Duke employee steps up to help local agency close to her heart

By DAGNY ZUPIN
Duke Energy

A group of Duke Energy employees donated their time to the Humane Society for Hamilton County (HSHC) during a company volunteer event Wednesday.

The group worked alongside approximately 60 other individuals who volunteer at the humane society on a daily basis.

Jennifer Hatcher, director of development at HSHC, says the non-profit utilizes 70 to 90 volunteers a day to ensure facilities stay clean and animals receive the love and care they need. The organization received over 4,000 animals in 2021.

Susan Wilde, a longtime Duke Energy employee and HSHC advocate, spearheaded the volunteer event.

"As someone who has adopted from the Humane Society for Hamilton County, I know what a difference volunteers make," Wilde said. "The Humane Society for Hamilton County has an extremely dedicated volunteer base and Duke Energy was happy to be a small part of that today."

Those interested in learning more about volunteering can visit HamiltonHumane.com/Volunteer.

CRATs, CRUTs, FLIPCRUTs & NIMCRUTs

I recently heard my law partner talking about CRATs, CRUTs, and NIMCRUTs. It sounded like a foreign language. I assumed it had something to do with estate planning as that is an area of focus for him. He gave me a quick explanation.

I think I have it right when I say that a CRUT is a shorthand way of identifying a charitable remainder unitrust. That is a type of charitable remainder trust that typically offers greater returns and distributions than its cousin the charitable remainder annuity trust, a CRAT.

A CRUT is a tax-exempt structure well suited for appreciated assets that have not yet been sold. In exchange for donating some of the money in the trust to a charity, at the end of the trust's term you may be allowed to defer the taxes you would otherwise pay when selling an asset and be able to grow your asset tax-free inside the trust. Plus, CRUTs carry an immediate charitable income tax deduction. It is designed to incentivize charitable giving.

NHS cross country & soccer state champion teams to join Home for the Holidays Tour

The REPORTER

Noblesville Mayor Chris Jensen has announced that two 2022 Indiana High School Athletic Association (IHSAA) State Champion teams from Noblesville High School will be honored as part of the annual "Home for the Holidays Tour."

The girls cross country and girls soccer teams will be featured during the Traditional Downtown Tour Route, which begins at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 3. The boys soccer team is unable to participate in Saturday's event, but the city is looking at another way to recognize the back-to-back state champions.

The cross country team won the school's first girls championship with an impressive effort in Terre Haute. The team scored 122 points, the second highest score recorded to win the state title and beat the reigning state champs by 31 points. The girls soccer team won its third state title in the past four years. The IHSAA Class 3A state champions finished this season with a 20-1 record.

Volunteers needed for Westfield in Lights

The REPORTER
On Saturday, December 3, Westfield Welcome will play host to the Westfield in Lights celebration at Grand Junction Plaza, and a few volunteers are still needed.

This free holiday festival will have pictures with Santa, food and retail vendors, a reindeer show, carnival games with prizes, a llama walking attraction, live music, and more.

CRATs & CRUTs

With a standard CRUT, you may receive a set percentage of the trust assets each year. A NIMCRUT is a net income with makeup provisions charitable remainder unitrust with a spigot and flip provision to the standard charitable remainder trust after two years. A NIM-

CRUT allows you to defer distributions to future years. FLIPCRUTS flip from a NIMCRUT structure to a standard CRUT after a predetermined event. The IRS has pointed some potentially abusive arrangements with the CRATs involving SPIAs, or single premium immediate annuities. I may have to ask him again to make sure I have all this correct. As my college chemistry professor said “Ray, half of what I tell you is false, I just don’t know which half.” The key in all of this is to find a trusted advisor so your eleemosynary leanings are not abused.

after a 1-0 victory over Carmel at Carroll Stadium in Indianapolis.

“The Home for the Holidays Tour” is headlined by Santa Claus, who is joined by several city departments including the police, fire, street, engineering, utilities and parks vehicles as they make their way throughout Noblesville neighborhoods.

Jensen previously announced that the city identified six routes that cover the areas of Noblesville and one route – the city’s downtown portion – will be the traditional parade route. The Traditional Downtown Parade Route will begin at the corner of 16th Street and Harrison Street and will travel south on 16th to Logan Street; west on Logan to 9th Street; north on 9th to Monument Street; and east on Monument to 16th Street where it will end.

“The downtown tour also includes not-for-profits and community groups,” Jensen said. “We hope this will allow those who wish to see Santa in their neighborhood as well as those who

Advocating for Victims of Crime & Abuse

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Rep. Victoria Spartz selected for House Policy Committee

Sen. Mike Braun files for 2024 governor run

By KYLE BLOYD & BRADY GIBSON
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

U.S. Senator Mike Braun has filed to run for governor of Indiana in 2024 by establishing his campaign committee. The paperwork was filed with the Indiana Secretary of State's Office on Wednesday morning.

The run would open up Braun's Senate seat.

Braun defeated incumbent Sen. Joe Donnelly in 2018 to join the Senate.

Current Indiana Governor Eric Holcomb will be unable to run for reelection due to term limits.

Braun had told News 8's Garrett Bergquist earlier this month that he expected to make a decision on running for governor or a second term in the Senate by Dec. 1.

"Mike Braun has filed his paperwork to run for governor and will be making an official announcement of his candidacy very soon," said Josh Kelley, Chief of Staff and Senior Political Advisor for Braun.

Braun

Mike Schmuhl, chairman of the Indiana Democratic Party, described Braun in a statement Wednesday as a "so-called businessman" who has "done very little to improve Indiana as a U.S. senator and he surely won't do it as governor."

Schmuhl continued, "Time and time again, Braun rejected state economic investments, job creation programs for workers, and critical infrastructure projects — like broadband — needed to create a better future for Hoosier families and the state's overall fiscal and public health."

Per online campaign finance filings with the Secretary of State's Office, there is only one other active campaign for governor committee formed for 2024: Eric Doden, a Republican Fort Wayne businessman who served as head of the Indiana Economic Development Corporation for then-Gov. Mike Pence.

Campaign reports filed in September showed his campaign has nearly $2.4 million cash on hand, after raising more than $1.4 million so far this year.

Update No. 96

Friday is our first synchronous (i.e., instruction delivered live and in real time to a student by the student's teacher) e-Learning day. This is an at-home virtual learning day for students. We plan to utilize synchronous e-Learning days for when inclement weather impacts our ability to have in-class instruction. A synchronous e-Learning day allows students and staff attendance to be counted for the day so that we do not need to add make up days to the end of the school year. Students must follow their Friday schedule to be considered present for the day. Teachers will be available online and take attendance during the scheduled class time.

This is a pilot program, and we encourage our educators and families to approach this day with curiosity and positivity. We will gather feedback to see if we need to make any adjustments for our weather days this winter. We appreciate our families practicing logging on to Google Meet with their students ahead of Friday. Thank you for ensuring your child is set up and is ready to start the day strong from home.

Speaking of weather, now seems the appropriate time to share a reminder about weather-related delays and cancellations. As we know well, Indiana weather can be unpredictable and change quickly. Making the decision to have a weather-related school delay or cancellation is rarely an easy one and is often made in tandem with our local, county, and state partners. Ice, snow, fog, a power outage, and other things all play a role in the decision. However, the primary factor in our decision to delay or cancel school is based foremost on student and staff safety.

Decisions to delay or close school are made as early as possible and usually before 6 a.m. If the decision to close is made, we will shift to our synchronous e-Learning format. In preparation for possible delays and closures in the months ahead, stay weather aware and up to date at Twitter, Facebook, website, and local media outlets.

Our newest monthly video update (Vol. 84) has been posted. Learn about our amazing Student Activity Center historical display, an awesome fourth grader, our incredible high school students doing great things, our conference-winning eighth-grade volleyball team, and how our art students added their special touch to a crosswalk in downtown Arcadia. Watch it here.

With the season of giving upon us I had another reminder of why our school district is so incredible. It's because of people like Tom Jarvis. Tom is a retired educator (Muncie Community Schools) who moved to Cicero about two and a half years ago. It didn't take him long to share his talents with Heights as a volunteer with the Teach 1 to Lead 1 (T1L1) program and our high school athletic department or transform neighbors into friends and extended family at his new home in the Villas of Tamarrack.

Last week, Tom stopped by our school buildings and took 100 tags from our Angel Trees on behalf of the villa residents. The program provides new clothing and toys to Heights children in need. He also invited me to attend the villa's first Christmas gathering on Sunday where the residents will bring their wrapped gifts for the Angel Tree along with non-perishable food donations. I look forward to going and meeting more of my extended Heights family who call the Villas of Tamarrack home. Thank you, Tom, and to all the villa residents for helping children in our own backyard to feel all the love and joy the Christmas spirit embodies.

Indiana Manufacturers Associations calls on state lawmakers to prioritize lowering hospital prices for Hoosiers

This week in Indianapolis, the Indiana General Assembly reconvenes for Organization Day. Legislators old and new will start the process of discussing their priorities. One issue businesses and individual Hoosiers alike think should be a priority is lowering the cost of health care.

Since before the pandemic, the Indiana Manufacturers Association has been calling on the legislature to enact policies to help lower these costs. Those discussions have largely been put on hold as the health care system dealt with the challenges of the pandemic. But now, as employers are faced with another year of ever increasing and unsustainable health care expenditures, the time has come for Indiana policymakers to act.

The burden of health care spending falls primarily on businesses in Indiana, where approximately 60 percent of Hoosiers receive health care coverage as an employee benefit. And a big share of that spending is at Indiana hospitals – over 40 percent of the total. While many health plans have shifted costs to employees through higher deductibles and copays, between 70 and 90 percent of the cost of covering Indiana workers and their families falls on businesses.

GUEST COLUMNIST

The current state of Indiana when it comes to the cost of health care is particularly bad. Indiana has long ranked poorly compared to other states on many health measures like obesity and smoking, which increases usage and drives up costs. Indiana's health care and insurance markets are dominated by a few large players that limit the ability of market forces to lower prices.

Unlike manufacturing, where increased volume and consolidation leads to efficiency and economies of scale, the opposite occurs in healthcare. A recent study commissioned by the General Assembly showed that hospital consolidation drove up costs as high as 18 percent for consumers in the newly absorbed market.

But where Indiana stands out most poorly is on the metric that matters most – the price of care, particularly in hospitals or hospital-owned facilities. We now have the fourth version of the Employers' Forum of Indiana, RAND Corporation, study of data from more than 4,100 hospitals. Price of care, which RAND measures as a percentage of what Medicare reimburses for the same service, shows that on average Indiana hospitals are reimbursed by payers at nearly 300 percent of Medicare, which is the seventh highest in the U.S.

The health care providers/spenders who are invested in the current system point to information that Indiana's health care premiums are consistent with our neighboring states. And while few health care premium payers would find much comfort in the argument that effectively says "don't worry, we are just as bad as everywhere else," this data only looks at a small (less than 20 percent) portion of the insurance market.

Most Hoosiers, and the overwhelming majority of the more than 550,000 manufacturing workers in the state receive health benefits as part of a self-insured plan, meaning the cost of coverage hits the bottom line of businesses directly. High prices for hospital care take dollars away from hiring and investment.

As state legislators reconvene for another session of the General Assembly, reducing the cost of health care should be a top priority and reducing prices at Indiana's hospitals would be the most impactful action to achieve that goal. This is a complex issue and will require a lot of consideration by stakeholders. The IMA is ready for that discussion.

Brian Burton serves as the President & CEO of the Indiana Manufacturers Association.

Don't stop now, Boomers! Your health is more important than ever before

"I intend to live forever or die trying."
—Groucho Marx

Baby Boomers – the term assigned to the temporary increase in the birth rate after World War II, Baby Boomers were born between the years 1946 and 1964 and began turning 65 in 2011.

By 2030, one in five Americans will be a senior citizen. Exercise programs for adults 50 and older are becoming more available, as Baby Boomers usher in their retirement years by keeping physically active and fit. As a group, Boomers are the wealthiest, most active, and the most physically fit generation to date, with the tendency to think of themselves as different from those who came before them.

With Baby Boomers reaching retirement age, why should their fitness accomplishments be any different? I teach a fitness class twice weekly at an assisted living facility and I can share with you, dear readers, that I have been told many times by the folks participating in the class that they wish they had started "sooner" to incorporate exercise into their lives. While most of these participants are slightly older than us "Boomers" they tell the tale to which we should all listen!

Fitness trainers and health professionals are developing programs to cater to the aging yet on-the-go generation with programs that include everything from mild, non-impact aerobics to strength training, to yoga as well as the more extreme triathlon training. This range of training programs can extend longevity and help Boomers maintain mobility while slowing the onset of age-related illnesses, including cognitive decline. The many benefits of regular exercise – weight maintenance, improved immune function and heart health, and enhanced flexibility and sleep – are even more important as one ages. Clearly, committing to a routine of physical activity is one of the healthiest decisions Boomers can make.

Here are some guidelines for baby Boomers before engaging a workout program for safety and effectiveness:

- Get medical clearance from your doctor before starting an exercise program, especially if there is a pre-existing condition.

• Never continue an exercise activity if something feels wrong such as sharp pain, dizziness, or shortness of breath.

• Start slowly, especially if you're just beginning an exercise regimen; it's best to build up your fitness program a little at a time. Even breaking workouts into short increments several times a day is much better than doing nothing.

Fellow Boomers, don't let a few gray hairs or those aches and pains cause you to give up of feeling better, looking better, and spending more time with your loved ones. And those of you who are the son or daughter of a Boomer, or those who have a special Boomer in your life ... encourage that person to live life fully and as actively as possible.

Beef & Boards Dinner Theatre will open 50th anniversary season in 2023

Golden year brings new shows, fan favorites

The REPORTER

J. Scott Talbott built it. And they came.

In an Indiana cornfield on the northwest side of Indianapolis, an unassuming building opened on March 2, 1973. Called Beef & Boards Dinner Theatre, it was the Indianapolis location for a small string of dinner theatres by the same name, with other locations in Kentucky and Ohio. Built by J. Scott Talbott for his theatre-loving daughter, Beef & Boards opened with the show Tom Jones, and audiences were hooked.

After seeing the preview performance, the Indianapolis Star's drama critic Corbin Patrick declared the "sparkling" theatre had "served notice that it will be a formidable contender among the city's fun places."

Among those lured to this new theatre was Fort Wayne native Douglas E. Stark, who came to see Tom Jones.

"I visited Beef & Boards almost 50 years ago, shortly after it opened in 1973," Stark said. "I had a great time, and so did the audience. And I thought, 'you know one day I would like to be here.'"

That would happen – but not right away. A few months after visiting Beef & Boards, Stark began operating the Enchanted Hills Playhouse in Syracuse, Ind., with his Ball State University friend and business partner, Bob Zehr. When the opportunity came to purchase Beef & Boards in 1980, Stark and Zehr made the move to Indianapolis.

"At the time it offered the most stability that I could have as an actor and director to fulfill my artistic need – and at the same time provide the stability that's necessary for raising a family," Stark noted.

That first decade of Stark-Zehr ownership saw many big names grace the Beef & Boards stage, including B.B. King, The Smothers Brothers, Tony Bennett, The Temptations, Donny and Marie Osmond, Chubby Checker, Carol Channing, Gladys Knight and the Pips, Frankie Valli, and even Tina Turner. As concert venues began to emerge in the area, Beef & Boards shifted its focus to its Broadway musical offerings and hasn't looked back.

Zehr moved on to other interests in 1998, and Stark's children have joined him as part-owners, working full-time to make Beef & Boards successful while more than 100 similar theatres across the country have closed their doors during the past five decades.

2023 marks a golden milestone for Beef & Boards – 50 years of keeping audiences well-fed and exceptionally entertained, and keeping them coming back for more. It's a celebration that includes three new shows to the Beef & Boards stage, fan and family favorites, and a return of the most successful show ever presented at the theatre.

It all begins on Dec. 28, 2022, with the play based on the beloved Hasbro board game of the same name. Clue is a hilarious farce-meets-murder mystery in which six mysterious guests arrive at a remote mansion for an unusual dinner party, where murder and blackmail are on the menu. Led by Wadsworth, the butler, all the usual suspects are on hand, including Miss Scarlett, Professor Plum, Mrs. White, Mr. Green, Mrs. Peacock, and Colonel Mustard. This comedy whodunit is rated PG and is on stage through Feb. 5, 2023.

Then it's time to cut loose for the first musical of the 2023 Season: Footloose. The explosive movie musical bursts onto the stage featuring the powerhouse hits of the Oscar-nominated score, including "Footloose," "Holding Out for a Hero," "Somebody's Eyes," and "Let's Hear It for the Boy." When Ren moves to a small town that has outlawed dancing, he takes the steps necessary for a better future. Footloose celebrates the exhilaration of youth, the wisdom of listening to one another, and the power of forgiveness. Rated PG-13 for adult content and teen angst, Footloose is on stage through March 26.

Originally scheduled for the 2020 Season, An American in Paris will finally make its Beef & Boards debut March 30. This musical by George and Ira Gershwin tells the story of a young American soldier, a beautiful French girl, and a romantic French city – each yearning for a new beginning in the wake of World War II. Nominated for a staggering 11 Tony Awards, An American in Paris won four, including Best Orchestrations. Great Gershwin tunes include "I Got Rhythm," "Shall We Dance," and "'S Wonderful." An American in Paris continues through May 14.

For its 2023 Season Family Show, Beef & Boards brings to the stage the epic Disney favorite, Beauty and the Beast starting May 18. This enchanting story tells of Belle, a young woman in a provincial town, and the Beast, who is really a prince trapped under a magic spell. If the Beast can learn to love and be loved, the curse will end. Unforgettable songs include "Be Our Guest," "Belle," "Gaston," and the famous title tune. Rated G and featuring Beef & Boards' $10 Family Show discount for all kids ages 3 to 15, Disney's Beauty and the Beast is on stage through July 9.

Then the musical legacy of Duke Ellington is celebrated in Sophisticated Ladies, a retrospective that takes audiences from The Duke's early days at The Cotton Club through his widening acceptance around the world. Opening July 13, this high-stepping salute is inspired by the glamorous nightlife and sensuous high-life of a man who lived to love. Rated G, Sophisticated Ladies is on stage through Aug. 20.

The comedic duo of Eddie Curry and Jeff Stockberger bring the iconic characters of Max and John to the stage in the movie-turned-musical, Grumpy Old Men, opening Aug. 24. Feuding for most of their lives, these neighbors find themselves facing off in a new battle – as romantic rivals seeking the affection of an enticing new woman in the neighborhood. Based on the 1993 film, this stage adaptation captures the lovably crotchety characters through twinkling humor and great songs. Rated PG-13 for adult content, Grumpy Old Men The Musical is on stage through Oct. 1.

Opening Oct. 5 is the show that's brought more people into Beef & Boards than any other: Andrew Lloyd Webber's Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. Also featuring the largest cast to appear in a Beef & Boards production, Joseph follows the Biblical story of Jacob's favorite son. After being sold into slavery by his jealous brothers, Joseph discovers his ability to interpret dreams – a skill that ultimately frees him and elevates him to power and reunites him with his family. Rated G, Joseph is on stage through Nov. 19.

Beef & Boards' 50th Anniversary Season culminates in a classic celebration of the holidays with Irving Berlin's White Christmas starting Nov. 24. In this stage version of the famous film, Broadway partners vacation at the Vermont ski resort of their former Army general. Snow isn't falling and the guests aren't coming, so the duo come up with a creative plan to help fill the inn – and a sudden snowfall is the icing on the slopes. This theatrical treat is on stage through Dec. 31.

Also returning in Beef & Boards' 2023 Season is its popular one-hour production of the Charles Dickens favorite, A Christmas Carol. On stage for select dates Dec. 2 to 22, 2023.

Beef & Boards Dinner Theatre, Indiana's only year-round professional dinner theatre, is celebrating 50 years of serving exceptional entertainment with dinner.

Public art projects get state funding

The REPORTER

More than 40 public arts projects in 33 counties across the state funded by the Indiana Destination Development Corporation (IDDC) were recently completed by local organizations.

"These public art projects help tell the stories of our local communities in beautiful and enriching ways," Lt. Gov. Suzanne Crouch said. "I hope first-time visitors and long-time residents alike will be able to enjoy these new assets and feel a sense of pride and belonging in Indiana."

Cities, towns, destination marketing organizations, chambers of commerce, private businesses and more applied for a non-matching grant of up to $5,000 to fund a public art project in their community. More than $200,000 in grant funding was awarded in May.

The following local organizations have completed public art projects funded by IDDC:

- Grand Park Sports

Campus at 19000 Grand Park Blvd. in Westfield at the Diamonds, Events Center and Field Sports Complexes – Artist: Travis Neal

- Keep Noblesville Beautiful located at the roundabout at Carrigan and Hague roads in Noblesville – Artist: Kevin Huff

- Tipton County Chamber of Commerce, 111 W. Walnut St. – Artist: Koda Wistken

"It has been so rewarding to see each project reach completion," IDDC Secretary and CEO Elaine Bedel said. "Indiana has a plethora of talented artists, and it has been such a privilege to connect them to local communities to promote what makes each corner of our state special."

Projects were selected based on location and visibility to Indiana residents and visitors, with preference given to locations in high-view areas and places that create potential photo opportunities.

Sen. Braun & colleagues to Mitch McConnell: No new spending until GOP House is sworn in

The REPORTER

U.S. Senator Mike Braun joined Sen. Mike Lee (R-Utah), Sen. Ted Cruz (R-Texas), and Senator Rick Scott (R-Fla.) in a letter to Leader Mitch McConnell (R-Ky.) expressing the need to pass a short-term Continuing Resolution that funds the federal government ONLY until shortly after the 118th Congress is sworn in.

Braun

The full letter follows.

Dear Leader McConnell:

On November 8, 2022, the American people made their voices heard at the ballot box. Using the Democratic process, millions of Americans sent a message – they want divided power in Washington to curb the worst excesses of both parties. The undersigned stand with the voters. We believe it would be both imprudent, and a reflection of poor leadership, for Republicans to ignore the will of the American people and rubber stamp an omnibus spending bill that funds ten more months of President Biden's agenda without any check on his reckless policies that have led to a 40-year high in inflation.

Since taking office, President Biden has overseen a $4.8 trillion increase in the national deficit, costing the average American household an estimated $753 more a month. It should be up to the new Congress to set spending priorities for the remainder of this fiscal year.

Now is the time for Republicans to get serious about leading America towards a better future. The current Continuing Resolution funds the federal government through December 16, 2022. We must not accept anything other than a short-term Continuing Resolution that funds the federal government until shortly after the 118th Congress is sworn in.

No additional spending, no additional policy priorities should be included. Any urgent items that require the Senate's attention should be considered separately and under their own terms.

Janus hits $30K goal for Giving Tuesday

Dear Editor:
We wanted to let everyone know that we reached and surpassed our goal of $30,000 once again this year for Giving Tuesday. That is because of our loyal supporters.

To everyone that donated or shared our information with others, we cannot say THANK YOU enough. We could not do what we do each day without you.

We also want to THANK George Kristo for his generosity in matching the donations. His match helped us to double our goal.

We are BLESSED with the best support group. THANK YOU for being a part of that group! We really appreciate you!

Very grateful,

AG Rokita leads multistate effort to stop investment company from imposing political ideologies on utility companies

Submitted by AG Rokita's Office

Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita is co-leading a multistate effort to stop a Pennsylvania-based investment management company from imposing certain ideologies upon the business models of utility companies, potentially causing harm to investors and consumers.

"Once again," Rokita said, "we're fighting the dangerous trend toward investment strategies that are designed not to maximize financial returns but rather to impose leftist social and economic agendas that otherwise could not win approval at the ballot box."

This latest case involves a move by The Vanguard Group Inc. to seek renewal of a blanket authorization for acquisitions of voting securities of publicly traded utilities. When the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission granted that authorization in 2019, however, it did so on assurances from Vanguard that it would refrain from investing "for the purpose of managing" utility companies.

Vanguard also guaranteed that it would not seek to "exercise any control over the day-to-day management" of utility companies nor take any action "affecting the prices at which power is transmitted or sold."

Now, Vanguard's own public commitments and other statements have at the very least created the appearance that Vanguard has breached its promises to the commission by engaging in environmental activism and using its financial influence to manipulate the activities of the utility companies in its portfolio. Vanguard has committed ted itself to the Net Zero Asset Managers Initiative and other climate-based alliances to get to net zero emissions. Given such activism, Vanguard cannot possibly have refrained from interfering with or exercising some measure of control or influence over these coal- and gas-powered energy companies. "So-called 'ESG investing' purports to be concerned with environmental, social, and governance issues," Rokita said. "The advocates of this approach claim their activism does not interfere with making money, but they are deliberately trying to mislead the public about their ploys to subvert the will of the people for the sake of 'progressive' politics."

Along with Utah Attorney General Sean Reyes, Rokita is leading a multi-state effort to intervene in the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's handling of this case.

"A hearing in this matter," Rokita said, "is warranted to determine the extent to which Vanguard has violated the 2019 authorization and whether granting Vanguard a blanket authorization is contrary to the public interest."

Hoosier lawmakers will prioritize passing anti-ESG legislation

Dear Editor:
Last Tuesday, Hoosier lawmakers gathered at the Statehouse for Organization Day, the ceremonial start of the 2023 session.

Speaker Todd Huston (R-Fishers) made it clear in his Organization Day remarks that Indiana will prioritize joining 15 states in fighting against environmental, social, and governance (ESG) investment policies.

What's the problem with ESG investing? ESG advocates force companies to take positions in the political arena on issues that may have nothing to do with the company's actual business activities. This movement is a root cause of dramatically declining coal, oil, and natural gas investments, which leads to unnecessarily high prices for energy.

Less investment = less supply = higher prices

Zoe Terhune

February 5, 1946 – November 28, 2022

Zoe Terhune, 76, Noblesville, passed away on Monday, November 28, 2022. She was born on February 5, 1946, to Hugh and Florence Eloise (Hobbs) Baughman in Zanesville, Ohio. Zoe married John Terhune on July 6, 1974.

Zoe graduated from Capital University in 1968 and Indiana University Graduate School in 1973. She was a math teacher at Lapel High School for 39 years. While teaching at Lapel, Zoe was a class sponsor, and sponsored the Student Council and the National Honor Society. She received numerous outstanding teacher awards from her students.

Zoe was a member of Noblesville First United Methodist Church, the United Methodist Women, Rebecca Circle, and the church choir.

She is survived by her husband, John Terhune; son, Chris Terhune (Mary Cox); three grandchildren, Bell, Gabe, and Sam; and her brother, Tom (Becky) Baughman.

In addition to her parents, Zoe was preceded in death by her son, Scott Terhune.

Visitation will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, December 4 at Randall & Roberts Funeral Home, 1150 Logan St., Noblesville. Services will be held at 11 a.m., with an additional one-hour visitation beginning at 10 a.m., on Monday, December 5 at Noblesville First United Methodist Church, 2051 Monument St., Noblesville. Pastor Nicole Caldwell-Gross and Pastor Dick Judson will officiate. Burial will follow at Crownland Cemetery in Noblesville.

Memorial contributions may be made to Noblesville First United Methodist Church Music Fund, 2051 Monument St., Noblesville, IN 46060.

LEGISLATION

Energy policy should be decided by the men and women elected to represent residents of the Hoosier state, not by unaccountable boards of corporate finance institutions. Access to the capital markets is proving increasingly difficult for fossil fuel and electricity generation companies, which is resulting in continued consumer price increases. As long as Hoosiers expect their lights to turn on and their homes to be warmed in the winter, fossil fuels will be a major contributor to powering our electrical grid. Hoosier families, particularly minorities, suffer the most when forced to pay soaring electricity prices.

Five states (Texas, Oklahoma, Tennessee, West Virginia, and Kentucky) have already stood up against this movement by passing bills which protect state pensions, investments, and contracts by prohibiting states from contracting with or investing in companies that divest from coal, natural gas, and oil companies.

According to Indiana's Speaker of the House, Indiana is included in the 11 states (Indiana, Ohio, Florida, Idaho, Kansas, Louisiana, Nebraska, Utah, Wyoming, North Dakota, South Dakota) considering passing similar legislation.

The 2023 Indiana Legislative Session is scheduled to officially begin on Monday, Jan. 9, 2023.

Nancy Sue Morris

June 13, 1939 – November 27, 2022

Nancy Sue Morris, 83, Noblesville, passed away surrounded by family on Sunday morning, November 27, 2022, at Copper Trace in Westfield. Born in Boone County, Ind., on June 13, 1939, she was the daughter of the late Clarence B. and Edna Mae (Wills) Reddick.

Sue was a 1958 graduate of Sheridan High School. She began her career working for Western Electric on the assembly line. She worked in the cafeteria at Westfield High School for several years while her daughters were in school. She later hired on with the Carmel Clay School System as a bus aide.

Her strong faith and servant's heart helped guide her throughout her life. She was a member of the Sheridan First Christian Church, the Little Eagle Creek Christian Church and the Venture Christian Church. Always taking an active role in church activities, she served as the CWF President for several years. Another example of her servant's heart was her participation in many church missionary trips throughout the United States to help rebuild people's homes.

For Sue, there was nothing in this world more important than her family. She was never very interested in activities that she couldn't share in with those she loved. For over 30 years, she and her husband Darrell were active square dancers. They belonged to the Do-Si-Squares, where they took on the extra responsibility of serving as the President, Vice President, and Secretary for the club throughout the years. She also enjoyed sewing and knitting and would make Barbie clothes for her kids and grandchildren. Her grandchildren and great-grandchildren were her pride and joy. She loved following all their activities.

Sue had a special bond with her twin sister, Lou. For many years, the two of them painted and wallpapered houses as a team. Later in life they began attending the Twin Days Festival celebrating multiple births in Twinsburg, Ohio. They always looked forward to this special time they got to spend with each other. More recently, their sister, Mary Rose started coming along to join in the fun.

Yard work and fussing over flowers was a labor of love for Sue. And when it came to her favorite movie stars, nobody even came close to Elvis. If Elvis was in it, Sue had seen it ... multiple times. Sue also loved Christmas. For her, this was the holiday of holidays. She loved decorating for Christmas, and as soon as it was time for the decorations to come down (usually under protest), she was already thinking ahead to next year.

Her sweet and gentle nature will truly be missed by everyone who had the pleasure of knowing her.

Sue is survived by the love of her life, her husband Darrell E. Morris. She and Darrell met at church camp, fell in love, and spent the rest of their lives by each other's side. Sue and Darrell were married on June 5, 1960. She is also survived by her daughters, Tammy Gray (Don) of Fishers, Sherry Gould of Noblesville, and Sheila Boles (Frank) of Sheridan; four grandchildren, Kevin Gould (Katy) of Sheridan, Katie Sue Osborne of Westfield, Chelsea Lynn Lara of Noblesville, and Austin Gould (Bianca) of Sheridan; three bonus grandchildren, Draya Boles of Indianapolis, Larissa Boles of McCordsville, and Mariah Skirvin (Trevor) of Portland, Ind.; nine great-grandchildren, Alivia Gould, Liam Gould, Lincoln Gould, Waylon Gould, Gabe Lara, Coralyn Lara, Abel Skirvin, Zoey Skirvin, and Eme Skirvin; brother, Lyle Richard Reddick (Pat) of Noblesville; sisters, Mary Rose Martin of Indianapolis, Marcella Ann Edwards (John) of New Palestine, Beverly I. Trencher of Kokomo, and by her twin sister, Linda Lou Lewis (Jim) of Cicero; sisters-in-law, Maxine Reddick of Noblesville and Donna Reddick of Greenfield; many nieces and nephews; and her feline BFF and guardian angel, Gretta.

She is preceded in death by her parents, Clarence B. and Edna Mae (Wills) Reddick; brothers, Wayne, Larry, Donald Gene, Alonzo, Carroll, and William Reddick; sisters, Virginia Miller and Phyllis Manier; and by her feline furbabies, Amos and Andy.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. on Monday, December 5, 2022, at Kercheval Funeral Home, 306 E. 10th St., Sheridan, with visitation from 11 a.m. until the time of service. Burial will follow at Little Eagle Creek Cemetery in Westfield. Pastor Mike Berry will be officiating.

In lieu of flowers, Memorial Contributions may be presented to the Lewy Body Dementia Association, or to the Humane Society for Hamilton County.

Leslie Dale "Les" Pence

August 30, 1934 – November 25, 2022

Leslie Dale "Les" Pence, 88, Sheridan, passed away on Friday, November 25, 2022, surrounded by his loving family. Les was born on August 30, 1934, in Ft. Wayne, Ind. He was the son of the late Charles Laver and Nellie Dell (Karns) Pence.

Les was a graduate of Columbia City High School with the Class of 1952. He went on to attend Morehead State University where he received a full-ride scholarship into the School of Music program. He graduated in 1956 with a B.A. in Music Education. While at Morehead State, he was in a quartet that toured around the state and was honored as official "Kentucky Colonels" by the Governor. He would later go on to earn a M.Ed. degree and an Ed.S. degree from Indiana University. Les served in the U.S. Army Reserves where he spent his service time performing with the U.S. Army Band.

After his service in the Army, he took a position with Shipshewana Schools in 1957. This move led him to meeting the love of his life, Martha Ann Prough. Les and Martha were married on June 7, 1958. They were married for 64 years. Les and Martha had three sons, Randy, Terry, and Mike. Together they also have five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Les worked as a music teacher and high school principal in various locations around Indiana before they eventually settled in Sheridan. He took the position of Superintendent of Sheridan Community Schools and was later the Director of Transportation for Carmel and Danville Schools. He retired in 1994 and enjoyed serving in various volunteer opportunities in Sheridan. Most notably he served as the statewide director for the AARP Safe Driver Program in Indiana. Les was a member of the Sheridan United Methodist Church, where he enjoyed directing the choir. For the last decade he enjoyed his weekly volunteering gig in his granddaughters' kindergarten classroom.

Of all the things Les has done throughout his lifetime, spending quality time with his family was always his number one priority. He loved to travel with his family, study history, attend classic car shows and even collect a few of his own, too. The entire family enjoyed many memory-making summers at Loon Lake in northern Indiana. More recently, Les loved driving his golf cart with the great-grandchildren to get ice cream. Les lived a life dedicated to the service of others: his country, community, church, and most of all to his family. He will be greatly missed and always remembered.

Les is survived by his wife, Martha Ann (Prough) Pence; two sons, Randy D. Pence (Karen) of Noblesville and Terry L. Pence (Helena) of California; five grandchildren, Desiree' Pauley (Andrew), Dr. Orey Pence (Christy), Allie Deal (Aaron), Elyse Clark (Henry), and Ian Pence; nine great-grandchildren, Logan Pauley, Cora Pauley, Lincoln Pauley, Leo Pauley, Luca Deal, Livi Deal, Tori Clark, Gabe Clark, and Alex Clark; and many nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Charles Laver and Nellie Dell (Karns) Pence; son, Mike E. Pence; two grandsons, Richard Andrew "Andy" Pence and Erik M. Pence; and his brother, Richard Pence.

Visitation will be held from 4 to 7 p.m. on Friday, December 2, 2022, at the Sheridan First United Methodist Church. Funeral services will take place at 1 p.m. on Saturday, December 3, 2022, at the Sheridan First United Methodist Church, 207 E. 2nd Street, Sheridan, with visitation from noon until the time of service. Burial will follow at Crown View Cemetery in Sheridan. Rev. John Meunier will be officiating.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be presented to the Sheridan Fire Department or to the Sheridan First United Methodist Church.

Royals’ experience holds off Millers

NOBLESVILLE — Experience is serving the Hamilton Southeastern girls basketball team well this season.

The Class 4A No. 3 Royals ran their record to 9-0 on Wednesday with a 60-48 victory over 4A No. 4 Noblesville in a Hoosier Crossroads Conference game at The Mill. Southeastern led for all but a couple minutes of the game, taking a big halftime lead and holding off a Millers comeback in the second half.

Noblesville led 2-0 and 4-2 in the first quarter, with Kaitlyn Shoemaker scoring all of those points. But Lauren Stewart hit a 3-pointer to give the Royals a 5-4 lead, and they never trailed again. Southeastern slowly built a 13-7 lead by the end of the first quarter. Senior Olivia Brown scored six points. The Royals then broke away even further in the second quarter, using an 8-0 run to take a 27-13 lead with 2:22 left in the half. Senior Teegan Acres scored four of those points, and sophomore Maya Makalusky drilled a 3.

“We have different people stepping up,” said HSE coach Brian Satterfield. “Yeah, we got our leading scorers, but we feel confident in everybody that’s out there to be able to step up and hit shots.”

Stewart’s second triple of the game came right before halftime, and it put Southeastern up 32-16 at the break. The Makalusky sisters then took over during the first part of the third quarter, with both Riley and Maya both scoring seven points. That pushed the Royals ahead 46-24.

The Millers came blasting back after that, going on a 14-0 run to get within 46-38. Reagan Wilson scored nine of those points, including a 3 and a basket off a steal. But Stewart threw in her third 3-pointer at the buzzer, so the Royals led 49-38 going into the fourth.

Noblesville got to within 49-44 with a 6-0 run before the Makalusky took over again. Riley added five points and Maya scored four as Southeastern finished the game on a 9-1 run.

Riley Makalusky and Maya Makalusky both scored 14 points for Southeastern, followed by Brown’s 11 and Acres’ 10. Brown also collected 10 rebounds for a double-double and also had eight assists.

“When I was a freshman, I looked up to Sydney (Parrish) and Jackie Mautucci for sure,” said Brown. “And I think looking up to them as amazing leaders really just put me in the position I am now, and hopefully I can be that leader for them as well.”

Wilson finished the game with 22 points, while Kaitlyn Shoemaker added 15 points. The Millers were without Ava Shoemaker, while Meredith Tippner had to leave the game in the first half after getting injured.

“We battled for sure,” said Noblesville coach Donna Buckley. “But when you’re going against a team that’s that talented, you got to have more weapons to be able to do some things.”

Southeastern is now 3-0 in conference play. The Royals are off until Tuesday when they host Pendleton Heights. The Millers are 2-1 in HCC play and 6-3 overall, and play Saturday afternoon at Fort Wayne Northrop.
