Arcadia's Mitchell Lee Park dedication draws crowds

The Town of Arcadia held a ribbon cutting ceremony Saturday for the newly renamed Mitchell Lee Park, 200 W. Howard Ave. The park is named after Mitchell Lee Russell to honor him for his impact and influence upon several generations of local youth as a softball coach, his dedication and efforts as a former Town Marshal, as well as being an active member of the Arcadia Town Council before his passing in 2021. New installations have brought the park up to date with brand new playground equipment, including a zip line, as well as many other updates including removal of old fencing and new signage. He believed in me

It was June 2004. I remember standing at the foot of my dad's hospital bed. I was telling him I was going to sell cars.

He smiled.

He told me "Bug, you can do anything you put your mind to doing. Always remember that." I was 48 years old. And I believed him.

I heard those words time and time again during the past 11 months as I wrote my book. Sadly, he passed June 28, 2006, a month before I wrote my first column for the Noblesville Ledger. He never read any of my writing. But ... he believed in me. Oh, the power of a parent's words.

And so, this week I hope he and my mom were able to sneak a peek through the veil of heaven to see that ...

I did it! I am an author!

My book, When the Hart Speaks ... Whimsy and Wisdom from the Little House on the Alley was released both in paperback and eBook on Amazon.

Dreams do come true. Little girls really can grow up to be authors, even if they wait until they are 66 years old.

No matter their age, children need to hear that their parents believe in them.

My dad knew this well.

And so, I put my mind to writing a book. What's it about?

If life has not gone the way you planned. If you've been betrayed. If you've ever been angry with God. If your life just does not make sense. If you've ever questioned why God allowed something to happen. If you've ever needed to find hope amid the muck and mire of life. I've been there. My words tell my story.

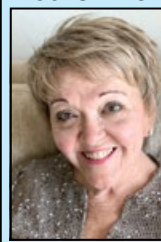

It took a long time for me to see that God was writing a story of redemption. God has been writing it for many years. I often wrestled Him for the pen. That did not work out well.

I can hardly wait until you read about my mom and dad. You are going to love their love story!

"Dad, thank you for believing in me. I still hear your voice. Now my readers will hear my voice."

Three students show what it means to serve with Gleaners Food Bank

The REPORTER

Indiana Connections Academy's National Junior Honor Society (NJHS) chapter recently completed a day of service at Gleaners Food Bank. Students, including Lucas Gorman from Noblesville, Vallyory Dillon from Westfield, and Lucy Wood from Carmel packed 300 family food boxes, enough food to feed 1,020 members of the community.

The National Junior Honor Society includes students in grades 6 through 9 who have demonstrated the five pillars of the NJHS. Qualifications for membership include:

- Scholarship: Per national guidelines, students must have a cumulative grade-point average of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale, or equivalent standard of excellence.

- Service: This involves voluntary contributions made by a student to the school or community, without compensation.

- Leadership: Leadership experiences can be drawn from school or community activities while working with or for others.

- Character: The student of good character is cooperative; demonstrates high standards of honesty and reliability; shows courtesy, concern, and respect for others; and generally maintains a clean disciplinary record.

- Citizenship: The student who demonstrates citizenship understands the importance of civic engagement; has high regard for freedom and justice; respects democracy; respects the law for all citizens at the local, state, and federal levels; and demonstrates mature participation and responsibility in activities such as scouting, community organizations, or school clubs.

Carmel Pride returns in June

The REPORTER

Last year, as the pandemic had canceled Pride events in Indianapolis and surrounding areas, a group of high school students stepped up to hold the first Carmel Pride. The event was so successful that it will return to Carter Green from 3 to 9 p.m. on Sunday, June 5.

The Reporter spoke to Carmel High School senior Ethan Stoeck, who was one of the founders and core organizers for both Carmel Pride 2021 and 2022.

"The first one was last year on June 27, 2021," Stoeck said. "The pandemic was the reason we started it. I was looking to go to a Pride festival and there hadn't been an in-person one in two years near me because Indy Pride was canceled, of course, and all the other ones were canceled. I told my friends, 'Okay, we should see if we could organize our own here in Carmel.' We were completely blown away by it. Despite the pandemic, people came out and we had a really good turnout."

After only four short weeks of planning last May, Carmel Pride drew over 2,500 attendees. Stoeck called it a testament to the power of youth organizing.

"It is almost entirely organized by high schoolers," Stoeck said. "There are couple adult helpers, but it is really about supporting not only the LGBT+ community, but young people as well. It's about getting people involved in their community, giving us space to perform, to exhibit artwork or just to be themselves. We are really happy to have created a fun event for Carmel."

CARMEL PRIDE

After last year’s success, Stoehr told The Reporter the organizers are excited to repeat that this year and continue the inspiration.

“I got a ton of messages from people who said it inspired them to do this, this or this,” Stoehr said. “I think that’s really exciting to see because most of us were unaware of the effect that Carmel Pride had on people.”

Carmel City Councilmember Miles Nelson will speak on behalf of the city at the event.

“There are definitely some supporters of us in the city,” Stoehr said.

Organizers are bringing in a stage for live performances at Carter Green to be set up opposite the amphitheater. The amphitheater will be used as an artist area. “We will have a lot of student performers but also professionals,” Stoehr said. “From 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. we’ve got a drag show with professional drag queens. That is in addition to the singing, dancing and poetry that will be going on throughout the entire event.”

According to Stoehr, no matter what one’s interest is, they are sure to find a space where they fit in at Carmel Pride, just as everyone in the LGBTQ+ community should feel in their own city.

Carmel Pride will take place from 3 to 9 p.m. on Sunday, June 5. Learn more online at CarmelPride.com and Instagram.com/carmelpride. The organizers can be reached at pridecarmel@gmail.com.

Final exams: Dealing with stress, aiming for success

The Sheridan Student Column is brought to readers by Sheridan High School’s 10th grade English class, taught by Abby Williams.

The most trying time of the school year for students is when final exams are occurring. What makes this even worse is the fact that it happens twice. The second time the exams happen it is even more stressful than the first. This column will go into more detail about ways students can be more productive so they can get through exams with fewer complications. It will also suggest some ways to manage and deal with this stress.

Being productive is hard to complete while under copious amounts of stress;

TAYLOR NEEZE
Sheridan High School Student

however, it can still be done. The first step is to study, though it is the most basic and the least fun. Students must devote their time to this act. Success will not be possible, no matter the subject, if studying is not made a priority. The second is to set up a schedule specifically for exam time. Items on your normal schedule need to be adjusted, such as when you fall asleep at night, when you study, and how much time is used for things other than preparing, including free time. A well-balanced schedule and a set time for studying will only produce success. Students should also plan ahead for exam day. Under this category falls planning to eat breakfast in the morning before school, not staying out late, and not going out for too long instead of studying.

If students are left feeling overly stressed for too long, they can begin to feel burnt out. Some great ways to relieve stress may be the simplest. A popular way to relieve stress is to go out with friends. This method would be best used for after exam time. Learning a few different types of breathing techniques can be very helpful for before, during, or after the exams. You even relax by simply taking part in an activity you enjoy.

Other forms of relaxing activities will work, too. For example, painting, gardening, or playing games. Whatever a student chooses as a way to relieve stress doesn’t matter; the most important thing is to stay away from academic work for as long as possible.

After the finals are finished, doing anything of importance or anything that requires too much thought will only cause the stress to grow. Students should go do spontaneous activities.

Students continuously pushing to succeed in exams will find success. Though it happens more than once a year and causes great stress and anxiety, that doesn’t mean that high schoolers can’t push through it and come out on top. Even if the method chosen to relieve stress is simple, it will still be prosperous.

The only important thing to remember is that after having to take everything so seriously for weeks in advance, students should do things that they enjoy. They should reward themselves for the hard work that they put in to get a decent score.

Fishers-based Verizon authorized retailer receives employer recognition for third time

The REPORTER

TCC, one of the nation’s largest Verizon authorized retailers with nearly 850 locations in 39 states, recently was recognized as a 2022 Top Workplace in Central Indiana by the Indianapolis Star. This is the third consecutive year TCC has received this honor.

Released May 15, the Top Workplaces in Central Indiana list is based solely on employee feedback gathered through a third-party survey administered by employee engagement technology partner, Energage, LLC. The anonymous survey uniquely measures 15 culture drivers that are critical to the success of an organization including alignment, execution and connection.

“Employee engagement is a top priority as we strive to make TCC a company people want to work with and work for,” said Scott Moorehead, President and CEO of Round Room, TCC’s parent company. “I’m so proud of our entire team for this recognition and excited to see how we continue to build upon our unmatched company culture to maintain TCC’s reputation and company ethos as a desired place to work.”

In January, TCC was also a recipient of the 2022 Top Workplaces USA award issued by Energage for the second consecutive year.

TCC’s longstanding commitment to company culture began in 2013 when Moorehead created an internal culture centered around driving connection, purpose and meaning for employees and its communities through giving back on the local level. With this, TCC now holds quarterly “Community Events” where the company gives back to its operating communities in a variety of ways. On July 31, TCC will hold its 10th annual School Rocks Backpack Giveaway where students across the nation will receive backpacks full of school supplies to get ready for the new school year. Since the event’s inception, TCC has donated more than 1.2 million backpacks to students in need through this program.

TCC is a Culture of Good, Inc. company and makes ongoing investments in the local communities where it operates. To date this year, TCC has donated teacher appreciation kits to 520 schools nationwide during its annual Teachers Rock initiative. In 2021, TCC stores nationwide purchased holiday gifts for 25 veteran families for Veterans Day; donated more than 140,000 backpacks full of school supplies to students; donated $50,000 to children’s in-person summer camps; and provided teacher kits to more than 500 schools nationwide. The company’s nonprofit organization, TCC Gives, recently surpassed $3.3 million in donations to local nonprofits across the country.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

I'll Be Seeing You: Love Stories of World War II is a poignant revue of period songs and true stories that writer-director Ellen Kingston collected from people who lived and loved through the war era, as well as their families. Narration and projected images provide the real-life details as a cast of eight and a five-piece live combo perform Great American Songbook classics such as "They Can't Take That Away from Me," "Ev'ry Time We Say Good-bye" and "Ac-Cent-Tchu-Ate the Positive." Kingston, a longtime presence on Indiana's musical theater scene, spearheaded the production as a community outreach project in tribute to "The Greatest Generation."

The cast of local singers and dancers includes Olivia Broadwater, Tiffany Gilliam, Jerry Hacker, Kathleen Hacker, Nathanael Hein, Joseph Perkins, Melissa Schott and Matthew Vire. Music Director David Duncan will lead a live combo with musicians Becky Chappell, Bill Myers, Rob West and Ginny Womack.

Attorney General Todd Rokita calls on HHS for transparent COVID-19 data

Submitted

Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita is fighting to expose what he calls COVID-19 misinformation and is calling on the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and other agencies to provide transparency for the data used to make public health decisions.

In response to HHS's Request for Information (RFI) regarding COVID-19 misinformation, Rokita partnered with esteemed epidemiologists Dr. Jay Bhattacharya, Professor at Stanford University School of Medicine, and Dr. Martin Kulldorff, Senior Research Fellow at the Brownstone Institute and former Professor at Harvard University School of Medicine, to review the evidence and data behind COVID-19 recommendations and guidelines.

"The federal government must evaluate how misinformation from government agencies at all levels led to the adoption of extreme strategies that came at a high cost to life and liberty," Rokita said. "I believe in Hoosiers, and I believe they can be trusted with the facts to make informed decisions for themselves and their families. I truly appreciate Dr. Bhattacharya and Dr. Kulldorff for their expertise and leadership to expose the truth."

"For two years, the government forced us to stay in our homes, cover our faces, and keep our kids home from school," Rokita said. "We were expected to blindly follow and obey these public health orders and not question the wisdom of unelected officials. Families across Indiana and across the nation demand the truth."

The submitted response to HHS revealed what Rokita calls misleading messages spread by Dr. Anthony

Rokita

Fauci, director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, and other non-elected health officials, including:

- Vaccines stop the spread.
- The eradication of COVID-19 is a feasible goal.
- There was no reasonable policy alternative to lockdowns.
- Mask mandates are effective in reducing the spread of viral infectious diseases.
- Mass testing of asymptomatic individuals and contact tracing of positive cases is effective in reducing disease spread.
- The reported number of COVID-19 deaths is accurate.

"The government spent close to $5 trillion fighting COVID-19, but still can't provide Hoosiers with an accurate number of deaths or hospitalizations from COVID-19," Rokita said.

"I have consistently defended liberty in the age of COVID-19 by leading the charge against President Biden's unlawful mask and vaccine mandates," Rokita said. "Now, I am determined to expose the facts surrounding inaccurate data on the numbers of deaths and hospitalizations related to COVID-19. We can't improve our response to a future pandemic without an honest and accurate accounting of the number of deaths and hospitalizations inflicted by COVID-19."

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Every high priest is selected from among the people and is appointed to represent the people in matters related to God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins. He is able to deal gently with those who are ignorant and are going astray, since he himself is subject to weakness. This is why he has to offer sacrifices for his own sins, as well as for the sins of the people. And no one takes this honor on himself, but he receives it when called by God, just as Aaron was.

What was the closest race in Indianapolis 500 history?

The REPORTER

This week in Indiana's history ...

1868 – The Reno Gang, led by Scott County brothers Frank, William, John, and Simeon Reno, robbed a train near Marshfield, Ind., taking approximately $96,000 in treasury notes and bonds. The outlaws had roamed the area in the 1860s, robbing banks and rail cars. The Pinkerton Detective Agency investigated the Marshfield robbery and apprehended Frank Reno. Over the next few months, all members of the gang were captured, and several were lynched by local vigilante groups.

1910 – Benjamin Sherman Crothers was born in Terre Haute. He adopted the nickname “Scatman” when he broke into show business. He succeeded as an all-around entertainer: Actor, composer, singer, comedian, and guitarist. He became a regular guest on the NBC radio show hosted by fellow Hoosier Phil Harris. The two continued to collaborate on records and films for many years.

1922 – The Indiana

Chapter of the United States Daughters of 1812 inducted eight new members. They were enrolled as “real daughters,” since their fathers had served in the War of 1812. The organization stated as its purpose the “fostering of increasing knowledge of the history of our country in its preservation of documents and relics, marking historical spots, recording family histories and traditions, and celebrating patriotic anniversaries.”

1933 – A ceremony was held in Vincennes to celebrate the restoration of the territorial capitol. Known as “territorial hall,” the building served as headquarters for the Indiana Territory, which encompassed Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, and part of Minnesota. The structure included the office of Governor William Henry Harrison. The restoration was performed by a group known as the Vincennes Fortnightly Club. They acted when they heard news that the old capitol was to be torn down.

1992 – Al Unser, Jr., won the closest Indianapolis 500 race in history, beating Scott Goodyear by 0.043 seconds. The close victory beat the earlier record set in 1982 when Gordon Johncock defeated Rick Mears by 0.16 seconds. Since 1982, there have been three closer finishes, but none have surpassed the record set in 1992.

2002 – The Indiana State Museum opened in its new location in White River State Park. Built at a cost of $105 million, the museum attracted 5,000 people on its first day. They had a chance to view the Hoosier state's past, present, and future. CEO Doug Noble promised visitors “a surprise at every turn.” The museum includes a free “92 County Walk” featuring all Indiana counties with original sculptures incorporated into the building's facade, sidewalks, and stair railings.

Donald Gene Reddick

March 20, 1928 – May 20, 2022

Donald Gene Reddick, 94, Noblesville, passed away after an extended illness with family by his bedside, on Friday, May 20, 2022, at Five Star Residences of Noblesville. He was born on March 20, 1928, to Clarence and Edna (Wills) Reddick in Boone County, Ind.

He graduated from Sheridan High School in 1946 and was a football manager during his high school years. Donald met his wife, Maxine Ella Rogers, in 1948, and they married in 1950.

Donald came from a family of 14 siblings, and being the third child and oldest son required some responsibility. He had many jobs, some of which included bringing in coal for heating the coal stove, helping his parents with all the chores, and gathering corn in gunny sacks to sell at Mendenhall Grain Elevator in Sheridan for money for the coal.

He proudly and honorably served in the United States Navy during 1945 and 1946 with rank of Seaman 1st Class (SIC) working the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans during some active duty in WWII.

Donald humbly and proudly raised five daughters with a stern but gentle hand, often working two jobs to support the family.

He worked at Tiny Tot Diaper Service for 15 years, often taking daughters along as a treat to them during the summer to see “what Daddy did,” seeing the sights and having the rare pleasure of frequenting restaurants for breakfast and lunch. While employed there, he survived a robbery while being tied up and threatened.

In 1966 he joined Allison's of General Motors before retiring in April 1972, just two months after first grandchild, Jill, was born. He also moonlighted at Kinzers Marathon Station in Noblesville.

Don was ALWAYS meticulous in everything he pursued, from mowing the lawn to cleaning the garage. There was never anyone or ever will be anyone more precise and particular with record keeping.

He volunteered many years with Senior Citizens of Noblesville, being the Vice President in 1998. Don spent many hours there volunteering his time and services, by doing some of his expert trades involving plumbing, electric wiring, and carpentry, free of charge. He also worked with their recycling department.

After retirement, he and his wife took many trips with “Top Notch Tours,” traveling through different states throughout the United States, including: Boys and Girls Town in Nebraska and Nashville, Gatlinburg, and Pigeon Forge in Tennessee, to name a few.

Donald's hobbies included master carpenter – he single-handedly built three room additions and a two-car garage onto his home, doing all the plumbing and electrical work. He also enjoyed the “CB Radio Days” under the handle of “Donald Duck.” He was always there when daughters/sons-in-law needed work done on their homes.

He has been a member of Calvary Baptist Church under the direction of Pastor Rick Bell for many years. He also served as Deacon for many years before resigning his further services at the age of 86.

Valiantly and honorably took care of his loving wife, Maxine, during her precious and failing years, serving as primary care giver until requiring extensive help from family about eight years ago.

He is survived by his wife of 72 years, Maxine Reddick; daughters, Pamela Brandenburg, Karen (Eddie) Doty, Lisa (Jim) Everitt, Teresa (Bob) Waugh, and Tina (Gary) Owens; eight grandchildren; 13 great-grandchildren; and two great-great-grandsons; sisters, Mary Rose, Marsella, Nancy Sue, Linda Lue, and Beverly; and brothers, Bill and Richard. He will be sadly missed by all who knew him.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by his grandchildren, Jill and Kevin Doty; parents-in-law, Paul and Cecil Rogers; brothers and sisters, Virginia, Phyllis, Alonzo, Carroll, Wayne, and Larry; and beloved dog, Bugsy.

Services will be held at 3 p.m. on Tuesday, May 24, 2022, at Randall & Roberts Funeral Home, 1150 Logan St., Noblesville, with Rev. Richard D. Bell officiating. Visitation will be from 1 p.m. to the time of service at the funeral home. Burial will be at Crownland Cemetery in Noblesville.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Hydrocephalus Association, 4340 E. West Highway, Suite 905, Bethesda, MD 20814-4447 (tinyurl.com/HADonationForm); or the Humane Society for Hamilton County, 10501 Hague Road, Fishers, IN 46038 (hamiltonhumane.com).

Noblesville splits doubleheader at Lafayette Jeff to end regular season

The Noblesville Millers took to the road to end the regular season with a doubleheader at Lafayette Jefferson’s Loeb Stadium against the Bronchos on Saturday, May 21.

Lafayette Jeff came from behind to grab the win in the first game, 4-3. The Millers were able to take command to win game two to head into sectional play on a high note with an 8-2 victory.

The first game started at noon and Noblesville was the first to get going offensively.

Drew Niswonger was hit by a pitch to start off the bottom of the second. A Luke Wilson single moved Niswonger to second. The two then pulled off a double steal to move up to third and second base respectively. A couple batters later, Kolby Kazmierski tripled to left to score Wilson for 1-0.

Trevor Corbett next lined a single to left that sent Kazmierski home for a 2-0 score.

Evan Rainey did his part for the host Bronchos and walked to start the home half of the fourth. Rainey would score Jeff’s first run on a wild pitch by Noblesville’s Lucas Stephan to cut it to 2-1.

Jack Shade would get his first varsity hit in the top of the sixth. Keegan Speek came in to pinch run for Shade. A few hitters later, Wilson took a base hit to left to plate Speek to make it 3-1.

The Bronchos were able to stage a comeback in their half of the sixth. Brady Preston doubled and eventually scored on a Rainey hit, trimming the lead to 3-2.

Garrett Rainey grounded a single to score Evan Rainey to tie it 3-3. Jeff would win the game in the bottom of the eight on a wild pitch by Ty Haley to take the first game, 4-3.

Wilson was the only Miller with two hits and Bryce Riggs struck out five in three innings on the mound.

The Millers had another agenda than happened in the first game of the twinbill. Noblesville found four different innings to get runs on the board in an 8-2 win to go into hosting sectional on a positive note.

Trevor Corbett led off going opposite field for a single to right. Jack Shade would continue his varsity debut double, driving another hit to left that scored Corbett. Shade would score on a wild pitch with Bryce Riggs up to get the Millers up 2-0 early.

Leyton Corbin got the Bronchos one of their two runs on a hit by Garrett Rainey.

The fifth and sixth innings proved pivotal, as Noblesville would add its remaining five runs to break the game wide open.

Noblesville was able to cling to an 8-2 win to split the doubleheader with Lafayette Jeff.

Jack Shade wound up 2-for-2 with three RBIs and scored twice. Trevor Corbett also scored twice and went 2-of-5 in the second game. Josh Kern, Bryce Riggs and Drew Niswonger all three drove in a run.

Eli Ketterer moves to 2-0 with the win in relief of Ethan Dorsey. They both threw three innings and struck out three batters each.

The split drops the Bronchos to 12-18 overall. Lafayette Jeff will play in the first round of Sectional 7 against the host Logansport Berries (18-10) on Wednesday at 5 p.m.

Noblesville evened its season record (14-14) heading into sectional play next week. The Millers will open up in the first game of Sectional 8 at Dunker Field in Noblesville against Zionsville (17-11) at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.

VeeKay fastest at 233.655 mph; Chevy, Ganassi flex on Day 1 of Indy Qualifying

It was a very good time either to be powered by a Chevrolet engine or drive for Chip Ganassi Racing on the first day of PPG Presents Armed Forces Qualifying for the 106th Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge on Saturday at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Chevrolets propelled the three fastest qualifiers, led by Rinus VeeKay’s four-lap average speed of 233.655 mph in the No. 21 Bitcoin Racing Team with BitNile Chevrolet, while all five of Ganassi’s Honda-powered drivers ended up in the top 12 and will advance to the final two rounds of qualifying Sunday, including the Firestone Fast Six that determines the winner of the NTT P1 Award for pole.

“It’s a good start,” VeeKay said. “It shows we have a good car and confidence for tomorrow. We can definitely challenge for pole. I think Ganassi is definitely our biggest rival out there for challenging for pole.”

Positions 13 through 33 in “The Greatest Spectacle in Racing” were set during today’s qualifying, which was interrupted twice by rain and lightning for a total of two hours, 14 minutes and cut short by 60 minutes.

The second round of qualifying, for the 12 fastest drivers today, starts at 4 p.m. today. The six fastest drivers from that round will advance to the Firestone Fast Six, which starts at 5:10 p.m., and turn another four-lap qualifying run for the NTT P1 Award and its $100,000 prize.

Live coverage of the last two rounds of qualifying starts at 4 p.m. (ET) on NBC, with the INDYCAR Radio Network also providing coverage.

Just under VeeKay on the Scoring Pylon were Arrow McLaren SP teammates Pato O’Ward and Felix Rosenqvist. O’Ward was second at 233.037 in the No. 5 Arrow McLaren SP Chevrolet, followed by Rosenqvist at 232.775 in the No. 7 Vuse Arrow McLaren SP Chevrolet.

Reigning NTT INDYCAR SERIES champion Alex Palou led a trio of Honda-powered Ganassi drivers in the next three spots. Palou ended up fourth at 232.774 in the No. 10 NTT DATA Chip Ganassi Racing Honda, with 2013 “500” winner Tony Kanaan fifth at 232.625 in the No. 1 The American Legion Chip Ganassi Racing Honda. Seven-time NASCAR Cup Series champion and Indy 500 rookie Jimmie Johnson was sixth at 232.398 in the No. 48 Carvana Chip Ganassi Racing Honda.

“It’s pretty awesome, and I’m just so thankful to be part of the group,” Johnson said about the Ganassi team performance. “Watching them prepare literally since they left here last year and continually thinking of this race, and it being a motto to win here before the championship. To be a part of it, to live it, to now be here experiencing it is really cool.”

Three-time Indy 500 pole sitter Ed Carpenter was seventh with a four-lap average at 232.397 in the No. 33 Alzamend Neuro Chevrolet after topping the morning practice with a single lap of 234.410, the fastest trip around the 2.5-mile IMS oval since 1996. Marcus Ericsson of Chip Ganassi Racing was eighth at 232.275 in the No. 8 Huski Chocolate Chip Ganassi Racing Honda, with “500” rookie Romain Grosjean leading Andretti Autosport in ninth at 232.201 in the No. 28 DHL Honda.

A trio of Indianapolis 500 winners rounded out the drivers to advance to the Round of 12 qualifying.

Six-time NTT INDYCAR SERIES champion and 2008 “500” winner Scott Dixon was 10th at 232.151 in the No. 9 PNC Bank Chip Ganassi Racing Honda, followed by 2018 “500” winner and current NTT INDYCAR SERIES points leader Will Power in 11th at 231.842 in the No. 12 Verizon Team Penske Chevrolet.

Two-time Indy 500 winner Takuma Sato ended up 12th at 231.708 in the No. 51 Nurtec ODT Honda. Sato was forced to make a second attempt after his first run of 232.196 was disallowed after INDYCAR officials penalized Sato for qualifying interference and failure to follow instructions, affecting another competitor. While slowing on his cooldown lap after his first attempt, Sato was judged to have impeded the qualifying attempt of the next driver, Marco Andretti.

Rookie David Malukas just missed the cut to advance to Sunday, ending up 13th and just behind Dale Coyne Racing teammate Sato at 231.607 in the No. 18 HMD Honda.

While Chevy powered the first three drivers on the speed chart after qualifying, Honda struck back with a 7-5 edge among the top 12.

There was a common thread between VeeKay, O’Ward and Rosenqvist besides Bowtie engines. All three drew low numbers in the qualifying order Friday night and made their attempts in the first 15 minutes of qualifying, when the track temperature was just 85 degrees.

The air and track temperature continued to climb until the first rain arrived, dropping grip and speeds. By 12:30 p.m., 90 minutes into qualifying, the oval’s asphalt was 107 degrees.

A practice for the 12 remaining qualifiers will take place from 12:30-2 p.m. Sunday, with live coverage on Peacock Premium.
