The REPORTER

With the forecast showing sustained heat and humidity the rest of this week, the City of Noblesville has opened Forest Park Inn as a temporary cooling center, an air-conditioned facility where residents can go to prevent prolonged exposure to the elements.

"Heat illnesses should not be taken lightly. You have to keep an eye on yourself when your body overheats and drink plenty of water," Mayor Chris Jensen said. "The cooling center is intended as a safe place for individuals and families who experience heat-related illness or those that need a welcoming place to temporarily get out of the extreme heat and cool down."

The goal of the cooling center is to provide a centralized location and safe refuge from the extreme weather. Forest Park Inn will be open 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day through Friday, June 24 and provides air conditioning, restroom facilities, seating and bottled water. Trained city employees will also be on hand to assist members of the public.

This weekend . . . Having a ham radio 'Field Day' in Carmel

The REPORTER

Hamilton County amateur radio operators will participate in the national Amateur Radio Relay League's Field Day starting at 2 p.m. on Saturday, June 25, until 2 p.m. on Sunday, June 26 at Coxhall Gardens, 11677 Towne Road, Carmel.

Sponsors of the event include the Central Indiana Amateur Radio Association and the Hamilton County Emergency Management's Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Service (RACES).

Ham radio operators will demonstrate their skills and service by establishing temporary radio stations in public locations. Their use of radio signals, which reach beyond borders, bring people together while providing essential communication in the service of their communities. Field Day highlights ham radio's ability to work reliably under any conditions from almost any location and create independent, wireless communications networks. The public is welcome to stop by and see how these systems work.

Many hams are volunteers with Hamilton County Emergency Management who serve in RACES, Community Emergency Response Teams, and the Emergency Operations Center. Most have portable radio

The REPORTER

At Hamilton Heights' Year End Recognition Program earlier this month, Duke Energy was recognized for its long-standing support of the JumpStart program at the elementary school. Duke Energy has provided a $10,000 grant for this year's program that begins in late July.

The summer literacy program, started in 2017, is designed for Heights elementary students who can benefit from an early start with reading and social-emotional learning.

This year's Jumpstart Program will focus on incoming first graders. A maximum of 30 students can participate in this interactive summer Jumpstart Program that will be conducted for three hours daily for 10 days prior to the start of the school on Aug. 5.

Amateur radio operators possess critical knowledge that makes them invaluable during emergencies. Their ability to quickly set up these off-the-grid systems is what allows important communication to continue across communities, the entire country, and even the globe – regardless of borders.

communication capabilities that include alternative energy sources such as generators, solar panels, and batteries to power their equipment. “Amateur radio operators have a long history of serving our communities when storms or other disasters damage critical communication infrastructure, including cell towers,” said Shane Booker, Executive Director of Hamilton County Emergency Management. “A station can be set up almost anywhere in minutes and communicate effectively with others. They are an integral part of our emergency resource capability.” During Field Day 2021, more than 26,000 hams participated from thousands of locations across North America. There are more than 750,000 amateur radio licensees in the United States and an estimated three million worldwide. COOL YOUR JETS

Jensen

As they do during severe weather, the NobleAct team will continue to monitor known, at-risk clientele for heat-related needs and work with local resources to meet those needs. Throughout the heat wave, the city encourages residents to stay indoors, drink plenty of water, limit your exposure to direct sunlight, reduce strenuous activities and wear lightweight, light-colored and loose-fitting clothing. “As simple as it sounds, staying hydrated and being inside with air-conditioning are the top protective factors against heat-related illness and death – particularly during a heat wave,” Jensen said. “If your home is not air-conditioned, we invite you to reduce your risk for heat-related illness by spending time in air-conditioned public facilities like the Forest Park Inn. During this week’s heat wave, I also ask that you be a good neighbor and frequently check on at-risk people living near you – such as the elderly and disabled or homebound people – and keep an eye on outside pets.” For more information on heat-related warning signs and illness symptoms and hot weather tips, please visit cdc.gov/disasters/extremeheat.

“This program continues to make a measurable difference in helping students to be more prepared for the start of the new year,” Hamilton Heights Elementary School Principal Julie Griffey said. “We are very thankful for Duke Energy’s support of this special program designed to help students start off the new school year strong.” “We are extremely grateful for Duke Energy’s support and commitment to our summer literacy and social-emotional efforts at the elementary school,” Heights Superintendent Dr. Derek Arrowood said. “Duke Energy has been a strong partner to Hamilton Heights through its ongoing commitment to this invaluable literacy program since its inception. The program has proved to be impactful and beneficial to the students involved.” Representing Duke Energy at the program was Dagny Zupin, Community Relations Liaison, and Mark LaBarr, Community Relations Manager. “It is important that all HHES first graders feel ready to tackle the new school year. I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Are supplements truly replacements for whole fruits, veggies?

"You can't make sense out of nonsense." – Dr. Phil

It's amazing some of the TV shows that popped up on my television during the pandemic! I managed to sit through a few of the Dr. Phil episodes and found them to be, well, scary to be frank! Lots of "issues" apparently plaguing folks here in the USA ...

Anyway, Dr. Phil does share some interesting and thought-provoking euphemisms and my quote today is one of those! I will relate this quote to my topic of supplements and how they can and should be used in a healthy eating plan.

While chatting with some friends and acquaintances at a social gathering recently, the topic turned to the buffet that was offered there. Among the buffet items were several raw veggie offerings. During the conversation one among us said that she "NEVER eats any vegetables or fruit" and thankfully I had already swallowed my mouthful of food so that I did not choke ... Just to make certain I heard correctly I asked "Never?" and it was confirmed. Hmm. So – the obvious question then is, of course, to inquire how one obtains their nutrients. The reply was that "supplements" entirely were used to provide the necessary vitamins and minerals for this person.

Okay, readers, you may think that I would have debated the case, but the venue was not one in which that would have been appropriate. However, this discussion has stayed with me and actually rather "haunted" me that other people may have the misconception that supplements are all we need to replace vegetables and fruits.

Nothing could be further from the truth! Supplements are not intended to replace food! They cannot replicate all the nutrients and benefits of whole foods such as fruits and vegetables.

Whole foods offer three main benefits over dietary supplements. They offer greater nutrition; whole foods are complex, containing a variety of the micro-nutrients our bodies need. They contain essential fiber; which can help reduce the risk of type 2 diabetes, colorectal cancer, stroke, and heart disease. Many whole foods contain chemicals that promote health, such as antioxidants – substances that slow down a natural process leading to cell and tissue damage.<sup>1</sup>

Balance is the real issue here. I absolutely do take supplements. I take only those that I know to be addressing, for me, any shortfall I may have in my nutrition plan. I primarily obtain my necessary nutrition from whole foods, but I benefit from certain additional nutrients which are available in high-quality supplements.

Do your homework! Most supplements are not regulated by the FDA and you must research through credentialed and professional organizations and/or consult a certified nutrition consultant. Do NOT necessarily rely on retail employees or those pushing a certain product to know what is best for you in your circumstance. Also, very importantly, some supplements can interfere with any prescription medications you take so ALWAYS let your health care provider know which supplement you are taking.

Proper nutrition is a key to a healthy life along with a fitness regimen. A healthy body needs wholesome, natural foods to obtain its peak performance. Use moderation when using supplements and keep moving!

Responsibility key to food pantry usage

This month's column is about pantry food usage. Our mission is to provide no-questions-asked meals for neighbors who otherwise might go hungry. Presently, volunteers' stock over 7,000 meals a month through 42 central Indiana pantries. Our desire is to stretch those meals

MARK HALL
The Feeding Team Feature

FeedingTeam.org Facts
46 pantries
7,200 meals in March 2022
30 volunteer families

as far as we can and to as many families as possible. Rather than provide many meals for a few, we attempt to provide a few meals for many.

Feeding Team is a 100-percent volunteer organization with no paid employees. Our expenses are funded through personal and corporate donations along with our annual fundraiser, the Feeding Team Festival, which this year will be the afternoon of Oct. 1 at Federal Hill Commons.

In addition to purchasing meals, food is donated by individuals, families, churches, companies, and other civic-minded groups. Small amounts of food are donated directly into any pantry. Larger quantity donations are received by appointment at our office. What happens every week is a full circle of service where neighbors helping neighbors is the reality.

Inside each pantry are instructional signs, one of which requests that neighbors limit their choices to six items. Feeding Team's "Take What You Need, Give What You Can" operating philosophy works very well when neighbors respect the boundaries.

For the past five weeks, "raking and taking," our description for the behavior of a neighbor who takes most or all the meals from a pantry, has been widespread. The actions have been largely concentrated in seven pantry locations. The unfortunate consequence of the behavior is less food available for other hungry neighbors who stop by those same pantries. We have learned over the years not to chase these situations; reloading a pantry time after time typically results in more of the same behavior.

Feeding Team is a no-questions-asked charity. Neighbors can't steal from a Feeding Team pantry; we are giving the food away. However, it is disheartening when a neighbor occasionally abuses the charitable intention of the model. The few times when neighbors take too much, we encourage them to connect with organizations that are better suited to serve them with more food over a longer period of time.

Through these experiences we learn to serve the community better. Publicizing information about pantry usage informs the neighbors who shop from and donate to the pantries how they can best serve the community. Thank you.

With over 27,000 food-challenged neighbors in Hamilton County, FeedingTeam.org provides outdoor 24/7/365 no-questions-asked free food pantries throughout the county.

Neighbors ask, "Why do this? What is in it for you?" The answer is always the same: Serving people feeds my soul. It is a calling, not work.

When criticized or questioned, I encourage people to learn my story before assuming anything. There were suppers when we as a young couple with young kids could only afford Dinty Moore beef stew and a potato for dinner. Surreal moment. This is why the pantries exist. As a typical young family, we could not always make ends meet.

Thank you for embracing the pantries. We love serving with so many neighbors across Hamilton County.

In future columns we will share more stories from neighbors about how your generosity served them in times of need. Be assured that the face of hunger in Hamilton County is not what you may think.

In practical terms, this straightforward way to help neighbors is having real impact on lives, families, and our communities. Thank you. A few meals can change the course of a person's life. A can of green beans means so much more when you have nothing to feed your kids. Would you like to get involved? We are in the process of evaluating our next pantry locations. If you think you have a potential location, please contact us.

Westfield extends deadline for Grand Park purchase RFPs

The REPORTER
As part of the Request For Proposal (RFP) process for potential respondents interested in purchasing the Grand Park Sports Campus, or entering a public-private agreement to operate Grand Park through the RFP, appraisals are a necessary step for the sale of municipal land. Recently, the Grand Park appraisers both requested three additional weeks to complete their work. ## Letter to the Editor

Mead: Ignore McKinney, Andy Cook is best of all possible Westfield mayors

Dear Editor:

In response to Rick McKinney's letter last week, I have to say he has always hated Westfield, shown disrespect and been a belligerent liar. It started over a parking ticket before we were a city. Thank goodness he lost his last election to the County Council.

Andy Cook is the finest Mayor we could have possibly had. Westfield is a beautiful city, thus is the fastest growing in the state. Grand Park has made us world famous, and it was all Andy Cook's doing. It has made Westfield millions.

Andy has kept our tax rate down and attracted many businesses. He spent hundreds of hours working with INDOT designing U.S. 31. Please ignore Mr. McKinney.

AG Rokita defends schools' rights to keep separate bathrooms based on biological sex

Submitted

Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita is defending the right of Martinsville Schools to require students to use bathrooms corresponding with their biological sex.

"Boys' bathrooms are for boys, and girls' bathrooms are for girls," Rokita said. "I realize this concept is difficult for leftist America-haters to fathom, but most Hoosiers are rightly perplexed that we would even need to defend such basic common sense."

A 13-year-old biological female student who identifies as male has sued the Martinsville school district and the principal of John R. Wooden Middle School over being denied entrance to the boys' bathroom. The student has repeatedly disobeyed the school's policy and used the boys' bathroom anyway – despite the option of using a single-occupant bathroom as an alternative.

The student's lawsuit, filed through the student's mother, also demands that the school require staff and other students to refer to the student as a male. It further demands that the school allow the student to participate on the boys' soccer term.

Failing to accommodate the student in these ways, the student's lawsuit argues, constitutes discrimination against the student in violation of federal Title IX rules and the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

After a U.S. district court granted a preliminary injunction in favor of the student, the school district appealed to the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Rokita is leading a 21-state amicus brief refuting the student's arguments and supporting the school district.

"Opening boys' and girls' bathrooms to students of the opposite biological sex threatens the privacy and safety of all students," Rokita said. "No law requires schools to go down that dangerous path. No controlling precedent holds that Title IX or the Equal Protection Clause means that schools must permit students to use whatever bathrooms they like."

In January, Rokita led a similar multistate brief in defense of Vigo County Schools.

Rehearsal for Murder

ADAPTED BY D. D. BROOKE
BASED ON THE TELEPLAY BY RICHARD LEVINSON & WILLIAM LINK
DIRECTED BY DIANE W WILSON
STAGE MANAGED BY FRAN KNAPP

Hamilton County Theatre Guild's The Belfry Theatre announces auditions for its first show of the 2022-23 theater season, Rehearsal for Murder.

Auditions will be 7 to 9 p.m. June 26 and 27 at Noblesville First United Methodist Church, 2051 Monument St.

Synopsis

A year following the untimely death of a famous onscreen actress and an up-and-coming Broadway star, a famous playwright (and the former fiancé of the star) assembles all those who last interacted with the actress under the pretense of reading excerpts from a new play he is writing. Even though the actress's death was ruled as a suicide, the playwright believes otherwise, and he plans to prove it and trap a killer as the scenes from his new play come to life.

The Years

1980 (opening night of the comedy Chamber Music by Alex Dennison, the after party, and the death of Monica Welles) and 1981 (exactly one year after the opening and Monica's death)

The Settings

A Broadway Stage and Monica Wells' study

Character descriptions

• Alex Dennison: A playwright in his late 40s to mid-50s, Alex is handsome, debonair, witty, intelligent, and willing to do just about anything to trap the killer of his beloved fiancée.

• Monica Welles: The famous and beautiful film actress, fiancée of Alex, and victim, Monica is "brought to life" through flashbacks in order to help Alex trap her killer. Cast as the lead (her first time on stage) in Dennison's comedy Chamber Music, she was in her early- to mid-40s when she met her early demise.

• Lloyd Andrews: The play's director for the 1980 show Chamber Music (and the last time Monica was on stage), Lloyd is at the very least in his early 40s. He is handsome, no-nonsense, and he has an excellent reputation.

• Bella Lamb: The play's producer for the 1980 show Chamber Music (and the last time Monica was on stage), Bella is bright, extremely wealthy, and sophisticated. She is in her late 40s to early 60s.

• Karen Daniels: Merely an up-and-coming Broadway actress in 1980, Karen is now a sought-after star. She was Monica's understudy a year prior in Chamber Music, but she quickly reached her way to the top. Karen is in her mid- to late 30s; she is beautiful and no longer the innocent ingénue she was.

• David Mathews: A tall, popular, and handsome Broadway actor, David is also very smug and full of himself, believing that every woman worships him. He approaches each show with the belief that he'll have to dust off his fireplace mantle for another Tony. He had played lead in Chamber Music, opposite Monica. David is in his mid-40s to early 50s.

• Leo Gibbs: A supporting Broadway actor, Leo is in his mid- to late 40s; he isn't particularly charming or attractive, but he is slightly overweight. He has always view himself as the comic relief. Yet, he doesn't let his "lower" status upset him. He, too, was in Chamber Music.

• Sally Bean: Alex's new assistant/secretary from Maine. She is young (18 to 22), energetic, bright but naïve, and very excited to help Alex with his new play.

• Ernie: The gruff, no-nonsense backstage theatre manager who reveres Alex and was genuinely fond of Monica. He is in his mid-50s to late 60s.

• Loretta: The play's stage manager for Chamber Music (and the last time Monica was on stage). Loretta is in her mid-40s to mid-60s and is very efficient and determined.

• Policeman: One of NY's finest in his late 30s to early 50s; he assists in the investigation of Monica's death.

• Policewoman: One of NY's finest in her late 20s to mid-50s; she assists in the investigation of Monica's death.

• Santoro: The delivery man who brings in Monica's Study – set up exactly as it was on the day of her death and perfect for a re-enactment – he can be any age (20+ to 60).

• Frank Heller: An observer in Act One to everything occurring on-stage during the present and "flashbacks" Frank, however, intervenes in Act Two, at first portraying Lieutenant McElroy, the detective who closed the Monica Welles' case, and then himself. Frank, who is in his late 30s to early 40s, is a jack-of-all-trades: actor (often out of work), bartender, cab driver, etc.

• Mac: An observer to everything that is happening on-stage during the present and "flashbacks." During the last portions of Act Two, he joins in the action. He is in his 50s.

Note: Ernie & Santoro, as well as the policeman and Mac may be doubled. In addition, Loretta and the policewoman may be doubled.

Gerald "Jerry" Graham

September 27, 1945 – June 15, 2022

Gerald "Jerry" Graham, 76, Noblesville, passed away on June 15, 2022, after a year-long battle with cancer.

Jerry was born on September 27, 1945, to Delmar and Mildred Graham in Valparaiso. After graduating from Valparaiso High School in 1963, he went on to study Accounting at Indiana University. It was there he met the love of his life, Mary Margaret Light, and they wed on January 20, 1968.

After graduation, he entered the United States Army and served four years in Vietnam and Germany. Living abroad was some of the most special times for the young couple and started their lifelong love of travel.

Upon returning to the states, Jerry worked at a CPA firm in Elkhart, Ind., and their two daughters were born, Jennifer and Christine. In 1974, Jerry landed a job at Forward Air and moved his young family to Indianapolis. In 1976, Jerry took a job as Controller for Clancy's Inc. and moved his family to Noblesville, where their son Michael was born in 1979.

Over the years, he was involved with Kiwanis, Lions, various Noblesville Schools and Sports committees and was a member and active volunteer with First United Methodist Church.

Jerry was an avid sports fan and enjoyed cheering on his favorite teams – the Noblesville Millers, Indiana Hoosiers, Indianapolis Colts and Chicago Cubs. In 1991, he and Margaret were named Miller Basketball Fans of the Year. He was a pretty good bowler and an impressive golfer, and for the past several years, most days you could find him enjoying a round of 18 with friends.

He was a supportive husband, father and friend and will be missed by all.

Jerry was preceded in death by Delmar Graham and Mildred Peterman Graham. He is survived by his brother, Robert (Sandy) Graham; sister, Linda Graham; his wife, Mary Margaret Light Graham; children, Jennifer Upton, Christine (Chandler) Helmuth, Michael (Lindsey) Graham and five grandchildren.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Therefore, brothers and sisters, since we have confidence to enter the Most Holy Place by the blood of Jesus, by a new and living way opened for us through the curtain, that is, his body, and since we have a great priest over the house of God, let us draw near to God with a sincere heart and with the full assurance that faith brings, having our hearts sprinkled to cleanse us from a guilty conscience and having our bodies washed with pure water. Let us hold unwaveringly to the hope we profess, for he who promised is faithful. And let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds, not giving up meeting together, as some are in the habit of doing, but encouraging one another—and all the more as you see the Day approaching.

Hebrews 10:19-25 (NIV)

Five HamCo girls meet the mouse, take the title

The REPORTER

The 14 Gold volleyball team at The Academy Boiler Juniors won the AAU National Championship Saturday in the 14 Open Division at Orlando, Fla. This is the club's fourth national championship and adds to an impressive list of accolades for the program. This is the second championship in a row for this squad as they won the 13s division in 2021.

Five Hamilton County players were part of the national championship team, and all five will begin their high school careers in the fall. Four are from Fishers — Madison Miles, Raegan Miles, Bre Morgan and Mia Walpole — and are incoming freshmen at Hamilton Southeastern. Noblesville's Reese Resmer is also a member of the team and will be an incoming freshman at Noblesville High School this fall.

Along with an AAU National Championship, the girls have won many big tournaments this season including Bluegrass, JVA Summerfest, and the Windy City Qualifier.

The team is coached by John Shondell and Chandra Hepler. Shondell is the Associate Head Volleyball

Coach at Purdue University. Chandra is a former division one player at the University of Missouri and is the current head coach at Warsaw High School.

Boilers Juniors is based in Lafayette and has some of the top teams not only in the state but in the country as well. This is not the end of the season for this team as they will head to the USA Volleyball Girls National Championship in Indianapolis where competition begins June 27.

About The Academy

Boiler Juniors joined The Academy Volleyball Club, based in Indianapolis, in the summer of 2018. The club offers club teams, camps & clinics, lessons, tournaments, and more. In addition to the Indianapolis and Lafayette locations, the Academy Family also includes Grand Park in Westfield. Between the three clubs, they have over 1,500 athletes playing club volleyball.

Carson Dunn to trade Tigers for Sycamores

The REPORTER

Fishers football star Carson Dunn announced his commitment to play at Indiana State University on Tuesday.

Dunn, an incoming senior for the Tigers, made the announcement on Twitter early in the afternoon, saying that ever since he began playing football his dream was to play at the Division I level. Dunn's dream will come true when he heads to Terre Haute to play for the Sycamores, a Division I team that participates in the Football Championship Series (FCS).

Indiana State is coming off a 5-6 season in 2021 and finished 3-5 in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Back home at Fishers, Dunn had a great junior season in 2021. As the Tigers' primary running back, Dunn rushed for 734 yards, an average of 73.4 yards per game, scoring 10 touchdowns along the way. The 5-10, 190-pound Dunn helped Fishers to a 6-4 record last season.
