Noblesville Lions welcome Emergency Management

On Wednesday evening, the Noblesville Lions Club welcomed Shane Booker, Executive Director of Hamilton County Emergency Management. HCEM provides communication and logistics support during emergencies and natural disasters. Booker provided the club with a presentation on the activities of the county organization and answered many questions. The agency recently helped Johnson County with the tornadoes they had. He encouraged the club to sign up for Smart911.com, which provides additional information to 911 when called in an emergency. He also encouraged signing up for the HCEM App. (Above right) Lions Club VP Walk Sheid presented Booker with a Certificate of Appreciation.

Fishy, finny Earth Day thoughts

Four years ago, my future bride and I were lost in the jungle of The Gaylord Opryland Resort, a luxury-hotel behemoth that includes nine acres of tropical plants, trees, waterways, and waterfalls – all indoors.

We grew weary and grouchy trying to find our room, one of 2,888 rooms somewhere out there on the edges of our rainforest-in-a-dome destination. The cordial check-in woman verbalized our room's location, but anytime anyone gives me verbal directions to anywhere, all I really hear is "mwa-mwa-mwa." (Note: I never did find the Empire State Building when walking Manhattan. In hindsight, I realized I had walked right by it several times.)

The resort is so expansive it has zones: Cascades, Garden Conservatory, Delta. Our room was in Magnolia, wherever that was. Heart of Darkness would be a more fitting name.

With each wrong turn; with each miscalculated footstep – often a flip-flop flew missile-like off a foot due to walking too closely to each other (Brynne calls this "flipping your flop") –; and with each erroneous direction taken on stairways and elevator chutes, our faces grew more flush, our foreheads more damp. We saw waterfalls and

Teach One to Lead One mentoring program teaches students to give back

The REPORTER

Students who are a part of the Teach One to Lead One (T1L1) mentoring program from Hamilton Heights High School and Middle School, along with Eastwood Middle School in Washington Township in Marion County, prepared over 18,000 meals for people at International Disaster Emergency Service (IDES).

On April 13, 75 students, mentors and teachers mixed and packaged dry food to feed people in Ukraine, South Sudan, and Honduras.

T1L1 is a mentoring program that takes place in the classroom each week throughout the school year. It pairs community volunteers with teachers to lead students through 10 Universal Principles – key parts of leadership. The principles include respect, integrity, self-control, courage, humility, excellence, compassion, enthusiasm, teamwork, and honor. The students were able to put these principles to use when they went on a service project at IDES.

IDES provides relief to people who are hurting worldwide. That relief is often in the form of help to victims of war, refugees displaced by violence, oppression, or natural disasters. IDES also serves malnourished people, villages living without clean water, medical care, clothing, and shelter, to name just a few of their services.

IDES GAP Director Jody England explained to the students that the food they were

Noblesville Schools among some 40 Indiana districts who received threats

The REPORTER

Early Friday morning, Indiana State Police (ISP) was made aware of an email sent to approximately 40 Indiana schools threatening the use of explosive devices that had allegedly been planted on various school campuses.

ISP immediately allocated all intelligence resources to investigate the validity of the threat, to include communication with the Department of Education, as well as local, county, and federal law enforcement partners.

As of press time Friday night, no suspicious or explosive devices were found in any of the schools. The investigation into the origin of this threat is ongoing.

"The safety of our children will always be a top priority," ISP Superintendent Doug Carter said, "and the Indiana State Police will continue to offer any and all resources we have Schools families. This is your Superintendent, Dr. Hile.

In the middle of the night, we received an anonymous email that made a bomb threat against our schools. Our team has been working on this situation since early this morning. While we do not have any reason to believe that the threat is credible at this time, we are of course not willing to risk the safety of our students or staff.

For that reason, and out of an overabundance of caution, I am calling an e-learning day

Youth Assistance—THREATS

The grant funds will allow SYAP to focus on providing pre-kindergarten scholarships and before- and after-school childcare assistance to qualifying low-income families. Research indicates that children who have an opportunity to attend a pre-kindergarten program, develop important social and learning skills, and benefit with not only kindergarten readiness but further advantages into the primary grades. Scholarships for before and after school childcare helps ensure students are supervised, involved in pro-social activities, and exposed to planned experiences guided by a qualified adult. They are in a safe environment while their family is at work.

HHYAP will focus on a tutoring program for students in grades 5 to 8. The tutoring program has proven to be a successful remediation and enrichment for students outside the school day. Students' complete homework, they can experience the value of completing assignments and its relationship to their academic achievement, and the success of the program has been noted by teachers, administrators, students, and families within the Hamilton Heights School Corporation. It is a program making a difference and it will be able to continue this valuable and successful program because of this funding.

today, on Friday, April 14th. Our team will spend today working with our local law enforcement and other appropriate agencies to further investigate this threat, and also ensure the safety of every one of our schools.

I apologize for the short notice, and appreciate your understanding as we continue to work hard to keep our schools, staff, and children safe.

Then, Supt. Hile followed up with a mid-afternoon message regarding the situation.

I wanted to provide an update regarding the bomb threat that we received last night. Approximately 40 other school districts throughout the state also received the threat.

Our law enforcement teams have been hard at work since early this morning sweeping our buildings and ensuring the safety of our students and staff. No suspicious or explosive devices have been found in any of our schools and all buildings have been cleared for staff and students to safely return.

Federal and state law enforcement agencies are pursuing this investigation aggressively and we are hopeful that the person responsible will be quickly apprehended.

As always, please remain vigilant of your surroundings and report any suspicious activity to your principal or school resource officer: Principals provided support resources for our families earlier today and I encourage you to reference those, as needed.

All evening activities will move forward as planned and we look forward to welcoming students back to school on Monday.

I understand that this situation has created quite a disruption for everyone today, and I greatly appreciate your patience and understanding. Thank you, as always, for your support of our schools, staff, and most importantly, our children.

Although Westfield Washington Schools did not receive any such threat Friday, the following message was sent to Westfield families before 8 a.m. Friday.

We are aware that some school districts around Central Indiana have modified their operations after having received anonymous threats. Westfield Washington Schools have not received any threats and will be conducting normal operations. The safety and security of students and staff is our top priority, and we will continue to closely monitor the situation.

Great work to all law enforcement – local, state, and federal – and all school officials in working to keep Hamilton County safe.

packaging would be sent to people who had very little food and often were malnourished. He explained how each bag of food would feed six people. The meals consisted of a mix of rice, soy, dried vegetables, and a supplement of 21 essential vitamins and minerals. They are easily mixed with water and provide nutrition.

In less than two hours, the students were able to package enough meals to feed 18,144 people. England said that was the equivalent of feeding an entire village for one month.

Sara Colter serves as the Area Manager for T1L1 in central Indiana. She explained that the service project is a requirement of each mentoring classroom.

"It gives students the opportunity to do something for someone less fortunate than themselves," Colter said. "Showing compassion is one of the Universal Principles we teach and this gives them the opportunity to put compassion into action."

Colter said that many students think of their situation and they may believe they are living in hard times. However, when they compare their life to someone who is living on less than one meal per day, it puts their lives into perspective. They respond with a passion to help.

Hamilton Heights was the first T1L1 school district in Indiana. Eastwood is the first school in Indianapolis to pilot the mentoring program.

Clint Flanders is one of the original mentors at Hamilton Heights and he currently works with eighth grade students.

"I thought this was a great experience for both schools," Flanders said. "You saw both groups of students working together to accomplish something good. Our world could use a whole lot more of that!"

Barry and Jane Newborn volunteer as mentors at Eastwood and meet with a group of seventh grade students each week.

"When you look at what is going on in the world today, every kid needs this," Barry said.

Wendy Libby-Bernstein is on staff at Eastwood Middle School and meets with the students and mentors each Monday.

"I've seen so much growth with the kids this year," Libby-Bernstein said. "They respond to these caring adults who come to school each week to teach them, but also to listen to them."

Students who participate in T1L1 mentoring are taught to be leaders. IDES provided a very practical and necessary experience for them. That was evidenced by the hard work all the students put into this project.

PREVAIL
Advocating for Victims of Crime & Abuse

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

trees previously passed, as if going in circles. Though we packed lightly, our travel bags became leaden. We wished for pack mules.

Our temperaments were finally tested as soon-to-be newlyweds. During our then blissful, two-year courtship, there was never an “issue,” no contrariness to our compatibility. But I sensed a change. Where once her eyes contained the calming hues of Caribbean waters, there now boiled a fury of Vesuvius lava within her irises as I stubbornly insisted on guiding (in her eyes, misguiding) us to our elusive room, its existence as improbable as The Lost City of Z.

But, oh, those feverish, raging, bugged-out eyes before me.

Brynne looked dangerous, as if deep inside her purse one might find a garrote or blowgun with poison darts, causing me to pause, worry and wonder, “How well do I really know this woman I’m to marry? How do I even dare close my eyes to sleep?” Brynne finally declared mutiny and took control of our expedition. I followed her. We found our room within five minutes.

We were in Nashville to see guitar god Carlos Santana bring his Global Consciousness Tour to the nearby Grand Ole Opry stage. Santana’s ability to go beyond musical, cultural, and geographical boundaries, combined with our overnight stay among the ecological wonders of the resort, seemed like the perfect Earth Day 2019 thing to do.

The older I get, the more conscious I’ve become about our earth’s condition. Now, when I hear Santana sing, “You’ve got to change your evil ways, baby,” the song’s true meaning has morphed into something totally different from the songwriter’s intent. It is a mantra guiding me to better citizenship. My mea culpa to Mother Earth.

I soon banned plastic water bottles from my home, ending years of personal planet abuse. I imagined a plastic mountain with my name on it, the landform equivalent of the Great Pacific Garbage Patch. Videos of melting glaciers haunted me to the point that the contents in plastic water bottles reminded me of iceberg tears.

Brynne and I binged Netflix’s Our Planet, which contains the most jaw-dropping, beautiful nature footage I’ve ever seen and details the cause and effect of global warming in simplistic, non-political terms.

While in Cozumel in 2019, it was encouraging to learn that plastic drinking straws are banned to protect sea turtles and other marine life. I was equally pleased to see, back then, a child’s artwork attached to the counter at Greek’s Pizzeria in Fishers, Ind., advising customers to “Skip the Straw” to save turtles. Kudos to the Hamilton County teacher who encouraged this earth-conscious class project. Such simple everyday earth acts inspire. At drive-through windows, I now give the straw back and shout “Save The Turtles!” I bought a metal, telescopic, pocket straw for Brynne to reuse.

Even my dad attempted to save a turtle from a roadway recently. He safely drove around it, stopped, backed up to help – only to hear a tragic crunch beneath the full weight of his rear tire. At least he tried. But try telling that to the turtle.

In Cozumel, I snorkeled (my first time), finding myself lost within a vibrant color spectrum of tropical fish dodging my touch, easily ranking as my most meaningful Earth moment. This memory is my happy place of escape when stressed.

An endearing trait about Brynne is her empathy for elephants. She emulates their strength, wisdom, and patience. For Valentine’s Day, I donated money to a Tennessee elephant sanctuary on her behalf, making up, perhaps, for the time I took her to my then local county museum and encountered a ghastly display of chopped-off elephant feet in the unsettling safari room, the elephant felled by a local safariist. How the dead elephant and a nearby stuffed polar bear represented our southern Indiana hunting heritage, I’ll never comprehend. Shouldn’t the museum just show dead animals indigenous to the county it represents? I still boil from unwittingly giving Brynne a local peek into global unconsciousness.

Fishy finny thoughts, Scott, finny fishy thoughts. Float on. Save the Earth.

Woman shot while riding in van on I-69 in Noblesville

By GREGG MONTGOMERY
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

A Kentucky woman was seriously injured after being shot while traveling Thursday night in a van on Interstate 69 on the Noblesville border, Indiana State Police say. The 34-year-old woman was not identified in a news release from state police.

Police were called to a person shot about 7:20 p.m. Thursday on northbound I-69 just north of the Cynthianne Road overpass in eastern Hamilton County.

A Fishers Police Department officer, the first to arrive at the scene, applied a tourniquet to the woman who had been shot and had an injured arm, the release said. Medics arrived later to take her to an area hospital.

Her injuries were not believed to be life-threatening, the release said.

Investigators say the woman was a passenger in a white van when what they think was a bullet came through the window and hit her. Investigators were not immediately sure from where the bullet came.

The incident delayed traffic on I-69 for nearly two hours.

Anyone with information was asked to call state police at (317) 899-8577.

Private schools should have their own athletic class

The Sheridan Student Column is brought to readers by Sheridan High School's 10th grade English class, taught by Abby Williams.

Throughout the state of Indiana, over the past decade, private schools have begun to appear more popular as well as dominating the IHSAA, especially in the lower classes. Some of the state's top athletes chose these schools opposed to attending the public school proximate to their residence. Private schools have seen an increase in IHSAA state titles among all sports.

Below we will look at IHSAA State Championship Games over the past three State Champions of all classes in Boys Basketball and Football as well as Girls Soccer. Bolded are the State Champions which are private schools.

- IHSAA Girls Soccer State Champions have been private schools six out of nine times over the past three years over all three classes. Private schools have won Classes A and 2A for three years in a row.

As private schools continue to dominate IHSAA, especially the smaller classes, opportunities at a state title are becoming more and more challenging for kids attending public high schools across the state. They are able to pull kids from all over the state to enroll at their school. Private schools should play in their own class made up of all private schools across the state.

Looking for adventure? United Way wants you to skydive, rappel down building for a cause

The REPORTER
Over two days in August, thrill-seeking philanthropists will rappel down a 23-story building in downtown Indianapolis and skydive from 13,000 feet in the air – all while raising funds to help their Central Indiana neighbors.

Registration is now open for two different United Way of Central Indiana events, “Over the Edge” and “Sky High,” scheduled for Aug. 10 and 11. Both raise money for United Way’s basic needs initiatives, which help provide Hoosiers with access to food, housing, transportation, and health services.

At United Way’s fourth “Over the Edge” Aug. 11, participants will rappel down the Keystone Group’s building at 220 N. Meridian St. in downtown Indianapolis. New this year, United Way has added a second day of thrills: “Sky High: Parachuting with a Purpose.” On Aug. 10, adventurers will tandem skydive from the Frankfort Municipal Airport with instructors certified by the United States Parachute Association.

The rappelling event is limited to the first 80 people over age 13 who register, and the skydiving event is limited to the first 40 people over age 18 who sign up. Participants commit to raising at least $1,500. Those who want to do both events must raise a minimum of $2,500.

For more information or to sign up to rappel, visit uwci.org/ote.

Investment ideas for business owners

By definition, business owners put a lot of their financial resources into their enterprises. But as an owner, you may need to invest in more than inventories and payroll to help achieve the future you've envisioned.

Here are a few investments you may want to consider:

Retirement account

Depending on the nature of your business and how many employees you have, you can choose from a variety of tax-advantaged retirement plans, such as an owner-only 401(k), an SEP-IRA and a SIMPLE IRA. By contributing regularly to one of these accounts, you can avoid being entirely dependent on the sale of your business to pay for your retirement years.

To fund your 401(k) or other retirement plan, you'll have many investment options – stocks, bonds, mutual funds and so on. And if you “max out” on your retirement plan, you may even be able to build a separate investment portfolio.

In any case, keep in mind that you're already putting a lot of money into your business, so, to achieve a level of diversification, you may want to concentrate your investment choices in areas outside your industry. However, while diversification can help reduce the impact of market volatility on your portfolio, it can't guarantee profits or protect against losses in a declining market.

Property

Your physical space is a key part of your business' success. So, you may want to invest some time in comparing the pros and cons of renting versus owning. Of course, owning your building may require a big financial commitment, and it may not be feasible, but it could free you from worrying about untimely rent increases.

Disaster protection

If a fire or a weather-related disaster should strike your business, would you be prepared? It's important for you to create a disaster recovery plan, which can include business interruption insurance to pay for your operating costs if you're forced to shut down for a while.

Emergency savings

While a disaster protection plan with appropriate insurance can help keep your business afloat, it's unlikely to cover other types of emergency needs, such as a major medical bill or an expensive repair to your home. For these unexpected costs, you may want to build an emergency fund covering at least a few months' worth of living expenses, with the money kept in a liquid account. Without such an emergency fund, you may be forced to dip into your 401(k), IRA or other long-term investment vehicle.

You'll also want to invest the time and energy into creating a business succession plan. Will you keep the business in your family? Sell it to outsiders or a key employee? If you do sell, will you do it all at once or over time? Clearly, the answers to these types of questions will make a big difference in your ultimate financial security.

Finally, invest in help. Enlist the services of a financial advisor and business-planning professional, so you'll be able to make the decisions that work best for your business and you.

Your business may well be a lifelong endeavor – so make sure you're investing whatever it takes to earn a lifetime of benefits.

Shankland’s column brings relatable joy to Cicero reader

Dear Editor:

I always enjoy reading Amy Shankland’s column, and this week’s on “Leftovers” brought back some fond memories.

First of all, I remember looking at some papers that my oldest, Michael, brought home from the third grade and saw on what looked like a sheet that he was asked, “What are your favorites?” Under his favorite food he had listed leftovers! How funny! (I say “how funny” because I’m old school and DO NOT like this LOL stuff.)

Another memory is that my wife and I both traveled throughout some of our marriage and when she wasn’t traveling, I would always take her out for dinner after being gone most of the week. She would always come home with a Styrofoam box of something and put it in the fridge! By the end of the weekend our fridge would be full of those ugly white boxes, and although we would eat some of them, inevitably they would be thrown away.

It’s so great to get read Amy’s column and get some levity away from the mundane political columns we see this time of the year. Thank you, Amy!

Carmel voter looking for checks & balances, supports Sue Finkam

Dear Editor:

Carmel voters have options.

Mr. Rider seems to bring a “continue as is” philosophy as a Brainard clone and part of the long-running Mayor, Council, CRC machine. He provided several non-answers to questions posed at the recent Palladium candidate debate. He also has developed a full slate of City Council candidates (Carmel Magazine April 2023) with whom he prefers to work.

Where are the checks and balances? Mayor Brainard (April 11 Current in Carmel) noted “it was my intention to not get involved in the primary election ... however ... an endorsement of Mr. Rider with his “commitment to service” followed.

Is it getting a little too hot in the kitchen?

Mr. Glynn offers a complete outsider perspective, and he also has demonstrated a commitment to service at the Hamilton County level. I am not sure I have heard a lot of creative ideas other than electing someone from the “outside.”

Sue Finkam brings a commitment to service and has often been a minority voice on a City Council that has not been open with all decisions around growth and financing. She is not endorsing a slate of City Council candidates; I believe she will work with anyone who is elected. She has led with a platform highlighting safety (endorsed by Carmel police) and transparency, openness, communication. The latter topic is one that has been sadly lacking in the current Mayor, City Council, CRC machine.

I’m looking for some change with checks and balances around thoughtful well-vetted decisions versus a rubber stamp process.

I’m going to be true with Sue.

Westfield mayoral candidate Kristen Burkman responds to voter’s concerns

Dear Editor:

I appreciate the opportunity to respond to a letter written by Ms. Monica Cannaley regarding the fact that I did not fill out the Green Voters Guide survey.

I chose not to respond to this survey because I'm a data and fact driven candidate. In order to properly answer the survey, it required reading hundreds of pages of reports that were connected to the survey and agreeing to everything written in these reports. Unfortunately, I didn't have the time to dedicate to reading these reports during this campaign season.

However, I did submit a statement to the Green Voters Guide which I'm sharing here:

I'm very in favor of greenspace preservation in our community. We currently have a shortage of parks in Westfield and we need to work on this. I'm also very concerned about the preservation of the trees next to our trails. We need ordinances to protect these areas. I want us to have a healthy community with lots of trees so I worked very hard as the Downtown Westfield Streetscape Leader to make sure we are planting trees in our downtown to combat the emissions from vehicles. These are all areas that I can impact as Westfield Mayor and they will all get a top priority of my attention.

Additionally, I donated over 300 hours over five years of my personal time to save Wood Wind Golf Course from being demolished and gone forever from our community. This is over 150 acres of greenspace and the only public golf course in Westfield that was preserved due to this unwavering commitment.

No other candidate has invested this type of time and effort into greenspace preservation in this community.

If Westfield wants a mayor who will make greenspace preservation a priority, vote for Kristen Burkman.

Hoosier dairy association’s Indy airport displays listed among world’s best

Submitted

Indianapolis International Airport (IND to those in the know) is long accustomed to collecting “best of” accolades. The facility is consistently named tops in its category by organizations that rank airports throughout the United States.

This time, however, it’s a couple of displays located inside the airport that has garnered recognition.

The American Dairy Association Indiana (ADAI)

“Winners Drink Milk” displays at IND have been cited by OOH Today – the leading online source for news and information about the worldwide out-of-home advertising and billboard industry – as among its Top 10 Most Creative Executions of the Week. ADAI’s companions in this elite group include The Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Tiffany & Co., Showtime, M&Ms, and Tommy Hilfiger.

See redemption through power of music on stage at Basile Westfield Playhouse

By CARRIE NEAL
A Seat on the Aisle

A stranger with a mysterious past comes to a small town and shakes things up: it's a familiar storytelling device because it's such an effective hook, and The Spitfire Grill is no exception.

Based on the 1996 independent film, the musical tells the story of Percy Talbott (Chrissy Crawley), a young drifter who settles in Gilead, Wis. She begins working at the Spitfire Grill, owned by Hannah Ferguson (Georgeanna Teipen) and is soon befriended by coworker Shelby Thorpe (Katelyn Maudlin). The small cast is rounded out by Shelby's husband Caleb (Daniel Draves), town gossip Effy Krayneck (Susan Smith), Sheriff Joe Sutter (Scott Fleshood), and The Visitor (Tom Riddle).

This is a simply told story of redemption that's all about the music, most of it rendered in a folk/bluegrass style. Powerhouse singers are needed, and Main Street Productions delivers. The cast is led by Chrissy Crawley as Percy Talbott, who simply could not have a more perfect voice for the task at hand. Her voice is yearning, evocative, and true, everything we want it to be. Katelyn Maudlin as Shelby Thorpe also contributes gorgeous vocals with a sweet and pure tone. When the two of them are singing harmonies or a trio with Georgeanna Teipen as Hannah Ferguson, the audience is transported. Special mention must be made of Teipen's "Way Back Home" and of Scott Fleshood's "Forest for the Trees," but each and every vocalist in this production is superb.

We're given rock-solid performances from veteran actors Susan Smith as Effy Krayneck, Daniel Draves as Caleb Thorpe, and Georgeanna Teipen as Hannah Ferguson, but the acting is not as flawless across the board as the vocals. This is a show where not much happens, so there should be a good deal of active listening when one actor is singing a song and another is just sitting with them, which didn't always happen. Some strange blocking choices also served to erode the overall feel of excellence; when one or two or three characters are doing beautiful work singing their songs, we don't want to see other characters entering in preparation for their next scene. This happened several times and broke the hard-won magic of the moment.

This was my first visit to the recently constructed Basile Westfield Playhouse, and it would seem remiss not to mention the beauty of the space and how fortunate Main Street Productions is to have it. The set, which mostly consists of the Spitfire Grill restaurant itself, is beautifully constructed of various woods and makes great use of the space. The lighting is at its best when multicolored lights are used for rainbow and sunrise effects, but there are a few times when actors were doing scene work far downstage and their faces were partially obscured/poorly lit.

This musical should be better known than it is, and director Brenna Whitaker has created a heartfelt, honest production that deserves to be seen.

The Spitfire Grill runs at the Basile Westfield Playhouse, presented by Main Street Productions, through April 23. Curtain times are 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, and 2:30 p.m. on Sunday. Tickets may be purchased at WestfieldPlayhouse.org.

Read more great play reviews from A Seat on the Aisle at asota.wordpress.com.

DAIRY

The dairy association's displays, located in Terminals A & B near TSA security checkpoints, feature graphics that enable airport visitors to "picture" themselves in the iconic Indianapolis 500 Victory Circle Bottle of Milk celebration. Nearby banners that say "Welcome to Indy - Commemorate Your Visit with MILK!" show two-time Indy 500 winner Takuma Sato and defending race champion Marcus Ericsson celebrating in Victory Circle with the traditional Bottles of Milk. Graphics depicting a winner's podium and the milk pour provide background elements for memorable photos.

The Winners Drink Milk displays were created by ADAI with Lamar Airport Advertising and will be at Indianapolis International until Labor Day.

"The Victory Circle Bottle of Milk Tradition at the 500-Mile Race is recognized worldwide as a symbol not only of the race but of Indianapolis and Indiana," said Jenni Browning, CEO of the association that represents approximately 700 Indiana dairy farm families. "From the mid-1930s, when legendary driver Louis Meyer pulled into Victory Circle and asked for a glass of buttermilk to quench his thirst, milk has been associated with the greatest race in the world. Our Indiana dairy farm families are proud to play an integral role in the Indy 500, and we're equally proud to welcome visitors to Indianapolis in this fun and festive manner!"

So next time you're passing through IND, be sure to pause and take your very own winner's podium photos. When you share your shots on the various social media platforms, be sure to include the hashtag #WinnersDrinkMilk. Random travelers are selected by the dairy association to receive Winners Drink Milk swag bags - and it could be you.

The Department of Engineering's Capital Project Dashboard provides a long-range overview of active and upcoming projects, including cost estimates, construction timelines, project maps, and more.

Upcoming construction projects this spring and summer include:

State Road 37 & 141st Street Interchange

The final interchange of the State Road 37 Improvement Project, 141st Street, is currently in the pre-construction phase. During this phase, 141st Street is in a temporary Right-In-Right-

Out traffic configuration. A full timeline for the 141st Street interchange will be provided after project bids are accepted this summer.

Nickel Plate Trail Paving

Paving begins next week on the last remaining section of the Fishers Nickel Plate Trail from 106th Street to 96th Street. Paving is anticipated to be completed in August. A pedestrian bridge over 96th Street, connecting the Fishers trail to Indianapolis, will be constructed next year.

Geist Greenway Trail

Currently under construction, the Geist Greenway Trail is a five-mile pedestrian path connecting 96th Street and 131st Street in east Fishers. Currently, construction is focused on connecting the existing neighborhood trail system in Enclave at Steeplechase to South Avalon Estates. The trail is anticipated to open next year.

Road Resurfacing

Resurfacing is underway on roadways throughout Fishers and will continue through October. Lane restrictions will be in effect during resurfacing and residents will be notified via signage of any street parking restrictions.

The first phase, which continues through July, includes Fall Creek Road between Mollenkopf Road and Olio Road; Geist Road between Fall Creek Road and 106th Street; 131st Street between Allisonville Road and Britton Park Road; Britton Park Road; Willow View Road; Winding Creek Lane; Brooks School Road between 116th Street and 126th Street; Georgia Road between 96th Street and 104th Street, and Cyntheanne Road between 96th Street and 113th Street.

Casting adjustments on 96th Street between Lantern

Road and the intersection of the Walmart entrance will also take place, with lane restrictions to be announced ahead of the project.

Also beginning this spring are road resurfacing in neighborhoods including Rolling Knoll, Spyglass Hills, Sunblest, Wildwood Estates, and The Parks at Harvard, Oxford, and Princeton that will extend through October 2023.

In addition, casting adjustments will be made on 96th Street between Lantern Road and the Walmart traffic signal, with lane restrictions to be announced ahead of the project.

ADA Improvements

ADA ramp and curb reconstruction has begun in neighborhoods around the community and will continue through September 2023. Homeowners will be notified via door hangers prior to any curb reconstruction near their home.

Cumberland Road Reconstruction Project

Reconstruction and improvements to Cumberland Road begin this month and will continue through 2024. The project includes new pedestrian paths on both sides of the roadway, widening travel lanes, and installing a grassed median with openings for north-south access. Hamilton County Bridge 162 will also be replaced.

New Sanitary Sewers

Investing in new infrastructure is also on the list of spring and summer construction projects. Construction begins this month on new sanitary sewers at the Indianapolis Metropolitan Airport and Roseanna Village. Masters Road immediately east of Willowview Road continues to be closed through early next week, and Indianapolis Metropolitan Airport can be accessed via Masters Road at 96th Street. The Rosana Village project is expected to begin in June 2023 with any lane restrictions announced ahead of the project. These projects are anticipated to be completed in December.

Trail Gap Connections

The Department of Public Works is working on improving trail connectivity around Fishers this spring, addressing trail gaps at Berkley Grove, Eller Road, and 126th Street. Work continues through October.

Median & Sidewalk Improvements

The Public Works team is also busy enhancing sidewalks and medians around Fishers. Currently, new plantings and median designs are being installed along Allisonville Road. Neighborhood sidewalk repair is also underway with Public Works' sidewalk tractor allowing City crews to remove and or repair sidewalk issues, improving safety and reducing costs for residents.

106th Street Improvements

The intersections at Kincaid Drive and Hoosier Road will both be improved beginning in June. At Kincaid Drive, a center curb will be added on 106th Street and the intersection will be modified to a right-in/right-out entrance. This project will be completed in August. At Hoosier Road, a single-lane roundabout will be constructed with pedestrian crossings at all four approaches. This project will conclude in late fall.

96th Street & Allisonville Road Roundabout

Early pre-construction work will begin on the roundabout later this year, including utility relocation taking place throughout 2023 with roundabout construction anticipated to begin in 2024.

Ricky Joe Beaver
March 1, 1963 – April 5, 2023

Ricky Joe Beaver, 60, Noblesville, was born March 1, 1963. He passed away along with his beloved wife, Elizabeth Anne “Bethe” (Horine) Beaver, 57, on April 5, 2023, due to an airplane crash in Venice, Fla. Rick was the oldest child and only son to Billy and Gary Beaver and father to four children, three stepchildren, and nine grandchildren.

Family was important to Rick. Being born and raised in Noblesville, Rick was proud to join the family business, Beaver Materials, out of high school (NHS Class of 1982) where he worked for more than 27 years. He then went onto the commercial construction business as vice president of CTC. Later, Rick chose to begin his own venture with Beaver Construction Management, where he shared his strong work ethic with his sons, as they joined him in business.

Rick had an adventurous spirit and was always willing to try something new. Throughout his life, he loved anything with an engine, from race cars, dirt bikes, ATVs, boats, airplanes, or heavy equipment. But the greatest passion in his life was using his life experiences to share Jesus with those around him. He loved volunteering with many ministries such as Crossroads & Hamilton County Great Banquets, Kairos prison ministry, Young Life, chaplain for American Motorsports Ministries, many men’s Bible studies, or just having coffee with a hurting friend. Rick and Bethel loved to travel and did so as often as possible. Rick loved big and played hard.

Along with his parents, Rick is survived by his loving children Andy (Jes) Sherley of Sheridan, Christian (Candice) Beaver of West Lafayette, Ind., Mitchell (Karis) Beaver of Cicero, and Alivia Beaver of Noblesville; his stepchildren, Robbie (Katelin) Horine of Fishers, Annie (Jordan) Jackson of Greenwood, Ind., and Katherine Sarno of Indianapolis; his grandchildren, Sonya, Phoebe, Whitney, Rosa, Jack, Edan, Max, Riley, and Peyton; siblings, Janet (Jack) Ditslear of Noblesville and Mendy (Brian) Campbell of Noblesville; and nieces and nephews, Jake (Mariah) Ditslear, Anna (Will) Wheatley, Sam Ditslear, Ella Ditslear, Bailey (Alex) Campbell, and Blake Campbell.

Rick was preceded in death by his grandparents, Aldred & Sylvia (Bailey) Felton and Marion & Eleanor (Fisher) Beaver.

A joint memorial service will be held in Rick and Bethel’s honor as they relish the gift of eternal life in heaven with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Visitation will be held from 3 to 7 p.m. on Wednesday, April 19, 2023, at Grace Church, 5504 E. 146th St., Noblesville. A Celebration of Life will be held at 11 a.m. on Thursday, April 20, 2023, at Grace Church, 5504 E. 146th St., Noblesville. Burial will be at Crownland Cemetery in Noblesville.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions can be made to The Rick J Beaver Foundation, Fund #4702509. You can donate with a credit card or e-check at tinyurl.com/RickBeaverFoundationFund. Bethel is survived by her loving children, Robbie (Katelin) Horine of Fishers, Annie (Jordan) Jackson of Greenwood, Ind., and Katherine Sarno of Indianapolis; her stepchildren, Andy (Jes) Sherley of Sheridan, Christian (Candice) Beaver of Lafayette, Ind., Mitchell (Karis) Beaver of Cicero, and Alivia Beaver of Noblesville; grandchildren, Mrs. Elizabeth Anne “Bethe” (Horine) Beaver, 57, Noblesville, entered this life on May 1, 1965, and passed with her devoted husband Ricky Jo Beaver, 60, on April 5, 2023. Bethel was the loving daughter of Carla Horine and the late Nelson “Bud” Horine (deceased June 10, 2020), and stepmother Dottie Horine, and mother to her three children, four stepchildren, and nine grandchildren.

Bethel was born in Madison, Ind., raised in Noblesville, and was immensely proud to call both her home. She was a 1983 graduate of Noblesville High School (NHS) and a 1988 graduate of Indiana University (IU Bloomington) with a B.S. in Public Affairs & Public Policy, Political Science, and U.S. History. Bethel continued her education completing a B.S. in Secondary Education in 1994. While in high school, Bethel participated in cheerleading, track & field, student government, NHS Singers, FCA, Young Life, Campaigners and DC Experience. While pursuing higher education at IU, Bethel was a member and officer of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, Student Athletic Board, Panhellenic Association, Rush Counselor and Director, FCA, Greek Fellowship and IU Fit Instructor.

Bethel began her professional career as a Staff Assistant for Indiana Congressman Dan Burton (1989-1991) in the Indianapolis and then Washington, D.C. office. She returned to Indiana as a CSR for Waste Management Inc. (1991-1993). Next, Bethel went on to teach Social Studies concentrating in Government, Economics and U.S. History. This is where she began her now Legendary coaching career with the “Millers” at NHS (1992-1999). The highlight of Bethel’s professional career was founding Indiana Elite Cheer & Tumbling in 1999 (IE). This inception created a vision and led to her building a cheerleading dynasty reaching over 750 young athletes a year with her business partner Karlette McClure for the past 25 years.

Bethel and Rick’s most recent stewardship passions included their home church White River Christian, actively serving with Crossroads and Hamilton County Great Banquets, Leaders for Noblesville Young Life and the annual “Turkey Trot” for the Michael Treinen Foundation. Last year, Bethel became aware of a need within the Noblesville Elementary Football League (NEFL). Consequently, she Quarterbacked the effort to raise the modest elementary cheerleader program participants and now within one year over 100 girls are now enjoying NEFL.

Bethel enjoyed very close friendships with her weekly Bible Study group and mentoring the Kappa’s in Bloomington while serving the past few years on their Rush Advisory Board. Bethel’s immense faith defined and guided her every day as she simply loved life. She loved her coffee in the morning on the front porch with her puppies Ginger and Piper resting at her feet while reading her daily devotions. She loved traveling with Rick on their many adventures to the beach, mountains, Love Song Cruises or simply to the Spa with her sisters. She was an insatiable foodie and enjoyed playing the piano and golf. Bethel was a true sports enthusiast of all levels, whether watching her own children participate: hockey, lacrosse, cheerleading, a Sunday Indianapolis Colts game or her die-hard allegiance to the Cream & Crimson of Indiana University.

Bethel was a nurturing mother who loved hard and big. For the past year she radiated even brighter with joy and videos enjoying babysitting her new twin granddaughters every Wednesday. Her compassion for her children even led to welcoming several into her own home to “ride out the storm.” She was more than just a coach to her athletes she was an advocate for each who allowed her a chance to enter their lives. Bethel was more than just a daughter or sibling – she was a best friend. Bethel’s energy, spirit, and competitive nature were unmatched. TODAY’S BIBLE READING

After this I saw another angel coming down from heaven. He had great authority, and the earth was illuminated by his splendor. With a mighty voice he shouted:

“Fallen! Fallen is Babylon the Great!” She has become a dwelling for demons and a haunt for every impure spirit, a haunt for every unclean bird, a haunt for every unclean and detestable animal. For all the nations have drunk the maddening wine of her adulteries. The kings of the earth committed adultery with her, and the merchants of the earth grew rich from her excessive luxuries.”

Shamrocks struggle to make hits, fall to Bulldogs

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

WESTFIELD – Friday’s Hoosier Crossroads Conference baseball game between Westfield and Brownsburg was an example of “so close, and yet so far,” for the host Shamrocks.

Westfield dropped a frustrating game to the Bulldogs 2-1, which resulted in a split for the HCC series. The ‘Rocks had a couple of scoring opportunities, including the bases loaded in the bottom of the seventh inning, but couldn’t get a run across home plate.

“Offensively we had our opportunities and we just didn’t have the timely hits,” said Westfield coach Ryan Bunnell.

The Bulldogs scored their first run in the second inning. Jack Regashus got on base with a one-out double, then scored when Alec Murphy reached on error. The Shamrocks recovered quickly, as Brayden Hibler and Matt Drozlek combined for a double play to end the inning.

Both teams scored a run in the fourth inning. Regashus hit an RBI single in the top of the inning to put Brownsburg up 2-0. Westfield answered with a run in the bottom of the inning: Nick Alm drew a leadoff walk, after which Drew Law came in to run for him. Alex Rudolph’s left field hit moved Law to third, and Ty Anderson’s RBI fielder’s choice sent Law home.

The Bulldogs hit two singles in the top of the seventh inning, but an Anderson strikeout and a fielder’s choice finished the inning. Westfield’s Eli Manbeck hit a two-out single, then Lindsey and Hibler both got on base, but Brownsburg got the third out for the win.

Lindsey pitched the first inning, then Anderson came in for the next six. Anderson totaled seven strikeouts for the game. Lindsey hit a third-inning double.

“I thought Ty and Collin both pitched really well today,” said Bunnell.

Westfield is 2-2 in conference play and 4-3 overall, and travels to Carmel for a Monday game.

The dirt has run its course

Dirt racing just isn’t for NASCAR anymore. We can appreciate the heritage and origins of NASCAR and the many dirt tracks it raced on in the early years; however, that should not require NASCAR to go back.

Prior to the 2021 Bristol Dirt race, the last dirt track the NASCAR Cup Series ran was at North Carolina State Fairgrounds on September 30, 1970 – more than 50 years before the 2021 Bristol Dirt Race. For a point of comparison, the first race sanctioned by NASCAR was on February 15, 1948. Therefore, dirt racing was relatively short-lived in NASCAR’s 75-year history.

When I first heard that the spring race at Bristol was going to be run on dirt, I was intrigued. It was an outside-the-box idea and hadn’t occurred in more than 50 years.

As it turned out, however, the race was not that captivating. Sure, it was cool to see the track covered in dirt, the dirt tires, and the cars moving around a bit more, but it did not have the qualities of a great dirt race. Almost more important, a former dirt racer did not win the race and a majority of those who finished in the top 10 were not dirt racers.

The 2022 race was somewhat better and featured an exciting ending with two former dirt racers, Tyler Reddick and Chase Briscoe, crashing on the final corner, which handed the victory to Kyle Busch.

Of the three Bristol dirt races, this year’s race was clearly the best. The track appeared to be in excellent condition and cars were able to run the bottom to the top. The track conditions changed throughout the race, forcing drivers to search the racetrack for grip. Lastly, the former dirt racers dominated the race and claimed the first five finishing positions. The race was more representative of a true dirt race. I really enjoyed the 2023 Bristol Dirt race.

Nevertheless, I believe dirt racing should end in the Cup Series.

First and foremost, Bristol on concrete is far too good of a racetrack to cover with dirt. Bristol is one of the premier tracks on the NASCAR circuit and has consistently provided excellent races. If NASCAR needs to have a dirt race, it should be at an actual dirt track.

Second, the cars are not made for racing on dirt. Every piece and component on Cup cars, especially the NextGen cars, are designed for asphalt and/or concrete surfaces.

Third, the drivers do not enjoy running dirt tracks in their Cup cars. Kyle Larson, undoubtedly the best dirt racer in NASCAR, was adamant that NASCAR should not be racing on dirt. Many of his fellow competitors expressed similar sentiments this weekend.

Given the dismal attendance at the dirt race this year, I would not be surprised if NASCAR goes back to the traditional configuration for the Spring 2024 Bristol race. There is a reason NASCAR left dirt racing in 1970; stock cars are better on asphalt.

No. 5 Noblesville wins to split HCC series with Fishers

By CRAIG ADKINS
For The Reporter

NOBLESVILLE – After taking game one in Fishers on Thursday, the Tigers wasted no time to score on Friday night. Quick-answer offense played in the Noblesville’s favor, as the team would score early and often to claim a 10-6 home win.

Fishers scored right away in the top of the first. Carson Dunn led off getting hit by a Bryce Riggs pitch. He then scored on an RBI triple to the fence in left center on the fly by Jack Brown for a 1-0 edge. The next batter Gavin Clayton then doubled to right center to score Brown for an immediate 2-0 Tiger lead. After that, Riggs settled in for a while.

The Millers were able to respond in the bottom of the first and fight right back.

Consecutive walks to lead off by Trevor Corbett and Aiden Reynolds put two aboard quickly. They would both advance a base on a passed ball. Bryce Riggs drove them both in on a hard-hit grounder to Quinn Seefeldt at first, tying it 2-2.

Jack Shade walked with one out and both he and courtesy runner Logan Shoffner scored on a double down the left field line by Aiden Ramsey, helping the Millers capture a 4-2 lead, one they wouldn’t give back.

Ramsey advanced home on a Jacob Edwards single to right and then courtesy runner Conner Seago stole home, giving the Millers a 6-2 lead after one.

“Gavin (Kuzniewski) had a rough start today. I haven’t seen him do that for a while. He was a little bit underneath his fastball and wasn’t able to drive through and get it down in the zone,” said Fishers head coach Matthew Cherry.

Noblesville got three hits and three walks before the Millers chased Kuzniewski and forced Cherry to bring Kyle Manship out of the bullpen much earlier than normal.

“He knows he’s our stopper and go-to guy, but we typically like to get to him in the fifth, sixth or seventh. He can extend. He’s started for us before in the past. He did a good job coming in there. We gave 11 free bases, walking 11 guys. It’s hard to overcome that against a scrappy team,” continued Cherry.

It seemed whatever wasn’t going right for Fishers’ pitchers, Noblesville found ways to take advantage and capitalize.

“That’s Noblesville. We know that’s a part of our scouting report. They are going to compete and they are never out of it. It doesn’t matter if you punch them in the mouth or not, they are going to answer back,” stated Cherry.

“They had a hard time finding the zone and our guys stayed on their approaches and took what came to them and we just kept fighting,” said Noblesville head coach Justin Keever.

“We fought last night and lost a tough ball game. In the fifth inning, we let our guard down a little bit,” continued Keever.

Riggs kept his cool on the mound over the next four innings, for the most part. He allowed one in the fifth and two more in the sixth before Quinton Black came out of the bullpen.

The Millers added another in the bottom of the third on an RBI double from Edwards to make it 7-2.

Three more crossed home in the home half of the fourth as a result of four walks from Manship before he was pulled and it was now 10-2.

Noblesville took a more disciplined approach at the plate and it worked both early and often to take the second game of the HCC series.

“That’s one of the focuses we had all off-season. We have got to find out who we are individually as hitters and what we do well and capitalize on that and not get distracted by things we don’t do well,” said Keever.

Fishers fought back and scored four runs over the final three innings, but it wouldn’t be enough to fully come back, as Noblesville held on for a 10-6 win.

“I’m proud of our guys. We out-hit them and we put ourselves in position to score some runs. We chipped away and didn’t roll over and fold. I’m proud of our guys for competing,” stated Cherry.

“One-third of the way through the regular season, I think we have done a really good job of hanging on. Even last night, I loved our approaches,” continued Keever.

Fishers (6-5, 2-2 HCC) will continue its week today with a doubleheader at Greenfield-Central (6-1-1), starting at 10 a.m.

Jack Brown finished with two runs batted in, going 2-for-3 with a run scored. Carson Dunn scored three of the Tigers’ six runs.

Noblesville improves to 8-2 (3-1 HCC) and will play one game at noon. They visit the Carmel Greyhounds (6-1) in the Battle for the Oar in an all-county game.

Aiden Ramsey led the Millers with a 2-of-4 hitting night, two RBIs and two runs scored. Jacob Edwards also had two hits and drove in two. Bryce Riggs (3-0) got the win, throwing 5.1 innings and fanning six.

The difference between the Hamilton Southeastern and Zionsville baseball teams Friday was one big hit.

And what a hit it was for Cole Earlewine. The Royals center fielder delivered on a fourth-inning home run, and that would turn out to be the game-winner as Southeastern beat the Eagles 1-0 at

Ken Seitz Field. Earlewine sent his homer over the left field fence with two outs. That was one of only three hits between the two teams during the game. Nolan Colbert got the Royals' other hit with a lead-off single in the second inning. Zionsville made things interesting with a two-out single in the seventh inning, but Alex Billman threw to

I'm a husband, dad, small business owner, and proud resident of downtown Noblesville.

In 2019, I was elected to represent historic downtown and its surrounding communities on the Noblesville City Council. To deliver on my campaign promises, I've approached every day with resident-driven goals, working to give our community the neighborhood it deserves.

As a small business owner, I know the importance of proactive communication, balancing the books, and growing in a responsible and thoughtful way. Those lessons apply directly to my work with Noblesville, and as your Council representative, I'm ready to face the city's challenges head-on.

After redistricting, the Third District encompasses all of downtown Noblesville, a good portion of the Wellingtons, Sommerwood, James Place, Monterey Village, Westridge, Doves Nest, River Run, Oakmont, Sagewood, Stone Harbor, and Settlers Mill.

In my free time, I serve on the boards of Noblesville Main Street and the Noblesville Chamber of Commerce Foundation. I have been married to my wife, Brownen, since 2015 and together we have two children, Declan (5) and Parker (1). We volunteer and are members at Heartland Church and live in Old Town Noblesville on 9th Street, just north of the Square.

Andrew BouseRepublican for Westfield City Council, District 2*

As a 7-year-member of Countryside HOA, Andrew has enjoyed developing relationships with other residents and board members, learning about the community's needs, working with City and County, and executing strategic plans. He worked 18 months to get the approval and County dredging to replace a treacherous bridge. He is not allowed to say that you can drive a car over the new one, that he helped build that bridge with his own hands, or that it is ADA compliant. But he will tell you that it has an incline and decline of one inch per foot and it has concrete pylons for a dock.

Now it's time to build a different kind of bridge. The relationship between city, council, and clerk treasurer has been dysfunctional. Andrew knows it's time to heal and move forward. He will bring these groups closer to sync.

He has been involved with the Grand Junction Task Group, Communications Task Group, Westfield Art Alliance, WeCan, and has been a member of the Lions Club, VFW Auxiliary, and currently Historian for the SAL Carmel American Legion.

His finest achievements are his marriage to the beautiful Dr. Elizabeth Bouse and his two girls.

Victor McCartyRepublican for Westfield City Council, District 2*

I'm just a kid from the trailer park that wants to serve the community I love. As a lifelong Shamrock, my love for Westfield started when I was mascot at WHS. At that time, I had lost 100 pounds and didn't know where I was going. By being mascot, I was out in the community interacting with businesses and our residents. It gave me a sense of purpose. Simultaneously, Westfield became a city. Since then, I have had a deep passion for our community and every step I have taken has been to ensure that I am prepared to be a positive leader for Westfield. Through my experiences, I have learned that if we RISE together anything is possible. By building positive Relationships, investing in our aging Infrastructure, supporting our public Safety teams, and providing Engagement opportunities, we can create a welcoming community for all to live, work, and visit.

Fred Glynn

Republican for Carmel Mayor

My biggest achievement, without question, is my family. I've been blessed to be married to my wife, Beth, for 20 years. We have a teenage daughter, as well as two dogs named Bailey and Thor. We are members of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Church.

I served two terms on the Hamilton County Council. I ran to bring leadership and accountability to Hamilton County – which I did, despite push back from members of my own party. I analyzed every proposal that came before me to see whether it represented a good use of the tax dollars my constituents worked hard to bring home.

I don't make decisions based on what politicians want, I make decisions based upon the long-term interests of our community. Looking at our city, I see that now, more than ever, we need new leadership and fresh thinking for our future. I share a desire with my neighbors to ensure our community remains safe and prosperous.

My goals for Mayor include bringing fiscal responsibility to city government, development and growth without using taxpayer dollars, and a new focus on preserving our neighborhoods.
