NHS recognized again in top 1% nationally for STEM

Elementary schools, middle school also honored

The REPORTER

Noblesville Schools announced Tuesday that Noblesville High School (NHS) has been nationally recognized for the fifth year in a row as a Project Lead the Way (PLTW) Distinguished School for providing broad access to transformative Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) learning opportunities for students.

NHS is one of only two high schools in Indiana to receive the five-time recognition, putting them in an elite, top 1 percent group nationally.

Noblesville East Middle School was the only middle school in the state to receive the honor five years in a row. The district's elementary schools were also recognized.

Noblesville Schools offers 16 different PLTW courses for middle and high school students, including classes like robotics, biomedical, cybersecurity and aerospace engineering. It is also one of only a few districts in the state to offer PLTW programming K-12, with elementary students exploring flight, energy, robotics and more.

The Distinguished School recognition honors schools committed to increasing student access, engagement, and achievement in their PLTW STEM programs. Is Hamilton County happy?

Since becoming President of the Hamilton County Election Board, I have taken a much greater interest in the election process. Some interest has been of my own accord, and some has been thrust upon me.

In one election, I was named as representative of the Republican side of the 290 election officials in Indiana, while a Representative from Lake County was chosen to represent the Democrats in a case brought in Federal Court by the organization Common Cause, seeking to change election laws. Hamilton County arose to the occasion, hired William Riley, and successfully defended the challenge from Common Cause.

Sometimes voters think they register at the Bureau of Motor Vehicles automatically, but of course, such is not the case. Positive action needs to be taken to register. At times, we have to turn away voters. For example, an individual from the State of New York who wanted to vote against Senator Braun, or a resident from Fishers who wanted to vote in Carmel, where her friends were voting.

Trifecta of events in Noblesville Cultural Arts District will delight shoppers, families, historians alike

The REPORTER

The downtown Noblesville Square will be in a sweet spot with three separate but coordinated events from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, June 18.

The entire downtown square will be the site of the Nickel Plate Arts Maker Faire, which is unlike most summer markets because there will also be live demonstrations, and all goods for sale are handmade by artists, craftspeople and even kids. Living within the Maker Faire footprint will be a Juneteenth Celebration including educational activities, music, and entertainment brought to you by local inclusion and equity groups in the region. Also not to be missed, the square will be home to St. Michael's Strawberry Festival. Attendees can enhance their shopping experience with sweet strawberry shortcakes while supplies last.

Maker Faire Affair

Nickel Plate Arts returns this summer with Maker Faire, a showcase and marketplace filled with handmade goods, gifts, and gear. This marketplace is open to the public and attendees are encouraged to bring a cloth bag, wagon, or truck to haul away their purchased treasures. More than 70 makers and artisans will display and sell their handcrafted goods, with a special emphasis on first-time exhibitors. Providing a jumping-off point for creative entrepreneurs, Maker Faire offers a low-

"Interest in Maker Faire has grown considerably since last year," Nickel Plate Operations Manager Les Reinhardt said. "With the number of makers that have applied this year, not even counting our new kid entrepreneurs, we're looking to almost double last year's number of artisans and hold the biggest Maker Faire in Nickel Plate Arts' history! It's going to take a lot of teamwork, but I know we're up for the challenge to make this year amazing for everyone involved."

In addition to the variety of handmade goods including wood items, children's books, pottery, quilts, clothing, bath and body items, jewelry, home decor, and even some unique items that defy description - attendees will be able to try their hands at several project-based activities provided by Hamilton East Public Library's IGNITE Studio and Fishers Parks and Recreation's Maker Playground.

"We are excited to showcase a wide range of art mediums available every day for FREE in the Ignite Studio at this year's Maker Faire, with a particular emphasis on printmaking, 3D printing, and laser engraving," said morializes the emancipation cost point of entry for Kid Katelyn Coyne, Director of of enslaved people in the brary's IGNITE Studio.

Attendees are encouraged to follow Nickel Plate Arts on social media and visit nickelplatearts.org/ makerfaire for parking, and "what to expect" instructions as plans for increased pedestrian traffic, and parking locations will be provided as a guide for vendors and attendees.

Selling Like Hotcakes

St. Michael's Strawberry Festival is a highly anticipated seasonal event which features homemade shortcake baked by members of the St. Michael's Episcopal Church. These strawberry shortcakes sell out every year, so shortcakes are only offered while they last. The early bird truly does get this sweet summer treat!

"Please join St Michael's for our 44th annual Strawberry Festival, always held on the Saturday before Father's Day," St. Michael's Strawberry Fest Organizer Nancy Allen said. "Rain or shine we will be there serving homemade shortcakes, strawberries, ice cream and whipped topping. Look for the big white tent on the square where we will be serving from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m."

Juneteenth Celebration

Rounding out the trifecta of summer sweets and maker sales is Juneteenth. This annual celebration menorth side of the Square, the Juneteenth section includes a series of activities, entertainment, and education for all ages.

"Juneteenth has relevant and historical connections to Hamilton County, and supporting this celebration is a way to bring history to life," Hamilton County Historian David Heighway said.

All three events will run concurrently from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, June 18, rain or shine. (St. Michael's Strawberry Festival runs while supplies last.) The active pursuit of preservation

When I went door-to-door running to represent Noblesville on the city council, promised that I would balance new development with preservation, especially downtown. I believe that the ordinance that the Council

Prior to the passage of this ordinance, there was a provision in place which loosely protected historic buildings on the square, but not to the extent we needed. I am confiand dent that the ordinance now in place will help preserve the fabric of this vital area of Noblesville and ensure that any new development will be held to a higher standard in matching the established character of our neighborhood.

This active pursuit of preservation, combined with strategic investment downtown, is the true strength of this ordinance.

Our downtown is special. Out of the 92 county seats in Indiana, I'd put ours up against any other. I ran for council to ensure that the development coming to Noblesville is guided to the right places in our city, and I believe this ordinance rewrite helps to protect our historic neighborhoods and places a "check" on the development process.

The campaign staff, collectively known as Friends of Jocelyn Vare, celebrated a win with candidate Jocelyn Vare on Primary Election Day.

Vare is now the official Democratic candidate for Indiana State Senate, District 31. The staff is forthcoming that they expected to win the election, as Vare was uncontested. In reality, the celebration was directly related to stretch goals the team set and reached on May 3, 2022.

"We are a dedicated group of people-driven, goal-oriented volunteers," said Field Strategy Director A. Brando Corsaro. "Primary elections traditionally have low voter turnout and we established a goal to increase Democratic primary voters for the district by at least 10 percent. We overachieved on that goal and continue to see Jocelyn's work resonate with voters exponentially."

Vare received 25 percent more Hamilton County votes in 2022 than her peer

Letter to the Editor Pay special respects for our Vietnam Veterans this Memorial Day

Dear Editor:

As we approach a solemn and reflective holiday this Monday, May 30, I ask that we offer special consideration to our Vietnam casualties and those veterans who returned from that terrible conflict which claimed over 58,000 American lives.

As a teenager in the '60s and one who regularly watched network news reports with my parents, I can close my eyes and still see the footage of many, many soldiers' bodies lying in the fields and jungles of Vietnam. Brave photojournalists at that time were expected to provide the footage and the networks - much to the chagrin of the government - were expected to air that footage.

On the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington, D.C. is inscribed the names of 58,281 American casualties. It is a memorial to those young Americans and a chilling reminder of a conflict that should never have been undertaken, in my viewpoint. Among those names are classmates of mine, some of whom volunteered but several who were drafted as well. Of those 58,281 there were 1,534 from Indiana, and currently 1,244 American soldiers remain missing. Most of the casualties occurred in 1968, the same year I graduated from high school. That number was 16,899.

According to the American War Library, as of Feb. 28, 2019, over 610,000 Vietnam veterans are still living. They range in age from 97 years of age to 55, with the median age of 68 years. Keep in mind that the War began on Nov. 1, 1955 and ended April 30, 1975. (Statistics gathered from the National Archives.)

Mark your calendars for May 11-13, 2023, in Washington, D.C., as large-scale events on the National Mall, including ceremonies, exhibits and an outdoor multimedia celebration - all designed to honor Vietnam veterans and their enduring legacy of service will take place. Additional details will be available soon on the

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

During the days of Jesus' life on earth, he offered up prayers and petitions with fervent cries and tears to the one who could save him from death, and he was heard because of his reverent submission. Son though he was, he learned obedience from what he suffered and, once made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him and was designated by God to be high priest in the order of Melchizedek.

We have much to say about this, but it is hard to make it clear to you because you no longer try to understand. In fact, though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you the elementary truths of God's word all over again. You need milk, not solid food! Anyone who lives on milk, being still an infant, is not acquainted with the teaching about righteousness. But solid food is for the mature, who by constant use have trained themselves to distinguish good from evil. Hebrews 5:7-14 (NIV)

Sectional baseball Millers edged out by Zionsville, 'Rocks beat HSE

The baseball sectional at Don Dunker Field in Noblesville became a marathon Wednesday night - and Thursday morning.

The Millers hosted Class 4A Sectional 8, playing the first of two opening-round games. Noblesville took on Zionsville in a game that started at 5:30 p.m., was halted by a lengthy rain delay, and didn't finish until after 9 p.m.

Unfortunately, the game ended in a tough way for the Millers, as they fell to the Eagles 5-4 in extra inning. Zionsville advances to Saturday's semi-finals, while Noblesville finished its season 14-15.

The second game didn't begin until after 10 p.m., and saw Westfield take on Hamilton Southeastern. The Shamrocks won 5-2, with that contest finishing after midnight. Westfield plays the Eagles in the semi-finals, while the Royals ended their season 10-18.

THIRD-INNING HITS

Zionsville scored two runs in the top of the third inning on a center field single. The Millers answered right back in the bottom of the third. Kolby Kazmierski led off with a double, then scored a few plays later when Luke Wilson hit a sacrifice fly. On the next at-bat, Trevor Corbett blasted a two-run home run, also scoring Logan Shoffner.

With that, Noblesville had a 3-2 lead. The Eagles tied the game with a solo home run in the sixth inning. Neither team scored again by the end of the regulation seventh inning, so it was on to extra innings.

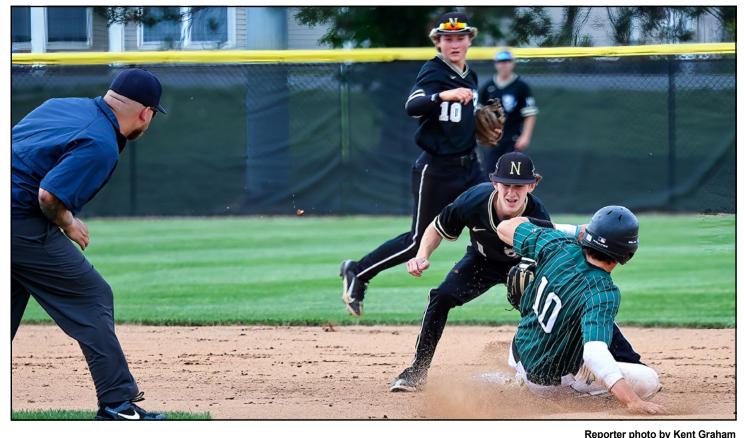

Zionsville hit a two-run double in the top of the eighth to get up 5-3. The Millers quickly loaded the bases, with Corbett and Nolan Decker drawing walks, then Drew Niswonger got on base with a bunt. Corbett got home on a wild pitch, with both Decker and Niswonger advancing a base as well. But the Eagles would let Noblesville get no closer, eventually finishing the game on a strikeout.

Bryce Riggs pitched six innings for the Millers, striking out seven and allowing only three hits.

SCORING EARLY

Westfield scored a run in the first inning and held the lead throughout the game. Maximus Webster brought Keaton Mahan home with a sacrifice fly to center field.

The Shamrocks added three runs in the third inning. Trey Dorton doubled in Brayden Hibler, Webster hit a second sacrifice fly to score Mahan again, then Mac Clarke got Dorton home with his own sacrifice fly.

Westfield finished its scoring in the fourth inning when Hibler's single sent Evan Russ home. Southeastern scored both of its runs in the sixth inning: Christian Beal singled in Griffen Haas, then Hunter Wright later scored on a wild pitch.

Hibler had two hits for the Shamrocks. Gage Stanifer went five innings for the win, striking out nine and giving up only two hits. Ty Anderson pitched the last two innings for the save, tossing three strikeouts against one hit.

Landon Riekhof had two hits for the Rovals.

Westfield improved to 19-8 with the victory and plays Zionsville at 3 p.m. Saturday in the first game of the sectional semi-finals. Fishers and Carmel will then face off in the second semi-final, which starts at 6 p.m.

Sports 9 Sheridan wins high-scoring game

In Wednesday's first-round Class 1A Sectional 54 game between Sheridan and Frontier, both teams scored early and often.

The Blackhawks got the go-ahead run in the bottom of the fifth inning, and that sent them past the Frontier 10-9 in a wild contest at Tri-County. Sheridan advances to Friday's semi-finals to take on Rossville.

Frontier jumped out to a 6-0 lead in the top of the first inning. The 'Hawks quickly worked their way back into the game, scoring five runs in the bottom of the inning. Silas DeVaney singled in Dayne Voege and Cole Macintosh, then Ty Macy blasted a triple to score Sebastian Salazar, DeVaney and Camden Spencer.

In the second inning, Frontier posted three runs to go up 9-5. Sheridan answered again. Salazar doubled Macintosh home, then DeVaney hit a sacrifice fly to send in Salazar.

The Blackhawks were within 9-7, and they cut the lead to 9-8 in the third inning. Salazar hit a left field single to score Voege. Sheridan tied the game in the fourth inning when Macy stole home plate.

Finally, the Blackhawks took the lead in the fifth inning when Voege got home on an error. Sheridan allowed only one Frontier baserunner in each of the sixth and seventh innings, then Salazar threw three straight strikeouts to finish the game, earning the save

Gainbridge extends presenting sponsorship of Indianapolis 500

Gainbridge, an online digital platform anapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge also offering trusted financial products simplified for the modern age, has reached a multiyear agreement to extend its presenting sponsorship of the Indianapolis 500, the world's largest single-day sporting event.

"We have enjoyed a tremendous relationship with IMS and Penske Entertainment and are thrilled to extend our sponsorship of the Indianapolis 500," said Dan Towriss, CEO and president of Group 1001, parent company of Gainbridge. "This event is so iconic in the world of motorsport and a hallmark to Indianapolis. The parallels between racing and our business, a commitment to success and making every second count, make this the perfect partnership."

The presenting sponsorship, which began in 2019, provides Gainbridge a key platform for brand recognition and customer acquisition.

"Gainbridge is fully invested in racing as a vehicle for brand growth and understands the unique and global platform the Indianapolis 500 provides," said Penske Entertainment President & CEO Mark Miles. "We're excited to continue this mutually productive relationship between two innovative and trusted partners in their space."

As part of the extended sponsorship nouncement, the logo for the 2023 Indi-

was unveiled. The logo is a forward-moving representation of the famed oval. The inside of the logo is a black shield, which embodies class and prestige, as well as the track surface, with the words "Indy 500" in the iconic slanted font. Surrounded by the familiar gold of the Wing & Wheel, the logo is the latest iteration of a series that began in 2019 with Gainbridge's inaugural sponsorship.

The logos celebrate the iconography of the 500-Mile Race. Since 2019, the logo has featured the bricks, the checkered flag, the Pagoda and the winner's wreath. With the extended Gainbridge sponsorship, there are more icons to come.

Gainbridge invests in strategic partnerships to further its mission, and this extension further cements Gainbridge's commitment to racing. Gainbridge also is the primary sponsor of the NTT INDYCAR SERIES No. 26 Andretti Autosport with Curb-Agajanian Gainbridge Honda driven by Colton Herta and will continue to be the official annuity and life insurance partner of INDYCAR, Indianapolis Motor Speedway and the Indianapolis 500.

NBC's live coverage of the Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge starts at 11 a.m. Sunday, May 29. Visit ims.com to purchase tickets for the race.

day that Marianne Stanley will no longer hold the head coaching position. Stanley, mon family and the Fever organization for who was in the final year of her contract, is replaced by assistant coach Carlos Knox, who will serve as interim head coach for the remainder of the season.

"With this new group of players, it is time for our organization to go in a different direction. This was a difficult decision, and we wish Marianne the very best in the future," said Lin Dunn, Fever interim gen-

Stanley said, "I want to thank the Sithe opportunity to lead this team over the past two and a half years. I look forward to the next chapter in my basketball journey, as well as being able to spend more time with my family."

The Fever's next home game is Friday, May 27, at 7 p.m. at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Ruoff Mortgage Pit Stop Challenge returns to Carb Day will compete for more than $100,000 in prizes as the Ruoff Mortgage Pit Stop Challenge returns to Miller Lite Carb Day on Friday at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The traditional Carb Day competition will be held for the first time since 2019, when the crew of Arrow McLaren SP's Marcus Ericsson was victorious. Ruoff Mortgage, which serves as the primary partner of the NTT INDYCAR SERIES' Fastest Seat in Sports, will extend its INDYCAR SERIES involvement by serving as the event's sponsor.

"What better way to welcome back fans to Miller Lite Carb Day than to bring back the Ruoff Mortgage Pit Stop Challenge," INDYCAR President Jay Frye said. "NTT INDYCAR SERIES racing is a team sport, and this contest showcases how important pit stops are to helping their team win the Indy 500 on Sunday."

Participating pit crews – representing seven different teams - qualified for this year's Ruoff Mortgage Pit Stop Challenge via pit stop performance in NTT INDY-CAR SERIES races since the 2021 Indy
