

SING FOR FOOD

such a local need existed. I soon developed a hunger to do more, something creative and unique.

WRASFF resulted. I borrowed Harry's idea to use storytelling and music to make a difference. The early shows supported Community Food Bank in Jasper. It didn't take long though to use the power of the show to diversify into more causes, thus increasing our social impact. By branching out, our audience grew, as did donations.

Our final show, No. 150, was held close to Christmas 2018 at our favorite venue, Jasper's Astra Theatre. It was a sell-out (though tickets were free). Still, fans donated to the theatre's general fund. Then, WRASFF was no more.

We did blow off the cobwebs for one show in September 2020 at southern Indiana's most sublime venue, Lincoln Amphitheatre. Despite the slight hindrance of face mask mandates and social distancing protocols, we couldn't pass up the privilege to perform at the AMP on its Holy Grail of stages. I consider it our best WRASFF show, one show shy of my favorite WRASFF performance, show No. 150, during which I proposed to my then-girlfriend-now-wife Brynne on stage while 300-plus people witnessed our "enstagement."

I never considered doing another WRASFF show. It required too much planning, marketing, and administrative work for a married man.

A few months after the AMP show, though, Harry came calling via a 2020 documentary, called Harry Chapin: When in Doubt, Do Something. The doc did a thorough job detailing Harry's philanthropical spirit, so much achieved during a lifespan so short. Reinspired, I had to Do Something. Of course, COVID delayed putting anything real into action. Until now.

Come June 10, WRASFF show No. 152 will happen at the Astra. The show, PATTYFEST, will be in memory of my mother, Patty Saalman, who died last fall after a five-year battle with stage four colon cancer. Our biggest fan, she attended 145 WRASFF shows. We will fundraise for her favorite charity, Anderson Woods Special Needs Summer Camp, located in the sticks of Perry County. Before dying, Mom requested money be donated to the camp in lieu of funeral home flowers. About $5,000 was raised for the camp's new greenhouse.

We will also raise money for Next Act, Inc., to further support the Astra. WRASFF at the Astra represents a homecoming for us. We will bring our A game.

I will think a lot about Patty during PATTYFEST. Our No. 1 fan will be watching from a vantage point high above the balcony seats.

I will think of Harry, too. This whole crazy WRASFF thing wouldn't have happened had a spark not been indirectly lit within me upon seeing that 1980 Evansville concert ad encouraging fans to help feed the food bank.

Show No. 152 represents yet another opportunity for me to further pay off a symbolic debt owed to Harry. When all is said and sung and Rafaela Copetti-Schick ends our show with her traditional up-tempo Irish fiddle tune, you might hear me whisper, "Harry, keep the change."

Scott, now a Fishers resident, is pondering the formation of a WRASFF show featuring musicians and humor writers to support non-political and non-religious nonprofits in Hamilton County. He needs a venue, great musicians, and charities to serve. Contact scottsaalman@gmail.com.

and Italian pepper on it. The chicken sandwich isn't just fried. It also has a bunch of spices and then it is drizzled in hot honey. The slaw has lots of pepper in it, hot jalapeños, lots of cilantro. Its thing is to make it stand out and make it be super flavorful, compared to just a chicken sandwich that you see at the store or a fast-food restaurant."

Murphy said that is how she approaches everything she cooks: she tries to elevate it. She strives to make things that look familiar but surprise you when you get a taste.

The MasterChef Table dining experience is now available in over 20 markets across the nation – including New York City, Chicago, Boston, and Washington, D.C. – accessible only via the Grubhub app or at Grubhub.com. These items will be coming to the Indianapolis metro area later this year.

Keep checking the Grubhub app and the pages of Hamilton County's Hometown Newspaper to find out when these items become available locally.

Until then, you can enjoy some of Doctor Chef Kelsey Murphy's masterful creations at Inspo, 9713 District North Drive, Suite #1210, Fishers.

"I am going to be at Inspo for the foreseeable future," Murphy told The Reporter. "It has been so great to get my food out to people here in Indy. These two things pair really well together. I have Inspo so I can feed people here locally who want to taste my food, and not with MasterChef Table to be able to feed people nationally."

If Inspo becomes a national food line, then Kelsey Murphy's food will be available to everybody everywhere.

In earlier interviews with The Reporter, Murphy talked about the challenges of shifting careers, raising a family and becoming one of the nation's premier chefs.

"It continues to be a juggling act, but it's fun," Murphy said. "I think my number one priority is bringing my family and my kids along for the ride. I try to involve them in any and all of my endeavors. I bring my kids to Inspo all the time not only to eat, but I bring them back to the kitchen so they can watch what mom's doing. I am currently writing a book so they are helping me with recipe testing. I try to involve them as much as possible to make it seem like it's not going to be a time burden or such a separate thing. It's just shifting all of our lives into our new normal."

She called this journey

both busy and exciting, as well as an adventure she embraces.

"I'm loving all aspects of it," Murphy said. "It's exciting. This has been a long time coming. We are excited to see the MasterChef brand continuing to expand. Diners can finally get food that they have watched us make on TV for almost 12 seasons. It is a fun idea that I was so excited to be a part of."

To find out when Murphy's dishes will be available for home delivery in our area, keep checking grubhub.com/masterchef-table or the Grubhub app.

Way Launch, curriculum centered on energy conversion and collision at the elementary level.

CEF Executive Director Jennifer Penix worked closely with Dr. Rhonda Peterson, CCS Director of Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment, to identify how this grant can best fulfill the foundation's mission of supporting students in lifelong learning.

"Carmel Clay Schools prides itself in preparing students for college and career pathways that will serve the communities of tomorrow," Peterson said. "With generous contributions from partners, like Duke Energy, we are able to provide students with authentic learning experiences within our K-12 STEM programming. These opportunities will help our students to gain the skills and curiosity needed to become the entrepreneurs and innovators of our future."

CEF is instrumental in creating partnerships between CCS and community partners.

"Working with the Duke Energy Foundation to provide essential resources to our students is a win for everyone," Penix said. "Duke Energy is a vital part of our community, and we appreciate their ongoing commitment to support our schools."

Penix will continue to work with Mark LaBarr, Duke Energy's Community Relations Manager, to create opportunities for student and teacher engagement in the exploration of career pathways for students related to energy and conservation.

"Duke Energy is pleased to support STEM and entrepreneurship being woven into learning to prepare tomorrow's workforce," LaBarr said. "As workers with those skills will be in demand."

Advocating for Victims of Crime & Abuse

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Indiana Senate Democrats speak out about gun safety

Call for special session to pass new firearms regulations

The REPORTER

On May 27, Indiana Senate Democrats wrote a letter to Governor Eric Holcomb urging him to call a special session to discuss gun safety legislation, in response to the recent mass school shooting in Texas.

"For the first time ever, the leading cause of death among children is gun violence," Senate Democratic Leader Greg Taylor said. "This epidemic is unacceptable – made all the more so because we know what can be done to address this harrowing statistic: Pass common-sense gun safety regulations."

They write about the threat gun violence has to children in Indiana and the greater public, mentioning the mass shootings at the FedEx facility in Indianapolis last year and the shooting in Goshen in May of this year.

"Our caucus is not calling for anything extreme – we're asking for the adoption of popular measures that the majority of Hoosiers want: Universal background checks, gun safety storage requirements, stronger red flag laws, permit and license requirements, etc.," Taylor said. "These are measures that responsible gun owners support, and we hope to reconvene as soon as possible to begin taking action to advance these policies."

Fishers police share plans for active shooter situation

By DEMIE JOHNSON
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Appropriate police response to a situation such as an active shooter is a major discussion following the school shooting in Uvalde, Texas, that left 19 children and two teachers dead.

In the days following the shooting, police in Texas have admitted they made mistakes in their response.

During a webinar hosted Wednesday night by Fishers Mayor Scott Fadness and the Fishers Police Department, Chief Ed Gebhart said his department practices mass-shooting responses in some form every day.

Gebhart said, at the Fishers Police Department, two leaders are on every shift. He said those officers in command are expected to step up and make a plan even during non-threatening calls.

"Because it is repetition that is gonna make us successful on the day of a very chaotic, screaming, people running everywhere type of event," Gebhart said.

When it comes to more serious events, such as the school shooting in Texas, Gebhart said tactics are constantly changing.

"Back to what I kind of referred to as 'the diamond' was kind of one of the first formations that came into law enforcement," Gebhart said. "You had to wait for four tactical operators of a sort to make a safe breach and entry into a school system and that was trained ultimately until more shootings occurred in schools and businesses, and we realized quickly that there was no time."

Now, he said, there's

only one way police departments should be responding.

"First man goes in. First man or woman on scene must go in and is required a solo response and that's how we've evolved from Columbine to today's patrolling and policing," Gebhart said.

When asked by Fadness how Gebhart can be sure his officers will respond appropriately if confronted with a situation such as Uvalde, Gebhart said Fishers officers are well-trained and well-equipped to go into a situation solo.

"Our officers are issued not only primary weapons but also rifles to be able to go in and succeed, and we make sure we routinely have those out in training throughout the year," Gebhart said.

Rokita responds to Indiana Supreme Court decision in Holcomb v. Bray

The REPORTER

Work to begin Monday on new interchange at U.S. 31 & 276th Street

The REPORTER

Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) contractors Rieth-Riley and Crider & Crider will start work on U.S. 31 at 276th Street on or after Monday, June 6.

This will begin the process of shifting the intersection from a two-way stop to a free flow corridor on U.S. 31 with exit ramps on 276th Street. U.S. 31 will be completely reconstructed and realigned to accommodate the new entrance and exit ramps.

• On or after Monday, June 6, INDOT signs will be up to notify motorists of construction in this area. Contractors will widen the shoulder on U.S. 31 northbound and southbound beginning on or after Wednesday, June 8.

• The bridges on U.S. 31 over Cicero Creek will be replaced. 276th Street between Dunbar Road and U.S. 31 will be closed starting June 13 until Nov. 20, weather permitting.

• Access to Reynolds Farm Equipment will be provided off U.S. 31.

• 276th east of U.S. 31 will be closed from April 1 until Aug. 11, 2023, for the reconstruction of the road and two new ramps, weather permitting.

• There will be two lanes open to through traffic on U.S. 31 in both directions for the duration of this project.

The $36,153,124.68 joint contract was awarded to Rieth-Riley and Crider & Crider and has an overall completion date of Aug. 31, 2023. INDOT encourages drivers to slow down and remain vigilant of workers and equipment when traveling through active work zones. Each project is weather-dependent, and schedules are subject to change.

Indiana State Fair announces free stage concerts for 2022

The REPORTER

The Indiana State Fair announced Wednesday the first wave of its 2022 list of concerts as part of the Hoosier Lottery Free Stage schedule, set for July 29 through Aug. 21.

The Hoosier Lottery has had a relationship with the State Fair for several years and has decided to sponsor the Free Stage event for the 2022 Indiana State Fair. A variety of artists will perform throughout the 18 days of the fair.

2022 Artists Bios

Kansas

This classic rock band from Topeka, Kan., nearing five decades in the classic rock scene, has become one of the most influential rock bands to date. Kansas, composed of Phil Ehart, Billy Greer, Ronnie Platt, David Ragsdale, Tom Brislin and Richard Williams, appeared on the Billboard charts for more than 200 weeks throughout the '70s and '80s and played sold-out arenas and stadiums throughout the United States, Europe, and Japan. Their songs have appeared in many shows like "Supernatural," "South Park," "The Office," and "The Simpsons," and with films including "Old School," "Anchorman," and "Happy Gilmore."

Chaka Khan

Singer, songwriter, actor, activist – Chaka Khan is the 10-time GRAMMY Award-winner. A songwriter, actor, author, philanthropist, entrepreneur and activist, Chaka Khan has influenced generations of recording artists. She can sing in seven music genres, including R&B, pop, rock, gospel, country, world music and classical. Affectionately known around the world as Chaka, she is revered by millions of fans as well as her peers for her timeless, classic and unmatched signature music style and ability. The late, great Miles Davis often said, "She sings like my horn." And as the Queen of Soul, Aretha Franklin, said, "[Chaka] is a one-of-a-kind, premier vocalist."

Zach Williams

GRAMMY award-winning Contemporary Christian artist Zach Williams aims to share his story of how he found his faith, with honesty and clarity into his troubled past. He is a Tennessee-based Christian singer who infuses outlaw country, the dirt-road grit of southern rock, and the contemporary roots music of alt-country into his sound to create a unique and special way to spread his passion for God and share how he stays on the path of being Christian. He grew to popularity with his debut album "Chain Breaker," winning GRAMMY award Best Contemporary Christian album, as well as the GMA Dove Awards 2017 New Artist of the Year and 2018 Artist of the Year.

Happy Together Tour

The Happy Together

Tour consists of six bands: The Turtles, Gary Puckett & The Union Gap, The Association, The Classics IV, The Vogues and The Cowsills. These bands that had their biggest hits in the '60s and '70s brought timeless sounds and songs like "Happy Together" by The Turtles, one of the most recognizable songs of that time period. These bands combined have multiple No. 1 hits with this tour starting in 1984. Since then, the band has consistently knocked out 50 shows a year, making this tour an iconic homage to an era of music that has influenced many of today's artists. The tour has consisted of several different bands and artists throughout the nearly 40 years it has been running, with the only constant band being The Turtles. This group's members include Howard Kaylan, Mark Volman, Al Nichol, Chuck Portz, and Don Murray. With the exception of Don, all original members are alive today, making this band's live songs truly original.

Carly Pearce

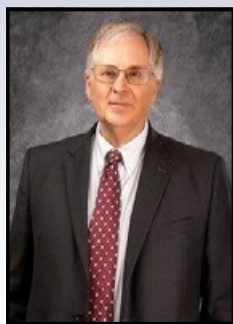

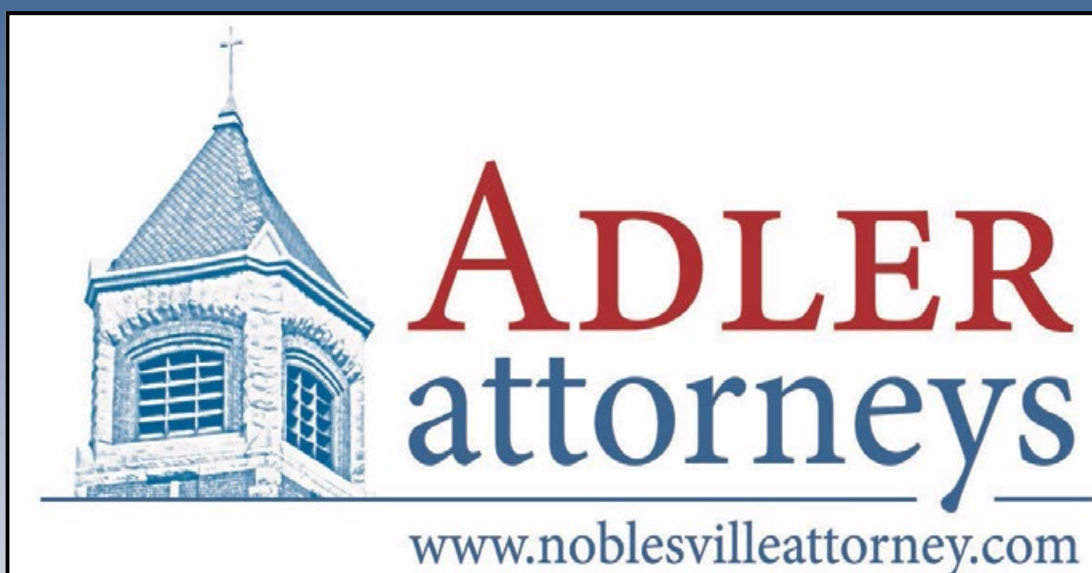

Carly Pearce is a young country singer on the rise, releasing her first album in 2017. College grads prime target for scammers

The REPORTER

As college graduates are navigating new life changes, scammers are eager to take advantage of their inexperience. Here are a few ways new grads can avoid common scams.

Know the terms of your student loans

One of the most common ways scammers target college graduates is with fake loan forgiveness opportunities. Grads can receive unsolicited email, phone calls or text messages stating that they can qualify for lowered payments through a debt forgiveness program.

Scammers may also contact college grads regarding student loan repayment in response to COVID-19. Scammers may claim that to take advantage of the program, grads need to complete a form or pay a fee when they may not need to do this. Click here to see the latest information on loan repayment.

Be wary of unsolicited messages about unpaid tuition

Scammers will also contact graduates or their parents claiming some of their tuition was left unpaid. If it isn't paid immediately, the graduate's degree will be revoked. Scammers may ask grads to send money via wire transfer or prepaid debit cards.

Government agencies, as well as most higher education facilities, will contact grads by mail initially. Grads can look up information, if they aren't sure if a message is legitimate, by calling their school's financial office.

Research before accepting jobs or job interviews

Scammers are skilled at drawing new grads in by promoting unrealistic wages for generally labeled job positions, such as "virtual assistant" or "customer service rep." They may ask for grads personal information, including their bank account and Social Security number, claiming they need it to set up direct deposit or file taxes. In other cases, scammers require grads to pay for training. In yet another version, grads may be "accidentally" overpaid with a fake check and asked to send back the extra funds.

Grads that are considering a job with a company should do research before completing an application or agree to an interview. Make sure the company has legitimate contact information, and the position is posted on their corporate website. Scammers often steal the names of real companies for their phony job postings.

Watch out for rental scams

According to a survey by Apartment List, 43 percent of people looking for a rental online have encountered a fraud listing. Scammers copy the photo and description of a real property. Then, they post it online with their own contact information and try to get a deposit and first month's rent from the victim.

Scammers often lure victims by promising low rents, extra amenities and a great location. If the price seems much better than offered elsewhere, it may be a scam.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Now there have been many of those priests, since death prevented them from continuing in office; but because Jesus lives forever, he has a permanent priesthood. Therefore he is able to save completely those who come to God through him, because he always lives to intercede for them.

Such a high priest truly meets our need—one who is holy, blameless, pure, set apart from sinners, exalted above the heavens. Unlike the other high priests, he does not need to offer sacrifices day after day, first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people. He sacrificed for their sins once for all when he offered himself. For the law appoints as high priests men in all their weakness; but the oath, which came after the law, appointed the Son, who has been made perfect forever.

Lorena Marie Shively

June 4, 1923 – June 1, 2022

Lorena Marie Shively passed away on June 1, 2022, three days shy of her 99th birthday. She was born on June 4, 1923, to Russell and Marie Wiles in Noblesville, where she spent most of her life. Harley Shively, her beloved husband of 49 years, and her son, Steve Shively, preceded her in death.

Lorena graduated with a degree in music and English from Indiana Central College in 1946. The majority of her career was spent teaching music in the Noblesville Elementary Schools before retiring in 1985.

She always loved music, and especially enjoyed playing the violin. In her younger years, she played with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, and throughout her life she enjoyed playing violin solos in church. Well into her eighties she continued to play her violin as well as the piano in her home.

Girls state track and field meet

Reporter photos by Kent Graham

The Noblesville girls track and field team finished as runner-up at the IHSAA state meet, which took place Friday at Indiana University. The Millers scored 40 points, easily the most ever in program history, and bettered their previous highest finish of sixth back in 2014.

Depth sends Millers to runner-up finish; HSE takes 6th, Carmel is 7th

There were several historical happenings at Friday's IHSAA girls track and field state meet, and Noblesville got to write its own page in the record book.

The Millers finished as state runner-up for the first time in school history at the meet. Using its solid depth across the field and on the track, Noblesville finished with 40 team points, easily the most ever scored by a Millers team. Noblesville's second-place finish also bettered by far its previous highest finish of sixth, back at the 2014 state meet.

The state meet took place at Indiana University for the first time since 2019. The meet was run at Ben Davis last season, and there was no state tournament in 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Senior Kiana Siefert led the way for the Millers. She picked up points in three different events, starting with a fourth-place finish in the long jump. Siefert then was the runner-up in the 300 hurdles in a time of 44.24 seconds, and later joined Brinkley Cooper, Kate Rollins and Summer Rempe to take fifth in the 4x400 relay. Siefert also finished 11th in the 100 hurdles prelims.

Noblesville began the meet with a third-place finish in the 4x800 relay, which consisted of Rempe, Cooper, Riley Flynn and Paige Hazelrigg. Rempe and Cooper would also both run in the open 800, placing seventh and ninth respectively.

The Millers also earned points in the field from three different athletes. Hannah Alexander finished fifth in the discus, Malina Miller placed sixth in the high jump and Laina Lillge took ninth in the pole vault.

Noblesville led the team standings for a significant part of the meet, but North Central overtook the Millers for good after the 200 dash. The Panthers won the team championship by scoring 55 points, and were led by their star sprinter Ramiah Elliott. The senior was a four-time winner, sweeping the 100, 200 and 400 dashes, then helping North Central to a victory in the final event of the evening, the 4x400 relay.

Hamilton Southeastern finished a strong sixth, totaling 26 points. Ally Elsbury had the Royals' highest place of the meet, taking third in the 100 hurdles.

Southeastern clinched the sixth-place spot by taking fourth in the 4x400, with the team of Jehnea Mirro, Celia Blackmore, Ciara Kepner and Regan Wans. Mirro and Kepner both collected two relay medals at the meet; Mirro joined Jocelyn Davis, Sana Smith and Daniela Rios Rojas to place sixth in the 4x100, while Kepner teamed with Grace Newton, Allie Latta and Maggie Powers to take seventh in the 4x800.

Blackmore also earned a second medal by placing sixth in the 300 hurdles. Ella Wilhelm helped out in the pole vault, where she finished eighth.

Carmel had a nice meet, placing seventh as a team with 24 points. The Greyhounds soared into the top 10 thanks to a runner-up finish in the 4x400; the team of Emersen Carlisle, Cambell Wamsley, Olivia Cebalo and Lani Samms clocked in at 3 minutes, 54.24 seconds.

The freshman Cebalo also placed second in the open 400, with a time of 56.08 seconds, and opened the meet by running with Audrey Ricketts, Jasmine Klopstad and Kara Wenzler on the 4x800 relay, which placed fourth. Wamsley also finished eighth in the 400 dash.

Fishers scored 11 points, all coming from Ella Scally. The senior superstar finished fifth in the long jump and seventh in both the 100 and 200 dashes.

Guerin Catholic and Hamilton Heights both picked up one podium finish. The Golden Eagles' Bridget Gallagher finished fifth in the 1600 run, while the Huskies' Kelsey Smith placed eighth in the high jump.

Westfield's Princess Campbell competed in the 100 dash at state. She finished 10th in the trials, just missing the finals by .002 seconds. Michigan City's Zaira Truvillion Noblesville's Summer Rempe (center) and Carmel's Olivia Cebalo (right) prepare to anchor their respective team's 4x800 relays. Cebalo finished second in the 400 dash and as part of the Greyhounds' 4x400 relay, while Rempe helped the Millers' 4x800 to a third-place finish.

was clocked at 12.168 seconds in the trials to take the ninth spot, with Campbell finishing in 12.170 seconds. Campbell is a junior, though, and is likely to be back at state next year.
