The world is a little brighter now

A call went out to the local community, and the answer was incredible! CertaPro Painters of Indianapolis asked for help painting Ernie Taylor’s sculptures at his home, 10985 E. State Road 32 – just west of the Hamilton-Boone County line – and the outpouring of support brought 200 people to Taylor’s home Friday morning. The youngest person in the photo above is 2 years old. Ernie, who is as hard to spot as a “Where’s Waldo” picture in this crowd (hint: look for the cowboy hat), is 94. The before and after photos will astound you. Read more about the journey to this day in the column to the right and see more photos on Pages 4 and 5 and online at ReadTheReporter.com.

People painting with a purpose

Friday found me humbled, impressed, and – gasp! – more than moderately happy with our little corner of the world. A total of 200 people showed up during business hours on a weekday to help an old man most of them had never met.

That man is Ernie Taylor, 94, of Zionsville. He lives west on State Road 32 past the Indianapolis Executive Airport just across the county line. Ernie, who still won’t let me call him Mr. Taylor, has lived at 10985 E. State Road 32, Zionsville, since 1962.

This is where I should say Ernie is a ... (insert one or two words to sum him up). But I can’t do him the disservice of cramming his life into just a couple descriptive nouns.

Ernie is a veteran who served his country at the age of 17 when he went to fight in Italy during World War II.

Ernie is a man who says his simple, quiet life is a good one.

Pandemic masking highlights undiagnosed hearing loss

By STU CLAMPITT
news@readthereporter.com

Across the nation and right here in Hamilton County, Beltone is seeing a rise in patients who did not know they were struggling with hearing loss.

Many new Noblesville Beltone patients had thought they did not read lips or have hearing issues pre-COVID, but mandated masks illustrated that they may in fact have mild or moderate hearing loss and simply did not realize it because they had been compensating unconsciously.

The Reporter spoke to Beltone Hearing Instrument Specialist Kara Horniacek about what she is seeing in patients in Noblesville and beyond.

are seeing a lot of,” Horniacek said. “We are seeing a lot more people of a younger generation come through our doors. Masking during the pandemic made a lot of people realize not only how much they rely on lip reading as part of a coping mechanism, but the masks themselves also dampen the sound from a person’s mouth. So it’s really kind of twofold.”

Now that we are getting back into life and the masks aren’t as necessary and people are meeting in person more often than on the computer, some are noticing that there are challenges in a world where you don’t have a volume control at your fingertips.

Horniacek said roughly 30 to 40 percent of people coming in are mentioning that they didn’t know they had a hearing issue until either during the pandemic when the masks were on or now that they are meeting people in environments without volume control.

Classic rock group Courtesy Flush discusses “Motel Indiana” & 50th anniversary tour

Guitar Face Magazine was granted an exclusive interview with Indiana-based 1970s classic rockers Courtesy Flush, who will embark on their 50th Anniversary “Expiration Date” Tour this fall. We sat down with cofounders Tweed and Twill Seger to discuss a half-century of touring and recording, their notorious infighting, and what fans can expect. This is part one of a two-part interview.

GF: Today, you rehearsed your 1976 hit single, “Motel Indiana,” 12 times.

Tweed (Vocals): We had to. Twill kept mucking it up on that freakish octuple neck guitar.

Twill (Guitar): You try playing eight guitar parts simultaneously. That’s 48 strings to finger! My Fender Signature Series Eight Neck sound is what made “Motel Indiana” an FM rock staple! I didn’t muck anything. Tweed is the mucker. He kept singing hotel instead of motel –

Tweed: Excuse me! I wrote “Motel Indiana” 46 years ago! I’m pretty sure I didn’t muck the lyrics. I’ll sing it right now ...

Westfield Kiwanis & Lions team up for patriotic project

Avenue of Flags fills Brookside neighborhood with colors of Old Glory

Submitted by Jeff Larrison

As part of the Westfield Kiwanis Club’s Avenue of Flags project, the Westfield Lions Club set out over 80 American flags in the Brookside neighborhood in observance of Labor Day.

The project is so popular and has grown so much that the Kiwanis uses volunteers, including the Westfield Lions Club, to install and collect flags in neighborhoods throughout Westfield.

“When we are installing the flags, we’re constantly hearing positive comments from the homeowners about the project,” Westfield Lion Jeff Larrison said. “It’s also great to be working with another service organization like the Kiwanis Club on such a worthwhile and meaningful project.”

The Avenues of Flags project is conducted five times a year – Memorial Day, Flag Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day and Veterans Day. For more information on the Avenue of Flags project and the Kiwanis Club, go to WestfieldKiwanis.org.

To find out more about how the Westfield Lions Club serves the city’s citizens or to become a member, go to WestfieldLions.org.

COMMUNITY

Ernie lived through the Great Depression in the early 20th century and counts every big thing he thinks about buying in cheeseburgers. In early July he told me, “Everybody tells me I need a new car, or I need a new truck. I think about how many cheeseburgers that would buy you. I’d rather have the cheeseburgers!”

Ernie has a dry sense of humor and a repertoire of jokes, many of which cannot be printed. OK, I can give you one of the clean ones. Friday morning, Ernie told a crowd of people he and his wife were married by a justice of the peace. “After that,” he said, “there was no justice AND no peace.”

Ernie is also an artist. His yard is filled with a lifetime of metal sculptures ranging in size from a few inches to T-Rex sized. And that art is part of why 200 people showed up at his house Friday morning.

On July 5 of this year, I stopped by his house to talk about his amazing art. You can read that story at this link if you missed it two months ago.

This is where the snowball effect begins.

After leaving his house, I went to lunch with Lisa Brandenburg, a New York City transplant into the Westfield community who started a social media group called Women Building Friendships In Westfield. It is a group that exists to do exactly what it says in the name.

I told Lisa about Ernie and how he simply doesn’t have the energy to keep up with the maintenance on all his art.

Lisa went home and told her group about Ernie. She saw an immediate outpouring of offers to help.

One of those members was Rachel Johnson, the Chief Marketing Officer at CertaPro Painters of Indianapolis.

Rachel spoke to CertaPro President JJ Darr about Ernie, his art, and the need to help.

JJ jumped into action. He arranged for many of his own professional painters to take Ernie’s art on as a community service project. He also reached out to friends at Sherwin Williams, and they offered to donate as much paint as needed.

Once the paint was ready, the call went out to the community and 100 families signed up to come paint.

I started this saying I was humbled, impressed, and happy with our corner of the world.

Humbled because all The Little Newspaper That Could did was write a short article about someone who needed a little help.

Impressed because 200 people showed up for a single purpose and no one cared about anything but getting the job done. There was no talk of politics, cultural differences, ego, or anything other than “Let’s all help Ernie.”

Happy with our corner

of the world because this is the kind of organic community project growth that makes one think, “Today was a good day.”

People walked away proud of the thing they did, smiling at having painted some repurposed metal in an old man’s yard.

They will tell that story to their friends and neighbors and families. The story of Friday at Ernie’s house will grow organically, and more people will stop by to see him, probably as unannounced as I was on July 5. And he will welcome them like old friends because that’s why he and his late wife Dot did this in the first place: to make a place people could come explore and enjoy.

Now go on. Get out there. Enjoy it. You cannot see half of it from the road, so stop and spend some time wandering around.

See photos from Friday morning’s repainting project at Ernie’s on Pages 4 and 5.

HEARING

“Often it’s people who really had a hard time with conversations when masking was a mandatory thing,” Horniacek said. “If you were really struggling in social situations with the masks and you found yourself avoiding them entirely because it was more difficult than it was beneficial for you. That’s one hallmark of it. Also, the people who really utilized the volume control on their Zoom meetings and now that they don’t have access to that anymore are struggling in in-person settings.”

Horniacek said she is not surprised that people who come in with moderate hearing loss did not notice until the pandemic, but the number of people with mild hearing loss who had been unknowingly compensating through lip reading and using volume controls during remote work does surprise her.

“It has really taken the pandemic and the masking

for them to take notice of it,” Horniacek said.

Hearing evaluations are free. Call (317) 770-9999 or click here. You can also stop by the office at 247 Sheridan Road, Noblesville.

“Since the hearing assessments are free, it doesn’t hurt to just get it checked out if you have just an inkling of a concern about it,” Horniacek said. “Knowledge is power.”

Advocating for Victims of Crime & Abuse

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Twill: You still mucked it earlier, Tweed.

GF: How did the eight-neck guitar come about?

Twill: I got the idea from Cheap Trick when we opened for them. I love Rick Nielsen. Ricky and I were always trying to out-do each other during that tour. He started playing a double neck, so I upped the ante with a triple neck. Ricky bought a quint neck, which got him tons of attention. I had no choice but to break out the eight neck. He told me, "I surrender, man. That's too much guitar neck for me." Not long after, Cheap Trick had a hit with "Surrender." Even today, Ricky bows when he sees me and says, "I'm not worthy, man." Jimmy Page once told me, "Man, you look like an octopus playing that thing." Jimmy Page, man! Forty-eight strings! If any song deserves 48-string sound, it's "Motel Indiana." I am the Octopus. Dig it!

GF: Excessiveness aside, I guess the eight neck actually does complement "Motel Indiana's" socio-political themes of Hoosier hedonism, greed, and excess!

Tweed: Actually, it's the opposite of excess. An eight neck is cheaper than hiring seven other guitarists to play one song.

GF: Regarding "Motel Indiana," can you elaborate on the famous 1978 "Hotel California" court case in which you accused the Eagles of plagiarism?

Tweed: Simple ... Don Henley stole our song. Read the affidavit.

Twill: The whole feud started at a truck stop.

Tweed: Twill and I were sharing the same urinal.

GF: Nothing awkward there.

Twill: Wait ... what? It was the '70s, man. Besides, we're brothers.

Tweed: Dad made us pee together in the pot to lessen the water bill. We're military brats. The major was a stickler for synchronized peeing.

Tweed: I couldn't pee at all.

Twill: Tweed has a shy bladder.

Tweed: I actually haven't peed since 1969.

Twill: TMI, man. What Tweed just said is off the record.

GF: Duly noted.

Tweed: To mentally block out others in public restrooms, I think up new lyrics.

Twill: He first sang "Motel Indiana's" chorus aloud in that truck stop restroom. The acoustics were amazing.

Tweed: Greetings from the Hotel Indiana –

Twill: See, you just said hotel not motel.

Tweed: Hey, who wrote a hit record while pretending to pee?

Twill: Next thing we knew, a lanky guy with a white man's Afro busted out of a stall. He didn't even flush.

Tweed: He rushed out like a man in a hurry to ... oh ... say ... find a notebook to write a song he just overheard and steal it.

Twill: We looked at each other and said, "Wasn't that Don Henley?"

Tweed: "Motel Indiana" was released before "Hotel California." I mean, hello?

Twill: "Motel Indiana" topped Casey Kasem's American Top 40 list at #40.

GF: Twill, #40 is actually the bottom, not the top. #1 is the top.

Twill: Wait ... what?

GF: A week later, "Hotel California" bumped your song from the Top 40 and ultimately reached #1 on the Billboard Hot 100.

Twill: Yea, but "Hotel California" wasn't good enough to hit Billboard's #100 spot like "Motel Indiana" did.

Tweed: Touché!

GF: Will "Motel Indiana" be on the upcoming setlist?

Tweed: If Twill stops mucking it up –

Twill: You're the mucker, Mr. Mucky Muck.

Tweed: We need to sell tickets. Definitely tell your readers we will play "Motel Indiana."

Twill: Hell, tell them we'll actually open the show with it.

GF: Wait ... what? You are opening with your only hit? Don't you worry your audience will leave after that?

Tweed: Hmmm. Tell them it will also be our encore. That'll keep butts in seats.

GF: That's crazy! "Motel Indiana" twice in one show?

Twill: Why not? When we released our Courtesy Flush Greatest Hits album, "Motel Indiana" occupied all 10 tracks. Same with our Best of Courtesy Flush Greatest Hits compilation. Dare I mention the box set?

GF: Did any of those compilations move enough units to achieve Platinum status?

Tweed: Pewter.

Twill: Tell readers we will also play "Motel Indiana" just before intermission. A "Motel Indiana" triple shot! How's that for a Guitar Face exclusive?

200 friends, new and old, come to help

If you have driven on State Road 32 west of Hamilton County, you have probably noticed Ernie Taylor's sculptures. Next time you drive down that stretch of road, you definitely will. Everything is now more eye-catching than it has been in a long time. Friday morning saw professionals from CertaPro Painters of Indianapolis and Sherwin Williams plus 100 families worth of enthusiastic amateurs flock to Ernie's house to repaint as much as humanly possible in one day. This page shows some before and during shots. Turn to Page 5 to see the fruits of all that labor. (Reporter photos by Stu Clampitt)

Lisa Brandenburg thanks everyone who came to help paint Ernie's sculptures.

Everyone wanted to talk to Ernie about his life and his sculptures!

Back in July, Ernie told The Reporter he counted himself lucky because of his health, his friends and family, his home, and for still being able to enjoy looking at pretty ladies. CertaPro and The Reporter staged this photo just for you, buddy!

Giving back never looked so good!

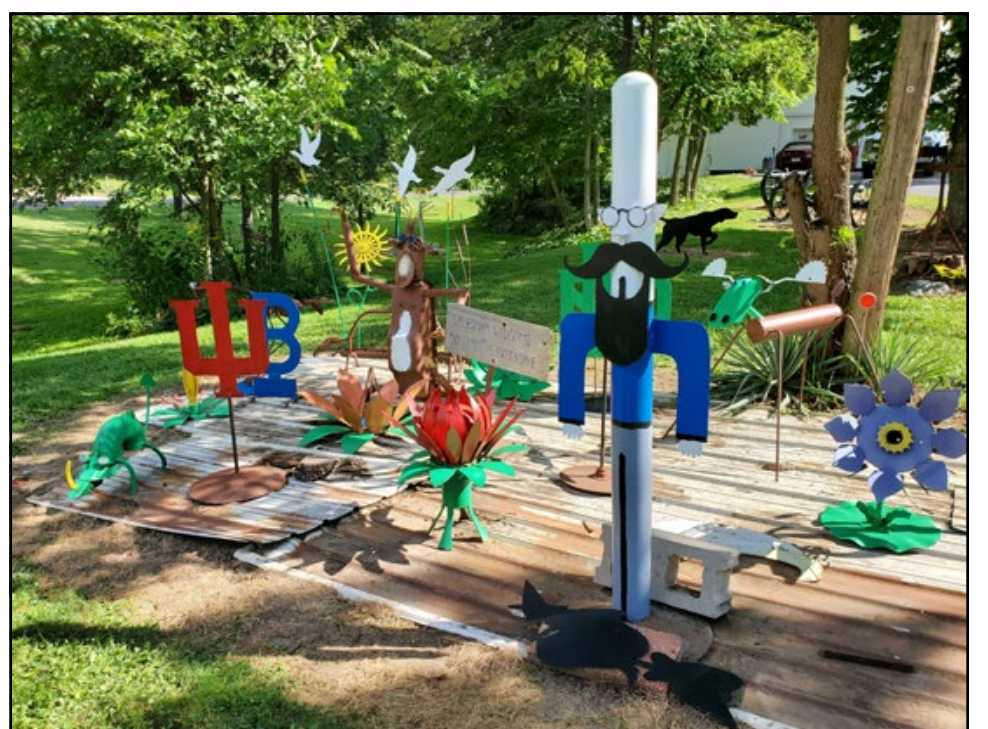

You've read the stories. You've seen the photos of everyone who came to help Ernie Taylor preserve his lifetime of artwork. Now you see what can happen when people come together for a common purpose. Just a few hours of work by a couple hundred people have truly transformed Ernie's property and put smiles of pride and appreciation on the faces of everyone present Friday. Their volunteerism will also bring smiles to countless more people who drive by, who stop in to see the art for themselves, and who read The Reporter. Well done, everyone! This is one of the things that makes our community special. (Reporter photos by Stu Clampitt)

Westfield PTOs make it easy to support students & education

The REPORTER

Each year, parent-teacher organizations (PTOs) in Westfield help raise money to support Westfield Washington Schools, as well as its teachers and the education of each young Shamrock.

Rock-A-Thon, and each school brings its own style to the effort. But what is united is the goal of making sure all students get the high-quality educational experience for which Westfield is known. The PTOs do an amazing job of supporting staff, helping with special projects, funding educational initiatives, and making sure each student feels like they are loved. This is your chance to show support. Each school's logo is linked to that school's fundraising platform. If

Water main flushing will begin Sunday night in Noblesville

The REPORTER

Indiana American Water will conduct water main flushing in the Noblesville service area beginning overnight on Sunday, Sept. 11 and continuing through Monday, Sept. 12 in the downtown area from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m.

Flushing of the remaining areas of Noblesville and northern parts of Fishers will start on Tuesday, Sept. 14 and run through Friday, Nov. 18 on weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The company conducts this annual maintenance program to assure high-quality water service and to ensure fire hydrants are operational.

“Water main and fire hydrant flushing is an important part of a regular maintenance program for water distribution systems,” Northeast Operations Manager Josh Cox said. “Indiana American Water consistently meets or exceeds all drinking water standards.”

No interruptions in water service are anticipated because of the work. Customers may experience a slight drop in water pressure or temporary water discoloration or air in plumbing lines while this program is underway. Customers should refrain from doing laundry during the time of day the flushing program is taking place in or near their neighborhood.

If tap water is discolored, Indiana American Water recommends allowing several cold-water faucets to run for a short time until the water runs clear. Using more than one faucet allows the water to clear more quickly.

Customers who have questions regarding hydrant flushing may call the Customer Service Center at 1-800-492-8373.

The water main flushing will be performed by Indiana American Water crews. They will be working out of trucks identified with the company logo. All employees will also have photo ID badges.

Carmel PD & WISH-TV partner for city-wide shred & recycle day

The REPORTER

The Carmel Shred-it event will be held from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 17 in the parking lot of Creekside Middle School, located on the southeast corner of West 126th Street and Shelborne Road.

This event is presented by the Carmel Police Department, WISH-TV and Crime Stoppers of Central Indiana and sponsored by a team of organizations including Walgreens, AARP, Carmel Utilities, Technology Recyclers, Shred-it, Lamar Advertising and Target.

Cost & payment methods

A $5 donation to Crime Stoppers is requested per banker-box size container or equivalent of paper and $20 is requested per computer monitor or TV. Cash and credit cards will be accepted.

Shredding

Identity theft is one of the fastest-growing crimes, and most identity information is still obtained through hard-copy paper sources. Shredding significantly reduces your risk when disposing of confidential information. It is recommended that you shred any documents that include a signature, account number, social security number, medical or legal information. The professional shredding is sponsored by Shred-it to benefit Crime Stoppers of Central Indiana.

Electronics recycling

The recycling drop-off event will be managed by Technology Recyclers. The following items will be accepted:

- All computers, servers, peripherals, wiring, cable, battery backups, monitors, TVs
- All electronics (phones, stereos, headsets, DVD players, any small appliance, IT equipment including hubs, switches, servers, routers, racks, etc.)

- Office equipment including fax machines, copiers or phone systems
- Industrial electronics, test equipment, medical equipment and large appliances

Prescription drugs

The DEA sponsors this program and encourages you to properly remove unused and expired medicines to protect the environment and the community by keeping them out of the water supply and reducing accidental poisoning and prescription drug abuse. Officers will accept pharmaceuticals for proper disposal.

Bulk items

As part of the Carmel city trash program with Republic Services, drop-off of bulky items will be available free of charge to trash customers (for Carmel Utilities trash customers only; an ID or utility bill required). Space is limited and on a first-come, first-served basis. No electronic waste or appliances containing Freon will be accepted in bulk item disposal. Those items are accepted in electronics recycling. Examples of items to drop off include:

- Lawn equipment
- Carpet
- Furniture
- Grills (no propane tanks)
- Water heaters
- Swing sets
- Mattresses

Items not accepted

Household hazardous waste will not be accepted at this event. Click here to learn how to dispose of hazardous materials, such as:

- Paints
- Light bulbs
- Tires
- Landscape waste
- Sharps
- Ammunition

Letter to the Editor — Carmel school board candidate: Good governance means working as one team

Dear Editor:

As previously shared, an individual board member can't make financial or other decisions on their own. A quorum is required for the board to conduct business. Once a quorum is constituted, a simple majority of voting Members is required to approve an item of the board's business.

Good board governance requires the School Board and Superintendent to work together as "One Team" with transparency and accountability. This teamwork ensures that we keep the best interest of the district and academic excellence as the primary focus.

Last year, The Current reported that Carmel Clay Schools had found itself in an unusual and unexpected position that could lead to a reduction in a planned pay raise for some employees and the elimination of a small number of teaching jobs.

Decline in enrollment

Despite ratings as one of the best places to live and one of the fastest-growing cities in our country, Carmel Clay Schools experienced a decline in enrollment in our elementary, middle, and high schools.

I believe that the political divisiveness is causing parents to consider other options, including private schools and other districts. The parents I talked to are incensed that Carmel Clay Schools put an end to parent-teacher conferences, prevented parents and grandparents from having lunch at school, and suspended parents from commenting at school board meetings.

Uniting our community

If more parents choose charter and private schools, our district may have to reduce planned pay raises and eliminate some teaching jobs. It will make it much harder for our Superintendent and his leadership team to recruit and retain the best teachers and focus on academic excellence.

We are at a pivotal moment where the urgency is now. I am running for the school board to unite our community and support our teachers.

I am the transformational leader that our school community needs.

I will be a strong advocate for our students, teachers, parents, and community.

I will inspire and motivate our community to be more engaged and involved in the education of our children.

Looking to the future

If elected to the Carmel Clay Schools Board of Trustees, I want to look back on four years with happiness because we succeeded in uniting our community and convincing families like the Woodsons to choose Carmel Clay Schools.

Together we will achieve this goal of ensuring that Carmel Clay Schools is the first choice for parents and teachers.

Sheldon Barnes
Candidate for Carmel Clay School Board, District 1

Two local candidates will take part in forum to discuss Indiana's environmental issues

Submitted

Indiana United for our Future (INUF), the state's first environmental political action committee (PAC), next week will hold the first in a series of environmental forums for candidates the PAC has endorsed. The forum will take place from 5 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 15 at Sophia Square, 110 W. Main St., Carmel.

So far, three candidates from Hamilton County have been endorsed by INUF and all three were invited to participate.

INUF was founded to give the environment a voice in Indiana's state legislature. The organization's mission is to support political candidates who will enact environmentally-friendly policies that address the rising threat of climate change, as well as protect Indiana's wetlands, forests, native species and natural resources.

To date, the PAC has endorsed 11 candidates. This series of forums around the state will give the public a chance to ask questions about environmental issues affecting them. Voters will be able to find out how candidates plan to address these issues in the Statehouse.

The endorsed candidates attending the Carmel forum are Matt McNally, running in House District 39, and Victoria Garcia Wilburn, running in House District 32. The panel will be moderated by environmental lawyer and expert Larry Kane, who formerly served as director of the Indiana Department of Environmental Management.

About INUF

Indiana United for our Future (INUF) is a nonpartisan political action committee focused on fundraising. INUF uses credible scientific and policy sources to make decisions and will only fund political campaigns of environmental champions.

PREVAIL
Advocating for Victims of Crime and Abuse

Submitted by Hamilton County Bicentennial Commission

The official Bicentennial photographic history book will share stories that have made Hamilton County what it is today – stories of triumph, devastation, progress and barriers to progress.

This submission by Julie Davis has us singing the praises of Mildred Bishop, who influenced the lives of young people for decades throughout Cicero, Arcadia and Atlanta.

For the children of the Tri Town area, music education was not limited to what they received in school, thanks to Arcadia resident Mildred Bishop. “Mid” was an amazing woman who dedicated her life to the young people of the community. According to Lois Costomiris, local historian and writer, the choir began in 1936 when six young girls, fighting with some of their playmates, confided in Mid and were soothed as she gathered them around her piano and led them as they sang some familiar songs.

The members of Mid Bishop’s Choir increased in number throughout the years. Children and teens formed the Tri Town Choir, and a Cherub Choir was made up of children ages 2 to 8. “If a tot could sit on a chair, Mid can take him,” Costomiris said. Various break-out groups formed, with trios, quartets, and sextets, and with the advent of the folk music era in the 1960s, the Jackson Folksingers became Mid’s chief performance group. There was no cost for participation in any of Mid’s choirs.

The annual spring concert was held on the stage of the Jackson Township School, and included numbers by the full choirs, as well as ensembles, solos, dance numbers, and skits. A crowd favorite was the singing of “In the Good Old Summertime,” while two lucky choir members were pushed on flowered swings that Mid’s husband Shelton had somehow mounted to the stage ceiling. The choirs found themselves onstage again during the Christmas season, with a living nativity, shepherds, wise men, and angels with coat hangers and paper wings raising their voices in “O Come, O Come Emmanuel.” A free will offering was collected at both concerts, with funds donated to a family in need or a scholarship offered to a worthy choir member.

Mid Bishop made certain that her choir had opportunities for exposure. She registered her singers – soloists, ensembles, and trios – in the Indiana District Music Contest at Ball State University every year. After weeks of preparation, rarely did a choir student receive anything other than a first-place medal. Members of Mid’s choirs and singing groups also found themselves performing for local events, such as the 1964 Hootenanny hosted in the high school gym. The Jackson Folksingers, in their red and white striped shirts, were featured at Indiana Beach and on several local TV programs. They received a first-place rating at the state contest with Mozart’s “Ave Verum” but were just as comfortable singing “Leaving on a Jet Plane.”

No one who was a member of Mid’s choir will ever forget her or the wonderful experiences she gave them. Just as her choir began by bringing together young girls with disagreements, perhaps Mid Bishop did more to unite the children of Atlanta, Arcadia, and Cicero than may ever be realized.

The Hamilton County Bicentennial is proudly supported by Duke Energy, Hamilton County Board of Commissioners, Hamilton County Tourism Inc., and Hamilton County Historical Society.

Feinstein’s to present Vegas’ top impersonators & impressionists

The REPORTER

One of the most popular shows in Las Vegas is coming to Carmel on Oct. 16 as Feinstein’s at Hotel Carmichael, 1 Carmichael Square, Carmel, presents The Edwards Twins and their Ultimate Variety Show. Remember all the wonderful Variety Shows of the ‘70s and ‘80s? Now is your chance to see them live and recreated by Las Vegas’ No. 1 impersonators of all time.

Anthony and Eddie Edwards use state-of-the-art makeup to look and sound like the superstars of today and yesterday. See all your favorite legendary superstars come alive.

Twin brothers Anthony and Eddie Edwards are described as one of the country’s premiere celebrity illusionists. From Cher and Dolly Parton, Elton John and Barbara Streisand, this talented duo has mastered the sights and sounds of some of the world’s most beloved performers.

The Edwards Twins were noted as “The best I’ve ever seen,” by Carol Burnett. USA Today lists them as “The best you’ll ever see” while NBC’s The Today Show calls them “Extraordinary.”

Anthony and Eddie Edwards are not just identical to each other, but to more than 150 of the greatest superstars to appear on the stages of Las Vegas. Both boys were fascinated with celebrities at a very early age. Living near the famous NBC TV studios in Burbank, they would sneak in and watch various TV shows being taped. They would then mimic the stars and memorize the skits from The Sonny and Cher Show, The Carol Burnett Show and Laugh-In.

University of Indianapolis begins partnership with Fishers High School

The REPORTER

The University of Indianapolis announced Thursday its partnership with four high schools to help provide incentive to Indy-area students to attend higher education as well as provide those high schools with the resources available within the R.B. Annis School of Engineering. The four high schools involved in the partnership are Fishers High School, Pike High School, Perry Meridian High School and Southport High School.

Each year, representatives from those schools will select one prospective engineering student, based on their own criteria, and the University of Indianapolis will award them – contingent upon their acceptance at the University – with a full ride scholarship to study at the R.B. Annis School of Engineering. Additionally, faculty from the R.B. Annis School commit to making themselves available to visit these partner schools to give talks or help in classrooms.

“Right now, just 54 percent of Indiana high school seniors are pursuing four-year college degrees. We want to do our part to increase that number and better prepare students for higher education,” Reid said. “These partnerships will allow us to work more closely with the students and teachers in these schools to help strengthen engineering within K-12 and prepare those students for higher education and to prepare them for STEM careers.”

Terry added, “The Annis School is meeting a critical need in our state’s economy by preparing career-ready engineers who are trained in a culture of collaborative innovation and entrepreneurship.”

Students and faculty in the School are building community and industry connections through the Annis School’s Design-Spine curriculum with partners that include Crane Naval Base, Citizens Energy, Huntington Bank, Anthem NGS, Easterseals Crossroads and others. The Class of 2022 had a 96 percent placement rate upon graduation with an average salary of over $72,000.

Engineering programs receive accreditation

The University also announced Thursday that the R.B. Annis School of Engineering bachelor’s degree programs in Industrial & Systems Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, and Software Engineering have been accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET, the global accreditor of college and university programs in applied and natural science, computing, engineering, and engineering technology.

ABET accreditation assures that programs meet standards to produce graduates ready to enter critical technical fields that are leading the way in innovation and emerging technologies, and anticipating the welfare and safety needs of the public.

“We’re very excited to announce this accreditation. It’s been the culmination of several years of hard work and is a testament to our faculty, current students, and recent graduates,” said Dr. Ken Reid, Associate Dean and Director of the R.B. Annis School of Engineering. “Having the ABET seal shows to outside parties about our program’s legitimacy what we and our corporate and community partners knew to be true: that we have a world-class faculty and curriculum here at the Annis School.”

Sought worldwide, ABET’s voluntary peer-review process is highly respected because it adds critical value to academic programs in the technical disciplines, where quality, precision and safety are of the utmost importance.

Developed by technical professionals from ABET’s member societies, ABET criteria focus on what students experience and learn. ABET accreditation reviews look at program curricula, faculty, facilities, and institutional support and are conducted by teams of highly skilled professionals from industry, academia and government, with expertise in the ABET disciplines.

ABET is a nonprofit, non-governmental organization with ISO 9001:2015 certification. It currently accredits 4,361 programs at 850 colleges and universities in 41 countries and areas.

More information about ABET, its member societies and the accreditation criteria used to evaluate programs can be found at abet.org.

Zane & Frances Todd Gift

The University of Indianapolis has received a $1.8 million gift from Zane and Frances Todd. The gift will be used to establish the Zane and Frances Todd Merit and Leadership Scholars Fund endowment, which will support students majoring in STEM-related fields, with a special emphasis on engineering.

Zane Todd, retired chairman and chief executive officer of Indianapolis Power and Light Company, served on the UIndy Board of Trustees from 1977 to 1991 and served as the Chair of the Board from 1981 to 1991. He was awarded an honorary doctorate of humane letters from UIndy in 1993. He and his wife, Frances, who also worked at IPL, were married for 29 years.

“We are grateful to the Todds for their generous support of our students and their futures,” said Interim President Phil Terry. “The University remains dedicated to ensuring our students have access to the best education we can offer and gifts like these not only allow us expand access, but also to build upon our strong programs.

We look forward to continuing the growth of our STEM programs here at UIndy.”

“Zane and Frances Todd had an incredible vision for the future of engineering at UIndy even before the R.B. Annis School of Engineering was established,” Reid said. “Now, we are fulfilling that vision and building upon it to cultivate the next generation of talented, innovative engineers.”

The gift will also be used to fund the Frances and Zane

Todd Merit and Leadership Scholars in Health Sciences and Nursing scholarship funds. The scholarships will have preference for non-traditional students, in honor of Zane’s own background, including students who are working to fund their education; students who have been honorably discharged from military service; students who have children for which they have financial responsibility; and students who are married.

About the University of Indianapolis

The University of Indianapolis, founded in 1902, is a private university located just a few minutes from downtown Indianapolis. The University is ranked among the top National Universities by U.S. News and World Report, with a diverse enrollment of nearly 5,300 undergraduate, graduate and continuing education students. The University offers a wide variety of study areas, including more than 100 undergraduate degrees, more than 40 master’s degree programs and five doctoral programs. More occupational therapists, physical therapists and clinical psychologists graduate from the University each year than any other state institution. With strong programs in engineering, business, and education, the University of Indianapolis impacts its community by living its motto, “Education for Service.” Learn more at uindy.edu.

Jessica Sue Campbell
July 22, 1996 – September 8, 2022

Jessica Sue Campbell, 26, Noblesville, passed away early Thursday morning, September 8, 2022, after a hard-fought battle against ovarian cancer. Jessica passed away peacefully in her sleep while in her childhood home.

Jessica was born on July 22, 1996, to John and Traci (Cline) Campbell in Noblesville. After graduating from Noblesville High School in 2015, Jessica went on to earn a bachelor's degree in Biological and Physical Science from Indiana University Kokomo. She had plans to attend Butler University for Pharmacy School shortly after.

Jessica enjoyed spending time with family and friends whenever given the chance. She enjoyed camping trips with her family and the annual cornhole tournaments they hosted. Jessica loved spending time at amusement parks with her sister and close friends. She found great joy in kayaking down the White River with those she loved most.

Jessica is survived by her parents, John and Traci (Cline) Campbell; sister, Jennifer Campbell; grandmother, Susan (Kelly) Cline; grandparents, Charles (Buddy) and Mary Jo Campbell; grandfather, Arvin Bennett; and blessed with way too many aunts, uncles, and cousins to list. She is preceded in death by her grandfather, Erwin Cline; and grandmother, Marilyn (Woodrum) Bennett.

A funeral service is scheduled for Saturday, September 17. Visitation will be from noon until 3 p.m. followed by services at Randall and Roberts, 1685 Westfield Road, Noblesville. Pastor Ryan Christopher will officiate.

Flowers and condolences may be offered at randallroberts.com.

Ralph Cross
September 16, 1921 – August 18, 2022

Ralph Cross, eldest son of Bill and Bertha Cross, was born in Russellville, Ark., on September 16, 1921. He passed away peacefully in his eldest daughter's home in Indianapolis on August 18, 2022.

Ralph was raised in Lonoke, Ark., and graduated from Lonoke High School in 1941. He took pride in having been the captain of the Lonoke High School football team, and in having won first place in the Arkansas State High School broad jump in 1941.

Ralph attended the University of Arkansas briefly before entering the United States Marine Corps on October 19, 1942. He served 40 months and was honorably discharged on February 15, 1946. His area of service was in the South Pacific: Guam and Okinawa, and occupation duty in Japan.

Ralph was discharged in the California Bay Area where he met his future wife, Amy (Vicki) Ida Erickson. Together they had three daughters, Mary Ann, Nancy Louise, and Elizabeth Jean.

Ralph worked for 38 years in the engineering department of Gerber Products Company. He was instrumental in the setup, maintenance and operation of the Rochester, N.Y., and Ft. Smith, Ark. plants.

Ralph is survived by his three daughters; sons-in-law, Doug Kline and Jon Jaffe; grandchildren, Jon, Sarah, Megan, Andrea, Erin, Alex, Nick, and Robert; and five great-grandchildren. They remember his life-long interest in hunting, fishing, camping and all outdoors, and appreciate his efforts to instill in them that same love of nature.

The family gathered in Indianapolis on September 4 to partake of a bottle of "Old Grand Dad" that Ralph had been saving for more than 40 years. After noting that a significant "angel's share" had mysteriously disappeared from the bottle, a toast was made, and the whiskey was drunk. Still hot on the tongue, but with sweet caramel overtones, the liquor was declared to have held up well. Not unlike Ralph himself.

Per Ralph's wishes, a portion of his ashes will be interred with his late wife Vicki in Fremont, Mich. The remainder will be scattered at his favorite fishing spot, Sydenham Lake in Ontario, Canada. See you at the lake, Grandpa!

January 2, 1989 – September 5, 2022

Whitney Joellen Moore, 33, Tipton, passed away on September 5, 2022 at her home. She was born on January 2, 1989, in Noblesville to Gary Joe Moore and Sherri Kay (Ennis) Stepp.

She attended Noblesville Schools and received her GED from Noblesville High School. She enjoyed cooking and for the past several years she had worked at DeLullo's Trattoria when it was located in Atlanta, and now as it is located in Cicero. She was their "food prep" lady.

Whitney also made and sold jewelry and tie-dyed clothing. She loved all animals and took in cats, dogs, chickens and even goats that loved to wander.

Whitney was a kind person and was very outgoing. She mostly lived in the moment and was very spontaneous. Her friends found her to be fun and also funny, and she enjoyed hanging out with them. Halloween was her favorite holiday, and she always wore the best costumes and applied the best makeup. She also would join her children in trick or treating.

She was preceded in death by two grandfathers, Charles Ennis and James Moore.

Surviving her is her daughter, Lillian Abigail Ridge of Tipton; a son, William Robinson of Noblesville; father, Gary Joe Moore of Noblesville; mother, Sherri Kay Stepp of Arcadia; brother, James Moore of Noblesville; grandmothers, Joyce Ennis and Shirley Moore; aunts, Jeri Moore and Teri Moore Santos; uncles, Gary Ennis and Greg Ennis; nieces, Ave Moore and Hannah Moore; and nephew, Bradly Moore.

No services are scheduled at this time.

Hartley Funeral Home Cicero Chapel, 209 W. Jackson St., Cicero, is entrusted with Ms. Moore's care. You may also send condolences at hartleyfuneralhomes.com.

The Mudsock: an intracity rivalry like no other

Although only in existence since 2006, the annual gridiron battle between Fishers and Hamilton Southeastern has the makings of a rivalry at least as old as the 1881 legend of the bar fight that gave The Mudsock spectacle its name. But we're not here to share stories of old. We'll let Joshua Herd's photos and Kirk Green's great shot of Coach Kelly tell the story of this year's Mudsock instead.

No. 8 Westfield finds ways to best Millers in a thriller, keeps Midland Rail trophy

By CRAIG ADKINS
For The Reporter

NOBLESVILLE – In the 63rd meeting all-time between the Hamilton County rivals of Westfield and Noblesville, the fans got their money’s worth at Beaver Stadium, to say the least.

It was a game that had many ups and downs, but it was the visiting Shamrocks who came out victorious in a game that came down to the final minute before eighth-ranked Westfield claimed a narrow 34-33 win.

“It’s not what we want, but in the end, I think good teams find ways to win close games,” said Westfield head coach Jake Gilbert on his team’s one-point win at Noblesville.

The Shamrock offense made it look easy on its first series, marching 80 yards in eight plays. The drive was capped off by Cole Ballard tossing a screen to sophomore running back Kendall Garnett on a wheel route to the right for 15 yards and an early 7-0 lead.

“We have a whole new cast of players and we had a rash of guys out this week, so we had a bunch of guys that had to step up,” stated Gilbert on the numerous players thrust into more playing time, including Garnett, senior running back Ryan Craeger and sophomore tight end Mikeah Webster.

Noblesville came right back with an 11 play, 70-yard drive that would tie it at 7-7 when Logan Shoffner reached paydirt from 16 yards out.

The ‘Rocks came right back next and took just six plays to go 90 yards and was aided by two big gains from Craeger. The senior had a big 22-yard carry and finished off the possession taking it 29 yards up the visiting sideline for a score that made it 14-7.

“Some of these guys are sophomores. Gabe Aramboles, Webster, Garnett, all sophomores,” said Gilbert on Westfield’s youth that mixes so well with the upperclassmen.

Two plays later, Blake Widget busted off a 70-yard run that knotted the game again, now at 14-14.

Westfield drove again and then Noblesville’s defense came up big with three negative plays in a row where Ballard lost a total of 25 yards. After the Millers had the Shamrocks pinned deep in punt formation, a penalty for roughing the punter turned into an automatic first down.

Garnett found the end zone again for a one-yard touchdown, jumping Westfield up 21-14.

“I’m proud of our staff. I feel like our staff had guys prepared to step up and execute and we did for sure on offense,” said Gilbert, praising his coaching staff for preparing all his players to be ready and they were.

The Millers came back and took just five plays to tie it up again. Landon Hughes found a wide-open Aidan Brewer over the middle and the sophomore wideout took it 45-yards for the score to make it 21-21.

The ‘Rocks stormed back down the field to regain the lead that they wouldn’t give back to the Millers.

Guerin Catholic drops conference opener

By JAMES SEAY
For The Reporter

NOBLESVILLE – The Class 4A No. 8 Brebeuf Jesuit Braves beat the 3A No. 5 Guerin Catholic Golden Eagles 28-7 as both teams kicked off Circle City Conference play Friday at the Eagles Nest.

Early in the game each team played inspired defense which led to consecutive punts. Guerin worked to establish a rhythm early by leaning on the legs of junior Cooper Navarro and the arm of junior Ryan Zimmerman. After an extended drive Guerin was forced to punt. The Braves responded quickly by taking the next play all the way to the house for an 85-yard run.

“When you are playing a good football team, you just can’t get away with the mistakes we made” Coach Dilley said after the loss.

The following drive for the Golden Eagles ended in an interception for Zimmerman. Brebeuf junior Javawn Brooks completed the acrobatic one-hand grab to nab the turnover.

Not to be outdone, junior Nathan Synder intercepted Brebeuf two plays later. Guerin cashed the turnover in for a score on a touchdown pass from Zimmerman to Navarro to tie the score at seven.

On the next possession, the Golden Eagles had an opportunity when they recovered a muffed kick off, but stalled and pushed a field goal attempt wide left. Brebeuf went on a long drive only to be picked off again by Synder in the end zone. It was the second big turnover from Synder which help the Golden Eagles keep things close.

Late in the second quarter, disaster struck when starting quarterback Zimmerman was injured on a sack by the Braves.

“We had some adverse circumstances happen during the game – we all had to pick it up during the game and we did not do that,” Dilley said. The coach was still waiting to know the extent of the injury for the quarterback. Sophomore Malcolm Houze was thrust into the role and unfortunately threw two pick-six interceptions that all but sealed the game for Brebeuf.

“We will learn what we can from this film, flush it and be ready to compete next week,” the coach said after the game.

Navarro finished the game with 76 yards rushing.

Guerin (3-1) will travel to 4A No. 2 Roncalli (4-0) next Friday for another Circle City Conference showdown. The game will kick off at 7 p.m.
