Noblesville's own Nicole Liu wins Youth Service Award

Don't forget to thank a teacher this week

The REPORTER
Senior Nicole Liu from Noblesville High School was awarded the 30th annual Hamilton County Youth Service Award Monday afternoon. The ceremony was sponsored by the Hamilton County Commissioners and the Hamilton County Council on Alcohol and Other Drugs (HCCOAOOD).
Liu was also awarded a $1,000 scholarship.
Liu is a member of the Penions Club, Noblesville High School Literary Magazine, Key Club, Noblesville Mayor's Youth Council, New Dimension Varsity Show Choir, Miller Mentors, DECA and VOICE Indiana.
Liu considers her greatest accomplishment to be the work she has done with VOICE Indiana, a grassroots organization that encourages teens to lead tobacco-free lifestyles. VOICE has provided her with opportunities to advocate for better tobacco control policies by speaking to lawmakers, schools, and the media.

"Too often Big Tobacco targets vulnerable populations like teens," Liu said. "VOICE has given me a platform to stand up against their harmful marketing campaigns."
Five other students were nominated for the Youth Service Award by their school's counseling department. The other nominees included Liam Courtney from Carmel High School,

Have you ever asked a military "brat" where they're from? It's always a complicated answer. My parents were in the military, so I lived in lots of places.
Because I served in the military for 22 years, my children are official military brats as well and have had the same experience. Having lived in Germany, then Texas, Oklahoma, Indiana, then back to Texas, and then back again to Indiana, the question, "Where are you from?" begets a complicated answer. In fact, each of my two kids will probably give you a different response.
But I know one thing for certain. They both call Westfield home.
A big part of that "home" has been the incredible teachers at Westfield Washington Schools who have exemplified that.
Westfield Washington Schools and the teachers who work there take their responsibility to our students seriously – and it shows. Westfield High School has a graduation rate of 98 percent, well above the state average. The high school is also ranked 11th among all Indiana high schools statewide.
Additionally, our teachers work hard to have a personal impact on our students. Our community is incredibly lucky to still have a relatively low teacher to student ratio of 18 to 1, making it possible for teachers to have time for every student, every day. Our district also boasts a 100 percent teacher accreditation rate, ensuring that our students are being educated by the very best of Indiana teaching professionals.
When you take a step back and look at our awesome Westfield Washington schools, it's clear we have great teachers who really care about our children and their success. Maybe some of this is just me reflecting as my oldest is near graduation and onto college, but I truly want to thank every teacher my kids have had along the way – from Shamrock Springs Elementary through Westfield High School.
Thank you for helping my kids make Westfield home – no matter where they tell you they're from.

Westfield celebrates teachers with second Laugh It Off Comedy Night

By AMY ADAMS
For The Reporter
The Westfield Education Foundation (WEF), in conjunction with the Westfield Washington Schools (WWS) administration and Parent Teacher Organizations (PTO), honored WWS staff on Friday night, April 28, with the second annual Laugh It Off Comedy Night.
According to WWS and WEF Board member Amber Willis, the idea for the celebration came as school leaders were looking for a way to get everyone together coming out of COVID. She credits WEF Executive Director Ashely Knott with envisioning an out-the-box way to do that.
The success of last year's event had many anticipating this year's night out.
"I've been looking forward to tonight," said Westfield High School (WHS) science teacher

Volunteers gathered right before opening doors to welcome staff into the building for appetizers and a cash bar.
Riley Peppler. "It was so much fun last year, and I've been telling everyone about it."
Every staff member was offered the opportunity to claim two free tickets for the evening. From teachers to therapists, facilities to food service, and even substitutes, school staff reserved around 1,100 tickets for the event at The Center for the Performing Arts in Carmel.
"I have never seen tickets go so fast," Knott said. "Reservations opened at 8 p.m. on March 1, and we were just blown away at how quickly ticket sales began to skyrocket. We were a little worried we might run out and were prepared to start a waitlist, but we ended up with just the right amount of tickets for everyone who wanted to come."
PTOs from each school started setting up around 9 a.m.

Noblesville & Pacers begin NBA G League partnership

The City of Noblesville announced on Monday afternoon a transformational partnership with Pacers Sports & Entertainment to bring the Mad Ants, the company's affiliate in the NBA G League, to Noblesville. The NBA G League is the second most prominent men's basketball league in the world, behind only the NBA.
To accommodate the move, Noblesville plans to build a new 3,400 seat, 85,000 square-foot arena on the east side of the city.
"We are excited to welcome Pacers Sports & Entertainment to Noblesville along with the players, coaches and staff of the G League team," Mayor Chris Jensen said. "The Pacers are an iconic brand with deep roots in central Indiana. Partnering with such an impactful organization opens numerous opportunities for our community and drives forward our efforts for a larger sports and entertainment district with enhanced partnerships."
The new arena is anticipated to open during the 2024-2025 season, and the team would play at Gainbridge Fieldhouse in the interim. City and team officials are working through due diligence steps with local partners and plan to build the arena at Finch Creek Park near the Mojo Up Sports Complex, which generates nearly 1 million visits per year. The city expects to draw 65,000 fans annually to Noblesville and Finch Creek just for games, which is already the second most visited area in Hamilton County for sports visitors.

“This is another big win for Noblesville,” Duke Energy Government & Community Relations Manager Mark LaBarr said. “Congratulations to Mayor Jensen and his team for their vision in bringing this unique entertainment opportunity to the area.”

“We are working with the Pacers and other partners on programming options for the arena on days it is not used by the Pacers,” Jensen said. “The facility would be available for events like IH-SAA tournaments and competitions, concerts, conferences, corporate events and graduations. Further steps are being taken to finalize development and programming partners, which may also incorporate additional project features and recreational amenities.”

The franchise will remain the Mad Ants through the 2023-2024 season. A new mascot will be unveiled prior to the 2024-2025 season and Mad Ants, a name with a special tie to Fort Wayne, will be retired.

“The G League is world-class basketball, and PS&E is proud to bring that to Noblesville as we strengthen our basketball operations and enhance player development in one of the state’s most vibrant and growing communities,” Pacers Sports & Entertainment CEO Rick Fuson said. “We are excited about the way this partnership fits into the bold vision for economic development Mayor Jensen has laid out, and we can’t wait to continue growing our NBA and G League fan base right here in Hamilton County.”

year partnership agreement between the City of Noblesville and Pacers Sports & Entertainment will be presented. The agreement includes $5 million in cash investment from PS&E, which will also lead an effort to secure another $5 million in naming rights and signage over those 10 years, as well as $36.5 million from the city in building the arena.

“We welcome the new partnership with the Pacers,” said Noblesville Common Council President Aaron Smith. “The administration and council have made proactive, smart investments to assist with the financing of this partnership. We are excited to continue the strategic growth on the east side of our city and provide a new attraction for our residents and guests.”

Featuring 30 teams – 28 with one-to-one affiliations with NBA franchises – the G League offers elite professional basketball at an affordable price in a fun, family-friendly atmosphere.

“Fifty-four percent of NBA players have G League experience,” Jensen said. “Noblesville will compete in 27 media markets in 21 other states, plus Mexico and Canada. Noblesville also has a proud history of being a basketball community, including 1998 Mr. Basketball Tom Coverdale and the 2022 Millers Girls Basketball State Champions. Adding our partnership with the Pacers only cements us as a destination for basketball and youth sports.”

and worked throughout the evening. They organized and ran a gift card pull for staff with around 700 envelopes given out, each containing multiple gift cards. In addition, the PTOs provided 14 gift cards valued at $100 each for one staff member from each school plus the transportation, food services, and central services departments.

“To make this event possible it takes a dedicated team,” Knott said.

In addition to WEF and PTO volunteers, some event sponsors even gave of their time, like Melissa Stalbaum and Quinn Teague of Equitable Advisors and Lori Bancroft, Jess Bell, and Beth Ryshavy from McGraw Hill Education.

“Volunteer?” Bell asked facetiously. “Yes, we’ll volunteer for teacher appreciation night!”

Surrounded by welcome signs and hundreds of green, black, and gold balloons, the many volunteers welcomed staff and guests into the center starting at 5:30 p.m.

In addition to the warm welcome, guests also enjoyed a cash bar and tables laden with appetizers compliments of the WHS Culinary Arts department, affectionately known as “Foodies Rock.” The menu included chilled hors d’oeuvres like mango salsa with mojo-marinated shrimp and pimento and cheese dip with garlic crackers as well as hot dishes like pork and veggie spring rolls and Southern chicken bites with maple honey glaze.

Under the guidance of Chef Educators Nikki Heflin and Bryan Ferreira and Family and Consumer Sciences teacher Renee Coleman, around 30 WHS students prepared all the dishes from scratch, then transported and served them. Each of these students is ServSafe Manager Certified, which is the national standard for food safety and sanitation.

“The event is a testament to the curriculum we teach in the program,” Heflin said. “To be able to execute an event of this nature, the students can then take what they have learned, and they can perform at a professional level. Our students truly go above and beyond.”

Following the reception, guests were welcomed by a voice familiar to Westfield. Emcee for the evening Brad Neale, otherwise known as the “Voice of the Rocks,” announces for a variety of WHS teams, including football, men’s and women’s basketball, and men’s and women’s volleyball. Neale, who has lived in Westfield for 20 years, is a father of three in the WWS district.

“You are special people,” Neale said to the guests. “You are underpaid, you’re overworked, and you’re the most underappreciated group of people on the planet. This is a fabulous night to celebrate you.”

Another longtime Westfield resident, magician Jeff Loeser, who is a member of the Academy of Magical Arts, shared his “Deliberate Deceptions” with the audience. Calling an assistant out of the audience, kindergarten teacher Kara Hopkins from Maple Glen Elementary School, Loeser performed a mind-boggling trick with random numbers given by audience members to ultimately illustrate that time is a gift.

“Thank you for spending time with our kids,” Loeser said to end his show. “You never know when you might be creating a magic moment.”

Following Loeser, educator-turned-comedian Gerry Brooks from Lexington, Ky., took the stage. Now a mentor for three principals, Brooks has 12 years’ experience as an administrator as well as six years in the classroom and two as an intervention specialist. He has also gained a following of nearly 600,000 on social media where he shares humorous videos based on the real-world experience of educators and school staff. He has also written a book titled Go See the Principal: True Tales from the School Trenches. His hilarious presentation blends his characteristic Southern humor with practical advice for personal climate and culture strategies.

“My goal is that everyone is going to walk out feeling encouraged and ready to get through the rest of the school year,” Brooks said.

WWS Superintendent Dr. Paul Kaiser enjoyed Brooks’ performance.

“He was funny, but he left us with some really good points,” Kaiser said.

After the show, guests had their choice of freshly-made, neatly-packaged desserts, like cookies, caramels, or even bread pudding, provided by local businesses.

“We just hope that this event shares with our staff how much we appreciate them,” Knott said.

WEF exists to empower and invest in Westfield students, teachers, and staff. Since 1986, WEF has awarded more than 650 Westfield students with scholarships totaling more than $1 million. This year, the foundation is projected to give scholarships to 50 students totaling $73,000.

Michael Deck joined the WEF Board about six months ago because he sees the benefits of the organization first hand after his daughter Natalie received a scholarship last year, and he wants to help provide that opportunity to others.

“One of two or three things that makes Westfield stand out is the school system,” Deck said.

In addition, WEF provided 26 teachers with more than $20,000 in grants in 2022. The foundation, in conjunction with Teacher’s Credit Union, also presents quarterly Rock Strong Awards to staff members in recognition of the great work they do.

“Laugh it off has proven itself to be a collaborative district activity for staff members to come together and spend time with other staff members,” Knott said. “As we keep growing and the district grows, it is really important that our staff has that opportunity.”

In addition to Kaiser, Knott, Willis, and Matt Deck, WEF Board members include President Kyle Messmore, Vice-President Ronnie Saunders, Secretary Josh Andrews, Treasurer Tom Lunsford, Amanda Biedess, Janet Crenshaw, John Deck, Dorron Ferris, Amy Pictor, Shannon Russell, Grant Sindelar, Brian Tomamichel, Veronica Winkelman, and Sarah Worth.

PTO/Planning Committee Members included Michele Lyons, Whitney Moore, Jennifer Hill, Whitney Carriger, Justine McFall, Lorraine Comacho, Lauren Blake, Ali Coyne, Kelly Braun, Carey Miller, Corrie Weir, Ali Hoover, Amy Nelson, Amanda Androne, and Laura Estes.

Event sponsors included The Center for Performing Arts, Performance Services, Blades Audio Video, Equitable Advisors, MidTown Home Collective, Schmidt Associates, Southwest Foodservice Excellence, The Skillman Corporation, Kiwanis Club of Westfield, Rotary Club of Westfield, and Lions Club of Westfield.

Erin Baccari, Suzanne Boyer, Lori Cramer, Sarah Crews, Brooke Goldstein, Kyle Groves, Nikole Hayew, Becky Lane, The Leffews, Alexis Lowery, Kristi McAfee, and Jeff Newkirk all contributed as Friends of Laugh It Off.

Rotary Club of Carmel announce first recipients of Portee scholarships

The REPORTER

The Rotary Club of Carmel has announced the inaugural recipients of the Portee Leadership Connection Scholarships. Recipients will be honored at a special luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club on June 2 at the Woodland Country Club in Carmel. The guest speaker will be Danny Portee.

Portee

The winners, their current high school, and their college destination and course of study are as follows:

- Jaquelin Escobedo, Christel House Watanabe Manual High School, plans to study nursing at IUPUI.
- Kiah Jackson, Carmel High School, plans to study epidemiology at Indiana University.
- Emma Metzger, Carmel High School, plans to study kinesiology at Purdue University.
- Maverick Surber, Christel House Watanabe Manual High School, plans to study American Sign Language at Bethel College.
- Florgisel Garcia, Providence Cristo Rey High School, plans to study Biochemistry, biology, or criminology at Saint Mary's College.

In addition to a $1,000 monetary award, each winner will receive a new laptop computer. The scholarship money can be used for tuition at a college, university, community college, or trade school.

Selection of the five scholarship recipients was made by a review committee at Professional Management Enterprises, a nationally recognized staffing company based in Indianapolis and led by Portee. Scholarships are awarded with equal emphasis on merit and need.

Applicants were asked to show why they desire to continue their education, to state the school or trade school where they have been accepted, and to provide a brief description of what a $1,000 scholarship and laptop would mean to them.

Recipients are encouraged to bring guests – someone who has been inspirational in their life – such as a parent, grandparent, teacher, coach, religious leader, or counselor.

Portee was instrumental in getting the funding in place for the scholarships. As the Owner and President of Professional Management Enterprises, he provides daily corporate leadership for his nationally recognized staffing company. He has an undergraduate degree in Human Resources and an MBA in Organizational Leadership. As an enlisted member in the Army from 1983 to 2003, he served in the capacity of Senior Telecommunications Manager, Recruiter, Sales Manager and Trainer during his 20 years of military service.

Dr. Rick Markoff, Immediate Past Chairman of Leadership Connection, gave special thanks to both Portee and Thaddeus Rex, Founder and CEO of iTeam, a local think tank, for making the Leadership Connection Scholarships possible.

“This program will play a major role in enhancing Leadership Connection by enabling business, community, and non-profit executives to have an impact on the next generation of leaders within our community and region,” Markoff said.

Students attending Leadership Connection come from both Carmel and Indianapolis and are in their senior year. They represent Christel House Watanabe Manual High School, Pro/Act Indy, Elevate Indianapolis, Carmel High School, and the Carmel Mayor's Student Advisory Council.

State Rep. Goodrich's bill expanding work-based learning signed into law

The REPORTER

State Rep. Chuck Goodrich's (R-Noblesville) bill to increase high school relevancy by expanding work-based learning opportunities is now law.

Goodrich said House Enrolled Act 1002 creates Career Scholarship Accounts (CSA) for Hoosier students to pay for career training, apprenticeships, certifications and internships. The new law will also allow quality, work-based learning to count toward high school graduation requirements.

“We know there are employers across the state who are struggling to find qualified candidates for job openings,” said Goodrich, a member of the House Education Committee. “This is a critical step toward connecting our students with the skills they need for in-demand careers right out of high school.”

Goodrich said CSAs can be used by sophomores, juniors, and seniors to enroll in earn-and-learn opportunities, as well as to pay for items like transportation and uniforms to remove barriers to accessing these experiences. The Indiana Department of Education and the Commission for Higher Education will approve available courses and tracks, and accounts will be awarded $5,000 under the state's next two-year budget.

According to Goodrich, this legislation incentivizes schools and career centers to partner and bring more experiences to high school students. The State Board of Education will re-examine high school diploma requirements to provide more flexibility in a student's schedule so they can pursue work-based learning and apprenticeship experiences.

High schools around the state will also host annual career fairs to provide more opportunities for students and employers to connect. Goodrich said that a Teacher Higher Education and Industry Collaboration Grant Program and Fund will be setup to will help teachers engage with colleges and employers to learn about industry needs and employment trends.

State Rep. Chuck Goodrich (R-Noblesville) represents House District 29, which includes a portion of Hamilton County.

Indianapolis man arrested for Carmel bank robbery

The REPORTER

At 4:49 p.m. on Monday, Carmel police responded to the Teachers Credit Union, 635 E. Carmel Drive, for a bank robbery. A white male, later identified as Marty McConnell, 63, Indianapolis, presented a note to a teller demanding cash. The ensuing investigation led Carmel police detectives to an address in Indianapolis where McConnell was located and taken into custody later that evening.

McConnell

McConnell has been booked into the Hamilton County Jail and has been charged with Robbery, a Level 5 Felony. # CarmelFest going big

Find big rides, big fun & big entertainment in KidsZone

The REPORTER

KidsZone is a fun-filled part of the annual CarmelFest events that take place each year during the Fourth of July. This year's CarmelFest will take place Monday and Tuesday, July 3 and 4, and KidsZone promises to be bigger and better than ever.

Presented by the Rotary Club of Carmel, this year's KidsZone will feature the same wide range of exciting activities for the kids as in years past but will include awesome new activities for the entire family.

"We truly want the KidsZone to be an enjoyable experience for all who attend," KidsZone Co-Chair Christine Zoccola. "This year, we have a larger selection of rides then we have had in past years and a great stage line-up featuring performances tailored to kids. We hope this year's KidsZone will be an amazing experience for families to enjoy together."

Older kiddos will have fun on the Ballistic Swing and the Pirates Revenge. For the younger crowd, there's the Gyroscopic and the Toxic Melt Down – two mechanical rides. They can also have fun on one of the many inflatables, including the Bungee Trampoline, the Obstacle Course, a rock-climbing wall, and more. Master Yoo will once again presenting martial arts demonstrations during both days of the festival.

4, kids should keep their eyes open for Disney princesses and superheroes as they make their way around the KidsZone.

New this year, parents (and kids) can take a break in one of several resting areas – great areas to sit and cool off in the shade. There will also be a stage geared toward the 'kid' crowd. The entire family can enjoy musical acts, dance groups and more.

This is the third year Zoccola and William Howard have served as co-chairs for KidsZone. They are determined that this will be their best one yet.

"I have had the great fortune to team up with Christine on co-chairing the KidsZone for the last three years; this has been one of the most joyful experiences," Howard said. "Three years ago, Christine and I were committed to having a good experience, given the COVID restrictions at the time, in KidsZone, for all of the children, young adults and families. Each year since we have been dedicated to providing a KidsZone that is reflective of our community's wants and needs. We have worked diligently and tirelessly each year to not only listen to feedback from the community, but actually implement changes so that we could provide Carmel with the best experience in KidsZone."

Over their time as co-chairs, they have made changes and improvements based on what families like or didn't like. Their belief is to listen; this year's KidsZone is a culmination of all they have learned.

"It has been such an honor to co-chair with William for the last three years," Zoccola said. "It has been a great time and we are really looking forward to this year's CarmelFest."

Don't miss this year's "Brunch and Blooms" brunch crawl during the day on Saturday, May 20. Brunch & Blooms provides visitors with peony-inspired food and drink throughout the day from local restaurants in seven outdoor locations around the historic downtown, including four of them in "full bloom" in peony-inspired decorated alleys. # “Enthralling”: Predictor tells “sharp, funny, surreal” story

By ADAM CROWE
A Seat on the Aisle

This week, change is on my mind. My assignment is a play that, among many things, asks a 2023 audience to consider the lack of power and agency faced by women just a scant 50 years ago.

This, in turn, got me thinking about change in general. One change that struck me was how fluid performing space has become. Those in control of physical spaces are not just helping smaller, newer theater companies by sharing – but in doing so, they are also helping to support their own missions in the process. One such symbiotic relationship is on display at the Phoenix Theatre Cultural Center, where American Lives Theatre has just opened the World Premiere of Jennifer Blackmer’s play Predictor.

Blackmer is a Professor at Ball State University and has won numerous writing awards. It is easy to see why. The playwright uses the arsenal of her talents to tell the story. Predictor is sharp, funny, surreal, and, at times, deadly serious. In addition, it is based on real events.

In 1967, graphic artist Meg Crane worked for a pharma company that, as part of its business, performed pregnancy test results for doctors. In this onstage telling of the story, it doesn’t take long before Crane’s ingenuity and creativity get the best of her, and the creation of the first at-home pregnancy test is set into motion.

In turns, Predictor is a memory play, an absurdist romp, and a heartfelt dissection of the roles that gender and power play in nearly every aspect of life. A simple consumer product, who’s worth is immediately recognizable to any woman of childbearing age, repeatedly gets its existence controlled by men. Director Bridget Haight marvelously spins the story in the Phoenix’s black box Basile Theater with just a few mobile set pieces.

The cast is uniformly terrific and orchestrates every moment with precision and a deft touch. Brittany Magee plays Crane with an innocence that builds to righteous anger. With her, actors Clay Mabbitt, Drew Vidal, Christine Zavakos, Zack Neiditch, Jen Johansen, and Miki Mathioudakis spin a cast of characters that I won’t spoil here. Each character is brought fully to life. They are amazing storytellers, individually and as a cast.

Kerry Lee Chipman’s scenic design is simple and ingenious. Molly VanNatta’s costumes set the time with perfection. Laura Glover’s lighting and Mina Keohane sound design are equally in tune with all the elements.

can Lives Theatre has once again demonstrated that it is home to serious artists making enthralling theater. Predictor is telling an important story and doing so in ways that every audience will appreciate. This is a play worth your time and your attention.

American Lives Theatre’s production of Jennifer Blackmer’s Predictor runs weekends through May 28 on the Basile Stage at the Phoenix Cultural Center, located at 705 N. Illinois St., Indianapolis. Tickets and further information can be found at AmericanLivesTheatre.org.

Mary Elizabeth Sedwick
July 17, 1924 – May 4, 2023

Mary Elizabeth Sedwick, 98, Sheridan, passed away on Thursday morning, May 4, 2023, at Wellbrooke of Westfield. Born on July 17, 1924, near Lizton, Ind., in Hendricks County, she was the daughter of the late Guy and Leona (Fiscus) Kelley.

She was a 1942 graduate of Pinnell High School in Lebanon, Ind., and an active member of Six Points Church in Sheridan.

Throughout Mary’s life the words “slow down” never seemed to register with her. She was constantly on the go and usually running circles around anyone who was with her. Prior to getting married, she worked for Scott’s Five and Dime and Winkler’s in Lebanon. On March 27, 1946, Mary married Fred Sedwick, Jr.; it was then that her family would become her number-one priority. For over 25 years, Mary worked on the family farm alongside her husband and their growing family. After the death of her husband in 1972, Mary took a position with Aero Drapery in Westfield (a company she would eventually retire from ... three separate times). Following her final (Aero) retirement, she hired on with Heartland Growers of Westfield, and later Crawdaddy’s and Power Mail in Sheridan.

No matter how busy life would get, there was always time for family, and Mary took her role as a grandmother very seriously. When the grandkids were involved in an activity, so was she. When they became more involved in marching band and drum and bugle corps, so did she ... cooking and serving meals, sleeping on gym floors, and being the resident grandma for the entire group was all part of the package. She cherished every moment that she was able to spend being actively involved in her family’s lives and came to love all the bonus family members she picked up along the way.

As the years started to catch up, Mary’s body forced her to slow down just a little bit. She was bound and determined to ignore it, telling her family that she was quite able to go back to work to help pay her expenses at Wellbrooke.

Mary is survived by her son, Michael R. “Mike” Sedwick (Anita) of Sheridan; daughter, Janet D. Roberts of Sheridan; four grandchildren, Raymond Roberts (Susan) of Arcadia, Kimberly Crouch (Jeremy) of Wauseon, Ohio, Scott Sedwick (Kim) of Sheridan, and Courtney King (Jacob) of Sheridan; eight great-grandchildren (with one on the way); and several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Guy and Leona (Fiscus) Kelley; her husband, Fred Sedwick, Jr.; son-in-law, Paul K. Roberts; three brothers, Floyd Kelley, Delmar Kelley, and Raymond Kelley (killed on September 10, 1944, in France during World War II); sister, Frances Ping; and by her infant grandson.

Services will be held at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, May 10, 2023, at Kercheval Funeral Home, 306 E. 10th St., Sheridan, with visitation from 11 a.m. until the time of service. Burial will follow at Oak Hill Cemetery in Lebanon, Ind.

Mary’s niece, chaplain Mary Ellen Kelley will be officiating.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be presented to Six Points Church, 1545 W. 226th St., Sheridan, IN 46069.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

I saw thrones on which were seated those who had been given authority to judge. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded because of their testimony about Jesus and because of the word of God. They had not worshiped the beast or its image and had not received its mark on their foreheads or their hands. They came to life and reigned with Christ a thousand years. (The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were ended.) This is the first resurrection. Blessed and holy are those who share in the first resurrection. The second death has no power over them, but they will be priests of God and of Christ and will reign with him for a thousand years.

Karen Lee (Moody) Elliott
January 25, 1953 – May 1, 2023

Karen Lee (Moody) Elliott peacefully went to be with the Lord on May 1, 2023, after a long and courageous battle with cancer. The youngest daughter of Lee and Eileen Moody was born on January 25, 1953, two years behind her big sister Kathy. She attended Fall Creek Elementary then on to Eastwood and North Central, graduating in 1971. She attended Indiana Center after high school.

Karen's work life began in the medical field, first as a dental assistant then in the front office operations of three different medical offices, culminating with a position as manager of a new imaging suite in Noblesville. It wasn't until later in life that Karen found her true calling: working at the elementary school with special needs students. "Her kiddos," as she called them, felt her caring and loving spirit each day.

In September of 1976 she married Ed Elliott, and they have two amazing and wonderful children: Josh and Anne (Ted) Bearman; and four unique and fabulous grandchildren: Julia Bearman, Olivia Elliott, Lydia Bearman, and Evan Elliott. She was so proud of her family. There are in-laws, cousins, and numerous nieces and nephews who were touched by her life.

Karen was a remarkably beautiful, loving woman with a fierce spirit and quiet peace about her. A loving and caring wife, a proud and loving mother, a special Mimi to her grandchildren, and the best friend a person could ever want. Karen loved music and dancing, sitting around a fire with a good glass of wine, and shopping; but most of all she liked hosting special occasions and welcoming all who came. She was a unique and beautiful woman who will be missed by so many.

In lieu of flowers, contributions can be made to Wheeler Mission or Cancer Research.

A Celebration of Life will be held from 4 to 8 p.m. on May 25, 2023, at West Fork Whiskey Company, 10 E. 191st St., Westfield.

Arrangements are entrusted to Hartley Funeral Homes Cicero Chapel. You may leave condolences at hartleyfuneralhomes.com.

Millers win six events & pull ahead to victory at county girls track meet

WESTFIELD — It's happened before in track and field meets, and it will undoubtedly happen again, but it always bears repeating: Every point matters.

The latest example happened Tuesday at Westfield's Riverview Health Stadium, the site of the Hamilton County girls track meet. Noblesville and Carmel went back and forth with the lead, and in the end, the Millers won by four points. Noblesville scored 134 points to the Greyhounds' 130.

Both teams had their share of victories, and both managed a 1-2 finish in an event. But the Millers managed to get extra points here and there, which made the difference.

"We had some good performances, we had some records," said Noblesville coach Jim Pearce. "We had a lot of people that got two points, one point, three points throughout the mix." The coach believes that's what "pushed us over the top."

The Millers totaled six event wins, starting with the 4x800 relay, which they won in 9 minutes, 24.79 seconds. Summer Rempe blitzed to the finish in the open 800 with a time of 2:14.26, nearly four seconds ahead of second place.

"She got the county meet record by a few-tenths of a second," said Pearce. Rempe is not far away from the 2:13.34 that she ran last year at the regional.

She's excited about running well and we're excited about how she's going to do," said Pearce.

Noblesville also continued its mastery of the field events, winning four of them. Hannah Alexander put together a sweep of the shot put and discus, winning the latter event with a record throw of 150 feet, 9 inches, over 50 feet ahead of second place. Delaney Teachnor cleared 12 feet to win the pole vault. The Millers went 1-2 in the high jump, with Malina Miller first and Rylee Hassan second.

Carmel had four event wins, including a 1-2 finish in the 400 dash. Campbell Wamsley clocked in at 57.70 seconds, with Olivia Cebalo next in line at 58.59 seconds. Freshman Sadie Foley was first in the 1600 run, Emily Norris won the 200 dash, and the Greyhounds ran away with the 4x400 relay, taking that race by nearly nine seconds over second place.

Carmel coach Aaron McRill was pleased with his team's performance.

"Emily Norris is just getting faster every week," said McRill. "She just ran a 24.9, which is right now the second-fastest in the state, and she's just getting stronger."

Hamilton Southeastern scored 115 points to finish third. Maggie Powers won an event for the Royals, holding off Noblesville's Nadia Perez to win the 3200 run in 11:14.01.

Westfield placed fourth as a team and had two event winners. Princess Campbell won a close 100 dash in 11.99 seconds, 0.03 seconds ahead of second place. Lucy Hauser placed first in the 300 hurdles.

Fishers was a winner in the 4x100 relay. The Tigers also got second-place results from Maya Taylor in the 100 dash and from Macie Miller in the discus.

Hamilton Heights' Ella Ewing won two events, and finished as the meet's high-point scorer. Ewing won the long jump in a new record of 18 feet, 5.75 inches and the 100 hurdles in 14.88 seconds, and also placed third in the 300 hurdles.

Corvette Z06 hardtop convertible to pace 107th Indianapolis 500

The REPORTER

For the first time in the storied history of this iconic car model, a hardtop convertible Chevrolet Corvette Z06 will lead the field to the green flag for the 107th Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge on Sunday, May 28 at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The exterior and interior of the Corvette Z06 convertible will be on full display as the car fulfills responsibilities on and off the track.

This is the first generation of Corvette Z06 to offer a hardtop convertible, greatly expanding the convertible's ability to serve on track at any speed and provide open roof comfort on the street.

Corvette is the longest-running car nameplate in automotive industry history, so it's no surprise Corvette has paced "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing" more times than any car. The 2023 race marks the 34th time for Chevrolet to pace dating back to 1948 and the 20th time overall and since 1978 for America's favorite sports car.

"As we celebrate the rich history of the Corvette Pace Car at IMS, it's amazing to see the evolution of these cars on and off the track," IMS President J. Douglas Boles said. "The hardtop convertible on the 2023 Corvette Z06 is just another example of the Chevrolet innovation that translates from track to street."

Red Mist Metallic exterior paint and two-tone Jet Black and Sky Cool Gray with Torch Red accents on the interior pair nicely with the Indianapolis 500 logos. Spider-design forged aluminum wheels finished in Tech Bronze complete the car's iconic, race-ready look.

The 2023 Corvette Z06 is set apart by its beating heart, the 5.5L LT6 which creates 670 horsepower, making it the highest-horsepower naturally aspirated V-8 ever to ever hit the market in any production car. All that power will be held to the track with the Carbon Aero package, providing 734 pounds of downforce at 186 mph, more than any other Corvette.

In its 70-year history, Corvette has become synonymous with American sports cars, and the Z06 is the definition of America's supercar. It's authentic, optimistic, proud, young at heart and ingenious – values synonymous with both the Indy 500 and Chevrolet.

"We are honored to be pacing the 107th Running of the Indianapolis 500 with the Corvette Z06 convertible," said Scott Bell, vice president, Global Chevrolet. "Chevrolet and INDYCAR share the same spirit of competition, and we are proud Z06 will lead the pack across the bricks at Indianapolis Motor Speedway."

Millers takes down Yorktown, drops HCC game to Brownsburg to begin week

The REPORTER

Noblesville got its busy week started off right Monday with a visit from the Yorktown Tigers. The Tigers posed quite a test to keep the Millers honest, but Noblesville overcame a tie score for an 8-5 home victory.

Yorktown got the first run on the board in the top of the first, but it wouldn't take long until Noblesville struck back.

Gabby Fowler got the Millers on the board in the bottom of the third with a line drive to left that scored both Reis Sjolholm and Delaney Rundle for a 2-1 lead.

The Tigers clawed back to score two each in the fourth and fifth innings that jumped them ahead of the Millers for a short-lived 5-2 lead.

Maggie Harvey drove in Sjolholm in the bottom of the fifth to cut Yorktown's lead to 5-3.

Addi Emmerson lined a single of her own to score Duvall that made it 5-4. Emmerson tied it at 5-5 on a Haley Schatko single to center.

The Millers kept it rolling in the sixth and added a few more. Taylor Thompson provided the game-winning hit with a three-run home run, plating herself, Rundle and Fowler for an 8-5 win.

For the second night in a row, Noblesville played at home at Miller Park. After a back-and-forth HCC tilt, Brownsburg was able to outlast the Millers, 10-7.

The Bulldogs led 2-0 early on a two-run grounder to left.

Noblesville took their only lead of the game on a three-run home run lofted to left by Gabby Fowler, driving in Rundle and Sjolholm to go up 3-2.

Brownsburg tied it and grabbed the lead in the top of the fourth, 4-3 and didn't give it back to the Millers.

The visitors padded their lead in the top of the sixth and the Millers added another in the bottom for a 5-4 Bulldog lead heading into the seventh.

Two singles, a walk and a three-run home run proved to be the dagger for Brownsburg in the top of the seventh to take a 10-4 advantage.

The Millers gave it one last-ditch effort in the home half. For the second night in a row, Taylor Thompson launched a three-run long ball, sending home Harvey and Fowler. That would be all the Bulldogs yielded, clinging to a 10-7 road win on Tuesday.

Noblesville drops to 11-9-1 overall and 3-3 in HCC action. The Millers continue their week tonight at Roncalli (18-2-1) at 6 p.m. and finish off the week with a Saturday doubleheader at Leo (18-1) starting at 11 a.m.
