulin Brown hit his own double to move Jack Brown to third, then Jack Brown scored when Gavin Clayton hit a sacrifice fly.

Jack Brown finished the game 3-for-3 at the plate with four RBIs and two doubles. He also pitched all five innings, striking out seven and allowing just four hits.

Caulin Brown had two hits, while

Joey Brenzewski (23) scored three runs for Fishers during its Hoosier Crossroads Conference win over Zionsville.

Millers fall to Avon, finish HCC series with split

Noblesville dropped a Hoosier Crossroads Conference game at Avon Thursday 7-2, resulting in a split of the HCC series.

The Millers scored the first run of the game in the top of the third inning. Jacob Edwards led off with a single, then Conner Seago came in to run for him. Seago moved to second by a pitcher's balk, then advanced to third on a sacrifice bunt by Drew Niswonger. Nolan Decker then scored Seago with an RBI groundout.

The Orioles took the lead in the bottom of the third by scoring four runs, including a two-run home run. Noblesville added a run in the fifth inning when Nolan Decker scored after Trevor Corbett reached base on a dropped third strike.

Edwards' single turned out to be the lone hit of the game for the Millers. Lucas Stephen went four innings on the mound, striking out seven.

Noblesville is 1-1 in the conference and 3-3 overall. The Millers were to play in this weekend's Kokomo Invitational, but the tournament was canceled due to the predicted cold weather. Noblesville's next game is Thursday when it hosts Fishers to begin another HCC series.

Brenczewski scored three runs. Oliverio had two runs, and Seefeldt totaled two RBIs. Every batter for Fishers had at least one run, one hit or an RBI.

The victory gave the Tigers an early 2-0 lead in HCC play, and served as a reminder that there will be "no nights off in our conference," as Cherry said.

"The pitching in our conference is unmatched," said Cherry. "I thought (Zionsville's) Drew Dixon did a great job last night and I thought Hatcher did a great job tonight against us the start of the game. There's definitely no nights off in this league."

The Tigers are 2-0 in HCC play and 5-1 overall. Fishers was supposed to play in this weekend's Kokomo Invitational, but that event has been canceled due to the predicted cold weather. The Tigers will next play Monday at Lafayette Jefferson.
