The REPORTER

Duke Energy will serve as lead sponsor for Hamilton County's upcoming 200th anniversary in 2023, the Hamilton County Bicentennial Commission has announced.

Financial support from the local energy company will provide dozens of grants to local non-profit organizations to create outreach programs and activities related to the celebration.

"Duke Energy has been a part of the local community for decades," said Mark LaBarr, Hamilton County Government & Community Relations Manager. "We hope this support can not only encourage local organizations to celebrate the past, but also explore ways to create an even brighter future."

wouldn't listen. It's been almost six weeks since Mom passed away. I'm not saying that everything is all hunky dory. Last weekend, I broke down twice after seeing sweet old ladies who reminded me so much of her. Mother's Day was a mix of joy and sorrow.

But the flood of memories is beginning to be less painful and more joyful. I love looking around my home and seeing her beautiful Tiffany lamps. (Okay, not real Tiffany, but no one will ever know!) Mom's Bible sits prominently in my desk.

My yard is a tribute to her, filled with some of Mom's beloved wind chimes and whimsical outdoor decorations. And, oh, the lily of the valley... my favorite flower and hers. I pick a new bouquet from my yard every other day, inhale its sweet fragrance, and smile. I love to work and look at the delicate white flowers on my desk.

One of my relatives requested that I scan some photos of Mom and send them to her, which I did last weekend. It was fun to go down memory lane and remember vacations, holidays, and other special times with Mom.

And, finally, I'm starting to heal, realizing that once and for all, Mom is free from pain and enjoying heaven with its many adventures, people she loves, and, of course, God!

So, what's ahead for this column? I'm sure more memories of Mom will surface, but since I am no longer in the sandwich generation, it will have a new title. I'm thinking of something along the lines of my adventures as an empty nester.

And I'll get to tell you a part of my life story that I couldn't share when my mother was alive. I don't usually "vague post," but I promise, all will be revealed next week. I appreciate your patience.

In the meantime, Readers, thank you for all your love, kind thoughts, and prayers over these last six weeks. I know many of you feel like you knew my mother. I think you'll enjoy meeting her when you get up there eventually! It won't be hard to find my mama ... just look for the wind chimes and lily of the valley.

Well ... you may also recall that my last column, "Give bees a chance", addressed the importance of bees and other pollinators in our health, and frankly, in our very existence.

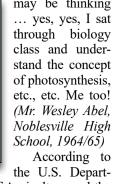

The same can be said for trees, which are essential for our well-being. There is a reason trees are often called "the lungs of the world." A tree has the ability to provide an essential of life for all living things on our planet: Oxygen, and the power to remove harmful gases like works out to a total of about carbon dioxide, making the 740 kilograms of oxygen air we breathe healthier. The cost is recognition of the importance of trees and our mission to make certain that these God-given resources provided for our well-being are preserved.

We tend to hear/read/repeat the word "wellness" often these days, and good for us that we recognize the importance of care of our bodies and our psyches. However, wellness is much more that an exercise program, nutrition-focused eating, and mindful pursuits - all of which are vitally important. The pollinators, the trees and other plants, our waterways, and our atmosphere are equally important.

I was 20 years old when Joni Mitchell recorded "Big Yellow Taxi" from which the above lyrics were taken. At that time the concept of a "tree museum" seemed rather science fiction-oriented. Let us hope we never see that option come to fruition. So please, give trees a chance! The next time you take a deep breath of air, give credit to a tree!

Sheridan reader suggests reduced speed limits during Noblesville Farmers Market, applauds restriction of protests

Dear Editor:

I visited the Noblesville Farmers Market several times last year and was pleased with the variety of products sold and the positivity of the vendors.

One concern is the close availability of parking and walking across any main thoroughfare to get to the market. I would suggest putting standup signs within Logan Street on market day with a reduced speed limit for the safety of everyone during market hours. The electronic signal at State Road 19 should also be controlled to move the traffic out quicker - backed up cars waiting for the signal to change causes congestion within the area.

I read the 2022 rules of the Noblesville Farmers Market, and they are quite extensive. What really stood out was under "Additional Rules."

Bullet point number four made a very clear statement about not allowing protesting within the market. It states, "Protesting is not permitted within Federal Hill Commons during the Noblesville Farmers Market. Market staff will ask any persons violating these prohibitions to relocate." What is offered are "free speech areas," which included other parking areas.

As a shopper I don't want to see or hear any protesters! So, hooray to the Market Manager, its staff and board of directors! I appreciate them taking a strong stand protecting the vendors and visitors to the market from unruly disruptions.

If you are not aware, last year the city of Bloomington had to shut down for two consecutive weeks in their farmers market because they most likely did not have any written rule that protected the vendors and the visitors from outside disruptions. Do you realize the cost this caused to the vendors selling fresh produce and the other vendors who lost money because of self-centered protesters?

Finally, we have someone in Hamilton County pushing back against unruliness!

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

In bringing many sons and daughters to glory, it was fitting that God, for whom and through whom everything exists, should make the pioneer of their salvation perfect through what he suffered. Both the one who makes people holy and those who are made holy are of the same family. So Jesus is not ashamed to call them brothers and sisters. He says,

"I will declare your name to my brothers and sisters; in the assembly I will sing your praises." And again,

"I will put my trust in him."

And again he says,

"Here am I, and the children God has given me." Hebrews 2:10-13 (NIV)

Track and field Royals boys win close county meet

By RICHIE HALL

FISHERS - Two days after the Hamilton Southeastern girls track and field team won an ultra-close county meet, the boys team was hoping to get a Royals county sweep.

Southeastern hosted the Hamilton County boys track and field meet on Thursday and did achieve the goal of winning the championship. Just like the girls, the Royals boys won the meet in dramatic fashion.

It came down to the 4x400 relay, where HSE finished in third place by 0.37 seconds. That gave the Royals enough points to claim the trophy, totaling 152 points to the Greyhounds' 150. Fishers placed third with 117.5 points.

Southeastern and Carmel were close to each other for the entire meet. It looked as if the Royals were starting to pull away after they got a 1-3 finish in the 800 run; Nolan Satterfield won the event in 1 minute, 55.37 seconds, with Bennett DuBois placing third.

But the Greyhounds answered right back. James Philpott and Camren Avant went 1-2 in the 200 run, scoring 18 points and getting Carmel back within single digits. A 2-3 finish in the shot put helped the 'Hounds stay close.

Carmel placed second in the 4x400, but the Royals clinched the trophy by placing third; Southeastern coach Garrett Lawton said he knew his team would "need to keep it pretty level with Carmel heading into that 4x4" to have a chance to win.

Lawton said his team had "a lot of strong performances" at the meet. "A couple of people I think weren't necessarily quite where they wanted to be. But overall, I feel pretty good about where everyone's at heading into the sectional."

Satterfield's 800 victory was one of three for the Royals at the meet. Manraj Grewal won the high jump with a winning leap of 6 feet, 4 inches, while Michael Griffith had an outstanding long jump today, with a best jump of 22 feet, 11.25 inches.

The Greyhounds had five individual wins at the meet. Philpott's 200 victory (in 21.93 seconds) was his second of the evening, as he had already claimed the 100 dash in 10.86 seconds. Philpott scored 20 points at the meet and was a co-winner of even further throws at the sectional meet," the high point award.

Joseph Franklin picked up a discus win this." (161 feet, 1 inch). Carmel then had two relay victories, in the 4x800 (7:46.88) and the placing second with a best vault of 14 feet, 4x100 (42.30 seconds).

Noblesville took fourth place as a team with 63 points. Joel Mumaw got a victory for the Millers, making a big kick at the end to win the 1600 run in 4:15.12.

Westfield placed fifth with 55 points. The Shamrocks had two runner-up finishes: Kai Connor in the 1600 (4:17.69) and Colin Lakomek in the 800 run (1:55.90).

Hamilton Heights scored 31.5 points. The Huskies got a record-breaking performance from its star thrower, Colin Wilson. The junior won the shot put by over 10 feet, with his best throw of 62 feet, 5.5 inches setting a new county meet record.

"I think I threw pretty good," said Wilson. "My first three were my best throws, the qualifying rounds, but the last three I got a little tired. I think I can come back at a later meet."

Wilson said that today's record was an outdoor personal best, but he's thrown further during indoor meets.

Carmel's James Philpott (left) and Fishers' Tyler Tarter (right) shared the high point award at the end of the meet. Both scored 20 points by winning two events.

Fishers also got five individual victories. Tyler Tarter was his usual dominant self in and had an event winner. Ethan Hines ran the hurdles, easily taking the 110 hurdles (14.93 seconds) and 300 hurdles (39.10 seconds), thus scoring 20 team points. As a result, Tarter was the other co-winner of the high point award.

Keefer Soehngen also turned some heads with his performance in the 400 dash. Soehngen ran the race in 48.44 seconds, establishing a new county meet record. He was also part of the Tigers' 4x400 relay win (3:18.82).

Soehngen said he thought he ran "pretty well" at the meet. "And today it was really nice having good competition," he said. Shout out to the HSE 400 runner. He's got a great future." (The Royals' Jaylon Cooper placed second in 50.23 seconds.)

And Soehgen is also looking forward to the post-season, starting with the sectional, which takes place next Thursday (May 19) at Carmel.

"I think it's going to be exciting, going into these races with some good competition," said Soehngen. "I think I can definitely push past 48."
