Sheridan's own Brielle Garner named 2022 Youth Honoree for May 13 Walk to Cure Arthritis

A pegleg can't hold you down

The REPORTER

After two years of virtual events, the Arthritis Foundation will once again play host to the Walk to Cure Arthritis at Conner Prairie on Friday, May 13.

The Walk to Cure Arthritis is the Arthritis Foundation's signature fundraiser, taking place in cities across the country. Funds raised from this event help conquer arthritis, which affects more than 58 million Americans, or roughly one in four adults.

This year, the Walk to Cure Arthritis Indy will feature Angie Harrison of Indianapolis, who has been chosen as the 2022 Walk to Cure Arthritis National Honoree. Other local honorees include Medical Honoree

Dr. Abe Beaber from Midwest Sport and Spine, Community Champion Honoree Cheryl Reed, and Brielle Garner, Youth Honoree.

Garner, 13, is a seventh-grade student at Sheridan Middle School. She started showing symptoms of Juvenile Idiopathic Arthritis (JIA) at the age of 4.

She was diagnosed with JIA the following year and has been taking a biologic, which is a shot, to treat her arthritis ever since. She has not let JIA hold her back for doing the things she loves.

Garner is passionate about sports and loves playing basketball. She is very outgoing and loves spending time with her friends, cousins, two older brothers and three dogs.

Join Garner's team, Brielle's Blazing Blackhawks, or donate at walktocurearthritis.org/indy.

This year's event at Conner Prairie is sure to deliver fun for the whole family and will feature rides on the 1859 Balloon Voyage tethered helium balloon, access to the animal barn and Conner House, and other activities.

Participation in the Walk to Cure Arthritis is free and open to the public. To register or create a team, visit walktocurearthritis.org/indy.

Grandpa told me that he knew a certain man who had an indomitable spirit and refused to acknowledge defeat. He was blind in one eye, walked on a wooden pegleg, and his "good" foot was often troublesome. Further, some of the man's fingers had been amputated, leaving one hand badly crippled. In addition to the man's major disabilities, he had suffered fractured ribs and a number of minor injuries through the years.

Grandpa said he marveled at the man's independence. One day, the man wanted to go from his home in Sterling, Ind., to Veedsburg. Knowing it was difficult for him to walk, Grandpa took him in the delivery wagon. At the end of the trip, when Grandpa refused to accept payment for the accommodation, the man tossed a coin on the seat and

The Westfield High School softball program recently held a T-shirt fundraiser with 185 Promotions to benefit the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society (LLS) to help the fight against all types of blood cancer. Varsity, junior varsity, and the seventh-grade and eighth-grade programs sold pink shirts to raise funds, and each team wore the shirts for a game. The event culminated in a pre-game ceremony at the Westfield vs. Guerin Catholic varsity game, with WHS varsity softball player Brookly Miner's family throwing out the first pitch. More than $2,100 was raised for LLS, which was donated in the Miner family's name. See more photos at ReadTheReporter.com.

Fishers Arts Council announces 2022 Senior Showcase winners

The REPORTER

Fishers Arts Council (FAC) has announced the winners of the 13th annual Senior Showcase sponsored by STAR Bank. Senior Showcase is an annual event where seniors at both Fishers and Hamilton Southeastern high schools exhibit their artwork and compete for 19 scholarship awards totaling approximately $3,000.

The awards were presented Friday evening, April 22 at the Art Gallery at City Hall during a reception and awards ceremony. Fishers City Council President Todd Zimmerman and STAR Bank Community Relations Manager Marquisha Bridgeman presented the awards. Ms. Catherine Snider also presented a special award, "Best Art Reflecting Poetry or the Written Word," in memory of her daughter Jordan D. Snider.

The top award for Best in Show went to Grace Vandiver

"The creative talent shared by our Fishers and Hamilton Southeastern high school seniors never ceases to amaze me," FAC Executive Director Les Reinhardt said. Reinhardt said she couldn't agree more with the exhibit's guest judge this year, Nickel Plate Arts Executive Director Aili McGill.

thanked Grandpa for the ride. He was honest in his dealings and very industrious.

On one occasion, Grandpa saw him standing on a ladder trimming a tree and wondered how he kept his pegleg from slipping off the ladder rung. Grandpa remarked to a neighbor, “What would prevent that man from working?” The neighbor gave an effective but irreverent reply, “Cut his head off and hide it.”

Grandpa always wanted me to keep after it. That spirit of perseverance was also exhibited by the other side of the family who had the saying, “The I will is more important than the IQ.” Often success comes not to the smartest or most talented, but to the undeterrable.

We live at a time where information and knowledge is virtually limitless. YouTube can, quite literally, teach you anything. Without the “I will,” however, all the knowledge in the world is useless. The indomitable United State of America was built on the backs of persistent, tenacious, hard working men and women. Many of individuals were not scholars or intellectuals, but ordinary men and women.

The story of Grandpa’s friend teaches us an important lesson about the proverbial “American Dream.” The American Dream is not about becoming famous or rich or retiring before the age of 50. It is the opportunity to live peaceful, independent lives, to chart your own course, to embark on your own journey. Despite his significant injuries and unquestionably difficult situation, Grandpa’s friend surely found freedom in participating in the ordinary tasks of life. His “I will” empowered him to live a life free from reliance on other. His “I will” transcended his injuries.

How much are we relying on our IQ? How would our lives look different if our “I will” matched our IQ?

NEWSIES

When titans of publishing raise distribution prices at the newsboys’ expense, Jack rallies newsies from across the city to strike against the unfair conditions and fight for what’s right.

“Newsies is full of rich history, a stirring story, exciting choreography, powerful music and a cast dedicated to bringing the story to life,” Director Laura Baltz said. “It’s a production we’ve wanted to perform for a long time, and we’re so excited to finally bring it to the stage.”

Joining Baltz on the Newsies artistic team is Jenna MacNulty (choreography) and Jaimie Mosier (music director).

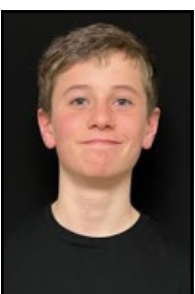

CYT’s production features more than 100 cast members from Carmel, Fishers, Noblesville, Westfield and more. Included in the cast is a sibling trio from Zionsville – Daniel (13), Kate (11), and Millie (9) Larsen.

While they differ on favorite songs from Newsies, the siblings agree they’ve enjoyed the rehearsal and production process. “It’s been fun practicing altogether, especially the dance routines,” Millie said.

CYT’s Newsies marks the final performances for four graduating seniors, including Grace Kubek, who has appeared in 12 previous CYT productions. “Newsies is such a great story of wrongs taking place and doing everything to stand up for what is right, even if it may be unpopular,” Kubek said.

Based on the 1992 motion picture and inspired by a true story, Newsies features a Tony Award-winning score by Jack Feldman and Alan Menken (Little Shop of Horrors, Sister Act) and a book by Tony Award winner Harvey Fierstein (Kinky Boots). It features the now classic songs “Carrying the Banner,” “Seize the Day,” and “Santa Fe.”

CYT is a nonprofit children’s theater offering theater classes, professional quality shows and summer camps across the northern Indianapolis suburbs. For information on tickets or upcoming classes, visit cytindy.org.

Advocating for Victims of Crime & Abuse

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Low voter turnout likely as primary election nears

Primary elections do not often bring voters to the polls in record numbers, but with less than a week until this year's May 3 primary there are indications this year's will see among the lowest turnout in years. That's unfortunate because primaries are so important in Hamilton County. Historically, elected officials in our county are chosen in the Republican primary. Democrats have little success in the November general election, and thus the winners of the GOP primary are almost certain to become our next elected leaders.

Election watchers can usually predict when a big or small election day turnout is likely. For example, this year only about 1,800 citizens have voted early. Hamilton County has more than 200,000 registered voters on the rolls. Candidates can also get a feel for voter interest as they travel the county, and most see something less than great enthusiasm this year.

One reason for the apparent low interest is the lack of burning issues that bring voters to the polls. Add to this the fact that there are relatively few contested races, but there are a few contests on the GOP ballot that appear very competitive.

COLUMNIST

FRED SWIFT

In the race for county prosecutor, incumbent Lee Buckingham is being challenged by a former Marion County deputy prosecutor, Greg Garrison, and in the contest for judge of the newly created Superior Court 7, court magistrate Darren Murphy and local attorney Stephenie Gookins are vying for the Republican nomination.

And, for County Council District 3, incumbent Steve Schwartz is being challenged by businessman Mark Hall in what is seen as a potentially close race.

The Democratic ballot has no contests at the county level, and almost no candidates. The party has another two months to fill its ticket but doing so may be difficult as potential candidates may see a trend toward the GOP this year. Usually, Democrats do not field candidates for judge, prosecutor and some other major offices.

An election office official pointed out this week that from a cost standpoint, it will be unfortunate if the primary has few voters because elections cost the same amount whether there is large or small participation.

FAC

“[Judging this show] was an exceptionally difficult task. The amount of talent exhibited this year was really breathtaking.”

“This show would not be possible without the talent and dedication of our incredible visual arts teachers at both high schools,” FAC Board Vice President Tom Rich said after the awards ceremony. “We are incredibly lucky to have these individuals educating and supporting our students. There are none better.”

Carmel opens roundabout at Range Line & Medical Drive

Now, major traffic switch for new roundabout at 116th & Range Line

The REPORTER

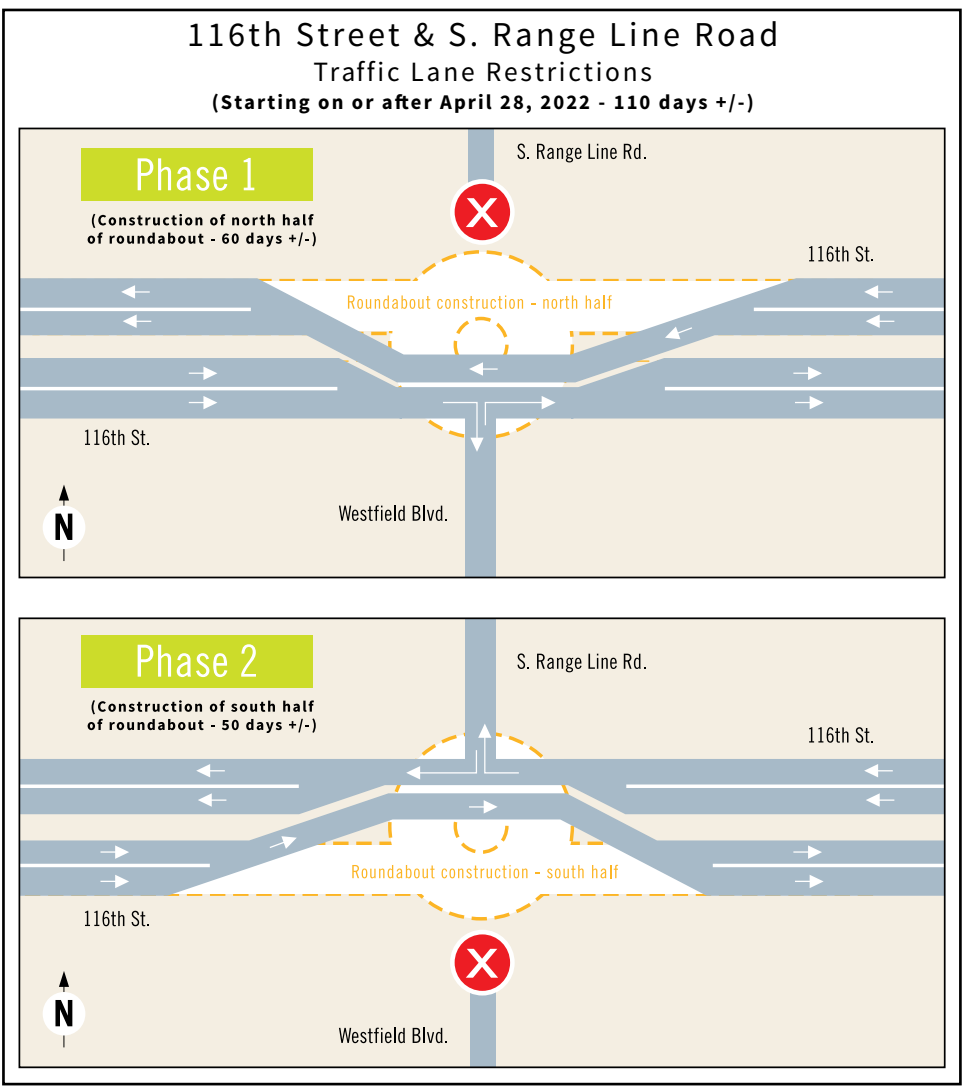

The 142nd roundabout in the City of Carmel at Range Line Road and Medical Drive is set to open by end of day today, April 28. The 143rd roundabout at Range Line Road and 116th Street will begin construction on Monday, May 2.

On or after today, April 28, there will be a significant traffic switch on South Range Line Road between Medical Drive and 116th Street.

The roundabout at 116th Street will be constructed one half at a time with east/west connectivity maintained for the duration of the approximately 110 days of work.

What does this mean?

- The northern half of the roundabout will be constructed with continued vehicular traffic on 116th Street and limited connectivity to Westfield Boulevard. Therefore, southbound Range Line Road will not have access to this intersection.
- Drivers traveling eastbound on 116th Street will be able to turn south onto Westfield Boulevard or continue eastbound on 116th Street.
- Drivers traveling westbound on 116th Street will only be able to continue westbound for the first 60 days or so of the project while the north half of the intersection is being completed. Keep up to date on the last road projects in Carmel at CarmelLink.com.

Aspire achieves full COVID vaccine compliance

The REPORTER

Aspire Indiana Health, a nonprofit provider of comprehensive healthcare services in central Indiana, has reached 100 percent staff compliance with COVID vaccination requirements. As a Medicare/Medicaid qualified provider, Aspire is required to have all its personnel, medical or otherwise, compliant with federal vaccine requirements for the coronavirus. Even before the federal rules came down (and were later upheld by the Supreme Court), the company reached a 70 percent vaccination threshold by spring of 2021. Now all Aspire employees are certified as fully vaccinated, with a small number receiving exemptions allowed under federal rules. Aspire undertook a multi-pronged approach to achieve total staff vaccination, combining education, recognition and incentives initiatives. This included regular communications on the facts and benefits of getting the COVID vaccine; highlighting goals and legitimate concerns raised; and providing multiple cash incentives for qualifying employees who received the vaccine by a certain date, plus additional payments for meeting company-wide goals.

Planting season is here

Remain alert to large farm equipment on roads

The REPORTER

Planting season is here for Indiana's 94,000 farmers.

With the warm weather and sunshine, Hoosier motorists will also see more large slow-moving farm equipment traveling the state's rural roads and highways. The Indiana State Department of Agriculture, Indiana Department of Homeland Security, Indiana Department of Transportation, Indiana State Police and Hoosier Ag Today implore motorists to slow down, be alert and be patient on rural roadways this spring.

"Our farmers have an enormous job to do – feeding us and the rest of the world," said Lt. Gov. Suzanne Crouch, who also serves as Indiana Secretary of Agriculture. "And with that job comes a tremendous responsibility; let's help our farmers out where we can. When you see large farm equipment traveling our Hoosier roadways, slow down and give them space so everyone can get where they are going safely."

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), in 2020 in Indiana, three vehicles were involved in crashes with farm equipment, which resulted in two deaths.

"During the spring and fall seasons Indiana sees a drastic increase of large farm equipment on our rural roads and highways," State Police Superintendent Doug Carter said. "In our strong agricultural state, it is critical that Hoosier motorists know the steps to take when approaching farm equipment on the roadways to ensure we all make it home safely to our families."

Just slow down and move over. Get over it. It's part of living in the Midwest.

While the term "farm equipment" encompasses a wide range of vehicles, the most common types motorists will encounter during planting season include sprayers, tractors pulling planters or tillage equipment, and large trucks hauling agricultural products. These vehicles are wide, sometimes taking up most of the road, and often travel at speeds no greater than 25 mph.

The following list includes several safety tips for motorists approaching large farm equipment:

- Farmers will pull over when they are able to let motorists pass, but it may take time for them to get to a safe place to do so.

- Be patient. Farm equipment is wide, sometimes taking up most of the road.

- Be careful when passing. Do not pass in a designated "No Passing Zone" or within 100 feet of any intersection, railroad grade crossing, bridge, elevation structure or tunnel.

- Do not try to pass slow-moving farm equipment on the left without ensuring that the farmer driving is not planning a left turn. It may appear that the driver is pulling over to allow a pass when the farmer is actually preparing to turn. You will drive right into its path, endangering yourself and the farmer.

- Avoid tailgating, as some farm equipment might have to make sudden stops along the road.

- Allow plenty of time to get to a destination, be aware of alternate routes, and avoid distractions.

Indiana State Department of Agriculture Director Bruce Kettler reminds motorists farmers work hard to ensure they are being as safe as possible.

"Hoosier farmers are trying to get to their fields safely and quickly, just like our Hoosier motorists are trying to get to work safely and quickly," Kettler said. "I want to encourage motorists to be aware during this spring season and know that encountering farm equipment is likely and to slow down when approaching."

Riverview Health hosting drug take back this Saturday

The REPORTER

In honor of National Drug Take Back Day, the Hamilton County Council on Alcohol & Other Drugs (HCCOAOD) will hold a take-back event on Saturday, April 30 in the east parking lot of Riverview Health in Noblesville.

"Most people who misuse prescription drugs get them from family, friends, and acquaintances," HCCOAOD Executive Director Monica Greer said. "We know prevention starts at home. The simple step of clearing out medications that are no longer needed makes our homes safer, prevents prescription drug misuse, and can help save lives."

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates 100,306 people died of drug overdoses in the United States last year, marking the largest number of drug-related deaths ever recorded in a year. With close to 5,000 collection sites nationwide, the more than 15.2 million pounds of medication from circulation since the inception of National Drug Take Back Day in 2010.

United States Drug Enforcement Administration and its law enforcement partners have removed

"The only safe medications are ones prescribed by a trusted medical professional and dispensed by a licensed pharmacist," Greer added. "Old and unwanted medicine too often becomes a gateway to addiction. Events like these are a critical effort to curb the historic surge in U.S. overdoses."

Hamilton County residents are encouraged to drop off their expired or unused medications between 9 a.m. and noon on April 30. No liquids, sharps, or needles will be accepted. For those who cannot make it, there are opportunities to safely dispose of unneeded medications at local pharmacies, hospitals, and police departments throughout the year.

Greer

State Police, DEA partner for Drug Take Back Day

The REPORTER

On Saturday, April 30, the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) is sponsoring the 22nd nationwide "Prescription Drug Take Back" initiative. The "Take Back" initiative seeks to prevent prescription drug abuse and theft through proper disposal of prescription drugs.

Collection sites will be set up nationwide for expired, unused, and unwanted prescription drugs which will be properly disposed of without threat to the environment. This program is for liquid and pill medications. Vaping pens without batteries and vaping cartridges will also be taken. Needles, new or used, WILL NOT be accepted for disposal. This service is free and anonymous with no questions asked.

This initiative addresses a vital public safety and public health issue. Medicines that sit in home cabinets are highly susceptible to diversion, misuse, and abuse. Rates of prescription drug abuse in the U.S. are alarmingly high, as are the number of accidental poisonings and overdoses due to these drugs. Studies show that most abused prescription drugs are obtained from family and friends, including from the home medicine cabinet.

In addition, Americans are now advised that their usual methods for disposing of unused medicines – flushing them down the toilet or throwing them in the trash – pose both potential safety and health hazards.

Unwanted medications may be dropped off at any Indiana State Police Post, except for the Lowell and Toll Road Posts. The event will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, April 30.

Click here to locate the State Police post closest to your home or business. To find other locations in Indiana or across the U.S. that are participating in the Drug Take Back initiative, click here.

The Drug Take Back events are the safe, popular and responsible way for the public to legally dispose of prescription drugs with no questions asked.

Work from home 'reshipping' scammers targeting people who actually want to work, contribute to society, not be totally useless

The REPORTER

Reshipping scams have reappeared many times in the past few years as job seekers are looking to work from home.

Now, they once again are resurfacing as Better Business Bureau (BBB) is receiving an increased number of Scam Tracker reports related to a work from home reshipping scam. Victims across the U.S. from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Florida and Texas report being scammed by Shipowners Team, LLC, a company allegedly located in Anderson, Ind.

The reports indicate the victim's résumé was posted on job boards seeking employment and were approached by a recruiter. Then after a brief interview process, they were hired, and received a W2 form and are asked to fill it out completely, including their social security numbers. Once they submitted the personal information requested, they began receiving packages to ship, but after some time, they never received a paycheck, raising concern.

How the scam works

You receive an email offering a job at a shipping service. The company is hiring "agents" to package items and mail them overseas. The position reimburses "agents" for their expenses and pays a monthly stipend. It sounds like easy money, so you accept the job. You hand over personal information to get signed up and on the payroll.

Soon, your first assignment arrives. You are asked to ship something – often electronics, but sometimes other goods – to an address overseas. You send off the items, but your payment never arrives. You've been conned, and you may have just helped scammers move illegally obtained goods.

Clarence, a victim in Pennsylvania reached out to BBB to report his experience with this scam: "[Shipowners Team, LLC] used my name and address as a delivery point for potentially fraudulent items, then had me mail out items to non-existent addresses."

Another woman located in New Jersey reported to BBB that she filled out the fake W2 form for Shipowners Team, LLC, which included her social security number. She questioned her "supervisor" about not receiving a paycheck and they cut off communication.

Watch out for variations on this scam, such as requests that could open you up to ID theft. Some victims reported sending a copy of their driver's license with their "job application," which gave scammers their name, address and photo. A 2020 BBB report found that 65 percent of fake online job postings are related to becoming a "warehouse distribution coordinator" or a similarly-titled position involving package reshipment.

How to spot a reshipping scam

• Be very cautious of any job that asks you to share personal information or hand over money. Scammers will often use the guise of running a credit check, setting up direct deposit or paying for training.

• If a job looks suspicious, search for it online. If the result comes up in many other cities with the exact same job post, it is likely a scam.

• Check out the business' website. Scammers often falsely use the names of real businesses. Check on the business's site or give them a call to confirm the position exists.

To find out more about reshipping and employment scams, check out BBB.org/employmentscam.

To learn more about scams, go to BBB.org/scamtips. If you've been targeted by this scam, help others avoid the same problem by reporting your experience on the BBB Scam Tracker.

Palladium Players will feature discussion on Molière’s comedy Tartuffe

The REPORTER

On Monday, May 9, the Palladium Players will feature a discussion of Molière’s comedy Tartuffe. The free event starts at 6 p.m. in the Frank and Katrina Basile Education Suite at The Palladium in Carmel.

This casual, educational discussion and reading will focus on select excerpts from the play. For this reading, attendees will look for people who are interested in learning a bit more about plays, reading some characters and discussing the scenes.

About the play
Tartuffe is one of Molière’s most famous theatrical comedies and is generally considered his best. Though the original text was banned for being controversial, Molière was finally allowed to perform a revised version in 1669. This revised Tartuffe has enjoyed centuries of success and is still performed today.

Do you want to be a Christian and a Christian alone?

As a country, state and county we will soon enter into another contentious political season. Are you a Democratic, Republican, Libertarian or unattached? To whom do you give your allegiance? What determines your political allegiance? Rest easy this is not a political ad nor is it intended to promote any party or candidate. I want us to think for a moment about what brings us to that conclusion.

When we consider our religious affiliation, what leads us to make that decision? This decision is far more significant than making a commitment to a political party or candidate. If God is who He says He is and Jesus is His Son, it behooves us to surrender and submit to Him and Him alone! God will not accept divided devotion and thus we would call on all men to worship Him and Him alone. Repeatedly in the Old Testament, we read of commands to worship Him and Him alone. Enshrined in the Law was the command to “worship no other god, for the LORD, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God” (Exodus 34:14). Paul warned of the danger of provoking God to jealousy (1 Cor. 10:22).

Why not leave any commitment to a church founded by men, not provoke God to jealousy and seek to be a Christian and a Christian alone? Is that idea intriguing? Does it seem reasonable? Let’s investigate that together.

Rep. Spartz’s patent streamlining bill passes House, headed to Senate

The REPORTER

On Wednesday, H.R. 5796, the Patents for Humanity Act of 2021, led by U.S. Representatives Victoria Spartz (R-Ind.) and Hakeem Jeffries (D-N.Y.), passed the U.S. House of Representatives.

If enacted, the bill, introduced in November 2021, would help creators fast-track innovations to the benefit of the global community by streamlining the patent process and cutting existing bureaucratic red tape at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

“Speed and agility in developing innovative inventions and solutions to the challenges of the 21st century is much needed and welcomed,” Rep. Spartz said. “Any innovation that benefits society, especially on a large scale – such as a patented item, should be encouraged and not stifled by burdensome government regulation. I thank my colleague from New York for his collaboration and partnership on this important bill.”

On Dec. 8, 2021, Rep. Spartz offered remarks on her bill, which you can watch at this link. On the same day, the bill passed the House Judiciary Committee, clearing it for Thursday’s floor vote.

H.R. 5796 will now be sent to the Senate for consideration and passage.

AG Rokita demands Biden Administration stop offering welfare benefits to non-citizens

The REPORTER

Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita on Monday led 16 states to demand that the Biden administration stop expanding the availability of welfare assistance to non-citizens by redefining the way the federal government applies “the public charge ground of inadmissibility.”

“If Joe Biden showed half the concern for U.S. citizens that he shows for non-citizens wanting to enter our country, he might actually do something good for America,” Rokita said. “Instead of inspiring them to embrace the American Dream, he is encouraging dependency on government and saddling working-class taxpayers with the bill ... By weakening the public charge rule, DHS will exacerbate this already explosive situation. Biden seems determined to make things worse rather than better.”

Under the law, any non-citizen seeking legal admission to the U.S. (or updates to their status or visa while residing here) must show that they are not likely to become a “public charge.” President Biden is proposing that DHS eliminate consideration of most welfare benefits that do not constitute direct cash assistance when making this determination.

In promoting such a change, DHS would ignore the fact that illegal immigrants may still be dependent on costly benefits even if not primarily relying on cash benefits for income subsistence.

Non-cash benefits include such programs administered and supported in Indiana as the Children’s Health Insurance Program (“CHIP”), Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (“SNAP”), Medicaid, and most federal housing or rental assistance programs.

Rokita

“The purpose of the public charge rule is that we don’t want aliens coming to the United States and becoming a burden on our taxpayers,” Rokita said. “This proposed rule is contrary to our national principle of self-sufficiency.”

Rokita expressed his concerns in a letter he sent to the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services after enlisting the signatures of likeminded attorneys general from Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Georgia, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Utah, and West Virginia.

Indiana Arts Commission, Department of Education partner to offer two arts integration learning labs

The REPORTER

The Indiana Arts Commission (IAC) announced Monday that it is partnering with the Indiana Department of Education to offer two Arts Integration Learning Labs for K-12 educators and teaching artists.

Arts integration is the work of skillfully combining arts learning with other learning goals. The Learning Labs are designed to empower teaching artists and classroom educators to partner together on meaningful arts integration experiences for their students.

This partnership follows the Partnering Arts, Communities, and Education (PACE) program, a research program conducted by the IAC from 2015 to 2021, which explored the impact of a long-term artist residency in elementary classrooms. Research findings from the PACE program demonstrated clear growth and a positive impact on the learning outcomes and engagement of young people involved in the program.

The Arts Integration Learning Labs will utilize the learnings from the PACE program to expand educators’ and artists’ tools in creative teaching strategies. The in-person, hands-on trainings will feature dual tracks for classroom educators and teaching artists to learn content specifically tailored to them, as well as opportunities for the two groups to come together to network with and learn from one another. Following the Learning Labs, educators will be eligible to apply for up to $3,000 in fellowship funding to put their learning into practice in their own classrooms.

“Activating the learnings from the PACE program for a broader cohort of classroom educators and teaching artists has been the goal since we launched the program in 2015,” IAC Executive Director Miah Michaelson said. “The PACE program clearly demonstrates the impact that a focused quality education infused with arts provides for learners over time. We are grateful for the partnership of the Department of Education in broadening access to arts integration for classroom educators, teaching artists, and students.”

The two Arts Integration Learning Lab full-day trainings will occur on Wednesday, July 13 in Muncie and on Friday, July 15 at the Thyen-Clark Cultural Center in Jasper. Each training is free to attend with limited spots available. This opportunity is open to all Indiana classroom educators, though the design of the content will be especially beneficial for K-8 non-arts educators and teaching artists who have some previous experience in working with youth.

If you’d like to participate, click here to apply.

Harley William Hobson

December 1, 1929 – April 5, 2022

Harley William Hobson, 92, passed away at his home in Zionsville surrounded by his loving family on Tuesday afternoon, April 5, 2022. Born on December 1, 1929, in Clarksville, Ind., he was the son of the late Alva K. and Minnie (Johnson) Hobson.

Harley was a 1948 graduate of Sheridan High School. During his high school years, he worked at McDonald's Hatchery and Sheridan Packing Company. After graduation, Harley proudly served his country as a soldier in the United States Army. When his military service was complete, Harley re-entered the workforce, taking the first steps of what turned out to be a long productive career in the manufacturing industry. He got his start with Sheridan Metal Processing, and after five years took a position with General Motors, working on the electroplating line for 31 years. Harley was proud of his years at GM and was honored that his department was always one of first to be called in when operations would shift to supporting the war effort. When the call would come to switch to military production, his plant was tasked with building parts for helicopters.

He was a lifetime member of the K.V. Elliott American Legion Post 67 of Sheridan and a member of UAW Local 933. Harley and his wife Martha attended Zionsville United Methodist Church.

Harley's return from the service was also the perfect setting for a Sheridan story that has been told time and time again – when two brothers eloped and married two sisters. Harley, along with his brother Harold, set off on a road trip with girlfriend Martha Jane Baird, and her sister Norma Baird, and on October 9, 1950, Harley and Martha (along with Harold and Norma) were wed. Throughout the years there wasn't much that wasn't done as a group. The foursome loved to travel together, and various accounts of their adventures would surface from time to time. Many family members swear that the reason they always traveled with each other was so that they could make up stories to tell when they got back home.

Harley was also well known for his green thumb; there wasn't much he couldn't grow. His garden got larger and larger throughout the years, and it was more for others than for himself. He was also a wealth of knowledge about ... well ... random things. He was a voracious reader and had a seemingly unquenchable thirst for knowledge. Sometimes he would just sit and read the encyclopedia. This would lead him to be able to rattle off obscure facts at the drop of a hat, such as all the past Indy 500 winners. Now, it did help that Harley was a fan of auto racing, both open wheel and NASCAR (Jeff Gordon being his favorite driver), but that is still no less of an impressive feat.

Harley had no greater love in his life than his family. He loved following their activities and was always there to support them in whatever they were going through.

Harley is survived by son, Keith L. Hobson (Lisa) of Zionsville; daughter, Kathy J. Brewer of Zionsville; 11 grandchildren, Gavin Hobson, Graham Hobson (Charity), Jake Hobson, Cora Hobson, John Smith (Kristy), Andy Smith, Jessica Bogus (Mike), Sarah Gregg (Ryan), Erika Rinehart (Morgan), Michael Smith, and Nolan Smith; 18 great-grandchildren, Chaney Smith, Mac Smith, Remington "Remi" Smith, Reece Smith, Lucy Smith, Jacob Jones, John Smith, Eli Smith, Trai Fitzgerald, Nakia Bogus, Treyton Bogus, Adalyn Bogus, Owen Gregg, Liam Gregg, Benton Rinehart, Ava Rinehart, and twins Knox and River Hobson; brothers-in-law, Don Baird of Hawkinsville, Ga., and Jack Baird of Sheridan; sister-in-law, Norma Hobson of Sheridan; and by his trusty sidekick, his canine BFF, Zoey.

He was preceded in death by his parents; son, Kenneth Hobson; sister, Mary Mendenhall; five brothers, Allison, Raymond, Carl, Frank, and Harold Hobson; three sisters-in-law, Doris Stultz, Georgia Moore, and Betty Baker; and by the love of his life, Martha Jane (Baird) Hobson, on September 26, 2021.

Graveside Services with Military Honors will be held at 10 a.m. on Saturday, April 30, 2022, at Crown View Cemetery in Sheridan.

Arrangements have been entrusted to Kercheval Funeral Home in Sheridan.

Condolences: kerchevalfuneralhome.com

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Teach slaves to be subject to their masters in everything, to try to please them, not to talk back to them, and not to steal from them, but to show that they can be fully trusted, so that in every way they will make the teaching about God our Savior attractive.

For the grace of God has appeared that offers salvation to all people. It teaches us to say "No" to ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright and godly lives in this present age, while we wait for the blessed hope—the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior, Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us to redeem us from all wickedness and to purify for himself a people that are his very own, eager to do what is good.

These, then, are the things you should teach. Encourage and rebuke with all authority. Do not let anyone despise you.

Sheridan wins big on Senior Night

By RICHIE HALL

SHERIDAN - The Sheridan baseball team picked up a nice Senior Night win on Wednesday.

The Blackhawks got their bats going in the later innings and that led to a 13-3, six-inning victory over Traders Point Christian. Sheridan scored seven runs in the sixth inning to finish the game by the 10-run rule.

"Our bats have just really started coming around here recently," said 'Hawks coach Adam Spencer. "We've made some moves in our lineup and it's paid dividends, because we know our first through three hitters are going to hit eventually, but our middle guys are the ones that seem to jump-start things."

The Knights led 2-1 through three innings. Sheridan took the lead in the bottom of the fourth; Cole Macintosh got home on an error to tie the game, then Camden Spencer scored to get the Blackhawks in front. Zach Bales stole home, then Evan Grinstead scored when Silas DeVaney was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded.

Spencer hit a sixth-inning double to score DeVaney and get Sheridan ahead 9-3. The Blackhawks scored one run on each of their final four at-bats. David Will ended the game when he got home on a passed ball.

Bales got the pitching win, throwing five innings. He also hit a fifth-inning double, in addition to scoring three runs.

Dayne Voegel pitched the sixth inning to finish up the game. Macintosh and Camden Spencer both scored two runs.

"Early on we struggled a little bit, but Zach Bales was a stud on the mound tonight," said Adam Spencer. "He probably threw 85 pitches and has a bent-up finger, slid into third - I mean, it's swollen all the time - but he was a stud on the mound tonight and then our defense really played well."

Catcher DeVaney made a big play in the top of the sixth inning, making a catch in foul territory for the third out. First baseman Camden Spencer also got an inning-ending catch, that one in the top of the third.

"When you can make those plays that don't extend innings, then your pitchers, I think they just feel better," said Adam Spencer. "They trust their defense more, so they trust their stuff more. And that's what happened tonight."

Sheridan is 6-4 and hosts Taylor Saturday in a doubleheader.

Heights boys basketball camp takes place in May

Hamilton Heights boys basketball coach Chad Ballenger is hosting his annual Summer Camp in May.

The camp is for boys who will be finishing grades kindergarten through 4 this school year. Boys finishing grades K-2 will have their camp May 9, 10, 12 and 13, with boys finishing grades 3-4 will have camp on May 16, 17, 18 and 19.

Both sessions of the camp begin after school and run until 5 p.m. at the Hamilton Heights Elementary Gym. The cost is $35, with a family discount of $5 for each additional child. If any boy cannot afford to pay the camp fee at this time, call Ballenger at (765) 438-2016.

"The basic requirement in developing a strong basketball program is to instill in all our boys a desire to improve themselves so that some day they can become part of the Husky Basketball team," said Ballenger. "This can be best accomplished by developing the proper fundamentals and pride in themselves and their school at an early age."

For more information, contact Ballenger at cballenger@hhschuskiies.org

Millers blank Cathedral behind Decker's pitching gem

The Noblesville and Cathedral baseball teams were originally slated to open the season on March 28, but cold weather conditions postponed the game by a month.

Noblesville took advantage in the right spots offensively and was fortunate that starter Nolan Decker was on point in the Millers' 4-0 shutout of Cathedral on Tuesday.

The sophomore southpaw was dialed in from the first pitch en route to his best outing of 2022 thus far.

Decker only allowed six total baserunners, just three getting hits, whiffing 11 Irish and walking none.

Drew Niswonger drew a one-out walk and then stole second. Trevor Corbett smacked a hard single to left to send Niswonger to third. Decker helped his own cause by drilling a single into center to score Niswonger to put the Millers up 1-0.

After a quick three up and three down in the top of the fourth, the Miller bats put in more work.

Designated hitter Connor Bloss led off with a first-pitch single to left. A few batters later, Niswonger walked for runners at the corners. Corbett would then reach on an error by Cathedral second baseman Jake Tomich, scoring Niswonger to make it 2-0. That would also advance Corbett to second on the miscue.

Decker then added another RBI to his total, driving a single up the middle, plating Corbett. Kolby Kazmierski would rope a single to left and Decker would score for what wound up being the final score of 4-0.

The Millers evened their record to 7-7 with the win over the Irish. They get back to Hoosier Crossroads Conference action on Thursday by heading west to Westfield (9-3, 4-2 HCC). Noblesville also has a 4-2 HCC record. The conference series concludes in the nightcap of the Victory Field Classic on Friday night, following the Franklin Central vs. Franklin matchup.

Hamilton Heights split a Hoosier Conference East Division series with Northwestern this week.

On Tuesday, the host Huskies won a pitcher's dual with the Tigers 1-0. Kaleb Murray scored Heights' run in the first inning, and the Huskies were able to hold the lead from there.

Drew VanOeveren pitched six innings and got the win, allowing no hits and striking out 11. Guy Griffey got the save, pitching the seventh inning.

The series shifted to Northwestern on Wednesday, and the host Tigers beat Heights 9-5. Northwestern scored two runs in the first inning, but the Huskies answered with four runs in the top of the second. Sam Allen scored the first run when Isaac Tuma reached on error with a bunt. Dean Mason drew a bases-loaded walk that sent Cooper Vondersaar home. Nate Hulen sent a single into left field to score Tuma and Mason.

The Tigers had the game tied at 4-4 by the fourth inning, then scored three runs in the bottom of the fifth to take the lead. The Huskies added one more run in the sixth when Harrison Hochstedler's sacrifice fly scored Mason.

Hulen was 3-for-3 at the plate, while Tuma hit a fifth-inning triple. Griffey struck out five in four innings.

Heights is 3-3 in the division and 8-4 overall. The Huskies travel to Lewis Cass Tuesday to begin another division series.

Izzy Kemp's no-hitter sends GC past Brebeuf

Izzy Kemp had an almost-perfect day during the Guerin Catholic softball team's Circle City Conference game Wednesday at Brebeuf Jesuit.

Kemp pitched a no-hitter against the Braves, and the Golden Eagles were solid at the plate as well, leading to an 8-0 victory. Kemp only allowed one runner on base, that was in the first inning on a dropped third strike.

Kemp struck out nearly everyone she faced, totaling 20 strikeouts in the game. Guerin Catholic also got one groundout each in the fifth and sixth innings.

The Golden Eagles scored a run in six of the seven innings. Izzy Kemp got GC on the board in the first inning when she doubled in Lucy Kemp. Lucy Kemp then batted in Olivia Spomer for a second-inning run, then Kirsten Mascari sent Anna Mauch home with a third-inning RBI; Mauch led off the inning with a double.

In the fourth inning, Spomer started things with a home run, then Mauch doubled in Bussick. Lillian Everts scored a fifth-inning run on an error. Natalie Eiler led off the seventh with a homer, then Spomer scored on Lucy Kemp's sacrifice fly.

Mauch finished the game with three hits, including two doubles. Izzy Kemp also hit two doubles.

Guerin Catholic is 2-1 in conference play and 5-3 overall.

Hamilton Southeastern cruised to a 15-9 win Wednesday at Kokomo.

The Royals scored two runs in the top of the first inning. Lani Wyrick got the first run after Jenna Chase reached on error, then Taylor Larson scored on Payton Fox's RBI groundout.

The Wildkats scored four runs in the bottom of the second inning to take the lead, but Southeastern put up five runs in the top of the third, and stayed on top from that point forward. Reece Garland singled in Maddie Bucher, then Fox scored when Wyrick drew a bases-loaded walk. Larson then blasted a single to score Paige Gould, after which Garland and Wyrick got home on an error.

In the fourth inning, Bucher scored on Morgan Hicks' RBI groundout, then Fox got home when Alex Kiemeyer hit a sacrifice fly. Fox had gotten on base with a double. Sage Ladig then cracked a three-run home run in the fifth, also scoring Larson and Chase.

Garland opened the sixth inning with a solo homer, then in the seventh inning, Stephanie Penny singled in Chase and Halle Guiden scored on Garland's RBI fielder's choice.

Ladig pitched six innings, striking out eight.

The Royals are 7-8 and play Friday at Pendleton Heights.

Month of May schedule packed with action, excitement on IMS oval, road course

It's almost time to come Back Home Again.

The Month of May will return to its normal schedule at Indianapolis Motor Speedway with full seating capacity, including the traditional lineup of on-track and off-track activities surrounding the 106th Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge on Sunday, May 29 and the GMR Grand Prix on Saturday, May 14.

Fans can enjoy 11 days of on-track activity on the IMS road course and the historic, 2.5-mile oval. Action on the road course for the GMR Grand Prix will start Friday, May 13, with practice for the Indianapolis 500 starting Tuesday, May 17 on the oval.

NTT INDYCAR SERIES drivers will line up to take the green flag for "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing" at 12:45 p.m. Sunday, May 29 on the historic, 2.5-mile oval (live on NBC, Telemundo Deportes on Universo, INDYCAR Radio Network). The ninth GMR Grand Prix will kick off the Month of May at IMS at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, May 11 on the 14-turn, 2.439-mile road course (live on NBC, Peacock Premium, INDYCAR Radio Network).

Helio Castroneves will capture the attention of the sporting world as he tries to follow his emotional, record-tying fourth Indianapolis 500 victory in 2021 with a fifth win, elevating him above A.J. Foyt, Al Unser and Rick Mears as the most successful Indy 500 driver. On the road course, Team Penske will look to continue its hot start to the 2022 NTT INDYCAR SERIES season – it has won the first three races – with its sixth GMR Grand Prix victory.

"We have looked forward to a 'normal' Month of May for more than two years, and we can't wait to see all of our loyal fans at the Racing Capital of the World," IMS President J. Douglas Boles said. "But as anyone who has attended even one Indianapolis 500 or GMR Grand Prix knows, there is nothing ordinary about this magical time of the year at IMS. It's so special, with action, excitement and memories every single day. We truly welcome everyone back home again."

Among the highlights of the Month of May at IMS is an exciting new format for PPG Presents Armed Forces Qualifying on Saturday, May 21 and Sunday, May 22.

After Day One of qualifying from noon to 5:50 p.m. Saturday, May 21, Day Two will include two rounds of qualification attempts to decide the first four rows, including pole position.

Starting in reverse order of speeds based on Day One, each of the top 12 drivers will have a guaranteed attempt to post a traditional four-lap qualifying time starting at 4 p.m. The fastest six will advance to the Firestone Fast Six at 5:10 p.m. to determine positions one through six and compete for the NTT P1 Award for pole. The slowest six will fill out starting positions seven through 12 according to their recorded time.

In the Firestone Fast Six, each entrant is again guaranteed one attempt and will qualify in reverse order based on their Top 12 qualification results. The fastest wins pole position, which includes a $100,000 prize, with the remaining five drivers filling out the remainder of the first two rows.

A post-qualifying practice from noon-2 p.m. Monday, May 23 will give fans another opportunity to see NTT INDYCAR SERIES drivers hone setups in traffic before Race Day.

Miller Lite Carb Day will feature the final practice before Race Day, with cars on track from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday, May 27. The popular INDYCAR Pit Crew Challenge also returns after a two-year hiatus, rewarding the fastest crews in the sport and putting their talent in the spotlight from 2:30 to 4 p.m.

Month of May action will start on the IMS road course with the GMR Grand Prix, with two full days of on-track action open to the public Friday, May 13 and Saturday, May 14 featuring the NTT INDYCAR SERIES, Indy Lights Presented by Cooper Tires, Indy Pro 2000 Championship Presented by Cooper Tires and the Cooper Tires USF2000 Championship.

The GMR Grand Prix is scheduled to start at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, May 14. Only two drivers have swept this event and the Indy 500 in the same year – Will Power in 2018 and Simon Pagenaud in 2019.

A great variety of live music also will complement the exciting on-track action throughout Race Weekend.

Rock's ultimate supergroup Kings of Chaos and legendary Grammy Award winner Rick Springfield will co-headline the Miller Lite Carb Day Concert on Friday, May 27. Legendary funk and R&B band Morris Day and the Time will open the concert, followed by Springfield and Kings of Chaos. The show starts at 3:30 p.m. on the Miller Lite Stage inside Turn 3 of the IMS oval, a new location this year.

Country music superstar Dierks Bentley will headline the Firestone Legends Day Concert on Saturday, May 28. Special guests Ashley McBryde and Dillon Carmichael will open the show, which begins at 7 p.m. at the TCU Amphitheater in White River State Park, further expanding the celebration of "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing" into downtown Indianapolis.

Superstar DJ and producer Martin Garrix will headline a stellar lineup of global electronic music artists at the Indy 500 Snake Pit presented by Coors Light on Sunday, May 29. deadmau5, Galantis, Steve Aoki and Yellow Claw also will perform at the Race Day concert during the 106th Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge. Performances begin at 8:15 a.m. in the infield adjacent to Turn 3 of the IMS oval.

Tickets are on sale now at IMS.com for the ninth GMR Grand Prix and 106th Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge. All fans 15 and under are admitted free for general admission with an accompanying paying adult. There is no free admission for reserved seats on Race Day for the Indianapolis 500 or GMR Grand Prix.
