CERT saves lives

Stefan Muehlbauer saves wife Tiffany's life thanks to CPR training

By STU CLAMPITT
news@readthereporter.com

“On April 11, Stefan Muehlbauer graduated from the HCEM Community Emergency Response Team Training,” Hamilton County Emergency Management Executive Director Shane Booker told The Reporter. “Little did he know that four months later, he would rely on his training that would forever change his life.”

In July, Stefan and Tiffany were at work when a minor accident turned life-threatening. After a fall, Stefan realized Tiffany was not breathing and did not have a pulse. He relied on his training by remaining calm, calling 911, and immediately starting CPR. When medics arrived, they took over and transported her to the hospital, where after 21 minutes she was revived. Today, Tiffany is back to work and doing well.

At the Hamilton County Emergency Operations Center on Friday, the Muehlbauers met the dispatcher who took the call that day and Stefan was given a Life Saving Award from HCEM.

When asked to tell their story, Tiffany laughed and said, “I was just along for the ride.”

“Which is actually a running joke in our home,” Stefan said. “Tiffany says, ‘I had the easy part. I was down. I was back up. Now I’m feeling great.’”

There is, however, a fair bit more to their story. The Muehlbauers own a small business and were on a jobsite when Tiffany’s heart stopped.

That was my mom speaking when I asked her if she remembered seeing Caddyshack when it came out in 1980.

Suddenly, I remembered her same three-R-worded review about this same R-rated movie in the same kitchen 42 years ago when she and dad returned home way too early from the movie’s showing, having walked out way before the ending.

It marked the first time I ever recommended a “grownup” movie to my parents. What the hell was I thinking? They had no idea who Bill Murray and Chevy Chase were, but they always laughed at Ted “Ted Baxter” Knight on The Mary Tyler Moore Show so I thought they might enjoy seeing Knight in his scene-chewing role on the big screen, which is how God meant movies to

County Administrator Dan Stevens to retire

Public servant bids farewell after 49 years serving Hamilton County

The REPORTER

County Administrator Dan Stevens will retire on March 31, 2023. He served as Hamilton County Sheriff for eight years and as Director of Administration for the Hamilton County Commissioners for the past 14 years.

“Fate has been kind to me,” Stevens said. “I have been lucky to be at the right place at the right time during my career. You couldn’t find a better place to work in the country than Hamilton County, and I’ve been blessed to make a career of it.”

A Westfield native, Stevens first started working for the county in January 1974 as a jailor and dispatcher in the Old Jail on the Courthouse Square. Just two years later, he was promoted to a sheriff’s deputy where he also served as a Chief Deputy for eight years. Elected Sheriff in November 1986, Stevens served two terms before accepting a job as the Jail Commander for 13 years. Commissioner Steve Dillinger tapped Stevens to fill the role of Director of Administration in 2009 following Stevens’ retirement from the Sheriff’s Office.

“There was no one better for the job than Dan,” Dillinger said. “His working knowledge of the county and its leaders was a great asset to the Commissioners. His value to this administration has been nothing less than irreplaceable. He will be sorely missed.”

Stevens has been instrumental in helping county commissioners, elected officials, department heads, and employees provide governmental services and support functions while also administering large-scale capital projects like the expansion of the Hamilton County Jail, construction of the new Hamilton County Employee Parking Garage, and the site master planning of the corrections complex.

“I certainly didn’t plan to make a career out of public service when I started as a dispatcher,” Stevens quipped. “I just needed a job. But having a front seat to the growth of Hamilton County and helping wherever I could to improve residents’ quality of life and protecting everything we value has been a bonus.”

Stevens and his wife plan to finish traveling to all 50 states in retirement. The couple also has five grandkids ranging in age from 13 years to seven months they’d like to spend more time with.

“There are only so many grains of sand in an hourglass,” Stevens said. “And we still have a laundry list of things we’d like to do. While I’ll certainly miss all the good people I’ve worked with, the time has come to bid farewell.”

Amy Shankland pens book seeking more understanding in modern society

The REPORTER

Author and grant consultant Amy Thornton Shankland has announced the release of her compassionate new book, Interviews by a Clueless White Woman, published by Warren Publishing.

Her book launch will take place from 3 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 28 at Ginger’s Café, 1111 S. 10th St., Noblesville.

Shankland grew up in a “typical middle-class” white household in Northern Indiana and came to realize that civil, women’s, and social rights movements didn’t solve as many problems as she was taught to believe.

The annual Westfield Lions Club Fish Fry will be held Friday, Sept. 9 and Saturday, Sept. 10 at the Christ United Methodist Church, 318 N. Union St., Westfield. The Lions will serve from 5 to 8 p.m. both days.

“This year’s menu features a Full Meal Deal, which includes a fish sandwich, two sides, and a drink for $12,” Event Chair Bill Nesbitt said. “Our customers can dine inside the church or use the popular drive-thru concept we introduced at last year’s Fish Fry. All the customers have to do is drive in, place their order with a Lion, pay and pick up their food, and drive out.”

The Fish Fry menu consists of fish sandwiches, hot dogs, side dishes – including baked beans, cole slaw, and potato salad – and drinks. Nesbitt added that desserts have returned to the menu this year.

on the driveway,” Stefan said. “Immediately, from her eyes being opened, I could see something was just not right. On a whim I had joined CERT [Community Emergency Response Team] in February of this year because I thought it was reckless not knowing first aid and CPR and all of those things. I thought it would be a good thing to learn in case I needed it. It was good.”

Thanks to his CERT training, when Stefan realized Tiffany was not breathing and had no pulse, he knew exactly what to do. He told the nearest person to call 911 while he began performing CPR. Nate Nelson took the call and the first responders were on site within minutes.

According to both Muehlbauers, the first responding officer was a police officer who delivered three shocks to Tiffany using an automated external defibrillator (AED). Stefan and the officer then took turns performing CPR until paramedics arrived and reestablished a heartbeat.

“We received the greatest care at every step along the way,” Stefan told The Reporter. “From the 911 call coming in until just a week later being released from Ascension St. Vincent on 86th Street. The care has just been tremendous.”

Tiffany responded to every question with humor. “Everybody keeps telling me I’m a miracle, but I just didn’t know I was supposed to stay down, so I just keep going.”

According to Stefan, when he was talking to doctors, they told him Tiffany is still here because of CPR.

“I just wish that more people would learn it,” Stefan said. “It definitely saves lives.”

The day Tiffany was released from the hospital was the Muehlbauers’ 20-year wedding anniversary.

There was no history of heart problems with either Tiffany herself or in her family history. According to the Muehlbauers, doctors told them her heart stopped as a result of the head injury.

were there and the amazing people in Westfield,” Tiffany said. “Everyone needs to learn CPR. It does save lives. And it would be great if Hamilton County could invest more in AEDs – and more businesses as well. They are not that expensive.”

In addition to the Life Saving Award, Stefan and Tiffany Muehlbauer also met the man who took that 911 call: Nate Nelson.

Nelson has worked for Hamilton County EMA for 10 years. He has been a dispatcher for a total of 21 years. He told The Reporter this was the first time he had ever been able to meet a patient after a call.

Booker called all the 911 dispatchers the sentries for Hamilton County.

“They stand there ready,” Booker said. “They go through all this extensive training and they are ready to pick up the phone at any given moment. But no one thinks about what they have to go through with another person on the other end of the phone.”

According to Hamilton County Public Safety Communications Director of Operations Larken Uhrick, getting to know the outcome of one of these calls is expectational and rare.

“It’s like reading a book and you get clear to the last chapter, but you never know what happens to that patient afterwards,” Uhrick said. “It’s nice to celebrate this because we can see what happened and celebrate that there was a happy ending.”

Advocating for Victims of Crime & Abuse

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

OK, at 15, I goofed on this golf movie recommendation.

Ted Knight was OK for my parents, but Rodney Dangerfield and Bill Murray did them in.

Dad was disturbed by Dangerfield's "popcorn fart" gag during the classy dinner scene. ("Whoa, did somebody step on a duck?")

It was the Baby Ruth candy bar scene that made mom snap – still the movie's most memorable scene for me, a wonderful parody of "Jaws," with the chocolate candy bar floating in the club's pool playing the shark, sending bathers into a splashy panic, ending of course with Bill Murray taking a bite from what everyone else assumed was a turd.

"Revolting!"

"Repulsive!"

"Raunchy!"

Hearing mom say those words in 1980 substantiated what I already knew: Caddyshack was a summer classic!

My golf professional friend Troy Newport, General Manager at Cog Hill Golf & Country Club (and two-time Butler University golf team MVP), is still nuts about the movie. For golf guys like Troy, Caddyshack was (pardon the pun) a stroke of comedic sports movie genius.

"It is easily the most quote-worthy movie for any golfer ever!" says Troy. "Even though it was released in 1980, it is the quintessential '70's golf experience with the clothes, the music, the stereotypes. And the dialogue still holds up amazingly well. I saw it with my buddies in Logansport, Ind., and hid the R rating from our parents because I don't think we were 17 yet."

Ask Troy about his favorite scene and you might as well just watch the whole movie: "Ted Knight wiping everything off the desk because his lamp is in the way. Bill Murray hitting the flowers with a weed whip. I used one of those things a lot when I was young. Rodney Dangerfield coming into the Pro Shop with Wang. I've seen a lot of those type of customers in my day! Mrs. Smails asking Danny to 'loofah' her stretch marks. Ty Webb on the practice green – Mitch Comstein! Pool or the pond. Caddy Day at the pool. Right in the lumberyard. Too many to mention!"

Is Caddyshack the go-to movie for golfers, I ask.

"Without a doubt! Some younger people might mention Happy Gilmore or Tin Cup but neither one can hold Caddyshack's jock strap!" he says. "My favorite character was always Ty Webb. He was cool, the girls liked him, and he was mysteriously weird too. I loved that he delivered his zingers in a nice way. But I related to Danny Noonan the most, of course. I was a young hot-shot golfer at my course and was pretty naïve about how things really worked. Danny was oblivious to all the politics and class issues, just like me!"

Troy has even gone so far as to dress like several of the characters – Judge Smails, Bill Murray and Danny Noonan – at various events, including a Halloween party that I attended long ago.

"Conservatively, I have seen the movie at least 50 times. Whenever it's on cable, I try to convince anyone in the room to enjoy it with me. Now that I'm older, I particularly enjoy the Rodney Dangerfield and Ted Knight parts! They were both comedic geniuses in that movie," he says. "Perfect casting and great writing. It is so good that all attempts to top it with another golf movie have fallen flat! I love irreverent movies and this one is one of the most politically incorrect ever without being overly gross or mean."

"Look how many people were caught at their peak in this movie! Harold Ramis, Rodney Dangerfield, Chevy Chase, Bill Murray, Ted Knight, Brian Doyle Murray. It has the only movie scene ever with Chevy Chase and Bill Murray together! Just a classic. Sort of like the 'Citizen Kane' of golf movies."

Give 42-year-old Caddyshack another look this summer, or a first look if that's your case (sorry Mom).

The movie's theme song, Kenny Loggins' "I'm Alright," will likely stick with you longer than you want. But that's a good thing. Oh, and of course, God bless the gopher.

"Revolting!"

"Repulsive!"

"Raunchy!"

Just the way I like them.

In the book Shankland shares her candid discussions with these individuals; their voices and stories shine through – and hopefully educate along the way.

Throughout her research, when Shankland asked her interviewees what the first step toward understanding was, she heard over and over "Just talk to me." Most people were open to talking about their cultures, what they deal with on a daily basis, their religion, their disabilities, etc. Shankland said she hopes that sharing these interviews will help increase understanding and unite us in our humanity.

"I learned so much from writing this book," Shankland said. "The biggest thing I need to do now is to keep on learning. My eyes are open and I look forward to correcting my mistakes and doing better as I live the rest of my life."

Shankland says she also hopes these interviews will open the door for more discussions because even though she's learned a lot, she recognizes that there

Letter to the Editor

Carmel reader wonders about possible corruption in Carmel government

Dear Editor:

I had occasion to spend the day at the new Franciscan Hospital in Carmel this morning. Since they still have stupid mask rules, I availed myself of the opportunity to stay outside for part of the time by reading next to a beautiful statue of a praying nun, hard by the vacant Meridian Suburban neighborhood.

I was reading Once in a Great City about Detroit in the early 1960s, when I read "Now the Gotham [hotel] was designated for demolition to make way for a hospital parking garage."

I gazed upon the parking garage of the hospital, which was paid for by diverting taxes from the rest of the local governments' regular spending on items like schools, parks, police, and fire. But Carmel is different, right? It will never be like corrupt Detroit, where the Gotham was raided for illegal gambling.

Except, still unreported by the local media, Brainard's favorite 'rona testing company has been charged with fraud by the Massachusetts Attorney general:

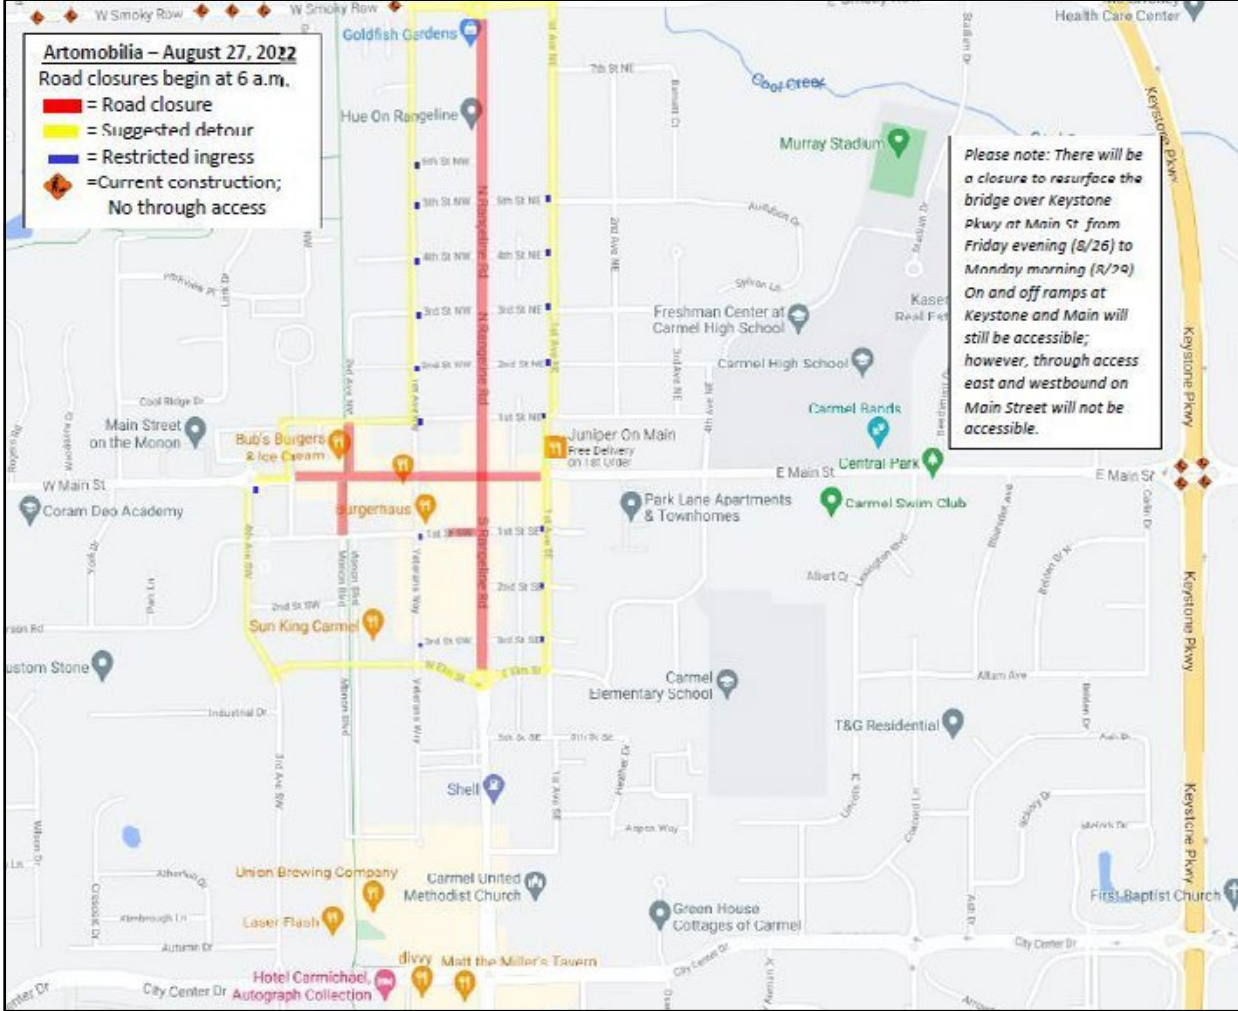

Three Clinical Laboratories and Their Owner Charged With Defrauding MassHealth, Money Laundering and Illegal Kickbacks | Mass.gov

Will our new DA have the courage to look into Brainard's dealings? Probably not.

INDOT begins U.S. 31 study

The REPORTER

The Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) is asking for Hoosiers' input as it begins a streamlined planning process along the U.S. 31 corridor. The ProPEL U.S. 31 study will use a collaborative approach to consider environmental, community and economic goals early in project development.

The two-year study will follow the Planning and Environmental Linkages (PEL) process used by transportation agencies, such as INDOT, to assess innovative ways to address transportation challenges and needs. PEL studies allow INDOT to interact with communities as they share ideas and feedback related to long-term solutions on U.S. 31.

The process includes development of alternatives that balance input from the community with transportation engineering needs and environmental concerns. The information, analysis and decisions made during the PEL process can be leveraged in later phases of project development, including the environmental review process based on requirements established in the National Environmental Policy Act.

The studies span U.S. 31 between Hamilton County and Plymouth (excluding the Kokomo bypass). Counties within the study area include Fulton, Hamilton, Howard, Miami, and Tipton counties.

Anticipated completion of ProPEL U.S. 31 is in fall of 2024. With community support, the study will identify a range of alternatives, including a no-build alternative for each corridor.

Information gathering

The PEL study will be collaborative, data-driven and influenced by the public's ideas. Throughout the process, INDOT will invite input from communities along the corridor to identify what needs and concerns should be addressed by future improvements. With help from residents, motorists, businesses and other road users, INDOT can build infrastructure that will better serve Hoosiers. The studies will gather questions, concerns and ideas through a variety of means, including project websites, social media, and in-person and virtual public information meetings.

The first round of public meetings is planned for this fall. More information about each meeting will be available later.

ProPEL U.S. 31 is about what is possible. INDOT and the public will look at transportation challenges and needs, and work together to identify solutions that will enhance safety, mobility and economic development along each corridor. INDOT will evaluate the public's suggestions to provide recommendations using engineering, environmental, economic and community factors.

Once the studies are complete and funding is identified for projects, INDOT will move into the next phases of development using the feedback and alternatives gathered during the PEL process.

For more information on each study, and to share ideas, visit ProPELUS31.com.

Come let us reason together...
(Isa. 1:18).

In Isaiah 1, God was extending to His people an invitation to think. To reason is the power of the mind to think, understand, and form judgments by a process of logic. The Lord concluded His case against Israel by offering them the opportunity to be forgiven and by setting before them the alternatives of renewed blessing and final judgment.

God expects us to use our ability to reason and think. Words have meaning and meanings have consequences. God calls upon man to gather facts and in light of those facts reach conclusions.

Come let us reason...let us join together in earnest, sincere Bible study so that we might understand God's revelation to man. Thought our sins be as scarlet they can be white as wool. That is God's invitation and promise to those who will reason with Him.

City completes 28th White River cleanup

The City of Noblesville played host to its annual White River Clean Up program on Friday with efforts to beautify the amenity's water and neighboring land. This is the 28th year the city has led a conservation project of the waterway. The White River Alliance, in cooperation with White River Canoe Company, offered canoes and kayaks to interested volunteers. After being launched from Rusty Oar, groups removed trash from the waterway as they enjoyed their time on the river. The annual clean-up brings awareness of the river and will hopefully positively impact everyone's commitment to protecting it for the future. CDC: 6 Indiana cases of E. coli possibly linked to Wendy's lettuce

By ASHLEY FOWLER
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

At least six people from Indiana have fallen ill in a multistate E. coli outbreak that may be linked to romaine lettuce from Wendy's, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention said Thursday.

Eighty-four people from four states – Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, and Pennsylvania – have fallen ill with the same strain of E. coli since July 26. Thirty-eight people have been hospitalized, but no deaths have been reported.

The source of the outbreak has not been confirmed, but 52 of the 62 people interviewed by the CDC reported eating burgers and sandwiches with romaine lettuce from Wendy's in the week before falling ill.

As a precaution, Wendy's has stopped using lettuce on sandwiches at restaurants in Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, and Pennsylvania.

The CDC is working to confirm whether romaine lettuce is the source of the outbreak and whether the romaine lettuce used in Wendy's sandwiches was served or sold at other businesses.

It's still safe to eat at Wendy's, the CDC says, and there is no evidence that romaine lettuce sold in stores or served in other restaurants is linked to the E. coli outbreak.

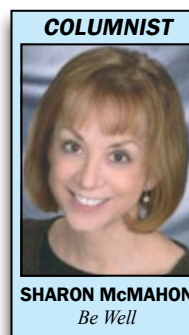

Symptoms of E. coli can take three to four days to appear and can include diarrhea, a fever higher than 102°F, vomiting, dizziness, dry mouth and throat, and dehydration. Most people recover without treatment in five to seven days.

Noticing more stress in your life? Take time to take care of yourself

"With the new day comes new strength and new thoughts." – Eleanor Roosevelt

Although August is nearing its end, I was contemplating that as we move toward to Fall, August is actually "National Wellness Month" – and although I never know who/what all the special days/weeks/months are named for, I am all for every month being a "wellness" month!

The level of stress we are all feeling (except for our pets which have had an extra amount of petting/walking/talking-to of late!) is due to the uncertainty and discomfort brought on by dealing with the COVID situation and the resulting schedule changes that many of us have endured. The stress response in our bodies is there for a reason; it is a survival tactic and is intended for dangerous situations, allowing the body to face a threat or flee to safety. Your pulse quickens, your brain uses more oxygen, your breath comes faster – functions intended for survival.

SHARON McMAHON
Be Well

When stress becomes chronic and the effects accumulate in the body, the result can be serious health problems, which may include sleep disorders, digestive issues, a weakened immune system and other complications.

Although I am by nature an optimistic person, being a "Type A" is certainly a challenge these days! Working at home is becoming common for many, although there can be a tendency to work many hours more than we would in our physical workplaces away from home. It is very important to limit or budget your time and retain a similar schedule pre-pandemic.

There are other strategies and habits to make this time more manageable and less stressful, let's review some of those:

1. Take 10 minutes to stretch when you wake up and again before bed.
2. Go outside for a walk for 10 minutes or an entire afternoon.
3. Drink a full eight glasses of water each day, unless you have a medical condition which prohibits.

4. Experiment with a new workout.

5. Turn on music and dance around your house. (One of my favorites!)

6. Give your mind a workout with crosswords, Scrabble, etc.

7. Go an entire day without foods that have added sugar.

8. Spend 10 minutes with deep, focused breathing.

9. Add a green veggie to every meal or snack.

10. Take yourself on a picnic with a view. (I am going to do this one!)

We are moving through a time of uncertainty, sometimes feeling helpless but knowing that although we cannot change the world, we can take responsibility for taking care of ourselves to the best of our abilities. Stay strong.

Public invited to Noblesville School Board candidates forum

The REPORTER

The Noblesville Teachers' Forum will hold a public panel at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 6 at Noblesville City Hall, 16 S. 10th St. The event will be moderated by community member Patrick Probst. This is an opportunity for the community to hear from the candidates and answer questions submitted by different stakeholders.

All candidates who have filed with the Hamilton County Election Office for the two open at-large seats for the Noblesville School Board have been contacted and invited to attend. The event is open to the public and all are welcome to attend.

Questions will be provided to the candidates prior to the panel, and each candidate will have the opportunity to respond to each question. A streaming or virtual option is yet to be decided.

The Noblesville Teachers' Forum is the exclusive representation of all certified educators in Noblesville Schools, but this event is not sponsored by Noblesville Schools. The offering of this event is not a public endorsement of any candidate, but an opportunity for the community to learn the platforms and positions on which the candidates are running.

If you have questions or would like more information, contact Noblesville Teachers' Forum President Allison Haley at (574) 520-8220 or email at alischwing@gmail.com.

The case for more parental involvement

One of the guiding principles of the Carmel Clay School Board is that parent involvement enhances the learning experience. They act otherwise.

Since the beginning of the pandemic, the school board put an end to parent-teacher conferences, prevented parents and grandparents from having lunch at school, and suspended parents from commenting at school board meetings.

What kind of collective

GUEST COLUMNIST

punishment and exclusion should parents expect next? Will they put an end to meet the teacher night? Will they prevent parents from attending school games?

Thanks to voters, a safety referendum was approved that placed a school resource officer in every school. I have not seen many reports of parents harming others in the school setting, even in cities with high crime rates.

I believe that parents do more than enhance the learning experience. Parents are our children's first teachers.

According to the U.S. Census, 72 percent of Carmel citizens who are 25 and older have a bachelor's degree or higher. Recently, Carmel was ranked the third-safest city in the United States by safewise.com. According to safewise.com, the cities on their list have lower violent crime rates, property crime, and sex offenders.

If Carmel Clay Schools values parents, they have a strange way of showing it.

Full disclosure: I am running for Carmel Clay School Board. Candidates across the country have "parental involvement" in their platform because of what our school board is doing. It is also why Indiana's Attorney General Todd Rokita felt compelled to develop and publish a Parents' Bill of Rights.

If I am elected to serve on the school board, I will do my best to ensure that parents are valued beyond just enhancing the learning experience.

Westfield's own Joey Chestnut breaks world popcorn-eating record at Victory Field

By ASHLEY FOWLER
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Professional eater Joey Chestnut can add "record holder at Victory Field" to his long list of accomplishments.

Chestnut ate a total of 32 24-ounce servings of popcorn in eight minutes just before Wednesday night's game between the Indianapolis Indians and Rochester Red Wings.

The Westfield resident crunched and munched on enough popcorn to break the previous record of 28.5 servings set last year in Las Vegas.

Before taking on the challenge, Chestnut checked in with News 8 and shared his strategy.

"I'll be drinking water. One hand is going to be gripping the right side handful, squeezing it just enough," Chestnut said. "One chew in my mouth, and a sip of water to chug it down. Maybe a couple of chews toward the end of the contest. My throat's going to be tired so I'm going to have to chew a little bit more. I might have to drink a bit more water. It's going to be a battle."

Chestnut's new record in the World Popcorn-Eating Challenge is his 50th competitive eating world record. He has set – and broken – the Nathan's Famous Hot Dog and bun eating record 15 times. His other records include eating 182 chicken wings in 30 minutes and 18 pounds, 9.6 ounces of St. Elmo shrimp cocktail in eight minutes.

After Chestnut chowed down, the Indians opened a five-game series against the Red Wings with a 3-2 victory. The Indians and Red Wings meet again at the Vic on Wednesday. The first pitch is at 1:35 p.m.

See tributes to Neil Diamond & Bruce Springsteen at Kroger Symphony on the Prairie

The REPORTER

It's the final weekend of Kroger Symphony on the Prairie 2022.

On Friday, Sept. 2, Kroger Symphony on the Prairie presents Super Diamond: The Neil Diamond Tribute, a glittering, smoke-filled show performing Neil's power ballads and up-tempo hits with unrestrained enthusiasm.

The show is pure entertainment – classic music combined with fun, energy, and passion – creating nostalgia for the good old days and excitement for today's generation. This tribute to the much loved, international pop icon Neil Diamond features the timeless classics including "Sweet Caroline," "America," "Cracklin' Rosie," "Cherry Cherry," "Song Sung Blue," "Forever in Blue Jeans" and many more.

On Saturday, Sept. 3, Kroger Symphony on the Prairie presents The Springsteen Experience: A Tribute to the Boss.

There has never been an artist who personified the essence and soul of working-class America like Bruce Springsteen. Josh Tanner is a Jersey-grown reincarnation of "The Boss" himself. The cast has the look and sound of the Jersey Shore. A Springsteen show is a near-religious ritual, a marathon affair that leaves both audience and performers exhausted and elated. The same powerful, exuberant spirit that Bruce exudes is portrayed to perfection in fellow Freehold native son, Josh Tanner, and he's keeping that fire burning.

On Sunday, Sept. 4, Kroger Symphony on the Prairie presents Here Come the Mummies.

Here Come the Mummies (HCTM) have been delivering their brand of Terrifying Funk from Beyond the Grave since the year 2000 A.D. Some say they are reincarnated Grammy-winning studio musicians, some say their internal organs lie in clay pots back in Egypt. Regardless, HCTM's mysterious personas, cunning song-craft, and unrelenting live show will bend your brain and melt your face.

Warning: Contains adult content. May not be suitable for young children.

Just added! Rock E Bassoon, a rock ensemble featuring Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra musicians, will open the Mummies concert. Founded in 2016, Rock E Bassoon has evolved into a tight, cohesive ensemble of top-notch professional musicians performing great music from the 1930s through the present. REB has been featured on WFYI, the Indianapolis Star, WTHR-TV, and The Bob and Tom Show. All your rock favorites ... on bassoon.

Indiana Hospital Association recognizes Indiana National Guard for pandemic assistance

The REPORTER

The Indiana Hospital Association (IHA) has honored the Indiana National Guard for its unwavering support during the COVID-19 global pandemic.

During one of the most trying times in health care history, more than 1,500 Indiana National Guard members spent nearly three months assisting health care workers in hospitals and nursing homes across the state.

"Hospitalizations were at an all-time high during the months the National Guard stepped in to assist," IHA President Brian Tabor said. "Health care workers were physically and mentally exhausted and the Guard's arrival was like watching the cavalry come around the corner. Their hard work and willingness to help provided much needed relief to our front-line caregivers."

By the end of January 2022, the Indiana National Guard had provided over 52,000 total support hours at 58 hospitals across the state, from rural facilities to urban safety net hospitals.

IHA presented the Indiana National Guard with a board resolution thanking them for their service to hospitals, along with a $50,000 donation from member hospitals and the Hahn Foundation to the Indiana National Guard Relief Fund (INGRF), which supports Hoosier guard families during deployment.

"The Indiana National Guard Relief Fund has served our active guard members since 2003 thanks to the generous donors in our amazing state," INGRF Coordinator Marla Miller said. "Because of organizations like IHA and its member hospitals, we are able to protect our service members from financial hardships and build programming to assist them in suicide prevention, sexual assault awareness, youth and children programming, and survivor outreach."

IHA Board Chairman Brad Smith, president and CEO of Rush Memorial Hospital, said he is thankful for the Indiana National Guard's steadfast commitment that brought much needed relief to Indiana hospitals during a very critical time.

"Words cannot express the overwhelming sense of joy and gratefulness the staff experienced seeing the National Guard walk through our doors ready to help," Smith said. "I want to commend the National Guard for everything they did during the pandemic. They stepped in to aid those who typically do the healing and this allowed us to provide the best care to our patients and our communities – they were all angels on earth."

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Elijah was a human being, even as we are. He prayed earnestly that it would not rain, and it did not rain on the land for three and a half years. Again he prayed, and the heavens gave rain, and the earth produced its crops.

My brothers and sisters, if one of you should wander from the truth and someone should bring that person back, remember this: Whoever turns a sinner from the error of their way will save them from death and cover over a multitude of sins.

Westfield gets in win column, fends off speedy Lawrence Central in home opener

By CRAIG ADKINS
For The Reporter

WESTFIELD – The intensity was high from the opening kickoff and it didn’t let up until late in the fourth quarter. The Lawrence Central Bears and Westfield Shamrocks were both looking for their first win of the young season.

It became a battle of who could overcome the penalties that mounted up throughout the game. Westfield was able to take advantage and get past the total of 37 yellow flags thrown between the two teams, coming out on top with a 42-27 win over the visiting Bears.

The ‘Rocks wanted to get off to a great start on defense and that’s exactly what they did.

Lawrence Central lined up to punt on 4th down and two at its own 28. Linebacker Charlie Dager broke free through the line to block the punt, deflecting it into the end zone where Ethan Colling dove on the ball just across the goal line for the touchdown. Less than a minute into the game, Westfield was already up 7-0.

“We made a big deal about getting off to a great start in this game, and we typically do. That’s something we’ve been real strong about in the first quarter and we didn’t get that at New Palestine,” stated Westfield head coach Jake Gilbert on his team’s great start on defense.

After forcing LC to punt on the next possession, the ‘Rocks offense didn’t start real well. Cole Ballard threw an interception that was tipped and reeled in by DJ Morton.

The Bears then put a drive together that ended kind of quirky. Ahmaad Duff found an opening, carrying the ball 13 yards to the goal line, diving to the front left pylon. When Duff lunged out, he was still inbounds and the ball came loose, into the end zone for a touchdown.

Westfield then had a statement drive. Running back Terry Williams got it started quickly with a 42-yard scamper down to the 38 of LC. The next play, Ballard called his own number, running untouched 38 yards later for the score. This put the Shamrocks up 14-0.

“That was a critical juncture for our football team to get off to that fast start,” said Gilbert on his team jumping out to a two-score lead early.

That lead didn’t last long. On the first play of the Bears’ next series, quarterback Bryson Luter passed to a wide open Duff for an 80-yard touchdown strike. Luter then hit Jacob Franklin across the back of the end zone for the two-point conversion, cutting the Westfield lead to 14-8.

Then, it only took 30 seconds for Ballard to loft a TD pass to Gabe Arambolles and 58-yards later, it was 21-8.

“He (Ballard) was fantastic. I don’t think our offense got stopped, if we stopped ourselves with a turnover or a penalty, but he’s the engine that makes us go. He’s ultra competitive, ultra talented and a great quarterback,” stated Gilbert on senior first-year starting quarterback Cole Ballard.

The Bears trimmed the deficit to 21-14 on a two-yard run from Elijah Jackson. The two-point pass failed, but here’s the real kicker: Lawrence Central had three different penalties whistled, backing the attempt up to the 38 and they still insisted on attempting the two-point try. The pass failed after they only gained 20 yards.

Westfield came out in the third quarter with intentions of keeping the game out of reach for Lawrence Central.

On the Shamrocks’ second play of the half, Ballard threw a dart to tight end Max Nosler for a 65-yard score, pushing the Westfield lead back to two scores at 28-14.

“We’ve got two great tight ends and those guys are beasts. One’s a junior and the other a sophomore, so we feel pretty good about having those guys in the game. They’re multi-tool players, physical blockers and great receivers, too,” said Gilbert, praising his two tight ends in Nosler and Mikeah Webster.

Bryson Luter punched it in on LC’s next possession to get it back to one score again. The Shamrocks went to the air again.

Nosler pulled in a 33-yard touchdown on a 3rd down and six at the Bears’ 33. That made it again a 14-point lead at 35-21.

The Bears got one more score when Mataio Russell ran in from one yard away, narrowing the gap again to eight at 35-27.

Early in the fourth, Ballard went 19 yards for his second rushing touchdown that would wind up as the final score of 42-27.

Luter led Lawrence Central (0-2) with 86 yards on 14 carries, while Jackson had 85 on 16. Luter also threw for 304 yards, going 21-for-36 with a TD and an interception. Duff caught 5 for 124 yards, while Demarcus Cole snagged nine passes for 99 yards.

The Bears will battle for bragging rights in Lawrence Township, taking on Lawrence North (1-1) next Friday, Sept 2. The Wildcats lost at Whiteland, 24-13 on Friday.

Westfield was able to balance the run and pass to keep Lawrence Central’s defense guessing.

“I thought he (Terry Williams) was great. The o-line was special tonight. That’s a great defense. These are the same guys that held HSE to one touchdown last week and we came out here and scored 42,” said Gilbert on his junior running back in Williams and crediting the offensive line where credit was due.

Williams finished with 87 yards on 12 rushes, while Ballard ran for 72 on just four attempts. Ballard improved and proved himself through the air, going 12-of-21 for 206 yards and three scores and two interceptions.

Max Nosler highlighted the pass catchers with three receptions and 107 yards, the first two for touchdowns. Gabe Arambolles caught six for 91 yards and a TD.

The Shamrocks (1-1) stay home next Friday to host the Zionsville Eagles (2-0) to open up Hoosier Crossroads Conference play. Zionsville beat Lebanon at home on Friday, 42-6.

Can't tame Fighting Tigers

By RICHIE HALL

sports@readthereporter.com

FISHERS – It turns out you can only tame a Tiger for so long.

The Fishers football team was being held off by Pike for most of the first half of the Tigers' home opener on Friday night. But Fishers kept fighting, and had things rolling by the fourth quarter, turning an early second-period deficit into a 28-17 victory. The Tigers used a mix of big pass plays, resolute running and solid defense to pick up their second win in as many games this season.

"First off, I got to credit our players," said Fishers coach Curt Funk. "They responded. We had adversity to start off, even in that third quarter." The coach said his kids "never quit," and credited the coaches with doing "a good job of just making adjustments at halftime. And our kids bought into it."

Neither team scored in the first quarter. The Red Devils scored the first 10 points of the second period, first by making an early field goal, after which Jeremiah Berry took a 14-yard run into the end zone.

Fishers got the ball back with 31 seconds left in the half, and made its first big play of the game. Starting from the Tigers' 30, Lucas Minns threw a 35-yard pass to JonAnthony Hall, putting Fishers into Pike territory.

Since it worked so well, why not do it again? That's what they did, with Minns tossing another 35-yard pass. Hall caught it, and went into the end zone. A Jon Tangara extra-point kick got Fishers within 10-7 at halftime.

The Red Devils dealt the Tigers a blow to begin the second half, as Josh Woods intercepted Minns on the very first play, taking the ball 37 yards to score. Just like that, Fishers was down 17-7. Funk wasn't about to let Minns stay down, however.

"That's over," Funk told his quarterback. "Take a deep breath, all right, we'll focus on the next series."

Hall helped out his quarterback with a 58-yard kickoff return, putting the Tigers in excellent field position at the Pike 20. Carson Dunn made a couple of six-yard runs to get Fishers to the 8, Khobie Martin moved the ball to the 6, and Minns took care of business from there, running into the end zone. Another Tangara kick followed, and Fishers was now within 17-14.

The Tigers took the lead on another big play early in the fourth quarter. Minns threw a pass to Joe Syrus, who turned it into an 80-yard touchdown throw. Fishers had the lead, and Tangara kicked another extra point to make the score 21-17.

Meanwhile, Fishers' defense was starting to find its rhythm. The Tigers held the Red Devils to a three-and-out on the next drive. Fishers had the ball back at its own 30, and then it became Martin's turn to shine.

Martin opened the drive with a 23-yard run to get into Pike territory. The Tigers kept grinding it down the field, and Martin finished the drive with an eight-yard TD run up the middle. Tangara then made his fourth extra-point kick of the game.

"We preach discipline, accountability, toughness, never quit," said Funk. "Our kids, they lived that tonight."

Minns finished the game 9-of-15 for 199

Millers prevail in first out of state game

The REPORTER

The Noblesville football team played its first-ever out of state game Friday, traveling to Benet Academy in Lisle, Ill. located in the Chicago suburbs.

The Millers can say they are 1-0 against Illinois teams, as they beat Benet 21-13 in what Noblesville coach Dave Sharpe said was "a tremendous high school football game."

The first half was almost scoreless. The Millers broke through with 14 seconds left in the second quarter when Aiden Brewer caught a 13-yard touchdown pass from Landon Hughes. Jack Letourneau followed that with the extra-point kick. Sharpe said Brewer "found the corner of the end zone and made a tremendous catch." Sharpe also credited Hughes – "His poise and just letting that route develop and being patient, being patient, and he was able to hit Aiden Brewer," said Sharpe.

Noblesville's second touchdown came midway through the third period when Logan Shoffner took off on a 49-yard run to the end zone. The Millers would score again early in the third quarter, this one a two-yard touchdown run for Gage Gulley. Letourneau made both kicks after the score.

"We were able to just grind out enough in the second half," said Sharpe. "Our guy Logan Shoffner really bailed us out a couple times."

On defense, Noblesville had some big plays, including interceptions from Jordan Sharp and Austin Hastings, with Hastings making a pick to seal the win. Gavin Kinyon made 8.5 total tackles (five solo and seven assists), with Hastings totaling eight stops (five solo and six assists).

"Our defense really stepped up," said Sharpe.

Shoffner led the rushing with 125 yards, while Gulley gained 81 yards.

The Millers are 2-0 and play at Fishers next Friday to begin Hoosier Crossroads Conference play.

The Blackhawks steadily built their lead throughout the contest. Peyton Cross and Zach Bales both scored first-quarter touchdowns on short runs. Cross added another touchdown early in the second period, then Eli Kolb ran in from eight yards for another score.
