Notwithstanding the apparent straight forward language of the statute, the Court found that a person specified in the disinterment statute does not have the absolute right to disinter remains as a matter of law. The rights of others who oppose disinterment may be considered by the Court.

The Court went on to note four factors that should be considered concerning disinterment.

1. Whether the initial resting place was made with deliberation and without mental reservation that at some future point, removal might be desired.

2. Whether there is evidence of antagonisms and hostilities between the surviving spouse and the owners of the tomb or burial plot such as would prevent the surviving spouse from visiting the grave freely and without embarrassment or humiliation.

3. Whether the deceased spouse had evidenced a preference for one location as opposed to another.

4. Whether the disinterment would conflict with the deceased person's religious beliefs.

The Court, weighing all the evidence, concluded that Mr. Mitchell did not establish that his father-in-law prevented or would prevent him from visiting his deceased wife's grave and in fact had allowed him to be buried next to his wife upon his death. The Court also noted that it was Mr. Mitchell's wife's desire to be buried in the family plot. Considering all these facts, the Court denied the husband permission to move his deceased wife's body.

Issues after death such as: who may come to the funeral; who "owns" the body after death? who has the right to decide whether the body is to be buried or cremated can become highly emotionally and divisive. We recommend consulting with an attorney to determine what rights you have.

Many of these issues can be resolved through use of a Healthcare Power of Attorney or the Funeral Directives provisions of Indiana law which allow a person to answer many of the anticipated questions.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Rep. Spartz urges passage of Family and Small Business Taxpayer Protection Act

The REPORTER

Rep. Victoria Spartz (R-Ind.-05) spoke on the House floor Monday in support of the Family and Small Business Taxpayer Protection Act. Her remarks follow.

"Mr. Speaker, I want to clarify what exactly this bill is doing. Last year, Congress gave an additional $80 billion to the IRS on top of $12 billion of existing funding, which increased the IRS's budget by almost eight times.

"This bill still keeps almost $10 billion in additional funding to modernize IRS, which is still almost doubling their $12 billion budget, but eliminates over $70 billion of wasteful and egregious aggression against the American taxpayer by the federal government.

"As someone who spent over a decade in public accounting and also started my own businesses, I never felt that we don't have enough government. On the contrary.

"I hear the same message when I go all across my district – small businesses and entrepreneurs have a hard time surviving.

"I hope my Democrat colleagues will also support this commonsense adjustment to relieve the undue burden on American families."

State Sen. Scott Baldwin authors legislation to provide tax relief to small businesses

The REPORTER

State Sen. Scott Baldwin (R-Noblesville) recently filed a bill to provide tax relief to Indiana small businesses.

Senate Bill 2 would change state tax law so that LLCs and S Corps can deduct all state tax payments on federal tax returns, resulting in what could be $50 million in federal tax savings for Hoosier small businesses.

“One of my primary goals in the Senate is to make it easier and less costly to start and grow a business in Indiana,” Baldwin said. “SB 2 would provide significant tax relief for small businesses by levelling the playing field and allowing these businesses to qualify for tax deductions that other large corporations already receive. This legislation has broad support from the business community, and I look forward to working with my colleagues to pass it into law.”

Under federal law, businesses can deduct their state tax payments from their federal tax liability. For businesses that pay income tax as corporations, such as C corporations, which are normally larger businesses, this deduction is unlimited. However, for corporations where the owners or shareholders pay their own individual income taxes, such as LLCs and S Corps, this deduction is limited to $10,000.

SB 2 would allow LLCs and S Corps to receive an unlimited federal deduction for their state tax payments, similar to C Corps.

Baldwin’s legislation has been identified as a priority bill by the Indiana Senate Republican Caucus and is supported by a wide range of business organizations, including:

- Indiana Chamber of Commerce
- National Federation of Independent Businesses (NFIB)
- Indiana Technology and Innovation Association (ITIA)
- Indiana Manufacturers

Baldwin

- Association
- Indiana Builders Association
- Main Street Employers
- Indiana Restaurant & Lodging Association
- Indiana Association of Realtors
- Indiana Association of Beverage Retailers
- Indiana State Bar Association
- Indiana CPA Society
- S Corporation Association
- Associated Builders and Contractors of Indiana/Kentucky
- Automobile Dealers Association of Indiana.

“We’re excited to support this proposal as it will allow Hoosier business owners to reinvest in their businesses and continue to drive economic growth in our state,” said Indiana Chamber of Commerce Vice President of Taxation and Public Finance David Ober in a statement of support. “Additionally, this tax relief will not cost the state anything, making it a win-win for both business owners and the state of Indiana.”

“The Indiana Technology & Innovation Association supports Senator Baldwin’s legislation to provide tax relief to small businesses and ensure Indiana has a competitive tax climate that encourages businesses to start, locate and grow in our state,” said Jennifer Hallowell, ITIA Executive Director.

If SB 2 becomes law, Indiana would join at least 29 states that have already made this change to their tax laws so their businesses can minimize federal taxes.

SB 2 has been referred to the Senate Committee on Tax and Fiscal Policy and awaits a hearing for further consideration. For more details on the bill, click here.

Parent Project designed to reduce juvenile delinquency

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Courts' Department of Probation Services is offering an 11-week program for parents of "strong-willed" children. The Parent Project is designed to curb destructive teen behaviors like poor school attendance, alcohol and drug use, run-aways, and violence.

"Kids don't come with instruction manuals," said Rob Evans, a probation officer and class instructor. "That can leave parents feeling frustrated and helpless especially when it comes to modern problems like cell phones, social media, online schooling, and designer drugs. We are here to help."

The Parent Project has been proven to reduce juvenile delinquency and has helped over 100,000 families nationwide. It uses a support group model to allow parents to learn from each other as well as the curriculum and provides parents concrete prevention and intervention strategies that can be put into immediate use within the home.

"Parents of strong-willed children often question their ability to parent effectively," Evans added. "This program will help them identify the off-putting behaviors, empower them to take back their homes, and improve their relationship with their child. We have been providing this class to Hamilton County for over 15 years and know it can change the course of a family."

The Parent Project requires 33 hours of online classroom work. The next class begins at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 7. Parents meet one night a week for approximately two and one-half to three hours. The program fee is $80 per family. For more information or to register, please call Rob Evans at (317) 776-5856 or by email at parent.project@hamiltoncounty.in.gov.

Songbook Foundation partners with Story Cottage

New agreement supports Perfect Harmony music program for seniors

The REPORTER

To advance one of its signature community outreach programs, the Great American Songbook Foundation has begun a partnership with Story Cottage, a new memory-care housing option from Senior Home Companions.

The partnership supports Perfect Harmony, a music resource for older adults developed by the Songbook Foundation in consultation with a board-certified music therapist. Recognizing the power of music to enhance quality of life for seniors – particularly those living with dementia – Perfect Harmony helps caregivers identify generationally appropriate music and activities to engage their clients or loved ones in shared musical experiences.

For many older adults today, the music of choice comes from the Great American Songbook, the popular songs, jazz standards, and Broadway and Hollywood favorites of the 20th century that have stood the test of time. Each month, the Perfect Harmony program provides a themed online package of video resources and music activities suitable for individual and group settings, in the tradition of families and friends gathering around a piano and experiencing music together.

"A growing number of family caregivers and elder-care professionals are drawing on these resources as they see the unique power of music to connect us with our memories and with the people around us," Songbook Foundation Executive Director Christopher Lewis said. "We're grateful to Story Cottage and Senior Home Companions for recognizing the value of the Perfect Harmony program."

Story Cottage, an innovative concept launched in 2019, provides a private, small-group residential setting for older adults living with memory loss. Constructed much like custom homes, the cottages in Carmel and Indianapolis offer premium safety features and a low patient-to-caregiver ratio.

Story Cottage Executive Director Diane Kohan has seen firsthand the positive impact that music can have in memory-care settings.

"The Songbook provides us with enriching, timeless music for our residents to enjoy," Kohan said. "Music can inspire dance and movement in an individual with Alzheimer's, providing exercise while soothing agitation. Even in late stages of dementia they may be able to still tap to the beat of their favorite childhood song."

Senior Home Companions Marketing Coordinator Kirstin Comment said the Songbook Foundation's broader mission – which includes maintaining a vast Library & Archives dedicated to the music's creators and performers – added to the appeal of the relationship.

"We chose to partner with the Great American Songbook Foundation because we believe in the mission of preserving music and all of its history for generations to come," Comment said.

Indiana Senate Democrats share their priorities for 2023 legislative session

Submitted by Indiana Senate Democratic Caucus

On Monday, Indiana Senate Democrats held a press conference to share their 2023 legislative session priorities, which they say puts the focus on creating an economy that supports Indiana families, promotes the future of students and state, and protects the freedoms of every resident.

Senate Democratic Leader Greg Taylor (D-Indianapolis) shared the following remarks:

"The Governor and Senate Republicans have shared their 2023 priorities, and I'm encouraged by what I see," Sen. Taylor said. "I think there's room for collaboration, and I'm hopeful we can get things done this session on behalf of Hoosiers."

"I will stress that my caucus and I believe we can invest heavily both in the state and Hoosiers this session. I know there's an appetite to engage in the culture war being waged at the national level, but I pray the members of this Indiana General Assembly can avoid that as much as possible this session. I think that, and really working together to do the best for our residents, will be how we have a successful session."

"The priorities my caucus has adopted this session are bolder than what we've seen from our colleagues and even the Governor, but I believe there's a real chance we can get some big-ticket items passed if we come together. If we do that instead of getting side-tracked with divisive and unproductive political games, I know we can do great things for Hoosiers this year."

Families

- Invest in expanding childcare access for families, which will help bolster the state's workforce.
- Create a Paid Leave Program for parents and families to take necessary time off work.
- Lower healthcare costs for Hoosiers paying the seventh-highest costs in the nation.

Futures

- Invest in K-12 to cover school operational costs along with teacher and staff pay raises.
- Eliminate school textbook fees to remove the burden on parents.
- Auto-enroll students into the 21st Century Scholars Program to bolster college attainment.

Freedoms

- Restore reproductive freedom to all Hoosier women by expanding access to abortion back up to 20 weeks.
- Decriminalize marijuana and advance legislation to make it legally accessible.
- Remove the ban on same-sex marriage in Indiana's current law and protect all marriages in Indiana.
- Amend the Indiana constitution to allow Hoosiers to vote directly on ballot initiatives at the polls.

Smith files for re-election to Noblesville Common Council

Submitted

Aaron Smith, Noblesville businessman and Common Council president, has formally filed for reelection to the Noblesville Common Council. Residents of the Third District first elected Smith in 2019.

"Over the past three years, I've worked consistently to deliver on the campaign promises I made to Noblesville residents," Smith said. "I wrote and passed legislation protecting downtown buildings from demolition. I supported our efforts to attract and retain businesses important to our city's economic engine, and I worked alongside our public safety officials to help make Noblesville safer."

Smith continued, "In this campaign, I recommit those promises to the residents of my district. Downtown Noblesville will always be my priority, we must take active and difficult steps to address our city's aging infrastructure, strategically invest in our future, and in all conversations put taxpayers first."

Notable accomplishments include:

- Authoring protections for downtown buildings: The protections passed Plan Commission, Common Council, and were signed into law by the Mayor.

- Securing funding for Old Town infrastructure: Smith secured funding in the budget for sidewalk repairs in Old Town ($250,000 in 2021 and $300,000 in 2022) and much-needed brick rehabilitation on Logan and Clinton streets.

- Maintaining a consistent property tax rate: The Council has held the city's property tax rate flat for the last four years at $1.10 per $100 of assessed value.

- Ensuring healthy rainy day fund reserves: While the State of Indiana recommends that cities target 12 percent of annual revenue for cash reserves, the Council and Administration have increased that to a

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

“To the angel of the church in Thyatira write: These are the words of the Son of God, whose eyes are like blazing fire and whose feet are like burnished bronze. I know your deeds, your love and faith, your service and perseverance, and that you are now doing more than you did at first. Nevertheless, I have this against you: You tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophet. By her teaching she misleads my servants into sexual immorality and the eating of food sacrificed to idols. I have given her time to repent of her immorality, but she is unwilling. So I will cast her on a bed of suffering, and I will make those who commit adultery with her suffer intensely, unless they repent of her ways. I will strike her children dead. Then all the churches will know that I am he who searches hearts and minds, and I will repay each of you according to your deeds. Now I say to the rest of you in Thyatira, to you who do not hold to her teaching and have not learned Satan’s so-called deep secrets, ‘I will not impose any other burden on you, except to hold on to what you have until I come.’ To the one who is victorious and does my will to the end, I will give authority over the nations—that one ‘will rule them with an iron scepter and will dash them to pieces like pottery’—just as I have received authority from my Father. I will also give that one the morning star. Whoever has ears, let them hear what the Spirit says to the churches. Revelation 2:18-29 (NIV)

Obituaries

Paul Estridge, Jr.

September 25, 1957 – January 8, 2023

Beloved husband, father, Pappy, brother, believer and survivor Paul E. Estridge, Jr. went to be with Jesus on Sunday, January 8, 2023, at Methodist Hospital, with his family by his side. He was 65 years old.

Paul was a dynamic entrepreneur for more than 40 years, known best as a homebuilder and land developer whose companies have developed more than 35 neighborhoods and built nearly 9,000 homes in central Indiana. In his career, Paul also used his many talents to build businesses in interconnecting technologies, mortgage lending, parimutuel horse racing, aviation management, and most recently the restaurant industry as owner and partner of Monterey Coastal Cuisine in Carmel. Paul received numerous accolades and honors over the years, culminating in 2022 when he was recognized as one of Indiana’s 250 Most Influential People by the Indianapolis Business Journal. Paul was a proud alumnus of Carmel High School (Class of 1976) and University of Evansville and a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

While being a successful and respected entrepreneur is certainly part of Paul’s legacy, his true passion was serving people. In 2007, Paul and his family founded the Estridge Family Trust Foundation. Since that time, the foundation has granted more than $7 million to charitable organizations focused on building lives and families in central Indiana. He was a cherished mentor and friend to many, both within his companies and within the community. He was a licensed private pilot, an avid reader, the host of his own podcast, Survive and Advance, and a member of Northview Church.

Paul’s love of his family sustained him through many challenges in his life. He credited them with every success and loved them deeply. He is survived by his wife, Judy, whom he described as his angel and his heart; his cherished children, Mary Ellen McIntyre (Coleman), Elyse Harvey (Scott), and Joshua Estridge; his grandchildren and joy, Cashel Timothy McIntyre, Amos Paul McIntyre, and Ruth Rose Harvey; his sisters, Sherry McNutt (Gary) and Vicki Short (Martin) whom he adored; and his many wonderful nieces and nephews. Paul was pre-deceased by his dear parents, Paul Sr. and Carol Estridge.

The family will receive visitors from 4 to 7 p.m. on Friday, January 13, 2023, at Randall & Roberts Funeral Center, 1685 Westfield Road (State Road 32) in Noblesville. A funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. on Saturday, January 14, 2023, at Northview Church Westfield Campus, 1191 W. 186th St., Westfield. The burial will be private.

Stuart Edwin Davis

April 9, 1936 – January 8, 2023

Stuart Edwin Davis, 86, Westfield, passed peacefully into his Heavenly home on Sunday morning, January 8, 2023. Born April 9, 1936, in Hamilton County, he was the son of the late Clarence and Mary (Stuart) Davis. He was a 1954 graduate of Westfield High School where he was a member of FFA and sang in the choir. On August 12, 1956, Stuart married the love of his life, Patricia Annmae Miller.

Stuart worked in the maintenance department for many years with Aero Drapery. During his 20 years with the company, he helped maintain, design, and build reconfigurations for their manufacturing equipment. The last 10 years of his career were spent at Stuckey Farms helping to keep everything running in tip top shape. Stuart loved tinkering with anything and everything mechanical in nature. His 38-year membership with the Vintage Motor Bike Club fostered both his design and engineering creativity. He could often be found out in the garage fabricating his latest motorized creation.

Stuart and his wife resided near Jolietville for 65 years. He was a lifetime member of the Eagle Creek Friends Church where he taught Sunday School and served in various leadership roles. Stuart and his wife had a passion for mentoring young people. Together, they directed and traveled with the church choir, The Singing Disciples, served as chaperones for summer church camp, and hosted many, many memorable youth meetings at their home. Stuart also served as head trustee and sexton for the Eagletown Cemetery for 60 years.

Stuart grew up in home that was filled with a passion for music, leading him to become a gifted guitar player. He made sure that same love for music echoed throughout his own home, leaving a legacy of music that will continue to be passed down through family and friends. Stuart was a kind and gentle man with a true servant’s heart. He loved being around people. Be it a family music party or reunion, an airport fly-in, community pancake breakfast, or simply sitting on the porch with his beloved wife, at that moment, there was nowhere else he would rather be.

Stuart is survived by his wife, Patricia Annmae “Pat” (Miller) Davis of Westfield; three sons, Stuart Mark Davis (Paula) of Fishers, Kerry Wayne Davis of Arcadia, and Paul Nathan “Nate” Davis (Kristin) of East Earl, Pa.; six grandchildren, Jessica Davis-Ray (Luke), Andrew Davis (Amanda), Lindsay Davis, Brittany Davis-Riner (Mark), Reagan Davis, and Riley Davis; four great-grandchildren, Isaac, Aiden, Maggie, and Calvin; nieces and nephews, Milton Whittaker (Mary Kathryn) of Bolivia, South America, Susan Whittaker-Cluxton (Paul) of Zionsville, and Little Sidney Davis of Noblesville.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Clarence and Mary (Stuart) Davis; sisters (and brothers-in-law), Ramona and husband Morris “Dick” Whittaker, and Phyllis and husband Robert S. Davis.

Services will be held at noon on Saturday, January 14, 2023, at the Eagle Creek Friends Church, 18325 Eagletown Road, Westfield, with visitation from 10 a.m. until the time of service. A private family burial will follow at Eagletown Cemetery in Eagletown. Pastor Bob Stubbs will be officiating.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be presented to Eagletown Cemetery, 3924 W. 186th St., Westfield, IN 46074.

Learning a lesson in toughness: Carmel falls to Cathedral at home

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

CARMEL – The Carmel boys basketball team had to deal with the hot shooting of Cathedral Wednesday night at the Eric Clark Activity Center.

The Irish, ranked No. 4 in Class 4A, shot 78 percent from the field in the second half, and that was a big part of their 55-47 victory over the 4A No. 8 Greyhounds. The game was back and forth until Cathedral made a run in the third quarter to take the lead for good, and while Carmel never let the Irish pull too far away, another late run sealed the win for Cathedral.

“I thought they were tougher,” said Greyhounds coach Ryan Osborn. “I thought they made more game-winning plays when they mattered. We made a couple runs, got a couple leads and they responded. And when they would go on a run, we didn’t.”

After the Irish’s Jaron Tibbs scored the first basket of the game, Carmel skipped off on a 7-0 run. Sam Orme and Ryan Clevenger both made lay-ins, then Logan Reinhart drained a 3-pointer.

But Cathedral responded with a 10-0 run that lasted into the second quarter. The Irish led 9-7 at the end of the first period, then Jake Davis’ 3 made it 12-7. Cathedral was able to keep the lead for the entire period, although Reinhart hit another triple to get the ‘Hounds within 12-11.

The Irish led 17-13 at halftime, but Carmel started the second half on a 6-0 run to get up 19-17. Spencer White made a layin, then Orme blasted off with a breakaway dunk to tie the game. Clevenger then scored off a Greyhounds steal, and Carmel held a 19-17 lead.

Booker made two free throws to tie the game, then LeBron Gough threw in a 3 to put Cathedral up 22-19. White stepped up again, draining two triples to get Carmel up 25-22.

That would prove to be the Greyhounds’ last lead, as the Irish took off on a 9-0 run. A Clevenger free throw was the final point of the quarter, so Carmel went into the fourth down 31-26.

The first couple minutes of the fourth period was mostly basket-trading, until White and Alex Couto made back-to-back floaters to keep Carmel within 38-33. Tibbs responded with a three-point play, and the two teams traded scores until the 2:32 mark, when a Tibbs free throw gave the Irish a 44-38 lead.

The Greyhounds made a push, as Orme hit two baskets to get Carmel within 44-42. But Tibbs was good on another and-1, and a Davis 3 made it a 6-0 Cathedral run. White hit one last 3 with 40 seconds left, but the Irish would stay in front by adding five more points.

“I think they played more connected and moved the ball better,” said Osborn. “They shot 78 percent in the second half, and we’re supposed to be a good defensive team, and they got a lot of in-rhythm, uncontested shots. You got to give them a lot of credit, because their players drove it when the opportunities were there. They finished at the basket with fouls. They were aggressive on the boards.”

Orme scored 14 points, collected five rebounds and handed out four assists. White totaled 13 points, including three 3s. Tibbs led all scorers with 24 points.

“We were pretty disconnected tonight,” said Osborn. “I didn’t think we played with a whole lot of toughness or grit. The good news is, we do have some time and I do think our kids are tough. But you got to learn how to be tough when things are tough. It’s a lot easier to be tough when everything’s going well.”

Carmel is 8-4 for the season and plays its next game on the road, traveling to Fort Wayne Snider on Saturday.
