New community space to house both Westfield Public Library, Washington Township offices

The REPORTER
Westfield Washington Township has announced plans for a partnership with the Westfield Washington Library to build a new collaborative community space to house both the Library and Township offices.

The new building would be located at the southwest corner of Park and Poplar streets, which is adjacent to Westfield Washington Schools, the Monon Trail, and several new proposed housing developments and restaurants.

"This is a culmination of seven years of planning," Township Trustee Danielle Carey Tolan said. "The Library and the Township are very much integrated with programming and community initiatives and this partnership will allow both entities to expand programming, share space, equipment, staff and ultimately provide a more efficient asset to the community."

The library and the township will break ground on this 55,000 square-foot structure this fall and construction is expected to fer (BOT) contract, which allows the project to be built without an impact to residents' tax bills. The sale of the current township office and cash reserves will be the main source of funding.

According to Carey Tolan, building a separate structure would not be as cost efficient.

"We are thrilled to finally be breaking ground on this amazing community asset," Library Executive Director Sheryl Sollars said. "This community resource will further enhance government efficiency by constructing both the library portion and the township portion at the same time, allowing all building and site work costs to be spread equally based on the square footage of the two structures."

The township portion of the project was formally approved Wednesday at the Township Board meeting.

Feeling the pull

Since it took so long to get pregnant the first time, I was eager to try again that following summer when Jonathon was only seven months old. I mentioned this to John while we were pushing our little guy in the stroller one evening.

"I think you're wrong, Amy," John replied. "I think you're Fertile Myrtle now, and it won't take any time at all for you to get pregnant again."

"But I don't want to take any chances," I said.

"Well, if it does happen quickly, they'll be close in age like my brothers and I were. They'll be best friends growing up."

"That would be great," I replied.

Little did we know that we were predictors of the future that evening. Jonathon became a big brother to Jacob at the young age of 16 months in April 2002. Jacob was just as good as Jonathon had been as an infant, although a little more stubborn. He was not a fan of the required "tummy time" that my pediatrician recommended each day and howled miserably after just a few minutes.

I was fortunate to have secured a work at home job working for Agape Therapeutic Riding Resources right before Jonathon was born. So the boys only had to go to day-care once a week while I attended staff and other meetings. Despite this job and the one John now had working at a local Mailboxes Etc., we were almost broke like a lot of new parents. But we were truly happy. And tired! Working at home was a blessing, but it was challenging to do every day with a baby and a toddler.

While driving my sleeping children home one evening after picking up some silent auction items for an event, I was somewhat startled at my reflection in the car window at a stoplight. For the first time, I saw

Carmel Lions make July 4th sweet

On July 4, the Carmel Lions Club held its annual Strawberry Festival at the clubhouse, located at 141 E. Main St., and the delicious strawberries and shortcake were sold out in less than an hour and a half – despite nearby road construction. (Above left) Mary Jane Bodnar and Benita Hutt preparing the shortcake for hungry customers. (Above right) John Jensen and Bryan Ferry functioned as walking advertisements for the Strawberry Festival, as well as selling raffle tickets for a drawing at the upcoming Fish Fry set for July 22. Sheridan is better off because of great legacy of folks like Les & Martha Pence

I have always been a believer in celebrating notable events in people's lives, although my wife will be the first one to tell you about a birthday or two I have forgotten about. But it is important we try not forgetting events worthy of celebrating. That said, let me tell you about a good friend of mine and his family who have recently observed a couple of milestones.

Les and Martha Pence. They just celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary. That is a great accomplishment in and of itself and deserves celebrating. Les tells me he and Martha met when he was a music teacher in the Westview School Corporation in Shipshewana. Martha lived in the area, they fell in love and were married in June of 1958. In 1972, 14 years later, the Pence family arrived in Sheridan where Les was the new school superintendent. That marks another anniversary this year – they have lived in Sheridan for 50 years now. Les and Martha, of course, consider Sheridan their home. Their three boys grew up here. Currently, son Terry and his wife live in California while son Randy and family live in Noblesville. Son Mike also lived here but he passed away recently, but his family remains in the area. As you might expect, Les and Martha have no end of grandchildren and great-grandchildren, so holidays and special celebrations are a busy and enjoyable time for them.

For those of you who are not familiar with the Pences, Les has a long and distinguished career in education. Originally from Columbia City, Les went to college at Morehead College in Kentucky on scholarship, studying to be a music teacher. He graduated in 1955 and got his first job at South Whitley Schools up near Fort Wayne. As was done in those days, in

THE PULL

Jonathon in my reflection. At this point he was almost three, and people were still saying how much he looked like John. But my thinking started to shift.

Jacob had a combination of both of our features. He was blonde like I was as a little girl, and he had striking hazel eyes. His stubbornness had continued, and he was a mama's boy up until he was two. I couldn't even leave the room without him bawling.

Once again, my thoughts turned to my heritage. Sure, both boys had John's characteristics as well as mine. But we would never truly know the boys' complete history, not without me digging for information about my own.

How could I do that, though, and break my mother's heart? That question still haunted me and held me back from learning more about my adoption story.

PENCES

1956 he was drafted into the Army and sent to Fort Smith in Arkansas. After discharge from the Army in 1957, he returned to Indiana as the band director at Shipshewana. That is where he met and married Martha.

Les taught in multiple school systems through the years, and eventually moved out of the classroom and into administration, first as a principal and eventually becoming a superintendent. He came to Sheridan in 1972 and during his tenure helped to build a new football stadium and build the middle school for the corporation. In 1981, he left Sheridan and went to work at Carmel schools as the Transportation Director. He retired from Carmel in 1994.

After his retirement, Les served on the Sheridan School Board, served on the Sheridan Town Council, became a Riverview Hospital volunteer, and served as the statewide director of the AARP Safe Driver program.

During his last year with AARP, he was the Indiana AARP Volunteer of the year. Using his musical background, Les has been an active member of the choir at Sheridan's First United Methodist Church singing in, and occasionally directing, the choir.

To say the Pences have been a busy family for the past seven or so decades is an understatement. Les and Martha have successfully raised an ever-expanding family and he has left his mark on education systems across Indiana. Sixty-four years of marriage is, in and of itself, an accomplishment to be proud of, and 50 years as a Sheridan resident earns him bragging rights. This is a family that came here 50 years ago and decided to stay instead of moving on.

If you know the Pences, offer them your congratulations. If you do not know them, rest assured Sheridan has nice, friendly, accomplished people living here and enriching the community through their presence.

4-H FAIR

Hamilton County, and a free T-shirt.

Public activities include the Homemade Ice Cream Making Contest, Youth Talent Contest, Youth Pet Parade, Walk-A-Llama, Youth Pedal Pull, Bob's Bumpy Barrel Youth Ride, Caravan Classes Art Crafts, and the Color Me Green Fun Run. In addition to viewing more than 4,000 4-H projects, fairgoers can see baby chicks and rabbits, or simply "graze" their way through the Food Court.

The fair showcases a variety of classic "fair foods" including elephant ears, corn-on-the-cob, funnel cakes, milkshakes, pork chops, ribeyes, lamb burgers, rabbit brats, lemon shake-ups and much more. Proceeds from all the food vendors support Hamilton County 4-H and other community programs.

Exhibits on display during the 4-H Fair culminate the hard work of Hamilton County's 4-H members, animal producers, Extension Homemakers, and other artisans.

2022 Hamilton County 4-H Fair Day Sponsors are VIP Animal Care, The Farmers Bank, Good Samaritan Network, Dani Robinson Homes, and Peterman Brothers. The Premier Digital Sponsor is Breathe Easy Hamilton County. Other partners include Biddle Memorial Foundation, Ceres Solutions, Co-Alliance, First Farmers Bank & Trust, Independence

Safe Company, Farm Credit Mid-America, Greendell Landscape Solutions, Hamilton County Farm Bureau, Inc. Hamilton County TV, L&M Gardens, Land O Lakes, Legacy Christian School, North Central Co-op, Riverview Health, and Walker Hughes.

The Hamilton County 4-H Fair is organized and sponsored by the Hamilton County 4-H Council, Inc. and Purdue Extension Hamilton County.

PREVAIL

Advocating for Victims of Crime & Abuse

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Update No. 86

With summer in full swing, our campus remains a busy place with much going on – inside and outside.

In addition to being abuzz with all kinds of activity, we are in the throes of preparing for a new and exciting school year. We are updating our strategic plans and goals, our educators are working on professional development, lesson planning, and research. In addition, we have also been analyzing end of the year data, organizing back to school activities, and doing facilities work that can't be done when students are in school.

Speaking of exciting, HHSC has recently been awarded two grants that will have a measurable impact on student achievement and outcome now and well into the future. The first was a $250,000 Division of Mental Health and Addiction (DMHA) Community Catalyst Grant. This funding will enable us to fill a void by hiring a liaison to work with our at-risk families at home, support counseling staff, and work closely with our Youth Assistance Program.

We extend a special note of appreciation to Monica Greer, Executive Director, Hamilton County Council on Alcohol and Other

DR. DEREK ARROWOOD

Drugs, for her efforts and expertise in helping us to secure these needed moneys for this important work for Heights families.

Through Indiana Department of Education's Explore, Engage, and Experience (3E) funding, Heights received two grants from a shared allocation of about $5 million. This money will be used to help strengthen, expand, and create effective career pathways through students' K-12 learning. The focus is on increasing the number of students experiencing work-based learning and earning high-value credentials while in high school, such as the Indiana College Core, an associate degree, or a career and technical education industry certificate.

The grant also encourages schools to expand access to career exploration and engagement opportunities for students in elementary and middle school. We are deeply grateful to Andrew Melin, Executive Director of the Central Indiana Educational Service Center (CIESC) and Carrie Lively of the Hamilton County Economic Development Corporation and Hamilton County Career Center for their leadership and Jessi Cantlon, HHHS Counselor, for their work on these grants.

I would like to give a shout out to Hamilton Heights Educational Foundation (HHEF) and to all those who volunteered, participated, and sponsored at this year's scramble at Bear Slide Golf Club. Your involvement and support resulted in another successful outing. Moneys generated through the annual event, now three decades strong and growing, gives students and teachers a chance to grow and explore beyond traditional boundaries through grant money. To stay up to date with the Foundation's activities and/or to learn more about other ways you can support its efforts throughout the year, go to hhschuskies.org/hhef.

In other notes of interest, our Food Pantry will be open from 4 to 6 p.m. on Monday, July 18 at the high school; enter through Door A. The Central Office summer hours for the public are 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and Fridays from 8 a.m. to noon. We are hiring! Click here to check out our current full-time and part-time job openings.

Thank you again for your support. We are incredibly grateful for our families, staff, community, and people we serve! We continue to strive to meet and exceed your expectations.

Noblesville student makes Oregon State Univ. honor roll

The REPORTER

Noblesville's own Bou-bacar Balde has made the spring 2022 honor roll at Oregon State University. Earning a spot on the list requires a student to have a 3.5 grade-point average or better during the semester and carry at least 12 graded hours of course work.

Balde, a sophomore studying finance, is among 7,150 fellow students at the university who made the honor roll.

Carmel launches new website

Site refresh seeks to improve ADA compliance, navigation

Submitted by City of Carmel

The City of Carmel on Thursday afternoon unveiled a fresh new look and design of its official city website, carmel.in.gov. The new design promises users an enhanced digital experience that pairs the latest technology with practical applications that make it more accessible for people with disabilities.

New features

- Improved navigation/information architecture that is concise, easy-to-use and intuitive for the end-user. Informed by both qualitative and quantitative data analytics, heatmapping, surveys and user testing.
- Six call-to-action buttons (circular Home Buttons) chosen based on high-traffic webpages for easy, one-click access to information.

- Service Finder and Address Lookup features to quickly find City services and council district information.
- Improved web accessibility in design and programming.
- ADA compliant User-Way widget provides direct link to accessibility tools for a better user experience.

Mayor Jim Brainard said the city's website is a vital tool in Carmel's economic development strategy. The information and images used on the website show the high quality of life and the many positive experiences that people are looking for when deciding where to live. The mayor said this helps local business community attract and retain good employees.

Brainard

"It is also so important to be as transparent as possible with city business and all that we do," Mayor Brainard said. "Our website contains pages and links to thousands of public documents, uploaded and updating throughout the year. We want our residents to have easy access to information that is important to them."

Developed in partnership with Granicus, the updated website incorporates new best practices and improved ADA compliance. Website analytics concluded that nearly half of website visitors were using a mobile device, reflecting the global trend that people prefer to connect and engage online via mobile phones. The result is a responsive and accessible website design that will allow users streamlined access to key information on the homepage, regardless of device used.

On desktop devices, website users will now find a "sticky" side navigation menu that will always be available no matter how far users scroll down the page. Larger text has been used site-wide to improve reading for all visitors.

Due to this upgrade, visitors to the website should be aware that saved bookmarks and links to carmel.in.gov may no longer work and should be updated. Additionally, search engines such as Google may return broken link errors temporarily. A request has been sent to all search engines to update their links, but it may take a couple weeks before their search results provide accurate links. City officials thank residents and businesses in advance for their patience.

Ball State grads from Noblesville, Carmel named Fulbright scholars

The REPORTER

Two Ball State University graduates, one from Noblesville and one from Carmel, have been chosen for the Fulbright U.S. Student Program – one of the most prestigious and widely recognized international programs, which grants support for pursuing graduate studies, conducting research, or teaching English abroad.

Each graduate has been selected for an English Teaching Assistantship (ETA). In this role, they will help students in their host countries develop English language skills and serve as cultural ambassadors between nations.

Brianna Lopez of Noblesville
Host country destination: Bulgaria

Lopez completed a bachelor's degree in psychology, with minors in philosophy and women's & gender studies, in May 2022. At Ball State, she was a teaching assistant in two psychology courses, a peer mentor for Honors College freshmen, associate editor for Ball State's international undergraduate philosophy journal, and co-founder of a new undergraduate psychology journal.

Lopez

Pitchford

Alexis Pitchford of Carmel
Host country destination: Greece

Pitchford completed a bachelor's degree in elementary education, along with a minor in psychology of human development, in December 2021. She is a graduate student in the educational psychology program and is scheduled to complete her master's degree in July 2022. At Ball State, Pitchford has been a tutor and an executive board member of both Make-A-Wish and Hillel, a Jewish student organization.

INDOT to hold virtual meeting on Indiana's electric vehicle infrastructure deployment plan

The REPORTER

Through the National Electric Vehicle Infrastructure (NEVI) program created by passage of the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law (BIL), Indiana will receive nearly $100 million in federal funding for Electrical Vehicle (EV) charging infrastructure over the next five years.

While formula funds are essentially guaranteed for each state, BIL guidance requires each funding applicant to submit an EV Infrastructure Deployment Plan which details how use of NEVI formula funds is consistent with Federal Highway Administration guidance on developing charging networks along designated alternative fuel corridors and provide infrastructure for underserved communities.

Join the Indiana Department of Transportation for a virtual session from 6 to 8 p.m. on Wednesday, July 13 to learn about Indiana's EV Infrastructure Deployment Plan. During the live stream event, INDOT and the support team will walk through each section of the draft plan. The presentation will conclude with a live question and answer session to receive public comment on the draft plan.

Registration is encouraged but not required. The event will be hosted live on INDOT's YouTube channel.

William Joseph “Bill” Smith October 16, 1930 – July 4, 2022

William Joseph “Bill” Smith, 91, Sheridan, passed away surrounded by his loving family and caregivers on Monday afternoon, July 4, 2022, at Wellbrooke of Westfield. Born on October 16, 1930, in Greentown, Ind., he was the son of the late William Oliver and Fern Leota (Garrett) Smith.

Bill was a 1949 graduate of Greentown High School and later International Business College in Ft. Wayne. Putting his education to work, he hired on with Biddle Manufacturing in Sheridan, retiring after 40 years of dedicated service as an account and human resources manager.

He was a 65-year member of the Sheridan First United Methodist Church, where he was a faithful attendant of the Challengers Sunday School Class. Bill was also a 50-year member and Past Exalted Leader of the Tipton Elks Club.

Though he had many interests, sports and food were always near the top of the list. Bill enjoyed watching Colts and Pacers games, but when it came to Purdue basketball, things got a little more serious. Game time was also an excellent opportunity for snacking. Bill was both a chocolate connoisseur, and an extremely accomplished (self-taught) ice cream eater. Practice makes perfect, especially when it comes to ice cream consumption... so Bill made sure he had a bowl every night.

Bill enjoyed spending time at home, doing yard work and picking up sticks around his property, but he did venture out from time to time. He enjoyed searching for Greentown Glass and new (old) coins to add to his growing collection. However, his most memorable excursion was his visit to Israel; he felt proud and truly blessed to be able to make the trip. Bill was also an avid reader. He always enjoyed a good book, but comic strips were a close second. His go-to was always Peanuts, with Snoopy being his favorite character of the gang.

There was nothing more important in Bill’s life than his family. He loved following his grandchildren’s activities and sports. His inside jokes, especially wrapping gifts with the funny pages, will be missed by everyone who had the pleasure of receiving one.

Bill is survived by two sons, Leslie J. Smith and Craig G. Smith, both of Sheridan; four daughters, Melody L. Smith of Sheridan, Brenda L. Smith of Carmel, Cindy Gay Binder (Greg) of Carmel, and Valerie D. Kyle (Jim) of Lebanon; 10 grandchildren, Kyle Binder, Brittany Binder, Ashley Binder, Stacy Binder, Kandise Kyle-Ross (Jacob), Austin Kyle (Maddie), Brett Kyle, Connor Kyle (Brittney), Chris Mourey, and Holden Henderson; four great-grandchildren, Eli Ross, Kennedy Ross, Maverie Mason Kyle, and Lucas Mani; and many nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, William Oliver and Fern Leota (Garrett) Smith; nine brothers and sisters; and by his loving wife, Norma Lee (Owens) Smith on March 8, 2011. She and Bill were married on December 31, 1950.

Services will be held at 1 p.m. on Friday, July 8, 2022, at the Sheridan First United Methodist Church, 207 E. 2nd St., Sheridan, with Visitation from 11 a.m. until the time of service. Burial will follow at Kempton Cemetery in Kempton, Ind. Bill’s son-in-law, Pastor Jim Kyle will be officiating.

In lieu of flowers, Memorial Contributions may be presented to the Challengers Class to be used for missions.

Arrangements have been entrusted to Kercheval Funeral Home in Sheridan.

Red Cross, Discovery partner for Shark Week to stave off summer shortage of blood donations

The REPORTER

The American Red Cross and Discovery are partnering for Shark Week and invite people to dive in to help save lives by giving blood in July. The Red Cross saw a steep drop in blood and platelet donations last month, and donors are asked to make appointments now to prevent a blood shortage this summer.

In June, the Red Cross collected approximately 12 percent fewer blood donations than needed – one of the largest monthly blood donation shortfalls in recent years. Here in the Indiana Region, nearly 14 percent less donations were made than expected. When less people answer the call to donate, the blood supply shrinks – and that could mean blood products aren’t ready for hospital staff to reach for in emergencies.

Thanks to Discovery, all who come to give blood in July will automatically be entered for a chance to win an exclusive Shark Week merchandise package that includes:

- Beach bike
- Smokeless portable fire pit
- Paddle board
- Kayak
- $500 gift card to put toward accessories

Those who come to give July 21-24 will get an exclusive Shark Week T-shirt from Discovery, while supplies last. Details are available at redcross.org/sharkweek.

By making and keeping blood donation appointments in July, donors can connect with patients through a lifesaving gift. To book a time to give, download the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visit RedCrossBlood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

TODAY’S BIBLE READING

By faith Moses’ parents hid him for three months after he was born, because they saw he was no ordinary child, and they were not afraid of the king’s edict.

By faith Moses, when he had grown up, refused to be known as the son of Pharaoh’s daughter. He chose to be mistreated along with the people of God rather than to enjoy the fleeting pleasures of sin. He regarded disgrace for the sake of Christ as of greater value than the treasures of Egypt, because he was looking ahead to his reward. By faith he left Egypt, not fearing the king’s anger; he persevered because he saw him who is invisible. By faith he kept the Passover and the application of blood, so that the destroyer of the firstborn would not touch the firstborn of Israel.

IHSAA changes rules on post-season golf

The REPORTER

When it comes to high school golf, it's not just tee times, it's team time.

That's the message coming from the IHSAA and the Indiana High School Golf Coaches Association (IHSGCA), and the reason behind a change in the format of the golf post-season, which goes into effect this September for girls golf and in the spring for boys golf. The result will be three more teams qualifying for the state finals.

That change will be accomplished by adding a regional to the post-season. The current format, which has been in use since 2012, has the top three teams in each of the 30 sectionals advance to one of five regionals across the state. Then, the top three teams from each regional advance to the state finals, for a total of 15 qualifying teams.

Beginning this season, there will still be 30 sectionals, but this time the top three teams advance to one of six regionals. The advancement from regionals to state also remains the same: The top three qualify for state, for a total of 18 teams.

The proposal was approved by the IHSAA during the organization's May Executive Committee meeting. Josh Bryant, Westfield's golf coach and past president of the IHSGCA, said the proposal was generated by the IHSAA and its executive board.

"The Coaches Association was involved in committee meetings and supported the framework of the final proposal from the executive board after a few meetings," said Bryant. "The Coaches Association is very thankful the relationship with the IHSAA and their willingness to allow us to have a voice in decision making."

The IHSAA stated the rationale in its published minutes of the meeting:

"(The IHSGCA's) view is many student-athletes play tournaments throughout the year that are completely individual. While golf is an individual sport, it is the team aspect to golf that sets the IHSAA state tournament apart from everything they compete in."

Bryant expanded on those comments: "The vast majority of coaches feel that school golf is team golf," he said. "It is the only time of year that our players can participate in a team setting and compete for a championship. They are afforded individual opportunities locally, regionally and nationally to compete as individuals." Bryant also said that by adding a regional while keeping the advancement rule the same, "you will see new faces from areas around the state that now have an opportunity to compete."

The change in the format will also mean a change in how individuals advance. The top three individuals not on an advancing team will move on to the regional level from the sectional; that is unchanged from the previous format.

But in the new format, only the top two individuals on a non-advancing team qualify for state. The reason is mathematics: Under the previous format, 100 players qualified for state, 75 on a team and 25 individuals. Now, the total will be 102 players, 90 on a team and 12 individuals. Since 102 is divisible by three, it will allow for exactly 34 threesomes to take to the course during the state finals.

"Despite there being an additional Regional, it will still be very competitive and a great accomplishment for the teams who advance to the State Finals," said Noblesville coach Justin Werkley.

LOCAL CHANGES

The IHSAA released the sectional groups in its June

The Westfield girls golf team finished third in the state last season, coming out of the Guerin Catholic sectional and Roncalli regional to get to state. This season, the Shamrocks will play in the same sectional, but travel to Battleground Golf Club in Lafayette for the regional, one of several changes as the IHSAA expands the post-season to six regionals starting this fall.

23 Executive Committee meeting minutes. Hamilton County's teams will still be divided among two sectionals, with Guerin Catholic and Noblesville the hosts.

The Golden Eagles will welcome eight other teams to Pebble Brook Golf Course for Sectional 13 competition: Brebeuf Jesuit, Cardinal Ritter, Carmel, Lebanon, Pike, Speedway, University and Westfield. While the same county teams are in the sectional, Lebanon is a new addition. Ben Davis and Covenant Christian were previously in the sectional, but they have been moved out to Sectional 15, hosted by Brownsburg.

The top three teams out of Pebble Brook will be heading to Battleground Golf Club in Lafayette for Regional 3 competition, hosted by Lafayette Jefferson. That's a significant change, as the winner of this sectional had for years competed at the Roncalli regional at Smock Golf Club.

Noblesville will host Sectional 16 at Harbour Trees. The lineup there also features Alexandria, Elwood, Fishers, Frankton, Hamilton Heights, Hamilton Southeastern, Lapel, Noblesville, Pendleton Heights and Tipton. The Blue Devils are new in the sectional this season; they replace Shenandoah, which was moved to the New Palestine sectional.

The top three out of Harbour Trees will advance to Regional 4 at The Edge in Lapel, the same as in years past.

"It doesn't look like there were any significant changes for us specifically, but if the realignment allows more of the top teams to advance to the State Finals each year, I consider that a positive," said Werkley.

Bryant, who will take over as the Westfield girls coach this season, is also "very happy" with the decisions. He said that winning a team championship "is still the highest level of accomplishment you can have" as a player on a team, and that while many could argue that there are more prestigious events than an individual high school state championship, "no one can argue the team aspect isn't the pinnacle," he said.

The IHSAA State Finals will continue to take place at Prairie View Golf Club in Carmel, which has hosted state since 2014. Now, more teams will get a chance to play.
