WILLIS

It was a packed house Thursday night when supporters of Scott Willis came to his campaign kickoff. Photo provided need to diversify our tax base to keep taxes low. We need quality and unique housing options. We need world class amenities. We need infrastructure and a trail system that connects our community together,” Willis said. “Through strategic, smart, and intentional growth, I want to take Westfield to the next level ... to its highest potential of being a thriving city.”

During his announcement speech on Thursday evening, Willis emphasized the need for a leader with the right kind of experience to take the helm at this pivotal time in the city’s future.

“Westfield must be led by someone who has decades of experience – of leading large organizations, sizable budgets, and is a strategic thinker with a vision,” Willis said. “Someone who will ask the right questions, involve the right experts, and take responsibility for driving a well-thought-out vision.”

Willis continued: “This city is hungry for a leader who can bring Westfield’s government and community together in a transparent way to get things done and I bring a track record of doing exactly that. I am someone who can hit the ground running from day one.”

During Willis’ first term as Westfield City Councilor, he has brought a unique voice and perspective to the council as an 18-year Westfield resident, decorated U.S. Marine who served 30 years and managed a $100 million-plus operating budget, and a successful businessman.

Being ingrained in the local and veteran community has always been a priority for Willis. He currently serves as Vice President of the Westfield Public Library Board, Board of Directors for Student Impact, the President’s Council for Purdue University, Chairman of the Westfield GOP Club, and is involved in several Veteran organizations including the VFW, American Legion, and is an Executive Committeeman for the Reserve Organization of America.

Willis, and his wife Stacey, have three children: Sophia, a sophomore at Xavier University, and Brenna and Graden, both Westfield Washington Schools students.

CLOSER

At times it was hard. A good friend of mine named Nancy had reunited years ago with her birth parents, and it was practically an Oprah Winfrey Show story. She had found them unexpectedly when she was searching for non-identifying information. Nancy’s birthparents had deeply regretted giving her up, were still together, and were eager to find her again. Her mother and father had died, so finding her birth parents had been a tremendous blessing to both Nancy as well as her daughters.

I knew my own story might not turn out so perfectly, but I was determined to take that chance.

I contacted Catholic Charities well after the six-month mark in the winter of 2014-2015, and was told that they were close to finding my birth mother’s married name and the state she resided in. I also kept tabs on the Ohio Department of Health web site, which was slowly beginning to reveal the things I would need to do to get information in March. I believe they were simply being cautious so they wouldn’t be bombarded with paperwork too soon.

And as I wrote my Christmas cards that year, I made a silent wish. I hoped that in 2015, I would be sending cards to each of my birthparents.

March of 2015 arrived faster than I could have ever imagined. I repeatedly watched a YouTube video that Ohio’s Department of Health had created outlining what steps I needed to take to obtain birth and adoption records. I didn’t want to make any mistakes that might delay my potential receipt of these documents.

Mary performed her notarization magic once again, and I mailed the paperwork and a $20 check to Columbus, Ohio, on Friday, March 20, 2015. The video had discouraged people from overnighting the paperwork and payment, so I sent everything via good old regular mail.

"How long do you think it'll take, Amy?" Mary asked me. I was standing behind the closed door of her office once again that morning after having placed the envelope in the mailbox.

"I don't really know," I replied. "I'm sure they'll be bombarded and it might take, oh, maybe six weeks?" We grinned at each other almost like conspirators. After I had waited over 44 years, six more weeks seemed like nothing.

NORTHERN GOP

Some of our goals as a new club are:

1. To make it easier for Northern Hamilton County voters to meet and speak with Republicans holding and running for office.
2. Address concerns happening in the northern part of Hamilton County (Cicero, Sheridan, Arcadia and Atlanta), but all Republicans in Hamilton County are welcome.
3. Share information to help precinct committee people staff their polls and connect them with people who would like to work at the polls.

4. Inform people of upcoming events and inform them of volunteer opportunities.

PREVAIL

Advocating for Victims of Crime & Abuse

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Nickel Plate Arts partnering with Hamilton County Tourism for 200th anniversary of Great Squirrel Stampede

The REPORTER

Nickel Plate Arts is proud to partner with Hamilton County Tourism for the 200th anniversary of the Great Squirrel Stampede. Throughout the month of September, Nickel Plate Arts will host a series of events with exciting art opportunities.

In 1822, an abundance of squirrels invaded the region during their migration south, trampling crops and causing mass environmental destruction. At the time, this was devastating to central Indiana, but the story has become a part of folklore from Hamilton County's past.

Many local organizations are getting involved in this year's event. Kiln Creations, located at 60 N. 9th St., Noblesville, has unleashed 300 Clay Mold Squirrels, along with paint, all over Hamilton County.

"Kiln Creations is overjoyed to be the purveyor of fine ceramic squirrels here in Hamilton County," said Louise Blazucki with Kiln Creations. "Here's to hoping these sweet ceramic stand ins act as a talisman and protect your crop and home from being overrun by their furry counterparts!"

If you're interested in getting involved or receiving a free ceramic squirrel, Nickel Plate Arts invites the community to come to the Nickel Plate Arts campus and pick one up (limit one per family.) The Clay Squirrels will need a good home, and to pick one up you are asked to do the following:

- Attend a squirrel-related event, take a picture with a squirrel (real or window cling), bring in a receipt from a local restaurant; or
- Dance the Squirrel Stomp for a Nickel Plate Arts staff member

Nickel Plate Arts is also looking for any local writers, poets, painters, photographers, sculptors, or designers of squirrels in the community. If so, bring your art and artisan work to Nickel Plate Arts at the beginning of September and they will look for places to present it.

You must register your work by Aug. 31 at this submission link. Art work can be dropped off from noon to 5 p.m. on Sept. 1, 2, 7, 8 and 9.

This squirrel "celebration" also includes an arts initiative sponsored by Hamilton County Tourism. Event partners include the City of Fishers, City of Westfield, Primeval Brewing in Noblesville, Nickel Plate Arts, and the Carmel Clay Historical Society.

Upcoming Events

Sept. 10 at Nickel Plate Arts

- 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. – Enjoy art activities and take home a Clay Squirrel with paints and learn the Squirrel Stomp with local choreographer Gabrielle Morrison.

- 2 to 5 p.m. – Dance the Squirrel Stomp to music performed by the Moon-town Pickle Stompers.

Sept. 30 at Primeval Brewing (960 Logan St., Noblesville)

- 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. – Learn the Squirrel Stomp with local choreographer Gabrielle Morrison
- 7 to 10 p.m. – Listen, dance, and celebrate squirrels with the local rock band "The Dead Squirrels." Enjoy some good food, drink, and community inside Primeval Brewing.

Indiana Recount Commission approves dismissal of House District 32 recount petition

The REPORTER

The Indiana Recount Commission met Thursday and voted unanimously to dismiss the recount petition for the Republican Primary nomination for election for Indiana House District 32 State Representative.

Candidate Suzie Jaworowski filed the motion to dismiss after a recount of ballots in Hamilton and Marion counties. Jaworowski initially requested the recount following her May primary contest against Fred Glynn and Paul G. Nix.

The decision by the Recount Commission will result in Glynn appearing on the November General Election ballot as the Republican nominee to represent House District 32.

The Indiana Recount Commission, chaired by Secretary of State Holli-

Sullivan, is responsible for conducting the recount for federal, statewide and state legislative offices. In addition to Secretary Sullivan, the commission is comprised of two other members, Mark Wynn and Michael A. Claytor, designated by each major political party's state chair.

See over 500 collector cars at 15th Artomobilia in Carmel

The REPORTER
The first of a series of classic Indiana car sculptures planned for the 96th Street corridor between White River and Keystone Parkway will be displayed for the first time on Saturday during the 15th annual Artomobilia in the Carmel Arts & Design District. The Marmon Wasp sculpture, designed by artist Arlon Bayliss and built by bo-mar Industries, honors the car that won the first Indianapolis 500 in 1911.

Artomobilia will take place from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and will feature more than 500 collector cars and enthusiast cars lining Main Street and Range Line Road. The event is free and open to the public. Among the highlights are: Special feature – 75 Years of Ferrari, Porsche-Palooza, Lotus-Palooza and BMW-Palooza. Lotus-Palooza will feature the Lotus 56, a turbine-powered model that ran at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Owners have entered their cars into one of 25 Collector Car Classes and will be judged by event organizers. Awards will be presented for Best in Class, Penultimate (runner-up) and Best in Show, in addition to awards recognizing excellence in presentation, history, and ownership. Awards will be presented at 3:30 p.m. at the Indiana Design Center parking lot.

The Marmon Wasp sculpture will be the public's first opportunity to see the sculpture that was recently completed. The art piece was inspired in part by the well-known, artfully distorted photo and U.S. stamp that celebrates this priceless car. The abstracted sculpture slants dynamically forward. The open-framed artwork appears to sit only on one rear wheel; its front wheels rise off a pedestal to emphasize speed. The rectangular base features original IMS Brickyard bricks and Indiana limestone, which frames custom signage on each side.

Additional sculptures along 96th Street in Carmel will feature vintage automobiles. One sculpture focuses on the Auburn, Cord and Duesenberg brands. Representatives from the Auburn Cord Duesenberg Museum in Auburn, Ind., will have an information booth set up near the sculpture at Artomobilia for attendees who want to learn more about these cars.

Come let us reason together...

(Isa. 1:18).

In Isaiah 1, God was extending to His people an invitation to think. To reason is the power of the mind to think, understand, and form judgments by a process of logic. The Lord concluded His case against Israel by offering them the opportunity to be forgiven and by setting before them the alternatives of renewed blessing and final judgment.

God expects us to use our ability to reason and think. Words have meaning and meanings have consequences. God calls upon man to gather facts and in light of those facts reach conclusions.

Come let us reason...let us join together in earnest, sincere Bible study so that we might understand God's revelation to man. Thought our sins be as scarlet they can be white as wool. That is God's invitation and promise to those who will reason with Him.

Don't pass up rewarding internship opportunity with Indiana House Republicans

With colleges around the state starting classes, many students and soon-to-be graduates will begin searching for an internship. Hamilton County students looking for on-the-job work experience should apply for an in-person, paid internship with the Indiana House of Representatives at the Statehouse in downtown Indianapolis.

Interns receive an $800 bi-weekly stipend with the opportunity to apply for a $3,000 scholarship to use toward undergraduate and graduate expenses. The internship is full time, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, from January through April 2023. The deadline to apply is Oct. 31.

Internships are a great way for students to build real-world skills on top of what they're learning in the classroom. It's also a chance to strengthen a resume and earn a paycheck. Positions are open to sophomores, juniors and seniors, as well as recent college graduates, and law school and graduate students. All majors are encouraged to apply, and previous political or government experience is not required.

Our House Republican team relies on interns, who serve many roles during the legislative session. Legislative interns help track and research bills and communicate with constituents. Communications and media relations interns write news releases and email newsletters, produce video and audio clips, and help with graphic design. Students interested in research can assist the policy department with analyzing and tracking legislation and preparing committee reports.

Besides working closely with lawmakers, the House internship is an opportunity to build professional con-

Many of our interns go on to work in full-time roles, either at the Indiana Statehouse, with state agencies or in the private sector. # State Democratic lawmakers encourage college students to intern at Statehouse

The REPORTER

Indianapolis-area Democratic lawmakers are inviting the Hoosier State's best and brightest college students and recent graduates to apply for a paid internship at the Indiana Statehouse for the 2023 Legislative Session, which begins in January.

Indiana House Democrats are now accepting applications for six internship programs that immerse students and graduates in state government while providing valuable hands-on experience. When applying, applicants can choose from the following internship opportunities:

- Legislative and Constituent Services
- Policy Analyst
- Indiana Black Legislative Caucus (IBLC)
- Communications
- Ways and Means Fiscal Analyst
- Graphic and Print Design

"Giving students an opportunity to explore career pathways before they graduate is a great way to prepare them to enter the workforce. An internship with House Democrats does just that," Rep. Ed DeLaney (D-Indianapolis) said. "Any student interested in public service or becoming part of the Democratic talent pipeline should apply."

"The House Democrats' paid internship program is a great way for young professionals to gain civic experience and make lasting connections," Rep. Blake Johnson (D-Indianapolis) said. "Students are the future of our workforce and offer fresh perspective to the caucus throughout each legislative session. I look forward to working alongside this year's intern class and seeing the valuable contributions they will make to our state's lawmakers."

"This next upcoming session is a budget session, so our Ways and Means Fiscal Analyst internship will be packed with action for any college student interested in public finance and the process of developing the 2023 Indiana state budget," Rep. Gregory W. Porter (D-Indianapolis) said. "Additionally, students interested in collaborating with my office should also apply for the Indiana Black Legislative Caucus internship and Legislative and Constituent Services internship. I know students will find it engaging and fulfilling to contribute to the 123rd meeting of the Indiana General Assembly."

"Before I became a state representative, I was an intern here at the Statehouse," Rep. Cherrish Pryor (D-Indianapolis) said. "My time as an intern gave me valuable insight into how government works and paved the way for me to make a difference in the Hoosier State as a representative. Interns are a vital part of the Legislative Session. I would encourage any student interested in politics to apply for our internship programs."

"The internships with the Indiana House Democrats are a great way to learn the ins-and-outs of state government," Rep. Robin Shackelford (D-Indianapolis), who is also chair of the Indiana Black Legislative Caucus, said. "It's a wonderful opportunity that will benefit college students whether they continue in politics or not."

"Being an intern here at the Statehouse gives students the chance to not only work in local government, but to experience a fast-paced work environment that is challenging and rewarding," Rep. Vanessa Summers (D-Indianapolis) said.

The priority deadline for internship applications is Oct. 15, and the final deadline is Oct. 31. For more information and to apply, click here.

Fishers One group calls for "return to academics instead of activism"

The heart-breaking events last week regarding the treatment of the family of Noah Shahnnavaz by a Fishers High School teacher has been called into question by a local Fishers community group.

The late Elwood police officer, military veteran, and Fishers High School graduate tragically lost his life in the line of duty during a traffic stop on July 31. His younger brother returned to school for the first time last week to a class with a poster displaying "Defund the Police."

This incident, along with many others over recent years, reiterates exactly what our organization has been hearing since our inception. The community has lost confidence with the Hamilton Southeastern School District, with its direction, and lack of focus on education. We are supporting four new board candidates this fall to change that around. Tiffany Pascoe, Juanita Albright, Dawn Lang, and Ben Orr are committed to getting HSE Schools back to the core of education, parental involvement, and administrative accountability.

Fishers One was formed in 2021 by a group of community leaders and parents that discovered a lack of focus on core education in the Hamilton Southeastern School District. The once top-rated school district in the state has seen a steady decline in academic rankings over recent years.

Fishers One believes the schools should be a place to educate the community and not a place for activism. Instead, in example after example, HSE has recently been making continued national headlines for creating conflict, division and disunity.

Fishers One calls on the entire community to hold the current school board accountable by electing new district school board members on Nov. 8.

About Fishers One
Fishers One is a grassroots, community based organization dedicated to restoring academic excellence in our schools, maintaining Fishers as a great place to live, and cultivating the next generations of community leaders. ## Letter to the Editor

Carmel reader: Not job of taxpayers to pay student loans

Dear Editor:

Loan forgiveness is just another vote-buying, power-grabbing, inflation-promoting, freedom-sucking effort by our present administration.

In addition, where is it stated that the president has the right to execute this travesty?

Those that chose not to buy into the idea that everyone should go to college and decided to work and pay taxes, and those who did invest in the attainment of a college degree, paid for it and any associated loans, will now have their tax contributions (equivalent to time out of their lives) given to those who made a legal commitment that will not be enforced.

That really appears to be sensible and fair, doesn't it? Particularly, since those who will not be responsible for paying off their loans are making more money than those taxpayers on the lower end of the income scale.

Just because some source, possibly the educational establishment promoting its own interests, told you that you needed a degree at any cost and you bought into it does not mean the rest of us should pay for it.

Corbett: Pleasant Street “stroad” result of Noblesville city officials who refused to listen to citizens

Dear Editor:

Now that the carnage is underway and more buildings are bulldozed everyday, it’s a good time to take stock of where we stand on the Pleasant Street bypass and ask ourselves if the gains are worth the price.

The monetary price is upwards of $100 million and sure to rise, but what about the other costs? How do you measure the impact of losing dozens of affordable homes in the middle of an affordable home crisis? How do you measure the social costs of plowing a 100-foot-wide swath through the middle of your city and covering it with asphalt? How do you measure the costs of displacing a longtime business whose parking lot happened to be in the right-of-way (in addition to the real economic costs of buying its cooperation by helping finance a new location)?

The last administration offered assurances that the bypass (or reliever, or extension, or other word du jour) would be a city street, not a suburban road, but the clear cutting going on now seems to indicate otherwise. This will be nothing more than a thoroughfare for drivers to get across town quickly without stopping or slowing down much, right through the middle of our city. That is, a way for out of towners to avoid Noblesville, paid for by the taxpayers of Noblesville.

In the future when city leaders are asking themselves why we thought this was a good idea, they’ll shrug and figure we were working from the best data and knowledge we had at the time, but that’s not true. For years, concerned citizens have been offering suggestions on how this plan could be better, could avoid peoples’ homes, could avoid displacing businesses and open new areas for development, but the city hasn’t listened, despite holding countless “listening sessions.” Thirty years on, we are building a road on pretty much the same route envisioned when the city first started talking about it. What’s that tell you? It tells me that the “listening sessions” were just perfunctory, a waste of citizens’ time. Despite all the suggestions, we are getting a dreaded “stroad,” the street/road hybrid that’s been discredited as an economic driver and city asset. Cities all over the nation are reclaiming neighborhoods that succumbed to ill-considered highways at the same time we’re building one and plowing through a neighborhood to do it!

The only significant change in this plan since its inception avoided a historic district that the city was forced into if it wanted to continue to receive road funding in the future. Fortunately, higher government entities recognize the value of historic neighborhoods and the power of the purse in persuading local politicians to tame their ambitions. It was the right thing to do but Noblesville had to be dragged kicking and screaming into submission.

The goal? Reducing traffic on State Road 32 by 24 percent will be considered success. Is it worth the price? Everyone has to make up their own mind on that. You can do a lot of good with $100 million, or you can just waste it on a road like the Pleasant Street Extension.

Carmel Clay School Board candidate: Ignore acronyms, focus on academics

Dear Editor:

CRT, SEL and DEI, oh my!

These acronyms are receiving the most attention this election season but are not the critical issue that parents and community members must focus on.

The critical issue is academics.

Strong academics in Carmel Clay Schools will continue to drive up property values and ensure that CCS children are prepared to be responsible, well informed, and civic minded citizens in adulthood.

Carmel children must have an honest and fair understanding of how our nation’s history has unfolded without being told what to think. We must encourage this in Carmel Clay Schools with a curriculum rich in age-appropriate and accurate history lessons. A historically accurate curriculum will help our K-12 students become the critical thinkers we need to make America a more prosperous country. Simply put, children should be taught how to think, not what to think.

History and social studies must be studied honestly and accurately, but students must not be divided by the color of their skin under any circumstances. We must all be accountable for our actions as individuals, correct wrongs we are personally responsible for, and work together united rather than divided for the good of our community.

Please ignore the acronyms and focus on academics. It’s what’s best for our children and our community.

Indiana Department of Insurance provides tips for taking action against identity theft

The REPORTER

We rely on the internet to work, bank, shop, and socialize. Our health and financial information are stored online. Connected devices control everything from home security systems to thermostats and TVs. While convenient, these connections open the door for possible malicious activity. Help manage your cybersecurity risks, such as identity theft, with these tips from the Indiana Department of Insurance.

Top considerations

Identity theft is the unauthorized use or attempted use of an existing account, use of your information to open a new account, and misuse of your information to commit fraud.

Data thieves gain access to information from a variety of places, including your mailbox, home and business trash, public dumps, public records, and social media.

What you should know

How to identify your risk

You are at risk if you store personal information on a home or work computer, or if you bank or shop online. The following scenarios may be signs of compromised data:

- You see unexpected withdrawals from your bank account.
- You do not receive your bills or other mail.
- You receive bills for health services you did not use, or your health plan rejects a legitimate medical claim.

Regularly check your credit report to ensure you do not see:

- A new account you did not open.
- Unfamiliar accounts listed.
- Negative items.

How to keep your information safe online

There are basic steps you can take to secure your information and data:

- Dispose of personal information by shredding documents using a cross-cut shredder.
- Use strict privacy settings on your computer, devices, and browsers.
- Keep passwords private, and do not write your passwords down. You may consider using a reliable password manager.
- Be mindful about the personal information you share on social media.
- Be cautious of what you download from the internet. Navigate directly to websites when you need to initiate a download. Do not download anything or click links from sites or emails that someone sends you.
- If your Social Security number is requested by a vendor, ask why it is needed and how it will be used and protected.

- Remember that there is nothing wrong with telling someone that you are not comfortable sharing personal information.

Keeping your information safe also means ensuring your devices, including smart phones, laptops, desktops, tablets, and other devices, are secure:

- Update your software regularly.
- Change your passwords regularly.
- Use two-factor authentication.

• Use antivirus or anti-malware software to protect against malicious software that disrupts computer operations, gathers sensitive information, gains access to private computers, or displays unwanted advertising.

- Password protect your laptop to prevent unknown users from accessing it.

- Avoid opening emails or attachments from unknown senders.

- Back up your files to an encrypted flash drive or external hard drive.

Top things to remember

1. Regularly check your credit report for warning signs of identity theft. Indiana residents are able to get a free credit report each year. For information about how to request a free credit report, click here.

2. Any Indiana resident can request a credit freeze free of charge. There is no fee for Indiana residents to place, temporarily lift, remove or request a new password or PIN.

3. Indiana residents can file an identity theft complaint with the Indiana Attorney General's office. Click here to find links to the form.

4. The Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) has resources on how to avoid identity theft. The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has an identity theft website to report incidents and develop a recovery plan.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Is anyone among you in trouble? Let them pray. Is anyone happy? Let them sing songs of praise. Is anyone among you sick? Let them call the elders of the church to pray over them and anoint them with oil in the name of the Lord. And the prayer offered in faith will make the sick person well; the Lord will raise them up. If they have sinned, they will be forgiven. Therefore confess your sins to each other and pray for each other so that you may be healed. The prayer of a righteous person is powerful and effective.

Tigers bounce back to defeat Golden Eagles

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

NOBLESVILLE – After a tough defeat on Tuesday, the Fishers boys soccer team got a big bounce-back win on Thursday.

The Class 3A No. 1 Tigers traveled to Guerin Catholic to take on the 2A No. 4 Golden Eagles, and went back to Fishers with a 4-0 victory. The Tigers scored one goal in the first half, with Kyle Clayton getting his team on the board.

“We went to the tape yesterday,” said Fishers coach Phil Schmidt. The coach said the Tigers rested their legs and watched that game tape, “and I thought we learned a lot from it,” he said. Schmidt said it got the team focused and made the Tigers see some things they need to improve.

“I thought we put that out there on the field tonight,” said Schmidt. “Guerin’s a good team. They play hard. They’re well-coached, and so we needed to play well tonight to get the win.”

The score stayed at 1-0 for much of the second half, as the Guerin Catholic defense, anchored by goalkeeper Cameron Guntter, was able to hold off the Fishers attack. But the Tigers broke through with 15:02 left in the game when Will Sandlin scored off a Clayton assist.

That got Fishers rolling, and the Tigers would put in two more goals in quick succession. With around 10 minutes left, Santiago Morales sent a corner kick to Noah Reinhart, who headed the ball into the net for Fishers’ third goal. Seconds later, the Tigers were awarded a penalty kick, and Morales sent it in.

“As the game went on, I thought we created an increasing number of chances,” said Fishers coach Phil Schmidt. “I thought it was just a matter of time before we found the one to make it 2-0. And at that point, we just kept the pressure on.”

“A lot of our players don’t have varsity experience, and we’re learning that as we go,” said Golden Eagles coach Jim Alvarez. “The game’s 80 minutes. I thought for about 60 minutes, it was a pretty darn even game. They capitalized on our mistakes and we didn’t capitalize on theirs.”

Still, Alvarez said this is how his team gets better, playing tough competition. He was also proud of the fact that his team didn’t give up and kept playing hard.

Both teams are back in action Saturday. Fishers plays at McCutcheon, while Guerin Catholic travels to Brebeuf Jesuit for a Circle City Conference game with the 2A No. 1 Braves.

Gridiron Digest Indiana Football Report

Week 2: Greyhounds, Trojans to face off for Copper Kettle

By ANDREW SMITH
GridironDigest.com

One of the state’s top rivalries isn’t forged by being neighbors, but competition on the football field.

For the 25th time, Center Grove and Carmel will meet in the regular season, with the “Copper Kettle” trophy on the line this Friday at Center Grove.

The two programs have become two of the state’s football blue-bloods, winning five of the last seven Class 6A state titles. Carmel has eight state titles in its history, Center Grove four. Three times since 2008, they’ve met for the state championship. CG is ranked No. 1 in Class 6A, Carmel No. 4. Interestingly, the No. 2 and 3 teams – Cathedral and Brownsburg - also meet this week.

Their regular-season

Carmel quarterback Jack Kazmierczak (10) has plenty of wide receiver options, including Ohio University commit Desmond Duffy (1) as the Greyhounds travel to Center Grove tonight for the Copper Kettle game.

series has been dead-even – each team has won 12 games.

“The rivalry is very important to the players,” Carmel coach John Hebert said. “I’m trying to get them to understand that it is just one game and it’s only Week 2 but I don’t think they are buying that. It will be a very tough, physical game. (Center Grove has) won 29 games in a row, so it goes without saying that are extremely hard to beat. I think if you are a real competitor, you love a game like this. We are all excited for the opportunity.”

Center Grove, winners of the last two state titles, has the fourth-longest winning streak in the IHSAA tournament era. The longest is 34 games, held by Warren Central from 1983 to 1986. Carmel was the last team to knock off the Trojans in the 2019 state title game – and the desire for the Greyhounds’ seniors to get back to Lucas Oil Stadium is palpable.

“Our seniors were freshman when we last won the 6A title so they are very intent on earning a ring,” Hebert said. “They are very focused getting that opportunity and seem to understand that it is a season long process to get there. They’ve been a lot of fun to coach already.”

The Trojans’ attack was led last week by senior running back Micah Coyle, who tallied 221 yards and two touchdowns in a 17-8 victory over Warren Central. Tyler Cherry takes over at quarterback, with two-year starter Tayven Jackson having graduated and now playing at the University of Tennessee.

Carmel, ranked No. 4 in Class 4A, dropped a 17-7 decision to Kentucky powerhouse Louisville Trinity in the opener. Blake Matthews had 87 receiving yards and a touchdown to lead the Greyhounds, while senior Reece Bellin had 65 yards receiving last week. Desmond Duffy is an Ohio University commit, giving quarterback Jack Kazmierczak a number of quality targets.

“The 2022 Carmel team is a very experienced team with several starters returning, but as per usual Carmel will have great size and speed,” CG coach Eric Moore said of this week’s opponent. “Carmel’s offense runs the ball with speed and power, but has an excellent passing attack, with a big offensive line that is quite athletic.”

Both teams are stout defensively. Carmel’s defense is led by 6-6 linebacker Will Heldt - whom Moore cited as one of the state’s top players - and safety Winston Berglund, a fellow Purdue commit. Mason Bardwell had 15 tackles and Hunter Snow 14 against Trinity. CG’s Parker Doyle had a team-high seven tackles and an interception in the win over Warren Central. Safety Jalen Thomeson is the leading returning tackler, with 60 tackles and an interception in 2021.

For the Trojans to keep the Copper Kettle, ball control will be key.

“The Trojans will have to control the football and not have useless turnovers, Moore said. “First downs for the will be key and will keep the Carmel offense off the field. Once again the Trojan defense must eliminate the big play drive and make Carmel earn every yard.”

Battle of 5A/4A heavyweights

The first time New Palestine and Decatur Central met on the football field, it was the 2018 State Finals – a game won by New Palestine 28-14.

Even then, the two schools had planned to face off in the regular season, and they’ll face off Friday at New Palestine in a matchup of top-two teams in their respective classes. Decatur Central is No. 2 in Class 5A, while New Palestine is No. 2 in the IFCA 4A poll and No. 1 in the AP, returning to the top spot for the first time since the start of the 2020 season.

Big non-conference matchups are nothing new for either squad. This week will be New Palestine’s sixth consecutive non-conference game against a ranked team since a 2019 - facing Center Grove, Brebeuf Jesuit, Decatur Central and Westfield in that stretch, all of which have recently been to the State Finals. Decatur Central has also faced Center Grove and Westfield in recent years, as well as Franklin Central and Roncalli.

“Our number 1 goal is to win the Mid-State Conference, but a close second is to be playing our best football in November when it matters most. We feel playing great competition early helps us get to where we need to be in November,” Decatur Central coach Kyle Enright said.

DC beat Columbus North 26-12 in last week’s opener and features one of the state’s top seniors in quarterback/linebacker Aycen Stevens, a Virginia Tech commit.

“Aycen is a talented football player, but an even better young man. He leads by example and has taken that a step further as a senior and has become a vocal leader as well,” Enright said, calling Stevens a coach on the field.

Stevens and fellow linebacker Cam Renick - who are also best friends - both spent the offseason recovering from knee injuries and pushing themselves to get back into action.

“They pushed each other to get back on the field by June,” Enright said. “When your best players are your hardest workers, you have a chance to be a very good team and no one outworks Aycen and Cam.”

K.C. Berry played a big role in the Hawks’ season-opening win. He had a 35-yard interception return for a score and an 86-yard TD reception last week.

New Palestine opened the year with a 42-28 victory over Westfield, which entered the year ranked No. 6 in Class 6A. The Dragons used their offensive line - led by Louisville commit Luke Burgess and heavily-recruited junior Ian Moore - to amass 299 yards on the ground, 189 of which belonged to junior Grayson Thomas. The Dragons ran the ball on all but two of their second-half snaps.

Leading 28-14 in the third quarter, New Palestine ground out an eight-minute drive to restore a three-score lead, and then finished the game with another long march.

“We told them at half-time ... you guys are going to have to win the game for us,” New Palestine coach Kyle Ralph said. “If we’re supposed to have a really good offensive line that’s as talented as they are, as heralded as they are, those are things you expect. You put the game on their back and they delivered. For Week 1, that’s something you want to see, especially against a very good inside six as Westfield has.”

Big game in the Fort

In Fort Wayne, two heavyweights won their first games, as 5A No. 3 Snider defeated arch-rival Fort Wayne North 20-18, while 6A No. 10 Carroll won 42-3 over Luers.

This contest, which Carroll will host, is an early test for both teams and could go a long way in determining the Summit Athletic Conference champion.

Two of the last three matchups between the schools have been decided by one point.

Sophomore quarterback Jimmy Sullivan threw for 234 yards and three scores in Carroll’s win over Luers, completing passes to six different receivers. Snider coach Kurt Tippmann described the Chargers as a team that is very well-coached by Doug Dinan, plays extremely hard and has a quick, disruptive defense.

For Snider, Luke Haupt returns at quarterback and led the Panthers to an early two-score lead before they held off a late North comeback last week. The Panthers return their top three receivers.

“Game 1 is always a bit sloppy and certainly was the case for us,” Snider coach Kurt Tippmann said. “However, we were extremely proud of our players toughness and willingness to fight in a tight game and come away with a victory. I think North Side is a good team and will make tough competition for the SAC opponents.”

Tonight’s Hamilton County football games

- Carmel at Center Grove, 7 p.m.
- Guerin Catholic at Lafayette Central Catholic, 7 p.m.
- Hamilton Heights at North Montgomery, 7 p.m.
- Lawrence Central at Westfield, 7 p.m.
- Noblesville at Benet Academy (Ill.), 7 p.m.
- North Central at Hamilton Southeastern, 7 p.m.
- Pike at Fishers, 7 p.m.
- Sheridan at Clinton Central, 7 p.m.

This is the final time the SAC will play a nine-game conference schedule, as the league will split into divisions next season. Thus, each week in the 10-team conference has title implications. Snider, Carroll and Luers shared the league title with 8-1 regular-season records a year ago.

“I think our schedule is great and does do a great job preparing for the play-off season,” Tippmann said. “Each week we face players that can take over a game and score any time they touch the ball. The coaching is good and provides a great challenge every week. Next year will be different and we look forward to facing some non-conference opponents to get experience with other teams.”

Milestone win

Mooreville coach Mike Gillin reached a milestone last week in the Pioneers’ 38-13 victory over Bloomington North.

The victory was Gillin’s 350th in a career that has spanned 44 seasons. He is in his sixth season at Mooreville after stints at Indian Creek, Decatur Central and Tri-West.

Gillin led Tri-West to the Class 2A State Finals in 1989. Most recently, he took Mooreville to the semistate in 2020.

“I’ve had a lot of good support and some good kids,” Gillin told the Martinsville Reporter-Times. “The formula’s pretty obvious. If you’ve got kids who want to compete, practice and work hard, you’ll win. I’ve been fortunate enough to have a lot of those.”

Gillin is the fourth-winningest coach in Indiana, behind Sheridan’s Bud Wright (436 wins), Knox’s Russ Radtke (380 wins) and former Jasper coach Jerry Brewer (368 wins).

Mooreville hosts Danville this week.

Minutes later, Noblesville tied the game; Owen Mejia sent a diagonal long ball to Sam Divis, who dribbled the ball across the 18 and hit a hard shot past the Brebeuf goalkeeper. That tied the score, and it would stay 1-1 for the remainder of the game.

It can't be about the scoreboard, because you're going to play well and lose, and you're going to play poorly and win.

Fishers was rebounding from a tough loss to start the week, as the Tigers fell to North Central in five sets on Monday.

We're 1-1 this week," said Peek. "We played poorly, we lost. We played really well, we won. It happened to work out that way, it doesn't always work out that way."
