Noblesville's biggest BASH yet

Noblesville Schools' biggest party of the year was Friday evening at the new Beaver Stadium, which was officially opened earlier in the day. A total of 87 vendors had booths at the back-to-school event featuring food, games, sports, art, giveaways, live music, and community and school exhibitors.

The parable of the big toe

Will I ever dare to put my big toe into the crack of another person's opinion? Will I allow that toe to even consider he or she might be even a tad bit correct in their thinking? Could a compromise be found in that crack?

Will I allow my thoughts to wander into their point of view? Why would someone listen to my opinion if I won't listen to theirs? Hello?

Have I become so closed-minded that I am deaf to the opinions of those with whom I disagree?

Listen up!

Oh conversations, where have you gone?

Two or more people having a conversation where they are leaning in and listening both to the thoughts as well as the heart of the person speaking. That's my definition.

I look at the aisles that seem wider than ever and I shake my head as to why people can't listen to each other and find a compromise. Remember that thing called "compromise" where we give and take? It's a rarity in the crazy tug-of-war world in which we live today.

What about me? Am I any different?

Trouble is that I tend to listen in preparation for speaking. I do not take the time to allow the words of the speaker to land inside my mind, let alone my heart, long enough to get an understanding of what they are saying and why they are saying it. It's as if it is me against the opinionator. (Yes, Chuck, I know that is not a word ... but it is now.)

Deputies will help kids shop for their back to school supplies

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Sheriff's Office (HCSO) Community Foundation will hold its third annual Back-To-School Shop With Kids event from 6 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 2.

This community effort is aimed at making sure children have adequate clothing and supplies needed to start the school year off as successfully as possible.

Hamilton Heights Youth Assistance Program graciously supported 15 children, who will all meet at the COhatch, located at 13110 Harrell Pkwy., Suite 100, Noblesville. COhatch helps its members work, meet and live digitally across a growing community. Good Samaritan Network donated backpacks, which will be full of school supplies for the children. The group will enjoy some Marco's Pizza and then go on a shopping spree at Old Navy and DSW Shoes.

HSCO Community Foundation is grateful for the support of the community, business partners and HSCO employees for this important program.

Carmel PD K9s Jax & Lolo will have their own body armor

The REPORTER

Carmel Police Department (CPD) K9s Jax and Lolo will receive bullet and stab protective vests thanks to a charitable donation from non-profit organization Vested Interest in K9s, Inc.

The vests are sponsored by Don and Misty Fike of Galesburg, Ill., and will be embroidered with the sentiment "Born to Love-Trained to Serve-Loyal Always." Delivery is expected within eight to 10 weeks.

K9 LoLo is a Belgian Malinois that began her service with CPD on July 16, 2014. She serves as a patrol dog and is specially trained in the detection of explosives. Her handler is Officer Chad Wiegman. K9 Jax is a Dutch Malinois that began his service with CPD June 4, 2022. He also serves as a patrol dog, with specialized training in narcotics detection. His handler is Officer Branden Owens.

Vested Interest in K9s, Inc., established in 2009, is a 501(c)(3) charity whose mission is to provide bullet and stab protective vests and other assistance to dogs of law enforcement and related agencies throughout the United States. This potentially lifesaving body armor for four-legged K9 officers is U.S.-made, custom fitted, and NIJ certified. Since its inception, Vested Interest in K9s, Inc. has provided over 4,714 vests to K9s in all 50 states at a value of $6.9 million, made possible by both private and corporate donations.

The program is open to U.S. dogs that are at least 20 months old and actively employed and certified with law enforcement or related agencies. K9s with expired vests are also eligible to participate. There are an estimated 30,000 law enforcement K9s throughout the United States.

Vested Interest in K9s, Inc. accepts tax-deductible contributions in any amount, while a single donation of $960 will sponsor one vest. Each vest has a value of $1,744 to $2,283, weighs an average of four to five pounds and comes with a five-year warranty.

For more information, or to learn about volunteer opportunities, please call (508) 824-6978. Vested Interest in K9s, Inc. provides information, lists events, and accepts donations at vik9s.org, or you may mail your contribution to P.O. Box 9, East Taunton, MA 02718.

Last chance to see Civic Theatre’s Young Artists Program production of 42nd Street

Civic Theatre's Young Artists Program presents 42nd Street (book by Michael Stewart and Mark Bramble, lyrics by Al Dubin and Johnny Mercer and music by Harry Warren) on The Tarkington stage with an extraordinary cast of young performers.

Keenly directed by Emily Rogge Tzucker and bolstered by Anne Beck's amazing choreography (offered by a stage full of surprisingly proficient tappers) the show is a perfectly balanced triple-threat of a production - with superb dancing, professional-level singing and some wonderful acting scenes.

The cast is stellar. Mary comedic, and Natalie Marchal presents triple talents as song writers Bert Barry and Maggie Jones; Mad-dux Morrison amazes as choreographer Andy Lee; and Claire Kauffman is a plucky chorus girl Annie.

Benjamin Dostalek as Dorothy's "sugar daddy" Abner Dillon, and Austin Lizama as Dorothy's true love Pat Denning, are both notable in their roles.

There's certainly plenty of sparkle, soaring voices and amazing choreography to fill the stage and please the eye. The collection of costumes by Adrienne Conces are a wonder in and of themselves. They are countless and truly a spectacular part of the show. Ryan Koharchik's scenic design is simple and meets all the show's needs. And Musical Director Trevor Fanning's fine work is evident in every scene and with the very excellent orchestra he leads.

Bottom line: With that stage filled with 30-plus enthusiastic and talented young performers, director Tzucker has made this an unforgettable summer for a lot of youths and their families by putting together a show experience full of good hard work and new friendships they won't soon forget, which for some performers will be a launching pad for an interest in theatre they will enjoy for a lifetime. This is an outstanding show – very professionally done and very, very entertaining.

42nd Street continues for one last performance today at 2 p.m. at The Tarkington theatre in Carmel. Tickets are available by calling the box office at (317) 843-3800 or by going online to CivicTheatre.org.

BIG TOE

I am already thinking of what I think they need to hear. My thoughts and opinions trump theirs. (Good lands, I even hesitate to use that verb.) I look like I'm listening, but the truth is I am preparing my rebuttal.

I want to defend my thoughts before I even hear what the other person will say. Does anyone else do this? I think I know what they will say, and I know I will not agree with them.

I take their opinions inside the court where I am the jury and judge. Read that again. I am giving them a chance for final arguments knowing what my verdict will be. They will be found wrong in the court of Janet.

Is anyone willing to say "Amen" and "me too"?

As I am getting older, (I'm working hard to do that ever so slowly) I am trying to listen, really LISTEN.

How do I expect anyone else to do so if I can't listen and compromise? If I can't be a soft place to share an opinion, how can I expect to find that soft place in others?

In a world so harshly divided can we find a softness as we come together in the median of compromise? The median of compromise is such a rarity in this day and age that I wonder if the world would even recognize it.

I pray I can sit down and lean in and allow a bit of diversity into my mind and my heart. It is there where compromise can enter as well. I pray I can find it for my sake and the world in which I live.

My big toe might just be inching its way towards the crack of differing opinions. If my big toe can do it, I pray others can do it as well.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Synergize supports Providence Cristo Rey High School of Indy

By DENISE MOE
For The Reporter

Synergize, the Carmel-based professional group putting “Relationships Over Everything,” took over 3Up this past Tuesday night for its monthly 4:30 Meetup. Members and guests gathered to support Providence Cristo Rey High School, Synergize’s nonprofit beneficiary for the month of July.

Providence Cristo Rey High School (PCRHS) opened in Indianapolis in 2007. The school offers a “transformational educational experience to students with economic need,” including intense coursework, a multicultural environment, and a mandatory corporate work-study program.

Ultimately, the school’s mission is to create “faith-filled, socially responsible women and men who will take the lead in creating a more just society and a more hopeful future for themselves and others.”

“When I went in and spoke to these kids, they blew me away,” said Jason Ulm, board member at PCRHS and one of the speakers at the 4:30 Meetup. “They were well-spoken, and every single one of them talked about how much they loved school and what they were learning.”

Other speakers at the event included Fred Yeakey, Vice President of PCRHS; Tyler Mayer, President and CEO of PCRHS; and former PCRHS student Jimmie Darbonne III, who is now studying Sports Marketing and Administration at Indiana University Bloomington. Darbonne told the crowd his Providence Cristo Rey story, giving credit to the powerful impact the school, and his mother, had upon his future success.

Synergize holds a 4:30

Meetup every month. Each meetup focuses on a specific nonprofit organization with a local impact. The event is a chance for Synergize, and any other attendees, to give back to the impact and connect with its leaders to help in the future. This month, the group donated over $2,200. They’d especially like to thank Randie Dial of CLA, this meetup’s Impact Sponsor. CLA will also sponsor August’s 4:30 Meetup.

Synergize will benefit Dying Defiantly, a nonprofit run by one of its members, in August. Marshall Morris, Legacy Member, founded Dying Defiantly after his own terminal diagnosis. The organization helps those with terminal diagnoses and their families find community and continue to live with joy despite their disease.

To learn more about Synergize and stay in the loop for the next 4:30 Meetup, visit synergizeindy.com or follow Synergize on Facebook, LinkedIn, or Instagram. Learn more about Providence Cristo Rey and their life-changing work via cristoreyindy.com.

This week’s Carmel road construction updates

The REPORTER

Monon Greenway at Carter Green

A reminder that the Monon Greenway trail in the City Center area is still closed for construction. This section was temporarily opened during CarmelFest for event traffic. However, due to ongoing construction and improvements underway, pedestrians and cyclists must stay out of the area for safety purposes.

1st Avenue NW Duke Transmission

This project is substantially complete; remaining items include replacing some sidewalks and adjusting manholes. The next phase will include removing the aerial lines and poles; this will take place with little to no road closures needed.

Main Street roundabouts

Paving is scheduled to begin this week with the intersection functionally open by Tuesday, Aug. 9. Work outside the roadway will continue for several weeks. The north half of Lexington will continue to be open with two-way traffic while crews move from Richland Avenue to complete the south half of Lexington. More information about this project is forthcoming.

Beef & Boards offers a 'slice of paradise' this summer!

The REPORTER

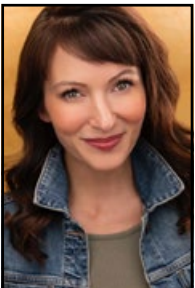

Calling all Parrotheads! Beef & Boards Dinner Theatre, 9301 Michigan Road, Indianapolis, wraps up the summer with a seaside escape to the fabulous music of Jimmy Buffett in Escape to Margaritaville, on stage starting Aug. 18.

Tully is a smooth-talking singer/bartender and a self-deprecating playboy at a tropical resort. He thinks he's got life all figured out until Rachel, an ambitious, beautiful, and career-minded tourist, steals his heart and makes him question everything.

Jimmy Buffett's Escape to Margaritaville is a musical comedy featuring both original songs and your most-loved Jimmy Buffett classics including "Cheeseburger in Paradise," "Margaritaville," "It's Five O'Clock Somewhere," "Fins," "Volcano," and many more.

With a book by Emmy Award winner Greg Garcia (My Name is Earl, Raising Hope) and Emmy nominee Mike O'Malley (Survivor's Remorse, Shameless), this hilarious, heartwarming musical is the party you've been waiting for! USA Today calls the show "A little slice of paradise," and Entertainment Weekly says, "It will knock your flip-flops off!"

Escape to Margaritaville

Kyle Southern makes his Beef & Boards debut as Tully, with Amanda Tong (Saturday Night Fever, Man of La Mancha) as Rachel. Brett Mutter (Newsies, A Christmas Story) stars as Tully's friend Brick, and Hannah Boswell makes her Beef & Boards debut as Rachel's friend, Tammy. The show is directed by Douglas E. Stark and choreographed by Ron Morgan, with musical director Terry

Jimmy Buffett's Escape to Margaritaville is on stage for 49 performances through Oct. 2 in the intimate space of Beef & Boards Dinner Theatre. Tickets range from $51 to $76 and include Chef Larry Stoops' dinner buffet and select beverages.

Midtown's Got Talent back this year in Carmel

The REPORTER

The Natural Resources Building is the place to be during the Indiana State Fair now through Sunday, Aug. 21, excluding Mondays and Tuesdays.

Located in the northwest area of the fairgrounds, the building offers information on all things DNR in air-conditioned comfort. While visiting inside, you can pick up the latest guidebooks on recreation, fishing, and hunting and trapping, along with manuals on boating, off-road vehicles, and much more.

To tie in with this year's fair theme of Fun at the Speed of Summer, many of the DNR displays will highlight some of the vehicles, machinery, and other tools and gadgets the staff uses on the job.

Outside the building is the Fishin' Pond, where children ages 5 to 17 can fish for free on Thursdays, Saturdays, and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., and 4 to 7 p.m.

Also outside, at the amphitheater, which is next to the building, you can check out the live reptiles at 10 a.m. and a live birds of prey program at 4:30 p.m. every day of the fair. More programs will be offered at am-

State Road 37 & 131st/135th Streets

135th Street east of SR 37 is currently closed as work progresses on the project. SR 37 will remain open both northbound and southbound and allow right in/right out access at 131st Street. View the detour map here.

Please drive with caution through these areas. To learn more about the State Road 37 Improvement Project and sign up to receive text updates, visit 37Thrives.com.

Technology Drive (Northeast Commerce Park)

The inside lane of Technology Drive is currently closed to traffic to allow for construction of new pavement in the inside lane. One-way traffic will be in place in the outside lane as shown here. Access to all businesses will be maintained during the construction.

Southeastern Parkway & Cyntheanne Road

The intersection at Southeastern Parkway and Cyntheanne Road is currently closed for roundabout construction and is anticipated to reopen by the end of July. View the detour map here. Schoolhouse 7 Café will remain open for business during construction. View how to access their business here.

Olio Road

Olio Road between Geist Reservoir and Haven Cove Lane, the first road south of the Geist Reservoir Bridge, may have daily lane restrictions for the reconfiguration and installation of access to Geist Waterfront

Park and the Marina. These lane restrictions will occur between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. The estimated completion date is Aug. 1.

Fall Creek Road

During the week of Aug. 1, there will be lane restrictions on Fall Creek Road, west of Geist Road, between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. to allow for Duke Energy to do utility pole maintenance.

104th Street

Now through Tuesday, Aug. 2, road resurfacing will be taking place on 104th Street east of Olio Road to Cyntheanne Road. Flaggers will be in place to help direct traffic.

116th Street

Comcast will have daily lane restrictions in place on westbound 116th Street between Cameron Drive and Allisonville Road and northbound Allisonville Road between 116th Street to the Kroger signal for overhead work. Restrictions will be in place between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Resurfacing projects

ADA ramp and curb reconstruction has started taking place in Delaware Point, Eller Run, Eller Commons, Hickory Woods, Overlook at Beaver Ridge, and Waterford Gardens as part of the 2022 Resurfacing Project. Homeowners will be notified via door hangers prior to any curb reconstruction near their home. After ADA ramp and curb reconstruction is completed, those areas will be restored with topsoil and seed. It is the responsibility of the homeowner to water the seed for the seed to germinate. Prior to road resurfacing, residents will be notified via street signage for street parking restrictions.

Americans with Disabilities Act: 32 years of work in progress

I did not grow up as a person with a disability. When the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) was signed into law in July 1990, I understood its significance, but it was not until I started losing my vision that I experienced firsthand the barriers it helps to remove. Now, as a person living – and thriving – with a disability, I encourage others to realize the importance of this essential piece of legislation.

Modeled after the 1964 Civil Rights Act, the ADA is described as an “equal opportunity law for people with disabilities.” One quarter of all Americans report the ADA has improved their life. The ADA makes a remarkable impact, but people with disabilities still face barriers to housing, employment and health care. In Indiana, nearly 60 percent of Hoosiers who are blind are unemployed. This staggering statistic underscores the challenges our communities face. How do we erase these barriers and reach the goals set out by the ADA? The solution is a combination of understanding, awareness and access. Often, the solution starts with employment.

To achieve the vision set out by the ADA, we must do more. Businesses need to understand the capabilities of people with disabilities and include them in their diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives.

At Bosma Enterprises, over 50 percent of our workforce is comprised of people who are blind or visually impaired. We do this by offering several lines of business and products to government and commercial customers. More importantly, we employ people who don’t have opportunities elsewhere. Work provides them with independence and a sense of purpose. We hope our story inspires other employers to consider how people with disabilities can make positive contributions to their workforce.

When we choose equity, we create so many “win-win” situations for our community. Employing people with disabilities can be good for business. It’s certainly good for the individual employed. On its 32nd anniversary, I hope more Americans realize the significance of the ADA and join us in continuing to remove barriers for those living with disabilities.

Lise Pace, MBA, serves as the Vice President of External Affairs at Bosma Enterprises.

Join United Way of Central Indiana for ‘Care-oke’ fundraiser

Proceeds from singing competition will benefit United Way’s ReadUP program

The REPORTER

Start those vocal warm-ups and grab your mics.

United Way of Central Indiana will play host to a karaoke competition this fall to benefit its ReadUP childhood literacy program.

Registration is now open for soloists and musical groups interested in competing for a spot to perform live at Care-oke on Nov. 9 at Old National Centre in Indianapolis.

The top 12 fundraisers will automatically qualify for the finale, and the remaining performers will be selected at random. Individual performers commit to raising at least $250, and groups commit to raising $500.

The competition is open to singers across the state of all ages. The deadline to register is Oct. 10.

United Way’s ReadUP program sends volunteers into elementary schools across seven counties to read with third graders weekly during the school year. For 15 years, the program has helped students get on track with grade-level literacy.

This will be United Way’s second Care-oke competition. The first was held in October, when nearly two dozen vocalists performed for a crowd of 200 at Old National Centre. The event raised nearly $22,000.

For contest rules and registration, visit uwci.org/careoke.

Indiana Senate passes abortion bill 26-20

By TONY BRUNENKANT
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

The Indiana Senate has passed Senate Bill 1, a near total ban on abortion, 26-20.

The bill would prohibit abortion at any stage of a woman's pregnancy other than in cases of fatal fetal abnormalities or to save the life of the mother. Victims of rape or incest who become pregnant would be able to get an abortion up to 12 weeks into their pregnancy if they are under age 16, or 8 weeks if they are 16 or older.

The vote deeply divided the Republican caucus, with 10 Republicans joining Democrats in voting against the bill for a variety of reasons. Some, like Sens. Kyle Walker, R-Lawrence, and Vaneta Becker, R-Evansville, said the bill went too far. Walker said he would prefer allowing abortions for any reason until the end of the first trimester, while Becker called the bill a betrayal of Republicans' traditional commitment to limited government. Others, such as Sens. Michael Young, R-Indianapolis, and Jim Tomes, R-Wadesville, objected to the bill's inclusion of any exception for rape or incest.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Shelli Yoder, D-Bloomington, told her own story of an unplanned pregnancy when she was 34. Then, as now, Indiana law allowed for abortion up to the 20th week of pregnancy. Yoder said she made and canceled multiple abortion appointments during that time before ultimately deciding to keep the baby.

"Knowing how difficult, how wrenching it was, how much sleep I lost over it, I would never take that decision away from someone else, or restrict the time they took to make it," said Yoder.

For her part, bill author Sen. Sue Glick, R-LaGrange, urged her colleagues to support the bill even if it wasn't their ideal solution.

"If we do nothing, if we vote this bill down, the present law in Indiana allows abortions without exception for 20 weeks. I ask you to protect those lives," Yoder added.

The measure now heads to the House.

How Hamilton County's State Senators voted

Sen. Scott Baldwin (R-Noblesville, District 20) – YEA
Sen. Jim Buck (R-Kokomo, District 21) – NAY
Sen. J.D. Ford (D-Indianapolis, District 29) – NAY
Sen. Fady Qaddoura (D-Indianapolis, District 30) – NAY
Sen. Kyle Walker (R-Lawrence, District 31) – NAY

"I am deeply disappointed that the majority chose to pass Senate Bill (SB) 1. They chose to listen to a special interest group over everyday Hoosiers, who adamantly oppose this cruel bill. The ramifications of this legislation for women are endless, even deadly. That's not hyperbole—in a state with the 3rd highest maternal mortality rate in the nation, this ban will kill women. The majority are not ending abortions, only safe ones. I firmly believe that abortion care is healthcare and this bill denies a woman bodily autonomy and her right to make her own healthcare decisions.

"Furthermore, our healthcare providers, who we lauded as heroes during the height of the pandemic, are now at risk of criminal penalties. Survivors of sexual violence and incest will be required, during one of the most traumatic times of their life, to give a notarized affidavit which will only complicate this tough situation and create more hoops to jump through.

"During testimony, we heard many faith leaders—Christian and non-Christian—speak in adamant opposition to this bill. SB 1 undermines the many religions in Indiana that have diverse thoughts and beliefs on the subject of life and abortion. No one religion should trump another under law.

"Finally, not one Hoosier genuinely testified in favor of the bill. The people of Indiana are against SB 1 and we should have scrapped the bill in the Senate. Unfortunately, we did not, and I encourage Hoosiers to reach out to their State Representative and the Governor's office to make your voice heard. I sincerely hope the bill dies in the House."

– State Senator JD Ford, D-Indianapolis

"I am deeply disappointed that the Republicans have taken Indiana back to the 1960s by depriving women of the right to make science-based decisions with their physicians and faith leaders if they so choose. This extreme legislation will harm expecting mothers and their babies, criminalize healthcare providers, and enforce a narrow religious view on all Hoosiers regardless of their faith or non-faith affiliation.

"I will continue to champion individual liberties, freedom, religious freedom, and oppose extreme anti-family legislation.

"The political infighting between Statehouse Republicans is holding Indiana back. This extreme legislation is opposed by the overwhelming majority of Hoosiers, including Republicans. Indiana can't afford reluctant or partisan leadership that places political or monetary considerations above the interests of Hoosier women."

– State Senator Fady Qaddoura, D-Indianapolis

"As the largest healthcare provider and only academic health center in the state, IU Health's priority remains to ensure our physicians and patients have clarity when making decisions about pregnancy, including the ability to address not only life-saving interventions, but also to intercede when a pregnant woman's health is at risk and to make sure our providers are not criminalized when doing so. The bill's restrictions on a physician's ability to do what is medically proven and appropriate for the health and life of a pregnant patient, plus the threat of criminalization, impact our ability to provide safe and effective patient care and could deter physicians seeking to live and practice healthcare in Indiana."

– Statement from IU Health, the largest healthcare provider in Indiana

"Serious issues remain with SB1, including loopholes that will allow most abortions to continue in Indiana, and even a rollback on some protections that currently exist for the unborn. We are hopeful these concerns will be fixed in the House and that SB1 will become a bill we can support. As it stands today, we remain opposed to SB1."

This week in Indiana's history ...

1816 – Jonathan Jennings was the first governor of Indiana. His duty was to place the state on a good financial footing, establish a court system, build a basic educational foundation, and create a banking system. After six years as governor, he went on to serve nine more years in the United States House of Representatives.

1884 – Frank Brown Shields was born in Indiana and spent his boyhood in Seymour. A graduate of Franklin College, he went on to teach at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He moved to General Electric and other companies, finally founding the Barbasol Company in Indianapolis. The firm became famous for its popular shaving cream and variety of related products.

1900 – Four young boys found an alligator in the canal near downtown Indianapolis, not far from the Statehouse. The local newspaper reported that the creature had lived along the area for about two years and had been owned by a nearby adult before its escape. The boys defeated the dangerous creature which had been a threat in the nearby swimming area.

1915 – Ruth Lilly was born in Indianapolis, where she was the great-grandchild of pharmaceutical founder Eli Lilly. She graduated from Tudor Hall and the Herron School of Art. During her lifetime she gave away hundreds of millions of dollars in support of the arts, education, health, and environmental causes. She gave special attention to the Riley Hospital for children and the Indiana Repertory Theatre.

1941 – President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed General Lewis Hershey to be Director of the Selective Service. Hershey, from Angola, Ind., was a four-star general who served in the office under six Presidents (1941 to 1970). He was the longest serving director of the Selective Service, spanning WWII, the Korean War, and the Vietnam War.

1994 – The first Brickyard 400 NASCAR race was run at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. The winner was 23-year-old Jeff Gordon from Pittsboro, Ind.

Rep. Spartz calls for U.N. ships to be deployed to Black Sea

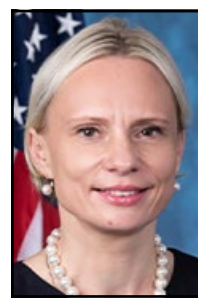

The REPORTER

U.S. Rep. Victoria Spartz sent a letter on Friday to Secretary-General of the United Nations Antonio Guterres, writing that the UN has failed to respond effectively to the largest armed aggression since World War II.

In the letter, Rep. Spartz urged Guterres to deploy UN ships to the Black Sea immediately to enforce humanitarian corridors. She also asked her Congressional colleagues to stop all funding to the UN until it can show real results.

"I am very disappointed with the lack of active UN leadership to stabilize the situation in Ukraine and restore international order,"

Spartz

Rep. Spartz said, calling the recent "grain deal" the UN's latest failure to lead.

Hours after the grain deal was reached, Spartz pointed out, Russian forces hit Odessa with cruise missiles.

"This reaffirms again that Russia cannot be trusted and effectively negates this agreement," Rep. Spartz wrote in the letter, adding that the agreement should be "put on hold until better security arrangements are provided for Ukraine."

Grand Prix brings extreme highs & lows

Alexander Rossi enjoys first INDYCAR victory since before pandemic

Noblesville's Conor Daly mounts comeback, but it was not enough

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

SPEEDWAY — The predominant emotion for Alexander Rossi after he finished the Gallagher Grand Prix Saturday was relief.

Rossi had been trying to end a long winless drought for nearly three years, and he finally succeeded at the Grand Prix. The 30-year-old Californian dominated the second half of the race and went on to claim his first NTT INDYCAR Series victory since 2019.

It was an interesting circle for Rossi. He came to the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in 2016 for the first time and walked away as a rookie champion. This was his first-ever road course victory at the Speedway, and it came at a great time.

Rossi assumed the lead on Lap 42. His Andretti Autosport teammate Colton Herta had been running in front and running pretty well. But mechanical problems sent him back to pit lane and ended his race prematurely. Once Rossi got the lead, he stayed in front by a comfortable margin until the checkered flag.

"It's a relief, man," said Rossi. "It's been so many things for so long, and I do feel for Colton, I do. But I'm happy, like, thankfully something came our way."

The race was relatively uneventful, save for Herta's sudden exit. Only five of the 85 laps were run under caution. Dalton Kellett caused two laps of yellow when he went off course early, then Simon Pagenaud went off on Lap 35, causing three laps of caution. Pagenaud and Herta were the only two drivers unable to finish the race.

Felix Rosenqvist, the pole winner, led the first seven laps before Herta took over Lap 8. Scott McLaughlin and Will Power also led laps before Herta grabbed the lead back on Lap 31. He led until Lap 42, when the mechanical issues began.

After that, it was all Rossi. Despite his winless streak, Rossi never lost confidence. He felt as if his race pace was the best of anyone else, and Rossi was asked that question during the post-race interview on NBC.

"I think (Herta) was definitely strong," said Rossi. "Obviously we have pretty much the same race car. So it would've been interesting. I don't want to take anything away from what he did from ninth to get to that position, it was incredible. But it was the 27's turn, so that's awesome."

The victory at the Gallagher Grand Prix was the eighth of Rossi's career.

Christian Lundgaard, the Danish driver competing in his rookie season, finished a strong second to Rossi. Lundgaard stayed close to Rossi during the latter half of the race, moving into the runner-up position by Lap 45 and staying there from that point forward. He cut Rossi's advantage to 2.7 seconds during the last few laps, but eventually finished 3.5441 seconds behind the winner. Lundgaard, who turned 21 last week, thus finished on the podium for the first time in 10 INDYCAR races.

"I think the result speaks for itself," said Lundgaard when asked about the progress he was making. "This weekend we knew we had a strong car. I wasn't so happy in practice. I think that was definitely something that we found there. And when we roll into qualifying with my last year's car. Look here we are."

Alexander Rossi (left), Will Power (center) and Christian Lundgaard celebrate their podium finishes with the traditional spraying of champagne after the finish of the Gallagher Grand Prix Saturday at Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Rossi won the race, ending a three-year victory drought, with Lundgaard second and Power third.

Power placed third, his 85th INDYCAR podium finish. He led the race for seven laps in between McLaughlin and Herta, eventually settled in third place, and held off McLaughlin for the second half of the race to get a podium spot.

"A great recovery, man," said Power. "You can never expect a normal day in INDYCAR. Everyone is very aggressive, and it's so hard to win in this series. It's the toughest series in the world. Great job by the Verizon 5G guys. It's amazing we can go back there and recover all the way to third."

McLaughlin finished in fourth place, with Josef Newgarden taking fifth.

Noblesville's Conor Daly talks with his team after finishing the Gallagher Grand Prix Race. Daly had a frustrating day but managed to finish in 17th place.

Noblesville's Conor Daly endured a frustrating day. He was running in sixth place during the early part of the race, but stalled out in pit lane, knocking him to the back of the field.

Daly was able to work his way back, but eventually finished in 17th place.

ALLMENDINGER WINS PENNZOIL 150

A.J. Allmendinger was the winner at the Pennzoil 150, the NASCAR Xfinity Series that took place after the Grand Prix race. Alex Bowman placed second, 2.084 seconds behind Allmendinger.

2013 Indianapolis 500 starter Allmendinger beat Alex Bowman's No. 17 HendrickCars.com Chevrolet to the finish line by 2.084 seconds on the 14-turn, 2.439-mile road course. Justin Allgaier, who won the Xfinity Series race in 2018 at IMS, finished third in the No. 7 BRANDT/Precision Build Chevrolet.

Allmendinger rallied from a slow pit stop on Lap 16 of the 62-lap race that dropped him from the lead to 14th place. He took the lead for good on Lap 45.

The main NASCAR race, the Verizon 200, takes place this afternoon, with the green flag at 2:30 p.m.

Back Together with the Colts in Grand Park

Colts Training Camp kicked off this past week at Grand Park in Westfield, and Saturday brought in a large crowd of Colts fans for the “Back Together” theme day. Fans were able to visit Colts City and watch the team practice. Admission to the training camp is free, and tickets can be picked up online. Several more theme days are planned before the end of the training camp later in August. For more information, go to colts.com/events/trainingcamp.
