Noblesville Lions continue working to keep city clean

On Saturday, the Noblesville Lions conducted another Noblesville street cleanup. This is a regular event the club does to keep the city looking beautiful. Eleven Lions were early morning risers to help with this year's cleanup . . . which began at Bob Evans for breakfast!

What about Saturday?

It's Saturday of Easter weekend. The day after Good Friday and the day before Easter. This week I was thinking about the significance of this day. It often gets lost in the sadness of the crucifixion of Christ on Friday and the joy of the Resurrection on Sunday. I believe there is a sacredness to Saturday. I've lived through a few Saturdays. Let me explain. When the worst of the "what ifs" happens, I find myself enduring a perpetual Saturday. Stuck in the abyss of a crisis with nothing but questions and pain that overwhelms everything I do. I wake up with it. I go about my day with it weighing on my mind. The pain tucks me into bed and the wrestling with the covers and my questions begins. The crisis comes and I have no recourse but to just deal with it. My plans are waylaid. The ending of my normal comes with a bitter jolt. While my normal was never easy, I had figured out how to endure the challenges of my normal. This new normal feels like I am crawling through tar. The world and its normalcy keep going. Normal says I need to get over it. Normal says move on. The truth is, I feel stuck.

International violinist playing this Friday at Pasto Italiano in Westfield

news@readthereporter.com

Pasto Italiano, 3150 E. State Road 32, Westfield, used to be one of Hamilton County's best kept secrets. An intimate little setting for fine dining just east of downtown has quietly become so popular that reservations are a good idea. They offer live music every Wednesday and Friday, and this week, on April 22, they will play host to a world-class violinist with an extensive repertoire spanning several genres from classical through modern hits.

The Reporter spoke with Violinist Olga Berezhnaya, an exceptionally talented musician with an interesting sense of humor, who said she has been playing violin since she was six years old.

Berezhnaya holds a master's degree in violin, which she received in Europe before she became an American citizen. When asked what brought her and her music to America and to Indiana, she said with a chuckle, "Plane. Airplane."

Berezhnaya lives in west-central Indiana now and told The Reporter she is very happy living in the Midwest. "I love it, otherwise I would move somewhere else," Berezhnaya said. "I love it here. I love Indiana."

Westfield job fair offers students career skills, opportunities

By EMMA QUASNY
emma@readthereporter.com

In collaboration with the Westfield Chamber of Commerce, Westfield High School (WHS) will play host to a job fair on Tuesday, April 19 to give students the opportunity to apply for part-time jobs. A variety of companies in the Westfield community will be offered to students as a way to introduce them to the workforce while providing career skills.

This is the second year the chamber and the high school have partnered to give students this opportunity. WHS Assistant Principal Matt Putman said that due to the great turnout and feedback the job fair received last year, they decided to host another one.

"We had about 20 businesses that showed up last year and we decided and with the turnout of students it was a win-win or successful in all areas," Putman said. "It's an opportunity to really plug our students in to different possible job opportunities but we believe these job opportunities provide career skills and life lessons on what it takes to be successful as an employee no matter what."

Students will have the opportunity to learn more about Westfield companies, complete applications, set up interviews or even be interviewed on-site.

Experts say campaign sign ordinance could pose First Amendment problem

By GARRETT BERGQUIST
wish-tv@wish-tv.com

A public affairs expert and a political organizer on Friday both said aesthetics alone shouldn't drive campaign sign restrictions.

Hamilton County Commissioners last week approved a limit of two signs per candidate for each early voting location. On Election Day itself, candidates can have only a single sign per polling location. Signs cannot be larger than 36 inches by 24 inches, cannot be driven into the ground using metal or wooden posts and cannot be placed in the public right of way.

County Clerk Kathy Williams said commissioners want to ease the burden on property owners who volunteer to host polling sites.

"At my polling site, last time, it's a small church, one candidate had 15 signs at that location," Williams said. "You get to a point where you have so many, it's just a blur. It doesn't mean anything."

Hamilton County Democratic Party Chair Dayna Colbert said she was very concerned the rule could run afoul of the First Amendment.

VIOLINIST

She came to Indiana by way of New York and says she does not even try to compare the two but appreciates what each has to offer in its own way and on its own terms.

“You cannot compare New York and Indianapolis, so I do not even try,” Berezhnaya said. “I love New York just because it’s New York. It’s exciting and it’s just smell and flavor and all those different parts of New York City. Indiana, Indianapolis and of course towns like Crawfordsville, Lafayette, Monticello, and Zionsville are all different.”

Berezhnaya has played events of all sizes, from as intimate a setting as two people when she has been hired to play at engagements, all the way to the world stage including a Judo world championship and the World University Games.

“You could not imagine,” Berezhnaya said. “Like world championship of Judo where I played as a high-lighter. You would not imagine that violin could jump in there, but it was a very interesting experience in my life when creative entertainment managers put my violin on the stage to highlight some important events like world championship of Judo and Taekwondo.”

Berezhnaya also played a musician representing the official delegation in Belgrade, Serbia, in 2009 at the 25th World University Games.

The World University Games, or the Universiade, is an international multi-sport event, organized for university athletes by the International University Sports Federation. The name is a portmanteau of the words "University" and "Olympiad."

“Besides playing on some very high-level official events, I have large experience playing on festivals, anniversaries, any type of corporate event,” Berezhnaya told The Reporter. “You will be surprised: I was hired three times here in United States for the Halloween parties. I wasn’t sure should I put any makeup or to go without makeup to fit better at the Halloween party.”

When asked if she did go in costume, she laughed and said, “No. I was just regular. I decided I don’t have to put anything on my face nor costume to fit the crowd because I’m on the stage, I’m a musician, I do fun music maybe, but I don’t have to feed the crowd, let’s say. But it was fun.”

Berezhnaya has also played at anniversaries, birthdays, Bar Mitzvahs, Bat Mitzvahs, parties and corporate events.

“So many different kinds or types of events of course require hundreds of different songs,” Berezhnaya said. “I do have them. I play by ear. I very rarely dig into internet to try to find some music notes, sheets and everything. So I play by ear. This is why I play the very contemporary songs. Like whatever you listen and hear on the radio, I play this tomorrow.”

Berezhnaya says she likes to perform by mixing genres and switching styles based on the audience, except in those cases where she has been hired to play in a particular style.

“On my performances for public events, like we are going to have in Westfield, I prefer to mix genres,” Berezhnaya said. “I feel like it catches more attention. It doesn’t get boring when I switch one to another. So I’m going to mix jazz, pop, rock, contemporary, classical – I’m afraid to say country. I do play country, but probably for this Italian style and theme of the restaurant, I will probably not play country unless I get some special request, but I doubt it’s going to be country.”

Guests at Pasto Italiano on Friday, April 22 can expect to hear selections from her extensive and diverse knowledge of music.

“I have the right styles and genres in my repertoire, plus I like to see and estimate and immediately react on ages of the guests where I’m playing,” Berezhnaya said. “It means I can include immediately song by song as I switch back to 70s, 60s, like Elvis, like Nat King Cole, like Frank Sinatra, and then I go to 80s, I go to 90s, and switch to very contemporary. As I said, if you hear this on radio, I play this like snap! This is what I am going to do. This is what I like to do.”

Berezhnaya told The Reporter she is looking forward to her Westfield performance, as she does every time she plays in her adopted Hoosier state.

“I really love people in this state because they are genuine and they are understanding,” Berezhnaya said.

If you would like to hear Olga Berezhnaya perform while you enjoy some of the best Italian food Hamilton County has to offer, call Pasto Italiano at (317) 804-2051 to get your reservations for Friday, April 22.

JOBS

Putman said the job fair aims to provide students with the resources whether they are actively looking for a part-time job or just interested in learning more about companies in Westfield.

“I think it’s very convenient being able to have multiple businesses in one place at one time where they can kind of just go from one business to the next business and learn about different opportunities that they might have for employment and so forth,” Putman said. “It’s really an opportunity for them to explore and see what’s available and what’s in the Westfield community.”

The job fair is a key way students can begin to start having conversations from a hiring perspective, and the job fair is a way they can continue building important career skills.

“[The job fair] allows them to get to learn more about businesses in the community and the interviewing skills that they would take away are worth a lot [to] help them build that confidence for their future,” Putman said.

Westfield companies in hospitality, fast food, and the general service industry are some of what will be offered to students on Tuesday. Putman said the chamber and school have been looking into the future to continue providing this opportunity to students.

SIGNS

Paul Helmke, a professor of practice at Indiana University’s O’Neill School of Public and Environmental Affairs, said he thinks the ordinance would face a tough fight in the courts.

He said private property owners who are hosting a polling place might be able to set their own rules on campaign signage. Government, on the other hand, face a high threshold outside of safety concerns.

“The aesthetics of it is not a compelling reason to restrict the signs,” Helmke said. “To tell a candidate they can have one or two signs but not four or five, I don’t see any rational basis, I don’t see any compelling governmental interest in that. Democracy can be messy sometimes.”

Helmke said he has some personal experience with campaign sign restrictions. During his successful 1987 campaign for mayor of Fort Wayne, he said the city tried to stop him from putting up campaign signs in June. When he filed a federal lawsuit, city officials backed down and said his campaign could, in fact, put up signs.

Other experts aren’t so sure. Joseph Tomain, Indiana University Maurer School of Law professor, said the U.S. Supreme Court has allowed some restrictions at the polls, most notably the buffer zone outside the entrance beyond which no campaigning is permitted. In a 2018 case that struck down a law dealing with wearing certain campaign apparel in a polling place, Tomain said the justices left the door open for other apparel rules.

Williams said county commissioners are within their authority to limit campaign signs. She said polling locations effectively become county property when they function as such, and the county can regulate what happens on its property.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Where do I go from here? How do I handle this? So many questions. And of course, how long will my Saturday last? Truth is, I have no idea if and when my Sunday is coming.

My brain is trying to process the pain. The hollow ache in my heart seeks comfort. It takes so much energy to do even the most mundane tasks of my every day.

Grief, disappointment and the unfairness of life are cruel bedfellows. They nudge me awake after I finally have gotten to sleep.

Grief shouts and then whispers and then shouts again. Ugh. The pain of my hurt reminds me that I've been treated in a way I feel I don't deserve. It's usually by others but sometimes, it's by God. I've been known to ask God why he allowed this to happen to me.

It's Saturday. The pain is real. Tomorrow seems so far away. Eventually, I will wake up and it will be Sunday. On Sunday I will rejoice, but I don't know that. Not yet, anyway.

I'm stuck in the abyss of Saturday. The day in the middle. I don't have any idea about what Sunday (or my future) will look like.

I must sit in the pain of Saturday, the pain of an unknown future.

But...

If Easter and the resurrection of Christ have taught me anything, it is that I can endure my Saturdays, the days of living in the unknown, because Jesus arose from the tomb. Jesus endured the pain of the Crucifixion. He understands what it is to endure the will of God. He asked three times in the Garden of Gethsemane, "My Father, if it be possible, may this cup be taken from me. Yet not as I will, but as you will." Matthew 26:39 NIV

The day after the crucifixion, the disciples endured the hardest Saturday of all time. Then came the morning of the third day. The tomb was empty. We will forever know the hope of Easter. Oh, how I cling to hope in the darkest hours of my Saturdays.

So even when God doesn't answer my prayers as I want Him to, I know He will never leave me. He will walk the hard journey with me. Eventually, there will be a Sunday in my life. There will be joy ... eventually.

Easter has taught me that as I dwell in the sacredness of my Saturdays, I can know without a shadow of a doubt ... Sunday's coming. There will always be hope in the middle of my Saturdays.

Good Friday. Sacred Saturday. And oh, the joy of Sunday!

Blessings to all my readers this Easter Sunday!

INDOT kicks off 2022 construction season

The REPORTER

Governor Eric J. Holcomb joined Indiana Department of Transportation Commissioner Mike Smith, law enforcement, and road construction industry partners last week to kick off the 2022 Next Level Roads construction season.

The kickoff event was held at the Indianapolis Traffic Management Center on the far east side of Indianapolis.

“Indiana’s economy is growing exponentially, and our state’s strong infrastructure plays an important role in that success,” Gov. Holcomb said. “This year’s Next Level Roads projects represent a historically significant investment in transportation to support our efforts to make Indiana a premiere destination to live, work, learn and play and stay.”

More than 1,300 state projects are scheduled for construction on Indiana roads in 2022. When combined with preventative maintenance projects, the state is investing more than $3 billion to improve road and bridge conditions, safety and mobility this year. Gov. Holcomb’s Next Level Roads plan spends an estimated $60 billion on road construction and maintenance over 20 years.

With construction season kicking into high gear, Indiana residents and travelers to the Crossroads of America will see an increasing number of “Road Work Ahead” signs.

“Our 2022 construction program is laser-focused on enhancing safety and connectivity across Indiana’s transportation system,” INDOT Commissioner Mike Smith said. “Thanks to the leadership of Governor Holcomb and the General Assembly, we’re investing in our infrastructure at historic levels and doing the necessary work to preserve and enhance Indiana’s reputation for delivering a best-in-class infrastructure network.”

Hoosiers are encouraged to visit nextlevelroads.com to use INDOT’s Google Map tool to find projects happening near them. Motorists should also check INDOT’s CARS program for real time-traffic conditions and construction

The Dr. J. Christian and Jennifer McCarter Collection is another remarkable selection of vehicles consigned for Indy 2022, and it comprises 20 mostly competition roadsters, muscle cars and late-model supercars, with all but one from Ford and all to be offered at no reserve.

The Asi and Lisa Sheikh Collection represents an eclectic, wide-ranging selection of 34 meticulously maintained, low-mileage and well-documented Corvettes, Shelbys, Mercedes-Benzes, Ferraris, Lamborghinis and Porsches, all at no reserve.

The Gary Thomas Collection will showcase 26 of the well-known collector's pristine, mostly Blue Oval gems that include six classics and a variety of Shelby GT500s and Boss Mustangs, as well as 65 lots of Road Art items.

The Al Berman Collection of nine vehicles, all offered at no reserve, includes seven Corvettes ranging from a 1962 Chevrolet Corvette Convertible (R134) with a 327/250 HP engine and 3-speed manual transmission and just 21,643 miles, to a one-owner 2007 Chevrolet Corvette Pace Car Edition (Lot R139) that is No. 40 of 500 Indianapolis 500 Pace Car Editions produced in 2007 and shows just 3,465 miles.

Bidder registration for this year's Spring Classic is available in advance online at Mecum.com and on-site at the auction for $200, and it includes admission for two to all nine auction days. For those unable to attend in person, enhanced remote bidding options are also available, with options for both online and telephone bidding.

Doors open each day at 8 a.m. with the vehicle auction beginning at 10 a.m. daily, Friday, May 13 through Thursday, May 19, and at 9 a.m. on Friday and Saturday, May 20 and 21.

Road Art will be offered daily May 13-21 beginning approximately 30 minutes prior to the vehicles. A separate auction stage will operate on Monday, May 16 through Wednesday, May 18 for the offering of Road Art and memorabilia items. Don't miss prog rock legend Steve Hackett this month in Carmel

April may be halfway over, but there's still plenty of talent coming to the Center for the Performing Arts in Carmel before the end of the month. Read on for details and how to get tickets.

Steve Hackett: Genesis Revisited Wednesday, April 27 at 7:30 p.m. The Palladium

Steve Hackett was lead guitarist for the classic 1970s lineup of pioneering progressive rock group Genesis, originally led by Peter Gabriel and known for such landmark albums as Nursery Cryme, Foxtrot, Selling England by the Pound, and The Lamb Lies Down on Broadway. He was among the first rock guitarists to employ the two-handed tapping technique later adopted by countless players. In the 1980s, he and Yes/Asia guitarist Steve Howe formed the band GTR, which scored a Top 20 single with "When the Heart Rules the Mind."

Hackett's current tour features material from his wide-ranging solo career as well as a re-creation of Genesis' acclaimed 1977 live double-album, Seconds Out, which included many of the band's signature songs.

Live at the Center: The Brothers Footman Thursday, April 28 at 7:30 p.m. The Palladium & Online

Brothers Dikembe, Gerald, Micah and Joshua Footman have been surrounded by music all their lives. In their current band, the Brothers Footman combine soul, rock, country, gospel, R&B and other influences into a distinctive sound they call "Summa Music" – "summa this, summa that" – capped with smooth vocal harmonies. Their debut single "Country Sky" has earned local and international radio airplay.

Matthew Whitaker Saturday, April 30 at 8 p.m. The Palladium

Blind since birth, 20-year-old Matthew Whitaker is a rising star of jazz piano. He has performed at such venues as Carnegie Hall, the Kennedy Center, Lincoln Center and the Apollo Theater with artists including Christian McBride, Regina Carter, Jason Moran, Jon Batiste and the New York Pops Orchestra.

"His approach to jazz is that of a distinctive soul. He has that necessary dynamic touch and a penchant for dissonance, but most of all, his imagination seems to know no bounds. He's immersed in the energy and spirit of the music he loves and lives to play." – The Miami Times

Indiana Peony Festival back in Noblesville, expands with Friday evening ‘VIPP’ event

The REPORTER

Following a successful inaugural event that drew more than 10,000 people in 2021, the Indiana Peony Festival returns to Seminary Park in Noblesville from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, May 21.

More than 50 vendors are anticipated for this year's event and, thanks to the Noblesville police, fire and public safety departments, dedicated parking lots and a shuttle both to and from the downtown Noblesville event will improve attendee's experience.

“Last year’s event was such a wonderful success, we were committed to bringing it back this spring bigger and better than ever,” said Event Chair Kelly McVey. “We are excited to add more sponsors as well as local restaurant and artist partners.”

This year’s festival has expanded to include a VIPP (Very Important Peony Person) event, “Peonies in the Park,” from 7 to 9 p.m. on Friday, May 20, sponsored by Duke Energy Smith Jewelers. Tickets to the VIPP event are $100 each and be purchased at indianapeonyfestival.com/peonies-in-the-park.

Also added this year, the “Brunch and Blooms,” brunch crawl will take place during the day Saturday, May 21. Brunch & Blooms crawlers will receive a Brunch & Blooms button, crawl map, discounted brunch items and special peony promotions at participating retailers. Tickets to Brunch & Blooms are $6.

Of Friday’s “Peonies in the Park” evening event, McVey said, “Attendees will be able to sample peony-inspired dishes and drinks from more than 10 Noblesville eateries while getting a first pick of peony plants and stems and shopping from featured vendors.”

Area restaurants include:

- Alexander’s on the Square
 - Debbie’s Daughters Bakery & Cafe
 - Grindstone Public House
 - Matteo’s Ristorante Italiano
 - 9th Street Bistro
 - Noble Coffee & Tea
 - Primeval Brewing
 - Spencer Farm Winery
 - Taxy Mexy
 - The Nesst
 - Cardinal Spirits
- Tickets as well as details about events, sponsors and vendors can be found at indianapeonyfestival.com.

Proceeds from the Indiana Peony Festival special events support beautification projects in Hamilton County.

About the Indiana Peony Festival

The mission of the Indiana Peony Festival is to inspire Indiana residents to celebrate the state flower, to enhance Noblesville through peony beautification projects, and to promote Hamilton County as a desired visitor destination during May, when peonies are in bloom and Indianapolis 500 festivities occur.

Thanking those who keep our communities charged

You might not know that some first responders climb a 40-foot pole or work sky-high in an elevated bucket truck.

They’re lineworkers, and they’re dedicated community heroes who keep the power on and keep our families, neighbors and communities safe.

Harsh weather conditions – whether winter storms or high winds – can put us in the face of challenging, untimely and even dangerous circumstances. We rely on electricity to power our lives and it can be unsettling when power outages happen. But what we also rely on is the fact that lineworkers will be there to answer the call.

GUEST COLUMNIST

their comfort for ours, leaving the security of their homes to ensure that the lights stay on. We appreciate those sacrifices and the dedication it takes to do a job that touches the lives of everyone – and hope you will join us in recognizing that work.

While the official day for National Lineworker Appreciation Day is April 18, lineworkers are valued and appreciated each day for the outstanding work they do safely and reliably serving customers and communities. We thank them for their service and devotion to Indiana. Please take a moment to thank a lineworker in your community.

Hard hats, heights & heroes: 9 facts you may not know about lineworkers

The REPORTER

When severe weather rolls in or the lights go out, lineworkers mobilize. Their jobs are unlike any other – chasing storms, climbing poles, understanding the intricacies of the energy grid, and being prepared no matter the circumstances.

On April 18, Duke Energy celebrates National Lineworker Appreciation Day and the work these men and women do every day to keep the power flowing to millions of customers in communities across the country.

Line technicians are essential to providing and maintaining reliable electric service every day. They’re also lighting the path to a clean energy future.

“Line workers are true heroes in our communities. If you know a line worker or see one working today, take a minute to thank them, whether they’re working near your home or in the community,” Duke Energy Indiana President Stan Pinegar said. “Our line workers’ dedication and skill make the difference to our customers and demonstrate Duke Energy at its best. We are grateful for their commitment to safety and our customers for the work they perform every day.”

In celebration of National Lineworker Appreciation Day, here are nine facts you might not know about lineworkers:

- 1. They wrestle wild weather. All lineworkers are trained to respond to major outages. Working in the aftermath of extreme weather such as severe storms and ice comes with the territory.
- 2. Vital infrastructure is in their hands. Besides working to power homes, lineworkers are responsible for keeping energy flowing to hospitals, schools, water treatment facilities, businesses and industries.
- 3. Clothes matter. While on the job, line technicians wear specific safety gear known as personal protection equipment (PPE). PPE can include hard hats, rubber sleeves and gloves (made to protect up to 30,000 volts of electricity), steel-toed boots, climbers for scaling poles, and climbing belts that can weigh up to 30 pounds each.
- 4. It’s natural to aim high. Lineworkers frequently work perched on a 40-foot pole, sky high in an elevated bucket truck or on transmission towers at heights of up to 120 feet – often in challenging or hazardous conditions such as rain, winter weather or sweltering heat. But no matter how extreme the situation – strict safety procedures are always in place.
- 5. Technology is part of the toolkit. Lineworkers install self-healing smart technology that automatically detects power outages and quickly reroutes power when outages occur – which can help reduce the number of outages and the duration of an outage.
- 6. Slang is standard. Have a knuckle-buster handy? What about a lobster claw, kettle or booger wire? Lineworkers frequently use lingo for tools and tasks – it’s passed down from one generation of lineworkers to the next.
- 7. Animals come with the job. A common cause of power outages is animal interference – especially squirrels and snakes.
- 8. The tally is tremendous. In Indiana, 660 Duke Energy and contract lineworkers make up the team. They are responsible for constructing, operating and maintaining equipment and more than 36,800 miles of transmission and distribution lines across the state.
- 9. They’re shaping the grid of the future. Lineworkers are building a stronger, better protected, and smarter electric infrastructure, improving reliability and resiliency, and preparing the grid for cleaner energy options and a lower carbon future.

Aglow with appreciation

The week of April 18, Duke Energy will be sharing special stories in appreciation of lineworkers. Make sure to follow @DukeEnergy on Twitter and visit facebook.com/DukeEnergy.

Those who wish to honor lineworkers and their families for National Lineworker Appreciation Day are encouraged to use the hashtag #ThankALineworker on social media.

How much did the Corona #3 “laptop” typewriter cost in 1922?

The REPORTER

This week in Indiana's history ...

1861 – Volunteers began arriving in Indianapolis to serve in the Civil War. It had been only three days since Indiana Governor Oliver P. Morton had told President Abraham Lincoln that the state would raise 10,000 men. A camp was established on the 36-acre state fairgrounds, then located in the area of 19th Street and Central Avenue. Named Camp Morton in honor of the Governor, the facility served as a training camp for less than a year before it was converted to prison grounds for captured Confederate soldiers.

1884 – Edwin C. Hill was born in Aurora, Ind. He graduated from Indiana University and did postgraduate work in journalism at Butler University. Moving to New York City, he worked for major newspapers and went into the new medium of radio. One of the first broadcast news commentators, he gained an audience of five million. His most popular programs included Your News Parade and The Human Side of the News.

1920 – A large crowd filled the Murat Theater to see the performance of ballerina and choreographer Ruth Page, who had grown up in Indianapolis and attended Tudor Hall. She became famous for her innovative dance creations on American themes. The Ruth Page Center for the Arts in Chicago continues her mission.

1922 – Laptop computers were unknown a century ago. It was the age of the typewriter, and the public was offered what could be called a “laptop model.” It was the Corona #3 folding typewriter. Weighing only six pounds, the compact Corona folded over and fit easily into its carrying case. It became popular with traveling salesmen, students, and soldiers. This 1922 model was offered at $2 down and $4 a month, for a total of $50 – over $800 in today's dollars.

1978 – A Piper Chief-tain airplane crashed in a muddy field near Arlington in Rush County. All nine people aboard were killed, including seven officials of the United States Auto Club. The plane had encountered a thunderstorm with hail and 100-mile-an-hour winds.

1998 – In the draft for the National Football League, Peyton Manning was selected by the Indianapolis Colts. The University of Tennessee quarterback proved to be a valuable choice for the team. In his 14 seasons with the Colts, he was voted Most Valuable Player four times. He led the team to eight division titles, three AFC championship games, two Super Bowl appearances, and the championship title in Super Bowl XLI in 2007.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

In the presence of God and of Christ Jesus, who will judge the living and the dead, and in view of his appearing and his kingdom, I give you this charge: Preach the word; be prepared in season and out of season; correct, rebuke and encourage—with great patience and careful instruction. For the time will come when people will not put up with sound doctrine. Instead, to suit their own desires, they will gather around them a great number of teachers to say what their itching ears want to hear. They will turn their ears away from the truth and turn aside to myths. But you, keep your head in all situations, endure hardship, do the work of an evangelist, discharge all the duties of your ministry.

For I am already being poured out like a drink offering, and the time for my departure is near. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Now there is in store for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will award to me on that day—and not only to me, but also to all who have longed for his appearing.

'Hounds use 10-run sixth to beat Millers, keep the oar

By CRAIG ADKINS

NOBLESVILLE - When the Carmel Greyhounds and Noblesville Millers meet up on the baseball diamond, it's always a tough battle and the game is more than likely not decided until late in the contest.

This was the case last night at Dunker Field in Noblesville. The visiting Greyhound offense exploded for a 10-run top of the sixth to secure the win over the Millers, 10-2.

Noblesville was able to get its offense on the board first in the bottom of the second. Connor Bloss was hit by a pitch. Two batters later, Luke Wilson doubled down the left field line to put runners at second and third with two outs. Drew Niswonger then hit a hard single right by Carmel second baseman Cam Carmichael, driving home both Bloss and Wilson for a 2-0 Miller lead.

Both pitchers were settled in at that point and it was only a matter of time before something gave one way or the other.

Noblesville starter Nolan Decker gave up just two hits and struck out four in his four innings and Carmel starter Cam Heaney allowed four hits over five frames with two earned runs, only one earned.

Eli Ketterer relieved Decker in the fifth and the momentum shifted to the Greyhounds. Nathan MacLaren singled and was stranded when Hunter Snow was picked off first base trying to advance to second.

The Millers left two runners on in the home half of the fifth, still clinging to a 2-0 lead, but that wouldn't last long.

Griffin Wolf was hit by a pitch with one out. Tripp Schroeder singled up the middle, followed by Dan Cunningham striking out swinging, but the dropped third strike became a passed ball to load the bases.

Adam Buczkowski singled up the middle to score Wolf. Carmichael then drove in Schroeder on a single to tie the game 2-2.

Then, things went from bad to worse for Noblesville and Carmel capitalized in a big way.

Carmel catcher Tripp Schroeder is congratulated by his teammates after making a tough catch for the third out of the second inning during the Greyhounds' Saturday game with Noblesville at Don Dunker Field. Carmel won 10-2.

Cunningham scored on a passed ball, Next, MacLaren lofted a two-run double down the left field line to make it 5-2.

Hunter Snow doubled to center, tailing a ball away from Niswonger to score MacLaren and increase the lead to 6-2.

Cody Kantz laced a single up the middle off of Aidan Shoemaker, Noblesville's fourth pitcher and the score was now 7-2.

Wolf walked and then Schroeder roped a two-run single to center. Scoring Wolf and Kantz, pushing it to 9-2.

The Carmel scoring would stop at 10 runs in the sixth on Cunningham's double down the left field line to score Schroeder.

"That inning caught up to us. We made some bad plays," said Noblesville head coach Justin Keever on the top of the sixth, which knocked the wind out of the Millers' sails.

"I felt like offensively the first five innings, our swings were a little bit long," said Carmel head coach Matt Buczkowski on his team's slow start at the plate.

"Most of our misses were underneath the ball. We talked to our hitters about making adjustments, knee-high line drives, just hit the ball hard on the ground," continued Buczkowski on his team's hitting adjustments that led to scoring 10 runs in the sixth.

On a night when the air temperature was cool and getting colder, the best idea was to keep the ball down, because it was that much harder for the ball to fly off of the bat.

"To our kids' credit, they did a great job of buying into that adjustment and sometimes it just falls in like that," said Buczkowski, complimenting his team on adjusting its hitting approach on the fly.

The Greyhounds forced the Millers to leave four runners on base over the final two innings to help stave off any sort of comeback by the hosts, winning the Hamilton County rivalry game, 10-2.

Noblesville (4-6) doesn't get a break as it will play on Monday against Greenfield-Central (4-4), who split a doubleheader at Fishers Saturday.

Carmel (1-2) grabbed its first win of the season and did it in obviously grand fashion. After losing at home 8-6 Friday night to Mooresville, the Greyhounds bounced back nicely. They too will play on Monday, heading to Westfield to face the undefeated, Class 4A No. 2 Shamrocks (7-0)

MacLaren was 4-for-5 with two RBI's, Snow managed three hits in five at-bats, while Schroeder was 2-of-4 driving in two and Carmichael also joined the multi-hit parade for Carmel.

Noblesville's Luke Wilson (center, 1) scored a run for the Millers during the second inning.

Guerin Catholic cruised to two overwhelming victories at the Lebanon Invitational on Saturday.

The Golden Eagles started the tournament by beating the host Tigers 20-6 in six innings. Guerin Catholic led 5-4 after five innings, then blasted through the sixth inning by pouring in 15 runs.
