The REPORTER

Jesus, give me a 'brake'

You are probably familiar with Carrie Underwood singing, "Jesus, Take the Wheel," but on Sunday, I was praying for Jesus to give me brakes.

Just when I think my traveling troubles are over ... here comes another one.

As I head to St. Pete Beach with three of my besties, whom I refer to as the Golden Girls, I put my foot on my brakes to slow down. I'm in six lanes of traffic on 275 South, just passing the exit to the Tampa airport. Traffic is heavy. Speeds are ranging from 65 mph to standing still.

Lots of braking ... except my brakes are not cooperating. My right leg is getting quite the workout as I press my brakes towards the floor. I'm reminded of the brakes on my '65 Mustang that I drove after getting my license when I was 16. No power brakes.

I put on my best calm and in control face as I grip the steering wheel and pray ... Jesus, please give me brakes! The panic I feel inside is hidden from my three friends, Patrice, Linda and Joan. Inside, I'm having a "come apart." I can't begin to describe the fear I feel.

We are less than an hour from the beach, but it seems like an eternity as we make our way there. I stay back from the cars in front

PREVAIL
Advocating for Victims of Crime & Abuse

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Into the Woods: Sheridan’s spring 2022 musical

Today is your final chance to see students’ adaptation of Sondheim production!

The Sheridan Student Column is brought to readers by Sheridan High School’s 10th grade English class, taught by Abby Williams.

For the 2022 spring musical, Sheridan High School is performing Into the Woods JR., an adaptation of the 1987 Broadway musical of the same name, by Stephen Sondheim. The show premiered this past Friday, but you can catch the final performance at 2 p.m. today, Sunday, May 1. Tickets are $10 for general admission and $5 for children 12 and under.

The story starts with three fairy tales – Cinderella, Jack and the Beanstalk, and Little Red Riding Hood. All the characters, including the baker and his wife from Little Red’s story, have a specific wish. Cinderella wishes to go to the king’s festival. Jack wishes for his cow, Milky White, to give his family milk. The baker and his wife wish to have a child.

The only issue is that there is a curse put on the baker’s family from long ago – his father stole magic beans from the witch’s garden, so she cursed him! The witch visits and explains to the baker and his wife what they have to give her in order to reverse the curse: The cow as white as milk, the cape as red as blood, the hair as yellow as corn, and the slipper as pure as gold. All the characters head into the woods to get their wishes!

We have been working on the musical since January 2022 and are ready to perform! I play the baker’s wife and sophomore Robert Bowen plays the baker. Camelia Ignatencu, our foreign exchange student from Romania, plays Cinderella. Junior Lukas Harrington plays Jack, and freshman Lucy Cooper plays his mother. Rapunzel is played by Avery Hayden, a sophomore, and sophomore Chad Weaver plays her prince. Senior Michael Cronin plays Cinderella’s prince, and Emma Sutton, junior, plays his steward. Sophomore Kaitlyn Sebastian plays Little Red Riding Hood. Finally, senior Lexi Woodcock plays our very own witch.

We have been working hard on our musical for the past few months and would love for you to come! Ticket sales start an hour before each performance, and the doors open 30 minutes after that. We hope to see you there!

of me only to have cars cut in front of me, increasing my anxiety to the max degree.

Please, Lord, keep me calm and let me get my friends safely to the beach. PLEASE.

We make it to St. Pete Beach. As I park the car at the hotel, I thank the good Lord for his protection and for providing the brakes I needed.

Our room isn’t ready, so we head to lunch. The Golden Girls still have no idea about the ride they had been on. As we wait for our lunch, I keep my phone in my lap and scroll through the list of nearby mechanics. Scroll. Scroll. Scroll.

Mobile Mechanic. WHAT? “We come to your business, home or wherever you are.” Hallelujah! I excuse myself to go to the bathroom. I did go so I didn’t lie to them. I make a call and immediately a man answers his phone. Now you must understand this was 3:00 SUNDAY afternoon and I am stranded at a hotel on the beach. (I know there are worse places to be stranded.) He will be there within the hour.

I return to my friends and put back on my “in control” face. I choke down a few bites and place my napkin on top of the large part of my lunch I left untouched. My frazzled nerves would not allow me to eat.

We take our luggage to our room, and I get the text message the mechanic and his assistant have arrived. I excuse myself to return to my car as I had “left” something in it.

After checking the brake fluid, the mechanic turned to me and said, “Lady, you are so lucky to have made it here as you have NO brake fluid. Somewhere on Interstate 275, you lost all of it.”

If you Google what the brake fluid does, you will see how dangerous it is to drive a car without it. I had driven at least 25 miles without adequate brakes.

Believe what you want, but I know that Jesus did give me a brake.

I return to the room and confess to my girlfriends what happened. They said they knew something was going on as I had gotten very quiet. They said my quietness told on me. They also noticed I had backed off following my usual closeness to the cars in front of me. They know me too well.

The mechanic orders the part and says the issue should be fixed by the time we needed to leave in two days.

Fast forward two days and while the mechanic is working on my car, I get a text. “Do you have a minute?” I know that it will not be a good minute.

Seems the repair is more extensive than they thought. The part would not be in for at least a week. I need to have the car towed. I call Chuck. He told me to call AAA. The dispatcher informs me that I am not on his account and that AAA would not be able to help me. I am now at the crispy edge of my nerves.

The mechanic and his assistant were unaware they were my guardian angels. They got the car moved and calmed this lady who had a partial “come apart.” Chuck said he knew I was upset as I spoke in short sentences. I guess he also knows me well.

I knew the Golden Girls were feeling bad for me. I assure them that I am okay as long as we are safe.

We call a Lyft and head back to our house. It has been quite the adventure and #4 on my ‘Misadventures of Janet.’ I am hoping this is the last of my traveling disasters.

Chuck has decided we are going car shopping and I am now on his AAA account. May the 2007 Focus RIP. It served the Leonard family well for almost 200,000 miles. I will never again take good brakes for granted.

Many resources available for those who need help with mental health

By SCOTT KNIGHT
The Jason Foundation
Guest Columnist

As you may know, May is Mental Health Month, an annual observance designed to increase awareness about mental health and mental illness.

Good mental health is essential to overall health and personal well-being. It also contributes to the ability to lead a healthy, balance and productive life.

Since 1949, Mental Health America and their affiliates across the country have led the observance of May as Mental Health Month by reaching millions of people through the media, local events and screenings.

According to Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), mental health and substance use disorders affect people from all walks of life and all age groups. These illnesses are common, recurrent, and often serious, but they are treatable, and many people do recover.

Unfortunately, many people do not seek treatment for mental health issues for several reasons. They may not be completely aware of the extent of their problem, they may be hesitant to contact a mental health professional because they fear they will be stigmatized, or they may not know how to access services. Yet overall, the quality of life is greatly improved when a person with a mental health concern or problem seeks help and receives appropriate treatment from a qualified professional.

Addressing the mental health needs of a child is the responsibility of everyone in their circle of influence, including parents, teachers, coaches, doctors, and other community leaders. One of the leading causes of suicide attempts across all ages is depression. Mental or addictive disorders are associated with 90 percent of suicides. In 2020, the most recent figures available, suicide is the third leading cause of death for youth ages 10 to 24 in Indiana. In a survey conducted by the CDC, 18.8 percent of high school youth said they had "seriously considered suicide within the last 12 months."

If you or someone you love is struggling with depression or thinking about suicide, get help now. The National Suicide Prevention Lifeline, 1-800-273-TALK (8255), is a free resource, available 24 hours a day for anyone who is in suicidal crisis or emotional distress. The Crisis Text Line is a free 24/7 text line where trained crisis counselors support individuals in crisis. Text "Jason" to 741741 to speak with a compassionate, trained Crisis Counselor. You get confidential support 24/7 – for free.

The Jason Foundation is another available resource. The Jason Foundation is dedicated to the awareness and prevention of youth suicide through educational programs that equip youth, parents, educators, and the community with the tools and resources to identify and assist at-risk youth. Many times, a young person will exhibit clear warning signs prior to an attempt. By knowing the warning signs, and knowing how to help, you could save a life.

Visit JasonFoundation.com to learn more about youth suicide, the warning signs, and how you can help make a difference. The Jason Foundation has never charged a school, community, or individual for the use of their programs or resources.

CYT bringing Junie B. Jones: The Musical to The Cat

Young actors from Carmel, Westfield, Noblesville hit the stage this month

The REPORTER

Junie B. Jones returns to The Cat in Carmel with Christian Youth Theater's (CYT) production of Junie B. Jones: The Musical May 14 to 16.

An adaptation of four of Barbara Park's best-selling books, Junie B. Jones: The Musical follows the hilarious Junie B. on her first day of first grade. She makes friends with the new kid in school, discovers she may need glasses in Mrs. Scary's class and finds her best friend Lucille has made new best friends.

This CYT production features 17 cast members, including Carmel resident Abigail Mickelson, 11, who played Junie B. Jones in CYT's 2021 production of Junie B. Jones is Not a Crook. "I really enjoy playing Junie B. Jones as she's moving into first grade," Mickelson said. "It's a big change for her, and it's fun to see how she learns to overcome and adapt to things she can't change. I love how she likes to be herself – friendly, a bit crazy and honest; it makes her a super fun character to play."

Playing the bus driver Mrs. Woo is Sophie Schueler, 11, Westfield.

"I'm excited about Junie B. Jones: The Musical because it's funny, the songs are upbeat, and the dancing is really fun," Schueler said.

While show is appropriate for all ages, Schueler recommends it for preschoolers, kindergartners and elementary students who are more likely to be familiar with the Junie B. Jones books.

Additional cast members hail from Noblesville, Zionsville and Indianapolis.

"Getting to know these young actors and see them flourish in their roles has been spectacular," Show Director Jordan Fox said. "They do a wonderful job bringing these lovable characters and fun-filled songs of Junie B. Jones: The Musical to life."

Also on the artistic team is musical director Diana O'Halloran and choreographer Ashley Thibodeau.

Bicentennial Commission

During the Hamilton County Bicentennial, each of the county's nine townships will get special treatment for one full month. In this post, we're heading north to Jackson Township, which will be on the Bicentennial pedestal in April 2023. (Visit our FAQs to see when your township will be the star.)

If you're a Jackson Township resident or have a special place in your heart for the area, we encourage you to connect to its history and get to know your Bicentennial Commission representative.

So here we go!

Township Trivia

• Population: As of the 2010 census, an estimated 10,368 people hang their hats in Jackson Township.

• Towns and communities: Sandwiched between Adams and White River townships in the far northernmost part of Hamilton County, Jackson Township consists of Cicero, Arcadia and Atlanta, as well as the unincorporated communities of Deming and Millersburg.

• By water and air: In addition to popular Morse Reservoir, running through the township's 55 square miles are the streams of Bear Slide Creek, Bennett Ditch, Cicero Creek, Hinkle Creek, Little Cicero Creek, Possum Run, Sugar Run, Taylor Creek and Weasel Creek. Look up and you might spot a plane taking off from Heizman Airport.

History Nuggets

Some of the highlights from history for Jackson Township include:

- Jackson Township was organized in 1833.

• After being diagnosed with AIDS in 1984, Ryan White was denied a public school education in Kokomo, sparking national media attention and debate. Seeking a more normal life for their son, his family moved to Cicero, where Ryan started at Hamilton Heights High School in 1987.

• The Jackson Township Fire Department was established in 1955 in Arcadia. It provides fire and EMS service for the unincorporated areas of Jackson Township and contractually to the towns of Arcadia and Atlanta.

• The nationally known Hoosier Hot Shots included star Paul "Hezzie" Trietsch of Arcadia. The entertainers were nationally known from the 1920s through the mid-1940s and ended up in Hollywood performing in Westerns. (If you want to sound like a true Hot Shots fan, sneak their signature line into your next conversation: "Are you ready, Hezzie?")

- Roberts Chapel at Roberts Settlement was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1996.

- Arcadia's Bishop's Park once had a 250-foot "roller coaster" and watering holes to entertain visitors. Its biggest crowd gathered on Independence Day in 1912, but the keynote speaker didn't show. (See more here.) It is still home to a flowing well.

Nicole Duncan

Jackson Twp. Bicentennial Commission

The Bicentennial Commission has members from each of the nine townships to help celebrate and commemorate the history of the county. The representative for Jackson Township is Nicole Duncan.

Duncan's family has called Jackson Township home for many generations.

While studying Philanthropic Studies at the Lilly Family School of Philanthropy at IUPUI, she focused much of her research on her small community and its Trustee's Office specifically.

"I was fortunate enough to be appointed as the Deputy Trustee in 2019 by our current Trustee, Robyn Cook. I truly enjoy serving our residents," she said. "I can't imagine living anywhere else!"

As a township made up of three towns, it is truly one community.

"It would be wonderful if this celebration not only brings back fond memories but sparks new motivation in the community for future township engagement," she said.

Her wheels are turning on plans for the Bicentennial. Some of those ideas include:

- Working with the school system and highlighting projects they are currently working on that will showcase the history of all of Jackson Township's schools.

- Incorporating the bicentennial theme into events that are already on the 2023 calendar. Those could include the Arcadia

Farmers Market, Springfield, will be a Fling market at Remnant Coffee Shop in Arcadia, Cicero's Halloween event to share scary Jackson Township stories, and the forthcoming education-focused "mini museum."

- Planning musical events around the Hoosier Hot Shots and maybe a historical marker.

- Creating a tour of local historical sites from Atlanta to Cicero.

If this list excites you, contact Duncan at clerk@jacksontownshiptrustee.com or call (317) 984-3826 to get involved. If you live outside of Jackson Township but you're inspired to think about projects for your own township, email us at info@hamcoturns200.com or call (317) 674-3150. We'd love to help!

Rep. Spartz made it clear to the DHS Secretary that, in her numerous trips to the border, she has per-

Do you want to be a Christian and a Christian alone?

As a country, state and county we will soon enter into another contentious political season. Are you a Democratic, Republican, Libertarian or unattached? To whom do you give your allegiance? What determines your political allegiance? Rest easy this is not a political ad nor is it intended to promote any party or candidate. I want us to think for a moment about what brings us to that conclusion.

When we consider our religious affiliation, what leads us to make that decision? This decision is far more significant than making a commitment to a political party or candidate. If God is who He says He is and Jesus is His Son, it behooves us to surrender and submit to Him and Him alone! God will not accept divided devotion and thus we would call on all men to worship Him and Him alone. Repeatedly in the Old Testament, we read of commands to worship Him and Him alone. Enshrined in the Law was the command to "worship no other god, for the LORD, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God" (Exodus 34:14). Paul warned of the danger of provoking God to jealousy (1 Cor. 10:22).

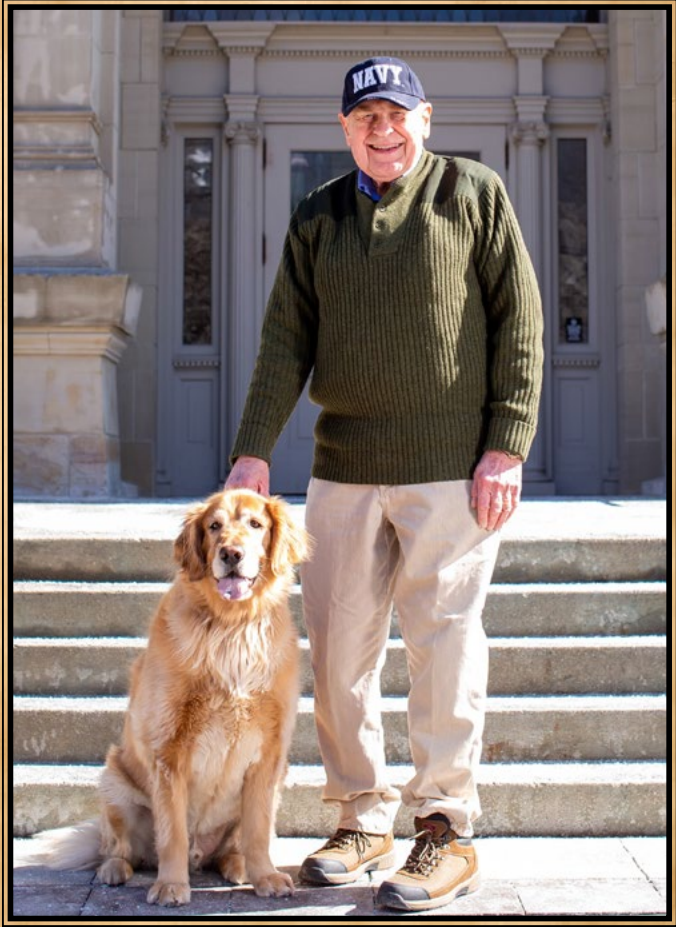

Why not leave any commitment to a church founded by men, not provoke God to jealousy and seek to be a Christian and a Christian alone? Is that idea intriguing? Does it seem reasonable? Let's investigate that together.

IMCU donates $10K to Tatum Parker Project for child cancer awareness

The REPORTER

On behalf of Indiana Members Credit Union (IMCU) members, IMCU recently presented a check for $10,000 to The Tatum Parker Project as part of its exclusive Cancer Awareness Debit Card Program.

IMCU members nominate a different local cancer related organization to be the beneficiary each year. The Tatum Parker Project was the selected beneficiary for the past year, receiving a contribution for each signature-based transaction made with this card from March 2021 to February 2022.

IMCU AVP of Business Development Gina Terrell presented the check to The Tatum Parker Project Executive Director Jayson Parker on Feb. 28.

"The Tatum Parker Project thanks IMCU for their generosity and we were honored to be chosen as their partner for the Cancer Awareness Debit Card Program," Parker said. IMCU Vice President of Business Development & Marketing Thorpe Miller said, "We are honored to present The Tatum Parker Project with this donation to support Hoosier children fighting a cancer. Their programs provide independence and entertainment that are vital to recovery efforts. Our Cancer Awareness debit card is our most popular give-back card, and we are happy to connect our members to causes they are passionate about supporting."

The card is available for issue to members at IMCU's 33 Indiana locations. The IMCU Cancer Awareness Debit Card is an option to members with a free checking account and can be issued immediately via IMCU's instant issue program, which allows members to receive their debit card on the spot.

About The Tatum Parker Project

The mission of The Tatum Parker Project is to positively impact the lives of Indiana pediatric cancer patients. The main project is to provide a Bag of Fun to every child diagnosed with cancer in Indiana. Bags of Fun are backpacks filled with age-appropriate games, toys, and activities that give a child a better day, a smile and something to focus on other than their illness. The bags also give parents the reassurance that someone understands. The Bags of Fun are delivered to the children within the first few weeks of the child's diagnosis. The second project is to invest in pediatric cancer research. Since inception we have donated $50,000 specifically to pediatric cancer research organizations. Finally, the organization is currently developing programs to help children and their families deal with the day-to-day aspects of their illness – financial, healthcare, psychological. What investors can – and can’t – control

As an investor, you can easily feel frustrated to see short-term drops in your investment statements. But while you cannot control the market, you may find it helpful to review the factors you can control. Many forces affect the financial markets, including geopolitical events, corporate profits and interest rate movements – forces beyond the control of most individual investors. In any case, it’s important to focus on the things you can control, such as these:

Your ability to define your goals

One area in which you have total control is your ability to define your goals. Like most people, you probably have short-term goals – such as saving for a new car or a dream vacation – and long-term ones, such as a comfortable retirement.

Once you identify your goals and estimate how much they will cost, you can create an investment strategy to help achieve them. Over time, some of your personal circumstances will likely change, so you’ll want to review your time horizon and risk tolerance on a regular basis, adjusting your strategy when appropriate. And the same is true for your goals – they may evolve over time, requiring new responses from you in how you invest.

Your response to market downturns

When the market drops and the value of your investments declines, you might be tempted to take immediate action in an effort to stop the losses. This is understandable – after all, your investment results can have a big impact on your future.

However, acting hastily could work against you – for example, you could sell investments that still have solid fundamentals and are still appropriate for your needs. If you can avoid decisions based on short-term events, you may help yourself in the long run.

Your commitment to investing

The financial markets are almost always in flux, and their movements are hard to predict. If you can continue investing in all markets – good, bad or sideways – you will likely make much better progress toward your goals than if you periodically were to take a “time out.”

Many people head to the investment sidelines when the market tumbles, only to miss out on the beginnings of the next rally. And by steadily investing, you will increase the number of shares you own in your investments – and the larger your ownership stake, the greater your opportunities for building wealth.

Your portfolio’s level of diversification

While diversification itself can’t guarantee profits or protect against all losses, it can help greatly reduce the impact of market volatility on your portfolio. Just how you diversify your investments depends on several factors, but the general principle of maintaining a diversified portfolio should govern your approach to investing.

It’s a good idea to periodically review your portfolio to ensure it’s still properly diversified.

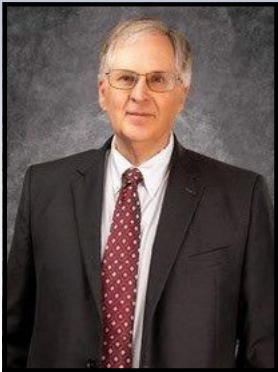

The world will always be filled with unpredictable, uncontrollable events, and many of them will affect the financial markets to one degree or another. But within your own investment world, you always have a great deal of control – and with it, you have the power to keep moving toward all your important financial objectives.

Hoosier History Highlights

Who was the “Dean of Political Cartoonists”?

The REPORTER

This week in Indiana's history ...

1813 – Corydon became the second capital of the Indiana Territory. The site was moved from Vincennes to be more central to the newly organized territory. Corydon became the state capital when Indiana gained statehood in 1816.

1870 – John T. McCutcheon was born in Tippecanoe County. He graduated from Purdue University and went to work for a Chicago newspaper as a cartoonist. He often illustrated stories by Hoosier humorist George Ade. He started drawing political cartoons in 1896 and became known as the “Dean of Political Cartoonists.” He won a Pulitzer Prize in 1932 for a cartoon dealing with bank failures.

1914 – Indiana Governor Samuel Ralston proclaimed the second Sunday of May to be Mothers’ Day, following the national observance announced by President Woodrow Wilson. In his proclamation, the Governor said, “A mother makes sacrifices that none other would make ... she is the dominant factor of the home and the strength of the nation. Her love is the philosophy that shapes the destiny of men.”

1922 – Jack Johnson, former world heavyweight boxing champion, was the star at the Broadway

Theater in Indianapolis. For the week, he appeared twice daily on stage as he demonstrated the necessity of self-defense and performed various gymnastic exercises. He played tug of war with audience members and, as the newspaper said, “He always won.” At the time, according to filmmaker Ken Burns, “Jack Johnson was the most famous and most notorious African American on earth.”

1950 – Poet Ogden Nash was in Bedford to speak to a crowd of 700 in the high school gym. He told his audience that he attributed his success to a knack for rhyme and the fact that he writes bad poetry deliberately. Having already published 11 books of verse, he admitted, with tongue in cheek, that “lack of talent is not enough for a successful career. You’ve got to have a chunk of luck.” (In 2002, the United States Post Office honored Nash with a commemorative stamp on the anniversary of his 100th birthday.)

1969 – The Indianapolis News reported that over 1,800 state employees were earning more than $10,000 a year. The large salaries went to an average of one out of 13 persons employed. At the top of the list was the mental health commissioner, earning $35,000. The governor was third on the list with an annual pay of $31,000.

Antonio A. “Tony” Lacharite February 3, 1928 – April 29, 2022

Tony was a member of Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church and the American Legion. He enjoyed playing cards, working in his yard, gardening, and playing computer games. He really loved candy! Most of all, Tony enjoyed visiting with his family.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy our brother;

To Philemon our dear friend and fellow worker—also to Apphia our sister and Archippus our fellow soldier—and to the church that meets in your home:

Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

I always thank my God as I remember you in my prayers, because I hear about your love for all his holy people and your faith in the Lord Jesus. I pray that your partnership with us in the faith may be effective in deepening your understanding of every good thing we share for the sake of Christ. Your love has given me great joy and encouragement, because you, brother, have refreshed the hearts of the Lord's people.

Therefore, although in Christ I could be bold and order you to do what you ought to do, yet I prefer to appeal to you on the basis of love. It is as none other than Paul—an old man and now also a prisoner of Christ Jesus—that I appeal to you for my son Onesimus, who became my son while I was in chains. Formerly he was useless to you, but now he has become useful both to you and to me.

Philemon 1:1-11 (NIV)

Millers win twice at their Invite

Coach Deke Bullard reaches 100 wins

 Noblesville pitcher Lulu Van Beek got a win for the Millers during their invitational on Saturday. Van Beek helped Noblesville take its first game, 16-6 over New Castle.

The Noblesville softball team celebrated a milestone while winning two games at its own Miller Invitational on Saturday.

Noblesville took care of New Castle 16-6 in five innings, then beat Plainfield 11-1 in six innings. With the victories, Millers coach Deke Bullard reached the 100-win mark at Noblesville.

In the Millers' first game, the Trojans hit a home run in the top of the first inning, but the Millers responded with five runs in the bottom of the inning. Gabby Fowler batted in the first run, Taylor Thompson hit a two-run double, then scored on an error. Kinsey Pfeiffer finished the inning with a center field homer.

Noblesville rolled in three more runs in the third inning, then put up seven more runs in the fourth. Fowler tripled in a run, then was scored by a Scout Duplaga double. Bella Schatko later hit a three-run double. Duplaga would finish the game in the fifth inning, as her lead-off home run got the Millers' lead to 10 runs.

Thompson was 3-for-3 at the plate, scoring three runs and driving in another three. Schatko finished with two doubles among her three hits. Lulu Van Beek got the pitching win.

Noblesville also got off to a fast start against the Quakers, scoring six runs in the first inning. Lauren DeRolf led off with a triple, and was soon scored by Duplaga's base hit. Erin Clark hit a two-RBI single and Reis Sjolholm batted in a run. The Millers batted around, so DeRolf came up again during the inning and nailed a two-run single.

Kinsey Pfeiffer smacked a two-run homer in the second inning, then Aidan Gates batted in a run. DeRolf had three hits and drove in three runs, while Clark scored three runs. Emme Yee pitched a complete game for the win.

Noblesville is 9-7 and hosts Mount Vernon Monday.
